Rinty fans, and who is not a Rinty fan, will be delighted to know that the Wonder Dog is now playing at the Regent In Warner Bros.' latest starring vehicle, "Rinty of the Desert," Rin-Tin-Tin is first seen as an outcast dog, who leaves the regions of sand and cactus, by way of a passing truck, and finds himself at home with old man Marlowe and his pretty granddaughter, Mary, keepers of a small dime museum. Mary's young man, Pat Casey of the police force, becomes a friend of Rinty's. The big-hearted dog, not contented with his limited friendships, also adopts a litter of orphan puppies.

All goes well till Mason, a dishonest partner of Marlowe, lures the old man away. Pat Casey and Rinty go in search of him. The gang capture and imprison Casey, and escape, leaving him to be attacked by a ferocious bull-dog. Rinty is accused of attacking his master and sentenced to be shot. Then begins the exciting action of the play—action which shows Rinty more alive than ever! Fiery! Agile! Brilliant!

Harvey Gates adapted the Frank Steele story for the screen. Audrey Ferris, Carrol Nye, Paul Panzer and Otto Hoffman are in the cast. Ross Lederman directed.

MANUFACTURERS APPRECIATE GRANT

Request For Road Work Brings Results—Want Creek Restrained.

Business of the annual general meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Peterborough branch, held Wednesday, May 16th, included the passing of two resolutions, as follows:

To W. H. Bradburn, M.P.P.

"At the Annual Meeting of this Association held Wednesday last a resolution of appreciation was passed with reference to the response of the Hon. Mr. Finlayson to our request made last fall in the form of a resolution petitioning for certain improvements to Lake Catchacoma to Gooderham, Kinmount and Bancroft roads. We understand that, included in their estimates passed by the House, the sum of $800.00 was set aside for this purpose which will be augmented financially, and by some labor help, by the good people residing in the above territory.

"Your interest in this matter has been most marked and we ask you to be good enough to convey our appreciation to the Hon. Mr. Finlayson."

To City Council:

"Whereas: Damage to property, embarrassment and financial loss to industry, has been the result of the overflow, during the Spring months of this year, of what is known at Peterborough Creek.

Therefore: It is resolved, that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Peterborough Branch, recommends to the City Council that immediate steps be taken to prevent a recurrence in the future."

Puffed Rice
adds goodness to candy

YOUR home-made candy garnished with Quaker Puffed Rice . . . a nutmeat flavour that adds the touch of goodness you most desire . . . a combination of deliciousness that lingers. Better than nuts in confections. The most "choosey" appetites relish it. Light, crunchy morsels, that intrigue. The flavour is different.

Quaker Puffed Rice is the rice grain, steam puffed to eight times normal size, and exploded . . . thoroughly cooked and oven-crisped. Serve direct from the package, or warm if you wish.

Quaker Puffed Wheat, too

Whole wheat grains, puffed to eight times normal size and exploded. A flavour of toasted nutmeats. Light and easily digested.

FINE CRICKET PLAYED.

The Peterboro Cricket Club and St. Edmunds C. C. of Toronto, met at the Oval yesterday in beautiful weather and a most enjoyable match ended in a draw, St. Edmunds making a fine score of 154 runs and Peterboro getting 76 for the loss of eight batsmen. Winning the toss St. Edmunds opened their innings on a perfect cricket about 1 p.m. With the score at 11, Higgins was brilliantly caught by Stuart.

The next wicket fell at 25, Simmonds unfortunately hitting the wicket in playing back to Dyer. The next wicket put on 36 runs before Brown was out to a fine catch by Dyer, the fieldsman, running a considerable distance to reach the ball. Four wickets were down for 65. The fifth wicket added 35 runs, Lister and Williams playing fine forceful cricket. Jefferson was then given the ball and soon met with success, clean bowling, Lambert and Wright. The last two wickets added 33 runs the inning finally closing at 154 runs, having lasted over three hours. Frank Dyer and Jefferson both bowled well, the former taking three wickets for 25 and the lattter three for 21.

The Peterborough inning opened with Dunkerly and Thorpe, with only 4 runs on the board; Brown bowled Thorpe with a fine ball. Stuart stayed a while for 3 runs but was caught at point with the score at 11. The third and fourth wickets fell at 16 and things looked bad for the Peterborough team. Dyer then joined Dunkerly who was batting faultlessly, although not scoring many runs. Dyer soon set about the bowling and scored at a fast rate, finally bringing the score to 44 before Dunkerly was caught. Four runs later Dyer mishit and was caught on a skier. It looked as if St. Edmunds had the game as there was still one-half hour to play and Peterborough had lost six good wickets for 48 runs. Elliott and Monkman, however, defied the bowling, the former hitting out merrily and the latter keeping his end up. These two players brought the score to 69 before Monkman was unfortunately run out. Gore was next in with ten minutes to go and he and Elliott played out time, the former being bowled with the last ball of the match, the game being left drawn. Elliott carried his bat for a valuable 17, these runs coming when badly needed.

The teams lunched at the Paragon and tea was served at the club rooms on the grounds.

BELLEVILLE, May 25.—Before a large attendance Belleville defeated Kingston in the opening game of the Central Ontario Senior League here yesterday. The score was 3-1. Belleville secured but three hits off the pitching of Smith and Jamieson while "Hoot" Gibson was clouted for nine, but the visitors' hits were scattered, only once two coming in the same inning. He hit a double, scoring two.

McCALLUM HERO ON GOLF COURSE

Eliminated Best of Players in British Amateur Championship.

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 25.—(Canadian Press Cable—After brilliantly stroking into the discard such well-known British golf players as Cyril Tolley, W. F. Stout and Douglas Grant, A. R. MacCallum, of South Staffordshire, has become the hero of the British amateur golfing championship being played here. He has provided an upset each day since the championship commenced last Monday and yesterday proved no exception when MacCallum eliminated W. Torrance, of Edinburgh, 7 and 6, and entered the eights, he produced the biggest surprise of the entire championship, which has been replete with upsets. Torrance, who has been a Scottish international on six occasions and also represented Great Britain in the Walker Cup matches against the United States, collapsed so badly when playing against MacCallum that he lost eight holes in a row. On three occasions Torrance hit his first tee shot over the railway, and apparently disgusted he did not essay a fourth drive, but instead conceded the hole and walked to the second tee. He won the second hole but after being stymied at the "cardinal" hole he went utterly to pieces. MacCallum, in the meantime, continued his brilliant play and averaged fours throughout.

Earlier in the day MacCallum defeated Douglas Grant, British-American, two up.

Beaumont Pease, veteran banker, whose playing has been one of the high lights of the championship and who eliminated Sir Ernest Holderness, strong favorite Wednesday, won both his matches yesterday. In the morning he trounced M. McMaster of Durban, five and three. In the afternoon he entered the eights by eliminating T. F. Ellison, former English amateur champion at the twentieth hole. He staged a remarkable rally to win as Ellis was leading four up at the fourteenth. Pease won the next four and the nineteenth was halved.

Andrew Jamieson, the Scottish champion and the last Irishman, Dr. John McCormack, were also eliminated yesterday. Roger Wethered, another favorite for the title, defeated S. L. McKinley, one up, to enter the eights, while J. A. Lang, of Glasgow, who has been a surprise to date, defeated T. A. Bourne of Sunningdale, 4 to 3, to win a place.

T. F. Perkins, English champion, entered the last night by defeating Leslie Rankin of Sunningdale, one up. He advanced to the last sixteen in the morning by defeating the veteran H. D. Gillies, 5 and 4.

The final eights will be contested by five Scots and three Englishmen.

MAKES FOURTEENTH HOMER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 25 (Canadian Press).—Babe Ruth drove out his fourteenth home run of the season in the eighth inning of the second game between the Yankees and the Athletics here yesterday afternoon. The bases were empty and Ossie Orwell was pitching. The drive made the score 5 to 2, still favoring Philadelphia.

A SHORT SERMON.
Text: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him, male and female created he them." (Gen. 1, 27.) The simple definition of the word create is "to bring into being." The meaning of the word image is "a likeness." In what sense could man be said to be in the likeness of God? He could not be immortal, for the sentence of death could not be passed upon one that is immortal (immune from death). Man having dominion over every living thing that moveth upon the earth (Gen. 1, 28) is, in that respect, in the likeness of God. There is nothing in this text to bolster up the falsehood that man is immortal. Adam when created became a living soul, and this living soul was informed that he would die, if disobedient; Adam, the living soul, disobeyed, and Adam, the living soul, died. It is both untruthful and unscriptural to say that part of Adam did not die. "The soul that sinneth it shall die." (Ezekiel 18, 4.)—M. T. Butcher.

KIWANIS CLUB GIVES MEDAL FOR BRAVERY

Miss Beatrice Wilson Honored For Rescue of Small Boy.

WADED INTO DEEP POOL.

Presentation Made at Ladies' Night Social—Fine Address Given.

Implementing in tangible form one of their aims, to encourage the progress of the ethical as well as the material, growth of the community they serve, the Kiwanis Club last night presented a gold medal to a citizen of Peterborough, in recognition of an act of courage that resulted in the saving of a life.

On Thursday, May 3rd, Miss Beatrice Wilson, a teacher at May's school house, although unable to swim, waded into a very deep pond formed in an old brick yard on High street, and rescued little Herbert Bolen, aged seven years, from drowning, after he had fallen from a raft. It was for this act of courage and initiative that a gold medal was presented to Miss Wilson last night at a Ladies' Night function of the Kiwanis Club, held at the Empress Hotel.

President John, in his usual capable, genial fashion, presided over the dinner, which was served in the Empress' efficient style at tables centred by vases of mauve and rose Darwin tulips. Table favors were crackers containing gaily colored caps and tiny whistles. During dinner, members of the Boys' Band of the Y.M.C.A., self-styled as "The Clef Dwellers," played bright, tuneful music. This snappy little organization is led by Morris Watson, and members of the band are Don Reid, Don Green, Don Rathbone, Garth Braund and Gordon Braund.

The special speaker of the evening was Kiwanian P. C. MacLaurin, of Belleville, who was introduced by Carl Browne as principal of the Collegiate Institute of Belleville and primary worker in the erection of the new half million dollar Collegiate Institute to be opened there in September. Principal MacLaurin is chairman of the District Committee of Education for the Kiwanis Clubs of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

Speaking on "The Widening Horizon," Mr. MacLaurin gave an address that was forceful, eloquent, aspirational and withal, eminently practical. He considered the ethics of life in relation to their material aspect, and brought to the minds of his hearers a vision of courses of conduct that have a worth-while application to the everydayness of existence.

The speaker drew an analogy between what he termed the "widening horizon" of life, as it is to-day, and a certain chemical re-action which nullifies the horizon or line of demarcation, between liquid and gas, thus disproving the ancient and accepted theory of matter as being catalogued in three ways, as gaseous, liquid or solid. He also referred to the phenomena of the proton and the electron, which are both component parts of the atom, as an example of life. It has been discovered that there is a distance eternally maintained between the proton and the electron which has never been diminished. The electron, which is the smallest known particle, travels only in its own groove. It is declared that if the attraction between these two component parts should become so great that the Creator in time might decrease the distance between them and allow them to merge together, that an effulgence of light would result. In this connection, the speaker recommended a getting out of the accepted ruts of life, that a greater increase of light might result as a consequence.

"The horizon to us has always meant a level line or limit, a demarcation between the sky and the water, for instance, or between the sky and the land. In childhood we were taught that. But the airman, with his exploration of hitherto unknown areas, has opened up an entirely new horizon for us.

"Sometimes we get ideas to which we hold so tightly that we miss the very best in life. We do not allow ourselves to be elastic, to take the best out of life and to leave the bad alone and say nothing about it.

"In many ways we have widened our horizons," declared the speaker, going on to instance several, in the modern ways of transportation, which have revolutionized, through the automobile, older ideas of travel as limited by horse-drawn vehicles; in medicine, as exampled in the discovery of insulin by Dr. Banting and the recent assertion by Dr. McLeod that this discovery is even greater than has been imagined; in the construction of buildings, now formed of steel and iron, rather than of wood, and in a wonderful extension if social life.

Mr. MacLaurin concluded by suggesting that the Kiwanis Clubs do something concrete in the way of educational endeavor by laying aside certain funds to establish five annual

JAPAN ACCUSED OF OUTLAW ACTS

Northerners Object To Tokio's Policies in Violating International Law.

NOTE CAUSES SENSATION.

PEKING, May 26. — (United Press.)—Japan's intervention to prevent extension of the Chinese civil war to Manchuria was a violation of international law and of the Washington treaty, the Northern government charged yesterday in its answer to Japan's Manchurian note.

The importance of the note's defiant tone was increased because of its origin. Chang Tso-Lin, power behind the Northern government, always had been friendly to Japan.

TRENT EXHIBIT IS DISTRIBUTED

EXPECTS BIG RUSH.

Word just received from Walter M. Fowlds, Hastings, Ontario, who has been in charge of Peterborough Chamber of Commerce-Trent Waterway Association publicity work at Ohio's Second Annual Sportsman's and Outdoor Show, Cleveland, May 17 to 23 inclusive, indicates that not only will the city, Kawartha Lakes, and Trent Waterway benefit by the Ohio exhibit, but the illuminated hand-colored transparencies of Kawartha Lakes activity and scenery, along with the hand-colored illuminated map of the Trent Waterway, 55 inches by 37½ inches, will remain in the United States this summer, performing continuously the mission of silent salesmen. Letter just received from Mr. Fowlds, from Cleveland, Ohio, follows:

"I made arrangements for the disposition of the transparencies and stands, also the map, as follows:

"One set and stand (four transparencies) I expressed to Mr. C. E. Jenney, general agent of Canadian National Railways, 505 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

"One set and stand (four transparencies) to Gerald Griffin, Canadian Pacific Railway Co., 1010 Chester Avenue, Cleveland.

"Twelve transparencies, three stands, and one illuminated map, 55 inches by 37½ inches, also case for same, to Cleveland and Canada Navigation Company, 1520 Engineers' Bank Building, 5145 Cherry Street, Cleveland.

"I wrote to all the above parties. The Navigation people are going to display the map part time in the city office and afterwards at the dock, and the transparencies on the Cleveland-Lake Erie ferry boats. I consider we should get good publicity from this.

"The past three days the show has been exceptionally good, a large crowd last night and very many really interested inquiries. I have directed enough people into the Kawartha district to fill it to overflowing this season; so look for a big rush after July 1. Some are leaving early in June. They all want to fish, so it is up to us to try to look after this requirement as for them pickerel are fish."

ST. ANDREW'S CHOIR VISITS GLENHALKEN

(Contributed)

Why of course St. Andrew's Choir went up the lakes on the twenty-fourth, as has been their custom for years, to enjoy once more John Crane's hospitality at "Gladhalken." They day was beautiful as usual with just enough warmth to make us feel comfortable and just sufficient coolness to keep the mosquitoes quiet. I am sure that they will feel disappointed on learning that the choir has come and gone without providing them with any refreshment.

Each year brings in some unique feature. This time the choir motored to Kawartha Park and crossed over on small boats propelled by Johnson outboard motors. These were quite a source of speculation for some of the members. Many of an inquisitive and mechanical turn of mind proceeded to investigate how the motors were started. Usually they did not respond to unskilled hands, but sometimes they shocked their investigators by their sudden and unexpected response. Then a new difficulty arose in trying to stop and to steer the boat. It is never wise to learn to start a machine without also learning how it is stopped. It is like teaching recruits to advance without teaching them what halt means.

As usual like any other good choir on such an occasion we ate and sang, and sang and ate. Many enjoyed boat rides around the lake. Everything was most informal and all expressed themselves as having had a very delightful day.

Every year sees some new faces amongst us. They are always welcome but we miss those who were with us on former picnics. Some of our ex-members are across the seas, several are in United States, and many others are scattered throughout various parts of Canada. Of course girls will get married and boys will go elsewhere to try to improve their fortunes so we must expect changes from time to time.

The picnic of 1928 will be remembered as one of the delightful events of the year and all are indebted to Mr. Crane for his unfailing kindness. We also wish to thank all others who assisted in any way in giving the choir this pleasure.

WILLING TO GO.

OSLO, Norway May 26. —(Canadian Press.)—Roald Amundsen, famous Norwegian Polar explorer, is reported to have been called into conference with Norwegian government authorities concerning the possibility of sending a relief expedition to search for and give assistance to the missing dirigible Italia.

Amundsen, who made the first dirigible flight to the North Pole in 1926, is said to have expressed his willingness to go on such an expedition.

Encouraging Outlook For Wheat Crop Seen Throughout Western Provinces

WINNIPEG, Man., May 26 (Canadian Press).—Weather conditions while generally dry in Western Canada, continue to favor the progress of seeding with prospects of the entire 1928 wheat and coarse grain crop in the ground within a day or two. Wheat seeding already is completed in most sections.

Latest reports from Saskatchewan complain of lack of moisture, and Fall rye is stated to be suffering as the result of the recent heat wave. In some areas the intense heat is said to have resulted in premature heading out. Wheat in the heavier clay belts is in good condition, and around Saskatoon the Spring crop is from three to eight inches above the ground.

Alberta, while welcoming rain, reports the most encouraging outlook in many years. All Spring crops are progressing favorable with sufficient sub-soil to carry the crops for some time yet.

Ideal growing weather has prevailed in Manitoba. Intermittent rainfalls over the province generally, have stimulated growth and all sections report conditions anywhere from two weeks to a month ahead of last year. A good rain fell in Winnipeg and district yesterday, while showers were predicted farther west. The weather yesterday was cool over the West, with prospects of moderately higher temperatures.

Iron Workers May Walk Out On Strike

WINNIPEG, Man., May 26 (Canadian Press).—All business agents of the International Association of Bridge and Structual Iron Workers in the West have been instructed to call their men out at a moment's notice, it was learned here yesterday.

The order affects only those who are working for the companies affected by the strike in Toronto and Montreal. If the order is given, five hundred men throughout the West are expected to answer the call.

A Dominion-wide strike loomed as a possibility when Mr. Morin's instruction were learned, as it is understood that the majority of the companies whose men are on strike operate right through to the Pacific Coast.

MUSKRAT CATCH HAS DECREASED

Only Half As Many Taken In 1928 As In 1917—Closed For Year.

BENFITS EXPECTED.

The effect of an increasing number of trapper yearly endeavoring to obtain resultant high prices from a greater demand of the buying public for muskrat garments has become more apparent than ever this year. The Examiner, in conversation with trappers and fur dealers in the city and district, learns that the catch of the 1928 season, closed on April 21, was approximately half that of the season of 1917, when nearly fifty thousand rats were taken in the Rice Lake district, being valued at from $35,000 to $40,000. Barrie's Limited, fur dealers, alone handled some thirty thousand skins, manufacturing them into garments in the city.

The closed season of one year or more, according to conditions at the end of that period, which became effective on April 22, was calculated to improve the situation, and all fair-minded trappers and buyers have seen the wisdom of it. According to those interviewed, there was a real danger of the rate becoming exterminated unless some such action were taken. As the muskrat skins of this district are of a very superior quality the demand has increased yearly.

THINK BANDITS ARE IN DENVER

POSSES STILL OUT.

DENVER, Col., May 26 (Canadian Press).—A running gun fight here early to-day, in which a patrolman was forced to abandon the pursuit of men in an automobile similar to that used by the four desperadoes who killed two bankers at Lamar, Colorado, and a Kansas physician, has extended the man hunt on the theory that the robbers may have evaded hundreds of possemen in Western Kansas.

While the skirmish in the streets of Denver led police to believe the robbers were attempting to hide in or near this city, posses, aided by airplanes, continued to comb the rough country in Western Kansas where Dr. W. W. Wineiger was slain yesterday.

BREMEN FLIERS ARE TIRED OUT

SAIL ON JUNE 9TH.

NEW YORK, May 26 (Canadian Press).—The crew of the trans-Atlantic airplane Bremen came back here yesterday from Quebec to obtain a needed rest after their triumphal tour before returning by steamship to Europe on June 9. The three, Baron von Hnenefeld, Major Fitzmaurice and Captain Hermann Koehl, had been feted in a dozen cities of the United States and Canada, while always there pressed upon them the thousands anxious to see and hear the men who braved the westward crossing of the sea.

The German and Irish fliers, after a day at a hotel here, will retire to a quiet spot in the country, unnamed, so that their seclusion may be complete. They will remain there until sailing.

BASE SHIP PREPARING TO SAIL IN SEARCH OF MISSING AIRSHIP; WIRELESS COMMUNICATION CUT

OVERDUE FROM POLE.

GEN. UMBERTO NOBILE
Commander of the dirigible Italia, which should have returned to King's Bay last night.

Crew of Citta di Milano Loading Coal For Long Cruise Northward.

WILL LEAVE TO-DAY.

Possible Nobile Has Turned Toward Siberia Because of Contrary Winds Encountered.

Out of Spitzbergen more than eighty hours, the dirigible Italia at 5 p.m. Spitzbergen time (11 a.m. Eastern standard time) was lost in the icy Polar regions, with fears for her safety increasing hourly.

Quick to respond to the Italian request for assistance, the Norwegian Government promised every aid.

Raold Amundsen, famous Norwegian explorer, was reported in conference with government officials to head a relief expedition.

The last word directly from the Italia, received at Spitzbergen more than thirty-six hours ago, told of the ship fighting fog and adverse winds, her speed being cut seriously. To-day the wind had veered and was blowing from the north.

Spitzbergen advices indicated that the Italia would run out of fuel to-night, but Oslo despatches estimated fuel would have been exhausted at four o'clock this morning.

The Italia could remain in the air under favorable conditions for at least two weeks and carried enough food to feed the crew of sixteen for a month, as well as emergency equipment should a landing on the ice be made necessary.

KING'S BAY, May 26 (Canadian Press).—Fearful for the safety of the dirigible Italia, now out of Spitzbergen on her North Pole flight more than seventy-eight hours, the crew of the base ship Citta Di Milano bunkered coal all morning in preparation for sailing in search of the missing airship. It was expected that the ship would be ready to start by night and probably would proceed eastward around South Cape, Spitzbergen.

The wireless operators of Citta Di Milano continued ceaselessly their efforts to get in touch with the Italia, but were unable to make any contact. As the airship has a reserve radio with an accumulator which can be used when the motors are not operating, the airship's long silence is incomprehensible to the crew of the base ship.

Taking into consideration the state of the weather and the continuing winds, a strong belief was felt today that the Italia has made for the Siberian coast, finding further efforts to reach Spitzbergen fruitless.

One suggestion advanced was that the airship might have collided with a high mountain in northern Spitzbergen during her flight southward through the fog.

Should the Italia be down, it carried equipment to enable the crew of sixteen, including General Nobile, to fight their way toward safety. This includes ski sledges, snow shoes, and sleeping stacks of reindeer skin. If the Italia's gas gives out, it will be able still to stay in the air for weeks, it is stated.

Confident in Italy

ROME, May 26 (Canadian Press). —Official Italy was confident to-day that the dirigible Italia would fight her way through fog and against heavy winds to safety.

The Ministry of Aeronautics, despite bad weather reports from the Polar region, stated that Nobile could not be far from his base. Even if the ship was in a storm, officials said, she could ride it out.

Ice forming from a fog through which the ship was battling her way against a quartering gale, probably has broken her wireless antennae and prevented communication with the base ship here, the Citta Di Milano.

May Land Elsewhere.

Although members of the expedition here are confident taht the big dirigible will win her way through the adverse conditions, they have began to discuss other possible landing places for their companions.

They say that the Italia may make for Vadsoe, Norway, where there is a mooring mast to which the airship was attached before she completed her voyage from Italy to this point, or, possibly with the prevailing wind, she may voyage to the Siberian coast.

The Italia is well stocked for emergencies. She had aboard when she left here 8,200 kilograms of gasoline and food enough for one month. The subsistence stores consist principally of pemmican and chopolate.

The sixteen men aboard are the same as on the last previous trip of the Italia except the journalist, Tomasselli, was replaced by the journalist, Lanr, and the wireless operator, Pedrette, by Operator Tesjekoslovakia and Behonek, a scientist.

The commander of the Citta Di Milano had asked the coal company here to furnish assistance in hauling the airship into her hangar and all employees of the concern were standing by.

POLICE SIGNAL ALREADY IN USE

WHEN 'PHONE RINGS.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 26. — The red light which sometimes shines high above the corner of Front and Bridge Streets, about eight feet out from the corner of the Bank of Montreal building, is the new police telephone call which has been installed for the purpose of adding to the efficiency of the Police Department. The light is operated from Central in the same manner as an ordinary telephone bell. When there is an officer in the office the light switch is turned off and the light does not function. Before going out on his beat, the officer on duty closes the switch. Then when he is wanted on the telephone, the light glows. It may be seen from a large section of the town, and has already been found useful. The officer, upon seeing the light glowing, must either return to his office telephone, or call Central on the instrument nearest at hand.

NORTHERN FORCES BEGIN OFFENSIVE

Strike Back at Nationalists South of Peking With Considerable Success.

PEKING, May 26 (Canadian Press).—Northern China struck back at Southern China to-day. The Northern troops opened an offensive to the south-west of Paotingfu, key city of the Peking-Hankow railroad, about 30 miles south-west of Peking. Early advices said the Northerners were advancing successfully.

LEGION DECIDES TO HOLD DINNER

Camybellford Veterans Will Observe First Anniversary of Organization.

COMPLAINT ENTERED.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 26. — Many items of business were unanimously approved and a few were just as definitely disapproved at the special meeting of the Campbellford branch of the Canadian Legion in their club rooms last night. The fact that the first birthday of the branch is only a few weeks away, called for considerable discussion as to the proper form for the birthday party. It was finally decided that there would be a dinner for returned men only. Invitations would be sent to various branches and towns in the district and the very small fee of fifty cents would be the only charge to the guests. The remainder of the expenses will be taken care of by the general fund. This fund has grown to more than six hundred dollars and the branch may be said to be on a sound financial footing.

The item which failed to meet the approval of the members was the "Peterborough and the Great War" cut in The Examiner. The criticism is that the soldier who is intently gazing over the wall is not wearing the British equipment. "Tell them to put Webb harness on that man." Comrade Long advised and laughter made it necessary to suspend business for the time being. The complainant was assured that this would be brought to the attention of the paper concerned. He was also assured that many of the men on the staff of the paper are returned men.

The financial report as presented by the secretary showed that the net returns from the euchre and dance to be $343.25. This swelled the general fund of the branch to approximately $625.00. The membership is seventy-four, almost ten dollars per capita for members in good standing. The next item of business was the birthday party. There was already a motion on the books from a previous meeting calling for some sort of recognition of the event, but it was not till last night that the denite form was decided upon. The affair was left in the hands of the social committee consisting of Comrades George Free, A. G. Morgan and G. D. McEachern.

It is the desire of the branch that the dinner be held in the parish hall on June 19th at seven o'clock Arrangements will be made with this end in view. While the dinner is to be strictly for returned men, it will not be for members of the Legion only Tickets will shortly go on sale and may be purchased by any returned men from Campbellford or anwhere else. The aim is to have a sort of re-union and spend the evening aside from the cares of the world just as many an evening was spent in former years.

Comrade Morgan presented the report of the cafeteria held in connection with the Legion dance and received the unanimous aporeciation of the members. In reply, he stated, that he was not justly able to receive all the credit, since he had been met everywhere by a generous response while arranging the affairs of the cafeteria, and the secretary had, he thought, done more for the affair than anyone else.

Comrade Johnston was authorized to purchase curtains and blinds for the Legion rooms to replace those which are now decorating the windows. Comrade J. R. Wilkinson, one of the strong supporters of the branch, volunteered to take the responsibility of having a case made for the good luck wreath which was recently presented to the Legion. He will also assume any expense in connection with the case. On motion, it was decided to present the winning team in the contest for the sale of tickets for the dance with a box of cigars. The presentation will be made at the next meeting and it was believed last night that there would be a record attendance for the occasion.

The fee of $2.00 for the entrance of the Legionaire team into the town softball league was voted paid, also the manager was authorized to purchase two bats and a ball. It was brought to the attention of the meeting that the team had suffered a shortage of players at the opening game, and several names of players were submitted. These will be used to replace names of men who are not returned men and who were allowed to play for the Legion in order that a sixth team might be entered in the league. When the team takes the field next Thursday, there is every reason to expect a much snappier aggregation than made its initial appearance for the veterans.

THE BEAUTY OF RED PINE.

The red pine is one of the most beautiful trees in Canada for ornamental planting. Its great masses of long dark green, closely bunched needles contrast strikingly with the reddish color of the bark on its straight ragged trunk. It is a splendid tree for drives, borders, and lawns of large grounds.

APSLEY HOSPITAL FULLY OCCUPIED

Temporary Quarters Have To Be Arranged For Two Patients.

APSLEY, May 26.—In view of the campaign for funds in support of the Apsley Red Cross Hospital, which the committee is launching, to culminate in a big Field Day on June 21st the objective of $300 will, it is hoped, be exceeded, the public will be interested to know that at the present time the accommodation is overtaxed, the two wards being occupied, and two more patients daily expected for whom temporary arrangements are being made in the living rooms of the hospital. The nurses monthly report shows 53 hospital days in April, and 46 this month up to the 23rd. Since October there have been eight births in the hospital.

Scout News

ST. ANDREW'S TROOP.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 26.—St. Andrew's Troop Boy Scouts held their regular meeting in the basement of the church last night. The evening was chiefly spent in the study of Scout craft and the discussion of the usual summer camp After the boys had been dismissed the Scout committee of the church met to discuss the matters relative to the camp. It was decided that the camp would be held during the first week in July and several possible locations were mentioned. Those which found the greatest favor were in the district of Round Lake or Belmont Lake. The matter of finances seemed to be the greatest difficulty to be met, and various plans were suggested for raising sufficient funds. Nothing definite was done for the present. Every Scout will be fully equipped for camp and this will include uniforms. It is expected that the cost to the boys will be about two and a half dollars for the ten days in camp.

FULL PROGRAM ON VICTORIA DAY

Bethany People and Visitors Enjoy Ball Games and Concert.

WIND UP WITH DANCE.

BETHANY, May 26. — Victoria Day was celebrated here on Thursday in royal fashion, the festivities beginning shortly after noon and ending about three o'clock on Friday morning. Athletic contests, a concert, and a dance made up the program.

The first event was a ladies' softball game, in which Millbrook defeated Bethany 20-2. Then followed a baseball game between Keene and Bethany, which was closely contested, ending in a one-one tie. A football game between Pontypool and Bethany concluded the afternoon's program, and ended in victory for the home team, 1-0.

The new grand stand of the Bethany athletic field was in use for the first time, and was filled with spectators, many coming from Lindsay, Peterborough, and even as far as Toronto for the holiday. The grand stand is a commodious structure, and the seating accommodation provided adds greatly to the pleasure of the spectators. Underneath a booth has been fitted up, while space is provided for a dressing-room to be fitted up later.

In the evening a play, "Cyclone Sally," was presented in the Town Hall by the Reaboro Dramatic Club. This was well staged and acted, and the capacity audience which attended was well pleased. The hall was not large enough to accommodate all who wished to see the play. When the play was over the crowd dispersed and the seats were removed. Hooper's Orchestra, from Lindsay, provided music for the dance which was held then, which was attended by a large crowd.

The committee in charge of the day's program was greatly pleased with the attendance at every event. The proceeds totalled $450.00.

YOUNG PEOPLE CLOSE SEASON

GOOD PROGRAM GIVEN.

MADOC, May 26.—The Young People of Trinity United Church held their closing meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, in the church parlors, the losing teams giving a banquet to the winning group. The well-laden tables greeting the guests, together with the decorations, gave a festive air to the proceedings, and after all had dined, the usual toasts were proposed. That to the King was responded to by the singing of the National Anthem, and then an address was read by Miss Alice Hale to the bride and groom of the party, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Derry, and Mrs. J. B. Hough, in behalf of the league, presented Mrs. Derry with a beautiful china tea set. Mrs. Derry (nee Myrtle Smith), though taken by surprise, replied, thanking the donors, and expressing her sincere appreciation of the kindness shown.

A piano duet by Misses McRory and Robertson was then much enjoyed, after which Mrs. Duncan Brown proposed the toast to the Church, which was replied to by the Rev. G. W. Rivers.

The toast to the winning side was proposed by James Keene and suitably responded to by Mrs. Rivers. Following this came a vocal duet by Misses Vera and Olive Parker. George White was then called on for an address, and chose as his subject, "A Motor Trip in England." His hearers enjoyed a talk on some of his experiences during one of his leaves during the war, spent in England.

After some community singing a short address was given by Mrs. Geo. Field, secretary for the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. F. Dafoe then moved, seconded by Mrs. C. Henderson, a very hearty vote of thanks in behalf of the "Fords" for the splendid repast, also to the speakers and musicians, and all who had helped to make the banquet a success. This was heartily accorded, and the doxology and benediction closed the evening.

WORK IN NORTH ADDRESS SUBJECT

Rev. P. C. Howard Gives Interesting Talk To Bailieboro Young People.

BAILIEBORO, May 26. — Rev. P. C. Howard, of the local Anglican Church, delivered an excellent address on his mission work during his five years' work at James Bay, to the members of the Young People's League of the United Church at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening. Mr. Howard told of the trip he and his wife had from Toronto to Hudson Bay, and also told of many interesting experiences he had during his mission work among the Hudson Bay Indians and Eskimos. The speaker stated that working among the natives of that district, one could quite easily see the fruits of their labor.

In closing, Mr. Howard appealed to the people to remember the people in the Far North, not only when they were giving their money to help carry the Gospel message to those who have not as yet heard of the loving Master, but to remember the needs of the people in their prayers.

The address was much enjoyed and appreciated by the members of the League, and the excellent manner in which the speaker discussed the Northern situation gave his listeners a clear idea of the people who first inhabited North America.

The president, Fred Barnard, had charge of the devotional service, while the Scripture reading was explained by Miss Mary Earl. A vocal duet rendered by Mrs. N. Thompson and Mrs. V. Bateman, as well as a pianoforte duet by the Misses Irene Johnston and Edna Wallace were also much enjoyed.

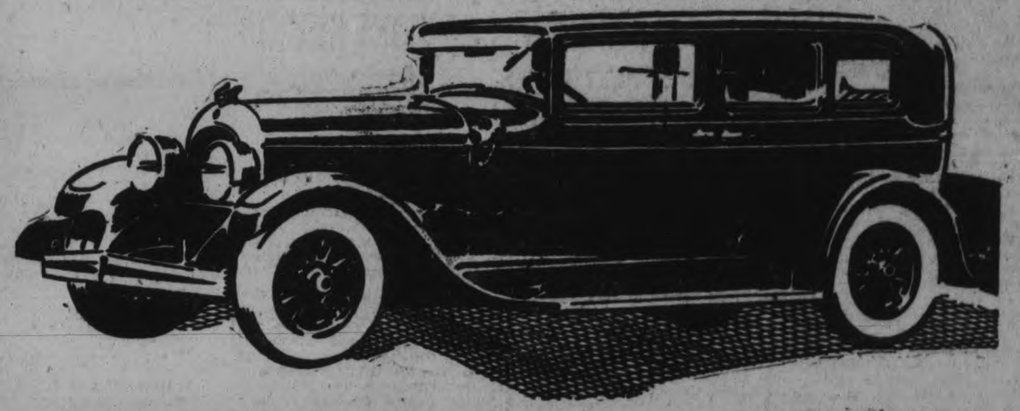
"72" widens the margin of Chrysler Superiority



Royal Sedan (illustrated) $2350

Today, there is nothing like Chrysler "72" performance in other cars at its price or even for $1500 more.

Four years from today, perhaps, you will be able to get in these other cars the performance you get right now in the Chrysler "72."

Competition's best efforts—even with Chrysler to show them the way—have barely caught up with the performance of the original Chrysler—the car that obsoleted the cumbersome, bulky vehicles of four years ago.

And during these four years, Chrysler's progressive engineering has constantly increased the long margin of Chrysler superiority.

That is why the "72" today gives you performance that sets the pace for the entire industry for the next four years. 72 miles and more per hour. 75 brake horsepower. Acceleration that leaves every other car behind. Vibrationless smoothness that only a Chrysler counterweighted 7-bearing crankshaft can give.

Drive the Illustrious "72"—and see for yourself how very far ahead it is in everything that makes for greatest motor-car satisfaction and value.

CHRYSLER "72"

AS I APPROACHED THE WORKSHOP of my carpenter friend I could hear his voice in earnest conversation with some other visitor. On entering I discovered that his other visitor was Tom Take-Things-Easy. Tom and John were members of the same congregation. And it was a church matter they were now discussing. It had to do with finances. Like many other churches, their church was running behind with its collections. Some of the members of the finance committee were facing the situation in a more or less "it-will-come-all-right frame of mind." But a few were inclined to get into a panic and think that everything was going wrong.

An Illustration.

John says, "Tom, it is like this: A certai n bank held the note of a man and notified him that it would be due upon a specific date. The debtor paid no attention to the note. A few days later the bank began to worry and presently took legal steps to insure payment. A man loaned a friend a few dollars each week for a time upon the promise that the money would be repaid promptly. Months passed without payment, and the one who loaned the funds worried and sought ways to collect. A firm of merchants supported a large asset statement by a long list of accounts receivable An audit proved that many of the accounts were old and worthless and that much credit had been extended without proper investigation. The firm went bankrupt. Too late it began to worry and the dismissal of its credit manager did not insure its solvency.

"What we need in our church is some one to WORRY. Some one is needed to keep unfailing watch on payments of subscriptions made by members to the budget for current expenses and benevolences. Some one is wanted truly to WORRY if the membership of the church does not meet its promised contributions."

Our Minister Says—

"More than once I have heard our minister say that the moment a subscription is made it becomes an obligation and the affairs of the Kingdom require its careful management and discharge; the same care, watchfulness and worry as does the successful issue of any business. No firm can long endure which neglects its outstanding accounts; no church can meet its full obligation without diligence and enterprise. Business insists and insists until paid. Why should the Lord's credits be handled with less diligence?"

Wanted: Some One to Worry!

As I listened to this very interesting conversation I remembered that large sums of money are spent to inform and educate the church of its evangelistic and missionary responsibilities, to spread the claims of stewardship, to mobilize for efficient action, and to aid in making a satisfactory every-member canvass.

There is much rejoicing when a congregation at the beginning of the year proclaims that its budget is subscribed and sometimes over-subscribed.

That proclamation does not raise the budget! Only collecting and remitting the full amount of the budget marks the canvass a success.

Some one is wanted in every church to worry until the money comes in and until it is paid out through the proper channels where it should go.

Honeymoon Salad.

"I don't say much in church," continued John Plane, "but I think a whole lot more than some folk I know. And even if my hearing is not the best, my sight is still good. And it seems to me that too many of my fellow-members show a preference for 'honeymoon salad.' 'Honeymoon salad' is 'let-tuce alone.' Churches made up of members who want to be let alone in the matter of meeting obligations for the Kingdom need some one to worry about the funds which ought to come in.

"This 'some one' may be a committee, financial secretary or treasurer, but some one is wanted to worry, just as all successful business authorizes some one to go after results. We are too polite in church work, too fearful of pushing Christ's claim for funds promised Him."

The Business End of the Church.

D. C. Tremaine says, in speaking of "Finances": "In spite of its importance and necessity, perhaps no feature of the work is usually attended with less method nor worked with less system. Passing the basket will not provide for the budget. Usually a small per cent. of the membership bears the bulk of the financial burden. These are usually the ones who have been in the work from its infancy and have grown up with a sense of the necessities of the work.

"To emphasize the sense of personal obligation is, in a measure, the solution of the problem. But how shall this be done? This is not so easily answered. Certainly no other organization, social or fraternal, will permit a member 'in good standing' to sponge his way, but religious parasites are numerous. In the church a feeling has found growth that the church is a charity, to be indulged at pleasure, rather than an obligation to be regularly met."

The Ideal Way.

Nothing need be said of tithing save to urge it as the ideal plan for free-will support. But to work it requires a depth of devotion and a delicacy of conscience so rare as to be almost negligible. In attempting to develop the tithing habit, a long period of preliminary education is necessary, and exhortation along the line of "Stewardship."

No business manager would long tolerate a department that did not pay, and he can soon tell you what departments pay and how much. When he discovers that some department is not producing, it is his business to develop it or drop it.

No church can be said to be efficiently financed until the chairman of the finance committee can produce a signed pedge from every member, or can give a plausible excuse for its absence.

We should not expect to reap the full result of our effort at the first trial We should not try it one year and then call it a failure. We should push it every year and every day in the year. It takes time.

The system under which the finances are worked is not so important, provided it is adequate, as the consistency with which that system is applied. Efficiency is not magic—it is work, but work directed.

—Allan Fairbairn.

The Minister Remarks--

—I have noticed that some married men in our city seem to belong to every organization but their own family.

—The past, with some people, is like a dog's bone—buried only to be dug up.

—What I would like to see in the world is a peace that passeth all misunderstanding.

—While to-morrow offers the chance of mending the mistakes of to-day few seem anxious to take advantage of it.

—A certain social philosopher alleges that women are taking over men's discarded vices — but I have yet to learn that men have discarded any.

—There was a time when the truth made men free, now it makes them mad.

TELL US A STORY

LOOKING down the advertisement columns of a newspaper, how often does one come across something like this: "A young man desires a light situation?" Henry Ward Beecher once got a letter from such a youth, asking him to find an easy berth. He replied as follows: "If you wish an easy berth, don't be an editor. Do not try the law. Do not think of the ministry. Avoid school-keeping. Let alone all ships, stores, shops, merchandise. Abhor politics. Don't practise medicine. Be not a farmer nor mechanic; neither be a soldier nor sailor. Don't work. Don't study. Don't think. None of these is easy. Oh, my friend! you have come into a hard world. I know of but one easy place in it, and that is the grave!"

An Inner Rebellion

AT best life is a struggle. We make every advance in the teeth of storm. Inclination calls for indulgence Passion is always appealing for satisfaction. "The flesh warreth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh." "For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do." The lawlessness of to-day is only the outbreak of an inner rebellion that is ever ready to assert itself when restraints are demanded. . . . Righteousness never has an easy time of it. It has to fight its way out and on and up."—"Jesus Christ at the Crossroads."

WHAT a scene of bustle and preparation! Some change of residence appears to be in contemplation as the great man gives his orders and tents are struck and placed "on the bunches of camels," and family treasures, which have come down from long generations, are carefully prepared for a journey. This seems to be no summer move to get pastures for the flocks, for apparently it is a severance from friends and relatives, and a break-up of old associations.

Wonderful farewells are exchanged according to the usual Eastern customs, but there is great meaning in these salutations, because, so far as we can judge, the expedition now preparing for departure has no thought of return. It is, therefore, "farewell for ever" which these friends are saying.

It is not exactly a tribal move, for it is a comparatively small party which is about to travel. The old sheik has many herdman, servants and slaves, but only three companions of his own rank, and each of these bears a different relationship towards him. Altogether it is a goodly company which forms the caravan. Now the start is made; their course, we observe, lies somewhat in the direction of the sun's position half way between his rising and his place at noon.

Judging by the preparations made, these travellers have a long journey before them. What thoughts, I wonder, are in the minds of the older and the younger members of this party? To the young, change is pleasant; perhaps that aged chieftian wonders how he will like the far-off country with all its new surroundings. Human plans and expectations often fail in their realization. It is so here. Scarce 50 miles of the journey have been covered, and the old man lies down—never to arise. He has started on a yet longer journey, and one from which he will never return.

The key to the previous Pen Picture of Bible History is to be found in Judges 8:13, &c.

HATE no man; but pity sinners,

What About Your Vacation

IT will soon be vacation time. Be on your guard! All the benevolent souls who insist upon counseling others what to do and how to do it are not yet dead. If you are lucky enough to escape their attention along advisory lines you are lucky indeed. The man who likes a strenuous fortnight of real roughing it will soon be urging a less stalwart friend to "get out into the open," and the latter in his turn, will in all probability be urging upon another the delights of a quiet two weeks somewhere. As a result of all these bits of unsolicited advice, and the fact that many allow themselves to be influenced by them, we see a pitifully large number of vacation misfits—men and women spending their brief period away from work in doing what they do not care to do and in wishing that they had followed their own inclinations instead of some one else's advice.

Deciding what to do in vacation time ought to be left a personal matter, as it undoubtedly is. Unless a person is very sure of being able to find both recreation and joy in doing what some one urges, it would be far better to eschew advice and make plans for oneself. And if you would do that successfully you ought to begin early. Not knowing what to do, nor where to go, until the hour has arrived for doing and going is accountable for much disappointment. The sensible think to do, and the practical thing, too, is to plan in advance, and to plan thoroughly.

Divine Possibilities

I dare to say that it is possible for those who really are willing to reckon on the power of the Lord for keeping and victory, to lead a life in which His promises are taken as they stand and are found to be True.

It is possible to cast all our care upon Him daily and to enjoy deep peace in doing it.

It is possible to have the thoughts and imaginations of our hearts purified, in the deepest meaning of the word, through faith.

It is possible to see the will of God in everything, and to receive it, not with sighing, but with singing.

It is possible, by taking complete refuge in divine power, to become strong through and through; and where previously our greatest weakness lay, to find that the things which formerly upset all our resolves to be patient or pure or humble, furnish to-day an opportunity — through Him who loved us, and works in us an agreement with His will and a blessed sense of His presence and His power—to make sin powerless.

These things are Divine possibilities, and because they are His work, the true experience of them will always cause us to bow lower at His feet and learn to thirst and long for more. We cannot possibly be satisfied with anything less than—each day, each hour, each moment, in Christ, through the power of the Holy Spirit—to walk with God.

The Measuring Rod

LET us measure our duty in giving. What shall be the measuring-rod?

1. Capacity: "She hath done what she could."
2. Opportunity: "As ye have opportunity, do good unto all men."
3. Convictions: "The servant which knew his Lord's will and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes."
4. The necessity of others: "If a brother or sister be naked, or destitute of daily food, &c."
5. The providence of God: "Let every man lay by him in store as God has prospered him."
6. Symmetry of character: "Abound in the grace also."
7. Our own happiness: "It is more blessed to give than to receive."
8. God's glory: "Honor the Lord with thy substance."
9. Finally: "As ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." —A. F.

A Bugle Call

KENDRICK C. HILL, a Presbyterian elder in the U. S. A., says that when duty calls he who speaks of peace at any price is only a coward and a shirker, for "there is no evil that we cannot either face or fly from save the consciousness of duty disregarded, and with consciences satisfied with the discharge of duty, no consequences can harm us." The prophets, disciples, apostles, martyrs, uncrowned heroes alike, when duty called, responded, not as those who retreat in submission and slavery, but. like Paul. who "fought a good fight." Thus Paul classified life as a fight. That is just what it really is. Few succeed in life without making a fight for it. This takes courage. . . .

A man who has not the courage of his convictions is not a worth-while man. Duty never asked for "peace at any price." neither did God ever enjoin a man to forsake duty for peace. We must fight—and perhaps fight all the more because it is neither pleasant nor popular. —A. F.

If you will be wholly at the Lord's disposal, as were the tools in the carpenter's shop at Nazareth, He will take you up and use you.

AS I APPROACHED THE WORKSHOP of my carpenter friend I could hear his voice in earnest conversation with some other visitor. On entering I discovered that his other visitor was Tom Take-Things-Easy. Tom and John were members of the same congregation. And it was a church matter they were now discussing. It had to do with finances. Like many other churches, their church was running behind with its collections. Some of the members of the finance committee were facing the situation in a more or less "it-will-come-all-right frame of mind." But a few were inclined to get into a panic and think that everything was going wrong.

An Illustration.

John says, "Tom, it is like this: A certain bank held the note of a man and notified him that it would be due upon a specific date. The debtor paid no attention to the note. A few days later the bank began to worry and presently took legal steps to insure payment. A man loaned a friend a few dollars each week for a time upon the promise that the money would be repaid promptly. Months passed without payment, and the one who loaned the funds worried and sought ways to collect. A firm of merchants supported a large asset statement by a long list of accounts receivable An audit proved that many of the accounts were old and worthless and that much credit had been extended without proper investigation. The firm went bankrupt. Too late it began to worry and the dismissal of its credit manager did not insure its solvency.

"What we need in our church is some one to WORRY. Some one is needed to keep unfailing watch on payments of subscriptions made by members to the budget for current expenses and benevolences. Some one is wanted truly to WORRY if the membership of the church does not meet its promised contributions."

Our Minister Says—

"More than once I have heard our minister say that the moment a subscription is made it becomes an obligation and the affairs of the Kingdom require its careful management and discharge; the same care, watchfulness and worry as does the successful issue of any business. No firm can long endure which neglects its outstanding accounts; no church can meet its full obligation without diligence and enterprise. Business insists and insists until paid. Why should the Lord's credits be handled with less diligence?"

Wanted: Some One to Worry!

As I listened to this very interesting conversation I remembered that large sums of money are spent to inform and educate the church of its evangelistic and missionary responsibilities, to spread the claims of stewardship, to mobilize for efficient action, and to aid in making a satisfactory every-member canvass.

There is much rejoicing when a congregation at the beginning of the year proclaims that its budget is subscribed and sometimes over-subscribed.

That proclamation does not raise the budget! Only collecting and remitting the full amount of the budget marks the canvass a success.

Some one is wanted in every church to worry until the money comes in and until it is paid out through the proper channels where it should go.

Honeymoon Salad.

"I don't say much in church," continued John Plane, "but I think a whole lot more than some folk I know. And even if my hearing is not the best, my sight is still good. And it seems to me that too many of my fellow-members show a preference for 'honeymoon salad.' 'Honeymoon salad' is 'let-tuce alone.' Churches made up of members who want to be let alone in the matter of meeting obligations for the Kingdom need some one to worry about the funds which ought to come in.

"This 'some one' may be a committee, financial secretary or treasurer, but some one is wanted to worry, just as all successful business authorizes some one to go after results. We are too polite in church work, too fearful of pushing Christ's claim for funds promised Him."

The Business End of the Church.

D. C. Tremaine says, in speaking of "Finances": "In spite of its importance and necessity, perhaps no feature of the work is usually attended with less method nor worked with less system. Passing the basket will not provide for the budget. Usually a small per cent. of the membership bears the bulk of the financial burden. These are usually the ones who have been in the work from its infancy and have grown up with a sense of the necessities of the work. "To emphasize the sense of personal obligation is, in a measure, the solution of the problem. But how shall this be done? This is not so easily answered. Certainly no other organization, social or fraternal, will permit a member 'in good standing' to sponge his way, but religious parasites are numerous. In the church a feeling has found growth that the church is a charity, to be indulged at pleasure, rather than an obligation to be regularly met."

The Ideal Way.

Nothing need be said of tithing save to urge it as the ideal plan for free-will support. But to work it requires a depth of devotion and a delicacy of conscience so rare as to be almost negligible. In attempting to develop the tithing habit, a long period of preliminary education is necessary, and exhortation along the line of "Stewardship."

No business manager would long tolerate a department that did not pay, and he can soon tell you what departments pay and how much. When he discovers that some department is not producing, it is his business to develop it or drop it.

No church can be said to be efficiently financed until the chairman of the finance committee can produce a signed pedge from every member, or can give a plausible excuse for its absence.

We should not expect to reap the full result of our effort at the first trial We should not try it one year and then call it a failure. We should push it every year and every day in the year. It takes time.

The system under which the finances are worked is not so important, provided it is adequate, as the consistency with which that system is applied. Efficiency is not magic —it is work, but work directed.

—Allan Fairbairn.

The Minister Remarks--

—I have noticed that some married men in our city seem to belong to every organization but their own family.

—The past, with some people, is like a dog's bone—buried only to be dug up.

—What I would like to see in the world is a peace that passeth all misunderstanding.

—While to-morrow offers the chance of mending the mistakes of to-day few seem anxious to take advantage of it.

—A certain social philosopher alleges that women are taking over men's discarded vices — but I have yet to learn that men have discarded any.

—There was a time when the truth made men free, now it makes them mad.

TELL US A STORY

LOOKING down the advertisement columns of a newspaper, how often does one come across something like this: "A young man desires a light situation?" Henry Ward Beecher once got a letter from such a youth, asking him to find an easy berth. He replied as follows: "If you wish an easy berth, don't be an editor. Do not try the law. Do not think of the ministry. Avoid school-keeping. Let alone all ships, stores, shops, merchandise. Abhor politics. Don't practise medicine. Be not a farmer nor mechanic; neither be a soldier nor sailor. Don't work: Don't study. Don't think. None of these is easy. Oh, my friend! you have come into a hard world. I know of but one easy place in it, and that is the grave!"

An Inner Rebellion

AT best life is a struggle. We make every advance in the teeth of storm. Inclination calls for indulgence Passion is always appealing for satisfaction. "The flesh warreth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh." "For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do." The lawlessness of to-day is only the outbreak of an inner rebellion that is ever ready to assert itself when restraints are demanded. . . . Righteousness never has an easy time of it. It has to fight its way out and on and up."—"Jesus Christ at the Crossroads."

WHAT a scene of bustle and preparation! Some change of residence appears to be in contemplation as the great man gives his orders and tents are struck and placed "on the bunches of camels," and family treasures, which have come down from long generations, are carefully prepared for a journey. This seems to be no summer move to get pastures for the flocks, for apparently it is a severance from friends and relatives, and a break-up of old associations.

Wonderful farewells are exchanged according to the usual Eastern customs, but there is great meaning in these salutations, because, so far as we can judge, the expedition now preparing for departure has no thought of return. It is, therefore, "farewell for ever" which these friends are saying.

It is not exactly a tribal move, for it is a comparatively small party which is about to travel. The old sheik has many herdman, servants and slaves, but only three companions of his own rank, and each of these bears a different relationship towards him. Altogether it is a goodly company which forms the caravan. Now the start is made; their course, we observe, lies somewhat in the direction of the sun's position half way between his rising and his place at noon.

Judging by the preparations made, these travellers have a long journey before them. What thoughts, I wonder, are in the minds of the older and the younger members of this party? To the young, change is pleasant; perhaps that aged chieftian wonders how he will like the far-off country with all its new surroundings. Human plans and expectations often fail in their realization. It is so here. Scarce 50 miles of the journey have been covered, and the old man lies down—never to arise. He has started on a yet longer journey, and one from which he will never return.

The key to the previous Pen Picture of Bible History is to be found in Judges 8:13, &c.

Think of This

HATE no man; but pity sinners,
despise cowards, avoid knaves,
work with the wise, and amuse yourselves with fools.

Shun lofty thoughts, and wisely fear
To be sublimely crazy;
Scan, if you will, the starry sphere,
But learn to love the daisy.

What About Your Vacation

IT will soon be vacation time. Be on your guard! All the benevolent souls who insist upon counseling others what to do and how to do it are not yet dead. If you are lucky enough to escape their attention along advisory lines you are lucky indeed. The man who likes a strenuous fortnight of real roughing it will soon be urging a less stalwart friend to "get out into the open," and the latter in his turn, will in all probability be urging upon another the delights of a quiet two weeks somewhere. As a result of all these bits of unsolicited advice, and the fact that many allow themselves to be influenced by them, we see a pitifully large number of vacation misfits—men and women spending their brief period away from work in doing what they do not care to do and in wishing that they had followed their own inclinations instead of some one else's advice.

Deciding what to do in vacation time ought to be left a personal matter, as it undoubtedly is. Unless a person is very sure of being able to find both recreation and joy in doing what some one urges, it would be far better to eschew advice and make plans for oneself. And if you would do that successfully you ought to begin early. Not knowing what to do, nor where to go, until the hour has arrived for doing and going is accountable for much disappointment. The sensible think to do, and the practical thing, too, is to plan in advance, and to plan thoroughly.

—A. F.

Divine Possibilities

I dare to say that it is possible for those who really are willing to reckon on the power of the Lord for keeping and victory, to lead a life in which His promises are taken as they stand and are found to be True.

It is possible to cast all our care upon Him daily and to enjoy deep peace in doing it.

It is possible to have the thoughts and imaginations of our hearts purified, in the deepest meaning of the word, through faith.

It is possible to see the will of God in everything, and to receive it, not with sighing, but with singing.

It is possible, by taking complete refuge in divine power, to become strong through and through; and where previously our greatest weakness lay, to find that the things which formerly upset all our resolves to be patient or pure or humble, furnish to-day an opportunity — through Him who loved us, and works in us an agreement with His will and a blessed sense of His presence and His power—to make sin powerless.

These things are Divine possibilities, and because they are His work, the true experience of them will always cause us to bow lower at His feet and learn to thirst and long for more. We cannot possibly be satisfied with anything less than—each day, each hour, each moment, in Christ, through the power of the Holy Spirit—to walk with God.

—Bishop Moule.

The Measuring Rod

LET us measure our duty in giving. What shall be the measuring-rod?

3. Convictions: "The servant which knew his Lord's will and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes."
4. The necessity of others: "If a brother or sister be naked, or destitute of daily food, &c."
5. The providence of God: "Let every man lay by him in store as God has prospered him."
6. Symmetry of character: "Abound in the grace also."
7. Our own happiness: "It is more blessed to give than to receive."
8. God's glory: "Honor the Lord with thy substance."
9. Finally: "As ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." —A. F.

CHECKING UP ON SPEEDERS.

City police have been checking up on the motorists who ignore the speed laws and other traffic regulations, and as a result a number of citizens will receive special invitations to explain to the magistrate the reason for such carelessness.

The public generally will commend this action, recognizing that periodic check-ups of this kind and an aggressive campaign against persistent offenders are necessary in the interest of public safety.

When streets were paved at heavy expense for the convenience of motorists it was never intended that they should be turned into speedways, but nevertheless such a development has materialized, and only consistent attention to the situation on the part of the police can bring about a reform.

A Toronto magistrate the other day told a driver who was convicted of driving on a city street at 50 miles an hour that he was a potential murderer.

It is to be feared that there are many of this type handling cars in Peterborough, and it is necessary to deal with them before fatal accidents result from their recklessness.

THE CASE OF THE PEDESTRIAN.

While there has been some confusion as to left-hand turns in connection with the operation of the electric traffic signals at the intersection of George and Charlotte streets, and The Examiner may have quite unintentionally aggravated that condition, there is one good word of advice that we can safely pass on to the pedestrian, and that is: "Watch your step."

With both left and right turns allowed at this intersection, the last state of the man on foot is worst than his first.

Not only is he likely to be trapped by the delusion that the signals will protect him, but he is called upon to face the situation that when the "Go" sign flashes on motorists drive faster than they did under the old system, and the pedestrian who is unwary may find himself in the path of a rapidly-moving car swinging round the corner.

While the best system of dealing with the traffic problem is being discussed, there is only one system for the pedestrian.

He should act upon the assumption that he is unprotected by the game laws, and that there is no closed season for him; in other words, it is up to him to protect himself by being ever on the alert and ready at all times to jump for his life.

THE DANGEROUS "SALUTE."

Although only one casualty of a serious nature has been reported, it is generally agreed that the promiscuous discharge of firecrackers here over the holiday approached record proportions.

The manner in which these dangerous explosives were tossed around the downtown streets suggests that the time has come to put a stop to the sale of the high-explosive type of firecracker.

Fire chief Gimblett has pointed out the danger from a fire viewpoint of careless handling of fireworks, and it is obvious that the menace of personal injury is almost as great.

Fireworks, carefully handled by adults, have a place in any real celebration scheme, but the "salutes" that were so recklessly discharged in Peterborough on this occasion should be banned as dangerous both to person and to property.

The lack of consideration for others shown by youths old enough to know better is another reason why it should be made impossible for brainless young men to have such explosives at their service.

Before dealers secure their stocks for another season steps should be taken to prevent a repetition of Thursday's dangerous and annoying practice.

THE MATERNAL DEATH RATE.

Statistics given by the Director of Vital Statistics indicate that for 1926 Peterborough had a maternal mortality rate exactly equal to the Provincial average and a shade better than the rate for the whole Dominion.

The figures show that Peterborough had three cases of maternal deaths in 1926, an average of 5.56 for each 1,000 live births, which, as has been said, is the average for the Province of Ontario.

There is a striking variance in the returns from the different Ontario cities, the maternal death rate ranging all the way from 1.16 per 1,000 births in Brantford to 18.9 in Welland, which had the uneviable distinction of reporting the highest mortality rate from this cause on record.

While only six Ontario cities show a lower maternal rate than Peterborough, and in this respect we have reason to congratulate ourselves, there is no reason why the record should not be even better.

Dr. Helen MacMurchy, Chief of the Division of Child Welfare of the Dominion Department of Health, says:

"The mother should not die in child-birth. There are few exceptions to this rule. There are such things as accidents and there are unforeseen deaths which cannot be prevented, but apart from these women should not die in child-birth."

BRITAIN STANDS FOR PEACE.

Great Britain's reply to the United States proposal to outlaw war as an instrument of policy is what might have been expected. Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, has informed Washington that the British Government, "as well as the self-governing Dominions and India," are "all in accord with the general principles of the proposed treaty" and that they "will support the movement to the utmost of their power."

When France, Italy and Germany replied to Mr. Kellogg's proposal they qualified their acceptance of it by adhering only to its principle, pointing out that regard must be had for obligations and commitments involved in their membership in the League of Nations and their participation in the pact of Locarno. Sir Austen Chamberlain, on the other hand, declares unequivocally that so far as the British peoples are concerned, "nothing in their existing commitments prevents their hearty co-operation in this new movement for strengthening the foundations of peace." And Sir Austen, getting right down to the practical aspect of the question, adds:

> "The British Government will gladly co-operate in the conclusion of such a pact as is proposed, and are ready to engage with the interested parties in the negotiations which are necessary for the purpose."

This is in line with the policy of the British Government since the signing of the armistice. At every conference of the Powers that has been held since then, whether at Washington, Geneva or Genoa, the representatives of the British Government have stood four-square for disarmament and peace. It has been the British Government, more than any other, which has supported and kept alive the League of Nations. It was Britain which, blotting out the memories and hatreds of the past, brought Germany to Geneva and made possible Locarno. It was Britain which, at Washington six years ago, proposed the abolition of the submarine. And it has been Britain which, in the past ten years, has done more than any other nation to reduce her forces on land and sea. Even when, after the breakdown of the naval disarmament conference at Geneva last August, the United States Government contemplated the greatest naval shipbuilding program in its history, Britain made no step toward increasing her own navy.

British acceptance of Mr. Kellogg's proposal would seem to ensure the successful completion of a treaty. Japan remains to be heard from, but, in the light of the attitude of the other Powers, there can be little doubt as to what will be the nature of her reply; much as she might desire it, she cannot play a lone hand in such an essentially world problem. Not that the world need expect that such a major and complex question will be settled over night. There will be prolonged negotiations, and much weighing of difficulties and consequences, before a treaty sees the light of day; and even then the time will perhaps not have come when all the nations will be ready to beat their swords into ploughshares: the outlawry of war does not necessarily mean the abolition of all armaments.

Yet the impetus of the movement to abolish war seems to have come to be irresistible. The fruits of the last war were so awful, its results so pitiful, that the moral conscience of the whole civilized world revolts against the possibility of the repetition of such a cataclysm. There are those who will scoff, those who will challenge United States sincerity. They will point to America's growing navy, to America's betrayal of the League of Nations, to the debacle of Wilson; and they will ask what guarantee exists that the United States Congress will stand by any treaty entered into by Mr. Kellogg? The answer, we think, is the overwhelming growth of world opinion against war during the past few years. War, it is now seen, is a game in which both contestants lose; a game which has nothing but misery and death and disillusionment for all of its participants. Mr. Kellogg, his party facing an election, may find it convenient to appeal to the pacifist sentiment in his own country with such a proposal as he has made; but that in itself is an acknowledgment of a belief that, in the United States as elsewhere, is becoming more and more deep-rooted, and which will continue to become more widespread as time goes on. Therefore, while the Millennium should not be expected, nor all thought of the possibility of future wars abandoned, greater reason than ever before exists for hope that a vast step is about to be taken for the perpetuation of peace.—Ottawa Journal.

OUR EMPIRE.

(From The St. Catharines Standard.)

Out of a thousand facts, we cull the following, which are striking in themselves but which are not more striking than hundreds of others which may be written with truth concerning the Empire:

The British Empire is the greatest power for civilization and moral good in the world, next to the Christian church.

It is the most beneficient Empire the world has ever seen.

It has been built up chiefly by exploration and colonization.

It played the greatest part in the greatest war the world has ever seen.

It raised the greatest army the world has ever known.

It put 9,500,000 men into the field; more than any other, power.

Canada's army alone was as large as the whole of Napoleon's Grand Army with which he invaded Russia, and so was Australia's.

Great Britain lent countries outside the Empire over £2,500,000,000 for the war.

The Empire's dead in the Great War amounted to about 1,000,000; a sacrifice for freedom.

No other country ever put forth such gigantic strength in the history of the world.

Little is said here in regard to the homeland countries; their history and wonderful facts are known to the world.

And is it not right and meet that we should be proud of the Empire? Never we need apologize for it. It has led the world in the great interests of liberty and humanity. Its break-up would be a world calamity.

Canadian citizens, yes, but we are greater Canadians when we belong to the Empire.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It was particularly fitting that the derby bunionists should have tarried a night at Suffern, N. Y.

Among those willing to testify that a record amount of fireworks used here on Victoria Day is the staff of the street cleaning department.

Ten citizens have been summonsed for speeding over Hunter Street Bridge. Others who are inclined to "step on the gas" should take notice.

Between 28,000 and 30,000 people attended the Woodbine on Victoria Day, which is nearly as many as visit the Lindsay Fair on any one day, according to the unofficial estimates.

C.D.M. Q.—What is the origin of the word coupon"?

A.—The French, couper, to cut. Luterally, a piece of paper which can be detached from the rest of the sheet.

B.T. Q.—Was Charles Dickens ever a newspaper man?

A.—Yes. He was first editor of the London Daily News, started January 21, 1846. Its policies were Liberal, Free Trade, and Free Church. It sold first at 5d; in 1861 reduced to 3d; in 1868 to 1d and in 1904 to ½d. In 1917 it returned to 1d.

H.D. Q.—Please give me the best route from Peterborough to Bobcaygeon.

A.—May 24—Friday; July 12—Friday; Christmas—Wednesday.

M.C.: Q.—In your article on the pyramids you mention "squaring the circle" and Pi. What does Pi mean?

A.—The sign Pi itself is the Greek letter Pi, and is used in mathematics in the same way that + is used to represent "plus" or "added to." In this usage, Pi represents 3.14159, or, for convenience 3.1416. Pi has been calculated to more than 700 places of decimals, of which the first few are 3.14159625. If the radius of a circle be represented by r, then its circumference is 2 rr and its area is rr2. The problem in squaring the circle is to describe a square equal in area to a given circle.

A Thought

THE PATH OF DUTY.

(Velma Runnels, Campbelford.)

When the sickles of death scattered the enraged soldiers on the bloody battle fields of Europe, did our men give up or desert their country? You will answer "No." And rightly you may give that answer for our men stood up for their mother land when the wayward sunlight showed them their foe. It was their duty to fight for the Union Jack. What was their reward? They received glory and honor. Many died on the fields but their heads rest on the path of duty.

I wonder if your mind has ever sighed for something that it cannot find. There is a remedy for that longing and desire. Just turn your thoughts away from the business for a few minutes, and think if you have ever done your duty toward your neighbor, your friends, your relatives, your country. If you haven't tried to do your best, then press on and fight for your fellow man. This world is small, but O, its agonies are many and crushing.

The path of duty is the way to glory. Yes, you may suffer in treading that pathway, but God never takes one thing away but what He gives something else that is far better.

The longer we live the more work there is to do. The more work there is to be done, the more unexpected pleasure to enjoy. Just as darkness follows day so blessings and joy follow duty and labor for others.

There is no wasted toil on the path of duty. Remember we ought to comfort and strengthen as life hurries us along. When you do your duty by everyone, whether it be friend or foe, each year will bring more pleasure, more friends, and build for you a stronger will and a nobler heart.

The world is filled with busy toilers, striving for place and fame, yet there is room for you. Toil on, hope on, for you are the architect of your own fate.

GOD'S MINUTE

Without faith it is impossible to please God.—Heb. 11:16.

Our Father, which art in Heaven, with praise on our lips and thanksgiving in our hearts, we, Thy children, worship Thee. From Thy hand we have been fed; by Thy bounty we have been clothed; and day and night under the shelter of Thy love we have dwelt in safety. In the poverty of our service of Thee we have freely received all things.

Forgive, we beseech of Thee, all our ingratitude. Cast away all remembrance of our sins, for with sorrow do we repent of them before Thee. Stir up within a compelling desire to love Thee above all else, and to do in our living all Thy will concerning us.

Grant us Thy grace that in word and thought and deed we may show that we have been with Christ and learned of him. May, in some measure, Thy Kingdom come through our living, and so Thy Name be glorified. By the indwelling of the Holy Spirit make us fitted for Thy service in all our days here, and bring us in Thine own good time to Thyself, for the sake of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., May 26 (Canadian Press). — There was some demand from exporters for grain on the Montreal market yesterday, and sales of odd loads of No. 2 Canadian Western oats were made at 9 cents per bushel over the Winnipeg May option, c.i.f. here, while tough No. 3 Canadian Western oats changed hands for local account at 6½ cents per bushel over the July option, and tough No. 2 feed oats at 4½ cents per bushel over, c.i.f. Montreal. The car lot trade was quiet and prices were steady.

The demand for spring and winter wheat flour continued of a limited character, but values were unchanged.

A steady feeling prevailed in the mraket for millfeed, but the volume of new business was somewhat small owing to the absence of any demand from the United States. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was quiet, and prices were firm.

The offerings of eggs from Ontario shippers were more liberal than they have been of late, and prices were easier with sales of car lots of extras at 33c to 33½c per dozen, f.o.b. shipping points. There was no change in the condition of the jobbing market, the undertone being about steady under an increased demand and a fair volume of business was done. The receipts were 2,155 cases.

There was no further change in the condition of the market for potatoes, prices being maintained at the late advance noted under a moderate demand.

The trade in imported beans was rather quiet, but as supplies on spot were not large, the tone of the market remained steady and prices were unchanged. Car lots of choice white hand-picked grades were quoted at $4.00 per bushel, ex-track, and smaller quantities sold at $4.20 per bushel, ex-store.

Owing to the continued small receipts of butter for the season of the year, the comparatively light stocks in firsts and the steady demand from local and outside buyers for supplies to meet immediate wants a firm feeling prevailed in the market, but the prices showed no actual change. A moderate amount of business was done. The receipts were 964 packages.

The undertone to the cheese trade was easier and prices were reduced ¼c per pound. The local and export trade was quiet. The receipts were 2,966 boxes.

STUDEBAKER'S $995 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records by Traveling 1000 miles in 984 minutes

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars in its price class were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car—named for Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($995 f. o. b. Walkerville), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

5 of the reasons why McLAUGHLIN-BUICK will serve you Better and save you More!

NOT only does today's McLaughlin-Buick excel in smart, low, dashing lines—in vivid new color harmonies—in luxurious upholsteries and appointments—but it sweeps far ahead of its field in those vital engineering factors which mean greater comfort—greater performance—greater economy—and greater value.

In Most Cars—the springs have to serve a double function—to drive the car and to cushion the load.

In Most Cars—water, mud and dust can work their way into moving parts causing excessive wear, engine stalling and other troubles.

In Most Cars—vibration is merely dampened by means of additional bearings or other inadequate devices.

In Most Cars—quality is often sacrificed for price, or prices advanced to permit fine quality.

In Most Cars—the dealer's delivered price, including the delivery or handling charge, to the buyer—is not rigidly fixed by the factory behind the car.

In McLaughlin-Buick—the springs have only one function—to cushion the load—and naturally are designed to provide much finer riding qualities.

In McLaughlin-Buick—the scientifically designed Valve-in-Head Engine, counterbalanced crankshaft and finely balanced units throughout result in performance vibrationless beyond belief.

In McLaughlin-Buick—tremendous demand makes possible both high quality and moderate price—and therefore unrivaled value.

In McLaughlin-Buick—the lowest possible delivered price, including the delivery or handling charge is definitely established by the McLaughlin-Buick factory. Thus McLaughlin-Buick quality is provided everywhere at lowest cost. M-26-5-28B

SEVENTY YOUTH FOR SENATORS

Most Members of Upper House Have Long Passed That Age.

ONE 100 YEARS OLD.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 26 (by the Canadian Press).—The death of Senator Hon. George Gerald King a few days ago at the advanced age of 92 recalls the fact that the Senate of the Dominion of Canada provides an unusual spectacle of many legislators still actively functioning despite their having long passed the allotted span. One at least, Senator Georges Casimir Dessaulles, is a centenarian; five are octogenarians, while mere youths of 70 and over comprise over 25 per cent of the total membership of the Senate.

A senator in Canada is not elected by the people; nor can he be relieved of office except through some act of his own. Resignation of his seat; failure to attend two consecutive sessions of Parliament; repudiation of his Canadian citizenship; bankruptcy; being attainted or convicted for felony; ceasing to fulfil the property requirement which demands that he be possessed of "real property to the value of $4,000," are all provisions the infraction of which may cost a senator his seat. But not in the history of the country has a member of the "red chamber" had any of these invoked against him.

Two outstanding points of difference between Canadian senators and the elective senators of some foreign countries are that the elder statesmen of the Dominion are appointed by the Governor-General in Council—that is to say, by the cabinet; and also that this appointment is for life. It is the latter factor which operates towards the agedness of such a large proportion in the Senate of Canada.

The centenarian, Hon. Mr. Dessaulles, is a French-Canadian from St. Hyacinthe, Quebec. He celebrated his hundredth anniversary last September. Some interesting festivities surrounded the occasion, and the opportunity was embraced to recall some of Canada's ancient history. It was recalled, for example, that at the age of 10, Senator Dessaulles was arrested by the British red-coats as a rebel during the revolt of 1837. An interesting sidelight on the rebellion of 90 years ago is that its leader in Ontario was William Lyon Mackenzie, the first mayor of Toronto and grandfather of the present Prime Minister of Canada, W. L. Mackenzie King. The Quebec leader was Louis Joseph Papineau, whose grandson, Henri Bourassa, also sits in the House of Commons.

In spite of his years, Senator Dessaulles is not the doyen of the Upper House. This honor belongs to Senator Pascal Poirier, a New Brunswick Acadian, descendant of those whereof Longfellow writes in "Evangeline." Senator Poirier is 76 years of age and was 33 when summoned to the Senate. For 43 years he has occupied his place in that House.

One of the most prominent Canadian statesmen of this generation is Senator Sir George Eulas Foster, also a New Brunswicker, who is 81 years old. His entire life has been given to Canadian public affairs since he entered the House of Commons 46 years ago. He has served under various administrations, and in a number of ministerial capacities. He was appointed senator in 1921, at the age of 74. The year previously he had married for a second time.

The majority of Canadian senators are between the ages of 60 and 70; but one of the very last appointees, Senator Lacasse, is still under 40.

Each province has its allotment of senators. Four represent Prince Edward Island, Canada's smallest political entity; 10 each are from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; 24 each from Ontario and Quebec; and six each from the other provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Their annual indemnity is $4,000.

One function of the Senate is that of acting as a sort of Divorce Court for those provinces which do not possess such judicial bodies. Ontario is a case in point. That province has no court with authority to grant divorce, consequently such applications must be made in the form of a bill that is considered by the Senate Divorce Committee. This year an effort was made by the Senate to rid itself of this function and a measure was passed that would empower Ontario to create divorce courts. But, as all legislation initiated by the House of Commons must be sent to the Senate for approval or veto, so all Senate legislation must carry the imprimatur of the Commoners before it can become law. The Commoners now have before them this matter of the Senate's bill; but what happens to it remains to be seen.

MEN WELCOME RECAPTURE

That escaping from prison in Australia is not such an easy accomplishment, has been learned by two honor men of Mila Afforestation Prison Camp after a week in the wilds. During the time they were at large rain fell continuously, and they walked 140 miles. They first crossed the Victorian border and reached the Snowey river, but being no bushmen, they became alarmed and retraced their steps into New South Wales. Stealing dry clothing and a lamp at Bombala they walked many miles along the railroad track only to have a passenger train stop and unload a band of policemen who captured them. The two were in such exhausted condition that they were glad to surrender. They are being closely confined and their terms may be extended as punishment.

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BOBBIE'S RACKET

"Well," asked Uncle Wiggily of the Bob Cat, who was looking at the piece of black paper on which the rabbit gentleman had written a queer puzzle in white letters, "can you read it?"

"No, I can't," snarled the Bob Cat, after a while, "and no one else can, either! You know I can't read French, or German or Italian. It isn't fair to give me a puzzle like this."

"It is neither French, Italian nor German," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "It is very easy to read this puzzle when you know how. But if you give it up you can't have any nibbles off my ears!"

"Oh, take your old puzzle!" snapped the Bob Cat," "I give up!" He threw down on the ground the looking glass he had brought along to dazzle the rabbit's eyes in the sun and then the Bob Cat tossed down the puzzle writing and away he slunk in the bushes growling "I'll get you next time!"

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Long ears as the Bad Chap went away. "He couldn't do that simple little puzzle! Ha! Ha! Ha!"

"It isn't such a simple puzzle," spoke another voice, and Uncle Wiggily thought perhaps the Fox or Wolf might have come along, and he was just going to hop away when Bobbie Ringtail, the little raccoon boy, came from behind a big rock. "I don't see how anybody could read that queer writing, Uncle Wiggily," said Bobbie.

Miss Mouse invited Uncle Wiggily to sit on the platform

"Well, suppose you hold it in front of the Bob Cat's piece of looking glass and see what happens," suggested Mr. Longears. And lo and behold! When the queer backward writing was held in front of the mirror it seemed to straighten out mysteriously, and turn right side up, so Bobbie read this little verse:

"The Bob Cat's tail is very small
It hardly can be seen at all.
And when he goes to bed at night
His silly tail is out of sight."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the raccoon boy with the rings on his tail, when he had read the mirror writing. "That's good. If the Bob Cat had read it he would have been so angry he might have bitten you, Uncle Wiggily."

"Oh! if he tried that I'd have given him such a hard puzzle that he would have broken his teeth on it," chuckled the rabbit. "But where are you going, Bobbie Ringtail?" he asked the raccoon boy.

"I'm going to school."

"Then I'll come with you," said Mr. Longears. "I want to ask the Lady Mouse Teacher to let the children out early today, as it will be lovely to play in the woods."

"Oh, goodie!" laughed Bobbie, rattling something in his pocket that made quite a noise....

"What have you there?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

Before Bobbie could answer, he and Uncle Wiggily were at the Hollow Stump School and Miss Mouse invited Mr. Longears to sit upon the platform with her. The children were singing the morning song when, all of a sudden, near Bobbie Ringtail's desk sounded a great racket—a rattle, bang and clatter. Such a racket!"

"Why, Bobbie Ringtail! I'm surprised at you!" squeaked Miss Mouse. "Why did you take them out of your pocket? You must stay in after school."

"What did Bobbie do to make that racket?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, let me make a puzzle drawing on the blackboard!" begged Bobbie. "If I make a puzzle drawing that Uncle Wiggily can't read, will you excuse me and not keep me in after school, Miss Mouse?"

"Yes," answered the Teacher, "I'll excuse you if you can make a hard puzzle." So Bobbie went to the board where, with chalk, he made a picture of a tin can, and also some letters, an eye and other things.

"There is my puzzle," said the raccoon boy. "Can you read it, Mr. Longears?" The rabbit gentleman put on his glasses. Perhaps you may not need them to find out what this puzzle means.

SWOLLEN ANKLES

Many people are affected with a swelling of their ankles, but this swelling often extends up into the abdomen, or other portions of the body. In some cases this will be so severe as to press against the diaphragm, causing difficult breathing because of the interference with diaphragmatic action.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, but a symptom caused by escaping fluid from the blood or lymph into the cavities of the body or under the skin. Probably the most common dropsical condition is that produced as a result of heart derangements. If there is a poor tone of the heart, there is a correspondingly poor tone in the whole circulatory system and the blood serum will easily stagnate in different parts of the body, particularly in the extremities.

Another form of dropsy is produced by the kidneys not eliminating a large enough amount of liquid for the urine, and much is retained in the tissues. The progress of the swelling is similar to that caused by the heart derangement. Only a physician is able to distinguish between the two kinds of dropsical conditions. A careful examination is necessary to determine whether the circulation of blood is defective, or whether the stagnation of the lymphatic circulation is from the kidneys.

The usual treatment for dropsical symptoms is to administer a drug, such as digitalis, to hasten the interstitial blood flow, or contract the small capillaries. In those cases that are not relieved, the swollen parts are punctured by an ordinary aspirating needle, with rubber tubing attached, which may be left in place for hours, thus draining away large amounts of fluid. This method of "tapping" is very frequently used in cases of abdominal dropsy.

While these methods may be permitted as an emergency treatment, I do not believe that any permanent good results unless the internal cause of the disorder is removed.

As dropsy is only a symptom, it will be necessary for a patient to have a very thorough examination made that he may be properly diagnosed. The original cause of this condition must be treated in the proper manner before any cure can be expected.

If any of my readers, who are troubled in this way, will give me a complete history of their case, and the report of the diagnosis of their physician, I will be glad to send some helpful suggestions regarding diet, exercise, and a suitable home treatment.

Questions and Answers.

Question: H. B. J. writes: "Have catarrh very badly in the eyes, ears, nose and throat, also bothered with indigestion. Would like to try an orange diet if I thought it would benefit me, but I am so thin I am afraid to try the diet for fear of losing more weight. Would it help any to eliminate starches and sugars instead of taking the orange diet, or what would you advise?"

Answer: Do not be afraid of getting thinner on the orange juice fast, as it cannot hurt you in any way, but will surely bring rapid results in the cure of your catarrhal troubles. Afterward, leave out starches and sugars for a period of several months if you wish to entirely drain the system of all excess catarrhal mucus.

Question: Mrs. W. H. asks: "Which is the best salad dressing, mayonaise or French dressing? I mean, from a dietetic viewpoint."

Answer: I do not recommend salad dressings of the ordinary kind which are made with vinegar or lemon. I have a special article on salad dressings that I will be glad to forward upon receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope. In the meantime, use olive oil on your salads.

Question: Office Worker writes: "For a long time I have found it hard to get to sleep or to sleep the night through. What would cause this?"

Answer: The principal cause of insomnia is digestive trouble, such as excess fermentation of food which produces gas pressure against the heart or diaphragm. Even though you are not conscious of such pressure, it is sufficient to unconsciously irritate you and keep you from getting into a deep slumber.

UNION WORKMEN WILL LEAVE JOBS

Secretary Says Incompetent Non-Union Steel Workers Have Caused Accidents.

MONTREAL, May 26 (Canadian Press).—Alleging that several accidents have occurred in a building under construction here through the incompetence of non-union structural steel workers here, J. E. C. Racette, secretary of the Building Trades Council, said in a statement to-day that all the union men whose organizations are associated with the council will be called out on Tuesday unless conditions are made better. The men are refusing to work under such dangerous conditions, Mr. Racette said.

SAME SYMPTOMS IN MANY CASES

An Anaemic Condition Easily Recognized — Calls for a Blood Builder.

In most cases of anaemia the symptoms are almost the same. The sufferer grows pale and is easily tired after the least exertion. The appetite is fickle and the patient loses in weight. Sometimes there are headaches, and often inability to sleep well. As the blood becomes thinner the symptoms become more pronounced and often there are fainting spells. All this shows that the blood is thin and watery, and at the very first symptom of this condition the patient should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the most reliable blood-builder and nerve tonic known. The sole mission of this medicine is to enrich the blood, and when that is done all the distressing symptoms disappear. Among those who have reason to praise this medicine is Mrs. M. E. Patterson, Shanklin, N.B., who says: "About four years ago I became very much run down, I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and I grew so nervous that the smallest things would annoy me. Eventually I grew so weak that I did not have stength to move about without help I was just a miserable wreck, and became very much discouraged as I had tried many medicines which failed to help me. In this wretched state a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and before long found they were helping me. Gladly I continued taking the pills until I fully regained my health and strength and I have since continued in the best of health. Later my daughter became anaemic and six boxes of the pills restored her to health, strength and color. Naturally I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a blessing to weak, run-down people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Handbags For Men

Should men carry hand-bags? Why not? They need them. Look at all the things a man has in his pockets. A personal inventory reveals pen, pencil, knife; key-ring with several keys, comb, nail-file, watch, wallet, some loose small change, various papers, most of them of little value, and a handkerchief. There might be added a cigarette case or other smoker's equipment, or, since Mr. Ferguson has made it legal, a pocket receptacle for the kind of stuff Frank Bradburn sells, with a bottle opener and cork-screw for use when needed.

What is the result of all this? Our clothes bulge here and sag there, and all the skill of the tailor cannot restore them quite to their original good shape. The lining of the coat gives way where the laden pockets rub against it. Our tailor swears and asks what is the good of turning us out in a good suit when we show up a few weeks later looking like a tramp, with all our possessions on our person.

What if we copied the ladies and were in the habit of improving our personal appearance in public or private, at home or abroad. A razor is not large; neither is a shaving brush, but they would add to the already too noticeable bulges. A mirror and shaving soap would also be needed.

But consider where the ladies have it over us. Each fair one, as she trips along, carries under her arm a neat, flat receptacle. A likely looking man comes into view. The bag is opened and out comes a mirror. Powder puff, rouge, etc., enhance the beauty already at a high pitch. Again, the chew of gum needs replenishing, or a cent must be obtained to put into the weighing machine for a ticket showing the gain or loss of the past week and a short description of the weighee's character. Does milady thrust her hand into some recess or other of her clothing? No chance. Into the bag again and out comes gum, or cent, or any of the hundred and one other things considered necessary or likely to come in handy at some time. No bulging pockets for them. They would spoil the silhouette, and at present there is no room for any thing like that in milady's attire.

Our ancestors carried bags for their accessories. The mincing courtiers of the days of Charles II or Louis XIV. with their lace cuffs and their velvet or silken breeches, thought as much of the silhouette as the ladies of to-day and the idea of spoiling it, and their costly garments at the same time, would have horrified them. They carried reticules.

But, you say, they were old women, or just as bad. All right, we'll go farther back to those hard boiled "days of old when knights were bold." Imagine the kind of pockets you would have in an iron suit, or in the flowing robe which took its place in times of peace. We read in Ivanhoe of the knight, and the pilgrim, and the Jew, and the swineherd, and the Saxon thane, and everyone had a pouch at his belt. The Jew had pen and ink and papers, the pilgrim a piece of the True Cross, the knight had some coins and the swineherd his minor possessions. Not a pocket in the bunch. All had bags fastened to their belts.

What kind of bag are we to carry? Personally, we prefer a brief case, or something of that nature. Firstly, as the foregoing list of articles shows, nothing smaller would do. Secondly, we fancy the business-like appearance of the lawyers and other men of affairs with their bags, ostensibly full of documents of great import, but just as likely to contain a bundle of soiled collars being taken to the laundry, or a couple of magazines. Being well made of leather, such a bag would last a long time and stand a great deal of cramming.

Again, there is the little satchel affected by doctors, plumbers, painters, etc. What a fine assortment of tools they can put in them. And handy, too. They fit in any place. They will stand open on a table, whereas a brief case lies flat. They would hold things of more bulk than would go into a brief case.

Then there is the type of bag with which His Majesty provides his soldiers. Fitted with shoulder straps, they would be less awkward to carry, leaving both hands free. Again, they have a partition down the middle and a certain amount of order, impossible in the other two, might be attained.

In Boston men carry hand-bags. Boston bags they are called, and they are true descendants of the old-time reticules, being pockets closed at the top by means of a draw string. They are used for almost anything; a quart of oysters or a can of beans will go in quite easily.

A leather dealing friend of ours suggests that the hand-bag could be made a thing of beauty. He points out the great variety in the ladies' hand-bags. One year they are dull colored. Another time they are bright. Sometimes they are smooth and flat, at others they are round and bulging. Not many years ago they were as big, nearly, as brief cases. What he wants is to have them change with the seasons so he can make more.

The hand-bag for men has not yet reached Peterborough, except in the form of the brief case and doctor's satchel. Personally we doubt whether we would carry one. What is in our pockets we can't forget, while a hand-bag could so easily be left in a street-car or restaurant. Its contents would be a continual jumble, all thrown in together like that, while now we have a place for everything, and everything in its place. They may be all right; they please the ladies; but we are willing to get along as we do now.

BARLEY POPULAR GRAIN THIS YEAR

Many Farmers Planting It To Take Advantage of Brewers' Demands.

Barley promises to be a paying crop this year. Numbers of farmers in the vicinity are taking advantage of the demand for this grain which has grown out of the establishment of breweries to take care of the beer supply of the province. The Canada Malting Company is reported to have asked for one million bushels of barley as its quota for this year. The thirst of Ontario citizens blows a good wind to the sowers of barley and a larger acreage than usual has already been sown, as a result.

An increasing demand for peas has led to a larger seeding of this crop also, while timothy and red clover are down in larger quantities than for several seasons back. Average sowings of alfalfa, sweet clover, rye, oats, and alsike have been made.

From the district come rumors of recent splendid growing weather in the past few days, which has caused the crops to "jump" rather than grow, out of the ground, as one experienced observer puts it. Although the spring was later than usual and much foreboding was expressed in consequence, the growth has not been retarded to any great degree and the meadows are looking well.

Regarding the grain already in the ground, fall wheat has been damaged, it is said, to the extent of nearly twenty-five per cent, owing to winter killing, and the same cause has slightly injured the alsike. However, a satisfactory crop of the latter is expected, and alfalfa is described as being in "magnificent" condition.

KIWANIS CLUB PRESENTS MEDAL

scholarships for boys and girls who are brilliant mentally but are financially incapable of helping themselves do better educational advantages.

An appreciation of the speaker's "thoughtful, instructive and enlightening" address was voiced by Kiwanian J. R. Marshall.

Presentation of Medal

The introduction of Miss Wilson, guest of honor of the evening, was phrased in a few appropriate, eloquent sentences by Rev. J. D. Paterson, who outlined the circumstances surrounding the act of heroism for which she was being honored and went on to point out that this was a signal instance of the saving of life from water, rather than a tragedy in connection with it, as is so often reported in the daily press.

"We recognize in you," he said, "one who has the Kiwanis ideals at heart, and it is in recognition of an act of great courage and a service to the community in life-saving that we ask you to accept this medal."

The presentation was made by President John, and Miss Wilson replied briefly, thanking the members sincerely. She also received from the club a lovely bouquet of deep red Darwin tulips.

The musical program during the dinner hour included two very effective and splendidly-rendered solo numbers the saxaphone contributions by Eric Roberts of the Roberts' Ohioans Orchestra, who played "Ramona" and its encore, "When Day is Done," and vocal numbers by Harold Snelgrave, singing the Kashmiri Song and an encore, "Girl of My Dreams." G. F. Liddle accompanied both soloists and also played for community singing.

Numbers for the booster prizes, donated by R. Haddow and T. McGoverin, were drawn by John Allen, and resulted in prizes being awarded to Mrs. F. C. Neal, Mrs. H. C. Huffman, Mrs. C. Browne, Mrs. J. R. Heron, and Mrs. J. H Gilgour.

President John spoke of the early departure of one of the senior members, Colonel Miller, for his summer home at Lake Simcoe, and assured him of the club's best wishes. Colonel Miller responded suitably.

The evening wound up with dancing and card games, Kiwanian Isaac McNabb in charge of the former, for which music was played by the Boys' Band. Card boosters were J. A. Dewart and Walter Kidd, and prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. Everitt Taylor and John Chadwick (first), Mrs. J. A. McNabb and H. C. Huffman (second); Mrs. H. C. Huffman and G. F. Liddle (consolation).

Guests of the club last evening were Mrs. A. E. Gilgour, Mrs. Pitmondon of Ottawa; Mrs. D. V. Canning, Miss Beatrice Wilson, Miss Olga Johnston, Miss M. E. Phillips of Toronto; Kiwanian P. C. MacLaurin of Belleville, Eric G. Roberts of Cleveland and Harold Snelgrove.

I.B.S.A. RADIO DISPUTE AIRED

Two Sides of Question Given in Form of Official Statements.

The following statement by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries regarding the cancellation of the licenses of the International Bible Student's Association's radio station (as taken from Hansard) and a statutory declaration by Walter Frederick Salter, head of the Association in Canada, give both sides of this controversial question:

Statement by The Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries on the Refusal to Renew Radio Licenses.

Thursday, April 12, 1928.

MR. SPENCER:—1. Is the government considering refusing to continue the license of the broadcasting station C.H.C.Y. Edmonton (International Bible Students)?

2. If so, for what reason?

MR. CARDIN: The Department of Marine and Fisheries is responsible for the administration of the Radiotelegraph Act under which every radio station in Canada must be licensed. With the advent of broadcasting, the department as the licensing authority at once realized its responsibilities to the listening public. Each application for a broadcasting license was, with these responsibilities in mind, dealt with as far as practicable from the viewpoint of the broadcast listeners.

When the Bible Students applied for a license to erect and operate a station at Toronto in 1922, their application received very serious consideration, but from information available the department was of opinion that it would not be in the best interests of the public to grant a license and the same was consequently withheld. An application was finally made in 1924 by an individual unit of the association at Saskatoon for a station at that place. The request for hours of broadcasting appeared modest and upon the recommendation of the department's local inspector that they be given a trial, more particularly for the benefit of the country people in that large farming section of the country, a license was issued to them. Subsequently applications were made and licenses issued to individual units of the association at Vancouver, Edmonton and Toronto, respectively. It may be stated here that all licenses automatically expire at the end of each fiscal year, namely the 31st March. Thus the department is in a position to review the same before granting renewals.

When the licenses for the Bible Students expired at the end of the fiscal year, 1927, some consideration was given to the question whether they should be renewed, because of complaints made by the listening public against the matter broadcast by these stations. It was decided, however, to give the association a further trial and the licenses were extended for another year. While the licenses were originally applied for by individual units of the association at the places named, the broadcasting stations appear to have become organized under the central authority at Toronto, who last year made application and in whose name the four licenses were renewed. Whether this reorganization has any connection with the matter is not certain, but complaints from the listening public have gradually increased until to-day the department has received a large number of protests and petitions asking that the broadcasting activities of this association be either curtailed or entirely suspended. The matter being broadcast is generally described by complainants as having become intolerable; the propaganda carried on under the name of Bible talks is said to be unpatriotic and abusive of all our churches. Evidence would appear to show that the tone of the preaching seems to be that all organized churches are corrupt and in alliance with unrighteous forces, that the entire system of society is wrong and that all governments are to be condemned.

The department has before it many letters and a petition asking that the Toronto station be closed. A petition from the board of trade at Saskatoon asks that the association's broadcasting from the station at that place be restricted and the local inspector, who originally recommended the granting of the license, says that he has a "continual deluge of complaints." Complaints have been received from officials of the city and provincial authorities against the Edmonton station, and there are many protests from other prominent people in regard to the same station. Finally, a joint petition has been received from the Greater Vancouver Radio Association and the Radio Trades Association of Vancouver asking that the license for the Vancouver station located at Burnaby, British Columbia, be not renewed for next year.

It should be emphasized that these communications and petitions are unsolicited, and should be taken as fully representative of the broadcast listeners in general. On the other hand the supporters of the association are protesting against any restriction of their broadcasting activities or the closing of the stations, but we are informed that these protests have been solicited. It should be borne in mind also that in granting licenses after first refusing them the department indicated its entire impartiality in the matter and its willingness to give the association a fair trial, to be either accepted or rejected by the listening public.

There are many who say that if the listener does not want to hear what any particular station has to say he has merely to tune it out. This may be so in some cases, but a large percentage of receivers in use at the present day are not sufficiently selective to do this; especially where the station is in close proximity we know very well that the listener has either to accept the program of the local station or listen to none at all. If we were in the fortunate position of having an unlimited number of radio channels available, it could be well arranged so to place stations broadcasting matter of the character objected to where their transmissions could be easily eliminated, but we have a very limited number of these channels and cannot accommodate all requests. The demand for channels from proposed stations ready to broadcast desirable programs of a high order far exceed the number of channels available, and up to the present we have refused nearly a hundred applications for broadcasting licenses. The present trend of the listening public is for stations employing high power and providing "entertainment" of the better standard rather than propaganda.

The evidence now before us would indicate that the broadcasting of the association does not meet the the approval of the listening public, and in reviewing license renewals for the current fiscal year, mindful of its responsibilities to the broadcast listeners as the licensing authority, the department is persuaded that in the general public interest the licenses of the Bible Students' stations should not be renewed.

I may add one further word. In view of the recent development in radio broadcasting, and having regard to the seemingly unsatisfactory conditions now obtaining, the government are giving consideration to the question whether or not it would be generally advantageous to adopt a policy of national broadcasting along the lines adopted in this respect by the British government.

I, Walter Frederick Salter, of 83 Wembley Drive, Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, Vice-President and General Manager of the International Bible Students Association of Canada, declare as follows:

1. I am Vice-President and General Manager of the International Bible Students Association of Canada.

2. I have examined carefully the correspondence tabled by the Department of Marine and Fisheries in the House of Commons in response to the request for said correspondence by J. S. Woodsworth, Member of Parliament for North Centre Winnipeg on behalf of A. A. Heaps, Member of Parliament for North Winnipeg and find the letters of Divisional Radio Inspector S. J. Ellis of Toronto contain statements which I declare are incorrect, viz.:

(a) That we employed 100 returned soldiers to canvass for names to the petition of protest. The fact is that we did not employ anyone; that all the work was done freely and voluntarily by workers throughout Canada, some of whom were members of our Association; some of whom were citizens indignant at the action of the Government; and some of whom were returned soldiers, but the number of returned men working in Toronto could not at the outside number more than half a dozen. No one received payment for securing names to the said petition.

(b) That it is not true as implied by Inspector S. J. Ellis in his letter of March 26th, 1928, that we endeavored to get names to the said petition by other than proper means.

(c) That it is not true that as stated in the letter of Inspector S. J. Ellis dated June 29th, 1927, that we broadcast only propaganda. By propaganda is meant 'the beliefs or tenets of an association or body of people.' I declare that churches that are broadcasting set forth what they profess to believe to be their proper interpretation of Scripture and do so to be true to their claimed mission and needless to say their interpretations do not find favor with all. There should be no objection to any organization broadcasting a statement of their honest beliefs.

However, it is untrue that all our programs are of such a nature. Most of the time of the stations by far has been spent in broadcasting as follows:

aa. Sacred and classical music.

bb. Educational lectures dealing with health and preventive medicine, fire protection, street traffic control, advantages of Ontario Hydro Electric, Ontario Educational System, attractions in Canada for tourists, technical education in Ontario, up-to-date world news items, travelogues, organ recitals by some of the nation's best organists, concerts for disabled veterans, the Toronto Police Force, etc.

(d) As to the statement of Inspector S. J. Ellis dated November 19th, 1926, "I consider their programs nothing but propaganda and an advertising scheme to get money." This statement is incorrect. The Association or its members have never either directly or indirectly solicited funds to pay for the programs or for any other purpose. The Association is and was incorporated under letters patent from the Dominion Government, as a non-profit association and has remained and will remain such. The sole purpose of the stations is for the entertainment of the public by educational and musical programs, etc., and by what Bible Students believe to be reasonable interpretation of the Holy Scriptures.

(e) The fact should not be overlooked that all the statements of Inspector Ellis aforesaid are hearsay and gossip and are without foundation in fact.

(f) As to the statement of Inspector Ellis that more power is being used by the station than is authorized by the Department, I would say that the International Bible Students Association is not responsible for the power used by C.J.Y.C.

3. Considerable of the correspondence refers to the activities of the said Association prior to the issuance of radio broadcasting licenses and is therefore not relevant; three items refer to Vancouver, five to Edmonton, six to Saskatoon and the balance of the correspondence to Toronto which may be divided as follows:

(a) As to programs, 14
(b) Interference 44
(c) Miscellaneous 22

4. This correspondence may also be further divided as to the nature of the complaints as follows:

(a) 11 complaints that the Association is too frequently on the air.

(b) 19 complaints that the stations of the I.B.S.A. interfere with the reception of other stations by radio fans.

(c) 18 letters complaining of interference with sermons of a local Toronto preacher.

(d) 12 complaints in reference to wave length of CKCX being changed at the suggestion of the Department.

(e) A resolution by the Board of Trade of Saskatoon protesting against station CHUC being so often on the air.

(f) Protest by Greater Vancouver Radio Association and Radio Trades Association regarding there being too many stations operating on one wave length in Vancouver and suggesting that the I.B.S.A. station in Vancouver be eliminated.

(g) Criticism by Medical Health Officer of Edmonton of a lecture stating that "canned fruits" and "vaccination" were objectionable.

(h) Two items containing in all nine letters appearing in the Press criticising the Toronto broadcasting Station of the Association.

(i) Three letters from various Members of Parliament requesting information from the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

(j) Memorandum of a popularity contest held by the Western Producer, in Saskatchewan.

(k) 17 criticisms and a petition signed by 199 individuals complaining about the nature of the programs and the Biblical interpretations as presented by the speakers of the Association.

5. Other than items (j) and (k) in Paragraph 4, those complaints could largely have been readily adjusted to the satisfaction of all by a candid discussion between the Department and the Association. Opportunity for such was never given.

6. With respect to item (j) in Paragraph 4. This contest was put on by the Western Producer, the organ of the Wheat Pool, the circulation of which is largely among its own members and farmers in general. Naturally the Wheat Pool station won. This station supplies market reports to the farmers. The contest was on behalf of advertisers seeking a radio advertising medium and as CHUC, the I.B.S.A. Station, was not seeking advertisers it did not canvass for votes as did other stations, hence the disparity in the number of votes cast. While the farmers preferred the station used by the Wheat Pool they did not wish CHUC discontinued.

7. To offset the 19 complaints mentioned in the said item (k) with respect to programs and the petition signed by 199 names I might state that:

ABITIBI RIVER CLAIMS SEVEN

Two Boats Upset in Swift Stream, Throwing Out Eight Occupants.

ONE MAN REACHES SHORE.

NORTH BAY, Ont., May 26 (Canadian Press). — According to despatches received here to-day the Abitibi River has claimed seven lives within the past few days. Three were drowned on Tuesday night and four others last night. None of the bodies has been recovered.

On Tuesday evening four Finns were precipitated into the water when their boat overturned. Three of the party, Amel Santtininen, a homesteader, and Siva Annittela and Ervo Riihinaon, bushmen, were drowned, while the fourth, John Arnet, was carried a mile and a half down stream before he was washed ashore, still clinging to the upturned boat.

Chief of Police N. J. Carly, Iroquois Falls, has organized a party to search for the bodies. At the time of the triple fatality, the party were returning from Cochrane.

Only meagre details were available to-day of the drowning of four men which occurred in the same river last night about nine miles from Iroquois Falls on the Abitibi River. The men lost their lives when their canoe overturned in the rapids. The victims are J. Wood of Cochrane, and Fred Chapman, Charlie Morden, and Bill Moore of Clute, members of a surveying gang, directed by J. Lanning. The bodies have not been recovered.

QUEBEC RIVERS AND LAKES RISING

Floods in Lake St. John District Gradually Getting Worse.

CHICOUTIMI, Que., May 25 (Canadian Press).—The waters of Lake St. John continued to rise to-day, and this morning had reached a level of 20.28 feet, about two feet above yesterday's high mark, and showed no signs of abating. The wharf at Roberval was covered with water and the flow was slowly creeping toward the town itself, threatening to further flood it. A schoolhouse and two residences situated close to the lake were evacuated this morning.

All roads in the district have been inundated and vehicular traffic made impossible.

About 100 miles of territory is affected by the flood along the Missashimi River, Lake St. John, the Grand Discharge River and the Amars River.

BUILDING TRADES MEET CONTRACTORS

Union Officials Say Men Engaged On Royal York Hotel Will Quit.

TORONTO May 25.— (Canadian Press.)—The building trades craftsmen of Toronto did not go out on strike this morning in sympathy with structural steel workers as it was stated they would. Representatives of the unions with membership in Building Trades Council were in conference to-day with officials of the General Contractors' Association in an endeavor to settle differences.

This afternoon the sheet metal workers, plumbers steam fitters, electricians and hoisting engineers in the Royal York hotel numbering about twenty-five, will lay down their tools, it was stated by Building Trades Council.

There are at present 100 carpenters and bricklayers off that job because there was no work to do after the steel workers finished. But now they will be idle in a sympathy strike as well.

The Council stated there would be no general strike of all building projects, but only those where non-union labor is employed.

SAYS BIBLE BARS BOB

Because he believes the Bible declares against bobbing, Joseph Kasser, of London, refuses to cut women's hair. He bases his belief on the verse from 1 Corinthians XI, "But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her; for her hair is given her for a covering." In taking his stand Kasser said, "I believe in applying my religion to everyday life. I believe that to rob a woman of her hair is to commit a sin. I turn away as many as five women a day. Some years ago I was a women's hair dresser, but I gave it up when it was brought to my notice that it is stated in the Bible that no man shall turn a white hair black. I gave up my job because I was engaged in dyeing women's hair."

WAS SO NERVOUS and SHORT OF BREATH COULD HARDLY SLEEP

Mrs. Louise Eagle, Golden Lake Ont., writes:—"For several years I was greatly troubled with my heart. I was so nervous and short of breath I could hardly sleep at night, and if I did sleep for a while I had bad dreams.

"I managed to keep at my work somehow, until I began to have dizzy spells which got so bad I had to give up. I used many kinds of medicine but found no help until I got a box of MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. After the first box I found a great change, and after two boxes I was as well as I could be.

"I told my mother, who had choking sensations, about them and they helped her greatly."

CHAPTER XVII.

The coroner glared at her, but as she, of course, had a right to engage a private detective if she chose, he made no response to her irritating speech.

"I would like to hear from those who were in conversation with Mr. Folsom just before he went into the ocean," said Hubbard. "Mr. Neville, you were in his party?"

"Yes," Neville said, stepping forward. "We went in the water together."

"There were others with you?"

"Two ladies, Mrs. Barnaby and Mrs. Valdon."

"Yes. And tell me now, did you notice anything unusual about Mr. Folsom's manner? Anything apprehensive?"

"Absolutely nothing of the sort. Mr. Folsom was in the best of spirits and ready to enjoy his ocean dip with the rest of us."

"You and he were business partners, I am told."

"Not partners; we were in the same company."

"What company was that, Mr. Neville?"

"The Royal Realty Company. But Mr. Folsom was president. I am merely vice president."

"Ah, yes. Real estate?"

"Yes, a Chicago concern. Now that Mr. Folsom is dead, much of the business will devolve on me."

"Naturally. And you are one of Mr. Folsom's heirs?"

"Yes, as Miss Folsom stated."

"Now, Mr. Neville, will you recount as exactly as you can the circumstances of Mr. Folsom's death? Tell the minutest details as you saw them."

"As a matter of fact, I saw very little. I was at some distance from our party, and whenever I endeavored to speak to them a wave came and either bowled me over or swept away all sound of my voice, so I gave up the attempt and merely swam around in the surf by myself."

"Then what was the first intimation you had of anything having happened to Mr. Folsom?"

"Naturally I glanced toward our own crowd now and then, and as I looked I failed to see Folsom. I thought nothing of that at the moment, as he now and then left the rope, but I next saw one or two life guards come to the rope and then people got between us and I couldn't see what was going on. But then I saw the two guards carrying someone ashore and I recognized at once that it was Garrett Folsom."

"You were near enough to see him then?"

"I didn't see his face, but I recognized his bathing suit, gray with black stripes, and I felt sure it was he. I went immediately to where the ladies of our party stood, holding the rope, and they were almost overcome with fear that Mr. Folsom had suffered a stroke or an attack of some sort. I advised them to go ashore at once, and suggested that we all go to our bathhouses and dress in order to be of any possible assistance to our friend."

"And that is what you did?"

"Yes. They agreed that was the best thing to do, and we were soon dressed and back to the hotel, where we heard the news of his death and later of his murder."

"Thank you, Mr. Neville. Now, as his business associate and as co-official in his company, are you in charge of Mr. Folsom's papers and letters that are down here with him?"

Before Roger Neville could answer Miss Folsom spoke up.

"Indeed he is not. I am in charge of my brother's effects, including his money, letters, papers and personal belongings."

She sat upright and glowered at the coroner as if he had offered her a deadly insult.

"Oh, I beg pardon, I'm sure. Are you, then, the executor of Mr. Folsom's estate?"

"No, his lawyer in Chicago is his executor. But as nearest of kin, I am in charge of his property, and I propose to remain so."

"You have his rooms at the hotel?"

"I have."

Has anything been touched?"

She gave him a glance that was almost pitying.

Everything has been touched," she said. Last night, before I slept, I went over every one of his letters and papers as well as all his clothes and personal property of all kinds."

And you found no papers or letters that could in any way give any hint as to the possible identity of the criminal?"

Again that look of utter scorn mixed with the tolerance one might show to a small child or an irresponsible mentality.

Had there been any such," Anastasia Folsom informed him, I should not now be here listening to this futile querying, but I should be after the suspect and getting him behind bars! No, I found no letter or paper that gave the least hint of which way to look for his murderer. But that in no way deters me from continuing the search. I shall yet find the villain and shall see to it that justice is done."

You will hold those papers and letters subject to the investigation of the police, madam. We will send our detectives to examine them shortly."

You may, sir. No one will be more glad than I if you can find any hint of a way to look for light on the matter."

Mrs. Barnaby," was the next witness called, and the Duchess, though trembling with nervousness and embarrassment, walked steadily up to the designated chair.

There is no use in repeating testimony," Coroner Hubbard said, speaking gently, as he noticed her quivering lip and trembling hands. Just tell me if you noticed anything about Mr. Folsom's manner or speech that was unlike himself, or betrayed fear or nervousness of any sort."

No, I did not," the Duchess replied, relieved at the easy question. But I knew Mr. Folsom only slightly, not so well as the other members of our little party. You see, he was a friend of the others. I only met him the night before—before last."

You stood next him in the ocean?"

Not at the time he—he went under. I was next him but one, then."

Who was next him?"

Mrs. Valdon."

And on the other side?"

I am told a Mr. Barron was. But I do not know Mr. Barron."

That will do, Mrs. Barnaby. Mrs. Valdon next!"

Carmelita came forward, looking so beautiful that many present gave an involuntary gasp of admiration. Though in no way over-dressed, her bright-colored beach cape, falling from her graceful shoulders, gave her the look of a Spanish princess. Indeed, the beach cape was made from a spanish shawl, whose gorgeous embroidered flowers shone out lustrously from a black background.

Mrs. Valdon, will you add anything you can to the story of Mr. Folsom's death in the ocean yesterday?"

How can I add anything? I do not even know that he died in the ocean, except by hearsay."

While not exactly flippant, Carmelita's manner was distinctly disinterested, and the coroner was a little at a loss how to treat her.

But he felt it was best to "give it to her straight," as he expressed it to himself, and he said, sternly, "Do not attempt to quibble. You know now how and when Mr. Folsom met his death. Can you tell me anything in the way of detailed description of what you saw during his last moments?"

No, I can't," said Carmelita, not pertly, but with a look of sadness, as of one thinking back over a harrowing scene.

Yet you stood next him?"

THE MARKETS

larged receipts of corn here added to the bearish effect of notably favorable weather conditions for the new corn crop.

Closing quotations on corn were heavy, 2¼c to 3⅝c net lower, with wheat 1⅞c to 2½c down, oats ⅜c to ½c to 2⅛c off, and provisions varying from 7c to 10c decline to a rise of 4½c.

Lowest prices of the day prevailed in the corn market at the finish. Much selling out on the part of the holders of future delivery contracts was in evidence and was supplemented by selling which came from bear speculators. On the breaks in price, numerous standing orders to stop losses at various set limits were automatically forced into action, while the general demand was smothered by an increasing volume of offerings.

A good share of the 266 cars of corn that were received in Chicago yesterday came from other market centres, the south-west in particular, but this circumstance was virtually ignored. Receivers said there was no great amount of corn being offered from the country at the present time. Furthermore, receipts of corn in the west and south-west markets continued to run much smaller than the shipments from those points. Meanwhile Europe is not getting its expected heavy consignments, but so far this does not appear to stir up any export business in corn from the United States.

Aside from the influence of sympathy with corn weakness, wheat values were bearishly affected by the cooler temperatures beneficial for the spring wheat crop. No rains were in sight north-west, but dry weather as a market factor appeared to have worn itself out, at least for the time being, and export demand yesterday for wheat from North America was light. Oats receded with other grain, May oats especially undergoing a sharp break.

Provisions had an irregular trend, lard being easier owing to slowness of cash demand, whereas meats were in better request.

PROUD MOMENT RECALLED

LYRICS OF LIFE

HIS KID SISTER

Girls were only girls to me
When the kid was only three.
Girls were something that you meet
Walking down a Sunday street,
Girls were something to take out,
Even talk a bit about.
Not so careful what you say
When the stories get that way.

But the kid kept growing up,
Sweeter than a buttercup.
Then one day, all sudden like,
She was not a little tike
But a sister, fine and tall,
Yes, a youngster like them all,
All the other girls you meet
Walking down a Sunday street.

Girls are something new to me
That they didn't used to be.
Girls are something sweet and pure,
Friend or stranger, rich or poor.
Girls are something fine and clean
(And you all know what I mean)
For a man to leave alone,
With a sister of his own.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY A YEAR LOOKS LONGER TO A CHILD THAN TO A MAN

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

A year is a long time to a child of seven, while to the man of seventy it is a relatively short period of time. Everyone knows that as he grows older time passes more quickly.

A year looks longer to a child because life is new and strange and untried. He has no basis of comparison. The unconscious tendency is to compare each passing year with the years already lived. On this basis a single year is actually shorter to a man than it is to a child. If you compare a line six inches long with one that is a yard long it looks short. If you compare it with one that is an inch in length it looks long.

The adult has passed many mile stones along the highway of life, familiar signs that seem to shorten time as they do space. For example, when you move to a new community the distance from your home to your place of business seems long at first because you have no land marks along the way by which to judge your distance. After you become accustomed to making the trip it seems shorter because you know exactly where you are at each successive stage of your journey.

Sense of time is very peculiar and entirely relative, otherwise we should have no need of clocks and calendars. A good deal depends upon the point of view. To the landlord the months pass very slowly, while to the tenant who has a hard time paying his rent the months fly past too swiftly. The general principle involved is that if you are anxious to have time pass quickly, as in a hospital or while waiting for a train, it seems to stop. On the other hand if you are having a good time and would like to stay the hands of the clock they seem to spin around faster than ever.

Perhaps one reason why a year looks so long to a child is that he wants to grow up quickly so that he might enjoy the privileges of adult life like his father or some other man he admires. But to most of us time flies because we are anxious to hold it back. Each approaching birthday brings another painful realization of the flight of time and of our utter help-

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

The new short evening wrap is here shown in embroidered beige velvet.

Something has really happened in the development of fashion. Something really important, at least from the point of view of the fashion reporter. For the past four or five seasons there have been fads and novelties, but few real changes. We have had to content ourselves with new materials or the revival of old ones, change of taste in colors—first a run on this and then everyone wearing something else, or a new way of wearing the corsage flower—little things like that.

And now the prophesy that something new would really happen this spring has been fulfilled and the new era is most strikingly marked by the shortening of the coat. There are still long coats, but I venture to predict that by next autumn we will all be taking our last year's evening wraps and fur coats to the dressmakers and furriers to have them lopped off. The new silhouette is achieved by the new short coat.

The short coat is itself an outcome of the uneven or flaring hemline. With a skirt that wavers from knees to insteps the accepted coat length was not especially attractive. No one wanted to wear wraps that were long enough to hide all the trailing clouds of glory from one of these uneven frocks, so the only thing to do was to make coats that were short enough to leave the whole lower portion of the skirt exposed. And there you are. The shorter coat was taken on as a matter of expedience and immediately assumed fashion importance on its own account—produced, in fact, a new silhouette that right away caught fire.

As a little personal gift for the June bride I can think of nothing nicer than a half dozen of the new, very large chiffon handkerchiefs which women are wearing—rather carrying—with light afternoon and evening gowns. A half yard of chiffon makes two of these handkerchiefs, and they are finished with fine lace, a simple line of hemstitching or an edge of footing.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

FOR SUNDAY, MAY 27, 1928

Benefic aspects rule today, according to astrology which finds the planetary government favorable.

The clergy are subject to the best influences of the stars making for great activity in civic reforms.

Congregations should be responsive under this sway which makes for reverence and aspiration.

Again there is to be a reaction in favor of religious study and church observances, it is foretold.

Interest in philosophy also will increase and advanced thinkers will gain attention through books and lectures.

The aspects read as encouraging ill-feeling and prejudice among persons of varying faiths are believed to have changed so that there will be less unfairness in judgment.

Art is to be a strong aid in bringing beauty and right thinking to the people, it is prognosticated.

With the coming of summer there is to be great loss of life through accidents, astrologers forecast. Many lives will be swallowed up by the waters. Swimmers should be careful.

This is read as an auspicious day for communing with nature. Good luck attends trips to the country.

There is an ancient superstition that made the wearing of new clothes under this sign most fortunate.

Storms and landslides are predicted for early June in Europe, so travelers should be careful.

Children born on this day probably will be of sound chhracter and unusual intelligence.

FOR MONDAY, MAY 28, 1928

This is a decidedly unlucky day, according to astrology, which finds in the day's horoscope menacing aspects.

Losses may be numerous while this rule prevails and it is wise to keep close watch of one's possessions.

Accidents also may be even more numerous than usual and automobiles may be especially dangerous.

At the beginning of this week it is not encouraging to deal with banks or bankers unless one has a large account, astrologers declare.

Surgeons may find this an unfavorable sway for major operations and they may be wise to delay dangerous cases.

One of the aspects today appears to presage for this country intense interest in military training and preparedness.

Under this direction of the stars it is difficult to be logical, the seers explain, and for this reason quarrels are easily precipitated.

When the stars seem to frown as today it is wise to pursue beaten paths and to adhere to safe routine.

This is a most unfortunate sway for lovers and he who woos today probably will be sorry tomorrow.

There is a sign that presages continued use of narcotics and consequent growth of a certain class of nervous diseases.

Persons whose birthdate it is should beware of fraud and should exercise care in husbanding their resources.

Children born on this day probably will have a scientific trend of mind. The subjects of this sign are usually brilliant, but they do not like plodding work.

BENEATH THE POPPIES

We love to see those poppies grow
As each spring brings them all a-glow;
Their roots were bathed in Allied blood,
As comrades fell twix' seed and mud,
Which seems to make them shine more red
Upon the graves of honoured dead.
'Twas side by side those heroes died,
Their resting place we shall not hide.
O may those poppies bloom yet more
From Flanders' fields to Eternal's door.

Cogs and Crescents Tied 4-4 In E.P.L. Fixture

CRESCENTS STAGE SEVENTH INNING RALLY TO OVERCOME EARLY LEAD OF COGNAWAGAS

Both Teams Show Some Neat Box Work and Snappy Fielding.

HURLERS GOOD.

Brakeliners Score Four runs in First and Second Innings.

With Cognawagas leading 4 to 1 at the end of the sixth, at Exhibition Park last evening, Crescents staged a thrilling seventh inning rally to tie the count, following which the veteran "Bun" Frost topped off the fine performance by his team-mates by striking out the head of the Cogs' batting list in a row. That's a nice way to finish a ball game and the crowd roared its applause.

Cognawagas appeared to have the game well in hand up to the sixth. They got a run in the first, and slapped Frost's offerings for three more in the second. Then the game settled down to a scoreless affair, due to some neat box work and snappy fielding. Crescents could not get past Vannest's fine pitching until the sixth when his control appeared to slip. The frame gave the Crescents a run, and the necessary pep to go out in the seventh and get some more.

Joe Jones, starting the game for Crescents, grounded out to Corbett, and J. LeBarr did likewise. Frost fanned.

For Crescents, Crary was thrown out by Williams. Wilson got a scratch hit through the box, which Mein fielded when off his balance, the throw being low. Wilson stole second, the only theft committed against Bob Ross during the game. Rooke grounded out to Kane, Wilson going to third, to score when Frost let Corbett's grounder get away. The pitcher threw out Prest.

Ross was safe on Corbett's fumble, and he stole. L. LeBarr got Vannest in a hole but the pitcher struck him out, and also fanned Williams and J. Jones.

In Cogs' half of the second, Cripps singled to centre, Billingsley fanned, and Delahay planted one in right, sending Cripps to third. Delahay went down to second as Vannest batted, and both runners went home when Vannest dropped one back of second. Crary walked and Wilson flew out to F. Jones. Rooke singled into right to score Vannest, and then went out on an attempted steal.

In the third, Mein shot one across second, Kane fanned, and J. Jones forced Mein. Vannest threw out Frost.

Corbett, after singling into right, was forced by Prest. Cripps sent a long fly to F. Jones and Billingsley popped to Mein.

Frost fanned in the fourth, Ross was passed, and L. LeBarr popped to Corbett, and Williams to Crary.

Crescents went out in order in the fifth. Wilson threw out F. Jones, Mein flew out to Prest, and Kane to Cripps.

Wilson was safe on Williams' peg and he made second, going to third when Mein let the pitcher's throw get away. Corbett, Prest and Cripps fanned in order.

Crary threw out J. Jones to start the sixth. J. LeBarr walked. Frost's fly was dropped by Prest, but he got the ball to second to head off LeBarr. Ross waited and walked and turned his ankle on the way down. Ralph relieving him at the bag. That put two on, and when L. LeBarr slammed one at Wilson, the shortstop found Corbett absent at third, and his hurried high throw to first went through Rooke, J. LeBarr scoring on the play. Williams ended it by grounding to the pitcher.

F. Jones started the fun in the seventh by hitting into short left. He stole when Crary had to pull down a high throw. Mein doubled over Cripps to score Jones. Kane looked good on a perfect sacrifice, sending Mein to third. J. Jones lined out to Rooke, who held the runner at third. J. LeBarr came through with a drive to right to score Mein. Then he stole second. Frost waited and was passed. Bob Ross drove a hot one between third and short, LeBarr scooting home with the tieing run. L. LeBarr shot a hot one at Crary, who fell down with the ball, but wiggled to the base in time to force the runner to second and stop the rally.

It was dusk as Cogs made their attempt to save the game with a run. Putting everything available behind his pitching, Frost struck out Crary. Wilson and Rooke in a manner that tickled the fans, no matter which team they were rooting for.

WANTED—A good attendance at the opening games of the Juvenile and Bantam groups in the Junior ball league. Both to start at 6 p.m.

* * * * * *

The Juvenile and Bantam groups of the Junior ball league will open on Monday, May 28th, with two scheduled fixtures. The Moose and Kiwanis will battle it out at the James Stevenson Park with LeBarr and Coursey handling the umpiring end of the game. Riley and Hickey vs. Graftons will meet in the Bantam series at the Sacred Heart grounds; Alex Kay will be in charge. Both games are scheduled to start at 6 p.m. sharp.

* * * * * *

Crescents staged numerous rallies in their successful quest of the championship last season, but last night's finish outdid them all. "Bun" Frost doing his share for good measure. Two great games already for the crowds at Exhibition Park, and the season just started.

* * * * * *

Cognawagas have a nice ball club, with Corbett the new member of the infield. Crary, Rooke and Wilson complete a strong defense. Vannest is going good right now and with Billingsley available to do a turn on the mound, the Cogs will be dangerous opposition. The team is carrying plenty of reserve strength, having three catchers and a second string outfield.

* * * * * *

Bob Ross is doing some nice backstopping and throwing. Mein is showing the way to the shortstops, and there are few ball players more daring on the runways than Jack LeBarr and Joe and Freddy Jones.

The next East Peterborough League fixture will bring Bethany here for a game with Raybestos next Wednesday evening.

DIVIDE OPENING SINGLES MATCHES

Crocker Winner Over Toba, the Jap, in First Round Match.

MONTREAL, Que., May 21. — (Canadian Press.) — Canada and Japan divided their opening singles matches in the second round Davis Cup American zone play contested yesterday afternoon on the en-tut-cas courts of the Mount Royal Tennis Club. Playing as consistently brilliant tennis as he has ever shown in cup competition, Williard F. Crocker triumphed over Teizo Tora, captain of the Japanese team in the first match in four sets, 6-0, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. Jack Wright, present Canadian singles champion commenced in spectacular manner against Yoshiro Ohta in the second match, but the lack of preliminary training told on the McGill star, who, after leading 2-1 at the end of the third set, dropped off from the high pitch to which he had brought his game up to the time rain caused halts, weakened under the steady fire of Ohta's vicious forehands in the fourth and fifth sets and conceded the honors to Ohta in the gruelling five-set struggle, 4-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Doubles To-day.

Thus, the two teams will enter the doubles match to-day on an even footing and, on the form displayed in yesterday's singles contests, there is every indication that the struggle in the doubles may prove the deciding factor in the series. Jack Wright and Dr. Art Ham will carry the battle for Canada in the doubles and will be pitted against two sterling doubles players in Captain Teizo Toba and Tamio Abe, the latter the present singles and doubles champion of Japan, who is making his first appearance in Davis Cup competition, but who has already stamped himself a sound opponent in doubles play.

FRENCH OVERTHROWN.

AUTEUIL, France, May 26.—(A.P.)—The overthrow of the French champion Rene Lacoste and his partner Christian Boussus in the round before the semi-final of the International Hard Court Tennis Championships yesterday marked the high spot of the day. The French stars were defeated by the English pair, J. C. Gregory and C. H. Kingsley, 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

The efforts of the French Tennis Federation to develop a group of younger players to replace the famous three musketeers, Lacoste, Borotra and Cochet, came out even for the day when Henry Cochet, paired with Rene Debuzlet rallied after losing the first two sets and eliminated the Australians, Gerald Patterson and J. B. Hawkes, 3-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 12-10.

The defeat of Lacoste and Boussus furnished one of the biggest surprises of the tournament. The English pair went into the lead at the start, winning the first two sets. The French rallied to take the third, 6-4, but could not keep up the pace and lost the fourth at 5-deuce, 7-5.

In the second match Cochet instilled some of his never-say-die spirit into his young partner to stage a victorious rally after being two sets to the bad. The French pair evened the count by taking the third and fourth by 6-4 scores. In the final set Cochet displayed some of the finest tennis of his career to offset the lack of experience of Debuzelet and break through to win the 22 game set, 12 to 10.

WIN OVER CHINA.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 26.—(Canadian Press.)— John Hennessy of Indianapolis and George Lott of Chicago, carried the United States to victory in stranght sets over China in the opening singles matches of the Davis Cup tennis series here yesterday.

Hennessey defeated Gordon Lum, captain of the Chinese team, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0, while Lott easily disposed of Paul Kong in love sets, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0.

SPORT CHATTER AND COMMENT

By F.D.C.

The Petes lost one grand chance Thursday to flash in front in the long Central Ontario League race. If Heckman had been in condition or Hardill had accepted his opportunity of pitching the opener, Manager Tommy Holyman's first game would have been a win. Heck threw exactly two curves during the afternoon and had nine strike-outs.

* * *

Belleville's win over the Ponies on the holiday was not unexpected, the only surprise being the good showing made by the two Kingston pitchers. Joe Daley has been lamenting the fact that he has no first string heavers, but the Ponies' pilot may be better off than he thought.

* * *

Deloro, the new entry in the Central loop, will play here next Saturday. And, right now, you can mark that fixture down as one worth seeing.

* * *

Chasing the Yankees in the American League race is like running a day behind the leaders in the Bunion Derby.

* * *

Jeff Hardill's defection Thursday at Oshawa came near to making a terrible fiasco of the opening game. Heckman was in no shape to pitch a league fixture, but he was game enough to go in there and make a battle of it when his refusal to do so would have turned the engagement into a farce, as the Petes had no other pitchers to fall back upon. Oshawa as well as Peterborough fans owe the veteran a vote of thanks.

* * *

'Sh'iner' Johnston should pass on the secret of how he keeps a full supply of pep available. Thursday at Oshawa he was in a constant crossfire of conversation with the Oshawa fans, and won most of the arguments.

* * *

The Central race promises to be a merry drive all along the line. The teams are well balanced, with enough new material to keep the fans interested and a new team, Deloro, to add variety to the argument.

* * *

The Belleville scorers had better get together. One report of Thursday's Belleville-Kingston game gave the total hits as 12, and credited both teams with playing errorless ball. Another version made it 9 hits and 5 errors for the two teams.

* * *

It looks as if most of Oshawa's new ball players were winter-killed. Surprising how many ball stars are at their best just around New Year's.

* * *

The old guard of the Central Ontario League is still going strong. Belleville has the Mills brothers, Weir, Ross, Hagerman and Meagher; the Kingston Ponies, Del Cherry; Oshawa Saints, Reg. Fair and Hank Morrison, and Peterboro, Swanston, Heckman, Rose, Holyman, Johnston and Harrison.

LODGEPOLE PINE A WESTERN SPECIES

WETHERED WILL PLAY IN FINALS

Meet T. P. Perkins To-day For British Amateur Golf Championship.

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 26.—(Canadian Press Cable). — Roger Wethered, former British amateur champion, and T. P. Perkins, present English amateur champion, will meet to-day in the final of what has been the most kaleidoscopic championship in the history of British golfing. Wethered yesterday won his way into the final by defeating E. B. Tipping of Ashdown Forest, in the semi-finals, 4 up and 3 to play, while Perkins earned the right to meet Wethered in the last 36-hole test through eliminating William Tulloch, of Glasgow, 6 and 5.

It is worthy of note that Perkins' record is every bit as illustrious as that of Wethered. Although he lost the native English championship one month ago to W. F. Stout, he was the leading British amateur in the open championship won recently by Walter Hagen, United States professional. He also held this distinction in the open championship of last year.

Perkins is 23 years of age, while Wethered is 28. The latter's individualism, it is believed, will work to his disadvantage to-day and Perkins, who holds the amateur record for the Castle Bromwick course, is strongly favored to capture the crown held last year by Dr. W. Tweddell.

This marks the third time that Wethered has reached the semi-finals in the amateur championship, and the second occasion that he has reached the finals. He won the title in 1923.

Yesterday's play saw the defeat of two of the most sensational figures entered in the competition, A. R. MacCallum of South Staffs, whose brilliant stroking had eliminated such well-known British amateurs as Cyril Tolley, J. A. Stout, and Douglas Grant, was eliminated in the eights by William Tulloch at the twentieth hole. The youthful Scot seemed tired and lacked the spirit which featured his play previously and never once in his match with Tulloch was he able to gain the lead. The latter laid MacCallum a stymie at the twentieth hole and clinched the match.

J. B. Pease, the 60-year-old banker, of the Ainmouth Club, who won recognition in the present tournament by defeating Sir Ernest Holderness, former titleholder, put up a sterling battle before losing out to Wethered at the twenty-first hole in the quarter finals.

Another unknown who sprang into prominence by his clever playing during the first four rounds of the tournament, J. A. Lang, youthful Glasgow bank clerk, also passed out of the competition yesterday. He was ousted by E. B. Tipping in the quarter finals.

Tipping was very erratic against Lang during the outward journey, but against Wethered, who was four up at the turn for home in the semi-finals, Tipping played greatly improved golf. Wethered, however, was dormie four at the fourteenth and by halving the fifteenth he settled the issue.

Perkins in his match against H. M. Dickson, of Glasgow, in the quarter finals, was five up at the ninth. However, he bunkered at the tenth, eleventh and twelfth, but though he lost the tenth and eleventh he managed to halve the twelfth. This gave Dickson a fighting chance, but he was unable to take advantage of it.

The Pease-Wethered match was one of the most closely contested of the whole tournament. The veteran banker, though he clung grimly to the hot pace set by his more youthful opponent, was never able to gain the lead until the seventeenth hole and when he did manage to do this he was too tired to play his real game and the three hours and twenty minutes, which it took them to get to the seventeenth, took most of the strength from his drives which were noticeably short at the eighteenth. Then he failed to overcome the famous "cardinal" bunker at the twenty-first, and the match was lost to him.

In his match against Tulloch, Perkins had compartively easy going. It was more or less of a procession after the seventh, where Perkins took the lead the first time and turned for home three up. He won the tenth and that ended Tulloch's bid for the title.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By a Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, the boys lost their first Central League bout, but don't waste no tears, they ain't no occasion to weep. All winter the stories from Oshawa been telling about all the ball stars that had gathered there—just to make automobiles, of course. Well, unless a lotta them stars from across the line went back to the States to celebrate Victoria Day, it looks like Oshawa'll hafta struggle along with what they had last year, helped by Mister Herb Wolfe, which is, of course, some help at that. Anyway, when the Petes went into action at Oshawa Thurs. all the old faces was to be seen out there, cept at second base, and after looking them over, Mister Holyman and his pals heaved a sign of relief. With a patched-up team and Mister Heckman, not begun to get in shape, dishing them up, they gave the Motors a real argument all the way.

If Mister Hardill had not developed the heebie-jeebies or something like that Thurs., the Petes woulda brought that game back in the bat bag. Mister Hardill a week ago looked fit enough to pitch a double-header any time, but Thurs. he delivered a "I do not choose to pitch this early in 1928" speech at the last moment, and Mister Heckman was elected. Give the old boy credit, he went in there without no practice to speak of and hardly time to warm up, and he travelled the full distance mighty nice.

The Petes is home every Sat. for a long spell, so the fans is going to get plenty chances to look them over. They's going to be a lotta good ball in the loop this season, and the Petes has as good a chance as any man's team to be up on top when the long schedule is over. That's provided that everybody gets into there and goes to work. And the boys oughta remember, two, that the games you win early in the season don't hafta be won later on, and a win in May counts just as much as a win in Aug.

The local leagues is off to a good start, Mac. In the East Peterborough loop the Raybestos boys copped a neat win off of the Crescents in the opener, this Mister Sailor Maudsley pitching steady ball in the well-known pinches. Every game in the E P. is a battle, boys; they play only 2 nites, use no hooks and bury your own dead. As for the city serious, Jack Deanneard's Kiwanians took a nice fall outa the Royals Thurs. According to them that was there, it was a real lively cup of tea, and them 2 teams'll have some merry battles before the flag is won.

Well, Mac, here's hoping that before my next the Petes'll trot out their full strength and bust into the win column.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

So the mental picture of Hudson prices is often far above the facts.

To know its exact relations to costliest cars in quality, workmanship, and brilliant design—and then to consider its actual prices far below this field—is to realize the unmistakable fact that it is the greatest value ever produced.

Priced from $1600 for the 118-inch Coach, to $2500 for the 127-inch Custom 7-Passenger Sedan, the Hudsons embody such costly car details as are listed at the right, few of which are found in any car costing less than $2000.

YANKEES TAKE DOUBLE BILL

Defeat Athletics To Increase League Lead Five and One-Half Games.

HEAVY HITTING FEATURES.

New York, May 26 (CP).—The famed home run bats of the New York Yankees were at their most terrible best yesterday afternoon as the American League and World champions hammered the Athletics into submission in both games of a doubleheader before a capacity crowd of 40,000 at Philadelphia.

The double defeat of their nearest rivals gave the Yankees a lead of five and one-half games.

Lou Gehrig's eighth home run of the season with two on bases in the sixth inning sent Howard Ehmke down to defeat by four to two in the opener. The Yankees then battered Rube Walberg and Eddie Rommel to win by 9 to 2 in the aftermath. This game was marked by fifteen Yankee hits, good for thirty-one bases. Two homers by Ruth and two by Dugan were in the collection.

Ruth's drives, his fifteenth and sixteenth of the season, gave him a lead of seven games, six days and four home runs over his record pace of 1927, when he hit sixty. The five Yankee circuit blows accounted for all but two of the thirteen runs the champions scored in the two games.

The Red Sox waved potent bats yesterday and Boston defeated Washington, 5 to 0. In the second inning, Todt drove a home run into the right field Boston bleachers, scoring Flagstead ahead of him. It was his fourth home run in as many games played.

Giving but five scattered singles, the veteran Urban Faber, White Sox mound ace, blanked Detroit, 1 to 0, at Chicago. Holloway of the Tigers gave only five singles, but two of them were bunched with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning for the winning Chicago tally. The victory hoisted the White Sox back into sixth place and pushed the Tigers to seventh.

A home run by Pinch Hitter George Burns, which tied the count in the seventh inning, spurred Cleveland on to an 8 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Browns at Cleveland.

The Tribe had gone through five innings with two hits and no runs. Then Crowder weakened, allowing the Redskins one run in the sixth and another early in the seventh. Burns' homer, tying the count at four all, showed the way to an Indian batting attack which netted four more runs in the eighth.

Uhle's triple climaxed the rally.

NO CHROME BEING PRODUCED

There has been no production of chrome in the Dominion in recent years although Canada is known to possess reserves of chrone ore, and a considerable tonnage was mined and shipped during the war period.

BIG SIX.

(By the Associated Press.)

The first division of the Big Six had a big day together yesterday. Even though Babe Ruth poled out two home runs and a double, he fell from second place to third with an average of .360. This was due to Paul Waner's three-hit outburst in a game which his team lost to Chicago. The elder Waner lifted his average to .366. Hornsby remained in the lead by getting a double and a single in four times at bat in Brooklyn, and moving up to .373.

Cobb and Frisch again lost two points each, while Harry Heilmann in the cellar dropped a point to .295.

The standing to date:

Player, Team	G.	AB.	R.	H.	PC.
Hornsby, Braves	31	110	23	41	.373
P. Waner, Pirates	36	142	29	52	.366
Ruth, Yankees	36	125	43	25	.360
Cobb, Athletics	33	140	18	46	.329
Frisch, Cardinals	38	151	32	49	.325
Heilmann, Rigers	40	156	24	46	.295

GIANTS WIN FROM PHILLIES

Two Homers Enable the New Yorkers to Take 4-3 Victory.

CUBS WIN 10-3.

New York, May 26 (CP).—Home runs by Mel Ott and Eddie Roush, each with a man on base, enabled the Giants to defeat the Phillies, 4 to 3, here, yesterday, in the first game of the series. Ott's homer was his sixth of the season.

Vic Aldridge, pitching his first game as a Giant at the Polo Grounds, got credit for the victory. Cantwell pitched one inning for the Giants after Aldridge gave way to a pinch batsman. Russell Miller pitched well for the Phillies, and Leach hit a homer in the eighth for the Quakers.

Home runs by Harvey Hendrick and Rube Bressler provided all the margin Watson Clark needed to score a 4 to 1 victory over the Boston Braves at Brooklyn. The Braves were playing their first game under the management of Rogers Hornsby. Hendrick's homer scored Statz ahead of him. Bressler's was hit with the bases empty. Commissioner K. M. Landis, and John A. Heydler, president of the National League, witnessed the game.

Kelly's homer in the first, and two doubles in succession in the seventh by Picinich and Ford, gave Cincinnati a 2 to 0 victory over the Cardinals at St. Louis.

The Chicago Cubs batted hard behind Root yesterday as they won their first victory of the season in Pittsburgh in five starts. The triumph also broke the losing streak of the Chicago Club, which had run to five games. The score was 10 to 3.

Russell, Brame, Tauscher, and Bartholomew all did a chore on the mound for the Pirates. Russell started but was wild and he was relieved in the first frame when the Cubs scored four runs.

BISONS WIN FIRST GAME

SKEETERS LOSE 7-3.

Buffalo, N.Y., May 26 (CP).—The Buffalo Bisons vanquished the Rochester Red Wings, 8 to 6, in their first appearance of the year here yesterday. The Bisons had the visitors well beaten until the ninth when Gelbert hit his tenth home run of the year over the left field fence with two on. Ogden was removed in this round after hurling a fancy article of ball. The consistent hitting of Moore and Barrett featured for the Bisons. Moore had a perfect day at bat with four safeties and Barrett drove home three runs with two timely hits.

Newark, N.J., May 26 (CP).—By consistent hitting the Bears walloped Jersey City here yesterday, 7 to 3, and evened the four games of the series. Lefty Fischer hurled a good game for the Bruins and in pinches was at his best. Malone, obtained from Buffalo, joined the Bears and played. He made two hits and drove in two runs. Fitzgerald, who played left field, made three hits in the fray, as did Cliff Lee. Jimmy Walsh starred for the Cats with three singles and a stolen base.

Reading at Baltimore—previously played.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

Norma Shearer and Ramon Navarro in the World's Sweetest Love Story "The Student Prince" coming to the Capitol, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

One of the world's simplest, and most appealing love stories has required one of the most elaborate settings ever built to transfer it to the screen.

This is the paradox of "The Student Prince," the huge filmization of the famous old play, in which Ramon Novarro and Norma Shearer were directed by Ernest Lubitsch, and which comes to the Capitol Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

With their love as the central theme, a cast of thirty-five famous players and several thousand extras were necessary to reproduce the famous old story, immortalized on the stage by Richard Mansfield, and recently revived in musical form as "The Student Prince."

Whole towns were built; great castles in Germany reproduced, and the University of Heidelberg recreated in wood and plaster for the huge production. In one scene, showing the welcome of the townspeople to the young prince, played by Novarro, two thousand villagers, guardsmen, police and other characters appear in a gigantic setting depicting a public square and covering ten acres.

The coronation ceremonies required hundreds of soldiers in the brilliant uniforms of the imperial guard, diplomats and nobles; five hundred gaily attired students reveled in the Heidelberg garden scenes, the majestic Heidelberg Castle was recreated, inside and out, and other huge construction tasks marked the filming of the new super spectacle.

The cast includes many famous names: Jean Hersholt, in the role of Dr. Juttner, the tutor; Edward Connelly, as the prime minister; Bobby Mack as Kellerman; Otis Harlan as the innkeeper; Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Edythe Chapman, George K. Arthur, Lionel Belmore, Kent Freiberg, Edgar Norton, D'Arcy Corrigan, James Mack and many others.

AT THE REGENT.

"LATEST FROM PARIS" GREAT COMEDY DRAMA

Norma Shearer has brought to the screen one of the best pieces of celluloid entertainment of the comedy-drama type of years in her newest starring production, "The Latest From Paris," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation coming Monday to the Regent Theatre.

As a whole, the story portrayed upon the screen may be classified as unique, though there is nothing fantastic about it. Its quality of uniqueness comes from the simple fact that nobody else had ever thought of starring a girl in the role of a traveling saleswoman. At least, if the idea had occurred before it had never been put into a picture, to the knowledge of this writer.

The role opens a vast field of almost unlimited opportunities — a woman matching her wits against other knights of the grip and taking advantage of her own feminine charms only after her rivals have declared "everything fair in love and business."

Deals With Clothing Trade.

The story has a bit of the essence of Potash and Perlmuter withouttin any way infringing on that series. There are two Jewish partners in the wholesale coat and suit firm of Blogg and Littauer, as unalike as day and night, always quarreling, always differing as to business methods—and always friends.

In the opening sequences Miss Shearer is known only as Dolan. Drummers of rival houses, sensing they are losing their best customers to Dolan, form a conspiracy on the train and await an opportunity to "get" the saleswoman whom they think is a man. Ralph Forbes leads the conspiracy and is in love with Dolan before he learns she is the beautiful young girl in the Pullman.

The story was written by A. P Younger and capably directed by Sam Wood. Miss Shearer's entire cast gives her admirable support.

LOUGHRAN'S DATES ORDERED REVISED

Philadelphia Boxer Has Contracts For Three Fights This Summer.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The State Athletic Commission at its meeting yesterday ordered a revision of the dates for Tommy Loughran's future ring engagements and took the first step in unraveling the snarl participated by the board when it ordered the light-heavyweight champion to fulfill an agreement to defend his title once for Promoter Tex Rickard, as well as two contracts the Philadelphian had assumed under the direction of Promoter Humbert Fugazy. On the application of Rickard the commission granted a postponement of Loughran's proposed bout with Jimmy Slattery at the Yankee Stadium from June 7 to June 4, requiring Fugazy to move with Leo Lomski, originally scheduled for June 13.

Through this ruling the board expects to avoid cluttering up the calendar with Loughran, championship matches. The Philadelphian is slated to box Pete Latzo on May 30 at Ebbets Field. Under the new plan Loughran will have at least two weeks between matches instead of engaging in three bouts in the limited space of fifteen days.

Loughran Bout Date Changed.

Chairman James A. Farley announced that Loughran will be obliged to box Lomski at Ebbets Field on a date other than June 13. Executive Secretary Bert Stand was ordered to notify the champion to post forfeits of $2,500 for each of his three battles. Latzo, Slattery and Lomski also will be obliged to post forfeits of $2,500 each.

Rickard also made a financial adjustment with the smaller clubs of the district resulting from the postponements of the Sammy Mandell-Jimmy McLarnin lightweight title bout. It was announced that a satisfactory adjustment was effected with both the Olympic A.C. of Harlem and the Dexter Park Arena of Brooklyn, and that Rickard assured the commission he will make an adjustment with the St. Nicholas Arena, whose show last Monday night was called off because of the Polo Grounds conflict.

NON-WRITING RULE TROUBLES STARS

Tennis Players Worried Over Reports From Wimbledon Officials.

AUTEUIL, France, May 26.—Miss Helen Wills, Miss Betty Nuthall and the French tennis stars, Henri Cochet and Rene Lacoste, are greatly perturbed over official reports that Wimbledon authorities intend to adhere strictly to a non-writing rule for tennis players during the approaching championships.

Both the American and English girl and the two French musketeers have contracts with newspapers or syndicates to write daily articles for the press during the tournament. The 1928 Wimbledon entry forms contain a clause which the players must sign, "No permission will be given any person entering the competition to receive money or monetary equivalents in connection with broadcasting talks or allowing their names to be mentioned for purposes of press publication."

Miss Wills, as usual, was uncommunicative when asked what effect the prohibition would have on her course. "It would be time enough to cross the bridge when it is reached", she said. Inasmuch as her articles do not cover tournaments in which she is engaged, the Californian thought her case might be outside the restrictions placed by the authorities.

"My mother will arrange that," Betty Nuthall said confidentally.

The French Tennis Federation which permits players to write, ruled that French players competing at Wimbledon must refrain from holding a racquet and pen. The decision was conveyed to Henri Cochet and Rene Lacoste by Pierre Gillou, captain of the French Davis Cup team and secretary of the federation.

"When in Wimbledon we must do as Wimbledonians do", he told them. Both the French stars agreed to cancel their contracts for stories during the tournament.

WINNING DERBY WORRIES HERTZ

CHICAGO, May 26.—If John D. Hertz, owner of Reigh Count, had to choose between raising Kentucky Derby winners or remaining as head of the Yellow Cab Company, the latter would win, throttled down.

Mr. Hertz made known yesterday some of the griefs of one who owns a heavily played Derby favorite, and he made known for the first time that Reigh Count very nearly failed to start because of an injury two days before the race.

It was a slight cut above the hoof on the right foreleg and complications were feared. Hertz and Ben Michell, the trainer, were the only ones who knew about it.

"We discussed the question of whether we should tell the public of the mishap," he said. "If we announced the injury, the betting odds would go up. Then, should he win, folks would have said, They wanted to increase the odds, so they sent out a false story.

"If the American Derby at Arlington were not on the same date as the Belmont stakes, we would certainly enter Reigh Count here", Hertz said, "but we feel the West needs representation in the big race at Belmont, where the pride of the East will run for the biggest purse of the year. That's why we are sending him East, and I am sure he will win."

WILL STUDY IN NORTH.

OTTAWA, May 26. — (Canadian Press.)—To carry on research work and at the same time write a Doctor of Philosophy thesis in anthropology, Cornelius Osgood, 23 year old Chicagoan, now in Ottawa, will spend a year and a half in the Arctic regions alone. His base will be Fort Norman.

MAN GIVES LIFE FOR TWO

Self-sacrifice caused the death in the Antarctic of Jacques Legalloudec of a French whaler which was wrecked off Kerguelen Island. According to Legalloudec's two companions who have just reached civilization, the three set out from the disabled whaler in a small boat to find food. Their tiny craft was wrecked in a blizzard, and the three men set out in the blizzard over an unexplored mountain and glacier to find a whaling station. Half-frozen they struggled on until Legalloudec collapsed. His companions carried him for some time, until he said suddenly, "I am better now and can walk. You go ahead. I'll choose my own path," and persisted, saying he knew a shorter route. He struggled on as long as his companions were in sight, then laid down, giving up his life that they, unhampered, might reach a station.

STAMPS CLOSELY GUARDED

Elaborate preparations were made to guard the rare stamps on exhibition in London in connection with the Philatelic Congress of Great Britain this year. The total value of the exhibits is estimated at more than $500,000. The insurance ran into five figures, and a number of detectives were instructed to be on constant watch. One displayed stamp, owned by Arthur Hind, is valued at $36,750. It is of the famous Ferrari collection, which took about three years to sell, and brought more than $2,000,000. Another pair, of the Mauritius Post Office, are valued at $55,000. Some of the members of the association have stamp collections worth $250,000, and their joint collections would bring more than $1,000,000. One man gave $450,000 for a collection just to get five stamps he had been wanting for years.

Two Firemen Are Overcome By Smoke

WINNIPEG, Man., May 26, — (Canadian Press).—Two firemen were overcome by smoke from a straw fire in a barn here, caused by a youth throwing a fire cracker in the window during the May 24th celebrations. Firemen were called to the barn four times before the blaze was extinguished. Little damage was done.

At Branton, Man., Harry Mitchell, just recently arrived from England, received injuries to his right eye which may result in the loss of his sight. Mitchell was watching fireworks from the upstairs window of his rooming house when a sky rocket struck him in the eye.

How Long Will It Take?

A question frequently asked the Chiropractor by his patient is, "How long will it take me to get well?" It is impossible for anyone to answer this question definitely. Many factors determine the rapidity of progress. If you have been failing in health for a period of years it is unreasonable to expect recovery in a few weeks. Your own habits of living, your age, your vitality, must all be considered.

Your Chiropractor can only estimate the time by telling you what has occurred in somewhat similar cases. He knows that actual improvement starts when you begin treatment, however, that improvement may not be apparent to you for a considerable time. Nature requires time to repair diseased tissue. Your Chiropractor knows that when nerve constriction has been relieved natural building up of weaked tissues will take place. He also knows that your fidelity in following his instructions is a big factor in determining the length of time required for you to regain your health.

WHEN YOU WANT TO GET WELL BE WILLING TO DO YOUR SHARE OF THE WORK

WESLEY DEVALL NOT TO BLAME FOR DEATH OF McMILLAN BOY IS FINDING OF CORONER'S JURY

Striking of Boy By Backing Motor Car Purely Accidental, Jury Decides.

LAD RAN BEHIND CAR.

Eye-witnesses Describe Fatal Event of Evening of May 24 —Children Were Playing.

Wesley Devall was freed of all blame for the death of Graeme McMillan, which was found by a jury sitting before Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young in the Police Court room on Saturday night to have been purely accidental. The jury required less than fifteen minutes to reach this conclusion after hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses, including two of the children who were playing at the scene of the accident that evening.

The collective evidence showed that Devall, with Sandfield McManus of Bridgenorth, had been at the home of Harry Johnston, on the east side of Young street, just below Braidwood avenue, for about an hour on Thursday evening. At about nine o'clock they came out to their car, which was parked in front of the Johnston home facing south. The two men passed around behind the car and Devall opened the right-hand door for McManus to get in. He then walked around the back of the car again and got in to the driver's seat. There were no lights on the car at the time but he turned them on when he started the engine. He did not see anybody within ten feet of the back of the car as he passed around.

Devall backed his car, swinging out into Young street from where he had been stopped on the edge of the Johnston lot, and up Young street about forty feet to Braidwood avenue, turning westward there and stopping with his car facing east. He immediately changed gears and moved away. Two of the witnesses saw the little lad close to the back of the car just before he was struck, but had not noticed him there before. Alfred Johnston, nine, declared that he and Graeme had been close together, over to one side of the car, when the men came out, and that Graeme ran up to the back of the car and grabbed the bumper, as if he thought the car was going forward.

Devall said he was looking backward as he backed the car and would not have seen the boy after he passed over him, while Mrs. Annie Hobson, who was on the other side of the street and saw the child struck, stated that the car was swinging around and that as a result the headlights did not shine on the body at all. Devall did not notice any bump, but he said the road was rough at that point anyway.

As the car moved away along Braidwood avenue Devall thought he heard excited yelling but McManus assured him it was the children playing with fireworks. Devall was not sure, however, and stopped at Gibbs' livery barn and phoned to see if anything had happened to one of the children. He thought possibly a firecracker had done some damage. He was told he had hit a child but that it was not serious. When he got to Bridgenorth he phoned again and asked Mrs. Johnston if she had any more news. She had none, so he took McManus home. On his return to town he went to the Johnston house and was told the child was at the hospital. He immediately came up town and reported the accident to a policeman.

In the meantime the child had been rushed to Dr. Scott's residence, then to Dr. Cameron's, and then to the clinic. From there, after examination by Dr. Cameron, he was taken to the hospital, where Drs. Cameron and Neal re-examined him and where he died early Friday morning.

County Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, K.C., had some trouble with some of the witnesses. Apparently the details of their evidence did not jibe with what they had told Provincial Constable Harry Thompson when he investigated the accident, but when pressed they declared that their stories as told in court were correct.

The stories told by McManus and Devall about the calls after the accident did not quite agree, but Devall declared that his passenger had drunk several glasses of beer and that after the call from Bridgenorth he was too nearly asleep to be told anything. Devall denied drinking anything at the Johnston home but said he drank a pint of beer at his own home in the morning and another about four-thirty in the afternoon.

V. J. McElderry appeared on behalf of Mr. Devall and questioned some of the witnesses, while the gallery was filled with interested auditors who listened carefully from eight o'clock until the court room was cleared about 11:15 in order that the jury might consider its verdict.

The verdict read as follows:

"We find that on May 24, 1928, on the east side of Young street in the township of North Monaghan, Graeme McMillan was seriously injured by being run over by a motor-car in the act of backing up, and that as a result of such accident Graeme McMillan died in the hospital.

"We are unanimous in the opinion that the said death was purely accidental and we exonerate Wesley Devall from all blame in connection with the said accident."

Devall is out on bail on a charge of manslaughter, having been remanded on Friday until to-morrow morning, when he will appear before Magistrate Langley for preliminary hearing.

The jurymen were: J. D. Craig, W.

BISHOP FALLON BETTER TO-DAY

London Prelate Received Last Rites of Church Last Night.

CONDITION STILL CRITICAL.

LONDON, Ont., May 28.—(Canadian Press.)— Bishop M. F. Fallon, head of the Roman Catholic dioecese of London, was reported early to-day at St. Joseph's Hospital as being "greatly improved." His Lordship, who was believed yesterday to be at the point of death and was given the last rites of the church, passed a very good night.

The Bishop is still in a critical condition following a serious turn to his illness last night. He suffered a relapse after his return last Wednesday from Toronto, where he had been undergoing special treatment. It is said that 'insulin shock' is the latest complication of His Lordship's illness, which began with diabetes some months ago and was aggravated by an attack of pleural-pneumonia during the winter.

SEARCH TO FOLLOW FINDING OF BODIES

Canada Steamship Lines Expected to Send Vessel to Isle Royale.

PORT ARTHUR, May 28.—(Canadian Press.)—Further search of the waters lapping the reef-encrusted shore line of Ise Royale, 45 miles south of Port Arthur, probably will be undertaken by vessels of the Canada Steamships Lines as a result of the finding of two bodies from the steamer Kamloops, which foundered during a heavy storm last December.

The bodies, brought here by the United States' coast guard cutter Crawford, were in a bad state of decomposition. One body was identified as that of J. Journeault, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., while nothing was found in the clothing of the other victim to reveal his identity. Both bodies were supported by life preservers.

ITALIANS GUARD AGAINST RIOTS

Soldiers Ready To Prevent Anti-Slav and Anti-Austrian Risings.

CONSULATES GUARDED.

ROME, May 28 (Canadian Press) —Strong detachments of carabinieri, Fascist militia men and police today were guarding the university buildings, legations, and consulates of Jugo Slavia and Austria to prevent further student demonstrations in protest against reported attacks upon the Italian population of Dalmatia and an anti-Italian demonstration at Innsbruck in the Austrian Tyrol.

Resentment among the students was heightened by reports that anti-Italian attacks are continuing, especially at Spalto, Dalmatia, where twenty-five Italian shops were sacked in addition to all the offices of the Italian Steamship Company, while Italian sailing boats also were damaged.

Both Austria and Jugo-Slavia have recently been the scene of anti-Italian demonstrations. The relations between Jugo-Slavia and Italy have been somewhat strained over Italy's activities in Albania, while relations between Austria and Italy have been difficult because of Austrian protests against the treatment of the Austrian minority in the Italian Tyrol.

Italians Attack Consul

BELGRADE, May 28 (Canadian Press)—Newspapers here to-day said that Italian Fascists attacked the Jugo-Slav Consulate at Zara on Sunday and injured Consul Simitch. Other members of the staff were manhandled.

LOCAL GAS RATES DECREASED HYDRO COMMISSION ANNOUNCES; NEW RATES IN EFFECT JUNE 1

Gas For Household Purposes Will Cost $1.65 a Thousand Instead of $2.15.

SERVICE CHARGE 45 CENTS.

Corresponding Cuts Made in Charges to Commercial and Industrial Consumers.

Good news for the gas consumers of Peterborough is found in the change in rates announcement made to-day by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, there being a very appreciable reduction in the gas rate. Reductions are noticeable in domestic, commercial and industrial rates.

The very first reduction is that of the service charge, formerly 75 cents, which is now but 45 cents. The consumption charge has been reduced from $2.15 a thousand cubic feet a month to $1.65, while the special water heating charge is now $1.10 a thousand cubic feet a month. The minimum bill is set at $10.00 per annum.

Under 'Commercial and Industrial,' Class 'A,' designates those who use less than 10,000 cubic feet monthly, who will pay $2.00 a thousand cubic feet for the first 3,000 cubic feet a month and $1.85 a thousand cubic feet a month for the remainder as compared with the old rate of $2.15 gross a thousand cubic feet for the first 3,000 a month used, plus $2.05 gross a thousand cubic feet a month for all additional consumption.

Class "B" of the new commercial and industrial section makes it necessary for the consumer using 10,000 to 50,000 cubic feet monthly to pay $1.85 for the first 10,000 and $1.75 for the balance a month, as compared with $2.05 under the old rate, plus $1.95 gross a thousand cubic feet for all additional gas used in the same month.

In Class "C," which comprises consumers of over 50,000 cubic feet monthly, the new rate is $1.75 a thousand for the first 50,000 cubic feet and $1.55 a thousand for the balance of the month. The old rate was $1.95 a thousand feet, for the first 50,000 and $1.65 a thousand for all additional consumption.

The old discount of 25 cents a thousand cubic feet is replaced by a new 10 per cent prompt payment discount, while special conditions respecting use of the special water heating rate, read:

"The above special water heating rate shall apply to all customers who had installations made of the approved type of heater with adequately insulated tanks, and a continual uniform rate of burning gas for water heating controlled by a sealed valve or thermostat. The charge to be made for such service will be in the form of a flat rate a month as determined by the use of the above special rate.

"Customers may obtain water heater service for domestic use with the ordinary tank heater and the uninsulated tank at the standard gas rate as quoted above."

GIRL STRUCK BY MOTOR CAR

Mildred Kennedy Taken To Hospital As Result of Street Accident.

BODY CRUSHED.

Mildred Kennedy, a resident of the Y.W.C.A., was knocked down by a car driven by Earl Buck at the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets at 1.15 this afternoon. Miss Kennedy was crushed about the stomach and chest and was taken to the hospital where an X-ray examination was made.

Earl Buck, who is a resident of Norwood, was driving a coach at the time of the accident and was proceeding west along Hunter street. Miss Kennedy had come north along Aylmer street and had crossed through the service station at the corner and cut diagonally across Hunter street where the accident occurred. Buck's car was almost right on the girl before he noticed her and although he applied the brakes, the wheels of the car passed over her body. Dr. F. P. McNulty was called and Inspector Reid investigated for the police department.

THE WEATHER

Although the end of May is near, there was a white frost this morning. No damage was likely done, as little garden produce is yet above ground. Highest temperature yesterday, 65 degrees. Some who were at Cobourg yesterday remarked that the foliage on the various trees was farther advanced in Peterborough than at the lakeshore town.—W.P.

ROTARIANS ARE TOLD DETAILS ABOUT CARPETS

M. L. Sweetman Describes Routine of Making Axminster Rugs.

MANY PROCESSES.

Brinton Carpet Company Official Gives Interesting Address.

The interesting story of how Axminster carpets are made was told in detail to Peterborough Rotarians at their weekly luncheon to-day by M. L. Sweetman, of the Brinton Carpet Company, whose description of the many and intricate processes that enter into the making of these fine rugs was closely followed.

President A. L. Killaly told an interesting story of a Peterobrough woman who selected some splendid rugs in a Chicago store, only to find that they were made in her home town by the Brinton Carpet Company.

The speaker of the day was introduced by Rotarian Rev. Father Costello, who remarked that the Brinton Carpet Company's plant had been a revelation to him when he visited the factory the other day. Rev. Father Costello was sure that not more than five per cent. of the people of Peterborough knew very much about the interior of local industrial plants.

Mr. Sweetman explained that Axminster carpets contained wool, jute and cotton the wool being imported from England He described the various steps taken in the manufacture of these rugs, from the designing through to the finished article. It was an interesting detail that when patterns were being planned the designer had to mark on his design a small square for each tuft of wool entering into a pattern and thus in a rug 9 by 12 there would be some half million such squares.

The speaker then followed the process, describing the various operations that had to be performed until the finished article was produced. His explanations were non-technical in character and gave his hearers a new view of one of Peterborough's flourishing industries.

In conclusion Mr. Sweetman invited Rotarians to inspect the Axminster department of their Dominion plant.

Rotarian James Juby expressed the thanks of the Rotary Club to the speaker for his interesting address.

At to-day's meeting President Killaly reminded Rotarians of the meeting at the Ontario Boys' Farm at Bowmanville on Wednesday, of the Red Cross meeting on Wednesday evening and of the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce to-night to arrange for a Dominion Day celebration.

RESCUE WORK BEING RUSHED

Planes and Ships Moving North To Search For Dirigible Italia.

EFFORTS RUSHED.

The fate of the dirigible Italia, six and a half days out of Spitzbergen, was still a mystery to-day as rescue efforts were rushed in Norway and Spitzbergen.

Lieutenant Luetzow Holm, Norwegian air ace, started for Spitzbergen with a hydro-airplane to carry on the air search along the north and north-east coast of the archipelago. The sealer Hobby will carry the plane to King's Bay as soon as possible.

Roald Amundsen and Captain Otto Sverdrup, noted Polar explorers, aided the Norwegian authorities in preparing an auxiliary relief expedition on a large scale with Captain Riisen-Larsen in command.

The base ship Citta Di Milano put out from King's Bay yesterday but was held up by ice floes. The steamer Braganza put out from Tromsoe to assist the Citta Di Milano.

AVIATOR LEAVES FOR NORTH.

OSLO, Norway, May 28 (Canadian Press). — Lieut. Luetzowholm, Norwegian flying ace, started at noon today for Norten with a Norwegian army hydroplane for Tromsoe on the first leg of a trip to Spitzbergen to begin a search in the air for the missing dirigible Italia.

The steamer Braganza, which was at Tromsoe, started to-day for Spitzbergen and will assist in the search for the Italia. Preparations are being rushed for a large scale auxiliary expedition to search for the missing dirigible. It is expected that details will be concluded to-night.

No word as to the exact plans has been divulged, and the Italian Legation refuses any information. It is believed, however, that Captain Riisen-Larsen, second in command of the North Pole voyage of the Norge in 1926, will be the leader. Raold Amundsen and Captain Otto Sverdrup have been called into consultation, but probably will not participate in the rescue expedition itself. Captain George Wilkins and Lieut. Carl B. Eielson, who recently arrived in Norway after a flight across the top of the world, also were asked to participate, but it is understood that they could not see their way clear to do so.

NO NEWS FROM SIBERIA.

MOSCOW, May 28 (Canadian Press). — All radio stations in Siberia have been on the alert for any signals from the missing dirigible Italia, but no news whatever was reported picked up from her by noon to-day.

Arctic experts spent the week-end discussing all possible contingencies concerning the Italia. In view of the meteorological reports, Captain Riisen Larson said that the Italia probably had landed somewhere north of Spitzbergen and that it was not likely that the ship had been driven any further. Lieut. Holm, therefore, has been given orders to fly from King's Bay northward, searching along the ice-covered coast of North and Eastern Spitzbergen. If this theory should prove correct, it is felt that there is good hope that the crew of the Italia can be rescued.

ITALIA'S ROUTE.

General Umberto Nobile left King's Bay, Spitzbergen, on Wednesday in the dirigible Italia for the North Polar regions. The course of the Italia is due north as far as latitude 83 and then in the direction of the North Pole. The distance is 750 miles. The above map also shows the course taken by Nobile in his flight last week.

LODGES ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

Sons of England Parade to Peterborough Salvation Army Temple.

SPECIAL SPEAKER.

With representatives of Lindsay and Millbrook lodges augmenting a splendid turnout of local lodgemen, the Sons of England, numbering over one hundred, paraded to the Peterborough Salvation Army Temple for evening service on Sunday. Suitable to the occasion was the service, including special music by the Temple Band, the songsters, and a masterly address by Colonel C. T. Jacobs, of Toronto, who for many years was chief secretary of the Salvation Army in Canada with Miss Eva Booth. Though officially retired, Colonel Jacobs is still doing voluntary work and with Mrs. Jacobs, spent the week-end with their daughter-in-law, Ensign and Mrs. Green of the local corps.

The service was a most pleasing one with the band rendering the selection "Gethsemane" (Kitching), and the Salvation army songsters giving splendid interpretation to Slater's "Jesus Crucified." There was also a male voice quartette comprising Bandsmen Moynes, Richardson, Shadgett and Robinson.

Colonel C. T. Jacobs.

After reading from the first chapter of Hebrews, Col. Jacobs announced his text, taken from Jeremiah 6:16—"Thus said the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, we will not walk therein."

"We are here to worship God and to confirm one another in faith, and in the declaration of the Lord there is authority, with no uncertainty. There is no vacillation from the truth in a Divine statement," said Colonel Jacobs. 'Stand ye in the ways means to seek the old paths for while the old things are not necessarily good, or bad, new things are not necessarily bad or good but they require testing. The old ways have stood the tests of time and some last forever.

"The old principles of the Bible do not change; it is still a truth that whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. The laws of nature do not change and the Bible itself is not changed, though words may alter their meanings and sometimes require proper translation. Enemies of the cross have tried to discredit it in the past and even to-day it is attacked by its professed friends." The speaker here quoted a clipping worthy of reproduction, based on Psalm 53:1: "The fool hath said in his heart, 'There is no God.' It read as follows:

Years ago, Tom Payne wrote in his "Age of Reason" this: "Fifty years from now, the Bible will be obsolete and forgotten"; but after Payne had crawled to a despairing drunkard's grave, the very printing press which was used to print his 'Age of Reason' began to be used to circulate the Bible.

In the very room where Robert B. Ingersoll wrote his "Mistake of Moses" (a book which the world hailed with delight as the end of Moses), a group of men met together and said, 'Let us put up in this city a great monument to Jesus Christ!' This was done and there this monument stands to-day.

A hundred years ago, Voltaire said in a certain home in Geneva: 'There will not be a Bible in existence a century from now'; notwithstanding, there are millions more Bibles now than then, and the house in which he spoke is now the Bible depot of the Bible Society of Switzerland!

Col. Jacobs continued: "There may be some parts which we do not understand but that is because the time has not yet come for us to understand them." He went on to explain the old covenants of the Bible; he spoke of the beauties of friendship and Christ is Example, Teacher and Friend.

World Wants Peace.

"To many people," declared the speaker, "the laws of the land seem to mean bondage, whereas they should mean liberty, and if people and nations were to respect the laws, there would be international peace and personal peace. The prisoner in a penitentiary is unhappy and despondent because he has attempted to be a law unto himself. Soul-rest comes from proper relations between the individual and God, but there can be no controversy. To be out of harmony with God means a troubled soul, which may only gain peace when it surrenders to God."

Hope For Safety Lessens As No Word Received From Arctic Fliers.

ARE WITHOUT FUEL.

Relief Expedition En Route to Arctic Wastes to Search For General Nobile.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., May 28 (Associated Press).—Calls for help for General Umberto Nobile's dirigible Italia, in peril somewhere in the Arctic wastes, were picked out of the air by Pacific radio operators early yesterday.

The position of the Italia was not given. The message came time after time, first in Italian, then in French, and again in English, garbled and almost indecipherable because of distance or low-powered sending apparatus.

Surmise that the Italia, more than five days out of Spitzbergen on its voyage from the North Pole, was broadcasting its appeal from some point north of Siberia was advanced because of the repetition with the radio call of "RAO3," of the prefix, "AS," assigned by the International Amateur Radio Association, for use of Siberian stations.

The message, repeated with infinite tri-lingual patience from 5.15 a.m. to 7.40 a.m., Pacific Coast time, was: "S.O.S. AS-RAO-3. Dirigible Italia with General Nobile in disaster. It is equipped to radio on wavelength of 40.45 metres. Please help immediately."

Short Wave Length.

The S.O.S. call was first heard by Charles H. Bialack, a San Francisco amateur operator. Other amateurs and the Radio Corporation of America, notified, tuned to the designated wave-length and heard the same message. The final faint whispering from the air gave in English the wave-length of the Italia's communicating radio as 30.33 metres. Radio men suggested that the dirigible's operator, able to send but not to receive (was running down the scale of wave-lengths in his patient effort to make sure his message was heard, or that with advancing sunlight at the Italia's position, he was decreasing his wave-length to insure transmission.

Anxiety Increases.

OSLO, Norway, May 28 (Associated Press).—Any hopes which had been aroused in the early hours of yesterday as the result of vague reports that news of the missing polar airship, the Italia, had reached Vadsor or some other northern Norway point, were completely dissipated by the continued absence of the Italia.

The hours pass. Even the most optimistic are losing heart and are finding their hopes dwindling to zero. They cannot overlook the slender chances that confront the ill-fated airship with her fuel supply probably exhausted and the craft completely at the mercy of harsh elements in the fog-bound polar regions.

The Norwegian Government and the Italian representatives here are more than anxious to do anything possible in the way of rescue. The same may be said of the rather numerous experienced Arctic explorers in this city.

But always the question confronts them of what is best to do when they are without the slightest hint to guide them as to the direction in which to seek for the missing explorers.

May Remain In Air.

Ronald Amundsen still pins his hope to the belief that the Italia, although fuel-less, may remain in the air for perhaps a month and, by luck, reach some civilized region.

Whatever plans may be adopted for search, whether by sea or air, cannot be determined for some days as at least a brief interval must be used for organization of any relief measures that may be decided upon.

If attempts by air are finally undertaken, it may be necessary to engage aviators from abroad.

A message from Tromsoe stated that the Italian Minister telegraphed to the sealing steamer Hobby, asking if it had been made ready to leave for Spitzbergen. It was announced Saturday night that the Norwegian Government had ordered the Hobby to sail yesterday. Word came back that the vessel is taking aboard 900 tubes of motor gas and that it would be ready to start at any hour. Another plan under consideration by the Government is to send a Norwegian seaplane piloted by Lieut. Luetzow Holm, one of the most famous Norwegian aviators. It is proposed that he start at once, and that a larger airplane follow later.

Government men and experts, in Arctic conditions believe that the air seems to offer far greater chances of successful search than any expedition which might be sent out by sea. But all concerned would welcome some sign giving them a hint as to what method would really be best.

Social Evening Held Under Auspices of Women's Institute.

RECEIVES MANY GIFTS.

CAVAN, May 28.—A pleasant social evening was spent in Cavan Community Hall on Friday evening when about one hundred and twenty friends and neighbors met and presented Miss Elinor Pritchard, whose marriage is announced to take place on June the second, with a miscellaneous shower

The Rev. J. O. Totten proved a genial and efficient chairman for a short program.

The first item was community singing with Mrs. A. B. Kennedy presiding at the piano and Miss Eileen Hunter and Mr. Totten leading the singing.

Miss Eileen Hunter sang a solo. Mr. Totten gave a humorous reading, "Caleb's Courtship," which was much enjoyed. Mr. R. S. Staples and Mrs. Kennedy sang "Just Keep Smiling," as a duet.

A number of the young girls of the community, with the guest of honor, were invited to come to the front, when little Miss Gwenyth Staples presented Miss Pritchard with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Two tiny boys, Rex and Merle Carr, came in drawing a well laden waggon, containing gifts for the bride-elect These were followed by girls with their arms filled with parcels.

All assisted in untying the many parcels which contained a large assortment of articles both fancy and useful, testifying to the esteem in which Miss Pritchard is held in her own community and will serve, when arranging her home, to remind her of the good wishes which follow her there.

Just at an opportune time, Mr. Totten commenced singing "See Her Smiling," followed by "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and ending with "And So Is He."

The gathering was under the auspices of the Women's Institute and after it was over they served lunch in the basement.

The young people enjoyed a few hours' dancing. The Stewart-Moncrief orchestra furnished the music.

Father Phelan conducted the service at the grave. The pall-bearers were: Fred. Dinwoodie, Richard Mahoney, Dr. O'Sullivan, Toronto, William Horkins, Toronto, T. B. Horkins, Harold Horkins, Toronto.

The late Mary Horkins is survived by three sisters, Mrs. James McLaren of Toronto, Mrs. (Dr.) Kane of North Bay, Mrs. M. O'Sullivan of Vancouver, B.C., and two brothers: Thomas of Campbellford and William of Alcona, Missouri. Another brother, George, died about three years ago.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Horkins, Mrs. James MacLaren, and Dr. and Mrs. O'Sullivan, all of Toronto.

MRS. WILLIAM H. BULLER.

Following a brief illness the death occurred on Saturday evening of Henrietta Louise Dunk, dearly beloved wife of William H. Buller of this city.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Blythe Burns and Miss Hazel Buller, both at home; also two sons, Clarence of Listowel and Firth of Wallaceburg.

Mrs. Buller was a very active member of All Saints' Church and had been a worker in its many activities from the earliest days before its establishment as a separate parish. She was for a long time president of the Chancel Guild, and held various offices in the Women's Auxiliary. Only a year ago the members of the W.A. honored her by making her a life member of the Auxiliary.

At All Saints' Church yesterday morning, the rector, Rev. J. D. Paterson, referred to Mrs. Buller's services so cheerfully and faithfully given and also to her home-making qualities.

The funeral takes place this afternoon at three o'clock from the family residence, King street, to Little Lake Cemetery.

GUIDES HOLD CHURCH PARADE

Campbellford Companies March To St. Andrew's Church.

VISIT MEMORIAL.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28. — The three companies of Girl Guides and the Brownies attended divine service in St. Andrew's Church yesterday morning. The centre aisle of the church was reserved for their use. About eighty in number, and completely uniformed in the official blue for the Guides and brown for the Brownies, the young ladies made an excellent appearance. The service was especially arranged for the visitors. The special music took the form of a solo by Mrs. DeCarroll and an anthem by the choir.

Rev. James Grier based his remarks on a text from the Scriptures, but explained that he would not follow the usual order of sermons. His sermon was more the life story of a young gipsy girl whose fine character won her the respect rather than the scorn of the tribe and finally secured for rher the happiness which she had so long sought. Following the closing hymn, the first verse of the National Anthem was sung before the benediction was pronounced.

The Guides did not follow the usual custom of visiting associations and orders, but waited till after the congregation had left before leaving the church. In two ranks, followed by the Brownies, the Guides marched to the war memorrial for the purpose of placing a wreath to the memory of the fallen heroes. As the two ranks of Guides flanking the memorial stood at the salute, Glenora MacPherson, a Brownie, walked slowly up the main approach and laid the wreath at the base of the memorial.

HADLEY HOLDS ATHLETICS 4-1

Senators Break Losing Streak By Defeating Philadelphia at Washington.

WHITE SOX WIN 3-2.

NEW YORK, May 28 (Canadian Press).—Hadley gave seven bases on balls yesterday but he allowed only two hits and the Senators broke a long losing streak, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics at Washington, 4 to 1.

In the third inning, Bishop singled and brought in the Athletics' only run. Bishop also got the other hit.

Ted Lyons of the White Sox beat Vangilder in a tight pitching duel at Chicago and Chicago beat Detroit, 3 to 2. Lyons held the Tigers to four hits, one of which was a home run by Fothergill in the fifth inning, with none on base.

Alex. Metzler led the White Sox attack with two hits, one of them a triple, and driving in two runs.

St. Louis defeated Cleveland, 10 to 8, yesterday in the final game of the Cleveland series, giving them an even break during their stand here. It was a free hitting game in which both Uhle and Blaeholder were pounded hard.

The Browns scored four runs in the second and Cleveland tied the count in the third inning when Langford hit a home run with two men on base. St. Louis then regained the lead and held it until the eighth, when Cleveland tied it again. The visitors then scored the winning runs, an error by J. Sewell paving the way.

Presbyterian Church Assemblies Hold Quiet Session At Edinburgh Meeting

EDINBURGH, Scotland, May 28 (Canadian Press Cable).—Proceedings at the Presbyterian Assemblies here Saturday were comparatively quiet. The feature was a garden party given by the Lord High Commissioner, Lord Stair, and Lady Stair at Holyrood Palace, where 700 ex-service men were special guests.

The assembly of the Church of Scotland considered a report on the conversion of Jews, which was described as a most urgent duty.

It was reported that 440,000 copies of the revised church hymnary had been sold.

In the assembly of the United Church, Rev. Dr. Sutherland suggested that church literature should be sold at the church doors on Sundays.

Sabbath breaking was denounced in the Free Church Assembly which adopted a resolution demanding legislation from the government whereby cheaper Sunday railway fares than those existing on week-days and dismissal from employment on account of conscientious objection to working on the Sabbath would be made illegal.

HYDRO PLANT IN OPERATION

Forebay of Number Ten Power House Has Been Cleaned —Paving Progresses.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28. — Cleaning operations in the forebay of number ten Hydro power plant have been completed and the machines were being started again last night. During the last two years, considerable sediment has collected in the forebay and it was considered necessary to remove it. This work has been in progress for about three days. In the meantime, the other power plants have been carrying the load.

It is expected that surfacing on the paved streets will begin this week. The base on Grand Road from Victoria street to Tice street is now complete and was thrown open to traffic Saturday. At the same time, Tice street was closed to traffic in order to permit water and sewer connections to be made. On the east side of the river, the concrete base has been completed from the corner of Centre and Second streets along Centre street to the bridge and along Bridge street as far as rear streets. This strip will be completed in the next two days.

The ditch on Ranney street is almost completely tiled and filled in. Only about thirty feet remain to be tiled. The grader has been used to good advantage and it is the intention of the Road and Bridge committee to have the steam roller working there Monday, and the work entirely finished in a few days.

The question has been discussed by several of the residents as to what will be done with the telephone poles which are now some six or more feet out from the sidewalk. These were formerly on the edge of the ditch and thus not actually on the travelled road. By the filling in of the ditch, they have automatically been placed in a more or less dangerous position.

HERE AND THERE

MINER KILLED.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., May 28.—(Canadian Press.) — Crushed in some manier between the ore chute and either an ore car or the motor he was driving, Frank Bulch, aged 29, a Jugo Slav, employed at the Wright-Hargreaves mine here, sustained fatal injuries, dying shortly after in hospital.

KILLED IN CRASH.

ORLY, France, May 28. — (Canadian Press.)—An aeroplane, participating in an aviation carnival for charity yesterday rolled into the front lines of a crowd of spectators. One person was killed, two others died later, and three were seriously hurt. The accident was caused by a misjudged landing space.

VARSITY DEFEATED 5-1.

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 28.—(Canadian Press.)—In a fast, clean exhibition lacrosse match, the Curtiss team of this city defeated University of Toronto, five goals to one. Varsity's lone counter was scored by Evans in the last few minutes of play.

CLAIM FURTHER VICTORIES.

PEKING, May 28.—(A.P.)— North China authorities here claim that two divisions of their army successfully attacked the Nationalists Friday and after desperate fighting drove them in retreat toward Tingchow. General heavy fighting has been going on the last few days all along the front of the Peking-Hankow railway.

BODIES ARE NOT YET RECOVERED

Police Authorities Search For Drowning Victims on Abitibi River.

SEVEN LOST LIVES.

COBALT, Ont., May 28 (Canadian Press).—The Abitibi River has not yet given up its dead in either of the drowning accidents which occurred on that swollen stream last week. Provincial police headquarters here report yesterday that none of the bodies of the seven men who lost their lives in the two tragedies has been recovered, and Inspector Moore is without further advice regarding operations now in progress for this purpose.

Out of the maze of conflicting reports regarding the quadruple fatality which involved the four members of J. Lanning's survey party, there has come nothing to indicate the cause of the tragedy. Seven members of the party had been at work during Wednesday about two miles below their camp and when the three transit men finished for the day ahead of their companions, they started back for camp, the others intending to follow shortly afterwards.

When the four men, Woods, Chapman, Moore and Morden, did not return within a reasonable period, their fellow-workers went in search of them, but all that could be found were some paddles and hats. There were no eye-witnesses of the tragedy, but it is supposed that when the four men swung out in their sixteen foot canoe into the river, the craft was caught by the heavy floods and upset. There was no rough water in the two miles, one of the men in the other party said, but the stream was running high.

Mr. Lanning and two of his men left for Iroquois Falls Saturday with a canoe with which to proceed to the camp and assist in the search for the bodies. The weather has been bad, rain and snow having fallen and a strong wind blew part of the time, hindering the dragging operations.

W.M.S. MEETING AT SPRINGVILLE

Reports of Branch Meeting at Lindsay Read at Gathering.

DISTRICT NEWS.

SPRINGVILLE, May 28.—Springville W.M.S. held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday in the basement of the church, with the president, Mrs. M. Johnston, in the chair.

The Scripture lesson was read by the chairman from Ephesians 6. Opening prayers bearing on Empire Day were led by Mrs. A. Hunter, Mrs. M. Johnston and Mrs. William Whitfield.

The roll call was promptly responded to by verses of Scripture. Mrs. Whitfield gave a reading, "The Dead Return," by Edgar Guest, and the study of the life of Dr., Margaret MacKellar was begun—her childhood being the topic of the days.

Mrs. Johnston told several interesting facts in connection with the branch meeting of the Presbytery, held recently at Lindsay, that were of special interest to this society.

Explanation was made about the contents of the bale and the fields to which it will be sent in the future.

An interesting account was given of a meeting of the blind in Japan that gathered to rejoice and give thanks for the completion of the Bible in type that they can read. A great many of these same blind people helped in this great achievement.

Another story was told of a church built through the results of prayer meetings at which the aim was definite and the members were in earnest and of one accord.

Mrs. Johnston also stated that by means of lantern slides the Lindsay meetings made clear to the delegates the vast extent of the work of the W.M.S. in Canada.

The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held at the close of the W.M.S. program. Plans for the garden party were discussed and it was decided to hold it on Monday, June 25th, following the anniversary services of Sunday, June 24, when Rev. A. J. Langford of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, will preach.

It was also decided to hold a congregational meeting to make further arrangements for the garden party.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Young spent the holiday in Bridgenorth.

Mrs. J. Johnston, Mrs. H. Young, and Mrs. William Whitfield called on Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. Wood, who is recovering from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patton of Peterborough were the guests on Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitfield.

CAR IS WRECKED NEAR PORT HOPE

East York Woman Badly Hurt On Way to Visit Dying Son.

LATTER PASSES AWAY.

PORT HOPE, May 28.—A party of East York residents, on their way to the bedside of a dying brother in the Belleville Hospital, went into the ditch on the Provincial Highway six miles west of here on Saturday afternoon, with the result that Mrs. R. Davies, aged 65, of 85 Rosevear Avenue, East York, was removed to the Port Hope Hospital with serious injuries. The car was driven by Redvers Davies, and contained, besides Mrs. Davies, who is his mother, Mrs. J. Taylor and H. Taylor of 81 Rosevear Avenue.

The car swerved out quickly to avoid another automobile, and caromed off the pavement, being considerably damaged. Mrs. Davies received a broken collar-bone, a sprained ankle and other injuries, while Mrs. J. Taylor sustained slight cuts. Immediately after the accident the party learned that Joseph Davies of Belleville, son of Mrs. Davies, whose sudden illness was the cause of their trip, had died in the Belleville Hospital.

Son Dies at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, May 28.—Joseph Alfred Davies, 25 Pine Street, passed away in the Belleville Hospital Saturday afternoon after a short illness. Mr. Davies was well-known in this city, having been a conductor on the Canadian National Railways for some time. Six years ago he lost a leg at Port Hope when in the performance of his duties he was run over by a train.

The deceased was born in Toronto 42 years ago, being a son of the late George Davies and of Mrs. Davies, 85 Rosevear Avenue, Toronto. He was a member of the Tabernacle United Church and also of the A.F. & A.M., and R.A.M. He was connected with the brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the I.O.O.F. Surviving are his widow, two sons and one daughter.

Portugal-Belgium Win First Matches

AMSTERDAM, May 28 (Associated Press).—Portugal and Belgium were returned victorious yesterday in the first two matches of the Olympic soccer football championship.

Portugal defeated Chile, four goals to two, and Belgium eliminated Luxembourg, 5 to 3.

Chile started with a rush against the Portuguese, scoring twice in the first sixteen minutes of play on boots by Subiare and Carbonelle. Here, however, the Portuguese rallied strongly and checked further Chilean thrusts.

Though between comparatively weak teams, the Belgium-Luxembourg match proved interesting on account of the doggedness with which the husky Luxembourgers wrested three goals from the technically superior Belgians.

It's hard to excuse Dishpan Hands

"Guests arriving—everything perfect except..."

"MY dinner table, set with all my best china for our dinner to Jim's new friends, had never looked prettier. But it made my poor hands look dreadfully coarse by comparison. They simply broadcasted 'Dishpan!'

"And because I know it's just such little things that others judge us by, I became self-conscious . . . ill at ease . . . at my own dinner table.

"Of course it was foolish of me. With Lux always in the house I was still using old-fashioned harsh soap for the dishes. Until that night I had not realized just how pitifully rough and red it made my hands look.

"Now I use Lux for all my dishes. And for cleaning, too! My hands no longer are reddened and coarse. I'm really PROUD now of my dinner-table hands."

Many household soaps—flakes, chips and cakes—are made in the old-fashioned way. They contain harmful alkali that makes the skin rough.

There is no injurious alkali in Lux. Made by a remarkable process, Lux actually SOOTHES the skin, leaves it a little whiter and softer than before.*

Instant, sparkling Lux suds, ready before you ever put your hands in, are so rich and CLEANSING that the dishes seem almost to wash themselves!

The big package of Lux washes six weeks' dishes! Lovely hands for so small a price!

* Many beauty parlors use Lux in manicuring the nails, to soften and whiten the fingers.

Lux keeps lovely the hands that wash dishes

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

FOR TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1928.

Unusually menacing aspects are discovered in this day's horoscope, according to astrology, which finds malefic planets dominant.

It is a day when there may be nervous tension and serious irritability. Avoid family discussions.

Neptune is in a place that is supposed to affect the mind so that values are distorted and wrong ideas fostered.

Propaganda inimical to the government and inclining toward radical policies probably will be widely distributed under this direction of the stars.

All who desire to win public favor should be exceedingly wary of pitfalls that may be numerous while this rule prevails.

Candidates for public office are subject to the most unfavorable planetary government, the seers declare, while this sway prevails.

Women are subject to inimical influences today, for their best intentions may be easily misunderstood.

This is read as an unlucky wedding day since there may be frequent misunderstandings and quarrels between men and women who are married under this aspect.

Theatres are subject to discouraging conditions wherever efforts to produce really good plays are made, but this is merely a temporary phase, the seers explain.

Contrariness and stubbornness are supposed to be prevalent under this sway and for this reason patience with husbands and children is enjoined.

The evening is held to be an auspicious time for taking counsel with older persons. It is a good time to ask advice.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of great experience in the coming year, but courtship may be dangerous to future happiness.

Children born on this day usually are extremely lucky. Many gain through inheritance or friendships.

WHAT MONEY CANNOT BUY

This beautiful poem was received by B. B. Snelgrove from Thomas A. Hughes, Los Angeles, California (composer), and was dedicated to Mother's Day, May 13, by being broadcasted by Joyce Coad (The Million Dollar Baby Star) from Station KNX, Warner Bros. Studio, Hollywood, California:

Have you seen her by the fireside
With locks of silver hair;
Features worn and wrinkled,
The penalty of care?
Have you felt her soft caresses,
As a child upon her knee?
That's your own belov'd mother,
Your best friend is she.

Remember how she nursed you
In childhood and in youth,
Facing every danger,
'Tis nothing but the truth;
Don't ignore her presence,
When your sweetheart is nigh,
For she's the only gift on earth
That money cannot buy.

A sweetheart may be perfect,
An angel most divine,
You proudly gaze upon her,
And tell them, she is mine,
But a mother's beauty lingers,
It ne'er can fade away,
The picture of affection
Although she's old and gray.

When in joy or sorrow
You'll find her just the same,
For sympathy and kindness,
She bears a noble name;
Loved by poor and proud,
What more can she desire,
The picture of contentment
As she sits there by the fire.

No soldier's done his duty
More faithfully than she,
There's no one like a mother,
With me you'll all agree;
To an angel from the heavens,
I can only her compare,
Full of gentle patience
And a mother's tender care.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE ARE BLINDED COMING FROM DARKNESS TO LIGHT

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

We all know that after being in a dark place such as a theater we are blinded when we come out to the bright light of day. We have a similar experience in passing from a strong light to a dark place. At first we are totally blind but gradually get so we can see pretty well.

The eye is like a camera. The light must not be too strong or too weak and must be focused to produce results. The pupil of the eye is like the shutter of the camera. It is the hole in the eye which gets small or large according to the amount of light striking it. When we suddenly shift to a much lighter place too much light comes in and blurs the image. If this is strong enough, as in looking directly at the sun, the eye will be injured. Snow blindness is caused by the reflection of the sun on the snow in which case much more than the ordinary amount of light is admitted to the eye despite the contraction of the pupil to the fullest possible extent. Squinting the face and closing the eye entirely are further indications that the light is too bright.

The opposite reaction takes place in the pupil of the eye when you pass from bright light to darkness. The eye in this case instead of closing the pupil dilates or enlarges in order to let in as much light as possible. That is why a room that seems totally dark at first gradually becomes fairly light. The eye through the contraction and dilation of the pupil accommodates itself to the environment.

The adjustment of the eye to light is automatic. The pupil acts as soon as the intensity of light is changed perceptably one way or the other. Hence we are not ordinarily conscious of the change taking place in our own eyes. But if you take a lighted candle or a flash light and hold it fairly close to the eye of another person you will see the pupil contract and the hole in the eye getting smaller. This is purely a reflex and wholly automatic. It is an inborn trait.

DRESS
By MARY MARSHALL

These butcher cuffs of fine white line enhance the shapeliness of the hands and the slenderness of the wrists. The cuffs are trimmed with fine tucks and narrow pleating.

It's a far cry from the prototype butcher cuffs—which, by the way, butchers seldom wear nowadays—to these new-fashioned butcher cuffs that fashion sponsors this season.

The originals were made of woven reed, like baskets, and were drawn on over the hands to protect the cuffs. Perhaps they are still worn somewhere—only not by the trim white-coated retail meat dealers in this country. Still what fashion knows as butcher's cuffs are much in vogue just at present, and of all the sorts of detachable lingerie cuffs at present presented these are by all means the smartest.

Almost all the new cuffs show some sort of flare. There are rather deep, straight flaring cuffs known as puritan cuffs and these are often combined with wide flaring collars to match. Some of the narrower cuffs are edged with narrow ruffles or pleatings edged with narrow lace. These Puritan collars and cuffs are worn quite a bit by the younger women and usually with becoming effect.

To the woman who is planning to make any new day-time frocks for warm weather wear I strongly advise visiting some well-stocked neckwear department first. There are sets of lingerie, lace or georgette that will make any frock distinctive. The difficulty usually is in finding just the right collar to go with the frock after it is finished—and when you go in search of it you find that the one you like best is made for a neckline different from the one of the frock. That is why I suggest getting the collar set first, and then making the frock to agree.

This week's little help consists of sketch and diagram for making one of the new large chiffon evening handkerchiefs. All that is required beside the square of chiffon is some footing for the edge and a little embroidery at the corners.

The fashion is to wear or carry one of these handkerchiefs in pastel tone to match your evening or light afternoon frock. Sometimes they are of black with white edge and sometimes white with black footing. You may follow the fashion of wearing your large handkerchief to match your shoulder flower in contrast to the color of your gown. Some of the shops are showing matching flowers and handkerchiefs of this sort.

LYRICS OF LIFE

NONE SO POOR

I wish that I through life could go
And always lovely blossoms sow,
And even in its darkest hour
Give every weary heart a flow'r.
I wish that I could go indeed
Through life just giving gold to need,
But I have nothing in my hand,
And travel through a barren land.

But there are things that kings possess
No more than men, aye, even less.
A king perhaps may not unbend,
But every friend can cheer a friend.
I cannot give the stranger gold,
But all the love his heart can hold,
And that is what men long to find—
We're none so poor we can't be kind.

KEEPING TO THE RIGHT.

The decision of the First Appellate Division Court that "subject to legislation the user of a highway is entitled to travel along any part of the highway provided he exercises due care in regard to the right of others," continues to cause much discussion.

The rule of keeping to the right has been a custom in Ontario for so long a period that it was with a sense of surprise the public read of a legal decision to the effect that there is no right or wrong side of the road.

Fortunately, however, there is little danger of motorists acting upon the judgment of the court.

They will continue to keep to the right, realizing that any departure from that rule would result in confusion, worse confounded.

At the same time it might be as well if the Highways Department paid some attention to this decision by seeing that legislation is passed making it a law to drive on the right side of the road.

It would put legal authority upon a custom that has always been respected in this Province.

SATISFIED WITH PICKEREL.

Reports from Walter M. Fowlds, of Hastings, who has been in charge of the publicity work at Ohio's second annual Sportsmen's and Outdoor Show at Cleveland for the Trent Waterway Development Association, indicate that this section of Ontario is to receive a large volume of tourist traffic this season, enough, Mr. Fowlds reports, to fill the district to overflowing.

One sentence in his letter is worth attention because of the emphasis it places upon the value of fishing as an attraction, and upon the fact that most tourists are satisfied to catch pickerel.

"They all want to fish," writes Mr. Fowlds, "so it is up to us to look after this requirement, as to them pickerel are fish."

This disposes of the argument advanced on behalf of fishing through the ice that because pickerel were not classed as game fish they offered no attraction to the tourist, and therefore need not be conserved.

Mr. Fowlds' interviews with prospective visitors causes that fallacy to disappear.

The majority of tourists, he reports, are content if they can catch pickerel, and the steps that have been taken to prevent the wholesale slaughter of these fish are thereby justified.

SURELY THEY GET ENOUGH.

In discussing the question of increased indemnities for members of Parliament, the Toronto Star draws attention to one point that is often overlooked by the public and perhaps by many of the M.P.'s themselves—that is, that members are not supposed to be receiving an annual salary, but merely an indemnity for attending the annual session of Parliament.

"They attend to their own business, profession or trade and only need to be in Ottawa about one-third of the year," declares the Star, and adds that M.P.'s receive $4,000 per session, free transportation on all railways the year around, a travelling allowance to Ottawa and home again, free office rooms, free stationery, free stenographer, free postage, and meals at less than cost.

In view of these things, the resentment of the public at the thought that an increase for the members was in sight is easy to understand.

Apparently the danger is past, for this session at least, and if the Government is wise other attempts of this nature to raid the treasury will be as stoutly resisted.

As for the plea that election expenses are heavy enough to justify larger indemnities that can be dismissed as beside the question.

SAFETY RULES FOR CHILDREN.

The excellent series of advertisements of the Ontario Highway Safety Committee seem admirably designed to focus attention upon the most common causes of traffic accidents and the precautions that should be taken to avoid them.

The appeal that has been made to parents as to the necessity of constantly warning their children in regard to traffic perils strikes The Examiner as being particularly effective, and it is to be hoped that youngsters will be frequently reminded of these six safety rules:

1. Don't play on streets or highways.
2. Cross busy streets only at crossings.
3. Never cross a street or highway without first looking both ways. Never dart from behind a parked car.
4. When riding your bicycle keep close to the edge of the street or highway. Keep both hands on the handlebars and both feet on the peddles. Don't swerve in and out. Be careful at cross streets.
5. Don't hang on the back of waggons, trucks or motor cars.
6. Always walk on the left side of highways, facing on-coming traffic, and in single file.

These rules should be daily mentioned to children, for, as the committee points out, "you cannot expect children to be safe on the street or the highway unless you teach them how."

The same excellent advertisement contains a warning that should be memorized by motorists, i.e., "Every motor vehicle should be absolutely under control and running at a moderate speed wherever children are liable to appear on the street."

Judging by the amount of fast driving in the vicinity of Peterborough schools, there are many drivers in this city who need this particular warning.

MORAL ISSUE OR RELIGIOUS?

The Southern Baptist church through its annual convention plunges into the political field. Representing, it is said, 3,700,000 members, the convention declares that every man should stand solemnly pledged that no such man as Gov. Smith of New York should be the nominee of any great political party, or if nominated should be elected. Its resolution is based on the issue of prohibition.

One man in the Baptist convention raised his voice to protest, and showed by what he said that he thought another principle than prohibition was involved. "I am not going to vote for the governor of New York under any circumstances," said Sam E. Whittaker of Chattanooga, "but I am going to say we make a mistake in this report. It is an undisguised vehicle to inject the Baptist organization into politics and thus violate the underlying principles of our constitution."

So the question of religion in government is raised in the supreme body of a great church. What is more, it is a southern church, in the region where party means more than politics, means to millions of people the only way to meet their race problem. Two great human motives have come into play and are in conflict—religion, for which men have fought as for almost nothing else, and race, which marches side by side with religion as a cause of human conflict. Feeling openly expressed on the moral issue involved in prohibition ostensibly moves the southern Baptist assembly. But respect for the underlying principles of the constitution, which themselves were rooted in human feeling, is never without a voice in the south, and it, too, finds expression now.

We are going—we had almost said "we are doomed"—to hear much of religion and of prohibition in the coming campaign. It is not a misfortune that it starts off under such impressive auspices as the southern Baptist convention. It is good fortune that the question is there courageously raised whether, after a century and a half, we are to decide that after all the constitution is mistaken and the church must be admitted to a place in politics and government.—Milwaukee Journal.

TORONTO THE UNFRIENDLY?

Wilson Macdonald, a Canadian poet, says he has lived in forty cities and he finds Toronto the least friendly of them all. "I never saw a place so unfriendly," he told a reporter, and so he proposes to join the growing colony of writers on the Pacific Coast. One could wish he had been more specific in his complaint, but he had no hesitation in indicting the whole city—possibly because he has received the official attentions of a traffic officer or because an editor returned his favorite poem.

Most cities beyond the Main street stage are accused of being cold and unfriendly, and to an extent it is true of them all. A city is organized socially into a multitude of interlocking circles, and in the nature of things the newcomer does not fit himself instantly into the niche designed by Providence for his presence. The duration of this period of adjustment depends largely upon the individual. Wilson Macdonald declared he had given Toronto a trial of six or seven years, and at the end of that time he called it "the most unfriendly city."

We should like to know what Macdonald expects of a city. There are those who desire only to be let alone and who value the metropolitan atmosphere for the privacy it affords. One would have been inclined to expect a poet to be influenced by considerations of that sort. A philosophic spectator of this human comedy—or tragedy—can be too close to the scenery for his literary good. But if he pursued the vagrant Muse most successfully in association with service clubs or art groups surely Toronto was not found wanting. The man is a rare specimen who evades the genius of modern society for organizing itself and for vesting in its little sets a benevolent interest in the welfare of other people. And even that intimate neighborly concern in people. And even that intimate neighborly concern in one another supposed to be a characteristic of small towns is not lacking in the Queen City. Surely the man next door leaned over the back fence to discuss the fine points of tulips and straight eights even if he was a little lacking in appreciation of ballads and odes.

But if we were a poet it would not take us six or seven years to discover the poetic advantages of Vancouver over Toronto. We should compare the lake front with Burrard Inlet and its background of mountains, the Island ferries with liners from the Orient, the Humber with the tumultuous streams of North Vancouver, and the Muse would speak in no uncertain voice. Nevertheless, Toronto is a very fine city, and nobody is out of luck who lives there.—Ottawa Journal.

The Question Box

(Please address inquiries to "The Question Box.")

F.J.B.—Q: When did the Thursday afternoon holiday, now abandoned in favor of Wednesday, start?

A: The first record available shows a petition of the merchants in 1913, when Thursday closing at noon became effective at noon on July 3.

J.A.C.—Q: (1) When was the ball diamond made in Exhibition Park? (2) When does the Exhibition Board's lease expire?

A: (1) Work was under way on May 3, 1924. (2) A ten-year lease was signed on November 2, 1927.

M.R.—Q: (1) Please tell me the system of bells on board ship. (2) Does "eight bells' mean 8 o'clock?

A: (1) A bell is struck every half-hour, the number of strokes indicating the number of half-hours that have passed in the particular watch then being kept. Thus 4.30, 8.30 and 12.30, whether a.m. or p.m., are each one bell, and the number of strokes is increased by one every half-hour until "eight bells," which marks the end of the ordinary watch. 'Five bells in the morning watch," would thus be 6.30 a.m. (2) In the case of the second dog watch, from 6 to 8 p.m., 6.30 is one bell; 7 o'clock two bells; and 7.30, three bells; but eight o'clock is always eight bells.

A: Yes. Experts in Australia can throw the boomerang so that it will describe a circle and return; describe a figure of eight and return, or come back after any number of intricate figures. One of the most spectacular throws is that in which the boomerang strikes the ground fifteen to twenty yards from the thrower's feet, ricochets twice, and leaps into the air to return. There are, of course, war boomerangs which do not return.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—by John Hix

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., May 28 (Canadian Press). — The export trade in Canadian grain here on Saturday was extremely dull, there being practically no demand from United Kingdom and Continental buyers. The domestic trade in oats was fair and prices were unchanged.

The demand for spring and winter wheat flour continued limited, but the values were firm.

The trade in millfeed was much quieter owing to the falling off in the demand from United States buyers. Prices were steady. The market for standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and firm.

An easier feeling prevailed in the jobbing market for eggs and prices were shaded. The demand continued good and a moderate amount of business was done. The receipts on Saturday were 7,902 cases.

A moderate amount of business was done in butter, and the undertone to the market was firm. The receipts were 4,395 packages.

Little business was done in cheese, but values were well maintained. The receipts were 2,821 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, May 28 (Canadian Press). — Prospects of relief from drought which has been menacing spring wheat, gave a late setback to prices on Saturday in the wheat market here. Rallies earlier on account of adverse crop reports from the north-west proved to be only transient in the face of free selling that developed as the day drew to an end.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ¾c to 1⅞c net lower, corn 1⅛c to 2¾c off, oats varying from ⅝c decline to ⅝c advance, and provisions unchanged to 10c down.

Nearly the lowest prices of the day were current in the wheat pit on Saturday at the finish. Dominating the market during the final transactions was an official forecast which indicated general unsettled weather the coming week. Previously, values had averaged higher, with bulges frequent on bullish crop advices and persistent lack of rain in spring wheat territory both south and north of the Canadian line. There was also talk of need of rain in Kansas.

Contributing to the late weakness of the wheat market was trade gossip to the effect that the United States wheat visible supply was to decrease 22,000,000 bushels between now and July to bring the total down to that of a year ago, whereas in the same time last year the decrease was only 8,000,000 bushels. Furthermore, not a bushel of new crop domestic wheat has been sold yet for export, it was stated, and unless export demand develops shortly, the south-west and Chicago will have to take care of a large movement.

Liberal receipts of corn here, 252 cars on Saturday, had a bearish effect in the corn market. Liquidating sales on the part of holders of future delivery contracts were again in evidence, with some standing orders becoming operative to stop losses on declines. Oats sympathized with corn weakness.

Provisions were inclined to sag, chiefly as a result of an easier trend in the hog market.

YOUR HEALTH

TEACH COURAGE, NOT FEAR

Children are not born with the many fears they develop in life. There are only a very few things that will make a child afraid if it has not been taught fear. Parents and companions usually unintentionally build up fear complexes by their speech and actions.

After many experiments, it has been determined that the inherited things that a child fears are: Loss of support, loud noises, and pain. Not a big list. A child does not fear fire until it has been taught that fire hurts. It does not fear a knife until it learns that a knife will hurt. It does not fear the dark until it has been led to believe that there is something in the darkness that will hurt.

Many of the fears are taught the child in the cradle, also many bad habits. Let us consider the habit of crying at the least provocation. This habit was formed in this manner: The child was in distress and cried. Thereupon its mother came running, picked it up and fondled it. Now the child probably does not reason that every time it cries it will be picked up and played with, but it learns by experience that this is what happens, consequently, every time it desires to be picked up and amused, it cries.

Children learn these habits very quickly. Only two or three experiences are necessary in forming a habit that may last all its life unless it goes through the slow process of "un-conditioning." I mean by this that a child may build a habit, say, of desiring sympathy or amusement, which habit will last it through life. Many cases of invalids and semi-invalids are of this type.

One of the best things to do in cases of minor accidents is to teach the child to laugh instead of cry. It is much better to teach the child to be self-reliant and to brag about not being easily hurt, than to allow every little cut or bruise to be an excuse for craving attention and sympathy.

All "don't" training is dangerous. Give your child interesting things to play with, and keeping him out of mischief will not be such a problem. Do not allow the child to see fear in yourself. Remember that very few of the accidents in childhood are of a serious nature. If you think it possible that the child will be injured by doing a certain thing, explain exactly what might happen. Children are much more reasonable than they are given credit for.

Many cases of sickness are due to repressed fears. Most people spend more time thinking about sickness than in contemplating health. Doctors are inclined to make the same mistake. They spend years studying out the intricacies of diseased growths and sickness, and only a few hours studying healthful living. Remember the saying, "The thing they feared came upon them." Doctors who specialize in disease often die of the very thing in which they specialized.

Children are often inclined to do the opposite of what they are forced to do at home. Domineering parents will often have fearsome children. Strict, churchgoing parents will often have atheist children, especially when the doctrines are forced into the child in an unpleasant manner. This is the key: If you teach a child something, and at the same time the child feels unhappy, it will ever after associate that teaching with unpleasantness.

If you would teach a child to overcome fear, place it in the circumstance that it fears and allow something very pleasant to happen to the child at that time. Then it can be taught to associate the thing it had formerly feared with something it likes, and it will no longer fear. Place an apple in the dark room—not too dark at first—and play a game of seeking the apple by smelling for it. Presto! The child no longer fears the dark.

Questions and Answers.

Question—G. H. asks: "Is it all right to take an enema whenever the bowels do not move? I have been doing it and feel much better afterwards. I seem to be all right in every other way, and in good health."

Answer: You can never harm yourself by the use of enemas, but I am sure if you will eat correctly there will be no need for you to take even an occasional enema as your bowels should move naturally at least once or twice daily.

Question—F. G. H. asks: "What would you suggest to drink instead of coffee, as I am very nervous, and I think that coffee is to blame?"

Answer: Substitute some "teakettle tea." This is made by adding a small amount of cream to a cup of hot water. It makes a pleasing warm drink, and will not make you nervous.

Question—Mrs. B. V. writes: "When I walk a distance of two blocks I have a severe pain in the right corner of my left lung. When I walk a long distance or get very tired I have a burning pain in the back between the shoulder blades. Both pains seem to shorten the breath at the time."

Answer: Your description of your case sounds as if you had some form of functional heart trouble, but it is useless for me to guess at the probable cause as your physician should be able to tell you, and advise you how much walking you can take with benefit.

"WHAT RUBBING DOES TO THE THINGS YOU WASH"

By HILDA DORAN ROSS
Home Economics Counselor

RUBBING increases wear and tear. It wears through fibres and frays cloth. It takes paint or varnish off woodwork. China patterns fade. Silverware plating wears off.

"I find that the perfect cleaning agent is one which requires minimum rubbing. Here Princess Soap Flakes prove most effective. They foam quickly into soft suds which literally dissolve grease and dirt, and practically eliminate rubbing. Use them for your filmiest garments and most important washing tasks. They will not hurt anything that can be washed in water at all. Princess Soap Flakes contain no harsh chemical filler or harmful free caustic, which are so hard on fine fabrics and on your hands. Economical, too—a little of this pure soap goes a long way."

missing dirigible Italia, both of Rome's morning newspapers expressed supreme confidence that the gallant General Nobile and his equally gallant crew of fifteen will soon be located.

News that the Norwegian Government and several renowned aviators had started preparations to go to the General's aid was received with great rejoicing and instilled new hope in the heart of every Italian that "no news is good news."

To further bolster up spirits that may have suffered a sinking spell under the weight of long hours without word, the 'Messagero,' recalling that the same anxiety was expressed for two days in 1926, cites the message from the mother ship, Citta Di Milano —"they will return, they cannot fail to return"—and expresses the belief that even if the waiting is prolonged for several days, the news when received will be good tidings.

The "Popolo Di Roma" expresses the fact the General provided his men with everything that is possible to keep them going for months if necessary, and counsels its readers to "have patience and faith."

The fact that Raold Amundsen had volunteered to lead a relief expedition has already effaced memory of the tiff between him and General Nobile, and he receives much praise for his generosity in dropping everything to aid a brother explorer.

Premier Mussolini, who includes the Ministry of Aviation in his personal activities, is studying all possible means to get help to General Nobile. He has given orders that any news of the whereabouts of the expedition should be relayed to him immediately.

Pope Pius is another earnest watcher for news. At his own mass yesterday morning he said a special intervention for General Nobile and the members of the expedition who had carried to the Pole a cross as a symbol of Christianity. The Pope is remembering them daily in his prayers.

WESLEY DEVALL NOT TO BLAME

D. Thomas, James Skinner, Joseph Dwyer, Frank Jobbit, George Grange, Charles Cumming, Dennis Maloney, Harry Hickey, Frederick Miller, W. H. McGee, W. J. Thompson (foreman).

Detective William Carey acted as coroner's constable.

Donald McMillan.

Donald McMillan, father of the child, was the first witness. He saw his son at the hospital at about 9:20 on the evening of May 24. He was not present at the death. He was up town at the time of the accident and knew nothing of it beyond what he had heard.

Dr. G. S. Cameron.

Dr. G. S. Cameron rendered medical assistance to the child. The child was brought to his house and he sent it to the clinic, where he examined it. The child was seriously injured and called a car to take the child to hospital.

Dr. Neal accompanied Dr. Cameron to the hospital. There they found out that the child had some internal injury and was seriously ill.

"The child was suffering from shock brought about by injury to internal organs. There were slight abrasions about the child's chin, collar-bone and left shoulder. The abrasions in themselves were not serious enough to cause the shock. There were no broken bones," said Dr. Cameron.

Mrs. Harriett Johnston.

Mrs. Harriett Johnston, a resident of Young street, saw children playing on her lot, but did not know until the accident happened that there were more than her own children there. She saw the accident happen. She was standing on the sidewalk about 20 feet away. She saw the little lad at the rear of the car and thought it was her own boy. The car backed up and knocked him down. Mr. Devall was driving and Mr. McManus was in the car. Mr. McManus had come to visit her husband and Devall had called to take him to his home in Bridgenorth. McManus had come to the house between half-past eight and quarter to nine. She saw him go in and later she saw him come out with Devall. Her husband was in the house.

Devall and McManus had been at the house for about half an hour, from 4:45 to 5:15.

"Did you see them drinking there?"

"No."

"You don't know whether they did or not?"

"No." When the accident occurred, Mrs. Johnson said, she rushed to where the little boy lay. She then summoned Mr. Henry and he came in his car with Mr. Graham. She saw the child put in the car, which then drove away.

The car owned by Devall was on her premises. She did not see which way it came in but it was standing with the back to Braidwood avenue. The car backed out on to Braidwood avenue, turning with the rear end toward the west. She saw it in motion but could not say whether it was lighted up.

"Did you see McManus and Devall come out of the house?"

"Yes."

"Where did they go?"

"Straight to the car. They walked round behind the car and Devall let McManus in." The child was not at the back of the car just then, but just as the car was about to move she saw the child at the rear end. She did not see the child go there. It must have run there just as the car was about to start. The car did not back up very quickly. She heard some children screaming. The car pulled up on to Braidwood avenue and then went forward quickly.

Some fifteen minutes after the accident Devall phoned from Gibbs' livery and asked what the screaming was about. She told him that a child had been hit by his car. Later he phoned from Bridgenorth and she told him she had heard no fresh news.

She had seen no drinking when they had been there at nine o'clock, nor had she seen any at five o'clock.

She couldn't say whether the screaming she heard came from her own children or from the McMillan child. Neither could she say whether they were screaming in fright or in their play.

Answering the foreman, Mrs. Johnston said the child appeared very close to the car. He was not there a few moments before when the men had walked around behind. They would surely have seen the child if he had been there.

Answering Mr. McElderry, Mrs. Johnson explained that her house is on the east side of Young street, a short distance south of Braidwood avenue. There is no ditch between her lawn and the road. The car was on the lawn facing south. It backed north and swung round on Braidwood and went away east. An expression of Mrs. Johnston's, "I saw the child 'just on' the back of the car" caused Mr. Hatton to inquire if she had seen the child climb up on the back. She had not seen him do this, but saw him standing right close to the back.

Answering a juryman, Mrs. Johnston said she did not actually see the car strike the child as it was somewhat dark. She went to the child, but a gentleman had picked him up. He was making no sound. Pressed by Mr. McElderry, witness said she did not remember seeing any lights on the car as she was watching the child.

At Mr. Hatton's request all the rest of the witnesses were excluded at this time.

Alfred Johnston.

Alfred Johnston, 9, was instructed by the coroner and Crown Attorney in the meaning of an oath. He is a son of the preceding witness and saw the little boy knocked down when the car was backing up. He was playing with some other little boys and watching fireworks going up. They were on the front lawn near the back of the car. The little boy ran up toward the car when the car started. Alfred saw the men come out of the house and go round the car. Devall helped McManus into the car and came around again to his own seat. The little boy, Graeme, ran up toward the back and just as he touched it the car started and he was knocked down. Deval was not helping the other man walk but opened the door and helped him in. He did not notice whether there were any lights on the car. The little lad cried out and a man ran up to him, picked him up, and called to Devall. Apparently Devall did not hear the call as he kept on going. The car was not going very fast, the boy said, but he admitted that he had told Constable Thompson that the car was going fast. He could not remember whether he told Thompson that the boy was running away from the car but thought he had said so.

"Did anybody tell you to say he was running toward the car? Did you talk it over with anybody?"

"No."

The boy did not see McManus or Devall in the house but saw Devall's car there at five o'clock.

Asked by a juryman, the boy said that Graeme was killed while running to the car. He had told Constable Thompson the boy was running away, but he had spoken quickly.

He saw the car hit the boy and knock him down but could not see whether the wheels went over the boy or not. His mother had told him they had the car backed about ten feet before it hit the boy. It was not quite dark. They had been sitting on the lawn when Devall and McManus had passed behind the car.

Mrs. Johnston, recalled, said she had not told her son the wheels had passed over the boy.

Norman Henry.

Norman Henry was near the scene of the accident but did not see it. Some woman had told him there had been an accident and he rushed out to his own car and found several people around it and he had taken the child, with some others, to Dr. Scott's. The child had started to cry just before they got to Dr. Scott's. They went then to Dr. Neal's and then to the clinic. There were two ladies and Mr. Graham in the car. He thought the women were the child's mother and sister.

Sandfield McManus.

Sandfield McManus, who was with Devall at the time, is a resident of Bridgenorth. He had been at Johnston's about eight o'clock with Devall and they left about nine o'clock. They had been there the same day about five o'clock. He had met Devall at Gibbs' livery and had asked him to run him down to Albert Frick's house as he had some business with him. Frick had not been at home and they had gone to Johnston's. After half an hour they had come up to Duffus' garage. When they went back to Johnston's he had drunk three or four glasses of home-brewed beer. Johnston had handed Devall and him each a glass. He could not say what Devall had done with his.

"The glasses were not to look at?"

"Well, I drank mine." (Laughter.)

He saw Devall put his glass to his mouth and then set it on the stove.

"It was full?"

"Certainly it was full."

"Did he take it?"

"I wouldn't swear he drank it."

"Did you have another glass?"

"Yes."

"And another one?"

"Yes."

"Did Devall have another one?"

"I didn't see him?"

McManus said he had gone to see Johnston, who was a friend of his. He had his supper at the Windsor Hotel and went back afterwards to see Frick. They went on to see Johnston again and Johnston brought some beer up in a pitcher. He had several drinks and knew that Devall had left a glass of beer. He could not swear that Devall had a drink.

They came out about nine o'clock and the car was in the yard. They walked around the back of the car and Devall opened the door for him. Devall went back around the car and got in at his own side. They went around the back of the car because that was closest. Devall backed the car north and turned the rear end west. They then drove to Chemong.

Witness said he saw children on the lawn towards the front of the car. He did not know of an accident until next morning. As they drove away Devall had said he heard some yelling and witness said, "They're not yelling at us." They had stopped at Gibbs' and Devall went in to phone. He did not tell witness what he talked about. They went to Chemong and stopped at the pavilion. Devall had told him since that he had phoned Johnston's but had told him nothing about the accident [illegible] they had gone then to where Devall stayed [illegible] no time that night did [illegible] say anything about [illegible] The ligh[illegible] they started to back up. De[illegible] them on when he got into the [illegible]

Witness was then asked again if Devall had drunk anything, and repeated his story about him refusing one.

"On your oath, did you not say that you saw Devall take two glasses of beer and drink them?" asked Mr. Hatton.

"I didn't say that to anybody."

"Put that down."

"Do you mean——?"

"Never mind what I mean. You'll know soon enough."

"Do you know Mr. Thompson?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell him Devall took two glasses of beer?"

"Yes."

"Did you not tell him you saw Devall drink two glasses of beer?"

"Yes."

"On what occasion was that?"

"The first."

"What about the second?"

"He wouldn't drink it."

"Did you pay anybody?"

"Not in particular. When I was coming out I threw 50 cents on the table."

"Was that the first time?"

"Yes."

"What did you give the second time?"

"I threw down 25 cents."

Witness stated that he had seen Mrs. Johnston on the verandah and had spoken to her as he came out.

To the foreman, McManus stated that he had been told of the accident by his wife, who had been told, he believed, by Mrs. Johnston.

Wesley Devall.

Wesley Devall remembered taking McManus to Johnston's. They had started about five o'clock and come back about six. They went back at eight. On both occasions he had driven on to the Johnston property.

Before they came out on the second occasion it had been arranged that Devall was to drive McManus to his home. He had walked around the back to open the door as it was hard to open. He had backed up slowly. Before starting he had looked back and saw no person there. He had seen the children on the lawn in front.

He had heard an extra lot of yelling as he went along Braidwood avenue and spoke to McManus about it. He had slackened up but did not stop. He thought there must have been someone hurt, possibly by fireworks, as he had seen his way clear. He phoned from Gibbs Livery and Mrs. Johnston told him he had hit a child, but she did not think it was badly hurt. He phoned again from Chemong and Mrs. Johnston had heard nothing more. When he came back he went right down to Johnston's, and they phoned the hospital to find out about the child. They found it was not out of danger.

"Did you drink anything?"

"Nothing."

"Not a glass of beer?"

"Not at all."

"On your oath you swear that?"

"On my oath I swear that."

"Did you have a glass of beer?"

"It was offered me. I didn't drink it. I put it on the stove."

"You saw McManus drink some?"

"They drank two jugs full between them."

"You had your drink at home?"

"I did."

"McManus said he saw you drink two glasses of beer?"

"He saw them handed to me. I didn't drink them."

Devall said he had been in the taxi business for several years and had never had an accident. He had first heard of the accident when he phoned Mrs. Johnston. She said she didn't think it was serious.

"McManus showed the effects of drinking beer?"

"He surely did."

A juryman asked why he had not reported the accident. Devall said he had reported it as soon as he heard it was serious. At first he had thought it was a minor bump but when he heard the child was in hospital he had come straight up town and reported it.

To the coroner, Devall said he would have seen anybody within ten feet of the back of the car as he went around the back.

He had drunk a pint of beer at ten in the morning and another shortly before he left home in the afternoon.

On the way up after the accident he had said he thought somebody was hurt. At Gibbs' he said he was going in to use the phone. When he came out he told McManus that he had hit a child, but it wasn't seriously hurt. When he had phoned from Bridgenorth he did not tell McManus as the latter was nearly asleep.

Asked by a juryman, Devall said he was looking back and would not have seen the child lying there. He did not think the car passed over the body.

He assured the Crown Attorney that his lights had gone on as soon as he started his motor. He had had to back up about 20 feet.

Mrs. Annie Hobson.

Mrs. Annie Hobson, 504 George street south, was just across the road from where the accident occurred. She was on her way to visit her mother and saw the accident.

She saw the little fellow with his hands on the bumper as the car started. Apparently he thought the car was going forward. The wheels went over the boy's body. She told a woman to call a doctor, and her husband picked up the child. The mother and sisters came up screaming and took the child.

The child was at the back of the car when she first saw it. The tail light of the car and a light over near the church (St. George's) lighted up the scene. The boy was pushing on the bumper when she saw him. The car was about six feet off the side of the road. The child was about forty feet from Braidwood Avenue. She did not see the child by the head lights, which were turned in toward the garden, when the car had passed.

Jack Hobson.

Jack Hobson, husband of the previous witness, did not see the boy struck. He heard his wife call out and followed her over to the place. He saw the boy on the ground and picked him up. He had seen the car before the accident, but could not say whether the lights were on. When he picked the child up the car had backed on to Braidwood and was starting to go ahead. It was about fifty feet away.

Harry Whatley.

Harry Whatley, eight years old, lives on Young street. The coroner explained the meaning of the oath to him and he told of seeing the accident. He was passing along beside the car and saw Graeme McMillan get run over. When he first saw him he was hanging on the bumper at the back of the car. He had not been playing with him that night. He saw the car back right over Graeme but did not see the front wheel go over him as he turned his back. He saw the back wheel go over the boy. He was sure the lights were on as he had seen them go on.

This concluded the evidence.

Scenic Highways

SIXTY years ago, the great cry of gold echoed through the West—gold, gold in the Caribou—"the real Eldorado of British Columbia!" Along the tortuous Fraser River a ragged stream of adventurers toiled. Often man and beast clung in peril to sheer, rocky walls hundreds of feet above the swirling waters in the canyon below. They struggled . . . fell . . . and struggled on again . . . carving their trail deeper and deeper into the wilderness that hid gold, both placer and lode. Fortunes were made almost overnight . . . a single day's "clean-up" averaged from $20 to $300 or more. Men went mad with fortunes at their very finger-tips. Some gambled their gold . . . lost it . . . and went on for more. Fifty million dollars gleaming treasure was washed from the bars along the creeks and rivers!

FAMOUS FAIRWAYS

Have you ever "teed off" above a rock-girt coast where pounding surf set the universe to the music of the sea? Has your cry of "Fore!" ever echoed down some scenic valley between snow-clad mountain peaks? Till then . . . golf holds new thrills for you on the famous evergreen fairways of the Pacific!

A PACIFIC PARADISE

Here you can bathe in placid, sheltered bays, or where giant breakers roll . . . charter yachts that spread their sails to salty breezes with the lissome grace of gulls . . . excursion to lake and sea-side resorts by palacial pleasure boats . . . or board coast steamships bound, by "the Inside Passage," for the North.

SCENIC MOTORING

A network of nearly eighteen thousand miles of excellent motorways offers scenic touring throughout British Columbia. There's irresistible allure in the Caribou Road . . the old wagon-trail of Gold Rush days, which is now a motorway broad and safe, into the rugged north. The Trans-Provincial, the Columbia Valley and Banff-Windermere Highways, with numerous by-ways, irradiate the whole southern and central districts, while the highways of Vancouver Island, radiating from Victoria, have become a vacation tour beckoning thousands each year.

MOUNTAIN EYRIE

Within forty-five minutes of the city of Vancouver, you can motor to "the top of the world" . . . viewing from the beautiful Grouse Mountain resort, an undulating panorama of serrated mountain ranges and glinting peaks, valleys and plains, rivers and sea.

HUNTING AND FISHING

British Columbia, with its vast virgin forest reserves, its teeming rivers and deep mountain tarns, is the greatest hunting and fishing ground in America, where the world's best sportsmen meet.

A WEALTHY PROVINCE

One-third of the British Empire's timber reserves lie in British Columbia, their annual production amounting to over 84 million dollars, of which 18 million is pulp and paper. Agricultural revenue of 73 million dollars is derived through the cultivation of three million highly productive acres out of the huge territory of 22 million acres comprising British Columbia's total cultivable land area; dairying, livestock, poultry-raising, fruit and field crops and fur-farming are very successful. In 1927, the greatest quantity of ore in British Columbia's history was mined—62 million dollars in actual revenue; about 200,000 square miles of extensively mineralized territory remains virgin ground for the prospector. The fishing industry, for its fifteenth successive year, lead the Dominion, with a production of 27 million.

COME WEST!

A vast domain capable of sustaining twenty million people is today yielding its largesse to a population totalling but 617,00. Opportunity calls from British Columbia, where a magnificent future is on the eve of fulfillment! The coupon will bring you more detailed information on British Columbia.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. After being perfunctorily examined by a doctor, the body is brought to the Hotel Majusaca, where an inquiry is started.

Folsom's bathing companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, MRS. HELEN BARNABY, and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

Then the startling announcement is made that Folsom had been stabbed to death in the water. ROSS, his valet, is questioned, as are Barron and his wife, but no light is shed on the mystery.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is established that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it and its scabbard had been purchased on the boardwalk.

Carmelita Valdon, who stood on the other side of Folsom at the time of his death, is unable to describe his actions at the time, and the coroner seems suspicious.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII.

"I did," said Carmelita, "but to stand next a person on dry land is one thing. And in the rolling, tumbling surf it is quite another thing. I was entirely occupied with the difficulty of keeping on my feet against the onrush of the waves, to notice or think about anyone else. There was a big wave rolling in, and after it had passed, I noticed that Mr. Folsom had disappeared. But I gave it no second thought, assuming—insofar as I noticed at all—that he had been swept off his feet and would right himself in a moment."

"And then, what did you see next?"

"Then I saw the life guards coming our way. But even then I didn't think of their being after any of our own party until I saw them dive or stoop down, and come up with Mr. Folsom in their arms."

"The two men?"

"That I don't know—if you mean did they both carry Mr. Folsom. I have only a confused memory of somebody raising Mr. Folsom from the water and hearing a few stifled screams from women nearby."

"And then, Mrs. Valdon?"

"Then I saw Mr. Neville coming our way and he told us to come on out of the water. I asked him what ailed Mr. Folsom, but he didn't reply. He was helping Mrs. Barnaby along, and he turned to ask if I was all right. I said yes, and then we all went out on the beach and found a great crowd gathered. Mr. Neville told us Mr. Folsom had had a stroke or something and for us all to go to our bathhouses and dress. So we did, and when I was dressed and out again, they had taken Mr. Folsom up to the hotel, and Mr. Neville told us to come along, too."

"Thank you, Mrs. Valdon, for a clear, straightforward account of the scene. Now, Mr. Barron."

Ned Barron went forward with visible reluctance.

"You stood next Mr. Folsom at the rope?" Hubbard asked him.

"Yes, next to him."

"You knew him?"

"I had never seen him before to my knowledge. I am told he arrived at our hotel the night before, but I had not noticed him, and had no idea who he was."

"You talked with him?"

"He addressed a few observations to me, which I naturally answered, but I made no further conversation with him."

"What were his observations about?"

"To the effect that he had not been in Ocean Town for some years. That the fashion in bathingsuits had changed in that time. And that's about all I can remember of his chatter."

"And soon after that he went under the water?"

"Yes, but at that time I was turned in the other direction and I did not see him fall."

"Thank you, Mr. Barron, that is all.

Jepson, the detective, had returned from his errand to the shop of the auctioneer, with some details of the sale of curios that took place on Thursday evening.

He responded to the coroner's inquiries by saying that the proprietor of the place had been most willing and anxious to be of assistance in the matter, but that his information had been of little real value.

"Could you find out if this dagger was sold that evening?"

"Yes, it was, but it was not possible to learn who bought it."

Everard Meeker asked to be allowed to interrupt and stated that as a frequenter of auction rooms, he was sure the name and address of buyers was always made a matter of record.

"Mr. Hirsch," Jepson responded, 'for that is the name of the man who 'owns the business, tells me that it is customary in large and important sales to note the names of the buyers. But he says that the sales conducted in his establishment are often of goods of slight value, and that fully half o the iems sold are merely paid for at the moment and the purchasers carry them off."

"But the sale Thursday night included many really valuable curios," Meeker insisted, "and the prices in many instances ran fairly high."

"Yes," Jepson agreed, "that is true. But it seems this—what do you call it —? pichaq, is not of great value and was among the last to be sold, and it is not certain that the address of the buyer was noted."

"Not certain!" cried Miss Folsom, who was devouring with her eyes the police detective. "Then it may be they have his address?"

"It is possible, they told me. You see, I didn't have the dagger with me, and though I thought I recognized it on the list they showed me, yet I could not be positive. It seems the rare pieces were sold first, and after that the lesser valued ones were put up. Sometimes in lots of more than one article."

"Yes," said Meeker, nodding his head. "I stayed myself until all the worthwhile stuff had been put up, and as the cheaper junk came along, I went home. The items I had bought were sent to me next morning."

"Do you notice anybody here, Mr. Meeker," the corner inquired, "who was also at that auction on Thursday night?"

"Oh, yes, I see several men in this room who were present there."

The coroner turned to the audience. "Will anybody in this room, who was at that auction, please rise?" he said.

Two or three men straggled to their feet, but it was with obvious reluctance.

"Don't hesitate to acknowledge your presence there," Hubbard advised. "To have been at an auction sale in no way invites suspicion. In fact, only the withholding of the information can be questionable procedure."

Whereupon several more men arose, and among them was Croydon Sears.

Inquiry proved that none of these men had bought Oriental weapons except Sears, and he had, he stated, bought two daggers, one a Japanese Hara Kiri and the other a Malay Kris of the seventeenth century.

"Where are these weapons now?" asked Hubbard, and Croydon Sears informed him that they were in his room at the hotel.

"Why did you buy them?"

"To add to my collection of antique weapons. I own about thirty or forty such, and it is one of my hobbies to collect them at any opportunity."

"Yes," corroborated Meeker. "I sat next this gentleman at the auction sale and we were both greatly interested in the collection that was being dispersed."

"You are acquaintances, then?"

"We had not been so previously," Mr. Meeker smiled, "but a similar taste in collecting is a great help toward friendship, and we chatted as easily as old friends about the weapons shown."

"And neither of you stayed until the less desirable numbers were put up for sale?"

"No," Meeker said, "we left the place together. We parted just outside, for Mr. Sears said he was returning to his hotel, while I had an errand further along the boardwalk."

"And you went directly to the Majusaca, Mr. Sears?" said Hubbard, who showed no trace of suspicion in glance or manner, but whose tone was a little curt.

"Very shortly," Croydon Sears said, his face flushing with annoyance. "I took a turn or two up and down the boardwalk, watching the crowds, and then I went to the hotel and straight up to my room."

"Carrying your purchases with you?"

"No,, leaving them to be sent to me the next day—as Mr. Meeker did."

"You didn't return to the auction room?"

"I most certainly did not!"

"You visited any other shops?"

"No—no other shops."

But there was a decided hesitation of speech, and more than one face turned curiously on Croydon Sears as he made his denial.

The coroner said no more, and as a glance at Miss Folsom showed no desire on her part to have this witness examined further, Sears was dismissed.

But though his calm demeanor seemed to be unruffled, one there, who knew him well, realized only too fully that underneath the calm there was a seething tumult.

UNITED STATES DEFEATS CHINA

Will Play Winners of Japan-Canada Series in Final.

LOTT VICTORIOUS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 28 (Associated Press).—John Hennessey, Indianapolis tennis star and member of the United States Davis Cup team, defeated Paul Kong of Shanghai, China, in the fourth match of the Davis Cup series here yesterday afternoon, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

The match had no bearing on the result of the semi-final round between the United States and China as the Americans already have won three matches and the right to play the winner of the Japan - Canada series, now in progress.

Fine placements by Hennessey and errors by Kong, contributed to the American's victory.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 28 (Canadian Press).—George Lott, Chicago, defeated Gordon Lum, China, in the fifth and concluding match of the semi-final Davis Cup round between the United States and China here yesterday afternoon. The American won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-0.

Lott had difficulty with his shots in the first set, but soon steadied down and had Lum at his mercy.

The victory gave the United States five matches to none for China in the series.

ODDFELLOWS HOLD ANNUAL SERVICE

Rebekahs Also Attend St. Andrew's Church at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28—Campbellford Lodge, I.O.O.F., 248, and the Loch Lomond Rebekah Lodge, 248, attended divine service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday evening. The centre aisle of the church, which had been reserved for the visitors was well filled. The special music for the occasion consisted of two solos: "Be Thou My Guide," (Lowell) by George Lucy; and "Ivory Palaces" (Lorenz) by Miss Helen MacDonald.

Before beginning his sermon, the Rev. James Grier took occasion to welcome the Oddfellows to the service, saying that he had the feeling as of being among old friends. This was because the first sermon he had preached in Campbellford had been to that lodge. That had been almost exactly three years ago, and he had heard, he said, that the sermon he had preached on that occasion had been largely responsible for his call to Campbellford. Whether or not such was the case, he wished to welcome the members to another service.

Choosing his text from St. Mark's gospel, "He saved others," Mr. Grier spoke at some length on the virtue of helping one's fellow men. In closing he paid high tribute to the Order of Oddfellows and to the men who lived according to the ideals of the order.

As well as the local lodge, there were many visiting brethren at the service. The lodges of Cobourg, Havelock, Norwood, Springbrook, Stirling and Trenton were represented.

Everyone Needs Roughage in Their Diet

MORE and more the nation is being scourged by constipation. Millions—half-well—neglect to include sufficient roughage in their diet. The result is their digestive systems become clogged and daily absorb a certain amount of poison. Provide enough roughage of the right kind in the diet and the result, under normal circumstances, is HEALTH. Eat delicious, tempting Post's Bran Flakes once a day. Post's Bran Flakes provides the necessary roughage which acts as a body regulator.

Make This Two Weeks' Test and Note the Difference

Constipation must not be neglected. Start a two week's test now. Order a package of Post's Bran Flakes from your grocer.

Start by eating a dish of Post's Bran Flakes for breakfast. Eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. You will like it as well as any cereal you ever tasted.

Do this every day for two weeks. We predict you will find a real difference in the way you feel, and that you have been "regular" all the time. But don't stop at the end of two weeks. Eat Post's Bran Flakes every morning for health and regularity. Post's Bran Flakes is sold by all grocers in a wax-wrapped package. Ready to eat.

It is dangerous to experiment with patent medicines and drug laxatives. They bring only temporary relief and may make matters much worse. Ordinary cases of constipation brought about by too little roughage in the diet should yield to Post's Bran Flakes. If your case is abnormal, don't experiment. Consult a competent physician.

EXPEDITION TO HUNT BIRDS' WINTER HOME

Dr. Ernest G. Holt To Head Party To Study Forest Areas in Venezuela.

An exploration of bird life is about to be launched in South America by the National Geographic Society-Carnegie Museum Venezuela expedition. Ernest G. Holt, who will head the expedition, has been in Washington conferring with Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, President of the National Geographic Society, preliminary to the study of the plan to learn more of the habits of the warblers and shore birds that summer in the United States and winter in Venezuela. These birds have their winter homes in areas which Mr. Holt's party will explore.

"He will leave the United States from New Orleans, where he will sail for La Guayra," says a statement by the society. "In Northern Venezuela he will go along in motor cars over the fine roads which the Government has built to serve the inhabited areas of the republic. But when he pushes into the largely unexplored areas south of the broad Orinoco he will take to canoes to penetrate the thickly forested country, where one expedition lost lives and explorers have been turned back by hardships of tropical travel. In the mountainous regions pack mules will be used.

"Bird study is the major objective, but observations of the land, its animals and other life forms and its amazing variety of tropical trees will also be made.

"Birds flying blithely overhead seem, to the envy of land-bound laymen, to have complete 'freedom of the air.' But birds have distinctive habitats, comparable to wheat belts and timber lines, and it is by exploring cross-sections of these life zones that Mr. Holt hopes to make an exhaustive survey of the bird life of Venezuela.

"The bird explorer is interested in the origin of existing forms, in the distribution of species, and to arrive at these facts he must find what species now exist in given localities. North America knows some birds, the scarlet tanager, which have originated in the tropics, but now are familiar to temperate climes. Certain of the West Indies, which are remnants of a former continental mountain chain, are believed to have been the highways for the dispersal of various kinds of birds. Further studies will determine these and hundreds of other facts dear to the students of bird lore, which facts also may shed light upon the making and changing over of our continent at various geologic times.

"In the course of his study Mr. Holt will amass photographs and collections of such wonder birds as the scarlet ibis, with its brilliant red plumage, which is the envy of the textile dye maker; the cock-of-the-rock, with its curious double crest formed of two groups of feathers pressed together, and the ungainly Jadiru stork, with its white plumage and naked black head and neck, which stands higher than our sand-hill crane.

"Venezuela is a happy hunting ground for the ornithologist because of its variety of climatic and physical zones, ranging from mountain peaks that pierce the sky at some 17,000 feet to the low plains along the Orionco. There also are arid regions, where the cactus and thorn-bush hold sway, as in our own West; the llano country, carpeted with grasses and scrub trees; and the vast, humid and swampy delta of the Orinoco bordered by mangroves.

"However, the unexplored area, lying between the Rio Caura and Rio Branco, is a region of dense forests. In these forests are scores of kinds of trees, wood from which some day will be as highly prized as mahogany, walnut and teak are to-day. The chicle is there, already of economic value for its gum, but providing also a beautiful, deep wine-colored wood which has been known to endure for hundreds of years.

"Mahogany has forged ahead of other tropical woods in popularity partly because it floats, and thus can be removed from otherwise inaccessible forests. But as the world's timber demands increase, ways will be found to transport many other tropical woods to civilization centres, and dense forests which now are called jungle will become prized commercial timberlands.

"The area to which Mr. Holt goes lies just north of the Brazilian border and east of the region where, near the town of Esmeralda, the giant basins of the Orinoco and the Amazon so overlap that the flip of a bird's wing may determine whether a drop of rain will reach the sea at the Orinoco's delta, or flounder half way across the continent to emerge at the island-flecked mouth of the Amazon."

Mr. Holt is not greatly worried about jaguars, anacondas and boa constrictors.

"I have recently traveled 16,000 miles through the interior of Brazil," he said. "By count we saw in that distance just eight snakes. Other experiences in tropical America lead me to believe the jaguar will not harm the traveler unless the animal is molested."

"What is your chief difficulty?" he was asked.

"Disease," he replied, "disease and its chief cause—insects. Mosquitos are the real peril of the tropics, where nine-tenths of the naturalists' discomforts are due to ticks, harvest-mites, fleas that burrow in the feet, and other parasites."

Petes Win First Home Game 6-5 In C.O.B.L.

SPECTACULAR CATCH BY ASH SAVES GAME FOR PETES WHO WIN OPENER FROM OLD RIVALS

Belleville, Despite Strong Finish, Are Beaten 6 Runs to Five.

WIN FOR HARDILL.

Petes' Pitcher Fans Eleven in First Start of Season.

(By F. D. C.)

The biggest thrill of Saturday's Central Ontario League game at James Stevenson Park, which the Petes won from Belleville by 6 runs to 5 was reserved for the very last ball pitched when Fred Ash, playing centre field for the local crew, brought the game to a spectacular close with as brilliant a catch of as hard a hit ball as Peterborough fandom can remember.

A Belleville victory was riding out toward the centre field boundary of the park on that drive when Ash's gloved right hand engulfed the flying spalding as three Belleville runners ran madly round the bases.

If ever a ball was hit that one was.

Belleville, a run behind with two men out in the ninth, had runners on first and second when Peeney Mills carried his big bat up to the plate and putting every ounce of his powerful frame into his swing met a fast one on the nose and the ball screamed out to deep centre field.

The drive looked like a sure fire homer, the lead and likely the ball game for Belleville until Ash ran back and as the spheroid was almost past him reached his gloved hand high in the air and clutched and held the smoking ball.

What a hit and what a catch!

Hardill was pitching great ball and receiving good support while the Holyman crew jumped on Vinny Utronki, Belleville's Ottawa Valley pitching recruit for five hits in a row and five runs in the second frame and that bunch of counters seemed ample in view of Hardill's mastery over the Belleville batters.

And then in the eighth the complexion of the game suddenly changed as Belleville aided by two unlucky errors by Tommy Holyman and timely hits by Weir and Ross scored three runs and had the tieing and winning runs on the sacks when Hardill cut loose with everything he had and struck out three men in a row.

The visitors came back with another threat in the ninth and only Ash's circus grab saved the day.

Considering the football weather and the bad condition of the diamond the teams provided good ball for the opening fixture and justified the prediction that there will be many a hot battle before the Central Ontario League honors are finally awarded.

Belleville trotted out several new performers, Utronki, the pitcher, and R. Scott, the third baseman, both hailing from Renfrew, while Burley and Fleger, two intermediate recruits, were also new to local fans. Otherwise the Quinte crew was the same as in seasons past.

The Petes had a much different line up than in the opening game at Oshawa with Swanston, Harrison and Rose back in their old position. The first two jumped into the battle with practically no practice and they were a tired pair long before it was over.

Jeff Hardill pitched fine ball and should have escaped with but one run scored against him, four of the Belleville counters being unearned. Hardill struck out eleven of the visitors and showed great stuff in the pinches especially in the eighth when he completely subdued a Belleville rally by striking out three men in a row.

Utronki, a young pitcher with quite a reputation in the Ottawa Valley looked like soft picking for the first three innings when the Petes nicked him for eight hits and six runs. Then he levelled away and for the balance of the game allowed but one single and not a run. Utronki on his showing in the latter stages should be a help to the Belleville gang in their bid for the pennant.

The opening ceremonies were not elaborate. Mayor Denne officiated as pitcher and J. W. Anderson of the Peterborough Ball Club executive was the batter. His Worship failed to fool Mr. Anderson who cracked out a neat single.

The Game in Details.

Belleville got their only earned run in the first. Weir walked but was forced at second when Ross bunted to Hardill. Burley flied to Turner, Ross stole second and scored when Harry Mills doubled to left. R. Scott flied to Ash.

In the Petes' half Turner beat out a tap to third for a hit and was sacrificed to second by Rose. Ash hit to Utronki, who threw to third but failed to get Turner. Ash stole second but Heckman struck out and Hardill lifted to Ross.

In the second Blakely led off with a double to left centre and then stood on second while Hardill fanned Hagerman, A. Scott and Utronki in a row.

The Petes had a field day. The inning opened poorly when Swanston fanned but Harrison ripped a single over third and Holyman smashed another past Scott. Johnston then tingled to right, scoring Harrison, while he ran to second and Holyman to third on the throw-in. Turner slashed a long double to left centre, scoring Holyman and Johnston, and Rose promptly cracked another long two base swat to deep right on which Turner crossed the plate. Rose stole third and scored on Ash's roller down the first base line, the play to the plate being made too slowly to nail Rose. Heckman rolled to Weir and Hardill struck out to end the rally.

Weir, first up for Belleville in the third, rolled to Hardill. Ross struck out and Burley, after getting a pass, was thrown out trying to steal.

The Petes got their last counter in their half. Swanston rolled to Blakely. Harrison slashed a beautiful drive to deep centre field for two bases, Ross making a great try for the hard hit ball. Holyman lined to Weir but Johnston singled past R. Scott to score Harrison. Turner walked. Rose struck out.

In the fourth H. Mills rolled to Holyman and R. Scott flied to Heckman. Blakely was safe on Holyman's fumble, stole second and scored on Hagerman's single to left. Flegler, batting for A. Scott, fanned.

Ash opened for the Petes with a single to short and Heckman walked, but Hardill popped to Blakely, Swanston bunted a fly to Utronki and Harrison forced Heckman, Blakely to Weir.

For the next three innings the pitchers had the whiphand, Swanston being the only player on either team to reach first base. R. Scott's fumble in the seventh giving him the chance.

The storm clouds blew up in the eighth, however, when Belleville scored three unearned runs. The trouble started when Holyman fumbled a roller by Utronki. Weir singled to left and Utronki ran to third on the hit, the play being very close at third. Ross singled to centre to score Utronki and Manager Gerow sent Peeney Mills to hit for Burley. The big veteran didn't get a hit but it worked as well, his roller to short getting away from Holyman and both Weir and Ross scored on the error. Harry Mills singled and the situation was serious. Hardill, however, rose to the occasion and fanned R. Scott, Blakely and Hagerman.

In the Petes' half Utronki did the very same thing to Johnston, Turner and Rose.

And then came the ninth with Ash's spectacular catch as the climax. Flegler was easy on a pop fly to Rose but Utronki helped his own cause by singling over second. Weir struck out and the clouds began to lift but Hardill could not get the ball over for Ross, who walked, putting the tieing run on second and bringing the dangerous Peeney Mills to bat. Mills leaned into one with every ounce he had driving the ball to deep centre one a line but Ash playing well back stuck up his big right hand and clutched the flying spheroid, cutting off two runs and robbing Mills of a triple. It was a wonderful play.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

With the old guard all in action the Petes opened their home season auspiciously Saturday by trimming their old rivals from Belleville. But it was a close fit and Peeney Mills' war club that has broken up many a ball game came within an inch or two of doing the same thing Saturday.

✦ ✦ ✦

The circus catch made by Fred Ash in the ninth gave the opening game a sensational windup. A mighty useful ball player is Mister Ash. He can play first base like nobody's business and is a starry performer in the outfield.

✦ ✦ ✦

What a fine old batting bee that Oshawa-Kingston game on Saturday turned out to be. Oshawa won 17 to 14 and are momentarily leading the parade while Joe Daley's Ponies by virtue of two losses are in the cellar.

✦ ✦ ✦

The Petes swing into action twice this week. Wednesday they make the long trip to Kingston for a battle with the Ponies and on Saturday Deloro, the new entry in the Central loop, play here. This game is attracting a lot of attention for the Smelters outfit is recognized as a well balanced crew who will make plenty of trouble in the pennant hunt.

✦ ✦ ✦

Jack Turner, Fred Ash and Al. Heckman roamed over acres of ground in the outfield on Saturday, the Petes gardeners gathering in ten flies. Ash had the two feature plays, his grab of a line drive from Ross's bat in the fifth and then the robbery in the ninth at the expense of Mills.

Hardill retired the side on strikeouts in the second and eighth while Utronki also had three victims in the eighth frame. The new Belleville twirler ran into a hot reception in the second frame but he was steady and effective in the latter stages of the battle.

✦ ✦ ✦

One feature of Saturday's game was the scarcity of assists, the Petes having but four and Belleville six. Hap Harrison playing first for the home talent handled only two throws during the game.

✦ ✦ ✦

The condition of James Stevenson Park caused much unfavorable comment from the fans. In the infield the grass had been streakily cut while there was the beginning of a fine hay crop in the outfield. The ball club's percentage has always paid for the upkeep of this park and there is no excuse for having the first game of the season played under such conditions. Surely at least the grass could be kept short and some of the holes filled up.

Kingston	0	2	.000

The Monarch Club of Lindsay will in all probability make the May 24th road meet an annual event. The success of the meet on Thursday last has been widely commented on.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the runners and walkers from outside points were particularly well pleased with the day's sport and with the splendid prizes.

It is also interesting to note that the best runners in Ontario were in Lindsay, and that not in eight months past has there been such a splendid entry and so many fine athletes.

In the 15-mile event Harold Webster, the winner is Canada's second choice for the Olympic meet in August. Bricker was Canada's first choice and is already across the pond. Percy Wyer and Billy Reynolds, who were also at the Lindsay meet are both going to the Olympic games.

In the five-mile walk Bert Life and J. Mahon will both make the trials in July next and expect to go to the Olympic Games for Canada.

In the five mile event, where there was a large field of middle-distance men, Church Snell, Mitchell and others will make Olympic trials.

Art Keay, of Toronto, the fast miler, will also attempt the trials and will likely make the trip.—Lindsay Post.

GIANTS WIN DOUBLE BILL

Score 5-4 and 2-1 Against Phillies—Play Tight Games.

BRAVES DIVIDED.

NEW YORK, May 28.—(Canadian Press.)—The Giants nosed out the Phillies in both games yesterday, by 5 to 4, and 2 to 1.

The first engagement went eleven innings, with the Giants coming from behind in their final chance at bat to pull out the victory. Don Hurst's wild throw on Cohen's grounder permitted Terry to score the winning run in the ninth inning of the nightcap after he had walked and advanced on Jackson's sacrifice. Virgil Barnes out-pitched Hub Pruett in the second clash.

Ott's single, scoring Roush, broke up the first game in Larry Benton's favor after the Giant ace had gone through a long battle with Ray Benge. Benton won his eighth victory in ten starts, all of which were complete games.

Divide Double-header.

Boston and Brooklyn divided a double-header at Brooklyn, the Braves taking the first game, 4 to 1, and the Robins the second, 8 to 3. The even break gave Brooklyn three victories in four games against Hornsby's club.

Ed. Brandt pitched the Braves to victory in the opener, the first winning game recorded by the club under Hornsby's management. He kept eight Brooklyn hits well scattered. McWeeney, Ehrhardt and Moss held the Braves to five blows, but they were bunched effectively.

Home runs by Hendrick and Bissonette were prominent in the slugfest with Brooklyn staged at the expense of Bob Smith in the second game. Elliott got off to a shaky start, but held the Braves after getting a big lead.

Bunched hits in the seventh and eighth brought the third victory of the four game series to the league leaders.

Red Lucas, Cincinnati hurler, sustained a fracture of a small bone in his wrist in batting practice when he attempted to field a grounder from the bat of "Bubbles" Hargrave.

OSHAWA WINS FROM PONIES IN SLUG FEST

Motor City Take Second Victory in C.O.B.L. By Score of 17-14.

HERB WOLFE STARS.

Winners, Though Outhit, Take Advantage of Errors of Kingston Crew.

KINGSTON, May 28.—(Special).—Oshawa scored their second straight victory here Saturday afternoon when they defeated Kingston by the score of 17 to 14 in a terrific slugging fest. The winners were outhit but took advantage of seven errors of the locals. It was poor baseball most of the way, though good solid hitting was the order in every inning. Cherry started on the mound for Kingston and was hit hard, though slow fielding allowed many cracks to land safely when they should have been outs. On the other hand Kingston by some poor baserunning failed to pull up, though several times they came from behind and were always within striking distance of the visitors.

Buck, who followed Cherry in the box turned in a great game. Playing his second senior game, the youngster pitched fine ball, and but for errors and slow fielding would have pulled through a winner. At the plate he cracked out five solid hits, after fanning the first time up.

Herb Wolfe, former Peterborough star, was the hitting luminary for the visitors with five safeties, all singles. The visitors ran wild on the sacks and gathered their singles when they were needed.

The local boys were closely trailed by Glebe Collegiate of Ottawa with 25 points. The Ottawa Athletes gathered in 12 counters, in the senior class, eight in the intermediate and five in the junior for an aggregate score of 25. Six new Dominion Interscholastic Records were established at the meet, three by Hamilton Central athletes, two by a boy from Delta Collegiate, and one by a Windsor school boy. Eight new McGill interscholastic records were also set up—four in the senior class, one in the intermediate, and three in the junior.

Fred MacBeth, the Hamilton lad who won the quarter-mile dash at the United States meet in Philadelphia, running on a track which had been slowed up by continuous rain previous to the meet and intermittent drizzling during the afternoon, clipped 3-5 of a second off the Dominion and McGill record held by Allan Christie since 1923, MacBeth ran without the vestige of opposition, finishing the circuit of the track 50 yards in advance of his nearest rival, to be clocked in 50 4-5 seconds. In the furlong dash, Ray Lewis, the negro sprinter from Hamilton Central was timed in 23 seconds, equaling the McGill record and reducing the Dominion record held by Johnny Fitzpatrick by one-fifth of a second. Lewis also ran away from the opposition in the century, chalking up the time of 10 2-5 seconds.

The Hamilton relay team, composed of MacBeth, George Peterson, Lewis and J. Fraser, broke both the Dominion and McGill records for the mile relay, recording a time of three minutes, 30-2-5 seconds, over five seconds better than the Dominion record made by the Hamilton team last year.

To A. Zvonkin, of Delta Collegiate, went the honor of being the highest individual point scorer of the meet. Zvonkin broke the Dominion and McGill records for the discus and javelin throws and won a second place in the 12-pound shot put. The Delta school boy threw the javelin 151 feet, bettering the Dominion and McGill records by over three feet. Zvonkin also bettered both discus marks by over 13 feet, with a throw of 115 feet, 10½ inches.

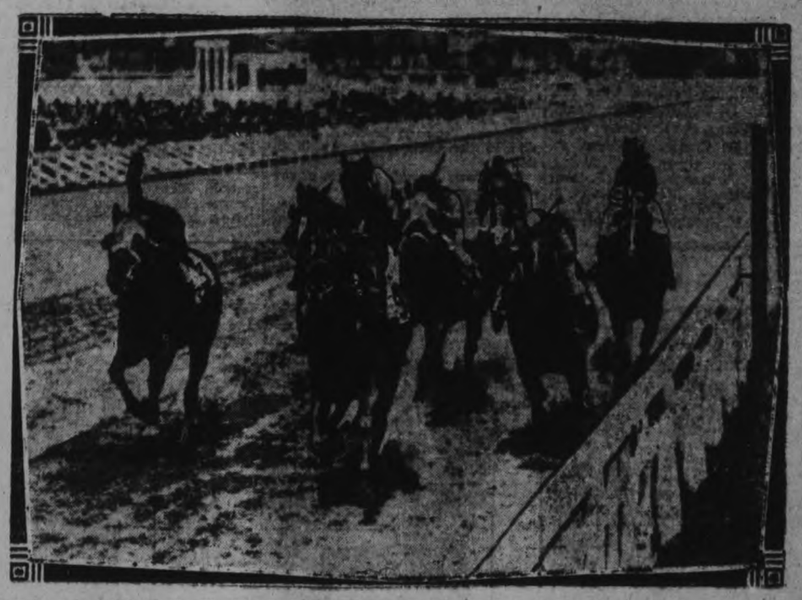
Willie Coneiglio's Dominion record in the pole vault also went by the boards, when G. Atchison, of Windsor Collegiate cleared the bar at a height of ten feet, ten inches.

Two Dominion records were equalled when J. Passmore of Hamilton Central ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 17 1-5 seconds, and George Peterson ran the half-mile in two minutes and four seconds.

S. Pearson, of Bennetto Public School, Hamilton, broke two McGill records in the junior events, reducing the time for the 75-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. G. MacDonald, Gransby high School broke the high jump mark in the Junior Class with a leap of four feet, 11½ inches, while the remaining McGill record went by the boards when R. Lamb, of MacDonald High School covered 18 feet, 11 5-8 inches in the broad jump.

The total point scores are as follows: Hamilton Central Collegiate, 55; Hamilton Delta Collegiate, 34; Montreal High School 27; Glebe Collegiate, 25; Loyola College High School, 11; MacDonald High School, 10; Bennetto Public School, 10; Granby High School, 8; West Hill High School, 7; Humberside Collegiate, 6; Jarvis Collegiate, 5; Riverside Technical, 5; Windsor Collegiate, 5; Danville High School, 3; Verdun High School, 3; London South Collegiate, 3; Lachine High School, 3; Vankleek Hill Collegiate, 1; Stanstead College, 1; Mount Royal High School, 1; Herbert Symonds School, 1; Commercial high School, 1.

CLOSE FINISH AT WOODBINE



Here is some action at the Woodbine Spring Meeting at Toronto, when the third race on Tuesday provided an exciting finish. The winner was J. Mascia's Tommy Foster, which beat N. Grupstein's Lannie a nose. P. F. Joyce's Saratoga Maje was third, beaten a length. Straightened out for the final run for home, Jockey Schaefer sent Tommy Foster to the front. The latter hung on gamely under punishment, and just managed to last long enough to finish a nose in front of Lannie. The photograph shows the field of horses in the stretch, Lannie (No. 3) is on the outside with his rider whipping hard; next is Tommy Foster (No. 9); Gymkhana is on the rail and Saratoga Maje (No. 7) in a pocket behind the leaders.

"ALL'S FAIR IN LOVE AND BUSINESS." This was the motto of pretty Agnes Dolan, the travelling saleswoman portrayed by Norma Shearer in this unusual and fascinating picture. So that when she met Joe Adams, a rival in selling suits and cloaks, she not only stole his customers but purloined his heart.

How she does it makes one of the most diverting and amusing films in years, and the popular star's best screen effort to date.

JAPAN GAINS 2-1 LEAD IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

Stage Comeback to Capture Desperately Contested Struggle on Saturday.

AMERICAN ZONE.

Canada Must Take Both Matches To-day to Win Round.

Montreal, May 28.—Teizo Toba and Tamio Abe, of the Japanese Davis Cup tennis team, after dropping the first two sets of their doubles match against Jack Wright and Dr. Art Ham of Canada, staged a fighting comeback at the Mount Royal Tennis Club on Saturday, and captured a desperately contested struggle at 5—7, 2—6, 6—3, 6—4, 10—3.

The victory gave the visiting team a lead of 2 to 1 in the match against Canada in the semi-final of the American zone, and makes it only necessary for them to divide the two singles matches Monday afternoon to score a win on the round.

Canada must win both matches Monday afternoon to save herself from another defeat at the hands of the Japanese. The draw for Monday brings Jack Wright against Teiza Toba in the opening match, while Willard Crocker plays Yoshiro Ohta in the second. From the form shown by these four in the matches so far it would seem that there is little to choose between them. Wright will go into his match with Toba a slight favorite, while Crocker, after his showing on Friday, is expected to give Ohta a hard run. The winning team will leave immediately for Chicago to play the United States in the final of the American zone at the end of this week.

ANDREW PAYNE FIRST IN DERBY

Leads Transcontinental Foot-Racers to the Finish in Garden.

GRANVILLE THIRD.

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP).—C. C. Pyle's transcontinental foot-racers have reached the end of the rainbow, but whether the expected pot of gold will be their reward remains to be seen.

One hundred and ninety-nine runners and walkers from nearly every state of the Union, as well as from various foreign nations, took up the chase for Pyle's $48,500 prize money at Los Angeles on March 4. Eighty-four days and 3,442.3 miles later, the end came in Madison Square Garden here Saturday night. The original field of 199 had shrunk to 55 through the operation of the well-known theory of the survival of the fittest. The hardships of the cross-country jaunt—mile after mile of monotonous jogging—had taken care of the rest and put them out of the running.

The trek done, Andrew Payne, 21-year old Clarcmore, Oklahoma youth, awaits the $25,000 Pyle promised to the man who led the field when mathematicians had figured out the elapsed time for the more than 3,400 miles.

Similarly, John Salo, Passaic, N.J., ship-worker, wonders how best he can spend the $10,000 that is his by right of finishing second. Phil. Franville of Hamilton, Ont., has $5,000 coming his way.

Pyle declares earnestly that the $48,500 in prizes will be forthcoming next Friday night at the conclusion of a 24-hour race at the Garden.

Some of the prize-winners, however, wish they could be sure that this is true. The demon promoter, they have been told, has lost $60,000 in the venture, and that control of the race finances passed out of his hands when the bunion caravan left Chicago.

Thousands of curious New Yorkers lined the streets as the troupe made its way into the Garden, but less than 3,000 thought it worth their while to dig down for $1.65 to see them jog the last twenty miles inside the big arena.

Offers New Prize.

A bit bored by the proceedings—New York's introduction to indoor marathon running—one of the spectators, evidently an ardent patron of six-day bicycle races, offered $100 for a mile spring. Pricking up their ears at the mention of ready cash, those of the 55 who had enough stamina left, took up the challenge, Allen Currier of Rogue River, Oregon, romping away with the reward.

Payne was eighth on the day's lap from Passaic but his elapsed time of 573:04:34 was 15 hours, 35 minutes and 39 seconds better than Salo's. The New Jersey Finn, though, had the honor of setting the pace for the day's journey of 32.8 miles in four hours, 28 minutes, one second, to bring his final elapsed time to 588:40:13.

Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., $5,000—613:42:30; Mike Joyce, Cleveland, Ohio, $2,500—636:43:08; Giusto Umek, Trieste, Italy, $1,000—641:27:16; William Kerr, Minneapolis, Minn., $1,000—641:37:47; Louis Perrella, Albany, N.Y., $1,000—658:45:42; Ed. Gardner, Seattle, Wash., $1,000—659:56:47; Frank Von Flue, Kerman, Calif., $1,000—661:31:49; John Cronick, Saskatoon, Sask., $1,000—666:42:38.

The other 45 entrants get no money, even if pay-off night does come on Friday, but they've had a lot of exercise.

Other Canadians and their finishing times are: 17th, Andrew Constantinoff, Toronto, Ont., 725:49:57; 22nd, George Liebergall, Bellevue, Alta., 776,02:21; 31st, Stan. Stevano, Calgary, Alta., 872:45:51; 42nd, Thomas Ellis, Hamilton, Ont., 928:17:35; 46th, Eugene Germain, Montreal, 952:47:02.

HEINTZMAN PIANO AT CHEMONG PARK

H. G. Forler Installs a Lovely Upright in the Dance Pavilion.

Mr. H. G. Forler has purchased from Heintzman Hall and installed in his Chemong Park Pavilion a Heintzman Upright piano. This will undoubtedly give a valued addition to the irresistible dance music furnished nightly by Eric Roberts and his talented Ohioans for the small army of young folks who love to trip the light fantastic at Chemong. Mr. Forler's choice is in conformity with that of hundreds of professional artists who insist on a Heintzman upright or grand for vocal and instrumental accompaniment and piano solo numbers. Ye Olde Firme's pianos have also won a first place in public approval the world over for home use. They come in models to suit either apartments or more pretentious dwellings, and their wide range, surprising volume, sweetness of tone and mechanical perfection have won for them a household name in all quarters of the British Empire.

ORIOLES WIN OPENER 4-3

MONTREAL GAME OFF.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., May 28 (Canadian Press). — Jersey City made five telling errors behind Thormahlen yesterday and all of them aided Baltimore in opening the series with a 4 to 3 victory over the Skeeters. Jimmy Walsh batted in all the locals' runs, and Eddie Murphy had four hits, but the head end of the batting order left the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth with one out.

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 28 (Canadian Press). — The Buffalo Bisons made it three straight over the Rochester Red Wings here yesterday by winning another ferocious batting duel by a score of 12 to 2, as Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, President John Conway Toole of the International League, and other dignitaries here for the 1927 pennant raising celebration, looked on. Barrett, Thomas and Felix formed a triumvirate that batted home ten runs on clean hits. This trio tied the modern record for successive home runs when all lifted the ball over the left field fence in rapid succession in the fourth inning.

READING, Pa., May 28 Canadian Press).—Reading evened the series' count at one-all by defeating Newark here yesterday, 8 to 4. The Keys knocked Zubris off the hill in the seventh and continued a savage attack on Bentley in the eighth to win by the top-heavy score. Socks Seibold kept Newark's hits well scattered until the ninth, when he let up after being spotted a six-run lead. The Bears grouped three hits in the ninth for two runs. Jacques Fournier hit his fifth home run of the season in the fourth with none on base. Reading pounded out thirteen hits, Conroy driving in three runs with two singles. Whitman and Hakes hit triples.

Game Postponed

MONTREAL, Que., May 28 (Canadian Press).—Yesterday's game between the Royals and the Maple Leafs was called at the end of the third inning when teeming rain made it impossible to continue. The Leafs were leading 4 to 3 at the time by virtue of Styles' homer scoring three who had profited by Falk's wildness and walked before him. Three successive singles by Gaudette, Holt and Culley gave the Royals their runs. The second and third innings were played in a downpour.

IN POLICE COURT

A young husband and wife, both 26 years old, almost four years married, appeared in Police Court this morning. The husband was charged with failing to support his two children. After His Worship had heard the evidence, he remanded the case for a week and told the pair to try and get together so that they might live in the one home.

A young mother from the Township of North Monaghan pleaded guilty to neglecting her children by leaving them alone at night. J. A. O'Brien appeared for the accused and acknowledged the offence, but said that his client had made arrangements for a girl to look after her children while she was out. The girl came and stayed a while and then left. His Worship let the mother go on suspended sentence. Joseph Wearing conducted the case for the Children's Aid Society.

C.G.E. PUT OUT THISTLE FROM PHELAN CUP

Dawson Opens Scoring in Two Minutes—Beautiful Soccer in First Half.

C.G.E. 3, THISTLE 1.

Mitchell Scores Twice in Second Half—McLeod Makes No Mistake From Penalty.

The Canadian General soccer team trounced the Thistle by three goals to one in the Phelan Charity Cup on Saturday afternoon before a good crowd of spectators. Early stages in the game proved very interesting with excellent combination being displayed but in the latter period it became very rough at times which required the referee's attention. Both teams were at full strength.

Dawson Scored in Two Minutes.

There was no choice in winning the toss. Mitchell kicked off the ball which went out on the wing. A free-kick was given against the Thistle for an illegal throw-in. Blowers rapped a hot one across the goal to be sent out into the left wing. Burgess squared the ball across to Dawson who had no difficulty in opening the scoring. From the centre-kick, the Thistle raided the C.G.E. citadel but failed to make use of the opportunity when they had only the goal-keeper to beat. A few minutes later, Joe Mayette dribbled past two opponents to finish with a splendid drive that Jack Wade pulled down in below the bar.

The Pace Was Very Fast.

It was a battle all the time in midfield with the half-backs counter-planning with close checking and forcing the issue along towards the goal. Exchanges continued even for a while until Burgess broke away on the left, he drew the defence out, then left Laidler in possession, who passed back again and quick as lightning made a perfect pass across the goal-mouth, but no player was present to connect. At this point Clarke completed the C.G.E. eleven and made his presence felt with a good try. Very fine combination was put in by the forwards.

Thistle Raised an Attack.

Altering their method of play, the Jags assumed the aggressiveness and really they gave the C.G.E. defense a hot session for a few minutes. Three flag kicks were their only reward. On one occasion, A. Beggs gained possession of the ball inside the goal area, outwitted the full-backs nicely to be stopped by the custodian when in the act of shooting. After Ferguson had put the sphere past, the C.G.E. invaded the Jags to completely baffle the defense but Bolton held them in chick through an excellent display of goal-keeping between the sticks.

Bolton Brilliant in Goal.

Mid-field play then ensued with Robb forcing the play into Jags' territory again. He tried two long drives for goal that Bolton handled with ease, then the C.G.E. halves carried the ball into close quarters which found McLeod and Hyslop frustrating in an easy manner. Two unfruitful flag-kicks were the result, just before half-time arrived. Half time C.G.E. 1, Thistle 0.

HALF-TIME

The second half exchanges favored the C.G.E. and proved it in two minutes from the beautiful centre by Burgess from the touch line. He went down into the corner with the ball at his toe and lifted it over the players' heads. Quick as a flash, Mitchell connected with his head to land the ball into the rigging in a very spectacular play. Play continued to run from end to end without any definite issue being gained, although at this period foul-kicks predominated the tactics of players that the referee had to caution.

Beggs Handled Roughly.

Three times in succession, Beggs outwitted the full-backs through clever football and testing the goal-keeper with nice drives, in fact, he beat the opposition in near goal and made tracks for Wade's charge but he was upset illegally. Play continued in his team's favor, therefore the referee allowed the game to proceed, although the Thistle player lay prostrate on the field, as Fergusson landed the ball on the outside of the net. From the goal-kick, the C.G.E. forwards broke away quickly in a body to work inside the defense. Laidler dribbled right into goal, McLeod stopped his progress, but Burgess grasped the opening quickly to centre across to Mitchell who made no mistake with his parting shot.

McLeod Scored from Penalty.

After this success, the C.G.E. dominated the play, and seemed to be content with their three-goal lead. In the closing minutes, the Thistle endeavoured to offset a whitewash and succeeded in so doing when a C.G.E. full back gave away a penalty kick. McLeod landed a fast drive into the net from the spot kick. Near the finish, the spectators appealed to the referee against the illegal tactics of some of the players and demonstrated their wrath by shouting "Play the game" instead of playing the man. Their advice was not needed because the referee awarded his decision perfectly, although fans prefer to witness clean sport and is hard to stand and view infringements that do not appeal to the laws of the game. Final result—C.G.E. 3, Thistle 1.

Goal-scorers—C.G.E., Mitchell 2, and Dawson. Thistle—McLeod.

C.G.E.—Jack Wade, goal; Dunkley and F. Wade, backs; Mann, Robb and Blowers, halves; Clarke, Dawson, Mitchell, Laidler and Burgess, forwards.

Referee—Alex. McKinley.

Linesmen—T. Stewart and W. Rickard.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

"THE STUDENT PRINCE"

In a massive filmisation of the celebrated old romance of Heidelberg and the prince who sought happiness there, Ramon Novarro and Norma Shearer come to the Capitol to-night. The picture is called "The Student Prince" and is the latest super-production to come from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Ernst Lubitsch, the director, has treated this most beautiful of love stories in a tender and romantic fashion. It is just a simple plot of a boy and girl, an unhappy prince and his pathetic sweetheart, a maid in the village inn, but they love with a devotion that is greater than royal traditions, greater than life itself, and then . . . because society is what it is and because youth was made for sacrifice, they part.

The splendid artistic calibre of the cast and the inspired direction of the master Lubitsch, have made of this the ultimate in motion pictures. It was produced on a lavish scale with minute attention paid to authentic detail.

The cast includes Jean Hersholt, Edward Connelly, Lionel Belmore, George K. Arthur, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Edythe Chapman and others of note.

AT THE REGENT.

"THE LATEST FROM PARIS."

Avoiding mannerisms is, according to Norma Shearer, well-known screen star, the most difficult task of film acting.

"As soon as a star introduces into her film caracterizations her own personal mannerisms most of the effectiveness of her performance is gone," says Miss Shearer who is playing the stellar role in "The Latest From Paris," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation now being shown at the Regent Theatre.

"It is the duty of an actress to submerge her own individuality into the role she plays. Mannerisms are necessary if they aid the characterization. In this case they are not personal ones but done for the purpose of helping the role.

"It is hard to avoid your own individuality on the screen. We all have cetrain little gestures, certain movements of the hands that are typically our own. I know I have a habit of holding my chin in my hands when trying to study a problem. I often have to say to myself 'I will keep my hands away from my chin' in order to avoid this gesture on the screen."

In "The Latest from Paris," Miss Shearer has the role of a travelling saleswoman who beats her male rivals to all the big orders from middle west shop owners. The leader of the conspiracy against her makes an effective role for Ralph Forbes, who only learns the star's identity after he has revealed the existence and details of the conspiracy.

The picture was directed by Sam Wood from an original and clever screen play by A. P. Younger, scenarist of "Twelve Miles Out," "Slide, Kelly, Slide," "Brown of Harvard," "In Old Kentucky," and other successful films.

In the past seven years Australia has lost $35,000,000 in wages through strikes, said Premier Bruce recently.

Chicago Coast Guards Help Five Vessels During High Winds.

CHICAGO, May 28 (Canadian Press).—Distress rockets and calls for help kept the boats of coast-guardsmen bobbing about Lake Michigan off the Chicago shore line yesterday. Help had to be sent to five crafts which found the north wind kicking the waters too high for them.

ENTERING ACTION FOR COMMUTERS

Niagara Falls Lawyer Acting On Behalf of Rumanian Worker.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., May 28.—(Canadian Press).—H. Ely Goldsmith, consultant on immigration affairs, said to-day that he would have fyled in the Supreme Court at Washington to-day a mandamus action requiring Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State, to show cause why he should not order the U.S. Consul at Niagara Falls, Ont., to issue a quota visa to John Grayber, Rumanian, of Port Erie, Ont., that would allow him to cross the international border here to work in the United States.

Goldsmith also said that 130 aliens would be represented by him at the international bridges here to-day for entry into the United States.

If they are denied entrance a blanket writ of habeas corpus will be asked in the Federal District Court in Buffalo. All those seeking entrance are commuters who wish to work in this country.

CALEDONIAN CLUB HEARS TRAVEL TALK

Miss Glover Tells of Trip To Europe—Presentation Made.

The Caledonian Club held a very enjoyable social evening in the W.O.W. Hall last Friday night, Robert Veitch, president, occupied the chair. A great many members and their friends were there and thoroughly enjoyed the program.

The chief feature of the evening was an interesting travel talk by Miss Glover of the Prince of Wales School on her trip to Europe. The time which she spent in Scotland was especially interesting.

Miss Isabel Black delighted the audience with two songs, "My Ain Folk" and "Land of Hope and Glory." She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Veitch.

Mrs. A. Clark then gave a recitation, "Cuddle Doon," which was much enjoyed.

"Hail Caledonia" was sung by Robert Gilmour, and so heartily applauded that he had to respond to an encore. A. Clark played his accompaniments.

Dainty refreshments which the ladies of the Club had provided were then served.

After this the chairman then called on George Low to perform an interesting little ceremony — that of presenting to Mrs. T. McArthur an address, accompanied by two handsome umbrellas, one for herself and one for Mr. McArthur.

The address was as follows:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. McArthur,—It was with much regret that we learned of your intended departure from the city, but this life being so full of meetings and partings, we have to accept the inevitable. The Peterboro Caledonian Club, however, cannot let you go without expressing its appreciation of many years of faithful service to the Club, and ask you to accept these gifts as a token of its friendship and esteem along with sincere good wishes for continued happiness and prosperity in your new sphere of activity."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE POLICE DOG

"Once upon a time," began Uncle Wiggily as he sat on a toadstool under a tree in the woods, with the animal boys and girls gathered about him, "once upon a time there were three bears."

"That isn't the way this fairy story begins!" barked Jackie Bow Wow.

"What fairy story?" asked Mr. Longears.

"The one about Puss in Boots," said Tommie Kat. "That's the story we want—Puss in Boots—look, that's the puzzle picture I drew," and Tommie pointed to the scratches he had made in the soft ground. There was a picture of a little pussy inside a big boot.

"Oh, excuse me!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, with a twinkle of his pink nose, and then the animal boys and girls, who had been let out of school for a picnic with the bunny uncle, knew he was teasing them. "So it is—Puss in Boots."

"Tell us about it," begged Baby Bunty, snuggling up to Uncle Wiggily.

"Hold on, there!"

"And do you know what story you are going to tell us after the one about Puss?" asked Tommie, pointing to the second puzzle drawing in the sand.

"Why, yes," Mr. Longears answered. "Jack the Giant Killer, isn't it?"

"No! No! Jack and the Bean Stalk!" shouted all the animal boys and girls. While Tommie Kat mewed and said:

"Don't you see where I made a picture of an automobile jack, as you once did, and then there's a bean stalk growing? That's Jack and the Bean Stalk."

"Oh, so it is!" murmured Mr. Longears. "How stupid of me." But I think that the Bunny uncle knew, all the while, what the pictured names of the fairy stories were. Don't you?

So with the boys and girls sitting around him, Uncle Wiggily told the two fairy stories and then, after some games in the woods, it was time for everyone to go home.

Uncle Wiggily stayed a little while after the others had gone, and it was quite dark in the woods when the rabbit gentleman began to hop toward his hollow stump bungalow.

All of a sudden, from behind some trees, a voice shouted:

"I've got you! Now I've got you!"

"Oh, dear me!" said poor Uncle Wiggily. "It's one of the Bad Chaps and he's got me at last. My ears will now be nibbled!"

But instead of the Fox, Wolf or Bob Cat slinking out to catch the rabbit, there was Curly Twistytail, the funny pig boy, chasing his little brother, Squeakie Squealer who had a pair of roller skates.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily, glad it was none of the Bad Chaps.

"Squeakie ran away with my roller skates, but I caught him!" cried Curly. Then Squeakie dropped the rollers and ran on so fast he left Curly far behind so the little pig wasn't caught after all. "But I'll get him and make him give me some of his sour milk lollypop for taking my rollers!" squealed Curly.

Away ran the two pigs, leaving the roller skates on the path and Uncle Wiggily picked them up and put them on his own paws.

"If I skate I'll get home more quickly" said the rabbit uncle.

So Uncle Wiggily began to scoot along on the pig boy's roller skates, going whizzity izzity until, all of a sudden, a whistle blew and the Police Dog at the corner barked:

"Hold on there! Where do you think you're going? Don't you see my sign says Stop? Look at it!"

"Oh, excuse me," said Uncle Wiggily, coming to a stop. "I thought your sign was only for autos, Mr. Police Dog."

"It's for autos and rabbits on roller skates!" barked the dog.

"Of course," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I've been to school. It says stop on your sign."

"Well, I won't give you a ticket or arrest you this time," chuckled the Police Dog. "That is I won't if you can make seven other words for me out of the word Stop. Can you?"

"I'll try," said the bunny. "It's a jolly good puzzle."

Make 7 other words

"Why, it's just as new as the day I bought it!"

PICKEREL LIMIT NOT ENFORCED

Ontario Government Is Not Putting Changes Rules Into Effect at Present.

FISHING ALLOWED.

Officers of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association were assured to-day by D. McDonald, Deputy Minister of the Department of Game and Fisheries, that the changes made in the Fisheries Act regarding this and neighboring counties have not yet been put into effect by the Department, and that fishermen may catch pickerel without molestation by overseers. This will answer the questions asked by many fishermen who have been in doubt regarding the changed regulations passed by the Dominion Government and did not know whether to go fishing or not.

OBITUARY

CHARLES EDWARD MONTAGUE

MANCHESTER, England, May 28 (Canadian Press).—Charles Edward Montague, one of England's best-known writers, died of pneumonia at his residence to-day. He was a son-in-law of C. P. Scott, editor of the Manchester Guardian, and for many years he was chief editorial writer of that newspaper. During the war, at 50 years of age, he dyed his hair and enlisted, serving in the front line trenches for eighteen months. He was the author of several novels.

CHARLES CHEU.

The death occurred yesterday, at his home, 160½ Simcoe Street, of Charles Cheu, proprietor of the Rose Room Cafe on George Street, and Cheu's Cafe on Simcoe Street. The deceased was born in Canton, China, 47 years ago, and has been a resident of Ontario for 25 years, and of this city for 12 years.

Mr. Cheu always took a keen interest in sport, and his son Harry was for several years a prominent hockey player on the local teams. He was a member of the Chinese Class of the Murray Street Sunday School and attended that church. For several months he has been in failing health, but his end came very suddenly yesterday.

The funeral will be held to-morrow from his late residence, 160½ Simcoe Street, with Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will take place in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. H. A. CHRISTIE.

TRENT RIVER May 28.—The sudden death occurred Sunday night of Mrs. H. A. Christie at her summer home. On retiring she seemed to be in her usual health. About 10.30 she called her daughter, Marie Davey, to her bedside, who found her in a serious condition. Medical aid was summoned, but no hope was held out for her recovery as she had been seized with a stroke, which ended fatally about half an hour later.

Her son, Will, of Toronto, was sent for, but he arrived too late.

Mrs. Christie, who was 79 years of age, was twice married. Her second husband predeceased her several years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters and three sons, Miss Marie Davey, Mrs. Fred Gain, William, Jack and Donald Christie, all of Toronto.

The remains were taken to Havelock this afternoon, and were sent to Toronto, where the funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the residence of her son, William Christie.

Showers In Wheat Belt Bring Lower Quotations

CHICAGO, May 28 (Canadian Press). — With showers in Canada and moisture expected south of the international boundary, wheat prices averaged lower to-day during early dealings. Field advices from the spring crop belt as a whole, however, continued unfavorable. Opening at ½ to 1¼ cent decline, wheat later fluctuated rapidly, but kept near to the initial limits. Corn and oats were relatively firm, corn starting ⅛c off to ¼c up, and subsequently scoring gains all around. Provisions tended to sag. Opening prices were: Wheat, May 146½, July 149. Corn, May 100⅝, July 101⅝. Oats, May 66, July 56⅛.

Trading Remains Steady Price Tendency Downward

TORONTO, May 28.— (Canadian Press.)—The opening session on the standard stock and mining exchange was without sensation. Trading was steady, with the prevailing price tendency being slightly downward. Noranda, after its sharp rise on Friday, eased off to-day and closed at 25.60 for a loss of 30. Another rather heavy loser was Sudbury Basin, which dropped 55 to 9.10. Wright Hargreaves dropped 10 to 4.20 and Hudson Bay was down 15 at 18.25.

Newbec opened strong and climbed to 59, but later dropped to 46 and closed at 53 for a gain of 3. Teck Hughes was on the upward path with a net rise of 13 to 10.15. and Pen O'reille gained 15 to close at 16.40.

Malartic was a heavy seller but was unchanged at 144. In light trading Dome advanced 15 to 9.40. Argonaut had a large turnover and was down a fraction at 9 1-8. Changes elsewhere in the list included Big Missouri, up 1-2 at 69 1-2, Hollinger down 30 at 15.10, Premier down 4 at 2.21, and Central Manitoba down 2 at 1.28.

Cockshutt Makes Advance On Quiet Trading Market

TORONTO, Ont., May 28 (Canadian Press).— Trading was somewhat quiet on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning, with prices fluctuating in a very narrow margin. Cockshutt Preferred continued its advance and scored a gain of 7 to close at 129, while Common, the heaviest seller of the morning, was up 1½ when it closed at 30¼. International Nickel and Walkers were the only other issues to show much activity. The former was down ½ at 95¾ and later gained a fraction to close at 61½.

Photo Engravers closed firm at 38 after selling up to 38½. Brazilian was unchanged at 60. Massey-Harris after selling to 42, reacted to 40½ for a loss of ¾.

Bank of Toronto lost most of its gain scored on Friday when it reacted 5 to 310. Except for a drop of one point by the Standard Bank, other bank issues were unchanged.

British-American Oil in the unlisted section showed good sales, but was down a fraction at 39. Dominion Bridge was a little easier at 88¾ and Northern Bakeries was down ½ at 43½.

WEDDING BELLS

KELLY—QUINLAN

Mr. and Mrs. David Quinlan announce the marriage of their daughter, Dora, to Thomas Philip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly, at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Toronto, by Rev. Father B. Webster.

STRATTON—TOUGH.

Rosedale Presbyterian Church lovely with apple blossoms and ferns, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Olga Florence, daughter of Mrs. Robert J. Tough and the late Mr. Tough, was married to James Reginald Stratton of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stratton of Peterborough. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Captain Paulin, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lewis.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Kenneth Zimmerman, looked charming in her wedding dress of white satin and lace, veiled in ivory chiffon and edged with pearls. The long sleeves were edged with pearls, and the bodice was enriched with a pearl ornament. A court train of ivory satin was inset with chiffon and embroidered in pearls. The long, filmy tulle veil was edged with exquisite lace, and caught at the back of the head with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride carried a large bouquet of mauve orchids and white lilacs.

Mrs. Norman Townley, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor and wore a pretty frock of watermelon chiffon over matching satin slip enriched with lace and pearls. The large hat was expressed in mohair and caught at the back with a matching velvet bow. The bouquet was arranged in shaded lilacs. Miss Eleanor McKay, niece of the bride, and Miss Elizabeth Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Greene, were dainty little flower girls in frocks of pleated pink chiffon and wreath of mauve and pink flowers in their hair. They carried pale green baskets of rose petals, which they scattered in the path of the bride.

Mr. Wilfred Stratton was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Arthur C. Ryerson, Harry A. Hutson, Lester W. Hopkins, and Horace Beck. During the signing of the register Mrs. J. L. McSweeney of Montreal sang.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Glen Road, when Mrs. Tough wore a smart ensemble of grey crepe with hat of silver and black lace and corsage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Stratton, mother of the bridegroom, wore a lovely dress of figured chiffon, with matching hat, and carried mauve and pink larkspur.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton left for a trip to New York, the bride travelling in a navy blue tailored costume, with hat en suite and fisher fur. On their return to town Mr. and Mrs. Stratton will live in Highlands Avenue. — Toronto Globe.

The Misses Stratton, Hunter Street, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall, and Mr. J. Matthews attended the Stratton-Tough wedding in Toronto on Saturday.

SANITARY INSPECTOR ORDERED TO ACCOMPANY DISTRICT M.O.H. TO SURVEY CITY'S MILK SUPPLY

Board of Health Authorizes Him to Make Tour of Producers.

BUSY TIME OF YEAR.

Mr. Stapleton Declines to Leave Duties Here Without Orders From Board.

Dr. N. H. Sutton, the District Officer of Health and Sanitary Inspector C. S. Stapleton are to carry out an inspection of the milk supply for the city of Peterborough as part of the plan laid down by the Department of Public Health for the Province of Ontario. Dr. Sutton has inspected all other centres in his district and yesterday he sought permission from the Board of Health at its special meeting to have Sanitary Inspector C. S. Stapleton accompany him on his tour of inspection for this city.

Previous requests had been made to the Board by Dr. Sutton and the matter was left with Dr. Young, the M.O.H., but no action had been taken. After the meeting of Wednesday Dr. Sutton spoke to Alderman Ackerman, the chairman, about the inspection, with the result that Alderman Ackerman asked Mr. Stapleton if he would be available on Monday. Mr. Stapleton declined to go unless ordered to by the Board or the M.O.H.

The result of the meeting was that Mr. Stapleton was authorized to proceed this morning with Dr. Sutton on the milk inspection. Dr. Sutton wished to get the inspection over as early as possible before the cows would be turned on the grass and he acknowledged that this time of the year was Mr. Stapleton's very busiest so he promised to work along hours.

Would Be Instructive Tour.

Alderman Ackerman explained to the members that the meeting had been called as a result of a conversation with the District M.O.H., who had asked that the sanitary inspector accompany him on an inspection of the outside milk supply of this city. "I called Mr. Stapleton on Saturday night and asked him if he would be available on Monday morning to go with Dr. Sutton, but he said he would not go unless he received an order from the Board of Health, and he told me in no uncertain way. Later in our conversation he told me he would go if he received instructions from the M.O.H."

Mayor Denne: "Dr. Sutton, have you instructions from Toronto to make this inspection?"

Dr. Sutton: "Yes."

Mayor Denne: "In writing?"

Dr. Sutton: "No, verbally. Nearly all our instructions come as the result of conferences."

Mayor Denne: "Are you aware the sanitary inspector has made an inspection?"

Dr. Sutton: "Quite so. This is a survey of milk conditions in the whole district. The supply has been divided as coming from two classes—producer and producer-dealer. It is my intention to inspect the producer-dealer class. All over the district the sanitary inspectors or food inspectors have accompanied me. It is an instructional tour for them, so that in the future they might hand into the department a report that would be of some use and that they might carry out their duties more efficiently."

Mr. Turner: "We are glad to see this cleaned up. I move that Mr. Stapleton be instructed to accompany Dr. Sutton."

Mayor Denne: "I want to be quite fair to Mr. Stapleton. He was in Toronto on Friday, and his work got behind, and hence he was not able to go this morning."

Alderman Ackerman: "Mr. Mayor, there is no need of an explanation in this affair. I called him up and asked him if he would be available, and his answer was that he would not do it. I do not think any person said he was unreasonable, and I simply asked him if he could be available, as the citizens would benefit in this milk inspection, and also Mr. Stapleton himself."

Busiest Time of Year.

Dr. Sutton then referred to a conversation which he had with the sanitary inspector Mr. Stapleton told him he was very busy at this time of year, and the doctor had replied that the inspection would be done as quickly as possible. He was willing to work long hours, as he knew that this was a busy time with the sanitary inspector.

Mr. Stapleton: "I am perfectly willing to go when I am called upon and do my duties. When I was called at 5.30 on Saturday night I could not make arrangements for Monday, and I answered in the only way possible. I take my orders from the M.O.H., but recently I have often wondered whom I should take my orders from."

The discussion closed with Mr. Turner and Mr. Reynolds moving that Mr. Stapleton carry out the inspection with Dr. Sutton, the work to start this morning.

South Africa will soon have its fifth radio broadcasting station.

Plan Celebration For Dominion Day

The presidents of the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce and Automobile Association, together with several citizens, met in the Board room of the Chamber of Commerce last night to discuss plans for a Dominion Day celebration in this city. Those present were unanimous that there should be one and they were asked to appoint three members from the various clubs to form a central committee. Water sports in the morning were discussed, but the members did not want to conflict with any plans the Central Ontario baseball team have made. These sports will be one of the features and it is expected that there will be added more attractions in this line than last year. The central committee, together with interested citizens will meet at 7.30 next Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss plans.

PICKEREL LIMIT NOT ENFORCED

Ontario Government Is Not Putting Changes Rules Into Effect at Present.

FISHING ALLOWED.

Officers of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association were assured to-day by D. McDonald, Deputy Minister of the Department of Game and Fisheries, that the changes made in the Fisheries Act regarding this and neighboring counties have not yet been put into effect by the Department, and that fishermen may catch pickerel without molestation by overseers. This will answer the questions asked by many fishermen who have been in doubt regarding the changed regulations passed by the Dominion Government and did not know whether to go fishing or not.

BLUE ATTRACTS POLICEMEN

Blue is the most effective color to attract policemen at night, according to tests made by city officials of Sheffield, England. The city has just installed in outlying districts booths surmounted by powerful blue lamps, which when lighted by a switch in central office, summon the policemen from their beats to nearby telephones to receive instructions.

CUT IN GAS RATES BY HYDRO WITH NEGOTIATIONS GOING ON TAKES ALDERMEN BY SURPRISE

Want Information On Altered Situation Before Going Further In Matter.

HAD APPOINTMENT.

Council Was To Have Gone To Toronto To-morrow To Discuss Purchase Price of Plant.

Because of the unexpected move by the Hydro Electric Power Commission in reducing the price of gas the City Council will not go to Toronto to-morrow to negotiate for the purchase of the local gas plant, as has been arranged. Instead, Mayor Denne and City Clerk Armstrong will keep the appointment made for the whole council and ask for detailed information about what difference the reductions will make to the revenue of the plant and whether the commission will make any reduction in the price of the plant.

This decision was reached at a short meeting of the committee of the whole council, called at short notice for last night in order that the changed situation might be considered.

The change had come as a great surprise to the council. It was, Mayor Denne, declared, a "monkey wrench thrown into the machinery." Ald. Greene was of the opinion that the council should do what he said any one of the aldermen would do in his private business under such circumstances, call off the negotiations at once, but he was willing, as the Mayor and Mr. Armstrong have other business in Toronto that day, that a motion by Ald. Cotton, that they should get more information, should go through unopposed.

The aldermen were agreed that the change in rates has greatly reduced the chances of getting the people to sanction the purchase. It had been hoped that the city would be able to buy the plant at a price that would permit a reduction, and this would meet with the favor of the ratepayers. "The Hydro has stolen our thunder", was Ald. Huffman's expression for this phase of the situation.

Ald. Cotton proposed that a reduced representation wait on the commission. There might be some benefit in the change for the city, he argued, and the aldermen should go as far as possible in the matter, rather than throw it up without probing it further. The commission might plan to reduce the price in proportion to the cut in the revenue and the city would therefore profit. His proposition was accepted.

Before the meeting adjourned the usual barrage of questions was fired at Ald. Stocker. It seemed that every alderman had some street in mind as needing instant attention, and "when" was the first word in almost every query.

JAPAN'S ACTION VERY IMPORTANT

League Considers It As Showing Great Powers Ready To Fill Obligations.

GENEVA, May 29 (Canadian Press).—The League of Nations attaches importance to the fact that it received a communication direct from the Japanese Government to-day, presenting the Japanese version of the Shantung dispute, because it believes that this reinforces the idea that the great nations will take cognizance of their obligations as members of the League and inform the League what they are doing and why they are doing it.

Wreckage of Steamer Kamloops and Bodies Of Two Members Of Crew Found On Reefs

SAULTE STE. MARIE, Mich., May 29 (Canadian Press).—The reefs of Isle Royale, in Lake Superior, have yielded the wreckage of a steamship and the bodies of two members of her lost crew of twenty-two, to give a grim explanation of the disappearance during a lashing storm last December of the Canadian package freighter Kamloops.

The bodies were found by the crew of the costguard cutter Crawford, sent out from Port Arthur, Ontario, following a report by fishermen that they had sighted the wreckage Saturday. One was identified as that of J. Dourneault, of Saulte Ste. Marie, Ont. The other body has not been identified. A further search of the shores of the island is to be made in the hope of finding additional bodies.

Information that the wreckage had been identified and the bodies found was contained in a message received here yesterday by Captain H. G. Fish, in charge of the Great Lakes Division of the Canadian Steamship Line, from the commanding officer of the Crawford.

The fate of the Kamloops and her crew of twenty men and two women had been a mystery since the steamer, bound for Duluth with a cargo of wire, was seen to disappear in the churning, icy waters of the lake during a terrific storm last December 3.

The steamer followed by the freighter Quedoc, had cleared Sault Ste. Marie a short time before being caught in the storm, which wrought havoc to lake shipping. The crew of the Quedoc reported having last seen the Kamloops heading towards the dangerous reefs of Isle Royale, apparently in distress. Because of the severity of the storm the Quedoc was unable to stand by, and proceeded out of the danger zone after sounding a warning.

The storm and ice packs during the Winter months blocked all rescue efforts, and nothing more was heard from the ill-fated steamer until the finding of the wreckage.

FOUR WOUNDED WHEN STUDENTS BATTLE POLICE

Jugo-Slav Authorities Put Down Demonstrations Against Treaty.

PROTEST LODGED.

Italy Demands Satisfaction For Attacks On Consulates and Cessation of Riots.

BELGRADE, Jugo Slavia, May 29 (Canadian Press). — Four students were seriously wounded and 26 others injured in a drawn battle early this morning between police and students who were demonstrating against the ratification of the Nettuno convention. The conflict was ended when reinforcements of gendarmes and mounted policemen arrived on the scene. Police officers and gendarmes were also wounded. About 100 persons were arrested.

A. Boudrero, Italian minister, today lodged a written protest against the continued anti-Italian demonstrations in Jugo-Slavia with the government. It was couched in the most pre-emptory terms.

ROME, May 29 (Canadian Press). —Premier Mussolini has directed the Italian minister in Belgrade to present a note of protest against the recent attacks upon Italian Consulates, asking for "urgent satisfaction."

CIVIC EMPLOYEES REMANDED A WEEK

TORONTO, May 29 (Canadian Press).—William Johnston and J. A. Woods, former City Hall employees, who were arrested last night on charges of the theft of civic funds, were remanded till June 5, when they appeared in police court to-day. No evidence was taken. Two other former employees are summoned to appear on Friday, while warrants have been issued for three more whom the police have been unable to locate.

Italian Flier Will Aid In Nobile Search

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N.Y., May 29 (Canadian Press).—Caesare Sabelli, Italian flier, who is preparing for a New York to Rome flight, announced last night that he will hop off before noon to-day for the Arctic to aid in the search for the dirigible Italia unless word of its safety is received before this morning.

He plans to fly direct to Spokane, Washington, he said, thence to Point Barrow, Alaska, and from there across the Pole to the vicinity in which he might expect to find the Italia.

"Our plane is ready for immediate flight," he said. "I am an Italian. Peter Bonelli, my navigator, is an Italian, and Roger Williams, my chief pilot, is a very brave man. We are ready to go to the aid of our countryman, General Nobile."

If Nobile's ship is heard from before Sabelli takes off, he said, he will abandon his polar flight plans and continue with preparations for the trans-Atlantic journey.

THREE RELIEF EXPEDITIONS TO SEARCH ARCTIC WASTES FOR LOST DIRIGIBLE ITALIA

Famous Explorers Are Included Among Those Aiding in Search.

MAKE AIR SURVEY.

Believed Ship Down Upon Ice Somewhere North of Spitzbergen.

OSLO, Norway, May 29 (Associated Press).—Three expeditions, with a fourth in prospect, were under way last night in an effort to bring aid to the dirigible Italia, now missing more than three days after her successful flight to the North Pole.

Included among the men pitting their knowledge of the inhospitable polar regions against the disaster which may have overtaken General Umberto Nobile were such men as Roald Amundsen, noted polar authority, and Captain Otto Sverdrup, famous as an Arctic explorer, who are giving their counsel to the Norwegian Government in preparing for an extensive relief expedition.

While the base ship Citta Di Milano was held up outside of King's Bay by ice floes that blocked her progress, and the steamship Braganza was en route from Tromsoe, Norway, to Spitsbergen to help in the search, Lieut. Luetzow Holm, Norwegian flying expert, took off in a Norwegian navy hydroplane from the Horten base for Tromsoe. Lieut. Holm planned to reach the sealer Hobby and to load his plane aboard her for a quick voyage to Spitsbergen.

In according with the theory of Captain Riiser-Larsen, who probably will head the main Norwegian relief expedition, that the Italia came down upon the ice somewhere north of Spitsbergen, Lieut. Holm will explore the north and north-east coasts of Spitsbergen. Every meteorological condition indicated that the Italia must have come down north of her base in Captain Larsen's opinion and an air survey of this district appears to offer the best prospects of finding the missing airship.

Further light on a mysterious message picked up in California Sunday reporting that the Italia was in distress and asking for help, was shed yesterday by receipt of word at Washington that the United States naval transport Chaumont, stationed near Tientsin, China, had picked up an almost identical message Sunday night.

There appeared some doubt as to whether the message heard in California was directly from the Italia, but the Chaumont's message indicated clearly that it had been sent out as an ordinary message from a station, probably from Vladivostok, notifying other stations of the plight of the dirigible.

The Chaumont's message read: "C. Q. De ASRAO3, QTC. Dirigible. General Nobile is in distress asking for help. He is supplied with a short wave, 30.33 metre, radio."

One Expedition Called Off.

OSLO, May 29.—(Canadian Press.) —The auxiliary relief expedition which the Norwegian government has been preparing to search for the dirigible Italia has been suspended indefinitely, as the Italian government was said to be inclined to await further developments.

Reports that the dirigible Italia was down at Amsterdam Island, North Spitsbergen, were received in Oslo with great skepticism to-day as the base ship Citta Di Milano passed the island on its outward trip on Sunday and it appeared, therefore, quite incredible that the Italia could have landed there without being observed at that time.

The Italian Legation in Oslo is constantly receiving messages from the Citta Di Milano but has heard nothing to substantiate the Amsterdam Island report and in the opinion of the Legation the report cannot be true.

Captain Riiser Larsen, who was to lead the relief expedition, expressed the view that the report was due to a misunderstanding.

Weather Unfavorable.

KING'S BAY, May 29. — (Canadian Press.)— Unfavorable weather conditions, including intense cold and heavy snow, were prevailing here to-day, increasing the difficulty of the base ship Citta Di Milano, now out in the Polar Sea searching for the missing dirigible Italia.

The above despatch, fyled from King's Bay at 5 am. Eastern Standard time, made no mention of reports received in Oslo that the Italia had come down on Amsterdam Island, which is near the scene of the Citta Di Milano's operations.

Aviator Arrives.

OSLO, May 29.—(Canadian Press.) —Lieut. Luetzow Holm, Norwegian flying face, arrived at Tromsoe at 11 o'clock this morning en route to Spitsbergen, where he will conduct an air search for the missing dirigible Italia. He will embark with his plane on the steamer Hobby immediately and will leave for King's Bay this evening.

Nobile Base Ship Battling Storm

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 29 (A.P.).—A wireless message indicating that the Citta de Milano, mother ship of the Italian Arctic expedition, was battling a fierce nowstorm was intercepted here by the naval radio station at 3.25 p.m. yesterday.

The message was in Italian and addressed to "Marina Roma." It gave the ship's position as "north of Cape Barren about 80 degrees north latitude," and said the vessel was attempting to make a passage, but had encountered a "bad and terrific sleet and snow storm." The message was signed "Citta di Milano."

Y.W.C.A. WORKER FROM BURMA ADDRESSES LOCAL ASSOCIATION

Miss Marion Ferguson is Principal Speaker at Annual Meeting.

REPORTS PRESENTED.

Many Interested Ladies Gather to Consider Year's Accomplishments.

Featured by a highly interesting and educational address by Miss Marion Ferguson, Financial Secretary of National Y.W.C.A., home on furlough from Burma, the annual general meeting of the Peterborough Y.W.C.A. held last evening in the association building, Simcoe street, was attended by a large number of interested ladies. On opening, devotional period in charge of the Rev. Dr. Blagrave, comprehensive reports, musical selections, and numbers from the recent pageant were included in the program while the report of the nominating committee named a number of ladies who, as the Board of Directors, will carry on the work of the Y.W.C.A. for the ensuing year. A brief swimming exhibition in the pool and the serving of refreshments followed the meeting proper.

Following the devotional exercises, during which the Rev. Mr. Blagrave spoke briefly on the season of Pentecost, Miss M. Hamilton, president of the Y.W.C.A. Board, took the chair, welcoming those present to the annual meeting and mentioning the widening scope of girls' work being carried on. A piano solo by Miss Marguerite Rome was deserving of the hearty applause accorded it.

When the minutes of the last general meeting had been read by the secretary of the "Y" board, Miss A. Wood, Miss Hamilton introduced the speaker of the evening, referring to the fact that she had graduated from Toronto University and for a number of years following had been foreign secretary in Rangoon, Burma.

Miss Marion Ferguson.

Miss Ferguson proved a particularly pleasing speaker. Rather than speaking on financial matters, she expressed a desire to address her audience as a foreign secretary home on furlough and to tell of Y.W.C.A. work in Burma. This desire she attributed to two reasons—her work had qualified her to speak on that subject, and her experience had taught her that Y.W.C.A. workers should raise their eyes and look beyond the job at hand (the work at home).

As a background for her address, Miss Ferguson then carried her auditors, in fancy, to Burma, that northern part of the peninsula east of the main Peninsula of India. It is a province of India, yet geographically it is separated and its people differ from those of India. They are of Mongolian origin chiefly, with other races and languages frequently encountered. The speaker then proceeded with a review of the various peoples, telling of a visit in the northern districts where she dwelt among a tribe almost entirely Christianized within one generation; and of the two main southern races, the Karens, who came to Christ easily and the Burmese proper, who, as Buddhists, presented a more formidable problem. The styles of dress and other customs she described.

Of the Y.W.C.A. work in Rangoon, Miss Ferguson mentioned the response and desires of the Anglo-Indian girls (Anglo-Indian meaning those of mixed blood), who work in shops and business places as well as at nursing. The opening of large hostels was told of and incidents were related, indicative of the splendid results of the work and a plea to the women in Peterborough and elsewhere throughout the Dominion to carry on the foreign program concluded the address.

Two pleasing vocal solos were contributed by Miss M. Jory, accompanied by Dorothy Allan Park, previous to the reading of the financial statement by Miss E. Morrow and the report from the nominating committee. The new Board of Directors comprises Mrs. E. Walsh and Mrs. T. Cruickshank, honorary presidents and Miss M. Hamilton, Mrs. W. D. Scott, Miss M. Dickson; Miss E. Morrow; Mrs. R. Neill; Mrs. R. H. Turner; Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner; Mrs. George Macdonald; Mrs. E. E. Harvey; Mrs. W. R. Widdess; Miss E. McConnell; Mrs. D. F. Drummond; Mrs. N. D. Light On Armour Hill Considered By League

Plans were discussed for the erection of a light on Armour Hill by the members of the Ashburnham Patriotic Society which held its regular monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Gordon Logan, 72 Sophia street. A committee was appointed to consider the question of the light. Plans were made for the opening of the Ashburnham Hall with a big party as soon as the renovation is completed.

Great sorrow was felt amongst the members in the loss, by death, of their 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Wilena Taylor. Mrs. Taylor was always a most faithful worker of the society and the members greatly missed her able advice and presence.

EMPIRE DAY IN WARSAW SCHOOL

Splendid Musical Program Given by Pupils of District.

ADDRESSES READ

WARSAW, May 29.—Warsaw School had an Empire Day program from three to four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The pupils of both rooms were seated in the senior room, three being crowded into most of the seats. A few lady visitors were present.

Clarence Tedford was chairman, and as soon as all were seated he began his duties. The whole school sang "From Ocean Unto Ocean"; Rhoda Lloyd read "Our Union Jack"; Clarence Tedford delivered his chairman's address by explaining why the Empire Day program was given on the twenty-third of May instead of on the twenty-fourth in the school; Reta Robertson read an address, "What does it mean to be a member of the British Empire?"; the Senior School sang "The Recessional"; Jean Munro read "Empire Day" (by Earl Grey), and Cora Crowe read an address, "The Visit of Premier Baldwin and the Prince of Wales"; the Junior Room sang "Here is a Health Unto His Majesty"; Clarence Payne read "The British Empire"; Iva Payne recited "The Union Jack"; Ivan Clements gave the speech at the unveiling of the bronze tablet, presented by the Department of Education, in commemoration of the Jubilee. Orville Watts and John Dewart unveiled the tablet, while Iva Payne and Clarence Jakings held flags.

Rev. J. T. O'Conor-Fenton complimented those who had taken part on their clear enunciation. He noticed a flag put upside down on the staff, and explained the composition of the flag and what it means to invert it. He told that what were often spoken of as the crosses of St. Andrew and St. Patrick, are not really crosses but saltires; a cross stands on one upright, while a saltire is diagonal. Then he spoke of the British Empire and the titles of King George V. The King is King by the Grace of God, that being the case, God is our King. Ten times in the Bible God says the Lord of Hosts is His name. He drew the idea that a host is an orderly array of people. God is the head of orderly people, and to be orderly people must be true, clean, courteous, unselfish, brotherly.

Selfish people are not part of the Lord's host. They are not helping make the world better. To be true one must be loyal to one's country, to one's province, township, village, home, parish or other religious fraternity.

Could the address be given in full and show Mr. Fenton's earnestness, it would mean more.

He had attended Queen Victoria's Jubilee services in London in 1897, and described the orderly parade of soldiers and representatives from all parts of the British Dominions.

Kenyon Choate read an article about Sir Walter Raleigh, the first Empire builder. All sang "O Canada."

A vote of thanks to Mr. Fenton was given by Cora Crowe and Alec Bowen.

After the National Anthem the school, led by Mr. Currie, repeated "Lighten Our Darkness."

The school-room was prettily decorated with maple branches, flags, drawn by the pupils, and paper shamrock leaves.

After the service the brethren marched to their lodge room again, where short speeches were made by local and visiting members of the order. LADIES GUESTS OF MEN'S CLUB

Christ Church Men Prepare Banquet For Women of Church.

ADDRESSES FOLLOW.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 29. — About eighty ladies of the congregation of Christ Church were the guests of Christ Church Men's Club at a banquet in the Parish Hall, Rear street, yesterday evening. The entire banquet was arranged and served by the men, although it was admitted later that some of the ladies could not help but come in during the afternoon and see what was going on. They naturally felt the impulse to add a touch here and there, and did so. But they admitted that they had really done no work. Red and white, the colors adopted by the club at a recent meeting, were the principal colors in the decorations. The candles which lighted the tables were arranged alternately in these colors, and there was a red runner the full length along the middle of each of the three long tables. Blossoms and early flowers were also used to advantage. The decorating was done under the direction of A. T. Linton. Joseph Poulton was in charge of affairs in the kitchen, and A. J. Jenkins generalled the exceptionally efficient staff of waiters. The program was under the direction of Robert Dunk. S. H. Neale, president of the club, was the toastmaster of the evening.

Among those seated at the head table were S. H. Neale, the Rev. Ernest Harston, Mrs. Charles Bonnycastle, Mrs. J. M. Bygott, Mrs. N. Clarke Wallace, Mrs. Ernest Harston. Mrs. R. T. Cowell, Mrs. A. T. Linton, Mrs. Fred Linton, Mrs. J. P. Archer, Mrs. S. H. Neale and Mrs. Nelson Lloyd.

During the dinner a two-piece orchestra, Mrs. Russel Ayrhart, piano, and Leslie Clegg, saxaphone, furnished suitable music.

In introducing the first speaker, Mr. Neale remarked that the occasion was most unique in the annals of the church here. It was the first time that the men had given anything to the ladies of the congregation. The reverse was more often the case. The banquet was given by the men of the church to the ladies of the church, and was under the direction of the mens' club, he said. It was an attempt to express their appreciation for the many years of work which the ladies had given to the church. The tables were new and were the gift of J. R. Wilkinson to the Willing Workers of Christ Church. (Applause). Briefly then, Mr. Neale proposed the toast to the King.

The second toast was to the Church, and was proposed by Mrs. J. P. Archer. She expressed her pleasure at being given the privilege of proposing the toast to her church, and was proud of its history. She thought that if the members would fully realize their duty to the church its future would be even more brilliant than its past.

Rev. Ernest Harston considered the response to such a toast a difficult task, particularly when it had been proposed by a woman. He requested that the women listen to him as the men listen to the women, with patience and long-suffering.

"Christ said, 'I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against me,'" said Mr. Harston. This had been uttered in a pagan atmosphere, but it had come true. There was no need to fear that the church would go to the wall. There would never be another centre than the church. It is not man-made, but has its origin in God. Even so, the criticisms which are levelled at it are to be expected.

Though it is of divine origin, its purpose must be obtained through human effort. The effort which was required for this work Mr. Harston compared to the effort required for various modern activities. He also mentioned the various kinds of people who hinder the progress of the church. In conclusion, he pleaded with the women to continue to take the church work seriously for the ultimate success of the Kingdom.

To the rector, Rev. N. Clarke Wallace, fell the lot of proposing the toast to the ladies. At this point the lights were turned off and the room was lighted by candles on the tables only. Mr. Wallace said that the occasion gave him a great deal of pleasure. He had addressed a number of men's meetings, but this was the first time he had ever had the opportunity to address the real

PRIZE SPEECH IN ORATORY CONTEST

Miss Agnes Birkett Winner of First Prize in Contest.

MADOC, May 29.—The following is the speech which won the first prize and medal for the Public School seniors at the oratorical contest held in the Empire Theatre recently. The prize was won by Miss Agnes Birkett:—

Madam Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, the subject of my speech tonight is, "A King in the Making."

At 10.30 on the morning of June 23rd, 1894, the bells of Kingston church, Richmond, near London, rang out glad tidings to an anxious England. The waiting bell ringers of the neighbouring hamlets caught up the notes, and on and on their melody rolled until the land rejoiced because an heir had come to the nation's throne.

At White Lodge, in Richmond Park, to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, now King George and Queen Mary, of Great Britain, their first child, a son, was born. This son is to-day Edward, seventeenth Prince of Wales.

An eager welcome he received, not only because he was England's heir, but for the first time in history an English sovereign could look upon a direct line of male descendants for three generations.

On July 11th, in the drawing room of White Lodge he was christened. Held in the lap of Queen Victoria, the Archbishop of Canterbury gave him his name of Edward, Albert, Christian, George, Andrew, Patrick, David. His sponsors were his four grandparents. Gifts came from all over the world to grace the nursery of this little tot whose birthright was an Empire.

Personality was his from the beginning, a sunny child, more given to laughter than to tears. He was pensive, had a will of his own, and neither coaxing nor discipline changed his mind. People fell easily under his spell, even Queen Victoria, who was not given to capitulation, inclined her will to his winsomeness.

At the age of six the young Prince began his schooling under Madam Bricka, a French woman. He showed an aptitude for languages and history at once, particularly the latter, and took great delight in learning about his ancestors and the heroes of their eigns.

When he was eight he received a number of school children and teachers, from many schools of Paddington, at Marlborough House. The little Prince received them with an easy grace, showing that his training for the future had taken soil.

In May, 1907, Prince Edward boarded the Royal yacht at Portsmouth, and with his father, Prince George of Wales, sailed for Cowes to enter the Royal Naval College at Osborne. For two years the Prince studied hard. He was under the same necessity for fair scholarship as the other boys if he wished to matriculate for Dartsmouth.

In 1909 Edward said a regretful goodbye to Osborne. After a short vacation, he was to enter Dartsmouth Naval College, where he would finish his course, and become a midshipman in His Majesty's Navy.

The Easter week of 1909, as was usual with the Royal Family, was spent at Windsor Castle.

District Churches

MADOC CHURCHES

MADOC, May 29.—A bright, though cool, Sunday brought good congregations to all the churches, on Sunday. The usual well-attended services were held in the Anglican and Roman Catholic Churches, with large attendance at each of the Sunday Schools, that at St. Peter's Church being withdrawn on account of the observance of Blossom Sunday. The Senior Girls of the Sunday school formed the morning choir, and the Sunday school scholars marched up by classes. The church was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms. All the musical part of the service was furnished by the girls, "The Blossom Choir" and was much enjoyed by the large congregation present. The beauty of the service was enhanced by baptism by the Rev. Mr. Marshall of the infant twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McCoy. These were baptised Robert Alexander and Carl Adams.

In place of a sermon, the address was to the children and was illustrated by objects. A beautiful chorus was given by the full choir, "Birds are singing, woods are ringing," and the anthem, of special sweetness, was "The Children's Friend is Jesus" with the duet part taken by Lamoine West and Hazel Carswell. The whole morning worship was of a beauty not soon forgotten.

In the evening, Mr. Marshall's subject was "False and True Flowers," an evangelistic address with suitable hymns and anthem.

In Trinity United Church, the morning subject was "John Bunyan" in memory of the three hundredth anniversary of his birth. The evening service opened with a short song service and the subject was "Was Jesus like Elijah or Jeremiah?"

MILLBROOK CARS COLLIDE IN STREET

Small Damage Done in Sunday Morning Motor Accident.

MILLBROOK, May 29.—A motor accident, that narrowly escaped having serious consequences, occurred about 9.30 on Sunday morning when Weston Fallis, in turning into his own driveway, was run into by another car, driven by a man from Canton, that was proceeding north on Tupper street.

Not noticing that there was anyone behind him, Mr. Fallis had failed to signal his intention of turning across the road, and the driver of the car about to pass neglected to sound his horn.

The collision sent Mr. Fallis' car right up on the pavement, but the impact was lessened by the fact that the other driver swerved sharply to the left as far as possible in an effort to avoid hitting the car in front of him [illegible] in the side; as a result, his car took the ditch and was jammed against the bridge spanning the culvert; two or three boards having to be removed and another car which happened to be passing having to be pressed into service to draw him out on the road again.

A badly bent fender was apparently the sum total of the damage to the Fallis' car, and the other, which contained two ladies besides the driver, continued on its journey to Lindsay.

AN ELEMENT FOR KEEPING YOUNG

Potassium is an element that relaxes the tissues of the body, making them soft and pliable, and for this reason should be of particular value to counteract the tension that so many people labor under in this age of speed madness. It increases growth, strength, longevity, and is essential to reproducing the species.

This does not mean that you should go out and eat a quantity of potash, such as is used for fertilizer, because if you did your relatives would probably have the task of selecting suitable flowers. Neither potassium nor any of the other mineral salts can be properly assimilated by the body unless they have been first prepared for our use by lower forms of organic life, particularly the plants.

You probably know that protein foods that are so essential to life because of the nitrogen they contain, leave powerful acid end-products which must be neutralized or thrown out of the body, or they would destroy it. These phosphorus, sulphuric, and uric acids are neutralized by potassium and sodium. Potassium also protects us against many of the virulent poisons of intestinal putrefaction as it is utilized by the liver for this specific purpose.

When your doctor tells you that you are suffering from acidosis, he probably means that you are lacking in potassium, sodium, calcium, and other alkaline-producing elements. The best cure for acidosis is to use the fruits and vegetables that are richest in these elements. Potassium, like nitrogen, can not be used in its pure state by the body. It has to come to us in an organized form.

Many people who are underweight and easily exhausted are starving for potassium because it is necessary to assist in the changing of certain food products so that they can be used by our tissues. For instance, grape sugar is stored in the tissues as an animal starch called glycogen. A portion of the latter may be converted into fat. Potassium is required to bring about these important changes. It is also needed to reconvert peptones and amino acids into proteins of our muscles and blood.

Potassium as well as being one of the lightest and softest metals is also one of the most electro-positive, and it is this latter fact that is supposed to account for its being so essential to the vigor of the brain and nervous system.

There could be no life of either plant or animal without potassium, and I am giving you a list of those foods which I recommend that are richest in this valuable element. They are: Tomatoes, turnips, celery, dandelion, rutabagas, watercress, and cucumbers. Rhubarb, lettuce, sorrel, cabbage and Swiss chard are also as rich in potassium, but I do not recommend them unless the other vegetables are hard to obtain.

If you want to keep your muscles pliable, your arteries from hardening, and your glandular secretions sufficiently alkaline, eat plenty of potassium. As a preventer of many diseases, it is valuable. It is an interesting fact that plants which become infested with parasites are usually grown on soil that is deficient in this element.

Questions and Answers.

Question: W. Y. T. writes: "I cannot drink anything cold. If I do, it gives me a cold, and a heavy feeling in my stomach which I don't get over in a week or two. What is my trouble and can you help me?"

Answer: Some stomachs are particularly sensitive to cold, and it seems to me the sensible plan for you to adopt is to use warm or only slightly cool drinks, but never cold ones. It is never a good plan for anyone to drink very cold liquids.

Question: Butterfly asks: "When was Oleomargarin first used, and what was its composition?"

Answer: Oleomargarin was devised in 1870 by the French chemist, Mege-Mouries. He used beef oleo (oleo is the oil obtained from animal fat), milk and water, churning them together and using annatto, a dye obtained from the annatto tree of Central America, to color it.

Question: Mary J. writes: "I have been troubled with my hands sweating. Will you please publish a cure for this?"

Answer: Excessive sweating of the hands is generally a sign of some nervous disorder. If you will search out the cause of your trouble you will no doubt find that your nervousness originates from dietetic errors and lack of exercise. If you will get up a good sweat every day this will help materially in throwing out irritating impurities which may be causing your nervousness. Send for my special article called "A Daily Sweat."

LITTLE SENTIMENT FOR CAROL

Although reports hint that Carol, former Crown Prince of Roumania, is anxious to gain the throne now occupied by his six-year-old son, Michael, there appears to be little sentiment for Carol among the army or the peasantry, although the latter are demanding the resignation of the Bratianu ministry. A recent studio portrait of Michael, the boy king, and his mother, the former Princess Helen of Greece, is shown ABOVE. The other picture shows Prince Carol, Michael's father, with his dog, photographed on the estate of G. C. Jonescu in Surrey, England. Carol has been requested by the British home office to leave England, because of his alleged political activities, but has appealed against the order.

DETROIT RIVER BRIDGE PASSES

Parliamentary Committee Approves Bill For Amherstburg Structure.

POLICY OUTLINED.

OTTAWA, May 29.—(Canadian Press).—The parliamentary committee on Railways and Canals yesterday passed the bill incorporating the Detroit River Canadian Bridge Company. Some discussion as to the Government policy in connection with the construction of international bridges and the financial clauses of the bill arose and following a brief debate these matters were disposed of.

The purpose of the bill is to construct a bridge from Amherstburg to Grosse Isle, about 20 miles distant from the bridge now under construction between Detroit and Sandwich.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, in an exposition of the Government attitude on international bridges in general, said that the Government was willing to sit down and discuss these matters with the United States. If the Province of Ontario wanted to build international bridges no obstacles would be placed in the way of the Provincial Government negotiating with any state of the American union.

Dealing with the financial clauses of a bill, Mr. Dunning pointed out that the corporation promoting a bill would be governed by the Canadian Companies Act. This Act gave the investor a reasonable assurance of protection against fraud but could not give the undertaking that dividends were going to be paid or that the undertaking was going to be a financial success.

Uncle Wiggily

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BEAR'S BOX

Uncle Wiggily roller skated up to the back steps of his hollow stump bungalow and made such a clattering, banging noise that Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy dropped the carrot shortcake she was baking and ran to see what was the matter.

As she saw Uncle Wiggily sitting down on the bottom step, taking off a pair of roller skates, the muskrat lady housekeeper said:

"Well, of all things! My aunt's tomato cans! You are getting worse every day, Mr. Longears. Next you'll be playing marbles, I suppose."

"Oh, no," was the answer. "I don't intend to go roller skating every day. I just picked up these skates where Squeakie Squealer dropped them when he was running away from his brother. I'm going to give them back to the little pig boy. I just skated home as I was in a hurry."

The Bear started over the hill.

"But you're almost late for tea as it is," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"The Police Dog held me up for speeding," said the rabbit. "But I got away by thinking up seven other words to make out of the word STOP on his traffic sign."

"How could you make seven other words out of STOP?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Very easily," said Mr. Longears. "The words are POTS, TOPS, SPOT, POST, SOP, SO and To."

"What kind of a word is sop?" asked the muskrat lady.

"Oh, it's when the children sop their clover bread in cabbage gravy," answered the bunny gentleman. "And, speaking of marshmallow candy, have you any pie for supper?"

"A lovely parsnip pie," answered Nurse Jane. "And for being so clever as to make seven words out of the Police Dog's puzzle, you shall have two pieces."

Uncle Wiggily was glad to hear this and soon he was at the table with his wife, and the forty leven little bunny boys and girls, or forty twelve if you count Baby Bunty who was again paying a visit in the hollow stump bungalow.

Next morning, bright and early, Uncle Wiggily took back Curly's roller skates and then the rabbit gentleman hopped over the fields and through the woods looking for an adventure. He did not have to go far to find one, and it was rather skeery, too, if you ask me.

Very early that morning the Bushy Bear had started out from his den with a strong wooden box in his paws.

"Where are you going with that box?" asked the Bear's wife.

"I'm going to catch Uncle Wiggily and put him in this box," growled the Bear. "Then I'll bring him home and we'll have a fine dinner. Be sure and have the water boiling for tea."

"I will," promised Mrs. Bear. So Mr. Bear started over the hill with the box and, pretty soon, after a while, not so very long, he shuffled along where Uncle Wiggily was sitting fast asleep on a toadstool. The bunny had sat down to rest and had fallen asleep.

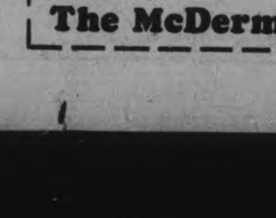
"Ha! This is easier than I dared hope!" cried the Bear. He put down his box and caught hold of Uncle Wiggily. Quickly the rabbit opened his eyes and when he saw that the Bear had caught him the rabbit asked:

"What are you going to do with me, if you please?"

"I am going to pop you into my box and take you home for dinner!" growled the Bear. Then, holding Uncle Wiggily in one paw the Bear turned to lift up the cover of the box with his other paw so he could pop the rabbit in. But the box was locked, which the Bear had forgotten about. He pulled at the cover, but it wouldn't open.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily! "You can't put me in that box for you can't get it open. "It's locked and you haven't a key!"

"Dear me! What did I do with the key of my box?" growled the Bear. He let go of Uncle Wiggily to search in his bearskin pockets for the key. And Uncle Wiggily laughed again, for the box key was in plain sight, but the Bear couldn't see it.



Find the key of the box.

CONVICTS GUILTY.

FRANCE READY FOR TREATY

Believe It Will Be Consummated With Reservations Outlined By Britain.

OUTLOOK PLEASES BRIAND.

PARIS, May 29.—Inquiry in the highest French governmental circles shows a solid belief that Secretary Kellogg will be successful in negotiating his anti-war treaty with the reservations outlined in Sir Austen Chamberlain's note.

There is apparently real hope in Paris now that the treaty will be consummated, for both Premier Poincaire and Foreign Minister Briand, the political masters of France see it as a bridge for the gap which has existed since the United States refused to join the League of Nations. They attach no small importance to being able when the next war starts in Europe to turn to Uncle Sam and say, "Our treaty has been violated; what are we going to do about it?"

French Feel Position Safe.

As far as the French particularly are concerned they feel they are now on the sidelines. They say that in the Chamberlain note their reservations have been sufficiently cared for and they are quite willing to proceed on the bases laid down by the British Foreign Secretary. In the Japanese note to Washington the French pretend to see a disposition on the part of Tokio to make reservations which will dovetail with those they now expect to be attached to or inserted in the treaty, namely, that existing commitments remain in force and the contracting parties regain liberty of action against any violator of the compact.

M. Briand, who has recovered sufficiently to be able to spend the week-end in the country, is said by friends to be quite satisfied. He is ready to receive congratulations on having been responsible for bridging the diplomatic gap with American, and doubtless by the time the treaty is ready to be signed will regard it as his greatest diplomatic achievement.

Reservations by Britain.

Besides the question which has arisen of whether Russia should be invited to become a party to the treaty, the French diplomats see only two more difficulties to be surmounted. The first relates to how the British reservation regarding regions of special interest shall be framed, and the second relates to whether other countries will wish to make similar reservations. It is said that while Britain might wish her reservation put into the treaty she might be content with a general declaration outside the treaty or even with a unilateral declaration taking the form of her construction of the treaty.

European diplomats await with much interest London's answer to the question it is believed Washington has put as to what districts in addition to Egypt England refers to.

The French say they do not wish to make an analogous reservation, since their needs are taken care of by the other reservations. Nor is it believed that Germany wishes to do so. However, there is a persistent report that Mussolini may wish to make some such condition regarding the Adriatic, and one also hears a rumor, which is as often denied, that Japan will ask for special conditions regarding Manchuria. This rumor brings the observation that Japan has no international instrument dedicating her position in Manchuria.

STOP THE "FISH-HOGS."

The confusion as to the changes in the fishery regulations in regard to the catching of pickerel is removed by a statement from the Deputy Minister that the regulation limiting the pickerel season to the period from June 30 to September 30 is not being enforced, and that pickerel may be caught at this time without fear of action by the authorities.

That announcement will be welcome, but it might be well to sound a note of warning to those over-zealous anglers who have been disregarding the law in regard to the size of one day's catch.

There are some fishermen who have been guilty of a wholesale slaughter of pickerel, and their activities should be looked into by the authorities.

Fishing on such a scale should be checked up and stopped before the "fish-hogs" succeed in killing the pickerel fishing, as they or others have killed the bass and lunge fishing.

There is no reason why the offenders should be allowed to get away with these large catches.

THE RURAL CARRIERS.

The announcement made by Hon. Peter Veniot, Postmaster-General, of salary increases for rural postmasters will be approved in view of the fact that these officials have never been very lavishly remunerated, and their revenue based on the sale of stamps suffered a decline when the return to penny postage was made.

The increases are justified, and The Examiner hopes that the Government will before long adopt a more equitable system in connection with rural mail carriers, who under the tender plan are never sure of their positions.

It would seem that the engaging of rural mail carriers on a salary basis, with positions made permanent so long as the work is being satisfactorily done, would do away with the complaints against the present system and ensure greater efficiency in this branch of the postal service.

The rural carriers cover long routes in all kinds of weather, and they should be relieved of their present uncertainty as to the length of their employment and paid a salary that corresponds to the nature of the service rendered.

These carriers deserve more considerate treatment.

THE NEW GAS RATES.

While there is doubtless some surprise that the Hydro-Electric Commission should announce the reductions just when negotiations are under way on the part of the City Council for the purchase of the local gas plant, the new rates will be most acceptable to Peterborough consumers.

The decreases in the domestic rates, which begin with a very material cut in the service charge from 75 to 45 cents a reduction that will be most appreciated by those who use their gas stoves very little during the winter months, bring the consumption charge, with ten per cent. off for prompt payment, to $1.49 per 1,000 feet, as against $1.90 ($2.15 less on discount of 25 cents) under the scale hitherto in force.

The cut is long overdue.

The gas rate here has been among the highest in Ontario, and local consumers have been at a loss to understand why this service should be so expensive here as compared to the cost in other cities.

The new rates are to take effect next month, and should bring about a very much appreciated shrinking in the monthly gas bill.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS.

Traffic accidents are apparently on the increase in Peterborough—naturally so, perhaps, because motor traffic is beginning to reach its peak for the season.

The very fact that this is the case, that thousands of cars are in commission here, should lead everybody, motorist and pedestrian alike, to use every precaution to prevent accidents.

This safety campaign is everybody's business, and everybody must help.

The pedestrian has a right to be on the street, so has the motorist, and the problem is for both to so conduct themselves that accident hazards will be reduced to a minimum.

The man on foot has as much responsibility in this regard as the man at the wheel; the most careful driver would have difficulty in avoiding an accident while a pedestrian strolls out in front of his car.

The Examiner keeps emphasizing the need of care because it is convinced that this problem of traffic accident prevention is one of the gravest responsibilities of the day, challenging public intelligence and demanding a solution.

BRIGHT OR THOROUGH?

(An Editorial for Young People.)

A correspondent writes to one of the American newspapers asking why it is that some bright men, even when they have the advantage of a good personality, do not make a success in business. He not only asks the question, but suggests the answer. "My own idea is," he says, "it is not brightness, but the ability to concentrate" that brings success. Now, that is well worth thinking over, and the more one thinks about it, the truer it seems to be. Brightness is a very valuable asset. It makes things easy for the possessor, but it may make them too easy and so prove more of a hindrance than a help. Brightness coupled with concentration is bound to bring results, however. Concentration, even without brightness, will accomplish much. What makes the successful student? Concentration. It does not matter how apt a person may be to learn, he will not get anywhere unless he gives his mind to learning. Concentration is more important in any undertaking than mere quickness. There are times when the ability to grasp essential principles without any hesitation is indispensable; but the quality which, in the long run, is most in demand is the power of steady persistence. The best of it is, this is a quality which all of us may have.

If concentration is more important than smartness, how sedulously should the habit of taking pains be cultivated! Instead of envying the clever ones, who find things so easy, the wise course is to use what talents we have to the best advantage. The race is not always to the swift. Carefulness, conscientious work, making sure of the accuracy of what we do and understanding and mastering whatever we undertake — no amount of "brightness" can make up for the absence of these essential factors of success. The bright person, who seems to have everything in his favor, may be superficial; if so, he is not going to make such a wonderful showing after all. Aim to be thorough—that is the all-important consideration.—Hamilton Spectator.

MOSCOW IN CANADA.

A most amazing document has just come out of Ottawa. It is the ordinary prosaic annual report of the Department of Labor on labor organization in Canada. Contained in its pages is a record of revolutionary and communistic activity in Canada that should prick into disquietude the mind of every good Canadian citizen. Without enlarging upon the facts, without comment, the publication details a record of disintegrating propaganda and teaching that is a dark blot upon the escutcheon of Canada's social and political life. There is little new and nothing previously unrecorded in the story. But gathered together, the evidence of Moscow's continuous effort to sovietize this country cannot but inflame decent Canadians to resentment and anger.

The chief revolutionary body in Canada is the Communist party of Canada, which is the Canadian representative of the Third (Communist) International of Moscow, the latter being the heart of the world communist movement. It was organized in 1919 for the avowed purpose of "organizing the working class for the overthrow of capitalism, the destruction of the bourgeois state and the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat." To such an organization the Communist party of Canada reports directly.

The established policy of the Canadian communists is to develop Canadian trade unions into an organization of "militant struggle" against capitalism. They aim also "to work for the overthrow of capitalism and the capitalist dictatorship by the conquest of political power, the establishment of the working class dictatorship and of the workers' republic."

The mere setting up of an ideal of communism and socialism as opposed to the capitalistic system is not in itself subversive of health in our national political and social structure. At least there may be intelligent division of opinion on the matter. But the communists in Canada do not restrict themselves to open discussion among intelligent people. They beleve the end justifies any means. They openly endorse the methods adopted by the Bolsheviks in Russia in attaining their object, or instance one resolution passed reads: "The C. P. C. (Communist party of Canada) unreservedly aligns itself with the C. P. S. U. (Communist party of the Soviet Union) and the C. I. (Communist International), in defence of the Soviet Union and for the initiation of new struggles for the overthrow of capitalism." The bodies so endorsed are the bodies whose anti-British activities brought about a break in the relations of Britain and Canada with Soviet Republic.

The party is well organized. It has a Young Communists League to work among the working class. Its declared object is "to penetrate the mass of the working class youth with communist agitation and education and to draw them away from the youth organizations established by capitalists, such as Boy Scouts, the Girl Guides, church clubs, the Y. M. C. A., etc." Just as the Communist party has its monthly and its weekly, the Young Communists have their paper financed from heaven knows where. The teachers are well trained. Their former Toronto secrtary was in Moscow last year taking a course of training as a propagandist under the direction of the Third International.

But teaching the youth of the land is not enough. The communists want to recruit as their agitators much younger and tenderer minds. The party has organized the Young Pioneers, a communistic society for very small children, which maintains forty Sunday schools throughout Canada. There are three of these in Toronto, and each Sunday from 75 to 100 pupils attend each. The youngsters range in age from 7 to 15 years. The teachings are decidedly agnostic in tone, and among these teachings are such blasphemous doctrines as "No true communist can be a Christian" and "The Government should be overthrown and communism set up. Any means are excusable for this purpose." In one Sunday school, children were taught that atheism is the only religion for a communist, which may, after all, be true.

Even the farmers are not forgotten. The Progressive Farmers' Educational League exists in Canada to recruit the farmers to revolutionary political action. An interesting sidelight on its activities is its declaration that it intends to "promote the wheat pool as an instrument to protect the living standards and the economic interests of the farmers." The objective is to separate the poor farmers from the rich and to win the poor ones over as allies of the workers in a joint onslaught on capitalism. It is suggested, too, that the wheat pool should refuse, on the outbreak of the next war, to supply any wheat "for capitalist military purposes." The reason for this is obvious The communists want to turn the next war to their own advantage. The communists are anxious that another war should break out in order that they might follow Lenin and turn the war from a fight between capitalist powers into a final struggle to the death between capitalism and communism, ignoring international boundaries.

There are 147 branches of the communist party in Canada. They have only 4,600 members, but these members are active in propaganda. They have monthly and weekly papers in English in addition to the children's organ and a Jewish weekly in Toronto.

From time to time, evidence has been adduced that communist propaganda has been carried on in Canada with funds derived directly from Moscow. The Canadian Department of Labor makes no attempt to prove or disprove this charge, but it clearly links communistic propaganda in Canada to the Soviet Government.

And all this goes on, not in some distant corner of the globe, but in the cities and towns and on the farms of our own fair country.—Financial Post.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The drop in gas rates is as welcome as three summer days in a row would be.

Supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons on Saturday totalled over ten million dollars. But they didn't mean a thing to Peterborough.

The unfortunate thing about living in the United States is that if you escape the bandits you are likely to be shot by a sheriff or a revenue officer.

The mystery of why Peterborough's new traffic lights are not used in the daytime has not yet been solved.

The Question Box

M.E. Q.—(1) Do any eclipses occur this year, visible at Peterborough? (2) Is Venus a morning or evening star?

A.—(1) Yes. On November 27, a total eclipse of the moon will occur at 3.33 a.m., ending at 4.29 a.m., visible here. (2) Morning star to July 1, then evening star the rest of the year. It was in conjunction with the moon on May 18.

P.A. Q.—When was angle-parking adopted?

A.D. Q.—(1) At what time will the sun rise and set on June 10; (2) July 1; (3) July 12. (4) What kind of moon will there be on those nights?

A.—(1) June 10, sun rises 4.36, sets 7.59; (2) July 1, rises 4.40, sets 8.03; (3) rises 4.47, sets 7.59. (4) June 10, last quarter; July 1, full moon; July 12, last quarter entered on the 10th.

W.H.S. Q.—What was the time of the flight from London to Australia in 1919?

A.—668 hours, 20 minutes. The distance was 11,294 miles, and the flight was made by Captain Ross Smith, M.C. Leaving England on Nov. 12, he arrived at Port Darwin, Australia on Dec. 10. He won the Australian Government prize of $50,000. The plane was a Vickers-Vimy Rolls-Royce.

R.T. Q.—Is there any trace today of the Tower of Babel referred to in Genesis 11?

A.—There are ruins in Mesopotamia popularly regarded as the Tower of Babel. It is known that stage towers were a characteristic feature of the sacred architecture of Babylonia and Assyria, and the ruins of two such towers, associated by native tradition with the Tower of Babel, have been discovered at Birs Nimrud, near Babylon, and at Akerkuf, further south. The name Babel, by the way, is really Assyrian, and means "gate of God." It is confused in popular etymology with the Hebrew root, balal, "to confuse."

GOD'S MINUTE

Let your requests be made known unto God.—Phil. 4:6.

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, we draw near to Thee in glad and grateful recognition of our dependence upon Thee. We thank Thee for the blessings of the night—for refreshing sleep, for freedom from sickness, accident, or sudden alarm, and for the restoration of our powers with the coming of the new day.

We would begin this day with Thee, for we would fain receive Thy blessing ere we venture upon its untrodden paths. Continue with us, Lord, throughout its hours, lest amid busy cares and thronging duties we meet the onslaught of sudden temptation, and, missing Thee, we fall.

Help us to do our duty. Keep us from the shame of the slurred task. May we have no occasion to blush over our appointed work neglected or ill done. Grant us the spirit of comradeship, give us to speak the word of cheer. May our lives radiate joy. Let the evening find hope and happiness where we shall have passed by.

Then, dear Father, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, when life's evening shall have come, gather Thy children home, and let us find a refuge, fearless and unashamed, in Thine arms of love.

In Jesus' Name. Amen.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, May 29.—Trade, as usual in Monday's market opened slow. Buyers apparently in no hurry to commit themselves, while sellers were equally in no hurry to sell, and in many cases were enjoying themselves by holding out for higher prices. Before the noon hour, cattle were beginning to move out freely, transactions showing that prices were holding good and steady with last week.

Demand was specially active for the light butcher steer, the heavy steer not being quite so popular. With the advent of warmer weather, the lighter weight steer will be more in demand for the local trade. The heavy steer goes chiefly to the outside trade. Choice baby beeves are still in very good demand around $12.

Hogs are quite strong at 25c advance to $10.75 f.o.b. selects.

Choice heavy steers sold up to $11.50, choice handyweight butcher steers were firm from $9.75 to $10.75, choice heifers, $10 to $10.50.

Choice fat cows in demand at $7 to $8.50, with the odd fancy up to $9.

Good choice butcher bulls, steady $8 to $8.50.

Calves steady at $14 to $14.50.

Sheep and lambs steady, $14 to $15.

Hogs strong and 25c higher at $10.75 f.o.b. selects, and $11.75 selects at cars.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., May 29 (Canadian Press). — Owing to the holidays in England, there was practically no demand from that source for Canadian grain here yesterday. The inquiry from the Continent was also quiet, and little business was transacted.

A feature of the domestic grain trade was the weakness that developed in oats and prices were reduced two cents per bushel. The demand was limited.

The trade in spring and winter wheat flour continued dull, but prices for all grains were unchanged.

An easier feeling developed in the market for all lines of millfeed and prices were reduced two dollars per ton. This was attributed to the lull in the demand from local and United States buyers. There was no change in prices for rolled oats, but the demand was quiet.

There was no further change in local prices for eggs, but the undertone to the market continues easy owing to the more liberal offerings from Ontario shippers and the prospects for warmer weather in the near future, which will no doubt have a depressing influence on the market. The consumptive demand continues steady and a fair business was done in a jobbing way. The receipts were 3,267 cases.

A feature of the potato trade was the weaker feeling that developed and prices scored a decline of 7½c to 12½c per bag, which was attributed to the warmer weather prevailing and the fact that holders were commencing to get anxious and pressed supplies for sale and the prospects are that the market may reach a still lower level in the near future on account of the liberal supplies available for the season of the year. A moderate trade was done in car lots of Quebec varieties at 75c to 80c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk; while New Brunswick Green Mountains sold at 55c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, and New Brunswick white potatoes at 75c to 80c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, ex-track.

There was no change in the condition of the market for imported beans, prices being maintained with a moderate amount of business passing.

Butter showed further strength and prices scored an advance of ¼c per pound, which to some extent was due to the higher figures paid in the country at the close of last week and the fact that holders on spot in some cases were not free sellers. The receipts were 359 packages.

A stronger feeling prevailed in the cheese situation, and prices were marked up ¼c per pound, which was attributed to the advance established for the offerings at most of the country boards at the close of last week.

The export business over the cable was very quiet on account of the holidays in England. The receipts were 4,629 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, May 29 (Canadian Press). — Late rallies in wheat values yesterday resulted largely from a substantial decrease of the United States visible supply and from complaints of crop deterioration northwest. Earlier, the wheat market averaged lower because of showers in Canada and expected moisture in the American spring crop belt.

Closing quotations on wheat were irregular, ¾c net lower to ¾c net higher, with corn 1c to 1⅛c up; oats varying from 1c decline to a shade advance; and provisions at 3c setback to a rise of 2c.

A brisk recovery which took place yesterday in the wheat market during the final dealings went hand-in-hand with announcement that the domestic visible supply total showed 3,477,000 bushels falling off for the week. There was also 798,000 bushels decrease of Canadian stocks, and talk was current that some betterment of export demand for wheat from North America might be looked for to-day following holidays in Europe. Besides, field reports from the four chief spring wheat States were to the effect that general rain must come soon or the north-west crop of wheat this season will be very light.

North-west dominated the wheat market. A noticeable feature was that some of the late reports from Canada indicated that many sections had little, of any, rain. Particular notice was also taken of crop advices from Lisbon, N.D., that high winds and hot days are drying up surface moisture fast. It was added that much of the wheat from Fargo to Lisbon was seeded in March and ought now to be shooting, but is not, and is generally thin and stunted from lack of moisture.

Corn prices moved upward, owing largely to undoing of spreads against wheat. This process resulted yesterday in purchases of corn whereas simultaneously wheat was sold. Oats were inclined to drag because of slowness of demand from shippers here.

Provisions ruled easier.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Que., May 29 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as: Demand—$4.87 11-16. Cables—$4.88¼.

The dream of one of American's oldest active pilots, which was based on the belief that greater efficiency could be gained in aircraft by following "bird-in-flight" principles, ended in tragic death when Leonard W. Bonney, 52-year-old millionaire and aviation enthusiast, was killed in the crash of his plane, known as the Bonny Gull, designed and built after the lines of a seagull. The strange plane had taken off on its first test flight at Curtiss Field, N.Y. and after rising to a height of some 50 feet, started to flap its wings. A nosedive ensued, in which Bonney was thrown clear of the craft, which was smashed, breaking his neck. Bonhey spent five years in building the craft, the take-off of which is shown in picture No. 1. No. 2 is Bonney, just before the hop, his last photograph. No. 3 is the wreckage.

MARRIED IN TORONTO

One of the prettiest weddings of the spring season took place in the Hillcrest Church of Christ, Toronto, when Miss Dorothy Frances Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Luther Burton, became the bride of Mr. Gordon McCalla Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Graham of Montreal. The bride is shown in her wedding gown of bridal satin in medieval style.

GREAT BRITON'S HONORED

King George witnessed the ceremonies when twelve of Britain's greatest became Knights Grand Cross, Order of the Bath. Ten of them shown above are: (1) Field Marshal Viscount Edmund Allenby, (2) Admiral Sir Charles Madden, (3) Sir Eric Geddes, (4) Sir Hubert Llewellyn Smith, (5) General Sir Josceline Wodehouse, (6) Sir Maurice Hankey, (7) Admiral Earl John Jellicoe, (8) Admiral Lord Wester Wemyss, (9) Admiral Sir Henry Jackson, (10) Baron John Bradbury. The other two are General John Maxwell and Lieut.-Gov. Sir Alfred Geogia.

The airplane Jesus del Gran Pover was badly damaged at Seville, Spain, when it started to take off for a flight to Cuba. An automobile on the runway blocked its path. The crew, comprising Captain Ignacio Jiminez and Francisco Iglesias, were not reported injured. They are expected to resume the flight when the broken right wing is repaired.

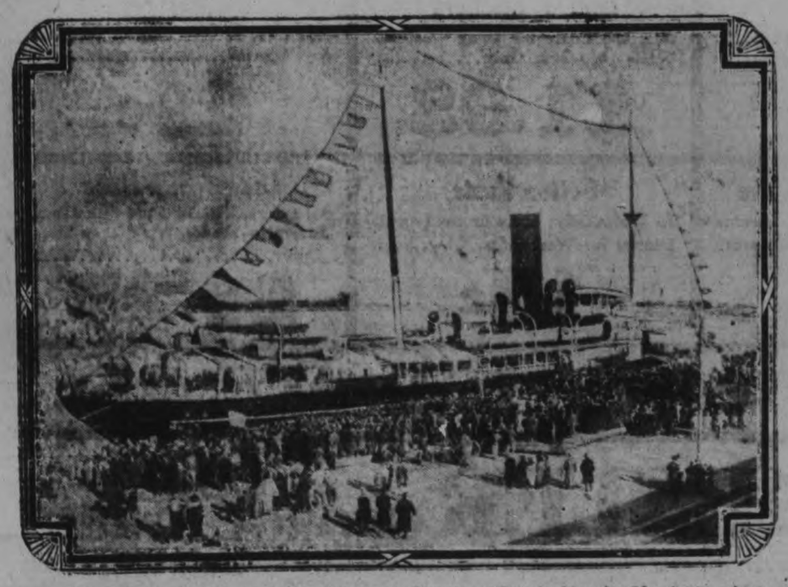
HAS COOLED DOWN

Among the animals and birds which arived in Toronto recently from Calcutta to find homes in the zoo was a tiger cub of whom it has been boasted that it was so docile it could be led around on a ribbon. There was no sign of any such docility apparent when it arrived. The animal snarled and spat at the reception committee of the curious. Perhaps, after all, the diet of raw meat should be blamed for the tiger's ill-humor, for on the crate was an improvised menu card reading: "Three and a half pounds of mutton and beef, half in the morning and half in the evening."

WHERE GOVERNOR LIVES

An aeroplane picture of Rideau Hall, with the additions and alterations made since the dominion bought it from Hon. Thomas McKay, contractor. The original building was a stone house, built in 1847. In 1865 an addition was built and in 1676 the kitchens. During Lord Dufferin's was built. The tennis court is a per was built. The tennis cruot is a permanent structure and is used during large receptions or balls as a buffet room. Last year Their Excellencies are said to have entertained 15,000 people at dinners, luncheons, etc. In 1900, further additions were made, but in 1914, during the Duke of Connaught's regime, the original front of the house was torn down and a handsome entrance made, joining the tennis court and ballroom with a magnificent hall. The aeroplane photograph shows the roof of the main entrance. To the left, the tennis court, a single window of which is shown. The ball-room is a similar structure on the other side. The original house is hidden by trees, but it lies immediately behind the main the right end of the building contains the governor-general's study on the ground floor and Her Excellency's suite on the second floor. The square building beside it contains guest rooms. In the angle between the tennis court and the old building is another bowed section which contains, on the second floor, the royal suite; used by the Prince of Wales on his visits to Canada. The administrative offices are on the second floor of the main entrance, over the entrance hall. To the left is the Ottawa river and the light-colored patch between the river and the hall is the roadway into Rockcliffe Park. It was on the height to the right of this that the site suggested for the American legation is situated. The site overlooks Rideau Hall grounds.

Picture No. 1 shows the giant trimotor Fokker monoplane, Southern Cross, in which Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian aviator, No. 2, announces he will start shortly in a flight from San Francisco to the Antipodes. Two stops will be made, at Hawaii and New Guinea. Capt. Charles Ulm, No. 3, will accompany him it is said. He is also an Australian.



Japan on May 18 announced a policy of strict neutrality in the Chinese civil war unless it spreads to Manchuria and Tientsin. This picture, taken a fortnight ago, shows troops of the Nippon Empire embarking for Manchuria, where, presumably, they are being used to maintain the balance of power.

PRINCESS VISITS 'GRANDPA'

The "Princess Charming" of the empire celebrated her second birthday not long ago. Elizabeth Alexandra Mary York, better known as Princess Elizabeth, actual ruler of the English royal family and possible queen some day of the British empire enjoyed her "big day" of the year in the same maner as any other child—amid new toys and dolls. She is shown here on her way to visit "grandpa" the king at Buckingham Palace.

SEEKS PLACE ON BRAZILIAN BOARD

With the avowed intention of seeking a place on the board of directors of the Brazilian Co., Captain Alfred Loewenstein, world-famous financier, who once offered his country a free loan of $50,000,000, was in Canada recently. In the picture above the "Belgian Crocaus", reputed to be the third richest man in the world, is shown on his arrival in New York with Mrs. Loewenstein. Mr. Loewenstein arrived with four secretaries, two typists, one chauffeur, two cars, an aeroplane and a pilot. On coming to Canada he purchased a ten-passenger plane which is fitted as an office, and retained Bernt Balchen, Atlantic flier, as his pilot.

A picturesque pageant was enacted at Westminster Abbey when the king and queen attended the installation of 10 new Knights Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. (1) shows the king being received by Dr. Foxley-Norris, dean of Westminster. In the centre is the Duke of Connaught. (2) shows the king chatting to the Duke of Connaught.

FINE PROGRAM AT REGENT THEATRE

"The Latest From Paris," Under Auspices of St. Joseph's Hospital Alumni.

Norma Shearer is the star in the picture, taking the role of the travelling saleswoman who beats her male rivals to all the big orders from Middle West shop owners.

The role of one persistent competitor is taken by Ralph Forbes, who is very effective in the part he takes.

"All's fair in love and business." This was the motto of pretty Agnes Dolan, the travelling saleswoman portrayed by Norma Shearer in this unusual and fascinating picture. So that when she met Joe Adams, a rival in selling suits and cloaks, she not only stole his customers but purloined his heart.

How she does it makes on of the most diverting and amusing films in years, and the popular star's best screen effort to date.

The picture is a fine clean picture; in fact, the whole program is good, and if you are desiring the forst of the week of seeing a picture that will appeal to you, you can do nothing better than attend the Regent to-night or to-morrow.

TRIAL MARRIAGE PLAN ASSAILED

Mrs. C. H. Edwards, of Peterborough, Presents Report to National Council.

EDUCATION NEEDED.

TORONTO, May 29 (Canadian Press).—Companionate and trial marriages are assailed in the preliminary report of Mrs. C. H. Edwards of Peterboro, convenor of the Equal Moral Standard Committee, presented to the National Council of Women at its annual convention here to-day. The double moral standard results merely in a single low standard, the report continues. By demanding an equal standard, women could do much to eradicate commercialized vice.

The reports of the convenors of the various committee occupied the first morning of the six-day annual meeting, which opened at Annesley Hall here to-day. More than 100 women are in attendance, and Mrs. J. A. Wilson of Ottawa is presiding.

Dr. Mabel Hanning of St. John, N.B., convenor for mental hygiene, outlined the work of her committee which deals with the problems of insanity, feeble-mindedness and mental instability. Miss M. Winifred Kydd, of Montreal, made the report of the Committee on Immigration and Colonization. A good deal of time was taken up with reports from each local council on the year's work on immigration, and this was the most important part of the hour's session.

Mrs. Edward told her committee of the necessity for education as the best means of forming public opinion. To education both men and women to be self-controlled and responsible, small children must be told the truth about biology, for it is because of past untruths told to young questioners that we are now reaping unhappy results, said Mrs. Edwards. The Ministers of Education should advocate the teaching of purity and temperance, as a step forward toward a more spiritual education in our schools.

To-morrow evening, on King Edward Park a soccer league fixture will be played between the C.G.E. and the Thistle. Kick-off at 6 o'clock prompt. Referee Alex McKinley. In the previous encounters these teams put up an excellent exhibition of the soccer code and had a good number of fans witnessing them play.

A special meeting of the P. and D.F.A. will be held this evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8 o'clock prompt. Representatives and executive be on time.

1,000,000 LOGS ARE RELEASED

Start To Move Out Of Lake St. John When Flood Breaks Boom.

FLOOD SPREADING.

CHICOUTIMI, Q., May 29.—(Canadian Press.)—A big boom of the Duke Price Company whic has been holding back with difficulty more than 1,000,000 logs for the past ten days, owing to the heavy pressure of the flood waters of Lake St. John, has given way and the logs began to move down the Petit Decharge river.

At St. Joseph D'Alma, a short distance below the dam, five locks were closed in an effort to save as much as possible of the enormous quantity of wood valued at $1,500,000. As the waters were forced back into the lake, the latter rose steadily, causing the Grand De Charge river to be swelled to an unprecedented height, flooding the whole district.

At Roberval, the situation was reported as being "extremely grave." Practically all the residents near the lake have been forced to vacate their homes and seek refuge on higher ground.

Denied in Quebec.

QUEBEC, May 29. — (Canadian Press.)—The report emanating from St. Joseph D'Alma that Price Bros. big boom on Lake St. John had broken and that part of the approximately 1,000,000 logs which had been held back with difficulty owing to the severe floods had commenced to break away, was denied by officials of the company.

The doctors at a consultation last night agreed there was a chance for His Lordship to recover completely, especially if he would agree to take a complete rest from his duties on becoming convalescent.

FINDING OF BODIES REVIVES INTEREST

Considerable Wreckage Has Been Seen Where Kamloops Disappeared.

PORT ARTHUR, May 29 (Canadian Press). — By an act of international courtesy on the part of the commander and crew of the United States coastguard cutter Crawford, two bodies of men who lost their lives in the sinking of the steamer Kamloops on December 6, 1927, have been brought to Port Arthur, and interest in the fate of the big lake freighter, which carried a crew of 22, has been revived here.

The bodies, one identified as that of J. Journeault of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., were found along the rocky Isle Royale shore, 40 miles from here, while the lifeboat and considerable wreckage also has been found.

IN POLICE COURT

A heavy docket was presented to Magistrate Langley when Police Court got under way at 10.30 this morning.

Harry Johnston of the Township of North Monaghan, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Provincial Constable Thompson, pleaded not guilty to the charge of exposing or keeping for sale or directly or indirectly offering for sale liquor at his home on Young street. The case was remanded until Wednesday, June 6th. Bail of $500 was granted. J. A. O'Brien acted for the accused. The charge was laid as a result of inquiries Provincial Constable Thompson made after the accident to Graeme McMillan on May 24th and the evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest on Saturday night.

A Bridgenorth man pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place, namely Young street North Monaghan, May 24, and at the request of the Crown was fined the minimum, $10.00 and $4.00 casts.

James Conway of the Township of Smith pleaded guilty to having five muskrat skins in his possession, and was fined $20.00 and $6.85 costs. The accused was given three days to pay his fine or in default ten days in the common jail. The information was laid by Inspector Carson, who charged that the accused was trapping without a license. The accused in acknowledging his guilt, said he had caught the five muskrats in mink traps, and did not want to throw them away.

Earl R., Buck pleaded guilty to driving a motor vehicle which was not equipped with adequate brakes to hold or stop the said vehicle, and was fined $10 and $2.00 costs. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., appeared for the accused and exhibited a receipt which showed that the brakes had been re-lined in a garage in Norwood on May 22. Buck yesterday struck Mildred Kennedy and ran over her. After the accident the police tested the brakes and found that when the car was going at 25 miles an hour it was brought to a stop in forty-six paces when both foot and emergency brakes were applied.

Wesley Devall appeared on the charge of manslaughter and was remanded for one week, as the Crown was unable to go on with the preliminary inquiry. Bail was granted at $10,000. V. J. McElderry represented the accused.

Lennox Warren, an employee of the Canadian General Electric Company, pleaded not guilty to stealing from the company two ¼-h.p. electric motors and a quantity of wire cable and attachments, valued at $57.50. The accused, through his lawyer, J. A. O'Brien, reserved election, and was remanded on $1,000 bail until Tuesday, June 5th.

A young woman appeared charged with vagrancy and was remanded until Friday, when it is expected her father will come and take her home.

MAY BAN PUBLIC PARKING

Public parking may be abandoned in Sydney, Australia, and both taxicabs and private cars may have to be kept in their own parking places. The suggestion has been made by Chief Secretary Bruntnell in an effort to relieve the present traffic muddle. Taxis would be summoned entirely by telephone.

Author of "Humoresque" "A President Is Born"

AS marriages go, Lucy's approached perfection. It was one of those affairs that had been right from the very first. There were no problems, no subtle psychologies, no Freudian inhibitions, no incompatibilities to mar the twenty-five years of the placid married life of Lucy and Martin Rowe.

Of the petty tribulations, they had not escaped their share, but compared with the larger happiness that encompassed the lives of these two, they scarcely made their dent.

People always said of Lucy Rowe that she was the sort of woman who, without any particular qualifications, or even deserving qualities, was destined to inherit the earth. In capturing the love of Martin Rowe, Lucy had in no small way inherited the earth.

Martin Rowes happen along every so often and are usually marked men in a community. Lucy's husband had enough outstanding qualities to divide among six men. He was good-looking, good-natured and a good-fellow in the literal sense of that maligned phrase. At twenty-nine, the year he married Lucy, he had already worked his way through a penniless youth and was the head of one of the town's largest retail men's hat stores.

He was on slap-on-the-back terms with the town's foremost citizens. Men, women and children knew him as "Unele Martin," and when he was only thirty-two, there was already talk of running him for mayor.

LUCY realized what had befallen her. She adored this man with the humble, grateful quality that was her outstanding virtue. If she fussed over him too much, it was because of the overflow of her adoration of him. A woman with no ambition herself, one content to sit by and watch the passing-show, it was as if part of her growing inertia was due to the burden of her great happiness.

People who like to wag wisely predicted ultimate tragedy for this alliance.. Here was Martin, becoming more and more the idol of his community and more and more destined for higher place, and here was Lucy, the same old languid, straggly-haired, testy-tongued girl, feeding upon her own happiness until it threatened to devour her.

And yet, none of the predictions of the calamity-mongers happened. Martin accepted his marriage (as he accepted so much in life) with a hearty, wholesome sweetness that characterized him.

The Lucy he saw was a rather special Lucy of his own making. Her days were literally spent in waiting for the evenings which brought him home to her. Her entire life was made up of her pride in this man; of her devotion to him; of her dependence upon him. Without him, she was a meaningless creature. At his side, she took on importance, even lustre.

Again, people said that was the secret of how she held him. Her love of him was so all-compelling, that it had its pathetic side and it must be admitted that so far as Martin was concerned, Lucy seemed to satisfy him completely. He came home to her with the regularity of a child from school.

In the twenty-five years of their marriage, he had never taken a business trip without her along. And while Martin was an active man, one who loved his golf, his cards, his club life, Lucy, who cared for none of these things, was nevertheless somewhere in the background. Always waiting —waiting for Martin.

HE died in the full flush of his manhood of a disease that seemed to strike him down out of a clear sky. Never was a community more stunned, more appalled, more genuinely grieved.

It was said that Martin's was the largest funeral that had not only been held in the town, but in the state. People from everywhere, whom he had secretly befriended seemed to spring out of the ground; school children came, bearing field-flowers; bank presidents and street-laborers followed his casket. The town paused for two minutes in its noon-day hour to observe the passing of Martin. A sincerely and dearly-loved man had died.

And of course, what had been anticipated in the case of Lucy Rowe, happened. For the first two months after Martin's death, there seemed reason to fear for her sanity. She was as limp as a piece of sea-weed that had been dashed on shore. Her lustreless eyes took on the blankness of a completely vacant mind. Her natural indolence in dress threatened to become horrible.

Her friends and Martin's friends looked after her as much as she would permit them and the entire community, out of deference to her late husband, practically stood at her beck and call.

The house in which Lucy continued to dwell, took on something of the gruesomeness of a sepulchre. She kept the shades drawn and the air heavy with a perfume that Martin had liked her to use. On every table, in every niche, on every mantlepiece and before countless little shrines were photographs of the genial Martin with vases of fresh flowers before them. Lucy's entire days were devoted to keeping these vases replenished.

Lucy's lustreless eyes took on the blankness of a completely vacant mind. The house in which she continued to dwell took on something of the gruesomeness of a sepulchre.

WHAT happened subsequently is matter of local history. It is doubtful if ever one single social incident aroused so universal a gasp of amazement, chagrin, resentment and surprise. One year and two months after the death of Martin Rowe, Lucy remarried. This time to a man named Ridgeway Haight, the vice-president of a large local lumber and building concern who had been an acquaintance of Martin's and a fellow club member.

During the lifetime of Martin, Lucy and Haight had probably not exchanged more than the total of a half-hour's conversation. She had known the first Mrs. Haight who had died ten years previous in a casual way and the two Haight boys had been members of Martin's Sunday school class. Beyond that, the relationship had never developed.

The startling situation which led to this rapid marriage of Lucy and Haight probably grew out of a chance encounter between them which had to do with Lucy's desire to build a small wooden bungalow out near the cemetery where Martin was buried.

It was the popular opinion in the town that Lucy's daily visits to the cemetery were too harrowing and she now desired to build a little country home within earshot and eyeshot of the plot of ground where her dear one lay buried.

This was true enough. And then there came between Lucy and her decision, the meeting with Haight. Two weeks after that meeting, they were quietly married with only Haight's business-partner as attendant.

Of all people in the world—Lucy Rowe! It just goes to show you can't tell anything about anybody. How dared she! How could she? And she pretended to love Martin so! The actress! You can't trust anybody! Why, I'll never believe anybody again. If Lucy Rowe could do this, then water can run uphill! There's something behind all this. A woman like Lucy Rowe must have known what she was doing.

Lucy Rowe did. She knew that she was trying in some way to recapture the perfect happiness that had been hers.

She knew that while Haight might not be another Martin . . . there never could be . . . still, he had good, kind qualities that approached Martin's; that reminded her, however remotely, of the beauty and sweetness of nature that had been Martin's.

Lucy knew that all that could make life endurable to her in the future was to walk in the kind of path that Martin had cleared for her.

Haight was a good man. He reminded her of Martin. To make him happy, would somehow be a tribute to Martin.

That became her life's work.

GOLFERS ENJOY OPENING SOCIAL

Millbrook Golf Club Members Hold First Tea on Thursday Afternoon.

C. G. I. T. PLAN CAMP

MILLBROOK, May 29.—The initial tea of the season was held at the local Golf Club on Thursday afternoon with twenty or more members and guests in attendance.

An afternoon on the links was the attraction for the quite a number of the club members and their visitors, while others enjoyed equally well a game of bridge on the verandah of the club house.

The tea hour afforded an opportunity for pleasant social intercourse, the fine weather adding greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. The club will follow its usual practice of having tea on Thursday afternoons throughout the season.

C.G.I.T. Plans Camp.

The Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group held its weekly meeting at the church on Sunday afternoon, with the president, Miss Elsie Spence, in the chair.

During the discussion of business items the group outing for the summer was considered, the idea of taking a cottage at a summer resort, and having all the girls for a vacation together finding more favor than the plan of former years by which two members were sent to a provincial C.G.I.T. camp, and brought home a report to the group.

On motion it was decided to buy one dozen new Bibles for use at the regular meetings, and the secretary and president were appointed to send a letter of appreciation to the Rev. Joseph Wilks for his donation to the Bible fund, and for his many other kindnesses to the Wide Awakes group.

The matter of subscriptions to the Girls' Own Number of "The Torch," the C.G.I.T. magazine, was also attended to; the articles in this special number were contributed by some of the 12,000 Canadian Girls in Training in Ontario.

The subject of "Faith" was taken up in the devotional period, the girls reading in unison many Bible passages on this topic, and the leader's talk being devoted to its consideration; the question and answer method helped in fixing the facts developed through the discussion in mind.

The next meeting will be at the church on Sunday, May 27, at 2.30 p.m., when it is hoped that one of the charter members will be home for the week-end and will attend the gathering.

District Churches

MARMORA, May 29.—A powerful sermon on "Consecrated Service" was listened to by a large congregation at St. Paul's church on Sunday morning the minister being the Ven. Archdeacon J. H. H. Coleman, M.A., of Kingston.

Choosing 1 Chronicles 29:5 as his text, Archdeacon Coleman commenced: "Service is what the Christian is called upon to give. When baptized, he is set apart and growing up the dutiful Christian naturally wants to do something to express his gratitude. He seeks to guide his conduct so that it be in harmony with the Divine purpose. He desires to not only be good but to be good for something." The preacher then instanced St. Paul in this respect, the Apostle having asked on the way to Damascus: 'Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?' because he would devote his talents, education, ability, time and labors in that new Master's cause. The Archdeacon then referred to the great need of serviceable men to-day men who would do a like work in bringing the true knowledge of Christ to mankind. "The Christian ministry", he continued, "needs men of the right sort to present Christianity of the right kind. Thank God, we are getting them. In the last two or three years in this Diocese we have had more than the usual number of men seeking ordination and they have been of the best and most promising type. Service should not be looked for on the part of the clergy alone. Everyone according to ability and opportunity is called upon to save in God's cause." Archdeacon Coleman outlined the various ways of helping the work of the church made possible by the diversities of gifts God has bestowed. The work done by the few, he pointed out, should be done by all. After reverting to the text and reminding his hearers of the willing response made to David's appeal for consecrated service, the Archdeacon remarked "God has a cause. He has so ordered that success depends not only upon the prayers of His people and His blessing but also upon the material support His people may give. It may seem strange that such is so, that the spiritual work should depend upon material giving but it is a good thing it is so. It is a test of loyalty but more than that—a stimulus to loyalty. In the days of the great war, the men who practised self denial became more patriotic. Responding to the demands of our church, we are rescued from materialism and lifted Godward's. Archdeacon Coleman concluded with words of encouragement to the parish in its 1928 objective of wiping off $1,000 of the rectory debt.

The choir very ably sung Caleb Simper's "They Shall Mount Up the Wings as Eagles", as the anthem.

The Archdeacon addressed the teachers and scholars of the Sunday School towards the close of the morning session treating with the Christian faith. He also preached at Holy Trinity in the afternoon and at Deloro in the evening.

SALT RHEUM All Over Her Hands and Between Fingers

Mrs. Walter Misner, Millville Branch, N.S., writes:—"I had salt rheum all over my hands, and especially between my fingers. It was impossible for me to put them in water, or do my house work.

"After trying medicines and salves, which did me no good, I heard of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS being so wonderful, and after taking two bottles I am entirely relieved of my trouble."

FISHERIES ACT SECTIONS ILLEGAL

Supreme Court of Canada Finds Cannery Regulations Ultra Vires.

OTTAWA, May 28 (Canadian Press).—The Supreme Court of Canada in judgment handed down today decided that Sections 7A and 18 of the Dominion Fisheries Act, 1914, are ultra vires of the Parliament of Canada.

The sections declared ultra vires required the obtaining of an annual license for the operation of a fish cannery for commercial purposes and for the operation of salmon canneries or salmon curing establishments in British Columbia. Under these sections licenses were issuable by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. The judgment was unanimous.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. After being perjunctorily examined by a doctor, the body is brought to the Hotel Majusaca, where an inquiry is started.

Folsom's bathing companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, MRS. HELEN BARNABY, and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

Then the startling announcement is made that Folsom had been stabbed to death in the water. ROSS, his valet, is questioned, as are Barron and his wife, but no light is shed on the mystery.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is established that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it and its scabbard had been purchased on the boardwalk.

CROYDON SEARS, a guest at the hotel, is known to have purchased several other odd knives at the same auction. This is brought out at the inquest.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIX.

Robin Sears adored his father, and he knew every expression of that well-loved face, every telltale motion or gesture of that familiar personality, and he saw that for some reason or another his dad was very much upset.

"What the dickens ails him?" Young Robin put the question to himself. "Surely he isn't going to get mixed up in that auction business, if that nice Meeker person was right there with him all the time."

Coroner Hubbard proceeded with his questioning, and though he called on everybody he could hear of or learn of who might be of any use, he discovered practically nothing of importance. Nothing that would offer a direction in which to look for the murderer of Garrett Folsom.

He had no wish to adjourn the inquest, for he thought it more than doubtful if any further evidence ever came to light. He was sure that the murderer had laid his plans too well and covered his tracks too carefully to leave any clue that a detective might take hold upon.

So he turned the case over to the jury, and they made short work of their decision.

Their verdict was that Garrett Folsom was wilfully murdered by an unknown hand, and that the weapon used was probably the antique dagger that had been found in the ocean after the crime had been committed.

No one was surprised at this verdict, for no one had expected anything different.

Anastasia Folsom seemed in no way disturbed or disappointed, and her first remark, as the audience filed out, was to the effect that now they could get at the real work.

"First," she said, turning to the detective, Jepson, "first I shall arrange for my brother's funeral."

"You—you will take him to Chicago?" he asked, not at all unwilling to see the last of this uncomfortable woman.

"By no means. I expect my nephew tonight or tomorrow. Then we shall have a small and informal service in the funeral chapel here. My brother's remains will be sent to Chicago, but I stay here until I have either discovered the criminal or until I have concluded that I cannot accomplish that end."

"Yes, ma'am," Jepson acquiesced.

Miss Anastasia Folsom was as good as her word. She at once set about investigating the mystery of her brother's death and she chose her own manner of procedure.

Her first step was to demand an interview with Manager Pelham, of the hotel.

She summoned him to her apartment, which was, of course, the suite her brother had occupied.

"Mr. Pelham," she began in her domineering way, "you are in duty bound to help me in any way you can in the work I am now undertaking. I propose to discover and bring to justice the man who killed my brother, and I am assuming that you will lend me all possible assistance."

"Miss Folsom," the manager began, and some sort of clairvoyance told her what he was about to say.

"There's no use telling me," she said sharply, "that you prefer to hush it all up. That it is not good for your hotel business to keep up an investigation; that your guests object to hearing the subject mentioned, and all that. I am here and here I stay, until I have solved the problem or feel obliged to give it up. If you make any difficulty for me, or in any way hinder my progress, I shall accuse you of obstructing the processes of the law, and you may find yourself in serious trouble. I also expect the assistance of your hotel detective, Mr. Dixon, and what is more, I expect him to work under my supervision and obey my directions."

"I understand, Miss Folsom, and while I see your position and sympathize with your endeavor, I hope and trust you can achieve your purpose speedily, for, as you rightly assumed, it is not at all pleasant for my guests to have this investigation going on."

"They need know little about it. I don't propose to shout from the housetops the progress that I make. I shall observe proper decorum, even secrecy, but I am telling you all this in order that you may not raise objections should I find it necessary to question certain of your employes or even your guests."

Pelham sighed. He prided himself on always putting the well-being of his guests ahead of every other consideration in life, and he didn't know where this eccentric lady might attack the quiet prosperity of his hotel atmosphere.

"And, of course," the determined woman went on, "I shall find it necessary to question you now and again. And to begin with, tell me frankly, Mr. Pelham, do you think the police have done all they can in this matter?"

But Pelham was getting on his feet again, diplomatically, and his suave dignity returned.

"Without doubt, Miss Folsom. What more could they do?"

"What more?" she fairly snorted. "Why, they haven't done anything yet! And I know why. Because somebody has headed them off. Has advised them to drop the matter—"

"You are making definite accusation?" he asked, calmly. "Or do you merely mean that, looking at their work superficially, it seems that way to you?"

"Oh, well, put it that way, if you like," she said, after a glance of close scrutiny. "I'm not libeling anybody, if that's what you mean. But I propose to do the work that it seems to me the police have left undone. To make the investigation that they certainly have not made. And, I hope, to attain results that they assuredly have made no effort to attain. So, Mr. Pelham, I am saying all this to you because I want to enlist, if not your help, at least your understanding of my position and of my purpose."

"I do understand, Miss Folsom, and I assure you that you may count on me to do all I can to assist you. And I make bold to ask that you keep your work and its results as quiet as you can, and avoid all unnecessary publicity."

And Miss Folsom, having attained her ends, promised to grant this not unreasonable request.

After the departure of the manager she sent a message to Titus Riggs and asked him to favor her with a call.

Somewhat to her surprise Riggs came immediately, and expressed himself as glad to be of service if possible.

"Well, you see, Mr. Riggs," Miss Folsom began, "I want a detective."

"But, dear lady, I am not a detective."

"You can be one. You have all the requirements, and it doesn't need a special course of study to take up the business."

"You mean for me to make a business of it?"

"I certainly do, and it will pay you better than the business you are already engaged in."

Tite Riggs stared.

His manners, usually correct and proper, gave way before this astonishing woman, who said astonishing things.

"You know my business, then?"

"Certainly, you are an architect—but not a very prominent one."

"True enough. And you offer—"

"I offer you a chance to make money surely, and fame, perhaps, if you will accept my proposition."

"Which is?"

"That you help me to discover and bring to punishment the murderer of my brother."

"And why do you think I can do this?"

"Don't be silly. I've heard you talk, and that's all I need to understand anybody. Now, if you agree, I will give you whatever salary you demand, within reason—"

"Your reason or mine?"

Miss Folsom looked at him a moment, and then said, calmly:

"Yours."

"Very well. I accept for as long as you are satisfied with my services. You are to be free to dismiss me whenever you wish."

This Mortgage Says "I Owe Money!"

YOU can't dodge that fact. It is there and will not down. If you live you expect to pay it—and you probably will. If you die unexpectedly it must be paid somehow, but your widow may lose her home in the process. Why not ensure that she would have ready cash to pay the debt, and thereby save your home from being broken up?

Sixteen out of seventeen homes are lost to the family when the head of the house dies before the mortgage is paid off.

An Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy will protect your home by providing funds to pay off your mortgage if you should die prematurely or it will give you a substantial sum in cash for your own use if you live. It pays a monthly income should you become totally disabled, too.

Now, while you have the necessary health, is the time to insure. Send for particulars of this liberal Policy to-day.

ACCEPTS CALL FROM TORONTO

Rev. C. D. Daniel to Take Charge of Sunderland United Church.

LEAGUE MEETING

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, May 29.—It was with deep regret that the people of Zion church learned of the decision of their pastor, the Rev. C. D. Daniel, to accept a call from the Sunderland United church in the Toronto Conference. During the years that Mr. Daniel has been with the Seymour charge he has endeared himself, not only to the members of his congregation, but to the whole community. Mingled with the regret, however, is a feeling of pride in the man who is worthy to step into wider service in the interests of God's kingdom and his fellow men.

Rev. Mr. Daniel will be with the Seymour charge during the month of June, after which the ministerial duties will be assumed by the Rev. Mr. McTavish of Northpart, who has accepted a call to thtis charge.

League Meets.

Over forty attended Thursday evening's League service with the Ford group leading on points. The Whippets still lead in the contest with the other three groups almost tied and right on the heels of the leaders. A noteworthy fact of the last week's attendance is the fact that all but one of those present had attended church the previous Sabbath. The program was in charge of the social convenor, Gladys Simpson, with Grant Meiklejohn as leader. After the usual business session the following numbers were given: Scriptural lesson, "The Sermon on the Mount," Jennie Fry devotional talk on the lesson, Amos Barnum; song by Helen Barnum; music, Grant Kerr and Fred Barnum; reading, Bessie Meiklejohn; topic on summer school, Gladys Simpson.

On account of the illness of the junior department convenor, the next meeting will be in charge of Thomas Fry, devotional convenor. May 26th.

LADIES GUESTS OF MEN'S CLUB

church workers. He was sorry to see a few vacant chairs, but was glad to welcome the ladies to a function in the preparation of which they had not taken any part. His toast was to the women of Christ Church, and he called on the men to drink it with all the enthusiasm of which they were capable. The men responded nobly by singing "For they are jolly good fellows' 'and by lusty cheers.

Mrs. Fred Linton expressed her pleasure in being present at a banquet in the Parish Hall in which the women had not had a part in the preparation. She agreed that this was the first occasion of its kind within the scope of her memory. There was plenty of work for everyone in the church, and all that was required was someone to start. The banquet, she said, was greatly appreciated by the ladies, as were also the tables which Mr. Wilkinson had donated. She thought there might be some prospect of the ladies giving the men a banquet in the near future. (Applause.) She hoped that the Men's Club would co-operate with the Willing Workers and that their combined efforts would be successful.

Mrs. R. T. Cowell proposed the toast to the guests. Briefly she expressed her pleasure at being present and being given the opportunity. She sorry that the ladies had no responded better.

As Major James Belford rose to respond to the toast, applause from both men and women greeted him. He said that he was really not a guest in Campbellford since he had considered himself at home in the town since his early school days. He was glad to be here, he said, and glad to see that the men "had not done too badly." He hoped the ladies would appreciate their efforts and realise that their hearts were in the right place even though some of them did happen to be close to their stomachs. The Willing Workers in the Campbellford church had done great things, he stated. They had relieved many difficult situations in which the church wardens found themselves. They had accomplished things which the men never could.

The town churches were almost as strong as ever, he claimed, but the country churches were on the decline. They were coming social centres, and in order to maintain their prestige they must stick to the Gospel. There was work for the church right at home as well as in the foreign mission fields. There were people in this very district, who had never been inside a church door and who had not the faintest idea of religion or what it meant. He thought it would be a good idea if the Willing Workers of the Campbellford church would visit some of the neighboring churches and lend a hand where necessary. Other churches were not so fortunate as the Campbellford church, he said. It is the leading church of the district.

In closing, Major Belford expressed his appreciation for the invitation which the Men's Club had given him.

A vote of thanks to the men was moved and seconded by Miss Jennie Martin and Mrs. E. J. Free. The ladies, not to be outdone, applauded loudly, sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and cheered the men as the men had a few minutes before cheered them. As president of the club and toastmaster for the evening, S. H. Neale responded briefly.

"Joshing the Janitor," a comic dialogue given by Robert Dunk and Jack Free, won loud applause at various stages and was popular with both men and women. The remainder of the evening was spent in community singing.

In the following May he accompanied his father to Dartmouth. At the end of his first year here, he experienced his first real sorrow. On May 5th, 1910, King Edward, after a long seige of bronchitis, died suddenly of heart failure at Buckingham. Upon the death of his grandfather, and the accession of his father, George V., Edward of Wales became Duke of Cornwall.

During the Prince's second year at Dartmouth, he took an active part in sports, part of his vacations were spent with his tutor at Balmoral hunting.

In taking leave of Dartmouth he performed his first public and official ceremony, and made his first speech as Prince of Wales. At Guildhall he presented to the town of Dartmouth, the silver oar, a symbol of its power as guardian of the Dartmouth water. The next morning he bade goodbye to his friends.

On June 21, two days before his seventeenth birthday, King George honored his son with the Order of the Garter, instituted in the fourteenth century.

Another very important event of his life was the coronation of the King and Queen, at which he took lead of the long line of Princes and Princesses of the royal blood.

In August, the Prince of Wales as midshipman, boarded H.M.S. Hindosta for a three month's cruise. Before leaving he bade good-bye to everyone on board personally. He received many tokens and when the time of his departure came the ship's crew lined up on the deck and sang, "God bless the Prince of Wales."

The Prince, showing a great love for sea life was sent to France, but remained there only a short time. He then matriculated from Magdalen College, Oxford, this term being perhaps the most difficult. Being the Prince of Wales heightened rather than relieved his situation. He was sensitive to the fact that all eyes were focused upon him. But at the end of two years he was quite adapted to Magdalen's way and wished to remain two more years. But war broke out in August, 1914, and the Prince was commissioned as second Lieutenant of the Grenadier Guards, at Warley Barracks, Essex. Later he joined Sir John French at Boulogne.

On several occasions he was given important services to perform, One of these was to carry a special message between Sir John and Lord Kitchener. In the fall he was sent to Italy; here he was a frequent visitor in the Red Cross huts. At the end of 1917 he returned to France and remained there until the end of the war.

After the War, when the Prince came to take up the peace time duties of his office, he found a strangely different world from that which he had gone out in.

A great deal of his time was spent in hospitals and private houses, doing what he could to cheer and help those who had suffered during the war.

In August 5th, 1919, the Prince sailed from Portsmouth on a four months' trip through British North America. About a week later he set foot on Canadian soil at St. John, New Brunswick. At Quebec, he took a special train, which took him across the Canadian Pacific to Vancouver, and back again to Montreal, stopping at fifty towns by the way.

By the time he reached Nipigon, he had to take a rest from speech-making, hand-shaking, and sight-seeing. In November he crossed the border for a flying trip to Washington and New York City.

It was not until June of 1922, the Prince returned to England after spending two years in Australia, New Zealand, and India.

Once more established in London he took up his daily work, which made his life a busy and sometimes burdensome one. So popular did he become he was made President of the International Advertising Association. He attended conventions, meetings of associations, and organizations. As he was President of numerous societies he was expected to be there. There were official and Court functions requiring his presence. The hospitals frequently called upon him, a demand he never refused.

The Prince of Wales has a harder task to perform than any of his predecessors. He comes to it at a time when the world is moving through a rapid, and confusing process of evolution.

His mission is not only to please his own people but as messenger of good-will between them and the people of other lands, he must please them all. And the very qualities in him at which the reactionaries cavil are those which have endeared him to the world outside of England as well as in it.

HORSE KILLING HEARD IN COURT

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 29.—After hearing the evidence in the case of cruelty to animals brought by Inspector Arthur Alloway of the S.P.C.A., Toronto, against Henry Redden of this town, Magistrate Payne reserved judgment for one week. The case rises out of an affair of May 13th when Redden attempted to kill one of his horses which had apparently little chance of ever being of any further use. His method of knocking the animal on the head with an axe did not prove efficient and Chief Light was summoned to despatch the animal. The charge was laid under section 142 of the criminal code. N. A. McColl appeared for the defense and Mr. Alloway pleaded his own case for the prosecution.

Chief Light, the first witness called, said he had been passing the stable where the horse was kept and heard the groans of the naimal. He asked how the horse was and was told it was no better and it would have to be killed. On seeing the horse, he agreed to shoot the animal which was still groaning and moving its hind legs. He fired one shot from a heavy revolver and severed the jugular vein. The horse stiffened out and lay still. There was blood, he said, on the floor both before and after he shot the horse. He believed that shooting was the usual method of killing horses in this district, but was aware that cows were usually knocked on the head and bled at once. The fore part of the horse's head had been "all crushed open" and "any one would know that the animal would not die of those blows," said the Chief. He was not an expert in such matters but said that that was his opinion.

Aden Lowe said he was on a neighbor's verandah and saw Redden open the stable door about 11.30 or twelve o'clock and strike the horse two or three blows on the head with an axe. Then he returned to the house. He saw no more because he went to Sunday school later on. But he heard kicking and groaning after the blows had been struck. Questioned by Mr. McColl Lowe stated that it was immediately after the blows had been struck that he heard the kicking.

Arthur Alloway, chief inspector for the Toronto district, was the next witness sworn. He said he had visited Redden and before questioning him had explained who he was. Redden then admitted having tried to kill the horse, but had not succeeded till the Chief of Police arrived and shot it for him. Redden also said that the horse had been down since Friday, May 11th and that he had tried to lift it. He had never killed a horse before. His reason for not calling the Chief was that it was Sunday and he did not want to make any disturbance. He had thought of shooting the animal and had started out to find a man who had a gun. Questioned by McColl, Inspector Alloway stated that the defendant had not declined to answer any questions and had "seemed quite fair." This was the case for the prosecution.

Testifying in his own behalf, Henry Redden said that the reason the horse was down was because it had a bad leg, and had had it for a week. He had found the animal down on Saturday morning, had bedded it plenty of straw, and gone about his work. At six o'clock that evening he got Mr. Clarke to help him lift the horse onto its feet, but they were unable to accomplish this. At half past eleven, Redden decided that the horse would have to be killed and that nothing more could be done for it. But on Sunday morning he again called Clarke to assist him to see if there were any signs of improvement in the animal. The horse's condition was worse, however, and there were marks on its head where it had struck it against the stall during the night. One eye was badly swollen. The horse was suffering then, and pounding with its hind feet.

About ten o'clock Sunday morning he went to the stable and took an axe with him, but did not use it till about two in the afternoon. That was just before he went in to his dinner. At that time he struck the horse two or three heavy blows with the intention of putting the animal out of misery. He waited and watched it while it stiffened and lay still for about fifteen minutes. Believing it to be dead, Redden went in to eat his dinner. After the meal he returned to the stable with two pails of water for the other horses and was surprised to see the animal still showing signs of life, moving its legs, and moaning.

He noticed the Chief of Police across the street and told him that he had thought he had killed the horse, but found that it was still alive. Asked why he did not get someone to shoot the animal, Redden had said that he did not know who to get. It was then that he asked the Chief to shoot it for him. The revolver which the officer was carrying at the time did not seem heavy enough, so the Chief returned to his office for a larger one. The Chief had only fired one shot, Redden declared, and the horse was still breathing fifteen or twenty minutes later. It was not moving.

Asked by the inspector from Toronto, what methods he employed to lift the horse, Redden said he used a block and tackle fastened to the ceiling. The horse would stand on its front feet, but would not put its hind feet on the floor. He had not attempted to lift it after Saturday night. He had called one veterinary but he had not been in, and he had not tried to locate another. If the Chief had not come along, Redden said he did not know what he would have done to despatch the animal. He was not aware that it was part of the duties of the local police.

This completed the case for the defence, but the defendant was allowed to make a statement. He said that he had had a similar case with a horse once before, and it had been saved. He had hoped to save this one.

In his address to the magistrate, Mr. MacColl pointed out that the section of the Code read "Willfully and cruelly cause unnecessary suffering." This was for the complainant to prove and he had not done so. Therefore his case had failed. The defendant had honestly intended to despatch the horse, and had felt justified in leaving it as a dead horse. Mr. MacColl also pointed out that the animal breathed for some minutes after the Chief had shot it.

Mr. Alloway, for the prosecution, claimed that there had been willful neglect, in that the animal had been allowed to lie suffering for two days. It was also cruel to try to kill it with an axe without having the proper knowledge. This the defendant admitted not having. He had also admitted that he would not have known what to do had the Chief not arrived when he did. The animal would probably have had to lie where it was and die. He was of the opinion that the defendant should have called a veterinary.

Magistrate Payne reserved judgment for one week.

WASHOUTS CAUSED BY SEVERE FLOODS

Two Towns of Northern Quebec Isolated—One Man Killed.

CHICOUTIMI, Que., May 28 (Canadian Press). — The towns of Lanse St. Jean, 50 miles from here, and La Petit Saguenay, near Chicoutimi, were isolated to-day as a result of two washouts which damaged several houses and killed one man, Raoul Dauteuil. The washouts were caused by severe floods which have swept over the Lake St. John district for the past ten days. Dauteuil was killed at Lanse St. Jean when a mass of earth was loosened and fell from a height of 200 feet on to the outskirts of the village.

Washouts completely disrupted all wire communications between this city and the two towns.

Isaac was given 10 days in the common jail for being intoxicated while operating a car, and Edward was fined $25 and $20.50 costs for being intoxicated. GIRL KILLED.

Stranger Takes Child From Her Home and Returns Body 20 Minutes Later.

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 29 (Canadian Press). — A man early to-day entered the home of Alex. Sielagowski, took Dorothy, aged 7, from the bed where she was sleeping with her three sisters, carried her to his automobile, attacked and killed her, and then, twenty minutes later, threw the body on the porch of her grandparents' home, a few doors from the child's home.

Police immediately started a search for a "small man in a black suit," whom Sielagowski said he saw drive away from in front of the home a few minutes after the disappearance of Dorothy.

LYRICS OF LIFE

TIPS

Let lips be servants of the heart,
And learn to do its will;
And goodness let the lips impart,
Or let the lips be still.
For lips are cruel and unkind
That know no master but the mind.

There is a guard at every gate,
There should be one at this,
That will not open unto hate,
Or hurt, or tale amiss,
Yes, guards the lips of lad and lass
And sees that only good shall pass.

Because I know the strongest arm
The strongest man may wear
May do a brother less of harm
Than men who speak unfair;
Some women's words, however light,
Cut deeper than the sabre might.

Aye, let the head direct the hand
And give it tasks to do,
But let the heart forever stand
A greater than these two.
Each has its duty, every part—
Let lips be servants of the heart.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate)
FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1928.

Good and evil planetary influences balance today, according to astrology, which finds certain benefic aspects strong and offset by an adverse sway.

The mind should be fairly keen under this rule which is said to increase the power of insight.

This is a favorable day for starting ocean voyages and should bring pleasant adventures out of the common run.

Again oil benefits from the positing of the stars and it may be the cause of great excitement.

The death of a multi-millionaire may affect the stock market early next month. Speculation is not well directed.

This month will stand out in the year as a time when many questions in industry and politics were answered.

The month has been a period for crystallizing sentiment in industry as well as politics, later developments will prove.

Color is to plan an important par in summer attire and this symbolizes a cheerful mental state which is the subconscious assurance of good times, the seers explain.

Beauty is to be appreciated and cultivated as never before, the stars indicate, and this means all who seek it will be careful of their environment.

Public places as well as homes are to be artistic and attractive, according to the best standards, the seers prophesy.

Persons whose birthdate it is should cultivate caution in the coming year which may bring them into contact with promotions of many sorts.

Children born on this day probably will be highly intelligent and imaginative. They may acquire sudden fortunes, but be unwise about handling money.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Navy blue chiffon with white pin dot made into frock for warm days in town.

In a country like our own where so frequently "winter lingering chills the lap of May" women very often have no sooner found it possible to dispense entirely with winter wraps in favor of a spring wardrobe than—presto chango!—summer is here. Really warm summer days when spring clothes are too warm. Types of frocks and hats and wraps and accessories that the French woman may comfortably wear through the entire summer must in most parts of this country be put aside for clothes of a more tropical sort. Yet this sudden need for thin clothes and summery accessories is something that we are all too apt to forget from season to season.

Summer suddenly comes upon us and there is a frantic rushing to the shops, a hasty review of last summer's lighter frocks, and the need to spend one's leisure sewing and stitching, dressmaking and making over, just when the last thing that we really want to do is to go shopping or work indoors.

It seems to have taken white folk in this country nearly three hundred years to discover that summer in America is really almost tropical. The sun shines as brightly on New York and other cities of the same latitude as it does on Madrid. Washington is only a degree or so further north than Tunis, and Los Angeles and Jerusalem might be paired off in the same way. For reasons that are all very nicely explained in the geography books we enjoy some cooler weather and our winters are in many places even more severe than they are in Northern Europe, but it is a fact that—as I have suggested—clothes of the sort designed in Paris for Northern Europeans are not entirely appropriate summer apparel for us who dwell where the sun shines so much more brightly.

Gradually but surely we are getting used to the situation, and within the past ten years there have been really remarkable changes in the customs followed concerning summer apparel. Even in city streets women go wrapless and gloveless as a matter of course when summer actually comes. Wraps are of the thinnest and the jacket suit is laid aside.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE EAT

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

The most important reason for eating is obvious. We eat because we get hungry. Hunger is one of the most primitive instincts. We eat to sustain life.

But this is not the whole story. We do not eat merely to live. We sometimes reverse the process and live to eat. Taking in food is the chief source of pleasure to a great many people.

Moreover, we often eat when we are not hungry. On Sundays and holidays people eat a great deal more than usual, especially candy and fruit. They keep on eating long after their appetite is appeased. Idleness and uneasiness are common causes for eating and more especially for over-eating.

The aesthetic motives for taking nourishment must not be overlooked. Clean wholesome food and a healthy appetite are not the only necessities for a good dinner. We eat in expensive hotels because we get service along with the food, fancy linen, cut flowers, music, "atmosphere." Another proof of the aesthetic appeal in eating is that we insist on pleasant topics of conversation during the meal hour. Food and eating play so important a role in our daily program that we are rightly accused of being food-minded. This menns that we think in terms of food even in our religious rites and ceremonies. Our food attitude is reflected in the words we use in connection with things theoretically far removed from food. For example, if you thoroughly dislike a person you are likely to say, "I can't stomach him." There are many such expressions which show that we think in terms of food and judge our experiences in the light of the eating appetite.

New Handkerchief for Evening

IF you want to make one of the newest of evening handkerchiefs, follow this diagram—and make one. And if you make one, you will probably want to make two or three. They are lovely for yourself, equally nice for gifts.

To begin with, buy georgette or chiffon of one of the light or bright evening shades. You will need a square 18 inches wide for each handkerchief. Have the square finished with a machine picot edge all around.

If it is not convenient to get a machine picot edge made, then you can roll the edge of the chiffon square by hand. But the machine picot gives a flatter, better effect.

You know, you must mark the square of chiffon neatly and precisely with a thread where you want the picot edge. So cut the square you want half an inch larger than it is to be, mark a line with white or colored thread half an inch in from the edge, and send it to the picot man.

When you get it, there will be a row of hemstitching where the line is marked. Pull out the marking thread, and then carefully, neatly, cut the machine hemstitching in half. This will give you your machine picot edge.

Now put on the footing. Colored footing in the light evening shades is sold in some of the bigger cities. But the handkerchief I have is edged with white footing. Baste it on with fine silk so that the inside edge of the footing just laps over the picot edge of the chiffon square. It is put on in four strips, and each corner is double. You won't need to turn under the raw edge at the end of the footing strips. It won't fray and it won't show as an untidy edge.

Now cut a square of the footing and baste it on at each corner over the chiffon. Tuck the edges under the edge of the footing border. Turn under the raw edge of this square.

When everything is basted, run the footing on with two or three strands of colored embroidery silk—not the twisted kind, but the soft, untwisted sort. Fasten the applied corner on in the same way. Then embroider a little rose, three or four French knots, and two or three leaves as suggested in the sketch. The rose is solid, in two shades of pink or yellow. The knots can be in the same colors, in black, blue or green. The leaves are done in green, in lazy-daisy stitch.

Blue makes a good color for the running stitch that fastens on the footing—it looks well with pink, corn-color, or lavendar chiffon or georgette. If your handkerchief is green, a darker green thread might be used for the running stitch, or lavendar or rose might be best.

LOCAL GIRLS WIN PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

Three of Them Among Winners in Laura Secord Competition.

Three Peterborough girls are listed among those winning awards in the Laura Secord Essay Contest for the best essays on "Laura Secord, the Woman Who Made Confederation Possible", as announced today. They are the Misses Hilda Phillips of Queen Alexandra School, Madeline La Pointe of St. Mary's Convent, and Gladys Hunter Watson of Central School. All three won special prizes in the junior section, receiving pictures of Laura Secord and the Fathers of Confederation.

The honor of winning the Grand Prize falls to Miss Marie Cameron, of Victoria School, Toronto, a pupil of the Jr. IV. class, the teacher being Miss E. Lane.

In making their decision, the judges refer particularly to the wonderful work done by some of the pupils from the Ontario School for the Blind, of Brantford, one of which won the second prize in the junior division. Two others were awarded minor prizes, and all essays in this school were given honorable mention on account of the very high standard displayed.

In all, over 4,000 essays were examined by the judging committee. Every part of Canada was represented, from British Columbia to Nova Scotia, the chief entries being of course, from Ontario and Quebec, where the story of Laura Secord is a household word to school children.

Royals Take Final Game Of Series From Leafs

POUND DOYLE FOR 8-5 WIN

Lannack, Montreal Hurler, Given Great Support by His Teammates.

SKEETERS WIN DOUBLE

MONTREAL, Que., May 29—(Canadian Press).—The Royals pounded Jess Doyle hard and timely here yesterday afternoon to win the final game of the series with the Leafs, 8-5. The victory gave Montreal an even break in the two games played, the other pair of scheduled contests having been washed out.

The Royals got to Doyle in the second and fifth frames for their runs, scoring three in the second and five in the fifth. A double by Gaudette and two singles accounted for the first trio of tallies and four successive singles followed by Daly's double and another single by Fewster sent Doyle to the showers.

The Royals played with great confidence in the field behind Dunnagan's tight hurling, staging three fast double plays and missing two more by a whisker.

WIN DOUBLEHEADER.

JERSEY CITY, May 29.—(Canadian Press).—Jersey City took two wild ball games from Baltimore here yesterday and as a result copped the series from the Birds, two victories to one. The Black Cats won the first game after 14 innings, 3 to 2, and then tucked away the seven inning nightcap with a big splurge in the third frame, 4 to 1.

Bolan and Johnson had a great duel in the first game. Cliff Johnson won from his old team-mates in the nightcap to give the Jerseys the double victory. Baltimore's lone run, scored in the fourth, was unearned. Jack Smith, now first baseman, broke into the local lineup in this game.

VIEWS ON SPORTS

Two hardball fixtures are slated for to-morrow night—one in E.P.L. and the other in the Junior group of the City League.

* * * * * * *

Bethany will be here tomorrow evening for an East Peterborough League game with Raybestos. The boys from Durham had a great game with Keene on the holiday when the two clubs went through a nine innings contest unable to break a 1 to 1 score. Daw will likely pitch for Bethany, and Masterson for Raybestos.

* * * * * * *

Johnny Burke's crew will play their first game in the Junior group to-morrow night when they clash with the Kiwanis at James Stevenson Park. Westbrooke will probably be on the mound with Staunte behind the bat. The infield will be composed of Collins, Jones, Ashmore and Miller. Whaley, Burke and Barrie are the outfield positions.

The Moose entry in the Juvenile group of the Junior Ball League went down to defeat 7—2 to the Kiwanis last night, but given a little more practise, they promise to be real contenders for the series honors.

* * * * * * *

Contrary to their expectations, the Kiwanis crew failed to hit a homer in the Juvenile tilt to win the tonsorial course offered by George Robinson all the circuit clouts for last night going to the Bantam group opener; Kay and Levine clouting two over the fence at the Sacred Heart grounds.

* * * * * * *

The Bantam League was officially opened at the Sacred Heart grounds last night, with the Graftons' and Riley and Hickey's teams staging the excitement. The game was evenly contested at the start, with both teams laying steady ball for the first innings, but after that, the Hickey boys swamped DeForge's gang with their heavy hitting. The winners not anly performed well at the bat but they played well in the field, having only two errors against them.

* * * * * * *

Upper Canada College was defeated at the Lakefield Public School on Saturday, May 26th, by the score of 87 to 35. Peck, for Lakefield, scored 48; Pringle tallied 17, while Dawson took 5 wickets for 12 runs, and Peck 3 for 16. For Upper Canada College, Thompson with 7 and McGee with 8 were the top scorers.

MOOSE LOSE FIRST GAME

Defeated by Kiwanis in Initial Tilt of Juvenile Group.

GRAFTONS LOSE OUT

Taking an early lead in the first three innings of the play, the Kiwanis juveniles defeated the Moose 7-2 in the initial game of the juvenile group last night at James Stevenson park. Merriott on the mound for the victors was hit hard but was given excellent support by his team mates. The Kiwanis ran wild on the bases, stealing bases time after time to add to the winning total. Dallin for the victors showed nice work both in the left field and at the bat, scoring one run and tipping off some flies.

The Moose have every promise of being a strong club, but owing to their lack of practice did not show up so well. Adams pitched a steady game up to the fifth inning when he was relieved by Kay, who allowed three hits and had three strike-outs in the remaining two innings of the play.

Reid replaced Asling in the sixth innings.

GRAFTON'S DEFEATED.

Riley and Hickey's bantam team defeated Grafton's 27-8 in the opening game of the bantam group last night at the Sacred Heart grounds.

Ernie Wolfe's aggregation started a batting bee in the second frame and scored twenty-five runs in four innings. In the second inning they scored twelve runs, with Levine hitting the first home run with Scollard on base. Kay drove one over the fence in the right field for another homer in the fourth with Asquith and Reynolds on bases. Stanger struck out five in two innings, but Pearson failed to hold him up, Sweetman replaced Stanger in the third for Grafton's, and is credited with four strike-outs and three walks until he was replaced by Pearson in the sixth. Pearson pitched good ball, fanning four in 2 innings. Levine for Riley and Hickey, had two doubles, a pair of singles and a home run in six trips to the plate. Price, pitching for the winners, struck out seven and walked two in the seven innings. Grafton's crew started a batting rally when Price got a little wild, but the youngster pulled out of the hole.

BROWNS WIN FROM SOX

Walter Beck Holds Chicago to Two Hits From 2-1 Victory.

YANKS INCREASE LEAD

NEW YORK, May 29.—(Canadian Press).—Permitting only two hits while he fanned nine White Sox, during the first four innings, Walter Beck, former Tulsa Western League hurler, brought victory to the Browns at St. Louis yesterday, 2 to 1. Beck displayed his wares like a veteran, collecting a pair of hits off the Chicago hurlers besides his labors on the mound.

The New York Yankees increased their lead on the American League to a strangle hold, to eight full games, overpowering the Athletics in the last game of the long series at Philadelphia, 11 to 4.

The games marked the second failure of Robert Moses Grove to hold the Yankees in this series. The Athletics gave him a lead of 4 to 2 in the third when Simmons capped a rally with a home run with two on base. The Yankees came right back in the fifth with a five run assault, topped by Lazzeri's third homer of the series. Dugan got his third circuit blow of the series in the ninth with one on base.

A double steal and an error by Gerber, Red Sox shortstop, gave Washington a 2 to 0 victory at Boston. Big Ed. Morris, Red Sox recruit pitcher, and Zachary, both turned in good games, but the breaks favored the Senators. Goslin and Judge, after both had singled, engineered the double steal.

The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was postponed because of rain.

Only four games including doubleheader scheduled.

Dr. F. H. Lingwood High Man In First Shoot of the Season Held At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, May 29.—The first shoot of the season of 1928 was held on May 24, by the Lakefield Rifle Association, with a good attendance. The following scores are for 200 yards, 200 yards quick fire, and 500 yards. Owing to a slight mishap which caused temporary inconvenience, the 600 yards event was not shot. Also only five shots were counted in each group instead of seven. There will be seven shots in the shoots to be held on June 14 and 28, and the September events. Dr. F. H. Lingwood was high man, with W. A. Payne and A. Darling taking second and third places. B. Dench was fourth, and W. Trude fifth.

JAPAN MEETS UNITED STATES

TIGHT MATCHES

MONTREAL, Que., May 29.—(Canadian Press).—Undaunted by early reverses which forced him to concede the first two sets to his opponent, Captain Ibizo Toba, of the Japanese Davis Cup team, battling from behind, defeated Dr. Jack Wright, of Canada, 7-9, 3-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, in the first match of the two final singles of the Japan-Canada tie at the Mount Royal Tennis Club courts yesterday.

The triumph of the Japanese leader clinched the second-round tie for his team, giving the Japanese their third victory of the cup tie, the singles last Friday having been divided and Japan winning the doubles match Saturday. As a result of their victory, the fifth and final match between Willard F. Crocker and Yoshiro Onta had no bearing on the series except to widen or decrease Japan's margin. The two went to the courts, but their exhibition was called in the evening, after each had won two sets, Crocker winning 6-2, 6-0, and then losing to Onta 6-3, 11-9.

The Japanese players leave to-day for Chicago where they will meet the United States team in the American zone final starting Friday, the winner of the final journeying across the Atlantic to play the victors in the European zone for the right to challenge France for the Davis Cup.

REDS INCREASE LEAGUE LEAD

Pete Donohue Pitches Cincinnati to a 2-1 Victory Over Cards.

KEEN FIELDING

NEW YORK, May 29.—(Canadian Press). — Pete Donohue, erstwhile holdout, worked his first game of the season for Cincinnati at Chicago yesterday and pitched the Reds to a 2-1 victory over the Cubs.

The victory increased Cincinnati's lead in the league race to 2 1-2 games. Donohue, backed by keen fielding, held the Cubs to five scattered safeties, while Guy Bush, who hurled eight innings when he was jerked for a pinch hitter, allowed 10. Only one game scheduled.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

The visit of the Deloro team here on Saturday should provide Peterborough fans with an exciting afternoon. The Smelters outfit has always been a smart, well-drilled machine and this year is described as stronger than ever. Incidentally Deloro has a Peterborough battery in Carl Wood and Lambert Collins while Frank Leal ,the veteran of the pitching staff, also formerly lived here.

In addition to Wood and Leal the Deloro heaving brigade includes Jack Shea, the young speed baller of two years ago who is back with the Smelters after a year's absence in Kingston and Ralph a smart southpaw. Vaughan Jack, the fast-fielding shorstop is also an effective box artist so the Deloro gang are well stocked with gunners.

The Petes journey to Kingston tomorrow and a win over Joe Daley's Ponies who have lost their first two starts would be a big help. Daley has some smart ball players and his squad and this young Buck who played for Circle Six against the Lakeviews some years ago is breaking into the senior loop with a vengeance. Beyond banging out three hits in four times up at Belleville and whamming five in six trips to the plate Saturday the youngster has not done a thing with his bat.

The pitching in Saturday's game at Kingston must have been miserable all the heavers introduced into the game getting a fine lacing, although Dell Cherry who started for Kingston and Matthews the Oshawa first choice bore the brunt of the attack.

Peeney Mills left the ball park Saturday talking to himself. And it is a safe bet he wasn't very pleasant company all the way home as he thought of that ctach that robbed him of a homer.

You've got to hit them a mile to get extra bases at the local ball park. Those long smashes made by Turner and Rose in the second inning Saturday would have been circuit clouts at Oshawa, Kingston or Belleville.

Herb. Wolfe, the Peterborough boy with Oshawa, is going to be up with the batting leaders. He only got one blow in the Peterborough game but that was a homer with a runner on the sacks and on Saturday he crashed out five hits in six times up.

The Central Ontario League officials should pay some attention to the question of official scorers if the League averages are to mean anything. The box score of the Peterborough-Oshawa game as published in the Oshawa Times was unwarrantedly inaccurate. There is always room for an argument over the question of hits and errors where the decision is up to the judgment of the scorer but there is no excuse for inaccuracy or for lack of knowledge of the scoring rules. If the averages are to be prepared from such box scores as the Oshawa paper contained they had better be left uncompiled because they do justice to nobody.

WILSON'S BACHELOR

BIG SIX.

Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb were the only active members of the Big Six in yesterday's curtailed schedule. The Babe took his opportunity to climb to second place. He enjoyed a perfect day at bat against Grove, Orwell and Powers as the Yankees whaled the Athletics, 11 to 4, getting two singles and three passes, to boost his percentage to .369.

Cobb got only one hit in five trips to the plate, and slumped down below Frisch into fifth place with .309.

Joshua Crane, American golfer, who was eliminated in the early rounds of play in the recent British open golf tourney at Sandwich, England, is shown here putting at the eighth hole, using the shortest handled putter in the contest, measuring 18 inches.

Wheat Prices Drop After Early Gains

CHICAGO, May 29 (Canadian Press).—Wheat prices turned downward to-day after an early advance that was associated with dry weather northwest. The upturns met with selling from houses which have been conspicuous of late on the bull side. Opening at ¼ cent decline to ½ cent gain, wheat rose all round, but later dropped to well below yesterday's finish. Corn was relatively firm, starting at a shade off to ⅝ cent up, and subsequently showing a general advance. Oats were easy. Provisions held steady.

Opening prices were Wheat, May 147½, July 149⅞; corn, May 101¾, July 103⅝; oats, May 65½, July 56.

MUSK OXEN AND CARIBOU IN NORTHERN HOMES

Little Change Shown On Standard Exchange

TORONTO, May 29 (Canadian Press).—Trading was without sensation on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange this morning. The market showed improvement over yesterday's session, but slight reactions continued the general rule. Noranda recovered from its lapse yesterday by closing at 26.25 for a gain of 75. Newbec was easier at the opening, but closed at 48, for a loss of six.

The western issues were weak. Pend Oreille dropped 40 to 16.00; Hudson Bay 25 to 17.95, and Central Manitoba, one to 129. Big Missouri was unchanged at 69, and Sherritt Gordon showed a gain of a point at 571.

International Nickel advanced 1.00 to 93.00. Malartic was unchanged at 142. Howey was down 6½ at 86½, and Hollinger was up five at 15.00. Lorraine Trout Lake made a good gain to 70.

Other hcanges in the list included Barry Hollinger, up 2½ at 93, Premier up five at 225, West Dome Gold up two at 14, Bathurst down three at 23, Bidgood down two at 86, Lakeshore down 65 at 2285, and Teck Hughes down twelve at 9.80.

Motor Shares In Demand In Wall Street To-day

NEW YORK, May 29 (Canadian Press).—Heavy buying of motor shares, based in part on expectations of favorable second quarter earnings statements, turned the course of stock prices upward to-day after an early period of irregularity. Early decline of one to five points in many issues were cut down or wiped out, and more than two score issues were marked up one to nearly fifteen points. Trading was fairly heavy for the pre-holiday session, sales crossing 2,000,000 share mark before the end of the third hour.

Wall Street apparently had recovered from the shock of 6½ per cent. call money rate yesterday, the highest in seven years. Call loans renewed to-day at six per cent, and there appeared to be a plentiful supply of funds available at that figure.

The day's business news was rather mixed in character. The signing of the tax bill by President Coolidge was widely commented upon as a bullish factor, but prices held fairly steady.

Dodge Brothers Preferred, which has been yielding nearly 10 per cent at recent levels, ran up 13¼ points to a new peak at 83, while the Common advanced about three points. Chrysler extended its gain to seven points by touching a new peak at 87⅛. Studebaker, General Motors, Hudson, Hupp, and Mack Trucks advanced 2½ to 3½ points.

International Harvester, Frank G. Shattuck, Radio, and Curtiss Airplane sold six to eight points higher, and Wright Aeronautical, Kroger Stores, May Department Stores, Allied Chemical, American Smelting, Postum, Otis Elegator, Greene Cananea Copper, and New York State Railways Preferred were among the many issues to advance two points or more. International Paper ran up more than three points, despite a cut of $3 a ton in the price of newsprint for 1929 delivery.

Toronto Trading Light With Changes Small

TORONTO, May 29 (Canadian Press). — Trading was light on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. Prices showed little change, with the exception of a general easing, fractional in character. British American Oil was one of the few heavy sellers and dropped ½ to 38½. The Cockshutt issues, following their activity yesterday, were easier. Common gained a fraction, closing at 30, and Preferred was down 1½ at 126.

Photo engravers continued its activity and was unchanged at 37. International Nickel, in the largest turnover of the morning, dropped a fraction to 93 1-8. International Petroleum was down a fraction at 41, and Imperial Tobacco was up slightly at 10½.

The liquor issues, with the exception of Walkers, which dropped nearly two points to 59¾, were quiet.

Royal Bank dropped five to 395, and Bank of Toronto gained five, selling at 315. The other bank issues were without material change.

NORMA SHEARER SCORES HEAVILY

Norma Shearer scores heavily again!

This time in a unique starring vehicle which gives her the role of a travelling saleswoman throughout the Middle West for a New York firm of Jewish wholesalers.

At the Regent Theatre, where "The Latest from Paris" opened yesterday, a crowded house spontaneously applauded the screen work of the young woman who was believed to have reached her pinnacle in "His Secretary," but who scores even more heavily in her newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer opus, the first since her marriage to Irving Thalberg, studio executive.

Norma long ago learned that ten feet of film acting beats a hundred feet of posing. Hence she leaves the posing for others and is satisfied with the footage which requires dramatic effort.

Norma's liking for character starring roles gives her a vast field of opportunities which other beautiful young women pass up in order to wear magnificent wardrobes. In "His Secretary" she devoted half of her picture to a dowdy character before the metamorphosis which permitted her to show her beauty in contrast with her appearance in the earlier sequences.

In "The Waning Sex" she played the role of a woman lawyer; another chance for dramatic action without the distraction of gowns and furbelows. In "After Midnight" she attracted more attention as a moth among butterflies than the most gorgeously gowned creatures of the night club where she sold cigarettes and refused dates proffered by fresh young men—and old ones, too, for that matter.

Miss Shearer seizes every opportunity offered her in A. P. Younger's screen play of a travelling saleswoman who matches wits with the males drummers—and remains feminine. The picture is very capably directed by Sam Wood and the work of Ralph Forbes, George Sidney Bert Roach and others is excellent.

HARMONICA PLAYING GROWS

Harmonic playing throughout the world is increasing. Much of the interest has been stimulated by the mouth organ contests that have been held in many cities. Wuerttemberg, Germany, with tiny Trossingen in the Black Forest as the center of the industry, shipped 50,561,400 harmonicas to other parts of the world last year. This is an increase of 813,400 over 1926.

POWERS DEPICTED INDULGENT TO CHINA

Diplomat Calls "World's Most Favored Nation" Despite Its Anti-Foreignism.

DAIREN, South Manchuria, May 29.—"China to-day is the world's most favored nation, bar none," declared an eminent foreign diplomat who was recently in Peking.

One has only to come from turbulent, warring, distraught China to the Japanese-controlled territory in South Manchuria—say from Peking, which has been squeezed almost to the point of hunger, to Dairen, where trade and industry thrive—to realize the extent to which China is being humored and favored by the great and small nations of the world.

"Down With Imperialism!" "Away With the Unequal Treaties!" and such phrases are all the vogue with all factions in Chinese politics just now, because each faction, in trying to curry favor with the mob, feels that it must perforce espouse any fine-sounding slogan adopted by its opponents.

The fact that these phrases mean nothing is not always evident to those who live in China. A trip to other territory controlled by a self-respecting Government, which expects as a matter of course to pay its debts and to live up to its obligations, is necessary in order to realize the amazing extent to which China has become the world's most favored nation.

Foreign Debts Unpaid.

Japan holds this southern tip of Liaotung Peninsula, including the Cities of Dairen and Port Arthur, under the old leases and agreements which St. Petersburg won from China and which passed to Japan as part of the fruits of the Russo-Japanese War of 1904-05.

If individual Japanese here in South Manchuria or the Japanese Government here were to commit a few of the acts which have become commonplace on the part of individual Chinese or upon the part of some of the factional Governments of China the world powers would no doubt quickly exact punishment and reparations.

In China, just a day's steaming across the Gulf of Chihli, soldiers of one faction just killed an American missionary because he had given medical treatment to the war wounded of another faction. Such an event is unthinkable in or near Dairen.

In China practically all foreign debts, except those secured under income collected under the supervision of foreigners, are unpaid, and even the interest is far in arrears. In this Japanese territory business is conducted with scrupulous honesty.

What an uproar there would be if several score American missions in this territory were occupied by Japanese troops who months ago had looted the buildings and now refused to move out! Yet this condition obtains to-day in much of the Nationalist territory in China.

China Rails at "Grievances."

What if Japan, controlling Dairen, a great port of entry, were to clap countless mounting taxes upon the import of foreign goods or upon exports handled by foreign firms?

And yet such taxes exist and multiply at Tientsin, the port of entry for the territory controlled by Peking, as they do at Shanghai and ports controlled by the Nanking Nationalist Government.

In short, China to-day is favored with a degree of patience and sympathy from the rest of the world which is probably without equal in history. But the strange thing is not this sympathy and forbearance, but China's reaction to such favoritism.

Instead of appreciating the generally accepted "hands off" policy of the Powers, China rails against imaginary evils and demands "rights" without showing any wish to shoulder the obligations, much less any ability to carry out the obligations, which would automatically be hers if these "rights" were conceded.

The longer the patience of the rest of the world lasts, the greater, seemingly, becomes the impatience of China and the Chinese. To-day there is more deep-seated anti-foreignism, popular and official, than there was five years ago, or two years ago, or one year ago.

The constant reiteration of imagined grievances is rapidly producing a condition of self-hypnotism which seems to make it impossible for China to realize that behavior like her own on the part of any other people or nation would bring about a swift and painful accounting.

FREQUENT HEADACHES.

A Sure Sign the Blood is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbances of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this and the rich, red blood made by these pills banishes the headaches.

More disturbance to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition the trouble will disappear. There are many people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood, or weak nerves, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now and note how your strength and health will improve. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DEPEND ON DOGS TO FIND DIRIGIBLE

Italia's Base Ship is Icebound and Cannot Continue Search.

KING'S BAY, May 29 (Canadian Press). — With the Italia's base ship ice-bound, dependence was placed to-day upon the hunters of the northlands and their dog teams for tidings of the missing dirigible. Several plans were afoot for an exploration with the huskies of the north.

BOLD YET INVITING
Geo. T. Evans, Architect.

This house of Semi-Colonial Design is one that would appeal to the family of moderate means.

A pleasing entrance detail with bay windows on either side and the oriel window over the entrance all add to the attractiveness of this home.

On entering this home one is at once impressed with the large, bright living room, 11 ft. 6 in. x 18 ft. 6 in. excluding the alcove. The open fireplace tile hearth and a bay window contribute their share towards making this a delightful room.

The dining room is entered from the hall and is 10 ft. 6 in. x 14 ft. 6 in. Service from the kitchen is through a door at one end of the room.

The kitchen is ideal from the housewife's point of view, having a large sink before the window and two cabinets on either side for dishes, pots and pans. The kitchen is 9 ft. 6 in. x 10 ft. 6 in., being quite compact and eliminating unnecessary steps.

With rustic brick walls, shingle roof and concrete foundations the approximate cost of this house is $7,600.

Readers desiring further information regarding a house of this design should communicate with Home Building Information Service, 345 Adelaide St. West, Toronto, Ont., who will see that it is supplied. When writing please mention design number 126. Copyright, 1928.

MAKE YOUR PLUMBING SAFE, SANITARY AND SATISFACTORY

Cheap Plumbing Will Cost Far More than it Saves in Repairs and Upkeep.

If your plumbing system and fixtures are up to standard at the outset your first cost is likely to be your last. If properly installed there should be few leaks, freezeups or other breaks, constantly adding to upkeep. Remember that your plumbing system is not unlike a transportation system. There is a main or trunk line with connecting lines converging to a terminal. This trunk line is usually a four inch cast iron pipe running from basement to roof. In the basement there is a connection with a sewer or a septic tank to take care of discharge from this "stack" as it is called, which usually protrudes through the roof about a foot to permit a constant flow of fresh air to ventilate your plumbing system. Traps in the basement, to prevent sewer gas and other odors, provide further escapement below: These traps hold a little water which stays at a certain level and provides a seal between the stack and the house and prevents odors rising.

If your house is situated in the rural districts you will probably feel the need of having a septic tank, to take the place of the city sewers. A wood-lined cesspool is sometimes fairly satisfactory, however, especially in sandy soil.

Septic tanks are constructed underground and are made of steel, cement or tile, consisting of two chambers, the upper one taking the sewage disposal first, where the solid matter sinks to the bottom while the liquids overflow into another chamber, pass through a further discharge pipe and are carried to purifying ducts just below the ground level. The solids automatically turn to liquids and are carried off to be purified by the action of the soil: The tanks, which are provided with clean-out covers, require cleaning only at long intervals. They are simple and quite sanitary, but should be chosen with care and with regard to the character of the soil, the size of the family, the size of the plumbing system and the slope of the ground in your neighborhood.

Y.W.C.A. WORKER GIVES ADDRESS

Mrs. T. Brown; Mrs. G. E. Porter; Miss Annie Wood; Mrs. H. Wightman; Mrs. H. Yelland; Mrs. L. Davidson; Mrs. R. J. Kidd; Mrs. T. N. Greer; Mrs. J. H. Wallace; Mrs. F. D. Kerr; Mrs. B. Gardiner; Mrs. R. Harstone; Mrs. A. L. Killaly; Mrs. V. Eastwood, Board of Directors.

The reports of the financial secretary and the general report of Miss Brownscombe, secretary of the Y.W.C.A., which dealt with physical, residence and other departments of the association, will appear in a later issue.

Pageant Numbers.

Cleverly entertaining were the pageant numbers, repeated last night for the benefit of those in attendance at the meeting. First there were eight little girls, Misses Evelyn Hill, Betty Jary, Dorothy Boyle, Marjorie Boyle, Marion Juby, Christine Carlisle, Berta Bellegham and Dora Doukas, who presented a flower polka while in a "Trepak," a Russian dance, Margaret Dunlop, Hazel Bradley, Hazel Lang and Helen Cole scored heavily with their audience.

A Greek number "Carol of Spring" was pleasingly presented by Misses Thelma Darling and Vera McGinpess and Mrs. Frank Gray, while something more vigorous and quite as splendid was the Swedish drill by Gertrude Gimblett, Violet Davidson; Verda Graham, Isabel Davidson, Jean Fairweather, Kathleen Lang, Muriel Wilson and Viola Harvey. The pianist was Miss Musa Cox.

Expresses Appreciation.

At the close of the meeting, Miss Hamilton voiced her appreciation and that of the Board of Directors for assistance given by other organizations and individuals as well as of the valuable courtesies of The Examiner, during the past year.

Refreshments Served.

In the latter part of the evening, coffee was poured by Mrs. Kenner and Mrs. Harvey, while assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Yelland, Mrs. H. Foote, Mrs. T. Barrie, Mrs. F. D. Kerr, Mrs. R. J. Kidd; Misses Mary Elliott, Mabel Walker, B. McConnell and Cecilia Slater. The tables were nicely decorated with tulips. Many visited the various parts of the building which was thrown open to the visitors while others watched with interest the swimming exhibition in the pool.

WEDDING BELLS

WELLSHIRE—BROWNLOW.
A pretty wedding of great local interest took place on Saturday, April 29, at Christ Church, Wadsley Bridge, Sheffield, England, when Florence Gladys Brownlow, youngest daughter of Mrs. Thorpe, 142 Cameron Street, and grand-daughter of Mrs. Gilpin, of Eccleshall, Sheffield, England, became the bride of Bertie Arthur Wellshire, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wellshire, of Wadsley Bridge. The Rev. E. Y. Bates officiated. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Wolstenholme. She wore a pretty dress of beige silk marocain with hat, shoes and hose to match, and carried a bouquet of white tulips, violets, roses, narcissus, and irises. Miss Dorothy Howard, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She was gowned in old rose crepe de chine, with black georgette hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. R. Hyde acted as best man.

After the ceremony the reception was held at the home of the bridegroom, where about 40 guests were entertained. Many beautiful presents were received. The happy couple spent their honeymoon at Blackpool.

OBITUARY

BETTY EVA KING.
The death occurred in Nicholls Hospital this morning, May 29, of Betty Eva, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. King.
The funeral took place from Comstock's Funeral Home to Norwood cemetery at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

CHARLES CHEU
By the death of Charles Cheu, whose funeral took place this afternoon, Peterborough has lost one of its most generous, yet most unassuming citizens. The late Mr. Cheu was a fine example of a naturalized Canadian, interested in anything that promised benefit to the community. During his residence here, he has made very many friends among all classes with whom he came into contact. While men's kindly deeds are frequently advertised and applauded during their lifetime, the extent and variety of his charities becomes known only after his death as one and another pays tribute beside his body.

For several years Mr. Cheu has been a loyal member of Murray Street Baptist Church. Besides his wife and stepson, Leslie, he leaves one son, Harry, of Panama.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Joseph Sutcliffe of Murray Street Church. The pall-bearers were Fred Jopling, M. L. Doxsee, W. J. Geary, L. J. Pettit, Fred Chong, and Lee Kam.

AMERICANS LIKE NON-STOPS
American visitors to Europe this year are getting a genuine thrill out of the non-stop trains. Expresses between Edinburgh and London have just been started and Glasgow and London will be similarly connected soon. These non-stops of more than 200 miles are the longest possible because the lines are the longest stretches of tracks in the British Isles.

BASE SHIP BACK AT SPITZBERGEN AWAITING HELP

Citta Di Milano Unable To Penetrate Heavy Ice Barriers.

EXPEDITION PLANNED.

Norwegian Government Declines To Call Off Relief Plans As Requested By Italy.

KING'S BAY, May 30 (Canadian Press).—The base ship Citta Di Milano arrived at King's Bay at midnight, unsuccessful in her efforts to obtain a trace of the missing Italia. The sturdy ship will go north again to renew the search when the sealer Hobby arrives from Norway.

The Citta Di Milano definitely spiked reports published yesterday that a seal hunting ice cutter steamship had received what was thought to be signals from Amsterdam Island from the Italia. No sealer on Amsterdam Island heard any such signals, it was stated.

News Dampens Hopes.

ROME, May 30 (Canadian Press).—Despatches received here to-day said the Italia's base ship Citta Di Milano was to return to King's Bay, giving up her search for the missing dirigible because of the inpenetratability of the ice barrier. She will await the steamer whaler Braganza, and a second attempt will be made to force a passage north in this ship.

This news dampened the hopes of watchers for word of the Italia's fate all over Italy.

Despatches said a little group wending its way overland in search of traces of the airship was composed of two Alpine chasseurs, two sappers, and a Spitzbergen guide. They were headed for Mossel Bay, Spitzbergen, in the hope of gleaning some clue there.

Will Continue Search.

OSLO, May 30 (Canadian Press).—Undeterred by Italy's request that the plans of an auxiliary expedition to hunt for the missing Italia be suspended, the Norwegian Government decided to-day to continue the search.

Newspapers commenting to-day on the Norwegian Government's official statement regarding the Italian Government's refusal to accept Norwegian assistance in searching for Nobile's dirigible emphasized that Norway acted on the suggestion of the Italian Minister to Oslo. They were unable to understand what motivated Italy's action, which they said was insulting to Norway, and the men who readily placed themselves at Italy's disposal when asked.

A new plan has been worked out by Captain Riiser-Larsen. He will start northward, probably to-day or to-morrow, in a naval plane of the same type as that used by Lieut. Luetzow, who is already on his way north. It is planned that these two planes will co-operate with two Swedish planes in a search of North Spitzbergen and other Arctic island groups. They will be supported by small boats.

TULIP DISPLAY IN TECO STORE

Horticultural Society Stages Competition—Awards Are Made.

F. HALL WINS FIRST.

A very creditable display of tulips, with a few daffodils, is staged in the entrance window of the Teco Store, by the Horticultural Society. Those put in under numbers are in competition, and the background display was very kindly sent in by Messrs. Hall, Carter, Magee and Miss Davidson.

The exhibits were judged by Messrs. McGiffin and Callander, and awards made as follows:

First—F. Hall, for a very fine vase of large, uniform red tulips; all of the same variety. Second—H. Carter, for a large vase of good quality in several colors. Third—Mr. Kennedy, with a display hard to choose between it and Mr. Carter's. The several other entries all contained tulips fully equal to those in the exhibits of the winners, excepting the first prize lot, which were exceptional, but the group was rated lower because of two or three poor specimens, put in evidently in an attempt to show a greater number of sorts.

Mr. W. H. Young, chairman of the exhibits committee, was much pleased with the response to this, the first, attempt to hold a public tulip show in Peterborough, and wishes to thank all who brought exhibits, both for competition and for display, also to Secretary Harris for untiring co-operation.

A man may be born with a silver spoon in his mouth and still make no stir in the world.

ELECTED PRESIDENT.

DR. J. J. CHAIG,
Newly elected president of the West Peterborough Liberal Association.

REV. W. S. EDGAR LEADS BAPTISTS

INSPIRING MEETINGS.

The 126th annual convention of the Peterborough Baptist Association opened yesterday afternoon in the Gilmour Memorial Church under the Moderatorship of Rev. J. N. H. Norton Cobourg.

The proceedings opened with the meeting of the Ladies Mission Circles and Mission Bands under the leadership of Miss M. A. Nicholls, Peterborough. Miss Tapscott, Cobourg, presided in the absence of Mrs. W. D. Scott, who is ill. Mrs. Gordon Mann gave an address of welcome and a reply was made by Miss Walton.

The following were elected officers for the ensuing year President, Mrs. W. D. Scott; Vice President, Mrs. (Rev.) J. L. Harton; Second Vice-President, Miss Tapscott, Cobourg. Directress for Mission Circles, Mrs. J. A. Young.

Mrs. Edgar Bates of Toronto gave an address on the work of Christianizing the new Canadians, stressing the following points:

"Our duty to our neighbors in Canada. Christ said 'Go Ye.' Christ gave Jersulaem as a starting point. We must be willing to do foreign mission work here in Canada before we take the Gospel to others across the sea.

"If we do not love our brother whom we have seen, how can we love those whom we have not seen?"

Miss M. A. Nicholls of Peterborough, who has been directress of the Ladies' Mission Circles in Peterborough Association for seventeen years, asked to be relieved of her responsibility. This was reluctantly agreed to, and the following resolution was moved by Mrs. L. H. Coles of Colborne and seconded by Mrs. Weston of Campbellford: "Circle members and friends: I feel we cannot allow our sister, Miss Nicholls, to retire from the office of directress for our association, without expressing our appreciation of her long and faithful service. I esteem it an honor and a privilege and I am confident that every member of our circle would move this resolution. Miss Nicholls has endeared herself to all our membership and she enjoyed the esteem and confidence of our whole association. Having decided to retire, we hope to still enjoy her fellowship and coloperation for many years to come. She will watch with prayerful interest our report of progress." A basket of tulips was presented to Miss Nicholls by Mrs. Breyfogle.

Miss Nicholls briefly and feelingly thanked the members for their kindness.

M. Paul Matthews of McMaster University, who is a Syrian Christian, a native of India, give the Foreign Mission address. Mr. Matthews paid a glowing tribute to the work of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission in India. He said he was educated in the Timpany Memorial School in Cocomada, India, and was a member of the Ancient Syrian Christian Community of South India. He gave several examples of the difficulties that the missionaries have to contend with—climate, dust, heat, and languages, there being no less than 222 distinct languages and dialects in that great land. There are many strange customs and many queer modes of travel—ox carts over country roads at two miles an hour; horseback, and rickshaws drawn by men.

The people of India are of many races and types and are a very religious people, the three chief religions being Hinduism, Mohammedamism, and Buddhism. There are one hundred and eighty different castes among the Hindus. The Gospel presents a great challenge to the Indians. There are five reasons why we should respond to the Foreign Mission appeal; those reasons are

IMMIGRATION INQUIRY GOES BACK TO 1920

Committee Think Tabling of Return Will Satisfy Public Suspicion.

SIX MONTHS' WORK.

Twenty Temporary Officials Will Have To Be Engaged Says Deputy Minister.

OTTAWA, May 30 (Canadian Press).—The Parliamentary immigration inquiry approved the motion this morning for the return showing all the special immigration permits issued from January 1, 1920. The report will show the number of permits, officially termed letters of admission or assurance, granted to members of Parliament and others.

The motion was made by Hon. E. J. Edwards (Conservative, Frontenac Addington), and seconded by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior. "It will take from five to six months to prepare the report and it will be necessary to engage from 10 to 20 temporary officials," stated W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, in promising to start preparation of the statement immediately. The committee were of the opinion that the tabling of return next session would satisfy "public opinion or suspicion" respecting the issue of special permits.

Dr. Edwards first moved that the return should go back to February 15, 1923. Yesterday's return showed the number of special permits issued to members and others from April, 1926. Dr. Edwards thought the return showing those who had entered Canada by permit or otherwise since 1923 would show the effect on immigration of several schemes inaugurated during the past five years, including the British Empire settlement scheme.

Back to 1921.

Mr. Stewart remarked that the return produced yesterday only showed the number who had come in under "special permits or letters of assurance" since April, 1926. He questioned what Dr. Edwards had in mind by his motion for the return covering all new-comers, whether they entered by permit or otherwise, for the three preceding years. He was prepared to support the motion for the return showing all those who had entered by special permits as far back as 1921. "If it is a case of showing the number of special permits issued under different administrations, let us go back to 1920," he added.

Dr. Edwards agreed and amended his motion. He wanted to know, and he believed the public wanted to know, if there had been any abuse under the system of issuing special permits. He believed that any abuse of the system had not been made by members of Parliament.

The inquiry continues this afternoon.

RUMOR DENIED ITALIA LANDED

No Message Received That Dirigible Had Landed at Amsterdam Island.

DISCONTINUE SEARCH.

(Copyrighted 1928 by the Associated Press)

KING'S BAY, Spitzbergen, May 30.—(Associated Press).—None of the dozen members of General Nobile's expedition remaining here received any message yesterday on the rumor that the Italia had landed at Amsterdam Island. Furthermore, none of them believed the report could be true.

The course of the wind last Friday morning, when the dirigible disappeared, made it impossible for her to reach that island.

The Italia reported herself as having been north of Noffen Island at 3.00 a.m. Friday. She was fighting against westerly winds and Moffen Island is several miles east of Amsterdam Island. Experts here said the drift of the ship alone would have carried her still further east, even if she was able to hold her original course

Weather conditions here continue bad. The Citta De Milano has indicated that she may be back at King's Bay to-day as wind and cold, coupled with snow prevent her crew from conducting any search ashore.

SAYS OYSTER TALKATIVE

Oysters are not dumb, but are quite talkative, according to a European scientific writer. He recently said they know enough to provide themselves with sustenance in a most efficient manner, each drinking 15 gallons of water in 20 hours of every day and extracting 99 per cent of the minute food particles from the water. The constant opening and shutting of shells under water are sufficiently audible to be broadcast.

Bank Bandits Are Committed For Trial

EDMONTON, Alta., May 30.—(Canadian Press).—Harry McDermott and C. A. Bethune, charged with attempting to blow the safe of the Imperial Bank branch of Edberg and with attempting to murder the manager, Mark J. Cook, were committed for trial at the preliminary hearing in Edmonton yesterday. A confession alleged to have been made to the Alberta Provincial Police by McDermott was introduced into the evidence and made some very damaging admissions.

The men were interrupted when in the bank and were only captured after a chase of several days' duration by Provincial policemen and farmers of the Gamrose and Bashaw districts.

LOCAL DOCTORS GIVEN OFFICE

Dr. Cameron and Dr. Neal Elected Officers of Ontario Medical Association.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 30 (Canadian Press). — Dr. G. Stewart Cameron, of Peterborough, was elected honorary treasurer, and Dr. F. C. Neal, of Peterborough, was elected councillor for District No. 6 of the Ontario Medical Association this morning.

Reports of the committees occupied the attention of the Ontario Medical Association in session here to-day. More strict compliance with the Vaccination Act in view of the prevalence of smallpox in Ontario was urged by Dr. A. J. McGanity, chairman of the Committee on Public Health. In all communities where smallpox had occurred, the report said, prompt enforcement of the Vaccination Act had caused the rapid disappearance of the disease.

A recommendation was placed before the meeting suggesting that the Provincial Government be asked to eliminate the fee imposed on doctors for dispensing liquor on the ground that exacting a fee was an "indignity to the profession."

The next meeting will be held in Hamilton, May 28 to 31, 1929, it was decided.

URGE MISSIONS BE DISCONTINUED

Schools in Certain Chinese Areas To Close Doors.

UNIVERSITY DESTROYED.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The United States and British consulates in Foo Chow, China, have advised all mission schools in their district to close immediately. Consul Samuel Sobokin informed the state department yesterday. This action followed destruction by fire Monday night of the Fukien Christian university at Foo Chow.

Sabokin believed the fire was of incendiary origin. It was interpreted here as revealing growing anti-Christian sentiment in the southeast Chinese province of Fukien. The university property was valued at $100,000.

IMMIGRANT BOY CAN'T BE FOUND

GONE FOR WEEK.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30.—Who or what was the cause of the disappearance of a sixteen-year-old Irish lad, exactly when he took his departure, where he went and why he disappeared so completely, are a few of the questions which the local police are attempting to solve in connection with Norman Malcolmson, a young Irish immigrant who disappeared from the farm of Fred Rutherford, Rawdon, some time during the night of May 22nd-23rd. To date, all that has been found of the missing boy is his wallet, which contained his birth certificate, passport and four dollars in Canadian currency. The wallet was picked up from a stump beside the road by a farmer of Seymour East, near the Rawdon boundary. The police are investigating.

Malcolmson made the trip across the Atlantic on the Antonia, which docked in Montreal on May 20th. He came to Canada under the immigration scheme of the Government, and had been sent to work for Fred Rutherford, Rawdon farmer. But before the boy arrived, Rutherford had secured another man and did not need a second. In order that the boy might not be out of work, Rutherford arranged with a farmer in Seymour West to engage him, and was to have taken him to his new place on Wednesday, May 23rd, but the lad was gone, and search failed to reveal any trace of him or any message saying why he had left or where he had intended going. The boy had only arrived the day previous, and was entirely ignorant of the surrounding country.

Until Friday no trace was found of the boy, but on Friday afternoon, Isaac Lane, farmer, found a light blue wallet on a stump beside the road near Bonarlaw. Examination proved it to be the property of the missing Malcolmson. It was made of inexpensive material, and, no doubt, was originally intended to be an imitation leather. Among the papers contained in it were the birth certificate of Malcolmson, which showed him to have been born in Belfast, Ireland, March 12, 1912. The wallet was considerably rainsoaked when found, which no doubt accounts for some of its dilapidated appearance now. It and the papers contained have been carefully dried. The wallet also contained the boy's passport and four dollars in bills. Lane handed the wallet to the police on Saturday morning.

The local police have communicated with the immigration officials at the port of Montreal, and have also started to investigate along several other lines that may furnish some information as to the missing lad's whereabouts. Many of those who have heard the subject discussed are of the opinion that the boy was accidentally drowned. There is also a rumor that there may have been foul play in connection with the disappearance. Not uncommon is the belief that the boy became despondent and committed some rash act, but to date there has been nothing definite established by the authorities who are investigating.

GREAT PYRAMID SHOWS TROUBLE STARTS TO-DAY

Will Require 85 Days To Get Really Under Way, However.

ENDS IN 1936.

Gladstone Brown Speaks On Prophecies of Bible and Pyramid—Britain to Win Out.

This morning, and not yesterday morning, was the beginning of the period of tribulation, and the Great Pyramid does not indicate that it would take the form of a great catastrophe, but that it will reach eighty-five days to reach its full intensity, according to Gladstone Brown of Toronto, whose address on the pyramid and on British Israel was listened to with intense interest by a good-sized audience in the Canadian Legion Hall last night.

Constantly referring to the Bible, especially to the prophetic books, Mr. Brown declared that it is the real prophecy and that the pyramid was placed in Egypt and sealed up until it should be needed. About the time that modernists started to tear the book apart, the meaning of the pyramid began to be understood and it stands as a confirmation of these prophecies.

Mr. Brown, who was introduced by D. H. Moore, brought the greetings of the Toronto British Israel Federation to Peterborough. He declared that it is a great movement which helps the church because it sends men back to their Bibles. They find there that God has fulfilled all His promises or is on the point of doing so, and that He meant every word He put in it, from cover to cover.

Some people, he went on, say that the great pyramid is not mentioned in the Bible and should not, therefore, be considered to be prophetic. He read the 19th and 20th verse, of the 19th chapter of Isaiah's prophecy: "In that day shall there be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the Lord. And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the Lord of Hosts in the land of Egypt." It is also mentioned in the books of Job and Jeremiah.

Exactly Constructed.

One stands aghast at the magnitude and exactitude of this wonderful building, declared Mr. Brown. It now appears to be constructed of steps, but was originally covered smoothly with limestone so well fitted that the joints could hardly be distinguished. This is indicated at the points where the outer layer is protected by sand and debris piled against it. In early days the light reflected from this pyramid at certain times of the year indicated the seasons to the Egyptians.

The builders of this pyramid had scientific knowledge of an exactitude that people now are only beginning to touch. They knew the exact size and shape of the earth, because the chord of the curved foundation, divided by ten, gives the chord of the earth. The stones are shaped with marvellous precision, which builders of to-day won't attempt to duplicate. The builders had machinery for cutting into the stone much more truly than that of the present day. The downward passage, which is many yards long, is perfectly true and one lying at the bottom can see the blue sky.

The divine angle of trigonometry, 51 degrees, 51 minutes, 14 seconds, is found many places in the construction of the building. The length of the year is indicated five times. The distance of the earth from the sun has recently been placed by astronomers, after years of study, at 92,840,000 miles. The pyramid indicates that it is 92,680,000 miles, and the speaker declared his belief that further studies by modern scientists will bring them close to this figure.

All this knowledge was possessed by the builders in 2144 B.C., which is indicated as the time of its construction.

The Spiritual Meaning.

"Why did God place there such a wonderful monument, if it was to be disregarded? It would have been a waste of time and energy," declared the speaker. It gives the history of the various races and runs parallel with the book. It was revealed when modernists tried to tear the book to pieces. It is not a tomb. No sarcophagus ever made could have been carried through those narrow passages.

The downward passage is the passage of spiritual negation. God made man upon the earth. He made him good and gave him scientific knowledge, like unto God. That is why Adam and his immediate successors could do such wonderful things. But Adam sinned and assumed a burden, and it is in the posture of one carrying a burden that men must walk down this narrow passage. It leads to a chamber known as the pit, at the bottom of which is a great crevice in the rock.

But God provided a way of escape. The downward passage crosses the base line where Abraham was called out to begin the upward movement. The junction marks the time when God called out Israel, His own particular race, in 1496 and established him in His law, which is perfect. The upward passage forces man to continue with his burden until he meets One who will relieve him. The upward passage way is known as the passage way under the law.

J. J. Hartley Retires After 24 Years' Service As Head

Liberal Representatives From All Sections of West Peterborough Gather at Association Meeting Held Last Night—Many Addresses Given.

REPORTS OF WOMEN'S CONVENTIONS AT OTTAWA READ BY MRS. McNEELY

Thomas Taylor, As Principal Speaker, Addresses Gathering On General Subject of Liberalism, Making Comparisons Between Liberal and Conservative Parties, Governments and Accomplishments.

Liberals representative of all sections of West Peterborough, including an encouraging turn-out of ladies, gathered in the Downeyflake Tea Rooms last evening at the general meeting called for the purpose of confirming the report of the nominating committee and carrying out of Association business Aside from the business part of the meeting the occasion marked the retirement of the oldest-in-service president of any association in the Dominion, namely J. J. Hartley, who, for the past twenty-four years has headed Liberal forces in West Peterborough. Mr. Hartley, presiding for the last time, heard spoken of him most complimentary and appreciative remarks by leading Liberals of the district. The main speaker of the evening was Thomas Taylor, of Ottawa, whose address on Liberalism proved most comprehensive and interesting.

The nominating committee's report, approved at last night's meeting, brought to the presidency of the Association, Dr. J. J. Craig, whose services to the Liberal cause in West Peterborough have been many and varied. The other officers named were as follows:

Honorary Presidents.—Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, C.M.G.; R. R. Hall, K.C.; Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C.; J. J. Duffus, J. J. Hartley.

Vice-President—J. A. Dewart.

Secretary—Joseph Wearing.

Treasurer—W. Y. Scollard.

Executive—Arthur Blade, Arthur Corbin, D. Arthur Costello, Dickson Davidson, J. J. Doris, James Ellis, D. R. Fleming, E. B. Fowler, George G. Gladman, Thomas J. Grant, Robert Harstone, Dr. W. T. Holloway, Alonzo F. Humber, Frank H. Jobbitt, R. G. Kingan, J. R. Marshall, Herbert Martin, John S. Mason, W. G. Morrow, Thomas J. McAuley, I. P. McNabb, M. J. O'Brien, J. T. O'Connell, Fred J. Overend, J. R. Paquette, Nagle Phalen, R. P. Sedgwick, H. C. Stabler, William Rudkins, K. G. Lech, together with the representatives from each township in the riding, to be appointed by the officers.

The Meeting

President Hartley, in the chair, extended a welcome to those present, particularly to the ladies, who had come at the call of their president, Mrs. B. F. McNeely. He explained the object of the meeting—to confirm the report of the nominating committee, referred to the encouraging turn-out, and mentioned that many had communicated their regrets at being unable to attend.

Interesting and well organized was the report of the women's conventions, given by Mrs. McNeely, who outlined the program of the Ottawa gathering at which she had been present. She told of the regular sessions, of the luncheons, motor drives, visits to the Laurier monument and to the Parliament buildings and of the work accomplished.

Hon. G. N. Gordon.

The Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., spoke briefly during the evening. He dwelt on the necessity for good organization and made complimentary reference to the retiring president, Mr. Hartley. Mr. Gordon was most optimistic regarding the prospects of Liberalism in Peterborough, in the Province, and in the Dominion, pointing out that such men as Meighen, Dr. Tolmie, Sir Henry Drayton and latterly Mr. Bennett had failed to measure up to the task of leading the Conservative party. He expressed his confidence that in the next election, due to better organization, Liberal candidates would triumph.

J. J. Duffus.

The retiring treasurer, J. J. Duffus, was unexpectedly called upon. He expressed his pleasure at seeing such a turn-out for the purpose of organization, believing it indicative of success at the next elections, and complimented the retiring president as well as the ladies. Mr. Duffus ridiculed the criticism levelled at his party regarding appointment of Liberals to various positions. He considered it quite proper for his party to consider its friends, so long as the positions were not being created by the removal of honest and efficient men. The speaker went on to touch upon the statesmanlike service being given by Premier W. L. Mackenzie King and his Cabinet, and in conclusion bespoke co-operation of Liberals generally and success for the incoming officers.

SMALL FIRE AT THE AUBURN

Fire Brigade Respond to Call at Auburn Mills at 3.40 a.m.

OVERHEATED BEARING.

After nearly three days without an alarm, the city fire department was called into action on no less than four occasions within the past twenty-four hours. Three of the four runs were to chimney fires, while the fourth was to Auburn Mills.

At 9.52 a.m. on Tuesday chimney and pipes caught fire at 492 Murray Street, chemicals being required to eliminate the danger. At 9.06 last night another chimney fire, this time at 102 Stewart Street, required similar treatment, while at 5.27 this morning the firemen arose early to visit 107 Smith Street, where a chimney fire was in progress.

Residents in the north end of the city were startled from their slumbers at 3.40 a.m. when the night brigade turned out in response to an alarm from the Auburn Mills, the cause of which failed to warrant such formidable attack. An overheated bearing had caused some trouble and some of the factory apparatus had been used previous to the arrival of the firemen.

FORESTRY LECTURE DRAWS BIG CROWD

Apsley Audience Enjoys Moving Pictures and Talk on Forest Conservation.

APSLEY, May 30.—The Parish Hall was packed to overflowing on Saturday evening, the occasion being a lecture and motion picture show under the auspices of the Canadian Forestry Association. The Rev. C. A. G. Spence presided, and in a short speech commending the aims of the association, introduced the speaker of the evening, E. Henry, who gave a most interesting address.

"The Canadian Forestry Association," said Mr. Henry, "had a membership of 28,000 public spirited men, whose object was to prevent the loss of Canada's forests by fire, to educate boys and girls, and remind older persons of the value of the timber, and for this purpose had organized public lectures throughout Canada. Two-thirds of the land of Canada is forest land and one-third of the land will not grow anything but trees. 100,000 men are engaged in lumbering, the pay roll amounting to one hundred million dollars a year. Canada is leading the world as a pulp producing country and the question is how this supply shall be continued. The policy in the past had been to enter the most easily accessible arrears with no thought of the future. If the forests were protected they would naturally reproduce themselves. The main difficulty in the past had been the lack of interest displayed, but now this was being awakened and 'forest consciousness' was being developed which is the salvation of the timber supply. For the detection of fires different methods were employed by the Government. In the Sault St. Marie and Sioux Look Out districts twenty-two airplanes were engaged, with ranger patrols and railroad men in other places constantly on the alert. In this, the Tweed district, ninety per cent. of the forest fires were detected by the tower system, which was most up-to-date, no part of it not being reached in more than one and a half hours."

"Keep Canada's Forests Green" was the slogan with which the speaker concluded.

Films were then shown illustrating the mode of reforestation, the life of the fire ranger, and the actual fighting of forest fires.

Athletic Association Dispenses With Field Day, But Holds Concert.

OMEMEE, May 30.—Victoria Day passed very quietly in Omemee. The O.A.A. had decided to dispense with the annual field day and as a result the town was deserted, Bethany, Lindsay and Peterborough having attracted many young people from the district.

The play was well presented and throughout the entire performance drew round after round of applause when Jack Temple with the aid of his friend Frank Fuller, endeavored to explain to Mrs. Temple his absence from home the previous night and in doing so brought in several characters who added to the tangle of the affair and provoked many laughable situations. Perspiration Odour is no respecter of Persons- or Seasons

One needn't be in a warm room, it may not be a sultry summer day, for sometimes excess perspiration is caused by emotion or plain nervousness.

But, whatever causes perspiration odour, no one need ever offend because of it . . . not while there is Lifebuoy Soap to be had practically everywhere.

Lifebuoy Soap used for face, hands and bath makes one sure of not offending. The creamy antiseptic lather not only cleanses but also purifies the pores and keeps them antiseptically clean and sweet from bath to bath.

Lifebuoy is orange red, the colour of its pure palm fruit oils . . . it costs no more than the toilet soap you are using now.

Advertising Rates on application.

R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1928.

THE SITUATION IS ALTERED.

Instead of the whole Council being in Toronto today to negotiate for the purchase of the local gas plant, Mayor Denne and City Clerk Armstrong were to interview the Hydro-Electric Commission with a view to getting fresh information as to the difference the reduced charges for gas may make in the situation.

Undoubtedly the reduction materially alters the position.

Most citizens were luke-warm toward the proposal to purchase the gas works, but the chance that civic ownership of the plant might result in lower prices would undoubtedly have had the effect of causing many ratepayers to sanction the purchase.

Now that lower rates have come anyway, public opinion is likely to be adverse to the city's embarking into another field of public service.

This change is sensed by the aldermen, and their decision to go slow in the matter is probably the wisest under the circumstances.

DOMINION DAY.

The Examiner is confident that citizens will approve the plans that are being made to celebrate Dominion Day in Peterborough.

Until last year's wonderful demonstration when the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation was observed with an unanimity that surprised the most ardent promoter of the Diamond Jubilee celebration, Dominion Day meant nothing to Peterborough people but a general holiday.

It is apparent that last year's success is having some permanent effects, and that each year the people of this city will feel the urge to mark their Dominion's birthday by a celebration which, while necessarily much less ambitious than in the year of Diamond Jubilee, will nevertheless serve to emphasize the significance of the anniversary.

The formation of a central committee should result in a plan for a local demonstration full of interesting events, and care should be taken to see that included in the program are features that will accentuate the historic importance of the occasion.

YOUR BOY'S HOLIDAY.

Parents who are considering the question of where their boys are to spend their holidays this summer would do well to attend the conference in the Reid Street Hall of Trinity Church on Friday night when moving pictures will be shown of the Rotary Camp and plans for the summer discussed.

The camp—to be known this year as Kamp Skookum"—is to be run on much different lines this season, and will afford a cheap holiday under ideal conditions for the boys and young men of Peterborough.

The camp plant challenges comparison with boys' camps anywhere, the location cannot be improved upon, and under the supervision of Douglas Loomis, the boys will be assured of a memorable outing and parents of every precaution being taken to guarantee the safety of the youngsters.

Boys who are looking for a real holiday this summer and parents who want to make sure that their boy's vacation will be a safe, sane and enjoyable one, should get in touch with members of the Rotary Club.

And parents especially should attend Friday night's meeting when they will hear all the details in connection with Kamp Skookum.

THE "CUT-IN" FIEND.

The accident near Port Hope on Monday when a Toronto man was killed and three other people seriously injured was caused by that most dangerous of all traffic offences—"cutting-in."

The car in which these unfortunate victims were riding was simply crowded off the road by some unknown but reckless driver, who swung out to pass their car, found the road blocked by another car coming the other way, and squeezed the Toronto machine into the ditch with terrible results.

It was that kind of a driver that crowded a car-load of people into the Niagara Gorge last year, and that kind of a driver, too, who has been responsible for scores of fatal accidents in Ontario.

In the majority of cases the victims were entirely blameless; they were driving carefully and on their own side of the road when one of those impatient motorists who seem to think it a matter of life and death to pass everything on the highway squeezed them into the ditch.

It is to be hoped that the traffic officers on Ontario's highways will be given instructions to pay especial attention to such drivers this summer.

They are a very serious menace to public safety, and must be dealt with firmly.

MORE USES FOR RADIO.

We have only begun to utilize the possibilities of the radio. Even custom does not destroy the wonder of hearing music and speech carried over hundreds and thousands of miles through an atmosphere affected by all kinds of weather and filled with all kinds of noises. But in comparison with the medium most of the matter conveyed seems commonplace. This is not said in any censorious spirit. We hear some good music, some good sermons, some good speeches. And as we get all this virtually for nothing, we should not grumble if others take advantage of the opportunity to advertise their own wares.

Yet much remains to be done in the way of education and inspiration. For instance, both the Dominion and Provincial Governments have stores of useful and interesting information about the natural resources and physical characteristics of the country, about birds, beasts and fishes, mines and forests, the uses of the airship, exploration, prevention of forest fires, scientific research, advice for tourists and holiday-makers. The Department of Natural Resources at Ottawa has lectures on some of these subjects, which are available to all. Some require to be illustrated by lantern slides, but a good deal of information could be conveyed without these aids. There are certain physical conditions which interfere with broadcasting from Ottawa, but such lectures as we refer to could be sent out from Toronto, Hamilton, London and other centres.

From the United States we hear lectures on the mode of government of that country, and "Moments of History." These are interesting, but intended mainly for the people of the United States. Why not have our own mode of government explained and our history told in the same way? Inspiring messages were broadcast all over Canada on the occasion of the jubilee of Confederation. Why not have this repeated, on a smaller scale, every Dominion Day Why not have inspiring national messages delivered all the year round? There are men and women able and willing to frame such messages, which they could either deliver themselves or hand over to the professional announcer.

There are difficulties in the way of broadcasting the proceedings of Parliament, and few would care to listen to all the debates. But our leading public men of all parties might spare time to deliver brief, pithy speeches for the special purpose of broadcasting. A fair division of time could be made among them, and they would recognize that time would be wasted in the display of bitter or narrow partisanship.—London Advertiser.

THE LONDON "BOBBY" ON TRIAL.

The London police have long enjoyed a reputation for both efficiency and civility, and all that the terms imply in relation to the maintenance of law and order, which is world-wide and unquestionably deserved. Carefully recruited, intensively trained, and rigidly disciplined, with a tradition of fine service extending over nearly a century, they represent a force that is universally regarded as a model of its kind, combining in its personnel and methods qualities which inspire not only respect for the law, but admiration for its guardians.

Whether "on the beat," in attendance at public gatherings, controlling crowds, directing traffic, quelling disturbances, or making arrests, the London "Bobby" is noted for a good deal more than mere efficiency, or the strict performance of his duty. What impresses the stranger, who looks upon him as one of the great city's attractions, is not so much his well-disciplined intelligence, or his judicious exercise of authority, as the human touch that marks his work, and finds expression in the courtesy, consideration and kindness shown to all and sundry. To an American journalist, who had occasion to study him, it seemed that his power and popularity arose chiefly from the fact that he was "in the best sense of the term the people's friend."

But just as there are black sheep in every flock, so it would appear that even the far-famed Metropolitan Police of London, is not above reproach. Certain recent disclosures, arising out of a public prosecution, have shown that within that body there are elements whose conception of duty and methods of execution are utterly unworthy of the traditions and high standards of conduct of the force to which they belong, and whose delinquencies threaten to besmirch a record and reputation generally and justly admired.

One of London's problems for many years has been the policing of its public parks. The resort of fashion at certain hours of the day, the haunt of all sorts and conditions of propagandists and platform spouters at others, and centres of recreation and enjoyment for the population in general, these spaces have acquired a somewhat evil reputation because of the loose night life associated with them. More notorious as a haunt of vice at night than any of the others, Hyde Park has for long been regarded as a place to be avoided after dark by respectable people, the more so as the police authorities had found it necessary to establish a system of surveillance that approached pretty nearly to prowling or espionage.

Whatever may have been the justification for such a form of police supervision, it had its dangers; and these were illustrated in a startling manner a few weeks ago when Sir Leo Money, the well-known economist, and a lady friend of highly respectable antecedents and irreproachable character, were arrested in Hyde Park by two "Bobbies" in plain clothes, and, in spite of protests and without warrant, or anything in the shape of inquiry on the part of the police, roughly haled to a station where they were charged with a moral offence. When the case came to trial, the defendants had no difficulty in establishing their innocence The proceedings were stopped; the two accused discharged, and the officers reprimanded.

Had the matter ended there, the action of the police would have been deplorable enough, for on the evidence, and in the view of the magistrate, they had been guilty of an outrage for which apologies and the disciplining of the offending guardians of the law would have been poor consolation to the victims. But it subsequently transpired that after her acquittal, and notwithstanding the magistrate's decisive verdict in her favor, the lady in the case was forcibly taken to Scotland Yard, and there subjected to a form of interrogation suggestive of the third degree, Sir Leo Money escaping a similar fate only by refusing to obey the order of the authorities.

Such methods, so far out of accord with British ideas of justice, and so utterly opposed to the honorable traditions of the London Metropolitan Police, have aroused a storm of public criticism which has moved the Home Secretary to order an investigation into the whole unsavory proceedings. The London "Bobby" on trial is a novel and sorry spectacle.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The chronology of the Great Pyramid of Gizeh seems to have slipped a cog somewhere.

The Toronto City Council has voiced its opposition to the Bell Telephone bill, which is something more than some of the Toronto members of Parliament have done.

Safety first must be everybody's motto if traffic accidents are to be avoided.

Propaganda is a good thing, but to really start the tourist traffic moving nothing can beat a week of real summer weather.

The City Council is well advised in going slow in regard to negotiations for the purchase of the gas plant. The unexpected cut in the rates puts a much different aspect on the whole affair.

Every time Mr. Geary, M.P., tries to get his telephone bill moving he finds the line busy.

Algoma has been "enjoying" a snow-storm. Perhaps we folks down this way have not reason after all to complain about the weather.

United States newspapers, says the Globe, are wondering whether Chicago may not some day erect a monument to the unknown victim.

The Question Box

(Please address enquiries to "The Question Box.")

C.B. Q.—When did the garbage collection system start in Peterborough, and what does it cost?

A.—The first collection was on May 1, 1912. The contract for 1928 was let for $10,060.

M.McL. Q.—(1) What have been the highest and lowest years for building in say ten years? (2) What are the prospects for this year?

A.—(1) Ten years does not give a very satisfactory comparison, so twenty are given. Since 1908 the highest amount in building permits was in 1917 and the lowest in 1915. The figures are: 1908, $237,963; 1909, $343,489; 1910, $577,958; 1911, $345,373; 1912, $555,895; 1913, $488,540; 1914, $452,340; 1915, $98,610; 1916, $128,040; 1917, $953,503; 1918, $241,251; 1919, $196,368; 1920, $939,700; 1921, $541,754; 1922, $439,154; 1923, $293,447; 1924, $437,510; 1915, $272,637; 1926, $342,757; 1927, $624,295. (2) The total for four months to May 1 this year was $67,447, and up to date $75,315 has been added in May, a total of $142,762, with much more work projected. The total for four months last year was $62,000.

H.T. Q.—How quickly must the Health Officer be informed of the presence of a contagious disease in a house.

A.—At once, after it is recognized as a contagious disease. The attending physician usually notifies the M.O.H., and the Public Health Act gives the M.O.H. a limit of six hours in which to affix a warning card on the house.

J.S. Q.—(1) Are spot lights allowed on cars in Peterborough. (2) If not, why are some allowed to get away with them?

A.—(1) The provisions of the Highway Traffic Act apply (amendment effective April 3, 1928). 'No spotlight or searchlight or other auxiliary lamp shall be attached to any part of a motor vehicle higher than the head lamps of such vehicle, and the ray of light from any such spotlight, searchlight or auxiliary lamp shall be directed to the extreme right of the travelled portion of the highway in such a manner that the beam of light shall strike the highway within seventy-five feet of the vehicle, provided that this shall not prevent the use of what are commonly known as cowl or side lamps or clearance lamps." Fire trucks and certain others are exempted. (2) Probably because the police have not seen them.

GOD'S MINUTE

I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way that thou shalt go. I will guide thee with Mine eye.—Ps. 32:8.

Father in Heaven, we turn our hearts to Thee as the source of life, and truth, and love. We do not claim Thy constant bounty because of merits we possess, but in Christ, the Saviour's name, we seek Thy favor.

Give us our daily fare to-day—the food from heaven for bodies spent: manna for the mind; and more than all, we crave the Bread of Life to make us strong of heart and pure of soul.

Teach us to love our fellow-men as Thou dost love, forgiving those who treat us ill, and giving help and hope to those who need our aid.

Let not temptation come too great to bear. Give us abundant grace to do the appointed task with cheerful heart and ever-ready hand.

And when the shadows of the night have come, grant that Thy presence we may feel, as One Who in the day has walked with us. In Thy dear name we pray. Amen.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., May 30 (Canadian Press).—There was some demand from exporters for oats and barley on the Montreal grain market yesterday, and sales of a few loads were made, while tough No. 3 Canadian Western oats sold for domestic account at 4½c per bushel over the Winnipeg July option, c.i.f. Montreal, for early July shipment from Winnipeg. The car lot trade was quiet and the tone of the spot market was weaker for oats at another decline of one cent per bushel.

Owing to the further weakness in the Winnipeg cash wheat situation, a weaker feeling developed in the market for spring wheat flour, and prices were reduced ten cents per barrel. The demand was dull. There was no change in prices for winter wheat flour announced, but the undertone to the market was easy with little business passing.

Prices for all lines of millfeed were firmly maintained under an inactive demand. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was quiet, but values were steady.

The local egg situation was without any special feature to note, the undertone to the market being easy, but there was no actual change in prices. There was some demand from dealers for round lots for storing purposes, and odd sales of Ontario extras were made at 33c per dozen, f.o.b. Ontario shipping points in light cases. A fair trade continues to be done in a jobbing way. The receipts were 4,694 cases.

The undertone to the market for potatoes was again easy, and prices had a lower tendency on account of the liberal offerings. There was a steady demand from local buyers for supplies to meet immediate requirements and a fair trade was done in car lots of Quebec varieties at 75c to 80c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, and New Brunswick Green Mountains changed hands at 85c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, and New Brunswick white potatoes at 75c to 80 per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, ex-track.

Owing to the more liberal supplies of imported beans available on spot at present a weaker feeling developed in the market and prices declined 10c per bushel. There was a steady demand and a fair amount of business was done in small lots of choice white hand-picked grades at $4.10 per bushel, ex-store, and odd cars sold at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track.

There were no further developments in the local butter situation, the undertone being firm at the late advance in prices noted. The demand was steady and a fair amount of business was done. The receipts were 133 packages.

On the local curb market there were 1,000 packages of creamery butter offered by producers and the settling prices were 34¼c per pound for No. 1 pasteurized, 33¾c per pound for No. 2 pasteurized, and 32¼c per pound for No. 3 pasteurized delivered here.

The trade in cheese over the cable was reported quiet, there being little response from English importers to the offers made by exporters overnight on account of the higher prices asked, but notwithstanding this fact the tone of the market was firm here with some business passing between houses. The receipts were 4,817 boxes.

The offerings of Eastern cheese from producers on the local curb market amounted to 800 boxes, and the settling price for No. 1 white and colored was 18½c per pound delivered here.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, May 30 (Canadian Press).—Wheat underwent a sharp setback in price yesterday largely as a result of predicted liberal increase of domestic winter crop estimates looked for on Friday. Houses with eastern connections took a leading part in heavy selling which carried the market down.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady, 2¾c to 3¾c net lower, with corn ¾c to 2¾c to 2¾c off; oats ½c to 1¼c down; and provisions varying from 2c to 5c decline to an equal advance.

Interest in the wheat market yesterday focused more and more toward the last on the showing likely to be made by monthly unofficial crop reports expected to be given out here July 1.

According to current gossip, these reports will prove to be of a bearish character, as indicating a larger yield of United States winter wheat than was suggested by similar reports issued on June 1.

In addition to this circumstance, a forecast of unsettled weather in the Dakotas and of showers in Canada tended to stimulate selling and so, likewise, did slowness of export demand yesterday for wheat from North America. Total sales to Europe were only about 300,000 bushels.

Cooler temperatures in the spring wheat belt, especially word of mercury down to freezing at various opints in North Dakota, did a good deal also to offset reports of persistent lack of adequate moisture. Some observers(however, said the spring crop is a one-stalk affair in parts of South Dakota, the plant having failed to stool. Considerable notice was also taken at times of official advices telling of winter crop deterioration from fly damage and root rot in several eastern Kansas counties.

Corn and oats gave way with wheat. Corn, though, held up better than wheat did. Shipping demand here for corn was good and receivers look for smaller receipts.

Provisions were easy as a result of scattered selling, deepite upturns in the value of hogs.

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

FOR THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1928.

Benefic stars rule today according to astrology which finds the configuration favorable to most human activities.

It is a day of great promise to farmers and all who till the soil. Abundant harvests appear to be indicated.

Interest in gardens will be stronger than ever and America is to boast of many that are superlatively beautiful.

This is a most encouraging day for real estate transactions and there will be much home-building in all parts of the country, it is foretold.

There is a sign today read as presaging a return of respect for cherished traditions of society and a tendency to frown on all who indulge in dissipation.

This is a day stimulating and energizing for business and should be lucky for new ventures.

Co-operative ideas will continue to spread to an extent that will cause new problems for independent business men and women, it is foretold.

There is an aspect today which seems to warn persons not to give assurance that humanity is progressing at a rapid rate.

Graduates of college in 1928 classes will accomplish great things, the seers prophesy, for this year is to bring from retirement many new leaders of the future.

Next month is to be a time when tremendous improvements in radio transmission will be made known, astrologers foretell.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which they reap many benefits.

Children born on this day should be successful in business affairs. Both boys and girls are likely to have a gift for work in the commercial world.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE HAVE WILL POWER

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

We all admire will power, the ability to say "no" and mean it. But what is will power? How is it acquired? Why do some people have more of it than others? These are interesting questions that come pretty close home to all of us.

Will is often referred to as though it were a separate force within. In reality there is no such power. There is no will as a separate entity. When we say "I will go to the theatre" we are telling what we as personalities intend to do. Will is nothing but self in action.

The force of will is therefore the force of personality and depends on the type of characters we are. Differences in will power are accounted for by the differences in character and personality.

Will is confined to the conscious, purposeful activities of life in which we deliberately choose to do something or refuse to do it. But since a great many acts of every day life are unconscious and wholly mechanical, will does not function as in these acts.

Our heart beats, we breathe, we blink our eyes if something is thrown at us, our glands secrete their peculiar juices, we digest our food, we perform skilled acts through the force of habit, and do a lot of other things without any help or interference from will.

Thus will power is not called on very often in the course of the ordinary day. We will when we consciously start some act or stop it. "I will write that letter today," we say and plan to carry out our purpose as an act of the self. On the other hand, we might say, "I will not go to the concert this evening." We exercise will as a function of the self in starting some activity that is in line with our wishes or in stopping one that is not.

Will is not a separate entity, a dictator, a distinct force within you apart from the self. It is the self in action. The strength or weakness of will depends on the strength or weakness of character and personality.

found in the five great needs of mankind: The knowledge of God; Our relationship to God; Light to live for God; Light on the life beyond. Without religion men utterly fail. Take the Gospel to those who have it not.

The Pastors' and Laymen's conference was held in the basement of the church. The president, Rev. T. E. Meldrum of Port Hope, was in chair. Rev. W. S. Edgar was elected president for coming year, with W. P. Tickle of Port Hope as secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Gordon Holmes of Lindsay gave an address entitled, "Do We Labor in Vain?" He referred to reports in The British Weekly and other papers pointing to the decline in church attendance and lack of interest in religion in general; also to reports as to the failure of foreign missionary enterprise, in certain books and magazines, as seeming to indicate that the churches are laboring in vain.

He urged his hearers not to take these reports too seriously as they did not take cognizance of all the facts. He said that it was good for men to be brought to that point when they felt that they were failing, as it helped to rouse them to fresh and more heroic endeavors for the Kingdom of God.

The Rev. Dr. Webb of Toronto gave an address outlining the great Baptist World's Congress, to be held in Toronto next month. He expects no less than four thousand delegates from almost every country in the world to attend. Some other authorities say there will be ten or fifteen thousand. Seventy - five papers are sending reporters. The Exhibition grounds and buildings are being put at the disposal of the convention for the occasion. This will be one of the greatest religious gatherings ever put on by any denomination.

At the evening session, after a song service led by Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, M.A., Rev. W. S. Edgar conducted devotional services and gave an address of welcome. Rev. Hilliard Jones briefly replied. The Moderator then called on Rev. Dr. Webb to address the gathering. He spoke on the importance of Sunday School work and said that in his opinion it was the most important branch of church work, as eighty per cent of the church membership comes from the Sunday School. He summed up his talk by saying: First, the Sunday School is a most precious and valuable institution; second, the church is responsible for the proper equipment of the Sunday School; third, Sunday School teachers should be trained to enable them to do their most efficient work.

The next speaker was E. Paul Matthews, who gave an inspirational address, basing his remarks on Acts 2:17: "I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy and your young men shall see visions and your old men shall dream dreams." He instanced the apostles who had their lives transfigured and transformed by the coming of the Holy Spirit upon them on the day of Pentecost. He said this was the surest way to receive inspiration for divine service. "The Epirit is a spirit of purity, a spirit of power, and without it we cannot do effective work for God."

NEVER LATE IN 75 YEARS

That he has never been late for an engagement was the boast of Lord Strathclyde of Scotland on his seventy-fifth birthday recently. On one occasion during a regatta on the Clyde his yacht was in the lead and seemed certain to win, when he noticed that if he continued he would miss his train to Edinbrugh, where he had a professional engagement. He immediately withdrew from the race, headed for shore, and kept his appointment.

ALL SAINTS' WINS DRAMATIC TROPHY

Defeats Lindsay and Lakefield in Contest Among A.Y.P.A. Branches.

OMEMEE, May 30.—The final play-off of the dramatic contest of the Peterborough District A.Y.P.A. took place in Coronation Hall on Friday evening. The branches from Lindsay and Lakefield competed against All Saints' branch, of Peterborough, the latter winning the honors. A considerable amount of interest was manifested by the jovial supporters of each branch, and the excitement ran high as the time for the curtain to rise drew nigh. Lakefield drew for first presentation, when the curtain rose on a scene representing the home of "Aunt Mirah." The play, "The Trunk from India," was the story of how the well-meaning Aunt discovered her niece's plan of elopement and, in seeking to frustrate it, brought about complications involving a police man, a detective and burglar. While "Aunt Mirah" was dispensing with the burglar, a double elopement took place, which resulted in the triumph of the young lovers and the discomfiture of Auntie. The play on the whole was favorably presented, and drew forth the applause of an appreciative audience. The following was the cast of characters:

Aunt Mirah—Miss Woodhouse; Peggy Blanchard — Mrs. Wendell Smith; Helen—Miss Winnie Payne; Nellie, the maid—Mrs. W. Dyke; Jack Fisher—T. A. Simpson; George Curtis—M. Hampton; Michael O'Leary, a policeman—M. Smith; Jerry, a burglar—L. J. Charlton.

Miss Lenore Jamieson gave an instrumental on the piano, while the arrangements were being made for the second entry.

Gordon Maniece, of Peterborough, acted as chairman and announced the plays and cast of characters.

All Saints' branch of Peterborough, in presenting "At Sixes and Sevens" delighted the audience even more than the preceding effort. The plot centred around a young Mr. and Mrs. Teddington Lock, who had separated and were unavoidably brought together in Colonel Scrimmage's home at Twickenham, England. The irrascible old Colonel Scrimmage and his wife each had individual opinions regarding the future of their son, Hector, which contributed largely to the humor of the situation. The meeting of Teddington Lock and his wife, their battle of wits, and their final reconciliation formed a plot full of interest. The applause which greeted the company at the finish showed that their efforts were regarded with favor. The cast of characters was as follows: Colonel Scrimmage, James Price; Mrs. Scrimmage Dorothy Worboy; Hector Scrimmage, their son, Jack Hope; Jessie Wharton their ward, Helen Resko; Teddington Lock, a barrister, James Morley; Mrs. Delancy, Jessie Maconomy; Marie, the maid, Margaret Lacheur.

With the interest still as much in evidence as at the beginning, the Lindsay branch presented "Forty Miles an Hour" as their effort. It was the story of a stern father's attitude towards the behaviour of his young daughter. Trouble arose when the father learned of his daughter's appearance in court of a charge of speeding. The mother, with the aid of Judge Peabody, managed to straighten things out to a successful end.

The following was the cast of characters: Judge Peabody, Reginald Cozens; Mrs. Radley, Miss Mary Blackwood; Grandma Radley, Miss Josephine Madison; Mr. C. Radley, E. Nesbitt; Peggy Radley, Carrol Newsome; Parker Doane, Jack Aldred; Patrick Nonan, Goldwin Gamble.

Mrs. T. C. Stephenson, of Omemee, J. W. Deyell of Lindsay, and J. H. Primeau, of Peterborough, were the judges, and after due deliberation Mr. Primeau made the announcement that after careful summary had been made of their points, taking into consideration their deportment, staging, enunciation and memory, All Saints' branch was victorious. Miss Jessie Maconomy, the director of the play, was presented with the memorial silver cup and responded with a brief speech.

A social hour followed, when the Omemee branch served refreshments to those who had taken part and also the numerous supporters who accompanied them.

J. J. HARTLEY LEAVES LIBERAL PRESIDENCY

dressed the gathering for some time on the general subject of Liberalism, making comparisons between Liberal and Conservative parties, governments and accomplishments. He compared conditions in 1921 with those of 1927, showing how, with the lower tariff, the country had made the finest recovery of any country since the Great War. He spoke of the change in Conservative leadership which, he had hoped might mean a change on the part of the Conservative party from a policy of destruction to one of vision, but Mr. Bennett had assumed the cloak of despair and had become "a political Moses discontentedly wandering in a wilderness of discarded Conservative policies."

Mr. Taylor pointed out inconsistencies in the arguments against the lower tariff policy; he spoke of immigration and the necessity for it and of how the Liberal government had conducted it; and for a time dwelt on the splendid manner in which the government has been assisting the Maritime provinces out of difficulty.

His address carried a wealth of convincing statistics and arguments and sounded an optimistic note regarding the Liberal outlook throughout the Dominion.

R. E. Hall

Another well-known Liberal heard at last night's meeting was R. E. Hall, K.C., who voiced the sentiments of all present regarding the retiring president, J. J. Hartley. He recalled that in 1904, that gentleman had become president of the Liberal party in this riding, and pointed out that the wisdom of such a choice had become more and more apparent as the years passed. "He is the oldest president of any riding in Canada, which is ample evidence of the confidence reposed in him and appreciation of the sterling service given by him," declared Mr. Hall. "A whole generation has passed since his election, yet Mr. Hartley is with us still, and I hope will enjoy health and prosperity for many years to come. I deeply regret his retirement but am pleased to voice the deep gratitude of the Liberal party to him."

Mr. Hall had listened with interest to the address of Thomas Taylor, and he had thought that Liberals in this riding would do well to think of the local problems and of what should be done to obtain more on the capital expenditure annually..

In conclusion, Mr. Hall suggested that the meeting approve of a resolution that, by a unanimous vote, Liberals in Peterborough record their gratitude to J. J. Hartley for his twenty-four years service to the Liberal party in this riding, and express the wish that he enjoy many years of prosperity.

The incoming president, Dr. J. J. Craig, proposed the resolution accordingly, while the new vice-president, John Dewart, was its seconder. In so doing, Mr. Dewart reiterated the words of Mr. Hall, after which "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was sung, and three hearty cheers given.

Mr. Hartley

Mr. Hartley's response was one of appreciation for the kind sentiments expressed. He had been a Liberal through principle rather than because of any selfish interest, and had done his best. Three Liberal representatives had gone to Ottawa, the Hon. G. N. Gordon on two occasions, while only two Conservative candidates had been successful in this riding during his twenty-four years as president of the Liberal Association. He believed that principles always triumph, despite opposition, and he would continue to cooperate in every way with the new officers.

Dr. Craig believed that organization must be carried out in order that the work may go on. He wished to do his part and hoped for the advice and support of the retiring president, officers and ohe association generally. He hoped for the assistance of the ladies. The usual resolutions of confidence will be sent to the Federal Premier and to the leader of the Opposition in the Provincial House.

A social hour of dancing, cards and refreshments was then announced, and a jolly good time was enjoyed following the closing of the meeting proper.

CONCRETE BASE NEARLY READY

Surfacing Gang Has Not Yet Arrived in Campbellford to Finish Paving.

ROLLER IN USE.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30.—With still about one hundred feet of base to be laid on Bridge Street between Rear and Front Streets, the concrete gang is making rapid progress toward the completion of the strip from the corner of Centre and Second Streets along Centre and Bridge to Front. The excavator and its crew have returned to the west side of the river and have begun operations on Sebastapol Street, on the east side of Simpson Street. They are working east on Sebastapol. The detour for this work is only around one town block so far. Tice Street has been re-opened temporarily to traffic, and George Street is being dug up in order to install the necessary water connections before the pavement is laid there.

The surfacing crew and equipment have not arrived yet, but are expected to be on the job by the end of the week or the first of next. The town steam roller appeared on Ranney Street yesterday, and is putting the finishing touches on the block from Bridge to Market Streets, where the ditch has been tiled and filled in.

ANNA McCALLUM

MARMORA, May 30.—To many in the Marmora district the news came as a painful shock that there had passed away in the village at eight o'clock that morning, one of a highly respected family in the person of Miss Anna McCallum. Though not resident in the district for some ten years or so, the deceased lady was held in mutual esteem by those who knew her in her earlier years and those who perchance made her acquaintance on her occasional returns to the scene of her girlhood. A little over a month ago, after months of failing health, Miss McCallum returned with her mother to a residence which they rented on Madoc street, in the hope that recuperation might be afforded her. Human skill and attention proved unavailing and she passed away as stated.

Predeceased by her father, the late John McCallum, and two brothers, Kenneth and Alex, she leaves to mourn her loss, her sorrowing mother and besides, two brothers and four sisters Archie of Deloro, Donald of Niagara Falls, N.Y., Mrs. (Dr.) Ella of Ottawa, Mrs. A. E. Robillard of Toronto, Mrs. Martin Murray of Glenavon, Saskatchewan, and Miss Mary McCallum of New York.

Before sickness intervened the late Miss McCallum carried out the duties of dietitian in a hospital in Virginia.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, leaving the residence at 9 a.m. for the Sacred Heart Church. Interment was in the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

FUR FROM PARK IS CONFISCATED

CHARGES LAID.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30.—The first fur ever to be confiscated from Algonquin Park was taken last Saturday by Government officials at North Lake in Haliburton County. For some time the inspectors had been suspicious that trapping and other forms of capturing fur-bearing animals had been going on within the bounds of the park, and were on the lookout for the offenders. On Saturday last they found two trappers from Haliburton with a consignment of fur which consisted of fifteen beaver pelts, one bear skin, one otter and one muskrat. The seizure was made at North Lake in the Haliburton district. The offenders will appear in court to answer to a charge of trapping illegally, and having in possession fur which was not within the law.

PRESENT PLAY AT HASTINGS

"Dixie Anna" Staged Under Auspices of United Church Ladies' Aid.

TAKE PARTS WELL

HASTINGS, May 30.—The play entitled "Dixie Anna" or "In Old Kentucky," presented by local players under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church on Friday evening was a decided success. Great credit is due the players and Mr. Elliott especially, as it was under his tuition it was staged so wonderfully.

The first scene was on the grounds of the Dangerfield home. The curtain rose and from behind the curtain could be heard the song "My Old Kentucky Home." Colonel Harrison, Dangerfield, who has lost his wife and child some seventeen years before, and has supposed they were lured away by Howard Northcotte, is now alone with the exception of a servant, Mose (darky). While giving his morning orders to Mose, Howard Northcotte appears and wants to become a friend of Colonel Dangerfield, who refuses and at the point of a gun asks Northcotte to confess for his crime. They are interrupted by Mose. Paul Shelby, a friend of the Colonel's calls upon him, and while there a girl comes to the door in a dying condition. She is brought into the house and tells her life story as far as she can remember. Colonel Dangerfield listens, amid several interruptions by Mose who is continually trying to get talking to the girl.

The Colonel and the girl leave the stage and as they do an old lady enters with a policeman following her. She has escaped from an asylum where a man had her put years ago. He arrests her and leaves. The girl, by this time has been attired in an old dress she had with her among other things a bracelet and locket which her Mother had given her. The Colonel appears again and recognizes them as former belongings of his wife. He tries to tell her she is his daughter, but to no avail until she shows him the locket with "Dixie Anna" engraved on it and that was his wife's name. She gives him some papers which her mother had told her never to part with. These papers are the ones which prove her identity. As the curtain falls the Colonel embraces Dixie, his long lost child.

Scene II.

Scene two is in the drawing room of Dangerfield home, one year later.

Kate Brandon and Noward Northcotte are planning to ruin Col. Dangerfield, but are caught in the act by the faithful servant, Mose. Paul Shelby calls to see the Colonel but Mose entertains him and Paul tells of being an accomplice of Northcotte's and Kate's. Paul falls in love with Dixie (who) in turn doubts his love, as he is very bashful.

After Paul leaves she is very sorry for her actions toward him and tells Mose to see Paul and make it alright for her. The Colonel comes in and Dixie asks him to show her, her mother's picture. Amid sobbing from the father and child, the picture is undraped. The Colonel's heart fails him and he leaves the room, leaving Dixie praying before her mother's picture, while the orchestra play slowly, "My Old Kentucky Home." Northcotte who has hidden behind the picture, draws a gun to shoot her, but is grabbed by Paul who wrestles with him and leaves. The Colonel comes in only to be ordered to hand over the papers Dixie had given him, which he does but Dixie meets him at the door and gets them from him as the curtain falls.

Scene III.

Scene three is the same as the first scene.

Dixie has disappeared and Mose has been unable to find her. The Colonel goes to look for her himself, as he says, "My child where will your dear old father turn to find thee."

Dixie appears, bringing in the old woman (Dixie Anna) whom she believes to be her mother and goes to get her father. In the meantime Dixie Anna leaves also.

Dixie tells her father of Northcotte kidnapping she and her mother and taking them away, but Paul found them and got them free. As the Colonel leaves the woman gets a glimpse of him. Mose appears and recognizes her as his former mistress and at once brings the Colonel back, who does not know her at first but soon recognizes her after listening to her story and seeing several of her former clothes. Northcotte is brought in by Mose under heavy guard. Northcotte asks for pardon, but is ushered off to prison by Mose ere the Colonel can speak.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. After being perfunctorily examined by a doctor, the body is brought to the Hotel Majusaca, where an inquiry is started.

Folsom's bathing companions had been ROGER VEVILLE, MRS. HELEN BARNABY, and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

Then the startling announcement is made that Folsom had been stabbed to death in the water. ROSS, his valet, is questioned, as are Barron and his wife, but no light is shed on the mystery.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is established that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it and its scabbard had been purchased on the boardwalk.

Some suspicion attaches to one CROYDON SEARS, who is a collector of curious bladed weapons, and Anastasia asks TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to try to solve the murder.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX.

"That's all right, then," said Anastasis Folsom to Riggs, "we'll waste no more time over it just now. First of all, have you the slightest idea of any individual whom you consider responsible for my brother's death?"

"No, I haven't, except to say that any one near him in the ocean that morning might be the murderer."

"But we can't hale to court all the bathers in the ocean at that time. We must get at it some other way."

"And perhaps the logical way is through the motive."

"Now that's a sensible remark. Of course we must work through the motives. And that's just what I can't conceive of. How could any one want to kill my brother? Why, Garrett was the best man in the world. The finest character, the kindest, dearest brother!"

"Now, now, dear lady, I make all allowances for the devotion of an affectionate sister, but you mustn't idealize the man."

"But it's true. Every one who knew him will tell you the same. He was a remarkable man—a man of a thousand."

Titus Riggs had heard much about Garrett Folsom since the unfortunate man's death, and most of what he had heard was greatly at variance with his sister's opinions. Yet he felt a hesitancy about disturbing her ideals too rudely.

So he only said:

"It stands to reason, Miss Folsom, that somebody must have looked upon your brother with a less kindly eye than your own. Unless Mr. Folsom was killed by mistake."

"Do you think that probable?"

"Frankly I don't. Though it is possible. But if we're to find out the truth we can't depend on imaginings or vague suppositions. We must get down to facts. To true evidence and proved testimony."

"That's just it!" and Anastasia's face brightened. "But, so far as I can see, we have no evidence and no testimony of any account."

"That's pretty nearly true. First of all, what about the man, Ross? Is he absolutely unsuspectable?"

"Absolutely. I wish, in one way, I could suspect Ross. I mean it would be a logical way to look. But he can't possibly be at fault. He is utterly respectable and quiet-lived; he has always been devoted to Garrett's well-being, and he is, in all respects, the ideal servant, with no underhanded ways or ulterior motives."

"Does he gain anything from Mr. Folsom's will?"

"There is a bequest to him of a thousand dollars. But that would never tempt him to murder his master, for I happen to know Ross has a good-sized bank account of his own. My brother gave him a generous salary, and paid all his living expenses, even to clothes and a small motor car. No, Ross had nothing to gain by Garrett's death, and much to lose."

"What about other servants?"

"They are all at our home in Chicago."

"They receive bequests under Mr. Folsom's will?"

"Two or three do. But they are small legacies. Oh, the servants are out of the question."

"Who does benefit by the will?"

"Only myself, Mr. Pelton, my nephew, and Mr. Roger Neville. We each get about one-third of Garrett's estate."

"And as I exclude you, because you loved your brother, and I exclude Mr Pelton, because you tell me he was in New York at the time, that leaves only Mr. Neville to be discussed. What about him?"

"I can't believe Roger Neville killed Garrett—I've no reason to think he did—but that is one of the things we must find out. As you know, the man who did kill him must be some one who knew him, and for some reason wanted to put him out of the way. Now, I know of no reason for Roger Neville desiring Garrett's death, yet I suppose that side of it must be looked into."

"She suspects Neville," Tite Riggs assuredhimself, but aloud he said:

"That's right, Miss Folsom. We must view it from every angle. Had your brother any romance in his life? Especially any unhappy one?"

"Not to my knowledge," she replied, after a moment's hesitation. "He may have had. There, again, is a road to be followed."

"Yes, certainly. Now—but I'm sure Mr. Folsom was in no way financially embarrassed or wanting for money."

"He positively was not. He had plenty and of late had had some good fortune of some sort that had, or was about to, bring him in an immense sum. All these things you can find out when you investigate his business, but I feel sure our way does not lie in such paths. I think it was some personal enemy or some miserable coward who killed him in some spirit of petty revenge or imagined injury."

"Was he—excuse me—but was Mr. Folsom ever, to your knowledge, a victim of blackmail?"

"I am not offended—never hesitate to speak frankly to me. So far as I know he never was annoyed in that way, but it may have been. Innocent men are blackmailed, I've no doubt."

"They surely are. So we must try every trail we can think of. Mr. Folsom has traveled a lot, hasn't he?"

"Yes, and he had lately spent three years abroad. He had been back from that trip only a short time."

"Then, for all we know, this tragedy may be the result of some episode or trouble that happened while he was abroad."

"It well may be. But that seems to render it hopeless, doesn't it?" and Anastasia looked deeply discouraged.

"Oh, maybe not. That may help to simplify matters. Perhaps Ross can tell us something."

"No, I've asked him. If he knew anything he'd tell. But I'm hoping you can pin the crime on to someone in America—someone down here."

"At any rate we must try to do so. There's the dagger, you know. That ought to be a clue—"

"I doubt it. I know how these auctions down here are run. I mean auction sales of unimportant goods. If that had been a really valuable Oriental curio, of course, a record would have been made of the buyer and the price and all that. But there are thousands of cheap items sold at auction that are not recorded, and no reason why they should be."

"All true enough. And with the ocean to clean it, there's no chance of any finger prints on the knife. No, it doesn't seem hopeful as a clue. Yet the first principle of detection is investigation of the weapon used."

"Well it's been investigated. I'm not unreasonable, Mr. Riggs. I don't expect you to work miracles. But I do want you to use your common sense, which is more than some detectives do, and work with me and see if we can't succeed."

"I'll do that. I accept your proposition, Miss Folsom, and we'll leave your very generous offer as to salary open for the time being. When I prove to be of some real use to you then we can talk of remuneration. I know, as well as you do, that it seems absurd for a man to try detective work without any training or experience of any sort. But you can also employ skilled detectives, and if I fall down on the job they may be able to carry on."

"I shan't call in any one else until I see how you get on. But, of course, if the police continue the search I shall be interested. Also the hotel detective here is rather a clever sort. And rest assured I shall not be idle myself. I may not be able to do a man's work, but there are kinds of detection where a woman's intuition and quiet cleverness may be of service."

"That is certainly so. Now, first of all, Miss Folsom, I want a look into Mr. Folsom's luggage and papers."

Play Rings Around Buffalo To Gather in 20 Solid Clouts.

RED WINGS WIN 9-4.

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 30 (Canadian Press). — Toronto played rings around Buffalo in the opening tilt of their crucial three-game series here yesterday, exploding a winning streak of three straight, and landing on the big end of a 10 to 3 score. The Leafs hit three Bison pitchers with everything but the water bucket, gathering 20 solid clouts. Five Leafiets in a row hit safely with none out in the sixth and ten men batted before the side was retired. With five runs amassed, Burke and Rabbitt sailed into the Bison flingers for four hits apiece. Al. Moore kept up his remarkable spree for the Bisons, bagging three hits which gave him a record of 12 safeties in his last 16 times at bat.

Rochester 9, Montreal 4.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 30 (Canadian Press). — Rochester defeated Montreal in the first game of the season between the two clubs here yesterday, 9 to 4. The Red Wings rattled 16 hits off the offering of Buckalew in seven innings to take the verdict in handy fashion while Jim McCrackent allowed but six safe blows. Three of these came in the ninth inning.

Reading 1, Newark 0.

READING, Pa., May 30 (Canadian Press). — Slicker Parks gave Newark only five hits here yesterday to win by one to nothing, giving Reading an even break in the four-game series. Parks kept the hits well scattered, no two coming in one inning. Reading scored its lone counter in the fifth, when Walsh singled, went to second on Scott's sacrifice, and scored on Whitman's long single to right.

The two games to be played by Deloro this week will give some indication of how much there is in these predictions.

Among the new Deloro players this season is Scott, an infielder hailing from Renfrew and a brother of the Belleville third baseman, Art Quinn, Vaughn Jack, Hec Boudreau, Brown, Hughes and other stalwarts of other years are still with the Smelters.

Hank Morrison, the Oshawa infielder, was the pitcher who finally saved the day for the Motors at Kingston on Saturday. It sure must have been a tough afternoon on pitchers when an infielder was called upon to stop the slaughter.

The weatherman saved the Petes from a long trip to-day. The squad was all ready to leave for Kingston this morning when a wire was received from Bert Booth of the Kingston Club to the effect that it had rained all night in Kingston, was still raining, and consequently the game was off. No arrangements have been made as yet for playing off the postponed fixture.

MENIE TEAM IN TRAINING

Will Enter Strong Outfit in the District Softball League.

REGULARS ON HAND.

BURNBRAE, May 30.— With the opening of the District Softball League only a few days away the Menie team are busy practising in an effort to get away to a good start. At the first practice nearly all of last year's team, which won the league championship after a stiff fight, were on hand. The only absentee was Alex Linn, shortstop, who a few weeks ago fractured his collar bone and so will be out of the game. A few newcomers are trying out for positions and one of the most promising is Malcolm Hutcheon, who will probably be used in the infield. Ralph Hay is another former member of the team who was unable to play last year, but is ready for active service again. He can fill any vacancy quite acceptably and while a member of the Menie hard ball team played almost every position but that of pitcher.

Manager Eagleson, the reliable hurler of the squad will again lead the team into action and with the benefit of last year's experience, they should make thiungs interesting for the other towns in the group.

OUTLAWS WIN LEAGUE GAME

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30. — In the fifth schedule game of the Town Softball League last night, the Outlaw team put it over St. Andrew's with a score of twelve runs to four. The game was only seven innings as prearranged by the managers of the two contesting teams. Beginning with two runs in the first inning, the Outlaws scored every time they came to bat with the exception of the sixth, when the churchmen held them without a count. The story for the St. Andrew's team is not so flowery. In the first inning they scored a solitary run, and from then till the sixth did not make a count. In that inning they scored three runs and the last time up were unable to add to their total. Three strikes and out was not a common occurrence during the game, nor were bases on balls. The pitchers for both teams seemed to prefer relying on their fielders. There was only one home run, and that went to Horkins (Outlaws) when he came to bat in the third. There was one man on second, so the hit counted for two runs. The Outlaw victory raises them from fifth to third place in the league.

The teams:

DELORO TEAM TO MEET PETES ON SATURDAY HERE

Week-end Fixture Looms Up As One of Best Games of Season.

VISITORS STRONG.

Smelters Have Several New Players and Are Very Confident.

Given good weather there should be a real crowd out at James Stevenson Park on Saturday afternoon when the Deloro team, strongly fancied for the Central League honors, will clash with the Petes.

Deloro have a real smart ball club, always in good condition and with their heads up all the way and the Petes will have to step at their very best if they hope to earn the verdict over them on Saturday.

With a pitching staff composed of Wood, Shea, Leal and Ralph and Jack in reserve the former intermediate finalists are well fortified in the artillery department and they have plenty of strength both defensively and on the attack.

The Petes are rounding into shape and hope to be hitting their last year stride on Saturday.

It will be a real game and should attract a big crowd of fans.

GIANTS BATTER ROBINS 12-5

Bill Terry, Gotham First Baseman, Has Perfect Day at Bat.

CUBS EVEN SERIES.

NEW YORK, May 30 (Canadian Press).—Bill Terry had a field day at Brooklyn yesterday afternoon as the Giants smothered the Robins under a barrage of hits to win, 12 to 5. The Giants' first baseman hit a single, a double, a triple and a home run, scored two runs and batted in six.

Terry's homer came with the bases filled in the seventh inning, and was followed by another homer by Jackson. The two successive clouts knocked Petty out of the box. Moss replaced Petty and yielded three runs in the eighth, two of them coming on Terry's double with the bases full.

Percy Lee Jones held the league-leading Cincinnati Reds to four hits at Chicago, and the Cubs evened the series at one-all, winning 4 to 0. Luque was going good until the third, when he pulled a tendon in his throwing arm and was taken from the box, Edwards going to the mound.

Cardinals Win First.

The St. Louis Cardinals took the first game of the series at Pittsburgh yesterday by hitting timely behind the effective twirling of Rhem. The score was 7 to 1, and it was the Buccaneers' fourth consecutive set-back.

Charley Robertson made the opening game of the Phillies' first home stand a dismal one. The Boston Braves grabbed it, 9 to 3, used up four Philadelphia pitchers to win the victory.

Walsh, the starting pitcher, was removed after two were out in the opening inning and the Braves' four runs to the good. Hornsby's home run was over the scoreboard and accounted for the first three Boston runs.

Ring, McGraw and Willoughby later were hit for the remainder of the tallies.

Ernest R. Whitcombe Leads Field In First Round Of Irish Open Play

NEWCASTLE, Ireland, May 30 (Canadian Press).—Ernest R. Whitcombe, well-known British professional, had a good field in the first round of the Irish open golf championship, with a score of 68. It was a new record for the Royal County Down Golf Club course. The sensational score was good enough to send Whitcombe four strokes in front of W. H. Davies, in second place for the first eighteen holes.

Six were tied for third place Abe Mitchell, Len Holland, T. H. Cotton, J. O'Neill, H. C. Jolly, and L. Cotton returning scores of 73.

Archie Compston required 75, and George Duncan, who won the championship when the first competition was held last year, followed with a score of 76.

Eighteen holes will be played to-day, with 36 holes Thursday for the low sixty and ties.

Despite popular dissatisfaction over two circumstances—Walter Hagen's absence and a gate charge—a big gallery followed the players.

A telegram from the Golfing Union of Ireland yesterday announced that Hagen had returned the money received for an exhibition match in Dublin Saturday. Union officials announced that they refused to accept the money, and returned it to Hagen. The Union suggested that the British champion might have been influenced by the legal aspect, since he made a definite agreement to play in the championship if the exhibition match in Dublin were arranged.

FOUR LEADERS HAVE FULL DAY

Three Fatten Their Batting Averages To Some Extent.

HORNSBY RETAINS LEAD.

(By the Associated Press.)

A day full of activity for the four leaders of the Big Six saw only one change in the standing. Although three of the four fattened their batting averages to some extent, Rogers Hornsby held firmly on to his lead by getting three hits, one of them a homer, in four times at bat. Babe Ruth, although he knocked out two cricuit clouts, could gather only two hits in five official trips to the plate in the Yankees' double victory over the Senators and raised his average only one point. Paul Waner had a perfect day at bat with three hits, while his team mates were losing to St. Louis, and displaced Ruth from the second position in the Big Six.

Frank Frisch hit safely twice in four times at bat, but dropped three points in his batting average. Ty Cobb failed to appear in the Athletics' line-up against the Red Sox, while Harry Heilmann was rained out of a chance to fatten his average.

The standing to date:

Hornsby (Braves) —Games 33, at bat 137, runs 27, hits 49. Percentage .398.

P. Waner (Pirates)—Games 39, at bat 159, runs 31, hits 57. Percentage .375.

YANKS WIN DOUBLE-BILL

Defeat Washington By Score of 3-2 and 12-3 in Slug Fests.

RUTH ADDS TO LIST.

NEW YORK, May 30.—(Canadian Press.)—The Yankees continued the terrific pace they have been setting for the American League by taking both ends of a double-header yesterday by scores of 3 to 2 and 12 to 3.

In the first game, Sam Jones, former Yankee star, held New York to six hits, but one was a triple with the bases full by Durocher. Pipgras pitched for the Yankees and won his eighth game in nine starts.

The second game found the Yankee sluggers going at top speed. Lou Gehrig hit his ninth and tenth home runs of the season and Ruth added Numbers 17 and 18 to his list. Combs also hit for the circuit. Lou's first wallop helped drive Gaston out of the box. The Yankees staged a seven run rally in the third inning with Gehrig's home bringing in three of them. Hoyt had no difficulty in holding Washington in check.

Hauser's home run drive into the right field bleachers in the first inning, scoring Speaker ahead of him, assured the Athletics of victory in the first game of the Boston series yesterday. The score was 4 to 3. Cobb was out of the game because of nervous indigestion. Walberg passed the first two men up in the fifth with the Athletics leading, 4 to 3. He was then relieved by Rommel, who shut out the Red Sox and held them to two hits for the rest of the game. Rommel went down in the official score as the winning pitcher.

Rain caused a postponement of the game at St. Louis between the Chicago White Six and Browns after one and one-half innings had been played. Chicago was leading 5 to 0.

Detroit at Cleveland postponed—rain.

"You've got to Show Me"

"You've got to show me there's any difference in motor oils. Why should I buy Veedol when I can save at least 5c. a quart by using a cheaper oil? Doesn't all oil give a film of protection?" All right, Mr. Motorist, here's the answer.

Multiply 5c. by the number of quarts of oil you use in a year. It may amount to $10.00. Match that $10.00 against the $30, $50 or ...n $100, the cost of engine repairs when trouble begins—seventy-five per cent. of which are due to neglected lubrication and the failure of mediocre oils. Which would you rather pay? And why run the risk of ruining a good car for the sake of $10.00?

Of course, all oils form a film over the metal parts of a motor. But how long does that film stand up? The film of ordinary oil soon breaks and burns. The delicate parts are exposed directly to the lash of searing, scorching heat—and grinding friction gets in its work of destruction. Veedol—the famous "Film of protection"—thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel,—does not fail.

The new improved Veedol oils give (1) greater motor protection—heavier body and added heat resistance (2) greater mileage—being heavier bodied they last longer (3) greater economy—they cut operating costs and reduce wear, tear and repair on the engine. Correct for modern high-speed, high-compression motors, Veedol is better for any motor. Have your crankcase filled with the new Veedol and let this heat-resisting oil give your motor the extra protection it requires.

31 CARS ENTERED IN 500-MILE RACE

Annual Classic Automobile Race Takes Place at Indianapolis To-day.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30. — (Canadian Press).—Thirty-one tiny racing creations were lined up to-day awaiting the starting signal to send them away on the punishing 500-mile classic automobile race over the Indianapolis speedway. The drivers will share in prizes totalling $100,000, with the winner drawing about $35,000.

After two rainstorms early this morning the skies cleared an hour before the start, and the sun was shining as the tiny racers shot away on their perilous journey that might bring tragic death or injury.

SCOTCH STOWAWAYS IN BAD

Efforts of three Scotch boys to get to America as stowaways caused them to land back in Glasgow to face a fine or jail sentence. Peter McClean, 18, Henry Moore, 16, and Harold Hosack, 15, managed to get aboard a liner at Glasgow and hide themselves in the fore-peak. They were found, and made to work their way to New York and back, then were turned over to the police. The judge gave each the choice of a fine of $10 or 20 days imprisonment.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

WALLACE BEERY AND RAYMOND HATTON, IN THEIR LATEST COMEDY HIT "WIFE SAVERS" WILL BE THE FEATURE ATTRACTION AT THE CAPITOL FOR THE BALANCE OF THE WEEK, COMMENCING TO-MORROW MATINEE.

Having been soldiers, sailors, firemen and aviators, all with hilarious results, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton have become mountain climbers and Swiss yodelers.

In the new characterizations, in which they will be seen at the Capitol commencing to-morrow matinee, their antics are of the same laughable quality that endeared them to the public in "Behind the Front," "We're In the Navy Now," "Firemen, Save My Child," "Now We're in the Air."

As in the case of all good comedies, the plot is simple. Beery and Hatton are first seen as waiter in a Brooklyn restaurant, Beery as the head waiter and Hatton as the plain garden style of waiter. War reverses their situations. Beery is a private buck in the rear rank and on kitchen police and Hatton is a second lieutenant.

The war sequence opens at the armistice, with the soldiers rushing for home, but Beery is left behind, detailed by Lieutenant Hatton to look after the future Mrs. Hatton. Beery looks after her by marrying her, after he has obtained a job as an Alpine guide and Swiss yodeler.

His yodel, which can hardly be registered by the lighter makes of yodel meters, wins him a lusty fame and distinction, but his bride wins him only grief and complications. There are snowslides, landslides, blizzards, everything peculiar to the Alps, including the innkeepers and the dogs that search out lost climbers with a keg of wine on their necks, is merrily kidded.

"Wife Savers" is a whirlwind comedy that accelerates from two to fifty laughs a minute in the first 100 feet. It should be seen by anyone strong enough to laugh constantly for approximately one hour.

A strong supporting cast has been assembled for the stars. It includes Ford Sterling, ZaSu Pitts, Tom Kennedy, August Tollaire, Sally Blane, and George Y. Harvey. Ralph Cedar directed a story by Tom J. Geraghty and Grover Jones.

AT THE REGENT.

BUCK JONES HAS COLORFUL ROLE IN "BLOOD WILL TELL." NEW PICTURE OF OLD WEST.

Buck Jones has a colorful role in "Blood Will Tell," his latest feature for Fox Films, which comes to the Regent Theatre for three days, opening Thursday. As the owner of an immense cattle ranch, Buck falls in love with Sally Morgan, who believes herself the rightful owner of Peter's ranch.

Buck finds himself under suspicion of being the instigator of numerous holdups in the vicinity. After a series of smashing climaxes, Buck is able to apprehend the real culprits and restore peace to a much harassed community.

Ray Flynn, directing "Blood Will Tell," has worked in nearly every phase of the motion picture industry. While still in his teens, Ray played in "A Fool There Was" with Robert Hilliard. From dramatics, Ray drifted into pictures and played in numerous minor roles in New York productions. Eventually he answered the call of Hollywood and was given his first real opportunity in pictures.

Flynn's progress was very rapid. He was directing comedies on the Fox lot when he was selected to direct Buck Jones in "Blood Will Tell." Kathryn Perry is seen opposite the Western star.

"Blood Will Tell" is one of the best Westerns that Buck has appeared in. He is well supported by a fine cast.

MONTREAL, May 30.—Announcement of proposed reorganization of Canadian Woollens, Lt., is contained in a letter being sent to shareholders of the company over the signature of A. O. Dawson, President. Present unsatisfactory conditions, with no immediate prospect of immediate improvement, have created the need of for a plan. A new company is to be formed, to be known as the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Ltd., and will include, by a consolidation, the business of Forbes & Co., Hespeler, Ont., whose entire issued shares will be acquired by the new organization.

The letter, in part, follows: "Your directors, being much concerned at the inability of the company to pay preferred shareholders anything on account of the dividends that have been accumulating on their shares for several years, and without there appearing to be an early prospect of any such payment being made, they have been seeking ways and means of improving the situation.

Consolidation of Company.

"Your directors are now pleased to inform you that they have concluded negotiations for the consolidation of your company with R. Forbes Company, Ltd., of Hespeler, Ont., such consolidation to be upon the basis mentioned herein, and to be effected by the incorporation of a new company under the name of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Ltd.

"The plans for the consolidation mentioned above included the forming of a new company under the name of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Ltd, or some other name to be decided upon by the incorporators, which will acquire all the issued shares of R. Forbes Company, Ltd., and the entire property and assets of your company. The new company will also own the issued shares of Milton Spinners, Ltd., the Otonabee Mills, Ltd., and Orillia Worsted Company, Ltd.

"The capital structure of the new company to be formed will be as follows:

"Authorized to be presently issued: Six per cent first mortgage 20-year sinking fund gold bonds, $5,000,000, $2,250,000; 40,000 6 per cent. redeemable cumulative voting preferred shares of par value of $100 each, 4,000,000, 1,500,000 Common shares without nominal or par value, 200,000 shares, 60,000 shares.

"Preferred shareholders of the new company will have voting rights, share for share, with common shareholders. In case of winding-up, preferred shares shall have a preference as to capital, plus accrued dividends, but without right to further participate in surplus assets.

Companies' Earnings.

"The companies mentioned above have been subjected to a recent appraisal made by the Canadian Appraisal Company, and an independent audit by Messrs. C. P. Ross & Sons, who have certified the net earnings, after proper provision for depreciation and all charges for the year 1927 to be as follows:

"Net earnings, $358,634.16

"After deductions new bond interest, $135,00, there remains available for perferred stock (being about 2½ times annual dividend requirements), $223,624.16.

"New preferred stock dividend, $90,000.

"Available for new common shares or other purposes, $163,320.15. Equal to $2.25 per new common share.

"The earnings referred to above do not take into account expected savings, through the elimiantion of duplication of styles, selling expenses, office expense and general overhead.

"The sum total of these items should be substantial

"The combined net assets of the new company will be approximately the proposed new financing, will amount to approximately $6,050,000, and the consummation of the proposed transaction will place an asset value, after deducting the bonds to be outstanding, on the new preferred shares of more than $240 per share.

"The net current assets of the new company wil lbe approximately $1,750,000, which compares with your present company's net liquid position of approximately $675,000, an improvement in working capital over $1,000,000."

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foster of Moira were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Foster on Sunday evening.

Eight car loads of gypsies passed through Madoc on Sunday about noon, very evidently equipped for an extended camping expedition. They halted for a time at Moira Lake, near the road-side, and then decided to make camp, and at latest reports are still there.

STEAMER WHISTLE IS SIGN OF SUMMER

Many Cottagers Take Advantage of Trip Up Lakes — Gypsies Visit Lakefield.

LAKEFIELD, May 30.—The sound of the steamboat whistle is again in the air reminding us that the summer season is almost upon us, with its tourists and the going and coming which accompanies the holiday time. The lakes show promise of increased popularity this season if the indications are to be relied on. There was the usual large number of cottagers who made the holiday (May 24) the occasion of their first visit to their summer homes.

Gypsies Visit.

A band of gypsies visited Lakefield but did not remain long, but according to account their brief stay was fairly profitable. The band are quite up to date travelling in sedan cars, evidently the day of the caravan is passed, and on leaving Lakefield they motored to Young's Point.

Tourists Arrive.

Already the tourist season has commenced and motor cars bearing the license plates of Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and other States of the Union are to be seen en route to the great summer playground at the lakes.

Flags Displayed.

There were a fair number of flags displayed on Victoria Day, larger than previous years. Perhaps July 1st's demonstration taught a good lesson, at any rate there was a slight improvement. The "friendly pop" of firecrackers began early on Wednesday evening and the surplus supply apparently went off on Saturday.

Birthday Party

Miss Betty Brown entertained a number of her little friends on Saturday on the occasion of her fourth birthday. The children all spent a delightful time in games.

Urge Adoption Of Minority Report

MONTREAL, Que., May 30.—(Canadian Press).—In the hope of dissuading parliament from adopting the majority report of the Royal Commission which recommended the abolition of steam trawlers in the Canadian Atlantic Fishing industry, the Canadian Fisheries' Association has circularized each member of the Cabinet and each member of Parliament urging the adoption of Mr. Justice MacLean's minority report. The resolution in the circular declares that the abolition of steam trawlers would mean the demoralization of the fishing industry in Nova Scotia and that the association believes that the minority report is entirely in accord with the best interest of the industry and the country as a whole.

The circular also sets forth the belief that the abolition of steam trawlers would hinder the maintenance of a regular and well-sustained supply of fresh fish for inland Canadian centres.

FAIR DIRECTORS DECIDE ON BARNS

Will Put Up New Structures To Care For Cattle and Horses.

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition met last night in Exhibition Park and decided on the location for the two new buildings that are to be erected this year. The new cattle barn will be erected immediately south of the present cattle barns and the horse barn will be erected south and west of the present horse barn. Contracts have been let to Finnie and Dummitt for erecting the barns, and building operations are expected to commence immediately.

IN POLICE COURT

Ray Williamson, Alvin Tolland, M. Latimer and Charles Allin pleaded guilty this morning to speeding across Hunter street bridge and were fined $5.00 without costs by Justice of the Peace Frank Adams.

Chief Constable Newhall has a number of other traffic charges laid which will be brought up in traffic court next Wednesday. Yesterday many motorists were stopped and asked to produce their permits. Some were found without permits on their person and others had never obtained a permit.

MALE VOICE CHOIR ANNUAL MEETING

Banquet Formed First Part of the Evening's Deliberations.

The eighth annual meeting of the Peterborough Male Voice Choir was ushered in last with a banquet at the Paragon Tea Rooms. Though all the members could not be present, a representative gathering, including several of the Old Guard, enjoyed a splendid time around the festive board of Mine Host Charles Coleman.

A short intermission followed, when the chairman, A. H. Whyte (in the absence of President G. S. Parlour) called the meeting to order for the business session.

The officers of the past year were called in rotation and gave satisfactory reports of stewardship. Treasurer A. J. McLeish presented financial statements showing progress and a balance in the Trust Fund, though receipts were a trifle short of previous years.

Secretary Crowe gave a racy resume of the duties attached to that office, showing that every detail had been carefully noted, the whole spelling efficiency from all angles.

The chairmen of the various committees—Membership, Music, Social, and Publicity—voiced stories of deeds and actions during their tenure of office, optimism and co-operation marking the tasks assigned.

The choir this year has one out-of-town engagement—a concert on June 19 at Norwood.

An honorarium was voted to Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., the choir director. At the close of this season Mr. Chenhall will have completed four seasons as leader of the choir.

Notices of motion were submitted and passed: That the former voice test for eligibility for membership be deleted from the by-laws—being main feature of the revision of a few of the paragraphs.

The matter of the fee was also discussed at some length—to remain as at present, $2.00.

Officers Elected.

Hon. President—Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C.

Hon. Vice-Presidents — Mayor Denne, J. J. Turner, James Dutton, R. J. Kidd, L. D. W. Magie, Rev. Father Costello.

Past President—G. S. Parlour.

President—A. H. Whyte.

Vice-President—John Anderson.

Secretary—T. E. Gilchrist.

Treasurer—Arthur J. McLeish.

Librarian—F. E. Kerr, B.A.

Chairman of Membership Committee—Neil Porter.

Chairman of the Music Committee—C. S. Thompson, B.A.

Chairman of the Publicity Committee—Herbert Rush.

Chairman of the Social Committee—Horace Hope.

Auditors—C. B. Adair and W. Northrup.

The meeting lasted three hours, and from the discussion it might be judged the members and executive are determined to go forward to even greater achievements in the musical season commencing in October.

GREAT PYRAMID SHOWS TROUBLE

the passage ways, etc., were given before the pyramid was built and are found in the ancient Egyptian Book of the Dead.

There are three girdle stones in the upward passage, that is stones through which it passes as through a tunnel. The first shows the captivity of Israel, the second the burning of Jerusalem, and the third the captivity of Judah.

Man then passes into the grand gallery, which is seven times higher. He can stand upright, because the burden is released, and the beginning of this indicates the birth of Christ. The development continues upward, and the crucifixion is marked.

The Jewish Race.

At this point a passage moves off perfectly level, culminating in what is known as the Queen's Chamber. It is divided into seven portions, six in the passage and one in the chamber, indicating a race which keeps the sabbatical principle and has stood still spiritually since that time. The floor of the chamber is slightly lower than the passageway, being on a level with the point marking the birth of Christ, and indicating that this race, the Jews, must come back to Him as Savior.

The Jew, pointed out Mr. Brown, teaches that he is the heir of all the promises given Abraham, but he is heir only of those given Judah as he is not all of Israel. Theologians say that Israel has passed away, but God says it shall never pass away.

The upward passage goes on until it is interrupted by the Grand Step. This is taken to mean the sudden rise of the British Empire into a position of world leadership when Britain forced the Turk to fulfil prophecy by giving the Jew and the Egyptian their freedom in 1844. This movement culminated in 1917, just when God said it would, by the destruction of the power of the Turk.

A Toronto man, William Reeves, was responsible for discovering that from 1914 on an inch represents a year. Until he suggested it the scientists could not make their calculations agree with prophecy, but Mr. Reeves quoted Daniel as writing, "The time shall be a month." This, said Mr. Brown, is in the nature of a detail drawing. God knew that most of the long part would be passed before it had been deciphered, but for the end of this dispensation, when man would need greater light, he increased the size of the symbols so that it could be followed easier.

The Burden of Israel.

The passage entered here shows the burden of Israel, and no person will say that God's particular people did not bear a burden during the war of 1914-18. They bore the burden of the whole world. The dates for the beginning and end of this period of tribulation were announced before the war, and Lord Roberts, who was a British Israel supporter, preached preparedness against Germany for 1914.

From there one enters the chamber of chaos or the triple veil. It is significant that the British, who usually celebrate a Peace Day after a great war, now celebrate Armistice Day, indicating that the pause in hostilities was only temporary to give the nation time to gather itself together. A period showing 282 days indicated the presence of a class government in England, which should never have happened, and it is strange that this government had a majority in the house of 282, the ministers' ages totalled 282, and 282 acts became law during that period.

This brings the world to the period beginning May 29-30, 1928, the beginning of Jacob's trouble and the forerunner of the end of this dispensation. At the end of this period the Lord Jesus Christ Himself comes to take charge and 1936-54 will be the period of the restoration of all things. No sane person, said Mr. Brown, will prophecy what will take place in the troublous times.

The period will not necessarily start off with a great calamity. Grooves on the walls seem to indicate that it will take 25 days to get under way, showing the gradual removal of God's restraining hand. This, declared Mr. Brown, is according to the book.

Britain Prepared.

The speaker surprised his audience by telling of the notice taken by the British government of this matter. After the heads of the engineering branch of the army had studied these matters for some weeks at the feet of noted students, they went to Cairo and took 2000 men with them, because in the book of Isaiah it is prophecied that in the latter days a cruel king shall rule over Egypt and that the Nile shall be diverted, drying up the flax fields. Flax has not been raised in Egypt until the last fifteen years, so that this time can not have gone by. There is a place on the Nile where it flows past a deep valley which leads to the Indian Ocean, and Mr. Brown declared that the government has prepared mines to divert the river to this valley if an enemy should seize Egypt and Palestine. The Italian government, he added, has millions of men in Tripoli, ostensibly for development work.

The testing time that is coming will be so great that it will bring God's people to their knees. He recalled that during the last war, when things looked darkest, God's representative on earth, King George, had called for a day of prayer and the people of England had prayed all day. From that day the British never lost a foot of ground, advancing steadily because God had heard the prayers of His people and stepped in to help them.

Christ Shall Come.

After the time of trouble Christ shall come and it shall be the time spoken of in Revelations, when His enemies shall be His footstool. This does not mean that they will be oppressed, but that they will make Him comfortable. In that day Zion shall be exalted and the perfect law of God shall be restored. The only way in which that period may be brought sooner is by God's people going down on their knees and praying that it may be done.

Answering several questions at the close of his address, Mr. Brown said that the enemy from ancient days has been the seed of Cain. Israel's ancient enemy was Assyria, and the Czar of Russia and the Kaiser of Germany used to boast about their geneology going back to the Assyrian rulers. The Chinese and the Romans are also branches of this stem. He added that it seemed hard to read of Ishmael and his mother being driven out by Abraham, but it was to fulfill God's purpose because Ishmael's people, the Arabs, helped Britain against the Turk in the last war, holding that desert area and protecting the flank.

Col. J. W. Miller moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker, referring particularly to the constant checking of matters with the prophecies of the Bible. Following the close of the meeting Mr. Brown was surrounded by a number of interested persons who desired to talk about the matter.

During the evening solos were sung by Mrs. W. Byers and R. Fleming; M. B. Chenhall acting as accompanist.

COBALT, Ont., May 30 (Canadian Press).—James R. Smith, aged 70, of Vimy Ridge, near Matheson, has been missing from his home for nearly a week, and is believed to have been drowned in Black River, a tributary of the Abitibi. Smith took his boat out on the river last Thursday, and has not been seen since, according to Constable John Reavley, who brought the news here last night. Constable Reavley, who has been engaged in searching for the bodies of seven men lost in the Abitibi last week, says operations so far have been unsuccessful.

EYES OF LOVE.

The Dramatic Club of S.S. No. 11, Smith, presented their play, "Eyes of Love," in the auditorium of George Street United Sunday School Hall on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Twilight Mission Circle of the church.

A fair sized crowd was present and enjoyed a splendid evening's program. The cast was well balanced, each character being cleverly impersonated and the visiting entertainers received prolonged applause.

The following is the cast:
Judge Burry—Mr. Elmer Milburn.
Mrs. Barry (the judge's wife) —Dorothy Tully.
Gailya (adopted daughter)—Miss Victoria Robinson.
Reta Wade (niece of Judge Barry's) —Miss Irene Deck.
Bert Wade (their nephew)—Earl Tully.
Royal Manton (Gailya's lover)—Earl Rosborough.
Jim Rankin (an escaped convict)—Fred Anderson.
Lora (the maid)—Miss Veleta Deck.
Clarke (the butler)—Bruce Heard.
Carolina (a negress servant)—Miss Margaret Milburn.

The opening scene takes place at Judge Barry's summer home on the Hudson. The family are entertaining the niece and nephew of the Judge, Reta and Bert Barry, who are planning to have Gailya marry Bert.

Gailya is in love with Royal Manton, and rejects Bert's offer of marriage. A colored servant, Caroline, creates a great amount of amusement and the maid and butler, who appear often on the scene, have humorous parts, which are exceedingly well portrayed.

One evening, while the family are all at the opera, except Gailya, an escaped convict enters the drawing-room. She is not frightened, and expresses her pity for him, and offers to help him. He tells her the story of his life, of how he was wrongfully accused and sentenced to prison, and how he escaped because he was longing to find a trace of his little daughter, whom he lost trace of nineteen years before. Gailya was deeply interested, and she gives him an overcoat and hat and promises to help him.

The next day, when Royal Manton asks Judge Barry for his daughter's hand in marriage, the judge and his wife tell Gailya that she is not their own daughter, but that they adopted her when she was a young child. At the time her mother was dying, and the only clue she gave them to her identity was that her father had peculiar eyes, and that she had inherited these same strange eyes, one of which grew black and became dilated when she was angry.

The convict Jim Rankin returned to the house disguised as Pedro and acts his part so well that no one suspects that he is not an Italian. At length, Gailya recognizes him and has a suspicion that he is her father. The play concludes with a wedding; Gailya looking very sweet as the blushing bride with wedding veil and orange blossoms.

Jim Rankin, who has been released from prison and fully pardoned, is a guest at the wedding and all ends happily.

Mrs. Purdy presided at the piano in the last act and played "Here Comes the Bride."

Between the acts an interesting program was given, consisting of: Piano Solo, Miss Musa Cox; Reading, The Legend of Bergens," Miss Evelyn Miller; Vocal Solo, Miss Bernice Cain accompanied by Mrs. W. Smith.

OFFICIALS EXHUME KENNEDY'S BODY

Ottawa Man Was Shot Near Toledo a Month Ago.

BULLET FOUND.

OTTAWA, May 30 (Canadian Press).—On instructions for the Ontario Attorney General's Department the remains of John A. Kennedy, former resident of Ottawa, who was found shot to death in a bush near Toledo, Ohio, a month ago, were exhumed in Metcalfe Cemetery today.

Representatives of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Provincial Police, and Michigan State Police were present at exhumation and the subsequent autopsy by Dr. R. M. Cairns of Ottawa.

The autopsy disclosed that the unfortunate man, believed to have been killed in order to prevent his giving evidence as a government witness in pending liquor prosecutions, was first knocked unconscious by a blow over the left eye and then was shot through the head as he lay on the ground. A flattened bullet was found inside his skull and has been given to authorities, who claim to have valuable information as to the identity of Kennedy's slayer.

S. R. JONES.
The death occurred yesterday (Tuesday) of S. R. Jones, of Perry Street, an old and esteemed former resident of Percy Township, at Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, in his 88th year, after a continued illness following his third stroke. Born in Seymour Township, Northumberland County, with his parents and other children, in 1857, he moved to Percy to clear land to make a home. In 1864 he married Jennie Wilson, eldest daughter of the late Samuel Wilson of Percy, and settled a mile west of Warkworth. His wife predeceased him 28 years ago. Six children were born to this union, and all survive him: Minnie (Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. CONTRIBUTIONS FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Vote of $155,968 Passed by Government as Canada's Contribution.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 30 (Canadian Press).—The House yesterday passed a vote of $155,968 for Canada's contribution to the League of Nations.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie raised the question of representations being made by certain Canadian Jews on behalf of Jewish people in Rumania who, it was alleged, were being persecuted. Could not this matter be taken up through the League of Nations?

The Prime Minister said he understood that the procedure in such a case was for the minority affected to bring their case to the League directly. This had been done, and the matter was now before the League Council on which Canada was represented.

Mr. Guthrie also brought up the question of German currency held by Canadians which had been repudiated by the German Government.

The Prime Minister pointed out that before the Government could do anything in such a case it would have to consider the whole question of speculation which would be very difficult indeed.

Railway Estimates.
For a few minutes yesterday estimates for the Department of Railways and Canals were before the House yesterday afternoon. On a vote of $287,000 for the Board of Railway Commissioners, T. L. Church (Conservative, Toronto North-West), moved that the amount be reduced by $200,000. The Commission, he said, had ceased to exercise the functions for which it had been created. One case had been before it for eight years, and not a single case in fifteen years had the Commission acted on its own volition in any manner.

Mr. Church's motion was still before the Committee when the House rose for dinner at six o'clock.

The Prime Minister stated that the estimates of another department would be taken up at the evening sitting.

FISHING SCHOONER CAPTAIN LOSES LIFE IN EXPLOSION

Vessel Wrecked As It Lay in Dock at Gloucester, Mass.

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

Companion of Skipper Has Narrow Escape From Injury in Blast.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., May 31 (A.P.).—Captain John B. Farrell, one of the skippers of the Gloucester fishing fleet, lost his life yesterday when a mysterious explosion wrecked his auxiliary schooner Mary, as it lay moored at its dock here. The afterpart of the vessel was shattered by the blast which broke windows in the city half a mile away.

Captain Ben Pine, part owner of the Mary, and hero of international fishermen's race series, escaped injury by a narrow margin. A friend hailed him as Pine was going on board the vessel with Captain Farrell. He stopped to chat, and a few seconds later the explosion came.

The Mary was to have sailed late yesterday for the halibut grounds and the skipper went on board to turn off the electric light.

The vessel, like many others of the fleet, was equipped with an electric lighting system, the dynamo being operated by a gasoline engine. He had scarcely gone below when the explosion came.

The entire deck of the vessel aft of the mainmast was lifted by the blast, the main hook was broken in three places and the entire stern of the schooner shattered.

Fire broke out immediately causing further damage to the after-part of the vessel, where it was controlled.

The charred body of the skipper was found only after masses of wreckage had been lifted off the decks and placed on lighters, and the hull had been pumped out. Captain Farrell came to Gloucester fifteen years ago from Newfoundland and had been master of fishing vessels for three years.

LEFT HAND TURN IS FORBIDDEN

PARK FOR 10 MINUTES.

OSHAWA, May 31. — Abolishing the left hand turn at King and Simcoe streets and the limiting of parking cars to ten minutes on King and Simcoe streets, in the business section, between certain hours, were decisions made by the police commission after a thorough discussion of Oshawa's traffic problems.

A 10 minute parking limit will be enforced between the hours of 8.30 a.m. and 6.00 p.m. and on Saturday the time will be extended until 10.00 o'clock. The regulations will not be effective on Sundays.

No angle parking will be allowed on any street in the city. In the discussion of the left hand turn Mayor Preston declared that pedestrians had less chance to cross the street in safety and the rule was dangerous in every way.

The matter of compelling pedestrians to obey the automatic signals was also discussed, but Chief of Police Friend said that it was impossible. Philadelphia tried it once but had to give it up in disgust and Toronto was not yet getting the desired result.

CITY OFFICIALS VISIT TORONTO

Get More Data About Gas Plant—Province To Pave Boundary Strip.

ALONG CHEMONG ROAD.

Mayor Denne and City Clerk Armstrong were in Toronto yesterday discussing the purchase of the gas plant with the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission. The change in rates was discussed, also how these rates would affect the present price that the Commission wanted for the plant. Prices were secured and these will be submitted to the city council at a meeting next week.

They also took up the question of paving Reid street with the Highway Department. The agreement arrived at was that the city would pave Reid street to Victoria avenue and the 700 feet between the avenue and Wolseley street, of which half is in the city and half in Smith, will be paved by the province.

IMMIGRANT LAD IS LOCATED BY TORONTO POLICE

Norman Malcolmson's Chum Says He Had Planned To Run Away.

HAS RELATIVES.

Companion of Voyage From Ireland— Declined To Go With Malcolmson, He Says.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 31.—Norman Malcolmson, who disappeared from a Rawdon farm a week ago, has been located in Toronto, apparently little the worse for wear. This was the communication received by the Campbellford police about nine o'clock last night. The police are still in possession of the youth's wallet and money, papers, etc., and F. W. Rutherford still has in his possession the suit case which the boy brought from Ireland. As soon as the wanderer has been definitely settled, they have agreed to send the articles to him.

That [illegible]inson had not taken his own life was believed by the majority of residents of the immediate district, since his wallet was found on a stone overgrown with moss and about a quarter mile from the river. His tracks in the soft ground led away from and not toward the stream. The belief that the missing boy might be lost in the vicinity was not entirely discarded since he had not been dressed for travelling. He wore a lightweight suit without top coat of any description. He was also collarless, and when last seen was walking at a smart pace along the road known as the town line in a northerly direction.

The long chance that the young Irishman might have met with foul play by some transient persons, was not seriously entertained by many. The general opinion seemed to be that the lad was not very far distant and would be heard from sooner or later.

The person who was able to throw the most light on the subject was also a young Irishman, William McCarron, who is employed by Thomas Reid, Seymour farmer. McCarron said he had met Malcolmson during their visits to the immigration offices in Belfast, Ireland, and had seen him frequently during their voyage across the ocean. They had landed at Quebec City and made the remainder of the journey by rail, arriving in Bonarlaw on Tuesday, May 22nd. That night, Mr. Kennedy, Montreal immigration official, visited them and saw that they were in comfortable quarters. The same night, Malcolmson made his departure. He was a boy of nervous disposition and was described as fidgety. He had had some experience as a boxer and was quick to bring his fists into action. McCarron said he would not argue, but would fight before his tongue got going. He was not in the habit of using liquor and smoked cigarettes, but not a pipe. Asked if he were inclined to take an interest in the fair sex, McCarron replied: "Well, he did on the ship."

That the disappearance was not the result of a momentary impulse, was shown when McCarron said Malcolmson had been told by his mother before leaving Ireland that if he could not get away with his "Case," to leave it. The case referred to was his travelling bag. It appears that Malcolmson had originally left Ireland with the intention of coming to his aunt who, he said, resided in Toronto. The address left was Mrs. Hollinger, 206 Coleridge avenue, Toronto, P. 13. A second address was that of a companion of the voyage, R. Telford, 194 York Road, Guelph. At first it was thought that this might have some bearing on the case.

Before leaving, McCarron said Malcolmson tried to persuade him to go along too, saying he thought they would do better together. He also gave as the reason for his running away that he did not want to be separated from McCarron. This was bound to happen since he was to be taken to work for a farmer in Seymour West. At first McCarron thought favorably of the scheme, but later decided to remain and finish his contract. He would then be free to roam as far as he was able. How Malcolmson would fare, he did not know, but thought he would have a

WAR MEMORIAL BRONZE ON WAY

Civic Holiday, Aug. 6, Suggested as the Date For Unveiling.

CANVASS PLANNED.

Peterborough's War Memorial committee met in the Council Chambers last night, under the chairmanship of His Honor Judge Huycke. The financial outlook was discussed by the chairman of the finance committee, Mayor Denne, and suggestions were made as to the people who should be invited as guests to the unveiling ceremony.

The bronze for the memorial is believed to be on the way here across the Atlantic, and it is hoped that the memorial will be completed some time during the month of July. All the names of the soldiers who gave their lives in the Great War will be enscribed on the slabs, omitting the rank, but not the decorations. It is being discussed with Mr. Allward, the sculptor, the advisability of leaving a space for those who have returned but are permanently disabled as a result of the war, so that when they pass away their names may be added also. The committee is anxious to get every name, and hence is checking and re-checking the lists and will be glad to hear from any who have yet names to add.

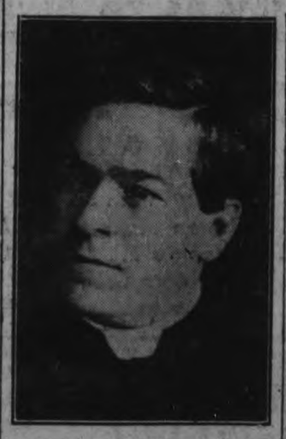
Mayos Denne, in discussing the financing of the memorial, said that at present $24,000 was available, which included the $5,000 grant from the city and that between $8,000 and $10,000 would have to be collected. He wished to be relieved of the chairmanship of the committee, as he felt he had too much to do; so George A. Macdonald was unanimously appointed chairman in his place.

The Captain Edward Brown Memorial is to be moved to another position, according to Mayor Denne, and the city will place a drinking fountain in its place. His Worship said he had been in conversation with Stewart Brown, one of the few relatives of the deceased officer in this locality, and Mr. Brown had expressed himself quite willing to have the memorial moved to another place in the park.

A canvass will in all probability be made during the week of June 20, but it was left with the finance committee to make plans for the raising of the money. It was felt that Dominion Day would be a very suitable date to unveil the memorial, but fear was expressed that it not be completed by that date. August 4th was then suggested, but this date was found to fall on Saturday, so then August 6th, Civic Holiday, was thought of. Finally it was left with the committee to make arrangements for the ceremony. Judge Huycke made a few suggestions as to those who should be invited, and included Lord and Lady Willingdon, the Minister of Militia, Canon Scott of Quebec, Sir Arthur Currie and Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of Ontario. A committee composed of the Mayor, Judge Huycke, Mrs. Harstone, Mrs. Kenner, and W. G. Morrow, was appointed to frame a program for the unveiling of the memorial.

Mr. Macdonald will call his committee together shortly to organize for the canvas for the amount required from individual citizens, which is small as compared with the total cost of the memorial which, when erected, will be one of the finest in the province.

CONFERENCE PRESIDENT.



SMITHS FALLS, Ont., May 31.—(Canadian Press.)—Rev. James Rollins, of Renfrew, formerly of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, was elected president of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada at to-day's meeting here.

Messages Intercepted By Radio Station Indicated That Crew of Dirigible Safe

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 31 (Associated Press). — Three wireless messages, purportedly from the Citta Di Milano, mother ship of the Italian Arctic expedition, were intercepted by the naval radio station here yesterday. One of the messages was signed "Nobile" and seemed to indicate that the crew of the dirigible was safe.

The message was interpreted as follows:

"Presid, Rome:

"We give thanks to God all are well. Your telegram is a great relief to our minds. (Signed) Nobile."

One of the other messages was addressed to Marguerita Nobile, wife of the explorer, at Torino, Italy. It was translated as follows:

"Returned to King's Bay. We have waited in vain for your telegrams. (Signed) Amadeo."

The third message apparently was garbled, but was interpreted as follows:

"Failing news, we still had hope to-day."

It was thought this was a portion of the message which was signed Nobile. Operators at the naval radio station said they were sure the messages had been transmitted by the Citta Di Milano, from the Citta Di Milano, but not as indicating the ship had had any contact with the lost dirigible. Cable despatches from King's Bay declared on her return there she declared she found no trace of the Italia.

The intercepted messages apparently referred to matters of interest to Mrs. Nobile, and her brother-in-law, it was thought.

BAPTISTS CLOSE CONVENTION AFTER SUCCESSFUL MEETINGS

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Work in Various Mission Fields Taken Up During Yesterday's Sessions.

The Peterborough Baptist Association continued its annual meetings yesterday in the Gilmour Memorial Church. After the devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. W. L. Ikner of Warsaw, the Moderator, Rev. J. N. H. Norton, gave his Moderator's address, which was entitled "High Priced Jewels," based on the merchant seeking goodly pearls. He went on to show that the pearl of great price was not social standing, nor political eminence, nor educational advantage, but spirituality of life, holiness of character, which resulted in honesty of purpose and fair dealing between man and man. For these things we had to pay the price and the cost of higher living had gone up.

He closed by urging all to get Christ's standard of values and to learn to estimate the higher things of life from His standpoint.

The introduction of new pastors was the duty that fell to the lot of Rev. L. H. Coles. In a brief speech he intimated that some of them were already well known. The new men were Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, Murray street; Rev. J. L. Harton, Park street; Rev. W. L. Ikner, Warsaw, and Rev. P. D. Augustine of Sydney. Mr. Augustine replied for himself and the others.

The various committees were then appointed. W. C. Senior of Toronto gave an address on the challenge of Home Missions. He made known some of the home mission activities and said that there were two major activities—extension and conserving. "We have to conserve what we have already got and then we have to extend," he said.

Rev. C. F. McLeod, Stouffville, spoke on ministerial superannuation. The new officers were then nominated: R. C. Murray, Moderator; Rev. T. C. Meldrum, Vice Moderator; Rev. J. L. Harton, Clerk.

Christian Education was the theme of Rev. C. R. Duncan, M.A., of McMaster University. He considered this to be of primary importance, as no good work could be done without the trained leaders, which Christian education gave them.

Dr. C. C. McLaurin spoke in the interests of Western Missions and said there was an unparalleled opportunity of which they could not take advantage owing to lack of funds.

Rev. J. R. Webb of Kitchener presented the interests of the Grand Linge Mission in an eloquent and interesting speech.

W. C. Senior addressed the delegates on the life of the churches.

Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe sang a solo which was very well received.

After tea a number of the delegates drove in cars down through the Chemong Park and then over the floating bridge and back again.

At the evening session, Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe led a song service, after which Rev. J. L. Harton conducted devotional services.

Rev. G. R. Welch, B.A., spoke in the interests of the American Baptist Publication Society.

Murray Street Quartette sang, to the great delight of a capacity audience.

The closing address was delivered by W. C. Senior, who spoke on "Jesus' Thoughts of Life."

The Young People from Port Hope were out in great numbers and won the pennant for having the largest delegation of any society present.

The Vice Moderator, Rev. T. E. Meldrum of Port Hope, who was chairman for the evening, called upon the ex-Moderator to pronounce the Benediction, which brought to a close one of the most interesting and successful conventions in the history of the association.

Canadian Premier Has New Calling

OTTAWA, Ont., May 31.—(Canadian Press.)—Premier King has a new mission. The latest request is that he shall appoint himself rain maker extraordinary for Saskatchewan.

"We have a wonderful seeding time and everything is now in the ground in good shape," runs a letter from Saskatchewan which Senator Laird read in the Senate yesterday. "I wish you would draw the attention of the Prime Minister to the desirability of arranging for a copious supply of rain each week for the next three weeks, and we will guarantee to deliver the greatest crop Western Canada has ever produced." Senator Laird expressed the hope that the Prime Minister would see that a supply of rain was delivered in strict time and in ample quantity.

Senator Dandurand, Government leader, was somewhat doubtful. "It may be somewhat difficult," he said, "for the Prime Minister and his colleagues to bring about that state of things because they are smiling rather than weeping."

CHANG PLANS TO WITHDRAW

Some of His Soldiers Are Already On Way From Peking to Mukden.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED.

TOKIO, May 31.— (Canadian Press.) — Information reached the Japanese military headquarters today that Chang Tso-Lin, northern dictator and decided to withdraw from Peking. In accordance with this resolve a portion of the northern troops were already proceeding to Mukden, Manchuria.

The Japanese military authorities expect that the Nationalist forces would occupy Peking very soon.

The opinion was expressed in well informed circles in Tokio that the southern troops were not likely to penetrate north beyond the great wall. The only danger, therefore, would be the creation of disturbance by demoralized retreating northern forces. Protective measures already have been undertaken and these were considered sufficient for the safety of foreigners.

Will Defend Tientsin.

LONDON, May 31. — (Canadian Press.)— Although the Nationalists in their drive on Peking may skirt the treaty port of Tienstin entirely, the position of this port was said in Reuter's despatches from Shanghai to have given rise to great anxiety. A precautionary 10-mile defense line of British, French, Japanese, Italian and United States' forces was planned. This line is protected by marshy ground in many places and was divided into a series of posts.

HERO'S WIDOW CENTENARIAN

Mrs. George Silkre, widow of a hero of the American Civil War, and the Franco-Prussian War, recently passed her 101st birthday. With her husband she hawked their wares, hauled by donkey cart, through parts of Scotland for 40 years until Silker died in Ayr during the World War at the age of 97. The pair were mentioned in Andrew McCormick's book, "The Tinkler Gypsies," although neither was a tinkler or a gypsy, but Silker could speak gypsy and five other tongues.

BREWERY READY FOR OPERATION

Plant Has Been Inspected and Passed By Dominion Government.

WELL EQUIPPED.

With the old building and premises of the Calcutt Brewery completely renovated and enlarged, the Peterborough Brewing Company is soon to begin operations in this city as one of the best equipped and efficient plants of its kind. This has been accomplished under the direction of George C. Weidenmayer, of Newark, N.J., and Harold E. Cook, now residents of this city, the latter, when interviewed by The Examiner, courteously leading a "tour of inspection" about the plant, the while explaining features of each department, their purposes and capacities.

Description of the many changes that have been made would be a story in itself but, briefly, the visitor notes some twenty-two large cedar fermenting tanks and storage casks of oak, each with a capacity of 125 barrels. Contributing to the filling of these is solid copper brewing equipment, with mash tubs weighing approximately ten tons. Other interesting details of the new plant are:

Fifty bales of hops, each weighing 200 pounds, have been secured from Germany and New York State, and malt, of best quality, secured from Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

In speaking to The Examiner, Mr. Cook gave out many sidelights on the new organization. With a personnel comprising Canadian and American business men and capital of both, it was granted its license to commence business in Peterborough on May 30, having met the requirements of the Canadian Government in the rehabilitation of the Calcutt plant.

"I am grateful to those who have given the company their support and encouragement, and also to those who have invested their funds in the company," said he. "We hope to gather further support through our ability to manufacture a good product. It will be the aim of our brewmaster, Mr. Wiedenmayer, and other members of the company, to see that the product will be better than any other on the Canadian market. We also recognize that the Calcutt brand bore a fine reputation, which we consider our duty to exceed in quality [illegible] ancial success but have in mind first, however, quality of the product must be the basis of this ambition. We have been fortunate in securing the services of A. H. Lyons, who for some years has been associated with the Taylor Bate Brewery at St. Catharines in their export department. Mr. Lyons will take over his duties this Monday. Improvements will be made as we go along. In view of a minimum of expense, our appraised value is in excess of capital expenditures.

"We are fortunate in having two wells of a fine quality of water in the brewery. On analysis this water has proven of an unusual standard and quality.

"Work on the plant has taken several months. It has been difficult to secure the proper equipment owing to the closing down of breweries in the United States, where equipment on the advent of the Prohibition Act was sold for junk and companies manufacturing brewery equipment were forced out of business.

"It is estimated that the influx of American tourists this summer will run into the hundreds of thousands. This means prosperity for the country and merchants in business. Canadian hospitality to our friends across the border makes it difficult to hold the excursionist on his own territory. Canada is entering an era of prosperity. The Province of Quebec hereto unmolested from the standpoint of competition is now beginning to advertise its beauties and advantages, realizing that its sister province borders for a considerable distance on the American frontier, and naturally will capture the American tourist traffic. This year should be the beginning of many great years for Canada. In other words, the Dominion is coming into its own. American capital is seeking opportunity here and the people from the United States are beginning to realize what we have to offer.

"It is the ambition of our brewmaster to produce a product along the lines and quality of the famous Bass ale, and to that end will put his many years' experience behind this effort. Mr. Wiedenmayer realizes that this is a real task, recognizing that the Bass product is the best on the market to-day, and has been for some years. We hope to enjoy a wide distribution of our product and the support and patronage of the people of Peterborough."

HEARINGS ARE CONCLUDED IN IMMIGRATION INQUIRY

Meeting of Committee Will Be Held in Private To-day.

PREPARE REPORT.

OTTAWA, May 31. — (Canadian Press.)—The parliamentary immigration inquiry concluded the hearing of evidence late yesterday afternoon. A meeting of the sub-committee appointed to draft a report was held in camera later yesterday, and a further meeting of the committee as a whole will be held in private this morning with a view to assisting the sub-committee in preparation of the report.

W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, was on the stand all afternoon. Mr. Egan detailed the work of the women's division of the department in conjunction with hostels located in the different provinces. A brief outline of immigration publicity activities in the British Isles some States of the United States and certain countries of Northwestern Europe was given by Mr. Egan in the course of his testimony.

Hostels Located.

Hostels were located at Halifax, Saint John, N.B., Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver and other points, Mr. Egan stated. The hostels were supported by Federal grants with provincial aid in some instances.

"These hostels serve as clearing houses and homes," Mr. Egan stated. "If the newcomer has difficulties with her employer, the hostels serve as a means of finding new domestic positions. If a woman immigrant happens to be in town for a day or two, she may use the hostel as a club house." Local committees were in charge of the various hostels.

The publicity activities of the Department of Immigration were touched upon by Mr. Egan.

Publicity activities were carried on in countries likely to supply the proper type of settlers, Mr. Egan stated. The chief publicity work was conducted in the British Isles, some states in the United States and certain countries of North-Western Europe. At the suggestion of Chairman W. F. Kay, the memorandum of Mr. Egan on the Department's publicity work was placed on record for study without being read in full.

Questioned by W. T. Lucas (U.F.A., Camrose), Mr. Egan stated that newcomers must be literate, although there were exceptions in some cases.

"Considering the fact that our immigration policy has been a failure, can you give us any light on how to improve the situation?" questioned Dr. Peter McGibbon (Conservative, Muskoka).

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, disagreed that the immigration policy was a failure. Dr. McGibbon retorted that when the previous administration was in power 400,000 immigrants entered Canada in one year.

Mr. Egan, replying to Dr. McGibbon's question, said he was not prepared to answer a general question of this nature concerning a matter of Government policy.

Mr. Stewart supported the stand of the witness as a civil servant, and Dr. McGibbon said in the circumstances he would not press his question.

CHEMONG FOLKS ENJOY ELECTRIC LIGHT SYSTEM

Work Pushed Vigorously For Six Weeks is Brought to Conclusion.

DANCE MARKS OPENING.

People of Park, Village and Surrounding District Celebrate Coming of Power.

Residents of Chemong and Bridgenorth for the first time enjoyed electric light last night. Work on the power line from Peterborough to that village was commenced on April 16, when the first pole was erected, and since then it was pushed ahead with such vigor that in six weeks the electricity has been turned on and the residents able to use the great white power. The erection of this line is the largest undertaking the local commission has yet undertaken in the rural section of Peterborough and much of the credit of the rapidity that the work was done with goes to Harry Beatty, the superintendent of the Utilities Commission. Mr. Beatty made the erecting of this line [illegible] every detail, so that it is to-day one of the most complete rural lines in Ontario.

On Tuesday night the opening ceremonies were performed at Chemong Pavilion, when hundreds of people from this city and from the Township of Smith gathered for the big dance that was being staged in honor of the occasion.

In these opening ceremonies Harry Beatty again had given a great deal of work and made extensive preparations. The park was lighted with various colored lights and added to this large flood lights were installed which made it as bright as in daytime.

The pavilion was very artistically decorated with bunting and colored lights.

At the turning on of the electricity, short addresses were given by J. A. Middleton, Reeve of Smith, Gordon Matthews, chairman of the Utilities Commission, and Roland Denne, Mayor of Peterborough. Everyone commended Mr. Beatty for the way he had expedited the work, and all hoped that those who had the opportunity of being served with the electricity would take full advantage of it, for it is a utility that brings both pleasure and comfort and lightens a great many works, and is really another link that unites the city with the country people.

Hundreds enjoyed themselves at the big dance that was held in the Pavilion. The orchestra did not stint themselves one bit with the music, and the dances were long and enjoyed by all.

Peterborough City Council was well represented at the noted occasion, and there were present from Toronto S. Mulholland and E. Jones from the head office of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission.

In the near future other rural lines out of this city will probably be extended, especially out the Provincial Highway. Many of the cottages at Chemong have already been wired, and when the summer residents move out, they will no longer need candles and lamps to give light.

CANADIAN MOTORIST WRITES OF THIS CITY

Account Given in Current Issue of Annual Meeting of Local Club.

Canadian Motorist of May issue, carries an interesting article under the caption "Stapells Chief Speaker at Peterborough Club Meet" — an article in which The Examiner is given pleasing credit for its co-operation in furthering the good work of the Peterborough Automobile Club and the Ontario Motor League, and quotations are made from two of its editorials which appeared about the time of the annual meeting of the Peterborough club.

The Motorist magazine gives a comprehensive account of this meeting, dealing particularly with the address of the President of the O. M. L., Mr. Stapells.

200 STUDENTS STORM POLICE

Hurl Bricks and Old Fruit at Police Who Guard Their Headquarters.

SIX ARRESTED.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 31.—(Canadian Press).— Two hundred Yale students, hurling bricks and old fruit, stormed police headquarters yesterday in an effort to rescue six of their comrades who had been arrested but they were unable to break through the ranks of fifty policemen massed before entrance. The attack on headquarters cames as a spectacular climax to one of the worst student riots since the three day battle between "town and gown" in 1919. Trouble started when the students, annoyed by a noise made by a sewer eductor, hurled bottles from their windows. They followed with a barrage from the campus resulting in arrest of six of their number.

NATIONALISTS WARN JAPAN

Nanking Bids Tokio To Keep Hands Off in Manchurian Issue.

TRY TO KEEP ORDER.

SHANGHAI, May 31.—The May 18 memorandum of the Japanese Government advising both the Peking and Nanking Governments of China that Tokio is ready to defend its interests in Manchuria, which has been construed by the Chinese as indicating a probable intention to establish a protectorate there, elicited a reply today from the Nationalist Government.

In a note handed to the Japanese Consul General for transmission to Tokio, Nanking warns Japan that any move of the Japanese to "adopt appropriate measures for the maintenance of peace and order in the three Eastern Provinces" will be considered "interference in China's domestic affairs and a flagrant violation of the principle of respect for territorial sovereignty."

The note expresses resentment of Japan's intimation that the Chinese are unable to handle the situation in Manchuria, asserting that "the Nationalist Government will take proper measures for the maintenance of order, so that both Chinese and foreigners will enjoy full protection," and that "this responsibility rests solely with the Nationalist Government."

Text of the Nanking Note to Tokio.

The text of the Nationalist Government's note is as follows:

"The Nationalist Government has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the memorandum of May 18 from the Imperial Japanese Government and has taken note of it.

"With a view to alleviating the sufferings of the Chinese people, it has undertaken the task of political reconstruction in order to attain the permanent peace and unification of the country, secure safety and prosperity to themselves and enhance the happiness of foreign nationals in China.

"The military activities in which the Nationalist Government has been constrained to engage for the realization of the above ends have reached their last stage. The Nationalist Government is convinced that within the shortest period the peace and unification of China will be realized and it will naturally give the most careful attention to and make the proper arrangements for the protection of life and property in the war area, before as well as during military engagements.

"The Nationalist Government, in view of the commercial importance of the three Eastern Provinces and the large number of foreign nationals resident in them, will take proper and satisfactory measures for the maintenance of peace and order, so that both Chinese and foreigners may enjoy full protection. This responsibility rests solely with the Nationalist Government.

Spinsters' Convention.

HAVELOCK, May 31.—The Belmont Women's Institute gave a very successful presentation of the uproarious funny "Spinsters' Convention," on Friday evening last at the Belmont Hall.

The officers believed the men were negroes.

A report that Wilson's body had been found hanging to a tree south of Slater proved unfounded.

INDIAN GAVE US MAPLE SYRUP

The early settlers in Canada from the Old Land learned from the Indians the art of maple sugar making, and indeed folowed for many years their crude methods until modern equipment replaced the old. As a matter of fact, until about 30 years ago there was little improvement on primitive Indian methods.

PETHERICK'S CORNERS

Following the same line of thought as begun on Mother's Day, continued with an address to the men last Sunday, the Rev. C. D. Daniel on Sunday evening spoke to Zion congregation upon the subject of the family. He took as a text verses of Scripture relating to the use of the family altar as a means of promoting religious influence in the home. Mr. Daniel hoped that more families would adopt family worship to provide the best way of showing the young lives within the home the right way of life, and safeguarding them against temptation as they go out into the world.

A majority of the families in the community were represented at the service which was one of interest and importance to every person. The Junior choir assisted in the service of song.

WARSAW BAPTIST

WARSAW, May 31.—The Rev. Mr. Boyd, pastor of Dovercourt Baptist Church, Toronto, preached the Anniversary sermon in Warsaw Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The church was well filled, and was prettily decorated with house-plants, apple blossoms and trilliums.

The hymns chosen were "Joy To The World," "Oh God, our Help," and "For He is Sweeter."

The special music was hymn with chorus, "Working Together," by four young girls, each in turn singing a verse, and all singing the chorus. The Rev. Mr. Eikenaar conducted the opening and closing exercises, while Mr. Boyd read the lesson from Isaiah, the sixth chapter, which he used as the text with the subject, "The Vision We Need." Some of his points were that all great chapters of life have been made possible, because someone had a vision. Vision is absolutely necessary. "Where there is no vision the people perish." Among examples of men of vision were David Livingston, who went to Africa because he had a great vision of the possibilities there. Effectual work can be done only where there is a great, consuming vision. The young man came to Christ and was told to sell all he had and give to the poor. He did not seem to have the vision to do it; he did not like to part with his wealth. Wealth in the hands of a person with vision is a great good, otherwise a curse. No sacrifice is too great where love is, and there must be faith. In Isaiah's vision he saw God, Himself, divine grace, and service. Many never have a vision of God until they die—to this earth. There can be no vision if one is harboring sin and wrong.

Isaiah had vision in the temple. Being in the temple was an ordinary thing, but it became extraordinary, for he waited upon the Lord. There is so much profaning of the Lord's Day, so much failure to attend church, so much amusement, so little thought given to serious things, that there can be no vision. Many live to-day as though there were no Jesus. Two attributes of God are holiness and omnipotence. To have a vision of God there must be holiness; there can be no sin in his presence. We worship this holy God who is omnipotent. Where God is there is harmony. People make discord. Do you believe that the Lord is God? There always are sceptics and infidels. God has been pleased to reveal Himself to the believing heart, the unbeliever cannot know God. The vision of God gave Isaiah a vision of his own great weakness, so that he cried out "woe is me." Sin brings sorrow and grief and desolation. Isaiah may have been a blasphemer, that the angel touched his lips with the live coal. All have some faults, and it is not right to point the finger of scorn at a neighbor; we should look at our own hearts then ask God, for Jesus' sake, to forgive, and He will, and there will be a great thrill. Then, after Isaiah had seen the vision and it was to permeate his after life. God asked "Whom shall I send?" and Isaiah was able to answer, oh, so gladly—"Here am I, send me."

Social service, and like works are necessary, but secondary. The work of the church is to witness, not to argue, simply witness. We can live so gloriously that our lives witness for God, wherever we are. We can create a capacity of suffering for others. Jesus died for others, and is never satisfied if we do not tell of His love. We may have a vision and disobey it, or forget it, but so much the worse for us if we do.

At the close was a strong plea that as Christ had done so much for us, can we not live for Him, and for others. Love demands all.

There will be a prayer-service in the Baptist Church on Wednesday evening.

THE CHEMONG POWER LINE.

The celebration on Tuesday night that marked the first turning on of Hydro power at Chemong Park was justified, inasmuch as the occasion signalized the completion of the most extensive rural power service radiating from Peterborough.

The Chemong Park line serves not only the summer cottagers on that line, but provides service for Bridgenorth citizens and for farmers along the route.

Urban citizens who have long enjoyed the advantages of hydro-electric power will be glad to learn that similar privileges are being extended to the people of the country, and will join in the hope that before long many such power lines will be found in Peterborough County.

The attendance on Tuesday's celebration indicated that the farmers, cottagers and city folks alike appreciated the importance of the occasion.

THE QUOTA SYSTEM.

Australia has adopted as a precaution against being flooded by foreign immigration the quota system, which many Canadians believe should also be put into effect in this country, in view of the fact that new arrivals from foreign lands are outnumbering the British settlers.

Premier Bruce has announced that henceforth his Commonwealth will follow a plan of definite restriction, limiting the immigration from any foreign country to less than one-half the number from that country entering Australia the preceeding year.

Australia, determined to remain British, is taking no chances in its immigration policy, and a very large number of people in this country would be delighted to learn that there was an immediate prospect of Canada adopting a similar safeguard.

Recent figures as to Canadian immigration give real cause to worry in this respect, inasmuch as the number of foreign settlers reaching the Western Provinces is far in excess of the British arrivals there, and that condition cannot continue indefinitely without setting up a very serious problem.

Many of these foreign immigrants make good citizens, but to assimilate and Canadianize such large numbers without sufficient leavening of new Britishers in the West looms up as a formidable task.

A VETERAN RETIRES.

J. J. Hartley, who has retired from the presidency of the West Peterborough Liberal Association after a continuous tenure of the office for twenty-four years, has set an example in the field of useful service that might well be followed by others.

The term "useful service" is used advisedly, inasmuch as under the party system of politics by which the affairs of this country are governed those who take an active part in the political arena are helping to provide the machinery by which the will of the people can be attested and thus are serving a useful public service.

Through lean, as well as through prosperous years, Mr. Hartley has been at the head of his party organization in Peterborough.

No fair weather Liberal is the retiring president; his record of service has been marked by a steadfast faith in the principles espoused by his party, and by a desire to devote his time and energy toward furthering its interests.

But with all, although an ardent party man, Mr. Hartley has never been bitter or unfair; he has always been able to differ with others politically without making a personal quarrel out of the disagreement and to realize that the views of others should be respected.

The result is that this veteran of politics in Peterborough retires from the front line holding the respect of political foe as well as political friend.

In its new president, Dr. J. J. Craig, the Liberal Association has been successful in securing the leadership of a citizen whose ability, energy and initiative have been demonstrated in many fields of public service. The choice, not only in Liberal circles but generally, will be viewed as a wise one. Dr. Craig's qualities have been frequently proved in many activities for the public good.

THE MENACE OF POISON GAS.

(From the New York World.)

Phosgene gas, manufactured for commercial purposes, apparently under permission from the League of Nations, escaped from its container in the outskirts of Hamburg, Germany. As a result eleven people were killed and hundreds went to the hospitals in the agonizing grip of the poison, and some of these may die. A fortunate slant of wind kept the gas out of the heart of Hamburg. An equally fortunate rainfall dissipated the gas after a time, making it comparatively harmless. A much more terrible outcome might well have been feared from this storage of a deadly poison near a city of more than a million souls.

What was inevitably the first thought of every person old enough to read these facts in a newspaper? The inescapable thought of what the "next war" might mean, with fleets of airplanes seeking to rain down not a single container of poison gas but hundreds of them upon great cities, to "break down the resistance" of enemy nations. No more striking argument could be devised by the mind of man than the danger Hamburg so narrowly escaped to hammer home the lesson that war is the enemy of the race; war provocatives the deadliest psychological menace of the nations.

As the war drew to a close the United States was prepared for the manufacture of war gas upon a greater scale than any other nation. It is not likely that the War Department has lost the art. How much of this deadly stuff is there in the country? How much, if any, is stored in dangerous proximity to great cities? To what industrial uses are such gases put? For all that the people can know of these matters, we may be unwittingly inviting some catastrophe to which Hamburg's disaster would be no more than a curtain-raiser. It is well to be warned in time.

The question at Ottawa just now seems to be, "Permits, permits; who got the permits?"

PROTECT THE PEOPLE.

The controversy over the Bell Telephone Company bill in the House of Commons is not a complicated argument, and the element of mystery enters into it only through a failure on the part of the public to understand why the fight for the rights of the people should be left to the rank and file in the House, and why the front benchers of the two major parties should be eager to push through the bill without providing safeguards in the public interest.

The bill itself would authorize the Bell Telephone Company to increase its capitalization from $75,000,000 to $150,000,000.

It is possible that such an increase can be justified—but that is not the point just now.

What is of moment is that this bill should not be adopted until the people can be satisfied that this public utility monopoly has put its cards on the table.

Unfortunately, one safeguard that would have been of service was discarded when the House refused to accept an amendment that would have enabled the public to purchase the new stock to be issued—which is obviously designed for a melon-cutting.

There are still two opportunities to protect the public: one offered by the Geary bill, which would authorize the Railway Commission to inquire into the affairs of the Bell's subsidiary, the Northern Electric Company, and the other an amendment to the Bell Telephone bill, proposed by F. G. Sanderson, Liberal member for South Perth, which would also give the Railway Commission power to investigate the Northern Electric Company, but would limit the inquiry to the business between the two companies.

The private members of the House who are fighting the people's battle in this matter should get together and decide whether or not the Sanderson amendment would be sufficient to bring out the required information, and if the answer is favorable, to support it wholeheartedly.

Nothing that is unfair to the Bell Telephone Company is being asked.

If the relations between the Bell and its subsidiary are legitimate and honest both companies should welcome an investigation; if these relations cannot stand the light of day there will be emphatic opposition on the part of the telephone-users of this country to sanction being given to something that may means revenues diverted with the expense met by the people who pay the telephone bills.

POLITICIANS AND THE PRESS.

Last week spokesmen of all three political parties vied with one another in denouncing press comments on the conduct of the immigration inquiry. But if there was practical unanimity among politicians that the editorial criticisms in question were unfair, there is subsequently revealed in the newspapers no less general agreement that the press has a real duty to perform in such situations, and a responsibility no less weighty than that of politicians.

The circumstances of the case in question will be recalled. The Globe, and later the Ottawa Citizen, had voiced the popular impression as to the significant and strange lack of vigor in the investigation of the special immigration permit question. It was undeniable that, although the committee had been sitting many weeks, and although there had long been common talk as to laxity, or worse, in the issuing of such permits, the committee had done practically nothing to establish the simple facts which would have proved or dispelled these rumors.

In spite of that neglect the committee as a whole seems to have bitterly resented the Globe's conclusion that "unless it shows greater zeal in getting significant information the immigration permit problem should be placed before a Royal Commission."

Mr. Young, the Liberal member for Saskatoon, would have haled the outspoken editors before the committee; the stalwart Conservative, Dr. Edwards himself, accused the press of "trying to outdo the movies in sensational stuff"; the arch-Progressive Mr. Coote sarcastically remarked that: "In my opinion, if this country could be governed by newspapermen we would have a perfect State"; while the Hon. Charles Stewart became, if not profane, then at least prayerful, saying: "If anybody has any charges to make, for God's sake let him make them, and this committee will investigate them."

This last request was remarkable, perhaps, in view of the fact that the editorial criticism had been inspired because of the failure to answer the primary question: How many special permits have been issued in recent years? To whom? And at whose request and authority?

The Stratford Beacon-Herald pertinently remarks with regard to the question:

> The members of the committee, who are not to blame themselves for the non-production of records if they do not exist, are not helping matters by attacking newspapers. The papers are simply pointing a finger at what looks to be a loose place in the matter of keeping records, and they are asking why these documents are not brought into court.

The Peterborough Examiner sums up the whole question of the comparative responsibilities of politicians and press with these paragraphs:

> Apparently some politicians have not yet realized that, with the departure of most of the party organs, newspapers in this country have entered upon a new field of usefulness and responsibility, and are alive to their duty of criticizing what they consider to be detrimental to the interest of the people, no matter what party corns may be trodden upon in the process.
>
> The newspapers did not originate the charges that have been made in regard to immigration permits, but they have a right to demand that such charges should be thoroughly ventilated, and politicians who show a willingness to go thoroughly into the matter need have no fear of criticism.

The Globe can add little to the above. It is true that Parliamentarians have a highly important duty to perform as servants of the public. Common decency demands that the press make allowance for the real difficulties that beset the political path, and add nothing unnecessary to the heavy burdens already carried by statesmen. At the same time, the first responsibility of the responsible press is to the public. Time has shown that there is no public safeguard, not even a free Parliament, of greater importance than a free press. When Bolsheviki or Fascists overthrow Governments they first cow armed resistance, then they muzzle the press. A free press is not a rival of a free Parliament: it guarantees it.—The Globe.

Had Dandruff And Pimples 2 Years Cuticura Healed

"I was troubled for two years with dandruff and pimples. The pimples were scattered over my face, neck and head. They were hard, large and red, and festered and scaled over. They itched and burned badly, and when I scratched, it caused them to spread. The dandruff affected the growth of my hair, and it fell out badly. I lost a lot of sleep on account of the trouble.

The Question Box

J. McC. (Hastings) Q.—When was the Roman Catholic Church in Hastings built, and who was first in charge?

A.—The church was built in 1865 and was dedicated to Our Lady of Mount Carmel on October 15, 1865. Rev. Fr. Quirk was then in charge of the parish. He was appointed in 1862 and died in June 1895, being buried near the church. F. Quirk also inaugurated the Separate School. While he was the pastor in charge at the time of the building of the church, he was not the first Catholic priest to minister in Hastings. While the village was still called "Crook's Rapids," in 1847, Rev. Fr. Higgins became resident pastor, including in his parish Campbellford, Norwood and Warkworth. His successor, Rev. Fr. Farrelly, built a Presbytery.

A.—Probably as correct as crossword puzzle definitions usually are. The Emu is the second-largest bird now found, the largest being the ostrich, which it somewhat resembles. The Emu has, however, very rudimentary wings, and depends entirely upon its swiftness as a runner to escape from its foes. The Emu, although not webfooted, can swim well. The male, which is smaller in size than the female, incubates the eggs. The name is probably from the Portuguese, ema, ostrich.

E.M. Q.—In a report in The Examiner a few days ago you mentioned "electrons." Please describe this.

A.—"Electron" is the name given by Johnstone Stoney in 1891 to the smallest quantity of electricity that can exist by itself or can be transferred from one atom of matter to another. Electricity is supposed to consist of enormous quantities of such atomic particles, all of equal dimensions. The diameter of a molecule of hydrogen is perhaps 1-42,000,000th part of an inch, but it is 140,000 times as big as an electron.

GOD'S MINUTE

Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief corner stone; In Whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord; In Whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit.—Ephes. 2:19-22.

Dear Father, the privileges are so exceedingly great that we can hardly conceive that they are ours—to come to Thee, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, at any time and any place, and commandingly invited to ask and seek and knock, with the Divine assurance that everyone that asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth, and to him that knocked it shall be opened—for these unspeakable privileges, dear Father, we thank Thee. The day is before us, and soon it will be behind us forever; only this once can we live through it.

O Father, cleanse us of all sin with the blood of the Lamb, and occupy our bodies, making them temples of of the Holy Ghost. Use us so that we shall not leave one thing undone that we should do, nor do one thing we should leave undone. Keep us happy in Thee. Give us a faith that will not waver, worry nor whine, nor wrangle, but a faith that will wait, watch, work, wrestle, and always win. Amen.

JUNIOR COLLEGES WANTED

As a relief to the crowded universities in the Philippines, junior colleges are being proposed. Eight thousand students are expected to enroll in the state university this year, and with the present equipment and available space, authorities say that the University of the Philippines will be unable to accommodate them. Junior colleges would not only help this situation, but would also give educational facilities in other parts of the islands that do not now have such advantages, they say.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., May 31 (Canadian Press). — A feature of the Montreal grain trade yesterday was the increased demand from exporters and a moderate amount of business was done in No. 2 Northern wheat at 12½c per bushel over the Winnipeg May option, and in No. 3 Northern at 3½c per bushel over, c.i.f. Montreal, while New York exporters bought No. 3 Canadian Western barley at $1.00 per bushel, c.i.f. Montreal.

The trade in car lots of oats was quiet owing to the somewhat limited demand from country buyers, but the tone of the market was about steady.

In sympathy with the continued weakness in the Winnipeg cash wheat situation, the domestic market for spring wheat grades of flour was again weak and prices scored another decline of ten cents per barrel. The market was quiet. A steady feeling prevailed in the market for winter wheat flour and prices were unchanged with a small trade passing.

Owing to the absence of any demand from United States buyers for millfeed at present and the fact that orders from local and country buyers were chiefly for small lots, the undertone to the market was easier, but no actual change in prices was announced. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was limited, but values were unchanged.

There was no actual change in the local egg market, prices being about steady under a fair demand for supplies. There was some trading in Ontario fresh extras in a wholesale way on the basis of 33c per dozen, f.o.b. shipping points. The undertone to the potato market continued easy and a lower level is anticipated in the near future owing to the increased selling pressure on the part of country shippers. There was a steady demand for supplies for local consumption and sales of car lots of Quebec varieties were made at 75c to 80c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk; New Brunswick Green Mountains at 85c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk; and New Brunswick white potatoes at 75c to 80 per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, ex-track.

A steady feeling prevailed in the market for imported beans at the late decline in price noted. There was a fair demand, and as supplies were ample for all requirements a moderate amount of business was done in choice white hand-picked grades at $4.10 per bushel in a jobbing way, ex-store, and odd cars sold at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track.

Owing to the more liberal supplies of butter coming forward, the falling off in the demand from both local and outside interests and the accumulation of stock on spot in first hands an easier feeling developed in the market, and prices scored a decline of ¼c per pound.

There was no actual change in the local cheese situation, prices being maintained with a moderate amount of business passing on spot. There was some demand from foreign buyers for supplies, and as the prices bid were in line with exporters' views, sales were made.

Born to meet a Need

NOW TIME-TESTED AND PROVEN!

THE Goodyear Selected Dealer plan was born to meet a need of the motoring public. It was our answer to the vital problem of how to reduce the cost of selling tires and to increase the service to the user.

It was not a selling scheme. It was not intended, primarily, to sell more tires. Probably at first it sold fewer tires. But it did reduce the cost of doing business. It gave us lower selling costs because we had fewer dealers on whom to call. This saving went back into the quality of Goodyear Tires. It enabled Goodyear dealers to give more and more service to their customers. By concentrating on Goodyear Tires, they in turn have a lower cost of doing business.

Seven years now has Goodyear operated its Selected Dealer plan. Today it stands proven as the most efficient, most money-saving method of distributing tires. Get to know the Goodyear Selected Dealer near you. There is one of them in every town in Canada large enough to support a good dealer.

Goodyear means Good Wear

All Goodyear Tires are built of SUPER-TWIST Cords—61% more stretch and life than old-style cords

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CLOTHES LINE

"Where did I leave that key?" growled the Black Bushy Bear, who had caught Uncle Wiggily when the old gentleman rabbit was asleep in the woods. "I'm sure I had it when I started out! But where is it now?"

The Bear stuck his big paws, one after the other, into this pocket and that pocket of his coat and trousers looking for the key to open the locked box so he could put Uncle Wiggily inside and take the rabbit home to the den.

But the Bear couldn't find the key, and he had promised his wife to bring Uncle Wiggily home in the box for supper.

"And if I can't get the box open I can't put a rabbit in it," growled the Bear.

"Of course you can't. It's like a puzzle!" chuckled Mr. Longears. And then, as the Bear had taken both his paws off the rabbit to poke in his pockets for the key, all of a sudden the bunny uncle gave a big hop and off and away he ran before the Bear had time to turn and catch him.

"Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho!" laughed Uncle Wiggily as he darted down hill. "You can't find the key, Black Bear, but I know where it is. It's in plain sight on the front of the box!"

And there, surely enough, was the missing key, as you very soon saw, I'm sure, when you looked at the last puzzle picture. So Uncle Wiggily safely reached his hollow stump bungalow. He was a little out of breath from having run so fast, but the Bear didn't even hug him.

"It's nice to be hugged—sometimes," said Mr. Longears to his wife and Nurse Jane as he told them his adventure, "but not by a Bear."

"You had better give up this puzzle and adventure business," said Mrs. Longears as she looked to see if there was enough carrot jelly for tea. "You had better take to peddling cabbages."

"Oh, no," said Uncle Wiggily. "I must have adventures."

So next day he started out again, over the fields and through the woods, up hill and down dale to see what would happen. Mr. Longears was thinking what a lovely day it was, and how soon it would be summer when, all of a sudden, he heard a little teeny-weeny voice calling:

"Help! Help! Help!"

"Oh, ho! Some one in trouble!" said Uncle Wiggily with a slow joggle jiggle of his left ear. "I must do what I can." Looking around, he saw where a little June Bug lady, who had come out to buzz around, ready for the first June days, had caught one leg in the crack of the bark of a tree.

"Please help me get loose!" begged the June Bug lady.

"Why, of course," said Uncle Wiggily politely, with a low bow of his tall, silk hat. Gently he loosed the leg from the bark crack, and as the June Bug lady flew away she buzzed:

"You did me a great favor, Mr. Longears, so I'll do one for you. Look out for the Fox! He's on his way to catch you. I passed him about a mile back in the woods before I banged into this tree and was caught."

"Thanks," said Mr. Longears, smiling, "but I'm not afraid of him."

Then, all of a quickness, out from behind a big rock sprang the Fox, with a pair of ice tongs, thinking he could catch Uncle Wiggily in them. But the rabbit was nimble and quick and hopped away.

Then the Fox chased him. Uncle Wiggily hopped fast and ran down the hill to where he saw Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, hanging her wash on the clothes line. The Fox was close to Uncle Wiggily iby this time, but, all of a sudden, the bunny thought of a puzzle trick to play on the Bad Chap.

"Look here, Mr. Fox," said Uncle Wiggily. "There are three things wrong with Mrs. Twistytail's clothes line wash. And unless you tell me what those three mistakes are, you can't catch me!"

The Fox was so surprised that he sat down hard on the sharp ice tongs and stuck himself. Then he tried to do the puzzle. Can you?

He saw a little June Bug lady.

The largest halibut ever landed on the English coast was brought into Fleetwood recently. It weighed 329 pounds.

INTESTINAL WORMS

The presence of intestinal parasites will produce a variety of symptoms, such as a ravenous appetite, malnutrition, abdominal pain, the anemic face, with sometimes diarrhea. These symptoms are not always present by any means, and I have seen several cases where none of them were noticeable. The only positive method of diagnosing intestinal worms is to see them or sections of them in the bowel movements.

The most well known worm is the tapeworm, which is the largest of all the parasites that inhabit the human. It is usually found in the small intestine, and may be diagnosed by finding sections of the worm in the stool.

Other frequently found worms are the thread worm, the round worm, and the hookworm. There are others of various sizes and shapes. Most of these worms enter the body directly with the food which contains the eggs. The worms grow first in the tissues of some animal, and if meat is not thoroughly cooked before eating, there is an opportunity for the worms to develop from the eggs. Beef, pork and fish are the meats most frequently affected. There is less danger now than formerly, because the big packing houses maintain a very rigid inspection of all meat sold.

These worms once established in the human, take their nourishment from the food of their host. This is the reason the individual harboring them usually becomes thin and has an enormous appetite. There is often a nervous irritation.

These parasites will often release their hold if the patient goes on a long water fast of from one to three weeks. If the worms do not detach then, the patient should take one of the numerous worm remedies which can be secured from any druggist. These remedies usually consist of something repugnant to the worm or something to expel it. The whole worm will often be passed with the next movement of the bowels.

Pin worms are usually found in the lower colon, and can usually be expelled by the use of two enemas daily.

In children, it is not advisable to place them on a strict fast. Good results will follow the use of an exclusive acid fruit diet for several days, accompanied by the enema.

There are many other types of parasites found in the bowel contents, mostly micro-organisms including many disease bacteria. There is positively no need for these harmful ones developing. Bad mixtures of food are mostly responsible for producing the soil in which they develop. Even when present, they can be quickly eliminated through changing to a clean, wholesome diet, following a short period of fruit fasting and frequent enemas.

Questions and Answers.

Question: J. G. writes: "Will you please tell me what I can do for my nose, as no matter how much cream or powder I put on it, it is always red as a beet at the point?"

Answer: A red nose is an evidence of continued intoxication, either from the over-use of alcoholic stimulants, or from dietetic errors which produce autointoxication. The latter is the most common cause of red noses, and even our most sincere prohibitionists often carry around a red, shiny nose that, in the old days, we used to think was acquired only by the "town drunkard."

Question: H. L. asks: "Will you tell me if cocoa and chocolate are fattening?"

Answer: If you are under-weight, no amount of "stuffing" on these foods will permanently and healthfully build you up; if you are overweight, it is certainly not advisable for you to use them.

Question: B.C. asks: "What causes the feet to sweat, and the cure?"

Answer: The feet sweat more than most parts of the body because they are enclosed in the leathery covering of shoes. This holds in the heat and produces the excessive sweating. Those who are too much troubled with sweating feet should be careful to change their sox at least once daily, and take also two sponge or shower baths daily to cleanse the skin all over the body. If the pores are thus kept clean, the sweat glands will be more active in other parts besides the feet. It is a good plan to provide yourself with several pairs of shoes so that any one pair is not used more than once or twice weekly. Do not apply anything to keep the feet from sweating, but keep them as clean as possible.

Flood Conditions Greatly Improved

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 31. — (Canadian Press.)—Flood conditions in the Fraser Valley were greatly improved yesterday, the official gauge at Mission, 45 miles east of Vancouver, showing a rise of only one inch during the past 48 hours.

In the vicinity of Micomen Island where a small section of the dyke went out early Monday flooding approximately six hundred acres of low lands, the situation was reported as favorable to-day. Some loss to live stock occurred there.

Cool weather in the northern interior has slowed up the run on the river and it is now believed the flood danger for the year is over.

FARMERS PLAN TO FORM POOL

Hear Officers of Wheat Selling Organization—Will Canvass For Member.

FOR TWO COUNTIES.

Farmers of Peterborough and Northumberland were represented at a meeting in the rooms of the Woodmen of the World, held on Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of discussing and organizing as a branch of the Ontario Wheat Pool. Those taking a leading part in the work of organization were H. A. Gilroy of Alvinston, chairman of the pool division of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, and John H. Wesson of Regina, a member of the executive of the Saskatchewan wheat pool.

They have been holding meetings throughout the province and already nine of the western counties have organized while seven others, including Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland, will have organized within a short time. They came here from Lindsay where they met representative farmers of Victoria, who were enthusiastic about such a pool.

Chairman Shields introduced the speakers who, during the course of their addresses, outlined the work of the Canadian Wheat Pool, the Ontario Pool, and the county organizations, showing the advantages of membership in them; the manner in which supply and demand is stabilized and the benefits to be derived by each contract signer. They gave interesting and convincing statistics showing the growth of Canadian wheat pool from handling 80 million bushels in 1924 to an estimated 215 millions in 1927. The contract signer delivers his wheat for five years and so satisfactory has this arrangement been that pools of the western provinces are now signing up members for a second term.

Further meetings will be held in this district and the farmers will be canvassed. After organization has been under way more will be heard of the efforts of Messrs Wesson and Gilroy.

"The Skin that Charms"

The quest and love of beauty—the desire to be personally attractive—is today a dominating trait in men as well as women. Especially is the younger generation not ashamed that it wants and tries to be healthier, happier, and better-looking.

You can be all three of these if you will take Buckley's TRU-BLOOD to eradicate impure and impoverished blood. You can have a clear and colorful complexion, a skin of velvety smoothness. And this has its value and appeal—that those who possess "TRU-BLOOD complexions" may use their favorite cosmetics with greatly-enhanced effectiveness.

With TRU-BLOOD also use Buckley's OINTMENT. It "acts like magic" in rejuvenating the skin, in eradicating blemishes and coarseness. Sold at all Drug Stores.

Rains In Wheat Area Cause Down Movement

CHICAGO, May 31. Canadian Pres. — Beneficial rains in the spring wheat territory of the northwest, especially the Dakotas, led to early, sharp downturns in wheat values to-day. Numerous standing orders to sell out and stop loss at various fixed limits, were forced into operation by the fall in prices.

Starting at ¼ to 1 3-4 off wheat later showed a material further set back. Corn and oats were easier, with corn opening unchanged to 1¼ down and subsequently keeping within initial limits. Provisions were firm.

The opening prices were Wheat, May, 143 7-8, July 144 3-4, corn May 100 3-4, July 101 7-8, oats May 63, July 54¼.

Toronto Market Active With Prices Holding Firm

TORONTO, May 31 (Canadian Press).—More activity was shown on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day than for the past few sessions. The opening was brisk and though the volume lessened during the morning, prices held firm. Slight advances throughout the list were the general rule.

Cockshutt Common was again the leader, and was fractionally higher at 31¼, while the Common advanced over a point to 133. Imperial Tobacco in heavy selling was up fractionally at 11 1-8.

Slight declines in some of the paper issues occurred, Abitibi easing 3½ to 65 and Brompton ½ to 51. International Nickel made a large turnover and was firmer at 95.

Industrial Utilities issues were more than usually active, particularly the "B" stock, which was up ½ at 18½, while the "A" was unchanged at 49. Brazilian was higher by about a point at 57 1-8. City Dairy was in good demand, and closed with a gain of a point at 58½. With a small turnover, Page Hersey was up three at 103¼.

Among the declines were Winnipeg Electric, down 2½ at 119½, and Twin City, down 1¾ at 45¼.

Mine Prices Firmer Though Trade Is Light

TORONTO, May 31.— (Canadian Press.)— Prices were firmer on the standard stock and mining exchange to-day, though there was little heavy trading. Noranda was again the leader, and was up 45 in closing at 27.50. Malartic, after its jump to 160 yesterday, dropped back to 153 but picked up towards the close, to finish unchanged.

The western issues were stronger to-day, with the exception of Pend Oreille, which dropped 20 to 15.80. Sherritt Gordon made a gain of 20 to 5.90, Hudson Bay was up five at 18.00, Central Manitoba one at 128, Big Missouri three at 63, and Mint Oregon one at 38.

Newbec, which has been a feature for some days, was slightly lower at 44¾. Wright Hargreaves failed to hold the gain made yesterday and was down 17 at 4.38.

Other changes included Teck Hughes, down 10 at 9.85, Amulet, down 10 at 3.25, Barry Hollinger, down half at 81½, Moffat Hall, up one at 20, and Sudbury Basin, 40 at 9.00.

FLOODS AT PEAK AT LAKE ST. JOHN

Level Remains Stationary, With No Further Damage Reported.

VILLAGES CUT OFF.

CHICOUTIMI, May 31. Canadian Press. — The flood stricken people of the Lake St. John district were hopeful to-day that the peak of the present inundations had been reached. The level of Lake St. John remained stationary during the night, and no further damage has been reported.

On the Saguenay river, however, the situation at L'Anse St. Jean and Le Petit Saguenay was apparently the same. These two villages were cut off from the outside world when two washouts blocked practically all the roads in the neighborhood and disrupted the communication lines last Friday.

PRESIDENT'S AIDE CAUGHT SMUGGLING

General Alvarez Jailed For Bringing Silks Into Mexico Under Protection.

MEXICO CITY, May 31.—(Canadian Press.)— General Jose Alvarez, Chief of Staff to President Calles, has been dismissed from that post on charges of having betrayed the President's confidence by smuggling large shipments of silks into Mexico under the protection of Calles' name. The announcement of the General's dismissal created a sensation but it is thought a greater one will be created when it becomes known that he has been arrested and lodged in jail.

In a statement President Calles said the police investigation had revealed the General was conniving with other people, chiefly foreigners.

PETES ORDERED TO PLAY FRIDAY

Last Night's Game at Kingston Is To Be Played To-morrow Night.

SCHEDULE REVISED.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 31 (Special to The Examiner). — Peterborough was ordered at last night's meeting of the C.O.B.L., held at the Y.M.C.A., to play Wednesday's postponed game at the Fair Grounds on Friday, and accordingly arrangements were made for the game to be played at six o'clock.

The question of the schedule was the most important matter to come before the meeting. Secretary Newton Thompson, Belleville, explained that with five teams it was almost impossible to arrange a schedule which would be entirely satisfactory to all teams. After considerable discussion several changes were made in the schedule, whereby the Peterborough at Oshawa game scheduled for July 25th was altered to August 4th, and the Kingston at Deloro game scheduled for August 8th, was changed to August 13th. The doubleheader, Belleville at Kingston, was altered to allow one of the games being played here on June 4th. Any other changes must be made by the teams concerned.

June 1—Peterborough at Kingston.
June 2—Belleville at Oshawa.
June 2—Deloro at Peterborough.
June 4—Belleville at Kingston.
June 6—Peterborough at Belleville.
June 6—Kingston at Oshawa.
June 8—Deloro at Kingston.
June 9—Oshawa at Peterborough.
June 13—Peterborough at Deloro (two games).
June 13—Belleville at Kingston.
June 16—Deloro at Oshawa.
June 16—Kingston at Peterborough.
June 20—Oshawa at Belleville (two games).
June 20—Kingston at Deloro.
June 23—Kingston at Peterborough.
June 23—Oshawa at Deloro.
June 27—Deloro at Kingston.
June 27—Belleville at Oshawa.
July 2—Belleville at Peterborough (morning).
July 2—Peterborough at Deloro (afternoon).
July 2—Kingston at Oshawa (two games).
July 4—Peterborough at Kingston.
July 4—Deloro at Belleville.
July 7—Oshawa at Peterborough.
July 7—Kingston at Belleville.

July 14—Kingston at Peterborough.
July 18—Peterborough at Belleville (two games).
July 18—Deloro at Oshawa (two games).
July 20—Belleville at Kingston.
July 21—Oshawa at Peterborough.
July 25—Kingston at Deloro.
July 28—Deloro at Peterborough (two games).
July 28—Oshawa at Belleville.
August 1—Kingston at Belleville.
August 1—Oshawa at Deloro.
August 3—Deloro at Kingston.
August 4—Peterborough at Oshawa.
August 6—Oshawa at Kingston (two games).
August 8—Belleville at Deloro.
August 11—Kingston at Peterborough.
August 11—Oshawa at Deloro.
August 13—Kingston at Deloro.
August 15—Deloro at Belleville.
August 15—Peterborough at Oshawa.

The question of speeding up the game was taken up, and the umpires will be instructed by President McFadden to see that all games are started on time, and that no time is wasted by the teams getting on the field at the end of each inning.

The resignation of H. Nicholson, of Kingston as umpire, was received and no other appointment was made, the Kingston executive to send in another name to the president.

OBITUARY

MRS. E. A. CHRISTIE

TRENT RIVER, May 31. — In the passing of Mrs. H. A. Christie, Trent River loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed cottagers. The community was shocked on learning of her death Monday morning as she was going around the previous day in her usual health.

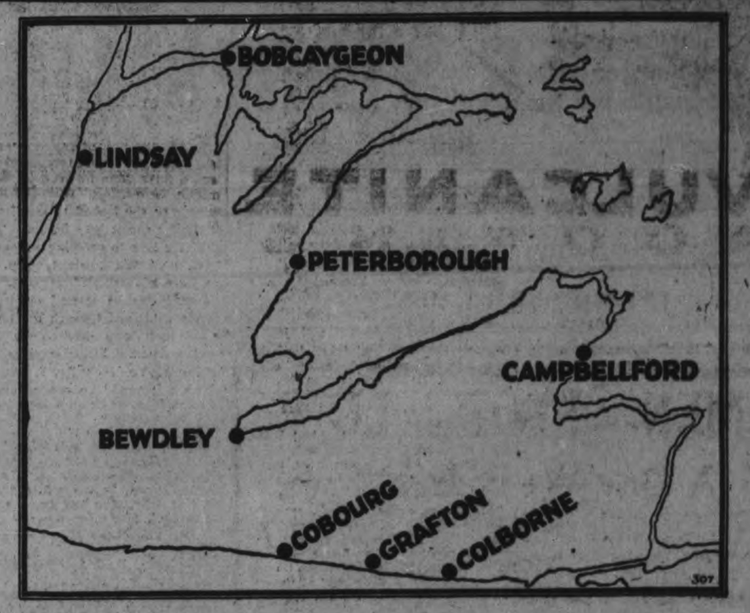
Death was caused from a stroke, from which she only lived about half an hour.

Mrs. Christie has been coming to her cottage for about twenty six years, each season accompanied by her daughter, Miss Marie Davey, coming here from Toronto in the early spring and remaining till nearly Christmas some years, leaving for Toronto again, where they spent the winter.

Mrs. Christie eagerly looked forward to her return each year to the cottage where she always seemed to enjoy better health. Mrs. Christie was twice married. Miss Marie Davey being a daughter of the first marriage. Another sister of Miss Davey's (Mrs. Horace Bourne) died a few years ago at Providence, R. I.

There is one daughter and three sons residing in Toronto, namely Mrs Fred Gain (Jessie), and William, Jack and Donald, all of whom spent their holidays with their mother at the cottage.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. Will Christie, Toronto.



Drive with confidence--There are Dominion Tire Depots everywhere

THIS is the era of the chain store. Immense networks of grocery stores, hardware shops, drug and departmental stores, and gasoline stations, have spread like magic across the land.

And now, the great chain of tire service shops—Dominion Tire Depots.

Co-operative methods in the merchandising and servicing of tires had to come. We are proud to be connected with the pioneer organization in this field.

Away across the length and breadth of Ontario and Quebec spreads our network of depots. Scarcely a town but you will find a shop with the distinctive orange and blue front. The map above shows the location of depots in this locality.

Each of the hundreds of depots offers the most expert and courteous tire service obtainable in its locality. Although each is independently owned, all are links in this great chain of service shops which is sponsored by the largest rubber organization in Canada.

So now, you can drive with confidence — wherever you motor. There are Dominion Tire Depots everywhere.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists Call it "Joint-Ease" Because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-East" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Bond's Drug Store, McDermid & Jury dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

The vice of the nearly virtuous is self-satisfaction.

I.O.D.E. IN FAVOR OF ONE ANTHEM

Local Chapters Stand With National Council in Support of "God Save the King."

Local representatives of the three senior chapters of the I.O.D.E. in the city are attending the annual meeting of the National Chapter in Toronto this week, and have doubtless voted on the two resolutions which have gone forward to the Dominion Government from the national convention this year. The first is as follows:

"Whereas the national executive committee of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, greatly appreciate the beauty of 'O Canada" as a national song, and

"Whereas Canada has only one national anthem, that being 'God Save the King," be it

"Resolved that the national executive committee of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, place itself on record as protesting against the appearance of 'O Canada' on the program issued by the executive committee for the children of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation under the heading of 'National Anthem'."

The other resolution has to do with the reported great increase in the number of offences against children in Canada. It constituted a petition to the authorities urging that the most extreme penalty be imposed on any man found guilty of criminal assault against a child.

The local chapters stand behind the National Chapter with regard to the two resolutions. The first is strictly in line with the ultra-Imperialistic attitude of the I.O.D.E., and the second, which has the strong support also of the National Council of Women, was sponsored by the I.O.D.E. on behalf of the Salvation Army.

This attitude of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, with regard to rigid and absolute adherence to British supremacy in all matters, is noted also in the National Council's strong opposition to a suggestion from the National Council of Women. Although the National Council represents every type of woman's society in the land, forming a sort of clearing house, as it were, for women's manifold activities, whether social, religious, charitable, political, or philanthropic, still the I.O.D.E., in diverging from the expressed opinion of the National Council of which it is a member, stands firm on its Imperialistic base, and expresses its strong opposition to the National Council of Women's suggestion that the Government be approached with a request that the people of Canada be legally known as Canadians, instead of British subjects resident in Canada, that in every country within the British Empire the name "British subject" is used.

This matter has been discussed several times by the Local Council of women, representatives of its affiliated organizations expressing themselves much in favor of the suggestion. At the last regular meeting of the local council, strong approbation was voiced to this resolution, asking the Federal Government, before the next decennial census is taken, to allow residents of the Dominion to be termed "Canadians," this term to be used also in vital statistics reports.

Oxford University, England, although possibly the best known educational institution in the world, has only a little over 6000 undergraduates, only 927 of whom are women.

The first woman cook in the French army is Mme. Jacquet who has just been appointed as a result of the army regulations being changed to permit women to accept such positions.

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

LET'S ALL GET MARRIED

MARMORA, May 31.—Last, but not least, of the many splendid plays seen in Marmora this year is an apt description of Monday night's presentation of the two-act comedy, "Let's All Get Married" by the Marmora Literary and Social Club. Familiarity does not breed contempt in the matter of local amateur acting in Marmora and its spacious Town Hall was well-filled with play-goers of the district.

As "Professor Maxwell Carrington," with a taste for mathematics and fiction, A. R. Millar showed fine capabilities as the leading man. Miss Eva Inkster gave a lively impersonation of Ethel Carrington, the professor's sister, who carried a sweet secret. The difficult part of Miss Laura Plum, the professor's aunt, who possessed numerous fears, was admirably sustained by Miss Reta Kennedy. Miss Elsie Williams displayed pleasing versatility in her part of Miss Marjorie Miller, the dear and distant cousin—and more while Miss Hazel Williams well fitted into the role of Tillie Jones, the professor's flippant and gum-loving typist. Dougald Sanderson added to previous amateur triumphs in his impersonation of Everett Payne, the family lawyer. Don Marett as "The Reverend Benjamin Morris" showed up well. Will Keene ably impersonated Dick Havens, a college student. A favourite always with the local audience, Jack Grant provoked his usual amount of mirth in impersonating Jack Foster, Ethel's most capable friend. Rev. C. J. Beckley taking the part of Biggs, a family butler of a sort, did full justice to the opportunities for comedy provided in the play. Instrumental music was played before the rise of the curtain by the Delmara Orchestra. Between the acts, Professor Thomas Jones, newly arrived from Brynamman, South Wales, played in accomplished style on his violin "Hungarian Song and Dance," Brahms.

The entire net proceeds of the play were devoted to the establishment of a permanent award for an annual public speaking contest.

Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, May 30.—Nothing but the Truth was the name of the play produced by the Holloway Street Young People, Belleville, in the Regent Theatre here under the auspices of the Campbellford Tennis Club. The troupe was under the direction of Miss Jessie B. Tuite, of Belleville. The play is in three acts and the cast consists of ten characters, Robert Bennett, Matt Morrison; E. M. Ralston, Jack Andrews; Dick Donnelley, Walt Harden; Clarence Vandusen, Harry Jones ;Bishop Doran, Art Grose; Gwendolyn Ralston, Annie Ashley ;Mrs. E M. Ralston, Lene Woodley; Ethel Clarke, Bessie Vandewater;- Mabel Jackson, Myrtle Gunn; Sable Jackson, Edith Colclough.

The play is the story of a young man who was tired of telling socially necessary falsehoods and accepted a wager to tell nothing but the truth for a set period of time. The sparkling humor and tense moments throughout the play were greatly appreciated by a capacity audience.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. After being perfunctorily examined by a doctor, the body is brought to the Hotel Majusaca, where an inquiry is started.

Folsom's bathing companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, MRS. HELEN BARNABY, and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had bene standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

Then the startling announcement is made that Folsom had been stabbed to death in the water. ROSS, his valet, is questioned, as are Barron and his wife, but no light is shed on the mystery.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is established that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it and its scabbard had been purchased on the boardwalk.

It is also established that one Croydon Sears is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. He asks permission to go through the dead man's effects.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXI.

"Of course, that's what I want you to do, Mr. Riggs," said Anastasia Folsom. "But I can't feel that you can find anything of evidential value where I have failed. I've hunted all through his belongings, and though I found a lot of things I don't understand, I saw nothing that seemed, in the least, a straw to show which way the wind blows."

"No, I suppose not, or you would have told me. What do you make of these dolls?"

"They surprise me. Of course I know that they are a fad, just now. And I know that the dolls here are of the best and finest French variety. They doubtless came from Paris. But they don't suggest anything to me—do they to you?"

"No, I can't say that they do. But it is a strange taste for a man of Mr. Folsom's type. I can understand his having them in Paris—but to bring them home with him, and then to bring them down here—did he cart them about wherever he went?"

"Yes, some of them. Ross told me that four or five of them were always packed with his luggage when he went away."

"Queer, to say the least," commented Riggs.

* * *

Dan Pelton arrived about noon on Sunday.

He went straight to his aunt's apartment and found her there awaiting him. Paxton, the maid, was hovering about, and Miss Folsom dismissed her as she rose to greet her nephew.

"How are you, Dan? Sit over there. Smoke, if you like. Now, there's small use in your talking; you've nothing to say of interest. I'll tell you all there is to know."

Whereupon she launched into a full recital of the circumstances of Folsom's death as she knew them, of the inquest and the verdict, and then proceeded to outline her plans for the future.

"I'm going to find the brute who killed Garrett if it takes my whole lifetime and my whole fortune as well. My brother was the only person on earth I loved or cared for. I don't believe you care two cents about it all! You sit there like a bump on a log saying nothing!"

"You said for me not to talk," observed Pelton, composedly.

He was a tall, slender young man, about twenty-seven, and far from handsome. His pale blue eyes were a trifle prominent, his pale brown hair was scanty and his long, thin fingers had a way of moving restlessly about, as if his nervous temperament demanded some physical outlet.

Yet he was calmly at ease, except for his ceaselessly moving fingers, and he looked at his aunt with a nod of comprehension.

"And you're not far out," he told her, "when you say I don't care much. About Uncle Garry's loss, I mean. I'm shocked and all that, at the manner of his taking off, but, as you know, there was no love lost between us."

"I know it, and I resent it, and I resent your presence here—"

"Of course you do, and you resent my inheritance under uncle's will, and you resent my being alive at all! But, you know, Aunt Stasia, all that doesn't cut any ice with me. We Folsoms are all pretty much alike, each devoted to his own interests. Uncle Garrett was like that—"

"Hush! Not a word against him. I tell you, Dan Pelton, you'll be sorry if you take that attitude—"

"I'm not taking any attitude. I've never had but one feeling toward Uncle Garrett, and that is in no way changed by his death. But this talk is useless, aunt, and, as I only came down for the funeral, I'll stay for that and then I'll go back to New York."

"You'll stay here as long as I want you to, and no longer. Come, now, Dan, be nice to me. I'm very sad and lonesome and terribly upset."

"I know it, Aunt Stasia, and I really want to help you, but you know uncle and I never hit it off, and you can't expect me to change all at once."

"No; but you can and must help me, if possible, to find and punish his murderer. You are the man of the family now—in fact you and I are the only members of the family left, and we must not quarrel."

"Well, I'll do all I can. I say, what are all the dolls for? Are they yours?"

"No, they were Garrett's."

"Whew! Did he cart them around with him? For they don't look like the sort that grow down here."

"They are Parisian, that's clear. But they could have been bought here at that. Few things can't be achieved in Ocean Town. However, he did bring these with him. Ross says he usually took them wherever he went."

"Oh, Ross, that first-class man he had. I don't see why I shouldn't fall heir to Ross. Where is he?"

"Here. He's in my employ now, but if he's willing you can take him over. I've no real use for a man servant, except as a sort of courier to look after my luggage, and that's scarcely necessary. You know, Dan, you will have about a third of Garry's money—"

"You bet I know it! And you have a third and old Neville has a third. Aunt, why does Roger Neville get so much?"

"They planned it, Dan. Their wills were made at the same time, and whichever one of them lived longer inherited a third of the other's fortune."

"Then what price Neville as the murderer?"

"Don't be absurd. Well, as I was saying, now that you have a fair fortune if you like to take on Ross do so."

"All right, and I'll take these rooms, aunt. You can get others to suit you. And I suppose I can have Uncle Garry's personal belongings; I mean his mannish traps—the ones that you can't use."

Pelton gave a quick, appraising glance at his aunt, realizing suddenly that with her own mannish effects, there might well be a few of her brother's things that she could use.

But she gave little heed to the subject and acquiesced in his plans for getting herself another suite.

"But you're to help me, Dan," she said, gravely. "If you don't I shall cut you out of my will, and then the day will come when you'll regret it."

"You bet I would," he exclaimed, fervently. "I don't want you to step off, Aunt Stasia, for I'm really fond of you. But when you do I most certainly expect to be your sole heir."

"You're a cold-blooded brute, Dan, but your prospects depend entirely on your meeting my wishes so long as I am alive to express them."

"Here goes then. What do you want me to do first?"

Dan Pelton was not really the brute he seemed, but he had thoroughly disliked his uncle, while he was friendly with his aunt. Money was his god, and at heart he was glad that circumstances had sent him a windfall. But he also looked forward to the time when his aunt's fortune should be his, too, though not with such greedy anticipation that he desired her immediate death.

He was humanly shocked at his uncle's fate, and more than willing to help his aunt in her efforts, so long as it didn't interfere too much with his own comfort.

"You see," he said, seriously, "all Ocean Town has risen as one man in indignation at this outrage. Oh, I don't mean the bathing population, the frivolous beach crowd, but the important people, city fathers, landholders, hotel men and all that. And the police, though up against it, are trying to do their best to get at the truth of the matter."

"How do you know all this?" asked his aunt in surprise. "You've only just arrived."

"Oh, I pick up news by instinct," Pelton returned, lighting another cigaret and walking about the room as he took up and scrutinized one doll after another. "I suppose I can have these toys, auntie?"

REFEREE STARTS HOME BANK HEARING

Test Cases Are Divided Into Three Classes.

TORONTO, May 31.—(Canadian Press).—Charles Garrow, K.C., as official referee yesterday commenced hearing of a number of test questions relative to deposits in the defunct Home Bank that were made during last few days of the Bank's operations. Test cases are divided into three classes: (a) creditors who made deposits between the 7th of August and 3 o'clock daylight saving time on the 17th of August, 1923: (b) creditors who made deposits between 3 o'clock daylight saving time and 3 o'clock standard time on August 17, and (c) deposits made after 3 o'clock standard time on August 17, and (c) deposits made after 3 o'clock standard time. Other claims are that the bank was known to be insolvent and that it was fraudulent to take deposits which deposits should be returned in specie and in full.

The first case was that of the United Gas and Flue Company, of Hamilton, which had a balance of $269,416 in their account when bank was closed.

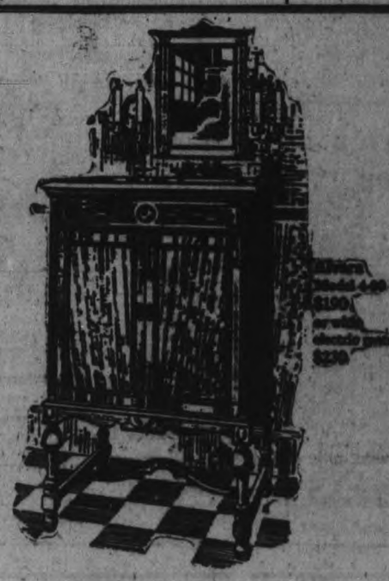
Italy And Turkey Sign Peace Treaty

ROME, May 31 (Associated Press).—Premier Mussolini and the Turkish Minister, Suad Bey, yesterday afternoon at the Chigi Palace, signed a five-year bilateral treaty binding Italy and Turkey to neutrality, arbitration and conciliation.

It is understood the document, while not made public, engages both states not to enter into political combinations likely to menace one or the other of them, to neutrality in case of conflict of either with a third party and a resort to conciliatory means of settlement in the event of differences between themselves. A protocol attached provides means of functioning of an arbitral tribune to iron out such differences.



A great Organ plays just for You!

Nothing is impossible to the new Orthophonic Victrola—The world's greatest choirs—the finest organs—magnificent orchestras—all for you.

You are thrilling to pipe-organ music—in your own home! A hundred thousand dollar organ!

See the giant pipes rising like the facade of some great cathedral. Picture the fingers of the organist gliding over the keys and manipulating the stops—so astoundingly true is Orthophonic Victrola music.

IMMIGRANT LAD IS LOCATED

hard road to follow. Of the five dollars which was all the boy had, 90 cents had been spent. There were four dollars found in his wallet along with other papers. Thus the wanderer had only ten cents with which to face the world.

Asked what his opinion as to the youth's present whereabouts, McCarron was unable to say definitely. He told how Malcolmson had claimed to have an aunt in Toronto and gave the Coleridge Avenue address. Malcolmson had also intimated very strongly that he had friends much closer than Toronto, but would not say who they were or where they lived. He left his companion with the impression that it was to these friends he was going, and that he would send word later, but no word had arrived. Last night the local police were advised that the boy had been located in Toronto and was at the Children's Shelter there. The boy is described as being about five feet ten inches tall, of 126 pounds weight, and of fair complexion. His nose had once been broken in a boxing bout. He was wearing a light-colored light-weight suit, without collar or tie or top coat.

In an effort to get at the bottom of things and get the real story, The Examiner spent five hours wandering along back roads and calling at farm houses, only to find that most of the farmers were not at home. Finally the missing youth's companion, McCarron, was located and interviewed. He had gone for the cows and in an endeavor to save time, since it had grown too late in the afternoon, The Examiner reporter walked through endless lanes leading to a back pasture where the youth was supposed to be rounding up the cattle. Finally there came the strains of a harmonica, interspersed with the boyish tones of the lad as he drove the cattle. As he came closer, the tune he played was distinctly recognizable as an old Irish air which the lad played with all the skill and feeling of a born Irishman. As soon as he saw he was not alone, the harmonica was hastily shoved into a convenient pocket, and the music ended. On the return journey through the winding lanes, young McCarron proved that he was a true son of Erin, and his ready wit and merry eye showed that he at least was not downhearted or homesick.

FIFTH PETERBOROUGH TROOP.

The meeting opened under the supervision of our assistant scoutmaster with the 'Scouts' prayer,' followed by general remarks from the troop. At a given hand signal, the patrol leaders fell into their respective position and with another signal the troop fell in for inspection. The Beavers and Buffalos were out in full force. Then the flag was broken by P. L. Bill Barry and responded to by the troop, led by A. P.L. Arnold Smedmore. The troop was then dismissed to their respective corners. Here tenderfoot, second class and first class work was taken up. In the observation test, the Bulldogs soon discovered what was wrong and reported it to our A.S.M.

Up to date there are six active patrols, with twenty-eight tenderfoots and six second class and one first class.

Our A.S.M. then called us out for a game called blindfold obstacle race. The patrols were teamed off, the Bulldogs winning the first set, and in the finals the Bulldogs and Wild Boars were tied for first place. This race will be run off next week.

In the camp fire being opened by our A.S.M., the Beavers were placed in charge. They put on a short, snappy program of good jokes, followed by a short scene in a court, which was very good. Our A.S.M. then led us in several troop yells and a sing-song. The camp fire came to a close and the troop was dismissed. A court of honor followed and the meeting dispersed.

The Scouts and Cubs of the Fifth Peterborough Troop wish to thank Mrs. Hope, Mrs. Runnette and Mrs. Rye for their kind services in helping them with parents' night.

EAGLE-SNAKE BATTLE IN AIR

A battle in the air between a snake and an eagle has been reported by members of a recent Cape to Cairo auto expedition. Near Pemba, Northern Rhodesia, they saw an eagle 100 feet above the ground with a snake coiled about its feet. The bird pounced on the snake, which had shown fight, and fastened itself on the eagle's leg. The eagle carried its foe up, while the snake made many attempts to strike its captor. The flier performed remarkable contortions, and eventually devoured the snake inch by inch.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Above, large chrysanthemum in bright blue worn on shoulder of black satin frock. Below, black and white roses worn in short black shoulder cape, and large plaid silk flower to wear on tailored suit.

An actress explained to me the other day that when dressing for the stage it was necessary to select accessories of a larger more striking sort than a woman would naturally choose for wear off the stage. A dainty little buttonhole ornament that might look attractive under usual circumstances would pale into insignificance on the stage. So if you were going to wear corsage flowers at all you wore a number of them or wore those of very large size.

Just about the time I received this little lesson in stage costuming, I noticed that women I met here, there and everywhere were wearing enormous flowers—not on the stage, but lunching and teaing at the places where well-dressed woman have a way of going to see each other's new clothes, at the races, for afternoon bridge—everywhere. Perhaps the fashion was started by some woman of fashion who admired the large flowers worn by some well-dressed actress and decided that her own small posies were too small, not realizing that the admired actress wore large flowers because she couldn't get the effect of smaller ones across the footlights.

Anyway, here they are—really enormous corsage flowers. Of course, large flowers have been worn for evening for some time, but not for street and daytime wear as they are worn at present. You may choose gardenias for your navy blue ensemble—well, then, get them as large as you can and use three or even five, arranged to go down the side of the lapel of your coat.

Chrysanthemums have appeared—among the smart spring corsage flowers without much regard for the conventional season for such blooms—and they are really enormous. White flowers are very good on navy blue and black, and the other day I saw a very large black rose worn with a very large white rose with good effect. And don't forget the new polka-dotted flowers and the flowers made of checks and plaids.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY SOME HAVE MORE WILL POWER THAN OTHERS

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

Will is a function of character and personality. It is the self in action. Hence the strong-willed person is one who has a strong character. He is far-sighted. He looks ahead and foresees consequences. He has a purpose and is able to stand by it. He makes long term investments with his choices.

The weak-willed person, on the other hand, is one who gives in to the impulse of the moment. He has not imagination enough to see the consequences of his act. And even when he does see it the image is so dim as compared with the momentary impulse that he is swept away by it. Here is a man who eats till he is uncomfortable. He knows it is not good for him to overeat. He fully intends to be moderate but once he gets to eating his favorite steak or pie he can't stop when he should. The desire for food and the pleasure of eating so fill his mind as to leave no room for considerations of health.

The strong-willed person has imagination enough to see vividly the future consequences of his act. We call him strong-willed because he is able to forego one pleasure for the sake of the greater remoter pleasure of maintaining his health.

The strengthening of the will means strengthening the whole man; it means developing a stronger and better character. We must build from the ground up. Will is not like a separate muscle which may be developed by itself. It is more like general health which can be improved only by toning up the whole organism. One effective means of doing this is to practice self-denial in some thing or other every so often. The self-denials and privations during the Lenten period afford good psychological practice in the development of will power. This will improve our morale, give us more confidence inself control and power. We all need to practice for the sake of increasing will power.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)
FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1928.

Astrologers read this as a threatening day in planetary government and counsel caution in all important matters.

The day may incline both men and women to take a pessimistic view of financial matters, therefore they should avoid facing debts until a better rule prevails.

Writers and especially those who contribute to newspapers should beware of the temptation to exaggerate.

Libel suits and other litigation growing out of personal criticism appear to be presaged by the stars.

Political battles of words will rage with peculiar force while this sway continues.

Under this direction of the stars the mind may be peculiarly susceptible to sinister suggestions and inclined to harbor campaign lies.

All through the month it will be wise to guard the tongue as well as the ears, for scandals will be widely disseminated.

There is an aspect that is believed to cause men and women to be critical of one another's creed.

Liberty of thought and toleration of dissenting opinions may be less prevalent than at other times.

Newspapers appear to be subject to sinister planetary influences inclining toward venality and bitter enmities.

Persons whose birthdate it is should avoid litigations and beware of domestic troubles in the coming year.

Children born on this day probably will be endowed with keen mentality and ready wit.

LYRICS OF LIFE

REMEMBER WHAT IT MEANS

Youngster, when you see that flag that flies along the way,
Just remember what it meant to Granddad in his day,
Youngster, when you hear these drums that roll along the street,
Just imagine how they sound to some old soldier's feet.
Once we followed them through rain and followed them through hail,
But the sky was raining lead, and death rode every gale.
Now we see a land of peace, a land of quiet scenes;
But, when looking at the flag, remember what it means.

And your grand-dads weren't all, they had their splendid sons,
Sons who felt the tropic heat and faced the Spanish guns;
And the sons of ninety-eight had sons who crossed the sea,
Bearing to our sister lands the flag of liberty.
Men in khaki, men in blue, and men in cotton jeans—
When you think of marching men remember what it means.

Once we marched with bayonets, but now we march with flow'rs,
Now we march with muffled drums in this parade of ours;
There were comrades long ago, dear friends we walked beside,
Now who rest in other climes, or sleep beyond the tide.
All they had to give was life, but all they had they gave;
Now we give a day to them in memory of the brave.
Surely it is not a day for sport, for rowdy scenes—
When we have Memorial Day, remember what it means.

In few countries is aviation as popular as it is in Germany, where even the schools are required to include it in their curriculum. There also exists an organization known as the Teachers' Gliding Club, where school-teachers are instructed in flying with gliders.

Bethany Trounce Raybestos In E.P.L. Fixture

RAYS LOSE 9-3 DECISION TO DURHAMITES

Russell of Millbrook Pitches Steady Game For Victors.

PLAY FAST BALL.

Losers Unable to Make Headway Combination of Hitting and Fielding.

Bethany, with a new team that showed class in all departments of the game, trounced Raybestos at Exhibition Park last evening, by the score of 9 to 3. The visitors showed to advantage behind the good pitching of Russell, the Millbrook boy, formerly with Port Hope of the Lakeshore loop, and their performance was more than a flash. The Durham game hit the ball for runs, accepted six passes to first, and fielded smartly in the pinches, Rightfielder Johnston especially distinguishing himself by taking a hard chance on Scully's long fly in the first and doubling Barry. Again in the second, he fielded Moore's triple, and relayed neatly to Ryley to stop Corrin at the plate. Ray Staples handled six chances at second to stop rallies by the Rays.

Raybestos, like any other good team, could not get going against a combination of hitting and fielding. They did all their wafting in three frames, Casey Masterson sending in two of their three counters in the second with a timely single to short centre. They had opportunity to break out in the sixth and seventh, but no body could hit.

Masterson started off well against Bethany when he took McGill's fly and fanned Reynolds and Philp. Russell, also had an easy getaway. Hillier hoisted to left, and Barry walked. Scully's long fly to right was was grabbed by Johnston, who had plenty of time to double Barry at first. It was a great catch for Johnston.

Ray Staples opened the second by accepting a walk. Ryley flew out to Corrin. McBride was passed and Lancashire's single between right and centred scored Staples. Johnston grounded to Hillier, but his throw to the plate failed to get McBride. Russell ground out. McGill dumped one in centre to score Lancashire. Reynolds fanned.

Raybestos tied the count. Corrin, who was passed, was out the plate following Moore's triple to right, Johnston to Ryley to Reynolds, a well-handled play. Conners and Nicholls were passed filling the bases, and Masterson came through with a single to centre to score Moore and Conners.

Russell played Hillier's roller poorly and besides losing the runner allowed Nicholls to go in. Barry flew out to McGill to end the inning.

Bethany made it a merry-go-round in the third. Nicholls threw high on Philp's grounder, the runner going to second. Staples walked. Masterson fumbled Ryley's tap and threw badly at stop Philps at third, the runner going home. Staples and Ryley advanced to third and second, and McBride, drawing a walk, loaded the bases. Lancashire struck out. Johnston was passed, forcing in Staples. Russell singled to left, scoring Ryley. McGill hit down third, McBride going home while Johnston went out, forced at third, Nicholls handling the ball. Reynolds doubled to right to score Russell, and Masterson was relieved by Armstrong, who retired the side by fanning Philp.

The fourth, fifth and sixth saw the teams settle down to a fielding battle, with honors even. In the seventh, Bethany broke loose again when an error, and two batsmen deadheaded to first, and a pass gave the visitors their ninth and final counter.

Hillier singled in the Rays' last half, Barry fanned, Scully forced Hillier at second, and Corrin, after missing three was thrown out at first by the catcher who dropped the third strike.

SATURDAY TILT WILL SETTLE OLD ARGUMENT

Deloro - Peterborough Game Promises To Be Real Fight.

FINALISTS IN 1927.

Petes in Senior Series and Smelters in Intermediate Race.

When Deloro and the Petes back into each other here on Saturday afternoon local fans should see one of the best games of the season.

Deloro has been the big noise in intermediate ball in Ontario for several seasons, winning the title two years ago and being nosed out in 1927.

Saturday's game therefore brings the senior runners up of last year against the unsuccessful intermediate finalists and the battle should furnish a good test as to the respective abilities of the teams of the two series, a matter over which there has been plenty of argument.

Both Deloro and the Petes have most of their last year's team intact, with the Smelters showing the most new men, their recruits including a new infielder, Scott, from the Ottawa Valley and an outfielder, Burgess, from the Ottawa City League.

Saturday's game is billed for 3 o'clock and with warm weather expected a real old time crowd should be on hand when Jeff Hardill swings the first ball over.

VIEWS ON SPORT

The Canucks and East City Beavers will clash to-morrow night at the Sacred Heart grounds in the bantam group.

Backed by the steady pitching of Russell, a Millbrook boy, the Bethany crew defeated the Raybestos 9-3 in an E.P.L. fixture at the Exhibition grounds last night.

* * * * * * *

The visitors had a strong fielding and batting combination against which the Brakeliners could do nothing. Staples, on second for the Durhamites, stopped many rally attempts made by the homesters.

* * * * * * *

Masterson played a nice game at bat for the factory crew, sending in two of their three runs in the second inning with a timely hit to short centre. The losers were given opportunities for hitting rallies in the sixth and seventh frames, but nobody could connect.

* * * * * * *

Cogs and Crescents, who furnished a thrilling battle in their tie game of 4 to 4 will go at it again to-morrow evening at Exhibition Park. Bethany's walloping warriors have thrown a score into the camps of the local clubs, and there will be no easy pickings this season. Crescents go to Bethany next Tuesday evening.

The Peterborough lawn bowlers officially open the bowling season on Friday night with a big tournament at their club greens on Aylmer street. Renovations have been made to the club house and greens, and a bumper season is looked forward to. All old players and any new ones listed this year are invited to be present at this official opening night.

* * * * * * *

With every popular summer sport practically under way in Peterborough, the city softball leagues are held up for the lack of playing grounds. Confederation Square has been used as a softball diamond for the different leagues in past years but it is believed that the park will not be available this season owing to the fact that it may be turned into a bowling green. There are two softball leagues here this year (the City league and the A.Y.P.A.) with a possibility that a girls' league may be formed. The city league executive have six teams entered in their loop and only await the settlement of the grounds question to begin their schedule.

* * * * * * *

Girls softball may come back to its own here this year; other towns and cities in the Central Ontario district have had success in operating a girls league; why not Peterborough? A loop has been formed in the C.G.E. plant and with the additions of a few entries from some of the city business firms or organizations much could be done to provide clean outdoor sport for the girls.

LEAFS WIN END GAME

Divide Double-header With the Buffalo Club By Scores

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 31 (Canadian Press). — The individual brilliance of Buck Elliott, just secured by the Buffalo Club from Newark, overshadowed all other features in morning and afternoon games surcharged with brilliant plays and split evenly by Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo here yesterday. The morning score was 7 to 2 in favor of the Leafs, and 7 to 6 in the afternoon in favor of Buffalo. Elliott won the afternoon game single-handed when he pumped a homer over the right field fence with the bases empty and two out in the eighth. His homer was Elliott's eighth consecutive hit in the last three games.

Break Even.

READING, Pa., May 31 (Canadian Press). — Reading broke even in its holiday bill with Baltimore yesterday, winning yesterday afternoon's contest, 6 to 4, after losing the morning game, 7 to 3. Socks Seibold won his sixth consecutive game of the season in the afternoon, and remained undefeated.

Rochester Took One Game.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 31 (Canadian Press). — After dropping the morning end of the Memorial Day twin bill with Montreal, 3 to 2, in 12 innings, Rochester came back strong in the afternoon encounter to trim the visitors 7 to 4.

Montreal outhit the home team 10 to 6 in the afternoon game, but some smart fielding and good hurling by Art Decatur in the pinches brought the victory.

Toledo-Columbus, second game called in fourth on account rain.

SPORT CHATTER

Belleville invade Oshawa on Saturday and if the Burgoyne-Schultz outfit don't get better pitching than they had at Kingston last week the Belleville crews are very likely to take the Motor gang. It takes something more than a heaver just going through the motions to hold that Belleville gang in check.

The Petes need this week end game with Deloro to keep up in the first division and Manager Holyman and his crew are determined to get a jump on Smelters by grabbing the first fixture. But it will be a merry battle and Peterborough fans should fill the stands when these two teams clash. Jeff Hardill will likely get the pitching assignment and remembering the memorable game he pitched against Deloro here last summer the fans can look forward to a real exhibition.

After the calling of the Peterborough game yesterday the Kingston management wired soon after to ask the Petes to play in the Limestone City tomorrow night. It was impossible for the local crew to field a team then and so the game goes over for a while.

A number of Peterborough fans plan to sees Babe Ruth do his stuff at the Leafs Stadium tomorrow. Ruth has been hitting homers faster than ever before in his history and the Toronto crowd stood a good chance of seeing the Babe step into one tomorrow.

Belleville had a nice win over Deloro in the Quinte City yesterday. "Hoot" Gibson, who beat the Kingston Ponies a week ago blanked Deloro 3 to 0 and this is the first Central League twirler to hang up two wins. Gibson held the hard-hitting Smelters to four hits and had the edge in a pitching duel with Vaughn Jack while Belleville played errorless ball behind him.

The victory grabbed by Belleville at the expense of Deloro yesterday puts the Railroaders in undisputed possession of second place, a half game behind Oshawa Motors who are the only undefeated team in the loop. The standing is:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Oshawa	2	0	1000
Belleville	2	1	.667
Peterborough	1	1	.500
Deloro	0	1	.000
Kingston	0	2	.000

Saturday's program is full of interesting possibilities. Wins for Belleville at Oshawa and for the Petes here would leave Belleville, Oshawa, and Peterborough all tied for first place. If Oshawa and the Petes win, the Motorists will still have a half game lead and Belleville and Peterborough would be tied for second. The only possibilities you can figure out for yourself.

Belleville used a new outfield combination yesterday, Palmer being used in right field while Sammy Green, formerly of the Pointe Anne team ,covered left. Boudreau was off the Deloro line up, Burgess the new outfielder getting a chance to play. The use of Jack on the rubber by Deloro yesterday probably means that either Jack Shea or Carl Wood will be asked to take on the job of subduing the Petes here Saturday. Wood is still attending Collegiate here.

Lambert Collins, second string catcher for the Petes last year, was behind the bat for Deloro yesterday and will likely do the receiving here on Saturday.

Rain Forces Postponement of Light Heavyweight Championship Match

NEW YORK, May 31 (Canadian Press). — Tommy Loughran's schedule of three light heavyweight title defences in two weeks, a problem too difficult for the New York Athletic Commission to solve at one sitting, got out of hand entirely yesterday when rain forced postponement until next Wednesday night of the title-holder's fifteen-round battle with Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, at Ebbets Field.

Loughran was scheduled to open the rapid-fire series of fifteen round matches last night, and if successful against Latzo, fight Leo Lomski on June 13, and Jimmy Slattery the following night. Now the lineup calls for the Latzo match on June 6, with dates for the second and third frays resting in the laps of the boxing fathers.

The tangle is made more puzzling by a minor battle between Promoters Tex Rickard and Humbert J. Fugazy for Loughran's services. Although the Madison Square Garden impresario holds an option on the champion's services until November 1, the Commission sanctioned Tommy's matches with Latzo and Lomski for Fugazy, but ordered Tommy to continue his fistic marathon by engaging Slattery for Rickard June 14. The postponement leaves Loughran with three title fights of fifteen rounds each during a period of eight days.

DETROIT ENTRY FIRST IN AIR

Left Bettis Field Yesterday in National Elimination Balloon Race.

Six TAKE OFF.

PITTSBURGH, May 31.— (Canadian Press.)— The first balloon to take the air in the national elimination balloon race, the Detroit News entry, left Bettis Field at 5.10 p.m. Eastern Standard time, yesterday.

The bag was piloted by William C. Naylor, Detroit, with Russell Wherrett, Detroit, as his assistant. The balloon started in an easterly direction.

The Detroit No. 4, second of the bags to take the air, left the field at 5.04 p.m. Eastern Standard time. It also headed eastward. The pilot was George Heineman and the aide was E. J. Johnson, both of Grosse Isle, Mich.

The third bag to get away, the Army No. 3, piloted by Lieut. Paul Evert, left the field at 5.08 and soared high in the air to the northeast. Lieut. U. C. Ent was Evert's aide.

The sun broke through the clouds as the balloons rose and was shining brightly by the time the Gardner 8, the Gardner Motor Company entry, left the ground at 513. H. E. Honeywell, Clayton, Mo., was piloting the balloon with A. C. Hoskins, St. Louis, as aide.

The Goodyear V., was released at 5.18, the fifth entry to take off. W. T. Van Orman, Akron, Ohio, the pilot, and his aide, W. W. Morton, of Akron, tossed out several bags of ballast, as they started. Four minutes later the Sun-Tole Pittsburgher, piloted by Sergeant W. Bennett, Dayton, Ohio, with Walter Chambers, Pittsburgh.

THISTLE LOST TO C. G. E. IN LEAGUE MATCH

After Two Minutes' Play Mitchell Bulged the Net With a Fast Drive.

C.G.E. 1, THISTLE 0.

Second Half Was Very Interesting—Both Elevens Tried Hard to Get Goals.

The Canadian General soccer team added another two points to their league total last evening when the Thistle went down to defeat by the small margin of one goal to nothing in a hard-fought battle from beginning to finish. In the early stages of the encounter, Burgess (who has been the star performer this season) drew out the defence to allow Mitchell the opportunity to beat Bolton. A good crowd witnessed the game.

Fergusson Injured.

The C.G.E. won the toss and compelled the Jags to face the sun. Each goal went under a bombardment. In one of these attacks, Fergusson was injured and went off the field to recover. Combination was the next order of play in both forward lines which produced interesting movements around the goal areas. Clarke finishing very poorly when in an excellent position to score.

Mitchell's Snappy Goal.

A break-away on the C.G.E. left terminated in McLeod allowing Burgess to make an opening for the centre forward to bulge the net with a lightning drive. A few minutes later Blowers tested the Thistle custodian with a hard shot that was held smart by his hands. Play continued in the vicinity of the Thistle goal, where the defense held the elusive C.G.E. forwards in check, although three flag kicks came in succession without any result.

Thistle in Quandary.

No matter how the Thistle manoeuvered their position to gain progress near the C.G.E. goal, the opposing defense always appeared and fed the waiting forwards accurately to keep the Thistle full-backs on the run. Play was in mid-field when the thirty-five minutes was announced. C.G.E. 1, Thistle 0.

HALF TIME

On resuming, the exchanges were of an even nature with the Thistle coming more into the game through swinging the ball from wing to wing. For a long period the play ran from end to end with each goal-keeper being called upon to save his citadel.

Tactics Become Interesting.

On one occasion McPhate dribbled through the defence to miss by inches, then Fergusson tested Wade in goal, but the attacks were only spasmodic, while the C.G.E. attack never failed to make use of the openings provided by their half-backs.

Bolton Brilliant.

Time and again the forwards would let drive for goal but found Bolton unbeatable. He preferred to handle the high shots which rained from all angles and picked up the ground shots with ease. A lively session ensued near the finish when the Thistle raised a last-minute rally that was unfruitful. During this attack, free-kicks were given in abundance. The C.G.E. held their lead until the finish. Canadian General 1, Thistle 0.

C.G.E.—Jack Wade, goal; F. Wade and Grant backs; Mann, Robb and Blowers, halves; Clarke, Dawson, Mitchell, Laidler and Burgess, forwards.

Thistle.—Bolton, goal; McLeod and Hyslop, full-backs; Binks, Bromley and Houstin, halves; Armstrong, Hallam, Fergusson, W. Beggs and T. McPhate, forwards.

Referee—Alex. McKinley.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

"WIFE SAVERS" WALLACE BEERY AND RAYMOND HATTON'S LATEST LAUGH FEAST, OPENS AT THE CAPITOL TO-DAY.

The greatest human theme of the motion picture is—laughter.

That's the belief of Ralph Cedar, thee director who made 'Wife Savers' the Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton comedy presented at the Capitol tonight.

Cedar regards it as a priivlege to frame a magnificent comedy, a picture that will make the world laugh and forget care and trouble, a picture such as "Wife Savers."

"Laughter is health, mentally and physically," says Cedar, "if all men could laugh genuinely we would have no problem of wars between nations. There is no greater gift than humor."

And further, Cedar says:

"Human bits of life that are pathetic in themselves are the basis of true comedy.

"In 'Wife Savers', you see a Beery as an American doughboy left behind his comrades after the armistice to work out a debt, upon orders of his superior officer, Raymond Hatton.

"You see him in moments of love, moments that border on pathos, you see him in danger. Yet all of these situations that skirt the hem of tragedy are gems of humor, made so by the odd twist of life that compels us to laugh at the man who slips on a banana peel."

Supporting Beery and Hatton in this massive comedy spectacle which for fun, is in a class with "Behind the Front," "We're In the Navy Now," "Fireman Save My Child," the other Beery-Hatton comedies, are ZaSu Pitts, Sally Blane, Ford Sterling, August Tollaire, Tom Kennedy and George Y. Harvey.

AT THE REGENT.

"BLOOD WILL TELL." NEW FOX PRODUCTION, IS A WESTERN STORY OF ROMANCE AND SWIFT-MOVING ACTION.

The first opportunity for a motion picture company to shoot the covered bridge, near Sonora, California, designed by General Grant in 1858, came recently when the Buck Jones company was in location for "Blood Will Tell," Fox Films production, which opens an engagement of three days at the Regent Theatre to-day.

The bridge, not completed until 1863, spans the Stanislaus River near Burns Ferry, and is covered to protect it from the huge snow slides.

In these scenes Buck does some of his most daring action. Trapped on the bridge, with the temperature hovering around 110, Buck dives headlong into the icy mountain river.

"Blood Will Tell" is a colorful story adapted to the screen by Paul Gangelin from Adele Buffington's novel of the same name. Ray Flynn directed the production.

In the cast are Kathryn Perry, Lawford Davidson, Harry Gripp, Harry Cording, Bob Kortman, William Caress, Buck Moulton and Austin Jewel.

Coasting down a mountain side at terrific speed, crouched on top of a huge slab of granite, is one of the many thrills that Buck Jones injects in his new picture.

Buck, in a last desperate dash for freedom, spies this huge slab of granite, tottering on the brink of the mountain side. Casting all misgivings aside, Buck flings himself headlong on this huge rock and starts on his perilous dash for freedom.

None the worse for his hasardous ride, Buck strikes like lightning and is able to throw the desperadoes into confusion.

In "Blood Will Tell," a pet parrot plays quite an important role.

After many hours of tedious rehearsals Director Flynn gave the orders to shoot and was very gratified to see the parrot go through its paces like a veteran. During the filming of the picture Polly endeared itself to the entire company.

Meanwhile, five men employed, in connection with the Bunion Derby began back pay suits totalling $2,971.60.

Pyle's statement said:

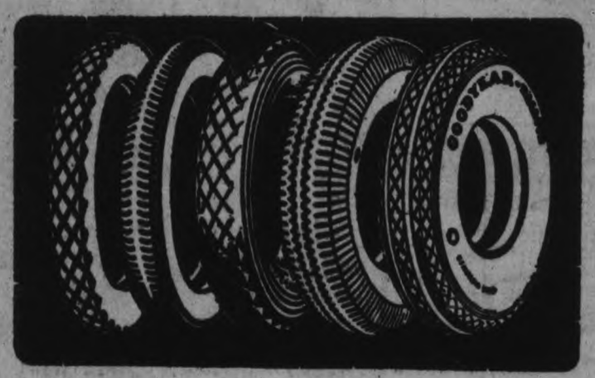
Now Everyone Can Have the Tires He Wants



FOR a couple of years some car owners had to get along with short-mileage, troublesome tires.

Now it's altogether different. Better selling methods, bigger sales, have brought Goodyear Tires down to where everyone can afford to buy them.

And, of course, it's admitted that Goodyears are far and away the best buy on the market, especially when they can be bought at a price as low as you were asked to pay for "cheap" tires.

WOMEN FAVOR MOTOR BOATING

Motor boating among women is becoming popular in England following the lead given by the Duchess of York in presenting a trophy for motor-boat racing. Many girls are taking up the sport. Miss Violet Cordery, the racing autoist, has just purchased a boat, and Miss Carstairs, winner of the Duke of York motor-boat race trophy in 1926, has purchased a new boat, which she may use in her proposed trip across the Atlantic.

PETERBOROUGH MAN RECEIVES DEGREE

Bruce Gray is McGill University Bachelor of Science.

At the graduation ceremony of McGill University which was held yesterday in the Capitol Theatre, Montreal, Bruce Gray of Peterborough received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering, and Elsie Caroline Ogilvie of Lakefield received her certificate on completion of her course of training in Administration in Schools of Nursing.

More than 400 degrees were conferred at the ceremony, which was marked by all the traditional academic pomp and dignity which has characterized McGill convocations for many years past.

Long before the hour when the graduates proceeded to the theatre they could be seen strolling about the campus in their gowns with hoods of various colors. Professors in their hoods and gowns from many different institutions of learning in all parts of the world added to a scene that had about it genuine vividness and color.

Added significance was given to the evet by the presence of the distinguished men who received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. These were Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, chairman of the Board of Governors, who delivered the convocation address; Sir Wilfred T. Grenfell, famous for his humanitarian and missionary labors on the Labrador Coast, and Dr. William Reid Blair, director of the New York Zoological Park.

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, May 31.—(Canadian Press).—Municipal dressing stations to-day were caring for 40 persons wounded in bloody fighting between police with fixed bayonets and students participating in anti-Italian demonstrations last night. NORWEGIAN GOVERNMENT PLAN TO SEARCH FOR LOST DIRIGIBLE

Polar Explorers To Take Full Charge of the Expedition.

WILL USE PLANES.

Charter Coal Barge For Transportation of Navy Aeroplanes.

OSLO, May 31 (A.P.).—Plans for a new auxiliary expedition to search for General Umberto Nobile and his companions on the ill-fated dirigible Italia, have been approved by the Norwegian government. The steamer Ingefour, which is ordinarily engaged in the coal trade at Svalbard, has been taken over for the transport of one, possibly two, navy airplanes. These will be piloted by Captain Riiser Larsen, who has charge of all the rescue plans, and Lieut. Leif Dietrichson, both of whom accompanied Captain Raold Amundsen on his Polar expedition in 1925.

The Ingefour will probably be ready to leave for the north Friday. She is a ship of 6,300 tons, strongly built and accustomed to forge ahead through the ice. She will likely act as a mother ship to the airplanes, proceeding along the coast while the aviators make short scouting trips across the ice-bound wastes.

Norway is making every effort to send aid to the Italian aeronauts, but the great difficulty is in coming to any definite conclusion as to where the Italia may have drifted or come down. The general belief here is that the dirigible is not now in the air.

Lieut. Luetho Holm, a skilful Norwegian aviator, is now aboard the sealer Hobby with his airplane, bound for Spitsbergen. He will search the northern section of Spitsbergen, following out plans drawn up by Captain Aiiser Larsen and the Ministry of Defense.

It is thought that the outcome of his investigations is what the Italian government is waiting for prior to approving a larger expedition. Nevertheless, the Norwegian government is of the opinion that steps should be taken immediately because of the dire necessity of an early rescue and the possibly long distances the searching parties may have to traverse before they come in touch, if they ever do, with the Nobile party.

DR. H. V. DOBSON GIVES ADDRESS

Local Physician Among Speakers at Medical Association Convention.

REPORTS PRESENTED.

KINGSTON, May 31 (Canadian Press).—The reading of papers on technical subjects occupied the attention of the Ontario Medical Association in session here at their meeting this morning. Dr. H. V. Dobson of Peterborough dealt with the histamine test of gastric secretion, and Dr. R. W. Manger of Toronto led a discussion on the application of the test in clinical and research work.

Yesterday afternoon the delegates took a boat trip down the river, and after the election of officers heard a number of papers and reports.

In connection with the question of drugless practitioners, a report declares that they are very active in spreading their views, with the object of creating a public opinion in their favor which will secure for them more favorable legislation. The drugless healers' views for the most part are unsound, the report states.

Last evening the annual dinner dance of the association was held and an address was delivered by Dr. Weston Krupp of Woodstock, president of the association.

KIWANIS WINS JUNIOR GAME

Defeats Lockworks 12-1 in City League Baseball Match.

HEAVY HITTING COUNTS.

The Kiwanis Juniors defeated the Lockworks team to the tune of 12 runs to one in a Junior City League baseball fixture last night. The Lockworks are a new entry in the league and with more practice and playing together they are expected to put up a much better game. They fell down last night at bat, and their fielding was on a par with that of the winners.

The Kiwanis team hammered the ball hard and collected 18 hits. Every one on the team did his share of the hitting, while for the losers Murray collected two out of the three. The game was played in James Stevenson park and with the rain late in the afternoon good baseball was an impossibility.

The Kiwanis started their scoring in the first when they put across five runs. They came back with one in the second and then failed to score until the fifth, when they put across four runs followed by two in the sixth. The Lockworks scored their only tally in the seventh innings.

WAS VERY WEAK NERVOUS AND MELANCHOLY

Mrs. Geo. McKenzie, Campbellford, Ont., writes:—"A short time ago I was troubled very badly with my heart and nerves, the cause of it, I think, was my going through the change of life.

"I was very weak and melancholy, and so nervous I could hardly bear to hear a clock ticking, and I did not sleep well.

"I was advised to try MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS so I sent at once for a box; took them and got another, and before they were all gone I felt good, my nerves are fine, I do not mind any noise, and I can sleep well. I cannot recommend them too highly to those suffering as I did."

Price 50c. a box at all druggists and dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

AMERICANS LOSE TO OPPONENTS

Defeated By the Anglo-French Group in International Tennis Finals.

AUTEUIL, France, May 31 (AP).—Helen Wills and Francis T. Hunter, women's tennis champion, and No. 2 ranking male player of America, were easily defeated yesterday in the mixed doubles final for the International Hard Court Tennis Championship, by the Anglo-French combination of Eileen Bennett and Henri Cochet.

Hard stroking by Miss Wills and Hunter won them the first set, but superior court generalship, team-work, position play and sharp shooting enabled their opponents to carry the next two and the match, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. Cochet and Miss Bennett, a polished and perfectly synchronized team, already hold the mixed doubles championship of the United States which they won there last summer.

By their defeat yesterday, Miss Wills and Hunter passed entirely out of the doubles picture as Helen previously met defeat in women's doubles paired with Penelope Anderson, and Hunter, with his partner, Brookes of Australia, had been eliminated in men's doubles, both still survive in singles, however, and in the next round of men's play, Hunter is to encounter Cochet.

Penelope Anderson, slender Richmond Va., girl, who ranks seventh among United States women players, turned back the Australian girl. Louis Bickerton, 6-3, 12-14, 6-2, after more than three hours of play. Both were on the verge of collapse as a result of the 26-game battle for the second set, but Miss Anderson had the grit and stamina to pull out the deciding set. By winning she reached the quarter finals. Hundreds of French spectators remained to watch the plucky fight.

Singles Feature.

Another singles feature was the straight set victory of the Argentine, Ronald Boyd, over Jean Grandquillot of France, 7-5, 6-3, 6-1. Boyd thus reached the quarter finals without loss of a single set and without being hard-pressed as yet by any of his opponents. His next antagonist will be the winner of the forthcoming fourth round "natural" between Cochet and Hunter.

In the mixed doubles final, Cochet and Miss Bennett were favorites from the start, despite the concentration of hard driving power on the American side of the net. In the first set the powerful attack featuring the ground strokes of Wills and Hunter told, breaking through Cochet's second service to give the American pair the lead. Helen then dropped her own delivery, but she and her partner ran off the next two games and the set, 6-3.

Helen and her partner made a brave stand at the start of the third set when after losing the first game on Miss Wills' service, they took a 2-1 lead by breaking Miss Bennett's and winning Hunter's. Cochet then evened it up, however, and games stood 3-3 after Miss Wills and Miss Bennett again had lost their services, but at that point the Anglo-French attack took on increased deceptiveness and in the last three games, Hunter and Miss Wills could score but two points. Two of the games were breaks through their services, Hunter's being cracked at love.

PETES REFUSE TO PLAY TO-MORROW

Consider League Race in Regard to Kingston Game as Decidedly Unfair.

Although at a C.O.B. meeting held in Kingston last night the Petes were ordered to play Wednesday's postponed game with the Ponies in Kingston to-morrow night, the local management regards the order as grossly unfair and will refuse to send a team, in fact it would be almost impossible to do so.

Kingston called yesterday's game off with very little excuse, and as the Petes were not notified until they were about to leave, most of the players lost half a day's work. To play to-morrow would mean all day Friday off and Saturday morning as well, with a game here Saturday afternoon, and there is absolutely no justification for that condition, seeing that the season is just starting. Although the Petes notified the Kingston management yesterday that they could not send a team ,the executive went ahead last night and ordered the game played, but the Petes decided to-day to refuse to obey the order.

The revised schedule adopted last night still books Peterborough for a morning game here on July 2 with Belleville and an afternoon game on the same day with Deloro, another piece of injustice that has the effect of making the afternoon fixture a present for the Smelters.

IN MEMORIAM
REID.—In loving memory of Mrs. William Burley Reid, who died May 31, 1926.
Yes, she sleeps, but not forever,
In a lone and silent grave;
Blessed promise she shall waken,
Jesus died the lost to save.
In the dawning of the morning
When the troubled night is o'er
All the buds in beauty blooming
Will rejoice to see her more.

IN MEMORIAM.
REID — In loving memory of our dear daughter, Edna Stabler, wife of B. Reid, who passed away two years ago to-day, May 31, 1926.
There is someone who misses you sadly,
And has found the years long since you went,
There is someone who misses you daily,
Though she tries to be brave and content.
Times moves on and we are reminded
Of a day our hearts were crushed,
When God took you, oh, so quickly,
And we all in our gloom were thrust.
Time may come and bring many changes,
Fresh with every coming year,
But your memory we will cherish
In the hearts that loved you here.
—Sadly missed by Mother and Father, and Brothers and Sisters.

MUCH BUSINESS IS TRANSACTED BY COMMITTEES

City Will Improve Confederation Square Before Monument is Completed.

WALK AND FLAG POLE.

Drinking Fountain Will Take Place of Brown Monument—Paving For Reid Street.

Many matters of a routine nature were discussed at the meetings of the Finance Committee, Board of Works, and Parks Committee of the City Council held last night, Ald. Walter Stocker, chairman of the Board of Works in particular using the evening to hold a clean-up, disposing of every outstanding item on the file.

Most important were the deliberations of the Board of Works. It was decided, among other matters, to move the Edward Brown monument from its present location to another site in Confederation Square and make some attempt to prevent it from weathering any further, and also to build a sidewalk across the square from the north-east corner to a point on Murray street. The war memorial will be immediately back of the junction of this with the walk running from the south-east corner.

Ald. J. M. Greene was the advocate of this addition to the park work, which he said would complete the lay-oue. Ald. Stocker asked where the money would come from, but this detail was left for the Council to settle on Monday evening. The cost will be about $800, depending on the width of the walk. Ald. Hamilton proposed that it be the same width as the present walk, but Mayor Denne remarked that it might mean cutting too many trees, and the aldermen who are on the memorial committee were appointed a committee to deal with the matter.

The paving of Reid street from Hall street to McDonnel street will be advertised at once. This, a matter of two blocks, will link up the Chemong road, now being paved, with the south-west part of the city and take some of the traffic off McDonnel street. At the same time, curbing on King street will be advertised as a local improvement.

The confusion now existing on Crescent street, which is numbered from both ends and on which several numbers occur twice, will be corrected by renumbering that part from Romaine to Perry street, which is now numbered as part of Lock street, to conform with the rest of Crescent street.

City Engineer Parsons was instructed to report what it would cost to connect the houses on Sophia street, east of Rogers street, and on Armour road, with the system which is being considered to serve the rest of the low part of the east ward. James street, Maria street, and the southern parts of Rogers and Mark streets are lower than the outfall sewer passing through along the old Cobourg Railway embankment, and the Council is considering putting in a pumping station. Sophia street and Armour road would have to be connected by way of the road along the canal and along Maria street, a matter of several hundred yards, and the engineer expressed the opinion that the cost would be prohibitive for the number of houses to be served.

The decisions arrived at by the Mayor and engineer in a conference with representatives of North Monaghan, by which the city will do certain work on the boundary roads and the township do other portions, were approved by the board.

The Finance Committee gave a few minutes to a recent suggestion that the fee for selling cigarette be lowered. Some of the aldermen thought that it should be lowered; Ald. Lowe recounting the number of taxes which a merchant already has to pay, and Ald. Huffman asking why certain other articles should not be taxed as well as cigarettes. With the fee lowered, they contended, an attempt could be made to see that every person selling cigarettes paid it. Ald. Greene and Cotton wished to have a survey made first to find out if there are merchants selling cigarettes without a license, so that the council might have all the information before considering the matter. This course was adopted.

An account which the Council decided not to pay at a previous meeting, that for crossing maintenance at Romaine and George street, was approved last night. It appears that under the order of the Railway Board by which the city put through the street some years ago, crossing the railway, the city was ordered to pay half the cost of upkeep. No bills had been received for any previous work, and the aldermen, on learning the facts, ascribed this to an oversight by the railway.

Horse shoe pitching is becoming a major sport, and demanding space in the city parks, along with baseball, football, etc. Arthur Moffatt wrote on behalf of the Kiwanis Club to ask for ground in King Edward Park to lay out a pitch for this game, and the chairman of the Park Committee, Ald. J. M. Greene, was instructed to meet him and make arrangements.

To complete the work arising out of the removal of the Brown monument in Confederation Square, Ald. Greene was authorized to arrange for the installation of a drinking fountain to replace the one contained in the monument, which will be disconnected. He was also instructed to procure a flagpole ("The highest you can get," was Ald. Hamilton's suggestion) and flag for Confederation Square and to have them erected, some place near the war memorial, before the memorial is unveiled.

Ald. Greene reported that owing to the late season and the rapid growth of the grass he had adjusted the contracts of Messrs. Hayward and Creighton, and given Mr. Hayward the task of cutting the grass in Victoria Park and Confederation Square, while Mr. Creighton will look after James Stevenson Park. This was approved.

City Must Pay Sales Tax To Dominion On Gravel It Digs And Tile It Makes

Among the many ramifications of the Sales Tax is one that proved a disagreeable surprise to the City Council when it was drawn to their attention some months ago. Last night they received official notice of the matter from the Collector of Customs and Excise here, but decided to leave matter over until they have more light on it. According to the act as interpreted by the excise officials to the aldermen, the city in common with all other municipalities, must pay sales tax on the gravel it digs from its own pits, the stone it crushes in its own crusher, and the sewer pipe, etc., made by its own employees for use in the city projects, just as though the gravel and stone, and those sewer pipes had been bought by the city from some manufacturer for use in that way. Other municipalities are said to be considering taking the matter to the courts, and Peterborough may wait until a decision has been handed down.

POLICE CHECK MANY DRIVERS

Ask Hundreds For Permits — Two Fined For Reckless Driving.

FORGERY CHARGE LAID.

Results are being seen in the traffic conditions all over the city of the police department's efforts to check up on speeders and reckless drivers. Last night hundreds of drivers were stopped and asked to produce their permits, and from the reports submitted it has been found that many drivers failed to carry their permits or did not have one. Every morning Chief of Police Newhall lays information against people who are breaking the Ontario Highway Act.

This morning in police court Gordon Dundass and Bastine Gilbert pleaded guilty to reckless driving. Dundass was fined $20 and costs and had his chauffeur's license cancelled for one month. Gilbert was fined $25 and costs.

Alex. Elliott appeared for Dundass, who was arraigned yesterday on a more serious charge, but this morning Chief Newhall withdrew the former charge as he had found it impossible to get sufficient evidence to convict and laid the charge of reckless driving.

Joseph Wearing appeared for Gilbert, who was alleged to have driven recklessly on Simcoe Street last night at 11.00 o'clock. Gilbert was arrested with another local citizen who pleaded not guilty to being intoxicated and had the charge dismissed by the Magistrate, although two constables gave evidence that he was in an intoxicated condition when he was arrested. He denied the charge, and stated that he had no intoxicating liquor to drink last night.

Frederick Bran, a 16-year-old youth, appeared on charges of passing a forged cheque and carrying a concealed weapon. He was remanded on $2,000 bail until Tuesday, June 5th.

COUNCIL PASSES IN NOVA SCOTIA

Upper Chamber's Existence Ends After Fifty Year Struggle.

WAS 170 YEARS OLD.

HALIFAX, June 1 (Canadian Press).—The Legislative Council of Nova Scotia passed out of existence at midnight last night in accordance with the Abolition Bill passed last session. This historical upper chamber, 170 years old is extinct after contesting its abolition by both political parties for the past 50 years and Quebec is now the only province in Canada maintaing the bi-cameral system of government.

BRIDE AND GROOM RECEIVE GIFTS

One Hundred Friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. Eason Hold Shower.

KEENE, June 1.—Tuesday, April 22, On Tuesday evening, April 22, a a party of friends and neighbors numbering about one hundred gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Eason and presented his son Leonard and his bride (nee Rose Manly) with a shower.

A very delightful evening was spent in cards and dancing which was kept up till the wee small hours of the morning. The large number of beautiful and useful presents showed the respect and esteem in which the young couple were held.

Canadian Present At Labor Congress

GENEVA, June 1.—Canadian Press. — Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was conspicuous among the speakers at the International Labor Conference yesterday who urged stringent national legislation to prevent accidents so numerous in industrial countries. Many of the speakers praised the "safety first" movement inaugurated in the United States.

Mr. Moore declared that the major contributing factor in accidents was the long period of hours demanded from workers in monotonous industries and mass production. He also said that in new countries industrially, such as Canada, there was a tendency to place untrained workers in charge of machinery.

CARRIER CIRCUIT TO BE USED HERE

Bell Company Instals It to Care for Increased Business to Toronto.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada is expanding rapidly its use of the carrier type of long distance telephony. During the first half of 1928 it is planned to put these systems in service on many of the main long distance lines in Ontario and Quebec.

By the use of these systems two conversations may be carried on at one time over one pair of wires. The first conversation, of course, travels along the wires as in ordinary telephony. The second one, passing through the carrier equipment in the central office, is transformed to a different frequency, or wave-length, from the usual telephone current. In this form, it is merely guided by the physical wires and does not interfere with the first current. At the other end of the line, similar equipment in the central office returns it to normal telephone frequency so that it travels over the circuits from the switchboard to telephone in the ordinary way.

This recent development of practical telephone science will be put in service in this district, at first between Peterborough and Toronto.

Installation of the necessary central office equipment at the local long distance office is now in progress at a total cost of $3200. Long distance traffic over these lines is particularly heavy and in order to maintain the present fast service the carrier is being installed at once, avoiding delay which would otherwise be necessary for the construction of new actual wire circuits.

SHIPS COLLIDE; SAILORS DROWN

Several Members of Crew of Freighter Lose Life as She Sinks.

THIRTY MEN SAVED.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 1 (Canadian Press)—An undetermined number of the crew of the freighter Kershaw, variously estimated from seven to twelve, were drowned here this morning, when their ship was rammed and sunk by the Boston-bound Dollar liner President Garfield. Thirty members of the Kershaw's crew, including Captain Brooks, were rescued.

The collision occurred a few miles off East Chop at 12.30 o'clock with a clear sky and a smooth sea. According to the Dollar Line officials, the Garfield struck the Kershaw just forward of the bridge. It rolled over and held together for a few moments, then broke apart and went down in eighty feet of water.

The Kershaw, a Merchants and Miners Transportation steamer of 2,641 tons, was bound from Boston to Norfolk, while the President Garfield of the Dollar Line, was bound from New York to Boston, and was completing a round-world trip.

The Garfield stood by for several hours after the crash and then anchored off Vineyard Haven harbor. Except for dented plates about the stern there was little outward evidence of the accident.

COLLEGIATE CADETS PRAISED BY INSPECTORS AND OTHERS AFTER SUCCESSFUL REVIEW

Boys Make Fine Showing in Manoeuvres, Rifle Drill and Exercises.

MANY SPECTATORS.

Col. S. H. Hill, Director of Cadet Services For Canada, Is Inspecting Officer.

Congratulated on their splendid showing by Colonel S. H. Hill, Director of Cadet Services, National Defence Headquarters, whose presence was a signal honor, as well as by Captain V. W. S. Heron, District Cadet Officer, M.D. No. 3, their principal, H. R. H. Kenner, and Chairman E. Bruce Fowler, of the Board of Education, some two hundred and twenty-five cadets of the Peterborough Collegiate triumphantly marched from Confederation Park this morning having scored heavily in their annual inspection, while a large gallery of representative citizens and students looked admiringly on. The inspecting officers, escorted by Col. D. J. Laurie ,of the 4th Field Brigade, Canadian Artillery; Lt.-Col. W. Gordon Hall, V.D., O.C. of the Peterborough Rangers: Major H. Dodds, O.C. No. 3 Company, C.M.G.C; Major C. H. Stuart, O.C. No. 3 Squadron of the Prince of Wales' Dragoons; Captain D. A. Loomis, M.C., of the Prince of Wales' Dragoons; and Lieutenant John R. Heron, of the C.M.G.C., had conducted a thorough inspection and had found the corps an efficient one, from start to finish, the student soldiers had conducted themselves with true military accuracy and precision and had ably upheld standards of past years.

At eleven o'clock the entire corps faced the saluting base ,and thence, for fully an hour, company drill, platoon manoeuvres, Strathcona exercises and other features of the cadet program were demonstrated with officers and men showing good working knowledge of what was required of them.

Cadet Major Harry Westbrook, first in command, was ably assisted by Cadet Captain Hedley Vicars and together they shared credit for the splendid showing with the leaders of the four platoons. Cadet Lieutenants L. Bath of No. 1; J. Hutchison of No .2; J. Dunkerley of No. 3; and D. Hall of No. 4; also Bandmaster Arnold Spencer and Lieutenant of Signals Corps James Gimblett, and Company Sergeant Major Jack Clayton.

To Q.M.S.I. T. Thomas of the R.C.R., credit is also due, for he it was who gave valauble assistance in early training days, as well as on the field to-day. Another pleasing feature was the presence of Cadet officers from sister corps in Lindsay and Havelock.

Following the company drill, the commanders of the various platoons conducted rifle drill, extended order, and marching formations, while No. 4 Platoon put on a special series of Strathcona exercises which met with genuine approval from the inspectors. From the north-east corner of the park a group of signallers communicated with a second group on the steps of Murray Street Baptist Church.

When it was all over, the four platoons formed around the inspecting officers, where brief complimentary addresses were delivered. Colonel Hill was the first to speak, paying tribute to the splendid work of the P.C.I. Cadets, noting improvement since his last visit two years ago. "But there is nothing so well done that it cannot be better done," said he, in urging the students to keep up the good work. He proudly referred to the winning of the King's Shield by Canadian cadets in competition with those from other parts of the Empire, and told of the prizes which accompany such a victory.

On behalf of the Board of Education, its chairman, E. Bruce Fowler, corroborated the complimentary remarks previously expressed, stating that the Board recognized the value of cadet training, not for its military advantages, but for the development in each cadet. He drew a hearty burst of applause on announcing that the afternoon would be a half-holiday.

An address provocative of deep thought and worthy action was that delivered at the Kiwanis luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day at noon, when the Rev. F. N. Stapleford, of the Neighborhood Workers' Association, Toronto, spoke to an encouragingly large turnout of club members, augmented by a happy company of guests. Introduced by Dr. G. R. Paterson, Mr. Stapleford outlined, in intensely interesting manner, the growth in scope of social work in communities, with special emphasis on the principles which make it the worthy enterprise that it has proven to be. Among the guests at the luncheon was Mrs. Mary Knox, president of the Big Sisterhood and chairman of the Mothers' Allowance Board, Peterborough, while officers officiating at the Cadet Corps inspection, guests of Lieut. J. R. Heron, included Colonel S. H. Hill, V.D., director of physical training and Cadet Services, N.D.H.Q.; Lieut.-Col. Gordon Hall, V.D., officer commanding Peterborough Rangers; Major H. Police Search For Second Winnipeg Child To Disappear Within a Month

WINNIPEG, Man., June 1. — Canadian Press. — The second Winnipeg child to disappear within a month, May Walker, 12-year-old girl, has been missing since Tuesday. The police have made a rigid search of the city but to no avail. The child left home to return to school after lunch on Tuesday but did not report for her classes. Although rumors that the girl had been seen were received by the police they were found to be without foundation.

On the afternoon of her disappearance the girl is stated to have called at a friend's house, and borrowed a dollar.

A little more than three weeks ago Winnipeg was startled by the disappearance of 4-year-old Julia Johnson. The police started an extensive search but so far the child's whereabouts remain a mystery.

Premier Baxter anticipates visiting various places in England and Scotland while away.

Amateur Makes 'Oner' At Jasper Course

JASPER, Alta., June 1 (Canadian Press).—For the first time in the history of Jasper Park Lodge golf course, an amateur has made a hole in one. The congratulations are showering on Robin Bellirving of Powell River, B. C. The feat is all the more spectacular because it was accomplished at the 15th hole which is known as the "bad baby". Mr. Bellirving was playing over the course this afternoon with George Stevenson of Hamilton, Ontario, against Dr. H. B. Lee of Nigeria, British West Africa, and Gordon Barr of Jasper. Lee did the bad baby in two and the game up to that time was 80, dangerously close that Bellirving had to accomplish the impossible. "He ought to be able to handle bad babys" said his wife, "he has brought up four."

ROSENEATH MAN CUTS HIS THROAT

Wilbur Blodgett Dies in Cobourg General Hospital as Result.

ROSENEATH, June 1 — With a deep, self inflicted gash in his throat Wilbur Blodgett, 50 year old Alnwick Township farmer, was found lying upon the floor of his barn early Tuesday morning. He was rushed to Cobourg General Hospital but passed away at 3.30 Tuesday afternoon.

Blodgett ate breakfast as usual and went to the barn to do morning chores. A few minutes later, he was found unconscious by a nephew. He has been ill for some time and his rash act is attributed to despondency.

The late Wilbur Blodgett, who lived about one-half mile ,west of Roseneath, formerly conducted a tailor establishment in the village, later taking up farming, where he occupied a farm of one hundred acres. He is survived by a wife, his son, and a daughter, Edwold and Ruby. An inquest will probably be held.

The suicide of Blodgett makes the third in Roseneath within four years. Approximately three and a half years ago, John Braithwaite took his own life by hanging, and slightly over a year ago, Thomas Sandercock committed suicide in the same manner.

SISTER LIVES THERE

TORONTO, June 1. — Canadian Press. — Norman Malcolmson, the 16 year old Irish immigrant boy who lately arrived in Canada from Belfast, and nas been missing from the farm where he was located, near Campbellford, since May 22, will remain at the residence of his uncle, Thomas Hollinger, 206 Coleridge avenue, East York Township, where he arrived on Friday last.

The lad left the farm, it was stated, owing to homesickness, and according to his story he walked more than one hundred miles, sleeping in the open by the roadside two nights and availing himself of occasional motor rides on the journey to Toronto.

His sister, May, who came from Ireland a month ago, has been living with the Hollingers since her arrival, and brother and sister are now re-united. Mr. Hollinger will endeavor to secure employment for the boy in Toronto.

Frau E. Von Isacescu, of Vienna, is said to have been the first woman who attempted to swim the English Channel. She made her first try in 1890.

TWO MEN DIE FOR MURDER

Executed in London This Morning For Killing Country Policemen.

GOOD DETECTIVE WORK.

LONDON, May 31 (Canadian Press).—William Henry Kennedy and Frederick Guy Brown were executed this morning for the murder of Stapleford Abbots in September.

Their arrest and conviction after the murder of the constable in a rural neighborhood was hailed as a great triumph for Scotland Yard. The men were picked up as automobile thieves in January and shortly afterwards were formally charged with murder. The evidence was largely circumstantial but, with three women on the jury, they were convicted on April 27.

Kennedy was executed at Wandsworth Prison and Brown at Pentonville Jail.

UNABLE TO BUY TICKET TO CITY

Former Resident Has Strange Experience in Cadiz, Ohio, Recently.

EXPLANATION OFFERED

The following letter from the Canadian National Railway, addressed to the Chamber of Commerce, Peterborough, offers the only logical explanation of a former Peterborough resident being unable to obtain a tourist ticket from an Ohio point direct to Peterborough. The explanation of the Canadian National Railway is an example of the courteous attention paid by the Railway officials enquiries of any nature as in this case they were in no way involved but, of course, felt, as did the Chamber of Commerce, Peterboro, that all Canadian points possessing tourist significance should be in the minds of tourist and ticket agents of the American railways, particularly ones operating in the northeastern States.

"Your letter of May 26th, addressed to the General Tourist Agent of our Company, has been referred to the undersigned, as we very much appreciate your action in referring the matter to us.

"The city of Cadiz, O., has a population of 23,000 people, and I think that we might quite naturally suppose that the agent of the Pennsylvania R. R., located at that point, would be a man of some enlightment and would take the necessary pains to keep his tariff files up to date. Consequently, we are rather at a loss, as stated to Mr. Buchanan, to account for the inability of the passenger to obtain a quotation on the trip desired and think it very possible that he dealt with some subordinate member of the station staff at Cadiz.

"Peterborough, Ont., has been an authorized summer tourist resort and gateway to summer tourist territory ever since the old Grand Trunk went into the summer tourist business. It is listed, with through fares, in practically every one-way and summer tourist tariff published by the Canadian and United States lines, and there need be no misgivings on your part on that score. I think that this was simply a case of somebody being too lazy or too poorly posted to give the service applied for.

"There is no question but that you will very shortly hear from Mr. Buchanan and that the application for ticket will be given the proper attention."

THE WEATHER

Leafy June is now here — the month of roses and wedding parties, luxuriant grass and shady trees — to many the most beautiful month of the whole year. It was ushered in with a temperature of 43 degrees. The rainfall in May was on the light side, only totalling one inch and one-fifth. The highest temperature during the month was 88 degrees (an unusually high figure), and the lowest 28 degrees. —W. R.

SPEEDS ACROSS OCEAN WASTES IN MONOPLANE

Captain Smith and His Three Companions Make Good Time.

ALL GOING WELL

Some Slight Trouble Experienced With Radio Apparatus

HONOLULU—The Southern Cross landed here at 12.12 p.m. Pacific Coast time.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1 (Canadian Press)—Zooming along ahead of the rising sun over the broad Pacific, the huge monoplane Southern Cross this morning was within striking distance of its goal in a flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, with latest radio reports placing the ship 350 miles from Honolulu.

A radio message from the plane gave the ship's position at 6 a.m. Pacific standard time as 350 miles from Honolulu and the speed 77 knots. If the plane maintained her speed and all continued well, radio men estimated she would drop out of the skies at her destination somewhere between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Pacific time.

Radio Battery Weak

HONOLULU, June 1 (Canadian Press).—The Southern Cross radioed "Guess we are lost. Radio "A" battery went down. Please get ship with receiver. Get our bearing on my 740 wave. Will keep going so they can track us."

Few Preliminaries.

With few preliminaries, the flight got under way from the municipal air port yesterday morning and the seven-ton monoplane and the through the Golden Gate for Honolulu, the first goal on the 7,788 mile flight to Australia.

Captain Kingsford-Smith, commander of the flight, was at the controls with a fellow Australian, Captain C. T. P. Ulm, ready to relieve him at intervals. Lieut. Harry Lyon, former American naval officer, manned the navigation instruments, while James Warner, former United States navy radio operator, looked after the radio apparatus.

Cloudy weather was encountered by the fliers 240 miles out.

NEARING HONOLULU.

The huge monoplane, Southern Cross, which left Oakland, Cal., on Thursday on the start of a 7,788-mile flight to Australia, was within a few miles of its first stopping place, Honolulu, this afternoon. The first leg of the flight is 2,400 miles. The tri-motored Fokker's tanks were filled with 1,200 gallons of gasoline. The trip took seven lives during the Dole flights last summer. Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith is pilot and flight commander, Captain Charles Ulm, co-pilot, James Warner, radio operator, and Lieut. Harry Lyon, navigator. Lyon and Warner are Americans, the two others Australians. The map shows the proposed route.

BLOSSOM SUNDAY CELEBRATED MADOC PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Largest Congregation Since Its Inception Attend Morning Service.

GIRLS' CHOIR

"Flowers False and True", Subject of Address Given by Minister.

MADOC, June 1.—The third annual "Blossom Sunday," was held at St. Peter's Presbyterian Church on last Sunday. The morning congregation was the largest which has assembled at a blossom service since the inception of this special day at St. Peter's. As in the past, the Sunday School attended in a body and occupied the front centre seats. The praise service was led by a girl's choir who, with their many colored dresses, were a fine addition to the Blossom Sunday setting. Two anthems were given by the choir, in one the duet was taken by the Misses Lamoine West and Hazel Carswell.

During the first part of the service the twin children—Carl Adam and Robert Alexander—of Mr. and Mrs. C. McCoy, received the rite of Holy Baptism. No setting could have been more appropriate for the public presentation of these little ones to the Lord than the decorations of blossom and bloom which surrounded them.

The decorations were in charge of the senior girls, who excelled themselves in their wonderful artistic arrangement of the blossoms and bloom. The prettiness of the decorations and the perfume of the apple blossoms were welcoming features to all who attended this Blossom Service. The girls spent Saturday afternoon gathering and arranging the bouquets of blossoms, but the loose decorations had to be put in order on Sunday morning to have them fresh. To the girls who gave Saturday afternoon as well as almost two hours on Sunday morning, great credit is due for the success of the third Blossom Sunday in St. Peter's.

At the morning service the minister, Rev. T. G. Marshall, gave two short talks illustrated by objects which held the rapt attention of the children.

At the evening service, the minister's subject was "Flowers, False and True." He dealt with excuses made by people for not attending church; for not becoming Christians; for not allowing their children to profess Christ. On the time-worn excuse about hypocrites in the church being the means of some taking no part, he said that Romans 14:12 distinctly stated, that each one would be accountable for his own life on the day of judgment, and not the lives of others.

Other Notes

Rev. T. G. Marshall leaves on Monday, June 4, to attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which will convene in Regina, Saskatchewan. The Assembly opens on the 6th and will close about the 14th.

After the General Assembly Mr. Marshall will go West to Alberta, where he will spend two weeks' holidays. Some of the time will be spent in his former charge in Killam, Alberta. While West, Mr. Marshall will give illustrated lectures on Madoc, its industries and surrounding beauty spots.

During the last three Sundays in June, the pulpit of St. Peter's will be occupied by Rev. E. W. Archer, M.A., of Melbourne, Australia.

The Christian Endeavor Society closed for the season on May 28, and before closing instructed that a cheque of $75.00 be sent to the building fund of the Presbyterian Church at Killam, Alberta.

The C. E. Society's delegates to the Summer school in Knox College, which will be held in July, are the Misses Lamoine West and Hazel Carswell.

Next Sunday the minister will be in charge of the day's services as usual. In the afternoon he will address the Tweed Masonic Lodge in St. Andrew's Church at 3 o'clock, on "The Plumb Rule." The evening service in St. Peter's will again be of an evangelistic nature. Subject: "Life's Drifting Ships."

On Monday, May 21, a Cottage Prayer Meeting was held for Mrs. Harper, Sr., at the home of Mrs. S. Smith. There was a good number present. A solo: "In That Beautiful Land," was sung by Mr. L. W. Gillespie, and was greatly appreciated by all.

YOUNG PEOPLE HEAR ADDRESS

Rev. Mr. Eikenaar Gives Talk on Four-Fold Development.

AT WARSAW.

WARSAW, June 1.—The young people of Warsaw, who met in the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening were addressed by the Rev. Mr. Eikenaar, of the Baptist Church, who spoke on the four-fold development, depending on the verse, Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man. He drew an analogy between Jesus' command to these He sent out to begin at Jerusalem, all Judea, to all nations and what young people here may do. First they must see to themselves then help neighbors, those farther away, and then all the world. If one really has a vision, the little duties at home must be done. There is always much work for Jesus at home. Striving for great things will not bring them unless one does what is at hand.

At the close he pleaded that the young people would take life seriously, that they would not give in to the tendency to drift. He pitied those who drifted, and take Jesus for their example and friend.

Mr. Rosborough, the Presbyterian minister, followed up what Mr. Eikenaar had said, stressing the power of prayer, and spoke of the friendship fellowship, and inspiration for old and young, to be gained by prayer.

There were several sentence prayers and a bibical contest at the close of the meeting.

Norman Lemay, of Lakefield, a member of the Boys' Parliament, was to have spoken but was unable to be present.

The next meeting will be held in three weeks, and will deal with education.

WATER SUPPLY AT HIGH SCHOOL TO BE CHANGED

Campbellford Board Decides To Draw Water From Rathbun Well.

NEW FLAG BOUGHT.

Bill Sent to Township Cannot Be Explained By Any Member of Board.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1.—There were just enough members present at the School Board meeting last night to form a quorum. At that it was necessary to wait till after eight o'clock for the last member required for the meeting to start. The members present were: Dr. H. O. Richardson, chairman; Wesley Stevens, secretary; George O'Sullivan, J. C. Birmingham, J. A. Loucks, William Stevens, Charles Benor, J. C. Anderson and Thomas Hall. E. H. Greig, High School principal, was also present, as was C. Massie, the caretaker of the public schools.

Work will begin at once on the alteration of the High School water supply. The drinking water supplied by the school fountain system has not proved very agreeable to the taste, although chemical analysis has shown that it is not impure or in any way injurious to the health. The school grounds will be "finished up" and the baseball diamonds will be laid out on the playgrounds on the north side. There has been a telephone installed in the office of the principal.

In an effort to transact the business of the board with greater despatch, Dr. Richardson, chairman, asked the trustees to refrain from side discussions and to address the chair when they wished to speak. He was of the opinion that business was let slip while the members of the board indulged in side discussions. After his request, the business of the meeting moved more rapidly.

After the reading of the minutes and their adoption, Principal E. H. Greig reported that the telephone had been installed in his office at the school. J. C. Birmingham reported that the property committee had received prices for flags for the public school and had purchased the best one at the price. It was bought for $21.50, and will be used to replace the one which is worn out, and has been in use on the public school staff for a number of years.

The drinking water supply for the High School was the next item for discussion and was presented by Mr. Birmingham. Of the several possible sources, the well on the west side of the street, known as the old Rathburn well, was considered to be the most suitable. A formal agreement between John L. Hay and George Peterson and the board of trustees was approved. The agreement gives permission to dig a trench to the well and use the water for a period of ninety-nine years, the agreement to run with the property. The conditions set down in the agreement are that the well must be cleaned and covered with cement and a new pump installed.

Before any definite agreement is drawn up, the board decided it will have the well cleaned and the water tested for drinking purposes. If it is found suitable, a trial line of a temporary nature will be connected between the well and the automatic pumping system in the school. If the present system will handle the water required, the agreement will be accepted and the proper papers drawn up. It is not expected that the pump will fail to carry the load as the lift is small but there is a considerable length of horizontal pipe through which the water must flow. It is simply to prove that the apparatus will be efficient under the new conditions that the test is being made.

Trustee William Stevens asked for information regarding the account for some $2,000.00 which had been received by the Reeve of the Township

Service will be held every evening for the two weeks at the Presbyterian church and a cordial invitation is extended to all the residents to attend. A Man of Rare Attainment

Honored politically and professionally, during his lifetime, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears here, made a success few have equalled. He was the originator of that great herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the sale of which has, each succeeding year, been greatly increased.

When you feel weak, tire easily, become discouraged quickly and sometimes feel like giving up the struggle, just ask your nearest druggist for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, or "G.M.D.," in fluid or tablets.

Users everywhere laud its praises.

DOCTOR DISCUSSES CHOICE OF SETTLERS

Says Canada's Chief Concern is to See That Right Type Enters.

KINGSTON, June 1.—(Canadian Press)—Problem of immigration of many invalids, physically debilitated and mentally unfit, was referred to by Dr. Weston Krupp, of Woodstock, in his address as retiring president of Ontario Medical Association today.

"Canada's problem is essentially one of population and it is her chief concern to see that the right type of people come into possession of her lands and enter into the development of her industry". He noted that during the last year 590 persons who in some way evaded medical examination had to be deported.

He strongly favored publicity as a means of encouraging public cooperation, which meant much to medical progress.

Concerning the inability of a certain class of patients to pay for treatment, Dr. Krupp asked "why should not the people as a whole undertake the responsibility of providing proper medical and surgical service in each case?"

He hoped that the profession would increasingly avail itself of extra mural education and post graduate facilities.

LEGION BRANCH PASSES BY-LAWS

Code of Rules Drawn Up By Campbellford Veterans Will Be Printed.

WILL BUY CHAIRS.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1.—Since its organization less than a year ago, the Campbellford branch of the Canadian Legion has been functioning under the rulings of the constitution and without any by-laws drawn up for the branch. Lately, a list of by-laws has been under consideration and additions and subtractions have been in order till at the meeting last night, they were read, and with only one addition, accepted as the law for the branch here.

The meeting room was made much more attractive by the new chintz curtains which had been hung since the last meeting They were well christened since one of the items of unfinished business called for a box of cigars to be presented to the winning team in the ticket selling contest. A. G. Morgan, captain of the team, passed the box around to the members present and before long there was a comfortable haze floating about the room.

Following the opening routine, Major Bygott stated that he had requested a grant of forty dollars for the removal of the partition at the north end of the room. There had been no reply as yet, but he felt certain that the money would be forthcoming.

The list of by-laws was the most important item and was dealt with under the head of unfinished business. When they had been read, it was noticed that there was no provision made for penalties for offences against the by-laws. After considerable discussion it was moved, seconded and carried unanimously that a by-law providing a means of suspension for unruly members, if there should be such, be added to the list as prepared. These by-laws had already been considered separately and were last night accepted finally as a whole. The vote was unanimous. Prices will be asked from different printers and the by-laws will be compiled in book form, with a copy for each member.

The reports of the various committees showed that progress was being made with the Birthday party of the branch. The Pension committee has been active and submitted a report of four cases. One had been refused, one had required more information and two cases had not yet been heard from. The reports were received and placed on file.

A vote of thanks will be conveyed to Mrs. Earl Johnston for her work in making up the curtains from the material as purchased. A similar letter will also be mailed to the Bowling Club for the use of their seats during the winter months. These seats will be returned at once and will be painted as a form of rental. The secretary was instructed to obtain prices from several dealers on chairs suitable for the meeting room. There being no further business matters to be transacted, accounts to the amount of $21.65 were ordered paid by the secretary. The next meeting will be June 7th and the first and third Thursday of each month thereafter. This was arranged for in the by-laws which the branch accepted last night.

WATER SUPPLY TO BE CHANGED

as payments past due on the school debentures. The matter was discussed without any member of the board being able to give much information. It was finally decided that it was a matter to be brought to the attention of the Town Council, and that it was not directly the business of the Board of Education. The debt is supposed to have been owing for seven years. Secretary Stevens pointed out that the account had been rendered two years ago and there had been no attention paid. Whether or not it had been previously submitted, he did not say. He said he had signed the account at the direction of the Town Solicitor.

J. C. Birmingham said that he had been asked by the Town Softball Association for permission to have the use of the school grounds for their games. It was pointed out that this permission had already been granted. Regarding the request for nets, it was pointed out that they would be erected if the board considered them necessary after the games had begun. They were not inclined to consider them so at the present time. The diamonds are to be laid out under the supervision of Mr. Massie, caretaker, and the grounds will be seeded and rolled where required under the direction of the property committee. There will also be some sand rolled into the cinders on the playing field. There being no further matters of bisiness, accounts to the amount of $228.89 were passed and the meeting adjourned at 9.05 p.m.

IN POLICE COURT

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1. — Robert Cowie pleaded guilty before Magistrate Payne yesterday morning to a charge of being drunk.

This was his second offence and as he admitted that the liquor was not purchased from the government vendor, and he would not tell where he secured it, he was given the option of a fine of $200 of 40 days. Cowie elected to take the jail option. Cowie was arrested after ding considerable damage to certain flower beds and trying to gain entrance to a Canrobert street residence.

LEGION LOSES TO ELECTRICIANS

Soldiers Beaten 39-8 in Campbellford Softball League Game.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1. — The Electrics softball team swamped the Legionaires last night and at same time put themselves at the top of the league. The game was a little late in getting under way, and at the end of seven innings, the gathering dusk made it necessary for the referee to call the game. By that time the Troops had managed to get just thirty-one laps behind the trend of affairs, and there seemed little hope of them staging a come-back.

The first two innings were real ball and almost as fast as the batters came up, they were disposed of, and no runs counted. In the two innings, only two men from each team managed to get to first base, and there seemed every prospect for one of the snappiest games of the season. In the third, the Troops, batting first, drew first blood with a solitary run. The spark ignited the fire, and the Electrical men counted eleven times. Not till the sixth did the Legion make any kind of an attempt to rally. In that frame they rounded out seven runs, and gave the Electricians something to think about; but they were already over twenty runs behind, and the rally didn't look very serious. The Electrics managed to get only three runs in the sixth, but counted ten more in the seventh and final inning.

With both feet wet, the Legionaires are still far from downhearted. They have decided to do some serious work and give their future opponents some real ball. They are scheduled to play again next week. The teams:

Legionaires.—G. Free, p; O. Hendy, c; Bygott, 1b; Richardson, 2b; E. Johnson, 3b; Dickson, ss; Henson, cf; Watters, rf; Owens, lf; Holmes, Long, Callahan and Hyland, subs.

Score by innings:

Legionaires .. ..0010070— 8 11
Electrics .. ..00(1))783—39 43

Umpires—T. Ibey, plate; C. Massie, bases.

A LOSS TO THE EXHIBITION.

The announcement from Ottawa that the Dominion grant to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is being cut off is a serious matter for the management of Peterborough's big fair, inasmuch as Federal assistance has been relied upon in the annual budget.

However, should no more financial aid be forthcoming from Ottawa, the Peterborough Industrial will continue to carry on and expand regardless of the loss of much-needed revenue.

This Federal grant has been made for some years, and has been of material assistance to the Exhibition management.

Its loss now will add, of course, to the big task of financing a fair of such importance, but the directors are of the type to soar triumphantly over all such obstacles, and when September arrives Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition will be found to be better in all departments than ever before.

With the enthusiasm and driving power that animate the activities of the Exhibition Board, there is no occasion to worry over the success of the 1928 Exhibition, although the withdrawal of the grant undoubtedly will be felt.

CAMPAIGN GETS RESULTS.

The aggressive campaign that is being carried on by the police department against dangerous drivers is already showing splendid results, and the police deserve general thanks for devoting their attention to this very important problem.

The fact that a constable may be checking-up on their activities is obviously curbing the speeders and the motorists who have been disregarding other sections of the traffic regulations.

So long as they had an idea that they could disregard the law with impunity if they were away from the downtown sections, many motorists had no hesitation in "stepping on the gas," ignoring stop signs and committing other breaches of the regulations.

With the police on the job in various parts of the city and at various hours, there is no longer immunity for the reckless or careless motorist, and on streets where the officers have been checking up a very material improvement in driving conditions is being noted.

Strict enforcement of traffic laws is in the public interest, and the policy being carried on by the police department will have the support of the vast majority of motorists and of everybody else.

CUT OUT THE LEFT TURNS.

The fact that the city of Oshawa, after a much longer try-out of the electric traffic signals, has decided to forbid left turns at the intersection of the Motor City's two principal business street should be of much interest to the Peterborough authorities, who have been dealing with the same problem here.

There is not the slightest doubt that to allow motorists to make left turns at George and Charlotte streets is to throw away most of the protection that is supposed to be provided by the electric signals, and this is true not only in regard to the safety of pedestrians but to the welfare of motorists.

The Examiner believes that we might well take a leaf out of Oshawa's book and forbid left turns at this corner, thus eliminating most of the chance of accidents there.

At the same time the ten-minute parking system adopted by Oshawa, operative on business streets during business hours, will commend itself to many people as likely to save dangerous and troublesome congestion in downtown areas.

In any case, let us get some use out of the traffic lights by operating them day and night and making left turns illegal.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT.

The cadet movement and military training of any kind in Canada were condemned by David Ross, retiring president of the Lay Association of the United Church in Canada, in his address at the London conference.

Why such strawmen should be raised up and knocked down when there are so many real grievances demanding attention is difficult to understand.

If Canada's only trouble were the danger that cadet training in the schools might produce a generation of militarists, this would indeed be a happy land.

Hundreds of Peterborough boys receive such training and are the better for it.

Do their parents find in these boys the smallest sign that they are looking forward to the time when they can take part in a war?

As for military training in general, were the whole world as badly prepared as this country is the millenium would be thought to be here.

We have but a skeleton force—scarcely an adequate police department—and surely there is no reason to worry over such training as likely to occasion war.

WHY BACHELORS ARE BACHELORS.

Occupying a half page in a popular periodical is a photograph of a chesterfield on which are seated a bored young lady in skirt fashionably brief and a worried youth whose socks are down about the tops of his low shoes. "And he wonders," comments in large type the writer of the advertisement, "why she said 'NO!'"

And so we are induced to read farther:

"Could he have read her thoughts he would not have lost her. A picture of neatness herself, he detested slovenliness. And not once, but many times, she had noticed his ungartered socks crumpling down around his shoe tops. To have to apologize to her friends for a husband's careless habits was too much to ask. So she had to say 'NO'—and in spite of his pleading couldn't tell him WHY."

It's a pathetic tale—young love struggling against the frightful picture conjured up by those ungartered socks. A small thing, perhaps, not like "halitosis" or dandruff, those other perils to romance dwelt upon so realistically in the advertising pages, but any young lady who is "a picture of neatness" is bound to realize the inevitable sequence of misfortunes indicated so clearly by ungartered socks—cigarette ashes on the rugs, newspapers scattered about, wet towels on the bathroom floor, soiled collars on the dresser, pyjamas thrown aside carelessly. Ultimately—who knows—one so careless of his socks in courtship days might be expected to go unshaven to his Sunday breakfast or, on a hot evening, to go to the dinner table without his coat.

Everyone will agree that the lady had to say "NO," but what has become of the celebrated modern frankness if she "couldn't tell him WHY?" We thought better of the younger generation. Are two young lives to be ruined, or at least put to inconvenience, because a lady may not admit that the well-dressed male wears garters? Surely that is nothing less than a Victorian complex. "James," we submit she should have said, "I like you, but I promised my mother I'd never marry a man who didn't wear garters. I believe in the single standard—and you never see my stockings hanging down around my shoe tops. Mother said men who don't wear garters are careless and slovenly and likely to end up in the poor house."

If the young lady of the picture talked like that, James, of course, forthwith would rush out to buy himself garters—which, by the way, is precisely what the advertisement is intended to make him do.—Ottawa Journal.

U. S. AGRICULTURE AND CANADA.

Hackneyed among debating societies is the topic: "Resolved that city life is preferable to country life." But last year more than 3,000,000 United States citizens held personal debate on the question, and two times out of three the city won.

Last week the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that 2,155,000 persons moved from farms to cities in 1926. Only 1,135,000 moved from cities to farms. Farm births exceeded farm deaths by 371,000, leaving a net loss to the farms of 649,000 people, enough for a new city the size of Toronto.

The Secretary of Agriculture, pained by the size of the cityward migration, warned that the deflation of the farming population, while natural enough after the war period of inflation, has now gone far enough; must soon cease if the United States is to feed itself in future. All of which is interesting for Canada.

Agriculture has not shared in United States prosperity. Of 6,371,640 farms between Maine and the Golden Gate, one in five is mortgaged for 40 per cent.; two in five are on unimproved roads; only one in twelve has improved machinery. So says the U. S. Census Bureau. And the farmers are rebellious.

Veto of the McNary-Haugen bill, performed last week by Mr. Coolidge, has made them more so. They are talking of "rising up" and marching, or riding in their flivvers, upon the Houston and Kansas City conventions to "demand their rights." The old war-cries of Kansas Populism are being heard again.

The McNary-Haugen bill, before Congress for two years, was a panacea for farm ills. Its purpose was to regulate prices in the home market, rendering them independent of world conditions. Compensation would be kept up to assure the farmer world prices for his products, plus the American duty (in the case of wheat, 42 cents a bushel). Surpluses over the home demand would be dumped abroad. If this involved loss, more than likely, it would be met by what was called an "equalization fee" levied upon all crop payments by a board controlling all marketing operations of all farm products.

The Attorney-General of the United States said the "equalization fee" was unconstitutional. Others said that it was Communism. Mr. Coolidge said it would mean "bureaucracy gone mad." The President also said:

"Thousands of contracts involving scores of different grades, quantities and varieties of products would have to be signed by the board with the 4,400 millers, the 1,200 meat packing plants, the 3,000 or more cotton and woollen mills, and the 2,700 canners. If this bill had been in operation in 1925 it would have involved collections upon an aggregate of over 16,000,000,000 units of wheat, corn and cotton.

"Swarms of inspectors, auditors, disbursers, accountants and regulatory officers would be let loose throughout the land to enforce the terms of these contracts and to curb the inevitable attempts at the evasion of the equalization fee."

So the McNary-Haugen bill went overboard by the President's veto.

What effect this will have upon the presidential elections remains to be seen. There is talk of a third party; but third parties cost money; and their story has been bad in the States. Perhaps—and this would be more sensible—United States farmers will explore the experiment of the Canadian Wheat Pool; an organization which, without aid from any Government, is exporting 200,000,000 bushels of wheat, paying a maximum price for it; and whose turnover last year was greater than that of the C.P.R. There is no more interesting story in the records of post-war commerce.

Meanwhile, decline of United States agriculture, the migration cityward, has its lesson for Canada. It means that the time is fast coming when the United States, with its ever growing population, will be importing food. That will mean much for Canadian farmers.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Friends of the Bell Telephone Company may be doing a lot of talking, but not much of it in public.

A London (Ont.) veteran, after having been refused 23 times, has finally been granted a complete disability pension. But why should a disabled ex-service man have to put up such a determined fight for justice?

Has Canada House been "high-hatting" Canadians who drop in for a friendly visit?

There is one thing to be said about the last Meighen Ministry. It may not have held office long, but it certainly tried to look after its friends while it was there, judging from the lawyers' patronage list.

Sarnia celebrated the passing of the St. Clair River bridge bill. They must think their neighbors will have to come across now.

So much is being said about the pickerel these days that the bass and muskies are liable to complain that they are being "high-hatted."

The police check-up of careless drivers is beginning to have its effect. Many a speeder loses the desire to step on the gas when he figures his pocket is going to be hit.

The Question Box

(Please address enquiries to "The Question Box.")

P.I. Q.—Why do journalists call themselves the "Fourth Estate?"

A.—The term was applied to the press to emphasize its importance to the state, the three estates of the realm, according to the constitution being the lords spiritual, lords temporal and commons. The term was first used by Edmund Burke.

F.W. Q.—Is elopement an offence against the law?

A.—No, not unless abduction can be proved. Elopement is merely the secret flight of a pair of lovers, generally with the object of marriage.

E.O.L. Q.—How long has the Ashburnham-Women's Patriotic League owned Armour Hill?

A.—The purchase was announced on May 8, 1923.

H.L. Q.—Isn't it true that the stores used to give discounts to ministers of the Gospel?

A.—Yes. Peterborough stores discontinued giving discounts to ministers, nurses, and employes of other stores in 1914, the announcement being made on July 2, that year.

GOD'S MINUTE

He heareth the prayer of the righteous....Prov. 15:29

Gracious and loving Father, with what tenderness Thou hast guarded and guided us! Gratefully we acknowledge Thy goodness.

We crave a closer fellowship with Thee. Show us the plan and program of life marked out for us in Thy loving kindness and infinite wisdom. The struggle up is hard. O empower us for life's tasks and temptations. Grant us trustful resignation where mystery surrounds the way Home. Keep us calm while all about us is turbulent. Keep us patient when conditions are most trying. May the Redemptive Passion of Jesus Christ be in reality imparted to us, so that we shall delight to render humble service to Thee. Help us to love our fellowmen. Make us willing to undertake hard and apparently impossible tasks when we are impressed that it is Thy will. We would know the truth. Reward us with revelations which will build up and bless us. We pray for those in deep affliction. Teach us how to bear comfort to the sad, hope to the discouraged, peace to the troubled confidence to the belated and overwhelmed. On every child of humanity may the healing rays from the Sun of Righteousness fall. Make us ready for service and sacrifice. Protect us, and provide for all our needs, and grant the forgiveness of all sin, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 1 (Canadian Press). — The demand from the United Kingdom and the Continent for grain here yesterday showed a decided improvement and a good trade was done in wheat, oats, and barley.

Owing to the above there was an improved demand from exporters for grain in the local market and a more active business was done, including sales of Manitoba No. 4 wheat at 4 cents per bushel under the Winnipeg July option c.i.f. Montreal, and some fair-sized lots of No. 1 and No. 2 feed oats also changed hands. New York exporters were in the market for Canadian Western barley and No. 3 grade sold at 10½ cents per bushel over the July option, and tough No. 4 grade at 9¼ cents over c.i.f. Montreal.

The domestic market for car lots of Canadian Western oats was weaker and prices were reduced one to two cents per bushel.

A feature of the flour trade was the increased demand that developed from English importers and other sources for spring wheat grades at the lower level of prices and a moderate amount of business was done. The trade in winter wheat flour was reported quiet and prices were unchanged.

The millfeed market was moderately active and firm. The movement of rolled oats was slow and values were steady.

The trade in eggs in a wholesale way was reported quiet owing to the fact that buyers were not disposed to pay the prices asked by Western shippers on account of the more liberal offerings from all producing sections the past few days. The jobbing business was fair, there being steady demand for small lots for immediate consumption and prices were unchanged. The receipts were 2,631 cases.

The condition of the market for potatoes was unchanged, prices being about steady with a fair volume of business passing for domestic account. Sales of car lots of Quebec varieties were made at 75c to 80c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk; New Brunswick Green Mountains at 85c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk; and New Brunswick White potatoes at 75c to 80c per bag of 90 pounds in bulk, ex-track.

There was no new developments in the market for imported beans, the prices being steady under a fair demand for supplies, and sales of car lots of choice white hand-picked grades were made at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track, and smaller quantities at $4.10 per bushel, ex-store.

The undertone to the butter market was steady with a fair volume of business for domestic account. The receipts were 1,525 packages.

A feature of the cheese trade was the continued steady demand from English importers for supplies at the present level of prices and a moderate amount of business was done. There was also some trading between houses on spot and the tone of the market was firm. The receipts were 2,416 boxes.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, June 1 (Canadian Press). — Winding up of May contracts rendered grain prices irregular yesterday, with holders anxious to be rid of wheat, but urgent to get rye. Better moisture conditions north-west, together with expected larger private estimates to-day on the probable yield of domestic winter wheat, had a bearish effect on wheat values, whereas scarcity of immediate supplies of rye brought about 6¼ cents jump in the price of rye for May delivery.

Wheat closed nervous, 1¼ cents to 3½ cents net lower, corn ⅝ cent to 1⅞ cents up, oats varying from 2¼ cents decline to ⅝ cent gain, and provisions at 7 cents setback to a rise of 12 cents.

Downward swings of the wheat market yesterday were in the face of big export business, Europeans being credited with having purchased as much as 3,000,000 bushels of wheat yesterday from North America. On the other hand, stocks of wheat in Canada were reported piling up to such an extent that the Canadian National Railways has embargoed further shipments of grain to Fort William and Port Arthur. Moreover, bears yesterday were contending that North America now has probably the largest carry-over of wheat on record.

Forecasts of additional showers last night supplementing rather general showers yesterday, in the spring wheat belt did a good deal to favor the selling side of the wheat market. Numerous standing orders to let go at various fixed limits were forced into operation.

North-west interests led the late selling. American wheat prices received good support on the downturn.

Strength which developed in the corn market was ascribed chiefly to buying based on expectation that receipts hereafter would be light. Month-end liquidating sales unsettled the oats pit.

Foreign buying of lard, together with an upward trend in hog values, helped make the provision market average higher.

BOY SCOUT SAVES MEN AT RICE LAKE

Bewdley Lad Rescues Drowning Men Whose Canoe Overturned.

BEWDLEY, June 1.—Prompt action upon the part of a fifteen-year-old Boy Scout, Clare Morton, was responsible Monday night for the saving of the lives of two young farm hands, who were precipitated into the waters of Rice Lake when their canoe tipped over.

Shortly after six o'clock, Alexander Laing and Jack Growshaw, employees of William Dickers, a farmer residing two miles east of Bewdley, were en route to Bewdley by canoe. They were paddling at high speed when one of the boys missed a stroke, causing the frail craft to overturn. The accident was seen from the village and the plight of the young men, struggling in the water, was recognized to be serious. Clare Morton, who happened to be near-by, at the time, displayed great presence of mind, and, commandeering a rowboat owned by the Kennedy Hotel, went to the rescue. With considerable difficulty, and endangering his own safety, Morton succeeded in dragging the men who had been clinging to their upturned canoe, into the rowboat.

Laing and Growshaw were taken to the Kennedy Hotel and were found to be none the worse for their wetting. The rescue was witnessed by a large number of villagers, and the boy was warmly congratulated upon his plucky work.

REMARKABLE NON-STOP RUN BY "ROYAL SCOT".

New World's Record Created

The world-renowned "Royal Scot," which leaves Euston daily at 10 a. m. for Edinburgh and Glasgow and by making between London and Carlisle, a distance of 299¼ miles, performs the world's longest non-stop run, recently established a new record by running from Euston to Edinburgh (399¾ miles) and from Euston to Glasgow (401½ miles) without a halt.

The traffic conditions at Euston on that date necessitated the running of the train in duplicate, and there were in fact two "Royal Scots." Ordinarly the train is divided at Symington, for the separation of the Edinburgh and Glasgow portions, but on this run this division not being required it was decided to make a non-stop run from London to both places.

The fact that this new record was being made became known in Edinburgh and Glasgow later in the day, and the trains received a great welcome from enthusiasts who had gathered at Princes Street Station at Edinburgh and Central Station at Glasgow to witness their arrivals. Both trains ran to schedule times throughout the journey.

The passengers on the trains were pleasurably surprised when, passing Symington at express speed, they realized that they were participating in the making of a new record, and on alighting many were eager to congratulate the enginemen on their accomplishment. The Edinburgh train was worked by an engine of the L. M. S. 4-4-0 standard compound type and the Glasgow train by an engine of the "Royal Scot" class. The Edinburgh train was manned by Drivers C. W. Langdale and A. Ballantyne and Fireman Albert Bassett, while the Glasgow train was manned by Drivers G. T. Stones and D. Gibson and Fireman Alfred Pink.

TOTS TOLD TO USE POLICEMEN

Policemen should be used, according to Head-Constable Johnson, who is head of the police force in Belfast, Ireland. In an address to school children on traffic dangers recently, he advised children to call on an officer when they wished to cross a busy street. "If he does not pay any attention to you," Johnson said, "pull the leg of his trousers. Don't be afraid of him. He will stop the traffic if necessary, so that you can get across the street. It is his duty to do so."

AT 62 SHE LEARNS TO FLY

Although 62 years old, the Duchess of Bedford is learning aviation. She pronounces flying a most exhilarating sport, and although she is learning to handle the controls, is not anxious to fly solo until more certain of her ability. She keeps the machine in an aerodrome outside London and has it frequently "brought around" to her front lawn where she is picked up as a passenger to make her calls. She flew 5,500 miles in a round trip to Tangiers last year, and greatly enjoyed it.

DUMOULIN CASE IS RECALLED IN HOUSE

Estimates of Department of National Revenue Again Debated in Commons.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 1 (by the Canadian Press).—Further discussion of the Dumoulin case took place when the estimates of the Department of National Revenue again came before the supply committee in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. The item under consideration was one of $2,200,000 to provide for the administration of the business profits war tax Act, and the income war tax Act. C. H. Cahan (Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George) again brought up the case. J. W. Dumoulin, of Notre Dame des Bois, had been wounded in the War. When he recovered he had obtained a position as customs excise enfocement officer at Notre Dame des Bois. He held this position for approximately eight years when he received a letter informing him that he had been discharged for political partisanship in the election of 1926.

Mr. Cahan read to the house letters which had passed between Mr. Dumoulin and the Department of National Revenue, and also between him and a soldier organization, in which he denied the charges made against him, declared that he was not in Notre Dame des Bois at the time of the election, and that he was not responsible for the placing of a Conservative streamer across the street from the customs house to another building. Mr. Cahan also read a number of affidavits from Dumoulin and other persons declaring that he was absolutely innocent of any kind of political partisanship. This man, said Mr. Cahan had been denied justice, and restitution should be made to him.

Little to Add.

Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue said there was little to add to what he had said earlier in the case. The charge of partisanship had been made by one who had a personal knowledge. Possibly there had been talk. He regretted any oversight in acknowledging the early correspondence in the matter, but he was prepared to have another investigation and had directed that this be done. Mr. Euler had also taken steps to see that the man had restitution of the money paid into the superannuation fund but final action in this matter would depend on the treasury board. If Mr. Dumoulin was found innocent he would everything possible to have him restored to the service.

S. W. Jacobs (Liberal, Cartier) spoke of the vicious practice of dismissals which had grown up. Many injustices were done and he for one would not give allegiance to any party which deliberately committed such grave errors.

Discuss Matter of Penalties.

Hon. H. H. Stevens (Conservative, Vancouver Centre) discussed the matter of penalties which he said had made the National Revenue Act much more important than heretofore. This had resulted in the necessity for employing counsel who would take an interest in their duty and would conduct prosecutions effectively. Mr. Jacobs asked if the severer penalties had not defeated the purpose of the Act.

To this Mr. Stevens replied that a better remedy would be for thegovernment to consider the reduction of duty on liquor. This would largely remove the incentive to the bootlegger and also to the smuggler. It would be conducive to the distribution of a better quality of liquor, and the revenues of the country would suffer very little. From that standpoint he agreed with Mr. Jacobs that the law might be a hindrance. In the interests of temperance itself it would be a sound move to reduce the excise war tax from $9 and the import tax from $10 a gallon.

Mr. Euler felt that the greatest obstacle to securing of convictions against smuggling was that the general sentiment in the country tended towards smuggling as not a serious offence. So long as that state of mind continued it would be difficult to obtain convictions.

Hon. J. W. Edwards (Conservative, Frontenac-Addington) pointed out that the legal fees for the Royal Customs Commission had totalled $112,535 for less than one year's work. He asked if any of these lawyers were now being employed by the Department to prosecute cases. If so, then the Department would have to add another million dollars to its estimates.

Mr. Euler replied that both Mr. Rowell and Mr. Calder were being retained in prosecutions. Before the house rose at 6 o'clock Hon. R. J. Manion (Conservative, Fort William) supported Mr. Stevens in his position that a great deal of good would be done by decreasing the taxes onliquor.

WILL FIGHT TO-NIGHT.

NEW YORK, June 1.— (Canadian Press.)—Weather permitting, Tommy Loughran will don his light heavyweight crown at Ebbert's Field tonight and let Pete Latzo, Scranton coal miner, try to knock it off in 15 rounds. Rain forced postponement of the bout on Wednesday.

Dont be a Road Hog!

CARE COURTESY COMMON SENSE

Ontario's highways are again calling the motorist. Once more the warning—Care, Courtesy and Common-sense—must be continuously heeded by all drivers and pedestrians if accidents are to be averted.

One of the most common forms of Carelessness, Discourtesy and Lack of Common-sense is "hogging the road." Every motorist knows that the "road hog" is the driver who insists on swinging down the centre of the road so that vehicles cannot pass him on either side. Bus drivers do it. Truck drivers do it. Drivers of passenger cars do it.

Traffic congests behind the "road hog." Other drivers want to get through. Some do go through and likely meet a "side-swipe" from a car coming the other way.

Look at the picture. If you have the "road hog" habit, stop it. You have no right to create congestion and danger for others, nor even to run the risk of being mixed up yourself in an accident brought about by your own discourtesy.

Another increase in traffic is expected this year. The accident hazard increases even more rapidly than the traffic. While the Highway Traffic Act provides against practically every type of accident that can be foreseen, rules and regulations cannot control all human conduct. Upon individual drivers, and pedestrians too, depends the responsibility for lessening motor accidents.

In its efforts to promote safety on streets and roads, the Highway Safety Committee asks the co-operation of every motor vehicle driver. It is of vital importance that each driver shall become "traffic conscious," that each shall become intimately acquainted with the Rules of Safety and shall eternally exercise Care, Courtesy and Common-sense. Reckless drivers—the menace of the highways—will be weeded out by cancellation of Operators' Licenses and Motor Vehicle Permits. Pedestrians also must acquire a new sense of the dangers of the streets and highways and new habits of carefulness.

7 RULES for SAFETY

You must observe each one scrupulously all the time

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape — particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a clear view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" where traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop, or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

Noranda Reaches New High In Active Trading To-day

TORONTO, June 1 (Canadian Press).—Reaching a new high for all time on the Standard Mining Exchange to-day, Noranda continued its advance to 29.20. The gain for the session was 1.25, and trading was heavy. Recently the stock had dropped as low as 17 after selling higher than 28.00 in the closing months of last year. Several other issues showed good gains, and the general trend was upward. Trading on the whole was not heavy.

Teck Hughes advanced 20 to 10.10. Area gained seven to close at 34. International Nickel was up 2.50 at 91.50, and Treadwell 2.75 at 22.25.

Hollinger was a prominent loser, and dropped 80 to 13.70. Malartic was down seven at 169, after selling as low as 158. Newbec was again active and was down 4 at 39, and Premier dropped 10 to 220.

Pend Oreille continued its decline, and dropped another 20 points to 15).55.

Wheat Prices Open Strong But Fail To Hold Gains

CHICAGO, June 1 (Canadian Press).—Wheat prices averaged higher early to-day, two of the leading crop experts making a relatively bullish showing in their estimates of the Winter wheat yield. Other authorities, however, gave more bearish estimates, and the price upturns failed to hold well. Opening unchanged to ⅝ cent higher, wheat later showed material advances at times. Corn and oats were easy, with corn starting at ¼ cent decline to ⅜ cent advance, and later undergoing a sag all around. Provisions kept steady.

Opening prices were: Wheat, July 144½, September 145⅝. Corn, July 104⅛, September 103. July 54⅞, September 46⅜.

Slight Advance Shown On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, June 1 (Canadian Press)—Prices were firm and a little higher on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. Trading was light. International Nickel, the only very active issue on the list, had a large turnover and was up three at a close of 97½. Brazilian was a lagging second, and was unchanged at 57.

Consolidated Smelters, with a turnover of only a few shares, advanced five to 271. Abitibi stiffened after its lapse yesterday and was up 1½ at 67.

In the unlisted section there was little change. Foothills showed some activity and was down five at 520. The Cockshutt issues were quieter, the Common dropping a point to 30 and the Preferred unchanged at 130. Walkers was down a fraction at 59¾ as was Seagrams at 20¾. Imperial Tobacco was up ¼ at 11¼.

Industrial Utilities "B" was active and slightly higher, while the "A" stock was fractionally lower. The bank issues showed little change. Hollinger dropped also 1.00 to 13.90.

Profit-Taking Sales Interrupt N. Y. Rise

NEW YORK, June 1 (Canadian Press).—Profit-taking sales and sporadic short selling interrupted but failed to check completely the resumption of the upward price movement in to-day's stock market. Extreme gains of one to nearly 10½ points in the morning trading were cut down, and in a few cases converted into losses, by a wave of selling which swept through the market at mid-day but prices headed upward again in the early afternoon.

The mid-day selling may have been influenced by the calling of about $10,000,000 in loans to strengthen the bank reserves for week-end statements. Out-of-town funds continued to pour into the market, and call money was in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of six per cent. With about half a billion dollars to be disbursed in dividend and interest payments this month, operators for the advanced counted on a large investment demand for stocks.

Radio was again a spectacular feature. The stock ran up to 219 in the morning, dipped to 214¾ in a noon recession, and then shot up to a new high record at 221¾, an extreme rise of 8¼ points. Case Threshing ran up nine points to 324, and dipped to 318¼, and Manhattan Electrical Supply climbed eight points to a new high record at 65. Midland Steel Products Preferred, White Motors, Fox Film, Montgomery-Ward, International Nickel, and Standard Milling sold 4 to 8½ points above yesterday's final quotations.

PRESENTATION TO BRIDE-TO-BE

Chamber of Commerce Gives Tea Service To Miss Allen, Assistant Secretary.

IS LEAVING EMPLOY.

At a well attended meeting of the executive of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, held last evening in the council room of the chamber, the first "order of business" was a presentation to Miss Grace Allen on the completion of three years of faithful service to the chamber. President James Dutton made the presentation in behalf of the executive and members, speaking briefly in appreciation of Miss Allen and her loyalty to the organization during her term with the Chamber of Commerce, and voicing regret that her marriage would remove her from the city to St. Johns, Quebec.

Miss Allen left the Chamber of Commerce with the very best wishes of its officers and members and of the majority of citizens with whom she came in contact. The presentation took the form of a very handsome tea service which the young lady gracefully acknowledged previous to retiring, that other business of the meeting might be carried on.

President Dutton, in reporting on behalf of the committee appointed to further arrangements with reference to the proposed visit this summer of the Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, stated that considerable progress had been made at the meeting on May 14, when the Chamber of Commerce committee had met representatives from municipalities along the Trent Waterway, agreeing, among other things, that invitations would be forwarded to the minister from every municipality.

Progress was also noted in the taking of the city inventory which, when complete, accurate and up-to-date information with reference to commercial Peterborough.

In discussing the proposed 15 per cent increase in express rates, it was decided that delegates attending the annual conference of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at Quebec, June 4—9, would ascertain the feeling of the assembly and, if thought advisable, endeavor to have placed on the agenda of the annual conference, a resolution opposing the increase.

HORSESHOE LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED

Art Moffatt is Leading Promotion of This Sport in City.

Art Moffat of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, together with a number of fellow club members, has become actively interested in the game of horseshoe throwing, barnyard golf or whatever name one may apply to it. Within the past few weeks he has investigated the game, and now he and his colleagues are considering the placing of "boxes" in King Edward Park, sufficiently numerous that five games may be played at once.

The horseshoes they have already procured and when the boxes have been put in place a meeting is likely to be called for the purpose of promoting a league similar to those in other communities.

PANTALEO GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Toronto Man Sentenced To 20 Years in Prison For Killing Sister-in-law.

TORONTO, June 1 (Canadian Press).—Vito Pantaleo, charged with the murder of his sister-in-law, Elvira Pantaleo, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury to-day and sentenced to 20 years in Portsmouth Penitentiary by Mr. Justice Rose. The jury at first brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter while temporarily deranged. Instructed by the judge to re-word their verdict, they returned to the jury room, and in a few minutes returned with an unqualified finding of guilty.

The trial lasted four days. Pantaleo did not deny that he inflicted the blows which caused his sister-in-law's death, but his counsel held that he was provoked by the woman's attempt to poison him with iodine after he had repulsed her advances. It was brought out that there had been intimacies between Pantaleo and the woman.

FIREMEN CALLED TO CHIMNEY FIRE

Chief Reports Removal of Fire Hazard—New Buildings To Be Erected.

At 7.25 this morning a chimney fire was discovered at 308 Pearl avenue, the firemen making a fast run. However the blaze was not a serious one and was quickly extinguished.

Speaking of fire hazards, Fire Chief George Gimblett was this morning in a position to report progress made by himself and City Engineer Parsons. Through their efforts, and growing out of a meeting with W. H. Bradburn, M.P.P., the owner, a number of old sheds are soon to be removed near the place where Louis street joins Charlotte St. These sheds, which extend east and west at the rear of the Charlotte St. buildings, and others running north and south at the rear of Louis street residences, will be torn down, and in some cases, replaced by single ones of better design.

The old buildings have constituted a real fire hazard, which the chief will be pleased to see removed.

JUST SOMEHOW

A foolish dog leaped at a wall,
Just somehow to get over,
Called fool by bigger fools than all,
Yes, bigger fools than Rover.
For in the sneering crowd I saw
A man who hoped to leap the law;
Yes, humor in one wall he found him
Who yet would have four walls around him.

A foolish dog, a wall of stone
Too high for dogs to master,
And men who walked life's way alone,
Not moving any faster.
Yes, there were men who leaped at life,
With all its grief and care and strife,
And thought just somehow they could do it,
Without a Hand to help them through it.

A foolish dog, a wall so high
A dog could never leap it,
And just a life to live or die,
To lose it or to keep it.
For after every earthly wall
Will come the last great leap of all,
And there are men, like foolish Rover,
Who hope just somehow to get over.

Sunday, first day of the week at the time of the Apostle Paul, was celebrated as the Day of Resurrection—the Lord's Day—as distinguished from Saturday, the seventh day, celebrated by the Hebrews as the true Sabbath. Sunday became the Christian Sabbath and day of rest several centuries later.

In the island of Hao, a French possession in the mid-Pacific, rats serve as mediums of exchange, and with a sufficient number a man can buy a wife.

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, June 3rd:

Sunday.

Breakfast: French omelet, Melba toast, dish of berries (canned or fresh).

Lunch: Vegetable soup made of tomato, spinach, celery; desired amount of cream to be added just before serving, Avocado salad.

Dinner: Roast chicken, string beans, oyster plant, celery and ripe olives, Jello or Jell-well.

Monday.

Breakfast: Wholewheat mush, with milk or cream (no sugar), stewed raisins.

Lunch: 8-ounce glass of orange juice.

Tuesday.

Breakfast: Coddled eggs, toasted triscuit, stewed prunes.

Lunch: Cooked squash, spinach, raw celery.

Dinner: Roast pork, buttered vegetables (carrots, beets, turnips), salad of chopped cabbage, applesauce.

Wednesday.

Breakfast: Poached egg on Melba toast, stewed figs.

Lunch: Pint of buttermilk and a dozen dates.

Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, string beans, egg plant, salad of sliced tomatoes, minced prunes in gelatin.

Thursday.

Breakfast: Cottage cheese, re-toasted Shredded Wheat, sliced pineapple.

Lunch: Cooked carrots and peas, stuffed celery.

Friday.

Lunch: 8-ounce glass of grapejuice.

Dinner: Baked halibut, baked ground beets, salad of tomato and parsley, no dessert.

Saturday.

Breakfast: *Baked stuffed apple, with milk or cream (no sugar).

Lunch: Cooked mashed pumpkin, salad of molded vegetables (string beans, celery, cucumber and parsley).

Dinner: Vegetable soup, boiled lean beef, cooked lettuce, turnips, salad of grated raw carrots, cup custard.

*BAKED STUFFED APPLE: Remove the core and scoop out as much as possible of the apple. Run this scooped out portion through the food chopper with the desired amount of nut meats. Heap into the apple "shells" and bake in a moderate oven. Serve hot or cold, with cream or milk.

CUP CUSTARD: Beat three whole eggs and add a cup and a half of sweet milk, a cup and a half of seedless raisins, and a teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Pour into custard cups, being careful to distribute the raisins evenly. Place the cups in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until custards are slightly browned on top.

You will find that the raisins make the custard sweet enough without adding sugar or honey. Serve with a little plain or whipped cream if desired.

Sufficient for six servings.

Questions and Answers.

Question: Reader writes: "Will you tell me what causes a pain beneath the outer half of the eye? Also what causes black specks to be always present in the vision?"

Answer: Your trouble may be caused by improperly fitted glasses, sinus or antrum trouble, abscessed teeth; or, the pain and the symptoms of black spots may be due entirely to liver congestion from autointoxication.

Question: Cook asks: "Will you please print a list of the salad vegetables?"

Answer: Young tender beets, carrots, turnips and parsnips may be ground in their raw state; asparagus, spinach and oyster plant also make good changes if used raw. Then there is lettuce, celery, cucumbers, parsley and watercress. Make it a rule to use one or more of these salad vegetables each day.

Question: Anxious writes: "What will help the fingernails to grow? The ones on my right hand haven't grown enough in several months to file, and those on the left grow very slowly. I have tried everything, and I would like to have your opinion."

Answer: You must be suffering from severe acidosis if your fingernails grow so slowly. You have probably eaten enough of those foods containing the nail-building elements, but these elements must have been destroyed by some systemic toxemia in your body. Take a few days' fruit fast, then live on a well-balanced diet such as I suggest in my weekly menus, and take calisthenic exercises with your arms to increase the circulation to the hands.

NEGLECTED ANAEMIA.

Often Leads to the Most Serious Consequences.

In no disorder is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anaemia. Usually the first noticeable signs are pale lips and cheeks, dark rims under the eyes and a feeling of weariness. Then follow headaches, backaches, palpitation and breathlessness. The only way that anaemia can be overcome is to enrich the blood, and it is because of their wonderful blood-making properties that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have won such great success in the treatment of this often most stubborn disease.

Thousands of young girls who were in an anaemic condition owe their present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of these, Miss Katie McEachern, Port Hood, N.S., says:—"I praise the day I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been feeling well for some time. I was very pale, had severe headaches, dizzy spells, and occasional fainting spells. The least exertion would leave me tired and breathless. In this condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I continued their use until I had taken six boxes, by which time I was again enjoying good health. I hope my experience will lead other sufferers to give this medicine a fair trial."

If you are at all run-down, or weak, you should begin at once to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon be well and strong. These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KIWANIS SPEAKER TELLS OF SERVICE

vote of thanks moved at the close of the meeting.

The Speaker.

Courteously introduced by Dr. Ray Scott, the Rev. Mr. Stapleford proved a speaker of pleasant address. He expressed his pleasure at coming to Peterborough for this, his second visit and in announcing his intention of speaking on Social and Community work, wished to avoid any impression that he would be dealing with conditions in Peterborough with which he is not acquainted.

"I would give you some idea of the movement of social work in the past twenty-five years," said he. "It is of interest to business men of the present day for the amount of money it now involves, if for no other reason.

"There has come a great change of method from the first idea of relief to human needs. When the shadow of misfortune falls upon a home it is not just an economic problem and relief of human need without personal advice and service is worthless."

The speaker instanced the great Pullman strike which took place years ago in Chicago, illustrating the need not of group treatment but of individual case treatment lack of which had caused so slight an impetus in the early years. "The expenditure of $1.00 in personal service is worth more than $1.00 spent in material relief," he continued, and so, the old method of dividing the needy into groups of worthy or unworthy has changed, the unworthy being considered another problem to be attacked. We have to take cognizance of all peoples and personal difficulties."

Mr. Stapleford read from Oliver Twist to illustrate original ideas of social relief.

"What are we trying to do," you may ask. "Some people prefer to see or do private charity work rather than organized relief work, but that brings out the worst in human nature.

"Another thing, this relief work, without the extra service is the most extravagant thing that can be carried on, but the service is that which helps re-establish the individual or family.

"At the present time social relief work is based on the principle of using the very best scientific thought that is available in the community to help the needy who require proper treatment, not sympathy.

"The second principle is an increasing emphasis upon prevention. eGt your problem young! Nip diseases in the bud. Why, in our grandfather's time one out of every four children died in its first year, while now it is one in sixteen, with the rate constantly enlarging. The greatest factor in the labor problem of to-day is the unskilled laborer, who has been taken out of school due to family circumstances.

"The third principle is, that every individual is different—no two people have the same emotions, and problems; each person must be studied carefully before anything helpful can be done.

"The fourth principle is that the family is the fundamental unit—we are getting away from the practice of splitting up the home for that weakens our whole social structure. Social work to-day includes that of promoting and maintaining the home.

"Another principle, and a very important one, is that every relief organization should have two loyalties—loyalty to itself and loyalty to its community. Unless there is team work among social workers, progress will be lamed and halted.

"This club could do a great deal to foster co-operation and good will. Though we may not like each other, we should work together, for working together is a fundamental of successful social work.

"Does this that I have mentioned take the life and soul out of social work? Some people are afraid of this modern social movement, but the very essence of it is that though we have social genius at our finger tips we have not that keen personal interest, it profiteth us nothing.

If you want things in your community to go right, get that spirit of genuine interest without a feeling of condescension and help the needy to firmer ground, declared Mr. Stapleford in conclusion.

Repair Roads

In view of the fact that a great quantity of gravel will be needed when the Belleville-Peterborough highway is constructed men were engaged last week in excavating in several places on William Chamber's farm at the east end of the village, a quantity of gravel was found and the arrival of the authorities is awaited for further developments.

The road from Foxboro to Stirling and north has been divided into sections and men are engaged with teams and scrapers, keeping the present roadbed in good repair which is all the government intend doing this year except surveying and other incidentals necessary.

BELL CIRCUITS BEING REBUILT

Company Will Do Much Work on Belleville and Toronto Lines.

WILL COST $19,000

The Bell Telephone Company, will shortly begin work on the rebuilding of two of its important long distance lines in this district; the Belleville-Peterborough and Peterborough-Cherrywood (near Toronto) lines. These lines carry some direct circuits and others which connect either terminal with points along the line. A careful survey of these lines last summer revealed the need of a thorough overhauling, due to the effects of weather.

This work is one item of the Company's extensive and continuous program which this year will mean expenditure of over twenty million dollars and which includes keeping long distance lines always in first-class condition. Every line, besides the regular attention it receives when routine tests reveal weakness in transmission, is given periodically a thorough overhauling. Often, whole sections of the line are moved and rebuilt in better positions.

The reconstruction of these two lines will cost close to $19,000. Some poles will be replaced, new storm guys will be erected and with the completion of the work the entire structure will be better able to withstand all sorts of adverse weather conditions, aiding materially in promoting the efficiency of the service in the areas reached.

FARMING ACTIVITY FILLS CAVAN LIFE

Potato Planting Will Likely Be Finished This Week—Fruit Trees Bloom.

CAVAN, June 1. — Although the fruit trees are covered with bloom, it will be some time yet before the amount of damage done by frost will be known.

Potato planting is general, and will probably be completed this week, while seevral farmers are already working on their summer fallow.

W. I. to Meet.

Cavan Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Sutton on Thursday afternoon, June 21.

The courageous Captain would have enjoyed Red Rose Tea because it is a blend of choicest Assam and Ceylon teas, whose characteristics above all others are strength and flavor, packed by men trained in the London tea markets. ELECTIONS ACT CHANGE PROPOSED Committee Report Will Urge Proceedings Against Incompetent Officials.

OTTAWA, June 1. — (Canadian Press)—Parliament will address itself next session to amending the Dominion Elections Act if the report of the committee on privileges and elections is adopted by the House of Commons. The committee today considered its report, the fruit of several weeks of investigation into the Athabaska election of 1925, where an inquiry established that corrupt and illegal practices had taken place.

The Committee will recommend that the Auditor General should submit to the department of Justice a full statement of payments made to incompetent officials with a view to instituting proceedings for the recovery of the amounts paid to such officials if the law provides for such action. The report also recommends that a special committee be appointed next session to go over the Dominion Elections Act and to give special attention to the methods o selecting returning officers.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR BAD STOMACH GIVES SWIFT RELIEF

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition

If you are a victim of Stomach Trouble — Gas, Sourness, Pain or Blosting—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive, and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralises acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia tablets, which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bisurated Magnesia Tablets!

Six Good Reasons for Shopping at the C.D.S.

1.—Good value in good merchandise.
2.—Goods satisfactory or your money refunded.
3.—Cash prices, which means lower prices.
4.—Variety of choice in merchandise.
5.—Reliable and courteous service.
6.—Merchandise thoroughly up-to-date.

Simple Arithmetic

Simple arithmetic will solve the problem of why "cash prices" should be lower than "credit" prices.

$1.00 paid in cash to-day for merchandise goes out for other merchandise to-morrow, on which another profit will be made.

$1.00 to be paid in 10 months can't be put to work until the 10 months is up and the money paid in. The purchasing power of this "10 months" dollar then is less than that of the cash dollar.

C. D. S. goods are all marked on the "cash price" basis. They can be, should be and are better values.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. It is thought at first he is a stroke victim, but investigation shows he has been stabbed to death beneath the water.

Folsom's swimming companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is also established that one CROYDON SEARS is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives, and asks Anastasia if he may have the curious French dolls in Garrett Folsom's room.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII.

"Yes, of course," Anastasia said. "Lord knows I don't want them. But where did you hear about the people being so interested?"

"Heard it on the train coming down here," Dan Pelton answered. "On the stage contraption that brought me from the station. In the lobby as I came through. At the desk as I waited to hear from you. The tongues are wagging all around."

"Did you—did they suggest any names—"

"There seem to be names in the air—the Tracys, who are they?"

"Nonsense, they're people who stood by. They only knew Garry slightly, if at all. But gossip means nothing. I have a detective engaged—that is, he's not a detective but I propose to make him over into one."

"Fine plan!" said the nephew with sarcasm.

"Yes, it is," said Miss Folsom, quite unconcerned at his sneer. "I want you to know him—Riggs is his name. Now, Dan, first of all, if you're going to take these rooms of Garry's—and I think it's a good idea—help me find another suite, for me and Paxton, and you get hold of Ross to help us move."

"Good, auntie. How do I get hold of Ross?"

The dead man's former valet was summoned, and seemed willing enough to take service for the present with the nephew of his late master.

"We've met before, Mr. Pelton," Ross said, "though not often. And I'm glad to stay here, hoping I may be of some use in helping Miss Folsom find the villain who used that dagger."

"Yes, we're all going to do all we can in that line," Dan agreed, and then they set themselves to the matter of getting more rooms.

"What sort of comments do they make on my uncle, Ross?" Pelton asked, casually, as they were at last by themselves and Ross was unpacking his new master's belongings.

"Well, Mr. Pelton, that's a hard question, because I dislike to say hard things of Mr. Folsom, even if they're only the speech of others. But he was not highly spoken of by many, sir."

"Yet few down here knew him."

"More than you'd think, sir. Many a man knew him or knew of him who has only said so since he's gone."

"You liked him, Ross?"

"He was a good master, sir. Strict, indeed, and insistent on his orders being carried out to the letter. But just and fair, and liberal enough."

"In money ways, you mean?"

"That, yes, sir, and also in the matter of time off and vacations and amusements. Whenever he was to be out himself he'd bid me go out for a bit of an outing."

"I see. And you were in bathing the morning he was killed?"

"Yes, sir. I went in soon after he did, and I took care to be out and dressed in time to be here when he came in. Shall you bathe today, sir?"

"No, I think not. I'd like a dip, but I think my aunt would object. You know, Ross, the funeral will be tomorrow."

"Yes, sir, but not exactly a funeral, is it, sir?"

"Not what it would be if we were in Chicago. But I daresay it'll be all the services my poor uncle will have read over him. For my aunt plans to stay here on the job. What do you think about it, Ross? Any idea who did for my uncle?"

"No, Mr. Pelton, I've no idea. Mr. Folsom did have some—well, what I suppose might be called enemies, sir, but they were not down here. I mean men in Chicago, business men and such."

"Yes, that's just the way I look at it. Yet he was killed down here. But pshaw, any or all of those Chicago business men might have been down here and no one suspect their presence in the crowds on the beach and in the ocean."

Dan Pelton joined his aunt for luncheon, and they sat in the public dining room, quite indifferent to the curious eyes that watched them and the busy tongues that wagged in gossip about them.

They had reached the stage of coffee and cigarets when Roger Neville came into the room, accompanied by Mrs. Valdon.

The pair at once came over to the table where Miss Folsom sat and renewed their acquaintance with Pelton.

Dan was glad to talk to Neville, and proposed that they all go up on the veranda, or deck, for a chat.

The others, who had luncheon already, assented, and they went, joined later by Mrs. Barnaby, who had not before met Pelton.

She annexed him at once, as she did any available man, and exclaimed, admiringly:

"I declare, the more I see of the Folsom family the better I like them! Poor dear Mr. Folsom was such a darling, and Miss Folsom is truly magnificent. And now, you, Mr. Pelton—"

"Yes, my parents died years ago, and my aunt and uncle have looked after me."

"Fortunate boy! Except, of course, this terrible tragedy. But we won't talk of it, shall we? For you must have some relaxation from the nerve strain and sorrow of the occasion."

"That's just it, Mrs. Barnaby."

"Oh, call me Duchess, they all do."

"Glad to. Suits you, too. How well Mrs. Valdon is looking."

"Carmelita. Yes, she's in great form this summer. You're staying?"

"As long as you will be kind to me."

"Why, you little rascal! I do believe you're a flirt!"

Pelton was a flirt; so much so, that he said frivolous things without thinking, and always without meaning. It was second nature to him to compliment women, and young or old, he used the same jargon.

But he suddenly became aware that a sort of council was about to convene. Anastasia, intent on her one pursuit, had found Tite Riggs in his usual corner of the deck, and she pounced upon him, dragging the rest of her flock with her.

"Now, we must talk," she decreed. "We are secluded here, and I have gathered the ones I want about me. Who is this young man, may I ask?"

Anastasia had a way with her that often robbed of rudeness remarks that would have been insufferable in another. She looked benignly, as she spoke, on Robin Sears, who had only a moment before paused to speak to Riggs, whom he knew.

"This is Mr. Sears," she was told, and as Robin was about to pass on, Miss Folsom laid a detaining hand on his shoulder.

"Please stay," she said, a little peremptorily. "You are the son of the Mr. Sears who bought daggers at the auction last Thursday night?"

"Yes, Miss Folsom; does that interest you?" Robin responded.

One of Anastasia Folsom's characteristics, and perhaps one of her besetting sins, was a quickness to take offense.

She did so in this instance, and retorted, sharply:

"Very much. Will you be good enough to grant me a short interview?"

"Of course he will," Tite Riggs answered for him, and a little bewildered, Robin sat down.

With a gesture that seemed to fling the rest of her crowd into nearby seats, Miss Folsom, sitting directly in front of Robin, began a fire of questions.

FRANCE LINES UP ALLIES FOR TREATY

Will Subscribe to Anti-War Compact As Soon as Big Powers Have Signed.

PARIS, June 1.— Paris awaits with great interest the new note from Secretary Kellogg reported from Washington as about to be sent to the powers with which Mr. Kellogg has been negotiating his anti-war treaty.

The French note with satisfaction a statement that the Secretary of State may suggest a preamble that will carry a clause certifying that present commitments are not affected by the compact and that the accompanying document may set forth the reserve that the contracting parties regain immediately liberty of action toward a violator of the treaty.

It is noted here that the dispatches from Washington appear not to mention the special British reservation, but the French regard that as a matter between London and Washington, and should Mr. Kellogg propose, as is rumored, that the nations should quickly sign the compact, under those conditions he need not worry about opposition from France, although the French feel it would have been better to prolong the discussion until all the Governments had made their position as clear as have the British, for example.

The Temps says:

"We understand perfectly that the American Secretary of State wishes to hasten conclusion of the compact outlawing war, because such a diplomatic success would be of a nature to help the chances of the Republican Party in the coming elections."

France Willing to Accept.

The Temps says that while it doubts Mr. Kellogg will find everyone in agreement, France is willing to take things as they appear to have shaped up.

"The problem of peace will not find itself suddenly and totally solved by signature of the treaty proposed," it goes on, "but let us hope that it will create a more favorable atmosphere, seeing that the United States will find itself associated in work undertaken by other powers in the framework of the League of Nations.

"What interests us is that the new compact shall not be a substitute for the League of Nations and that it will constitute no barrier to the normal operation of our defensive accords. Guarantees to this effect appear to have been obtained."

Jules Sauerwein will say in the Matin tomorrow that developments "show what value every one attaches in associating the United States in our efforts to maintain peace." He continues:

"In their replies to the United States the powers have shown without exception that, while adhering to the American principle, they intend to remain faithful to their duties as members of the League of Nations."

M. Sauerwein declares that Paris has reached an agreement with all the French allies that they will subscribe to the treaty immediately after the great powers sign and that France will ratify only in conjunction with her allies.

Some people broaden as they age; others merely grow fat.

EMPIRE DAY SONGS SUNG AT LAKEFIELD

Meaning of Confederation Plaque Explained to Pupils of Public School.

LAKEFIELD, June 1. — Empire Day was celebrated in the Public School on Wednesday, May 23rd, and in each room programs appropriate to the day were given, a due regard, of course, being paid to the ages of the children. The plaque presented to Lakefield Public School, in common with other Public schools in Canada by the National Committee in charge of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration last year, was displayed in each room and its meaning explained by the teachers. The plaque is of bronze hue, framed in dark oak and is emblematic of Canada as she is—a member of the group of self-governing dominions, proud to be under the British Crown. The arms of Canada, with the three lions of England, the harp of Ireland, the Scottish lion, the fleur de lis of France and the Maple leaves of Canada, surmounted by the Crown and the British lion is in the centre. On either side of the shield stand the lion and the unicorn, each holding aloft a standard, the one the British flag and the other the Royal Standard of old France; below are intertwined the English rose, the Scottish thistle, the Irish shamrock, the leek of Wales and the lily of France and surrounding all and forming the background of the plaque and, as it were, uniting all in one emblem, are the Maple leaves of Canada, the new nation which owes a debt to the motherland.

The date of Confederation (1867) and the Diamond Jubilee (1927) are on the border and the words "Canada our Country" are inscribed and also the word "Confederation."

In the senior room of the Public School, the principal, Mrs. Ridpath, had a very interesting program, following the plan laid down by the educational department of the province.

In a carefully prepared address, Mrs. Ridpath spoke of the founding of Empire Day on May 23, which was done at the suggestion of Clementina Pessenden, of Ancaster, whose memory is being commemorated by the I.O.D.E. on Sunday.

The British Empire owes its greatness, not to the achievements of one day but of centuries, and to the pioneer men and women Canada owes an enormous debt, for they braved the discomforts and dangers and hewed homes out of the wilderness and made possible the comforts and luxuries which we enjoy. This day has been established to impress on the young Canadians the greatness and importance of their heritage and the responsibility which in a few years will be theirs as citizens of a glorious country which is part of a mighty Empire. Patriotism is not only for use in war time when her enemy is thundering at our gates, but we can show our patriotism, just as well in peace time by fighting against every evil which besets the Empire. All over the Empire, wherever the little patch of red is seen on the map, school children, hundreds and thousands of them are celebrating Empire Day, and in the celebration are demonstrating their love of British institutions and the British flag, which we all love and revere.

Miss Thelma Hendren gave a reading, "What it means to be a subject of the British Empire."

The Union Jack is the flag of our great Empire and it is being held aloft with all the standards of British right and justice by the men and women of to-day and the school boys and girls are being prepared to shoulder their responsibility in regard to God, to the Empire and to their fellow men. In this way games cultivate sportsmanship and a respect for clean minds and bodies, discipline aids character, without which one is not fit to be a British subject, a character fearless, truthful, honest, clean, courteous and loving justice and fair play. These characteristics teach self-sacrifice and that amusement is not the main object of life, but service.

The Union Flag is our flag which we love and reverence, which our soldiers and sailors salute and hold high even at the cost of their lives, for many a brave man has died that the Union Jack might fly with all it stands for in justice and fair play.

Bernice Abrams read a poem on the Union Jack and Lilian Mason and Lulu Smith sang sweetly, "Rule Britannia" as a duet with their schoolmates joining in the chorus.

Mrs. Ridpath continued with a sketch of the British Empire which is made up of the United Kingdom, several self-governing dominions, India, several Crown colonies and protectorates and other places where Britain exercises a mandate. The first colony was added to the Crown in 1583 when Sir Humphrey Gilbert planted the Royal Standard in Newfoundland. In the middle of the 18th century India and Canada were added, but a blow was received in 1783 when the 13 American colonies were lost, but the Empire recovered quickly and was soon stronger than ever.

In war Britain showed the way and in the League of Nations she stands for peace and reconciliation among nations and not a colony but stands with the other daughters around the mother, each firm in her determination to remain British.

Eva Hendren gave a reading entitled, "This Canada of Ours," and the class sang "Oh, Canada."

The programme was very helpful, combining instruction and entertainment and renewing the pride of both boys and girls in belonging to an Empire such as the British Empire.

LORD RAWLINSON LIKED CANADA

Famous British Soldier Would Have Liked to Reside in Dominion.

LONDON, June 1 (Canadian Press Cable).—Canada narrowly missed receiving as a permanent resident one of the most distinguished and experienced soldiers of the past 50 years, General Lord Rawlinson, as revealed in his story of his life which will be published to-day. It is edited by Major-Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice, Director of Military Operations, Imperial General Staff, 1915-18. Lord Rawlinson, who died on March 27, 1925, was Commander-in-Chief of the Army in India.

"Rawly," as Lord Rawlinson was familiarly known, while visiting Earl Grey when the latter was Governor-General of Canada, said in a letter that he was very much tempted to stay in the Dominion, not only because he thought he could make money there, but because the development of the white portions of the British Empire always had a fascination for him.

In his manuscript Lord Rawlinson wrote: "The era of small wars is over, and the only war I foresee in my life is a life and death struggle either with Russia or Germany. We should want every man we could lay hands on, and I would be as well pleased in the militia or volunteers."

On a second visit to Canada, Lord Rawlinson took the opportunity of examining her military forces. "Lake (Lt.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake) tells me," he wrote, "they could turn out 60,000 men fairly well equipped in a fortnight, but they are short of field artillery. This is a considerably larger force than I had supposed was in Canada. I believe if we had to fight Germany we could get reinforcements in Canada quicker than anywhere else. It would pay us to help her make up equipment on modern standards. I was a good deal impressed by the organization of the militia. Their armories are well equipped—much better than our volunteer drill halls. The men are excellent and there is a high proportion of keen, intelligent officers who are used to fending for themselves and who have plenty of enterprise.

"I believe with two months' intensive training the Canadian Militia would be fit to face European troops," Lord Rawlinson wrote. "The trouble would be with the generals, for in their appointment political influence is likely to have more weight than military efficiency. I do not think that this trouble would last long, for the men are independent and outspoken and would not stand being murdered through incompetents."

General Rawlinson commanded the 4th Army in France, where he first met the Canadian soldiers in March, 1915. "I am very much pleased with the Canadians," he wrote to Lord Kitchener. "They are magnificent men, as you know, very quick to pick up new conditions and learn the tricks of the trade in trench warfare."

When he was a subaltern Rawlinson came under the favorable notice of Lord Roberts. He also proved as acceptable to Lord Kitchener

Lord Rawlinson's writings contain comparatively little about politicians, but he showed distrust of Lloyd George on more than one account. In 1917 he entered in his diary: "Lloyd George visited Foch the other day and invited criticism of Haig and our methods. Foch very loyally refused to do anything of the kind, and he let Haig know what had passed."

As Commander-in-Chief in India Lord Rawlinson was convinced that the policy of the Indianization of the army should not be hurried. "The demand of the Dominions for a voice in British foreign policy is going to do India good," he wrote, "for the British Government cannot now leave India out of any arrangements of that kind. If India were regularly consulted before, not after, our foreign policy was determined, we should avoid many snags." General Rawlinson constantly maintained that Great Britain should make the general staff "more really imperial than it is, and have all the Dominions regularly represented in the war office and on commands."

The book is an engaging record of achievements from the point of view of a straight-minded soldier who served his King and country with the greatest distinction for half a century.

The New York Stock Exchange originated in 1791, when stock brokers met under a buttonwood tree on Wall Street to discuss the market and exchange securities. Later they met in coffee taverns, and in 1817 acquired permanent quarters.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1928.

Although there is a strong benefit aspect today astrologers find that sinister influences are strong.

Women may be exceedingly difficult to please while this configuration prevails and for this reason they should not be antagonized by members of their family who value peace, the seers warn.

This is read as an inauspicious rule for weddings since brides may be capricious and faultfinding.

The sway is not a promising one for places of amusement and rather a disappointing time may be expected from the box office point of view.

There is a good sign for the radio and for all mediums for the transmission of news.

Under this direction of the stars there may be a strong inclination to argue and even to quarrel.

The planetary government is not favorable to domestic serenity, for the influences tend to emphasize individuality.

Much discouraging propaganda regarding business conditions may be circulated at this time, but it may be comforting to know that the stars presage continued prosperity in the United States.

The seers predict surprising results from the national campaigns of this month.

The party conventions are subject to aspects making for hard fought battles among opposing delegations.

Mail robberies as well as burglary and petty thieving may be expected to increase in the next month, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of romance, mystery and change for the coming year. Courtship may be unlucky.

Children born on this day may have a great talent for expression through the voice. Many actors are born under this sign.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE SEE THINGS

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.

(Author The Springs of Human Action.)

Technically the phenomenon of "seeing things" is called an hallucination. If we waken in the night and hear a noise which we interpret as caused by a burglar we have gone through a number of mental processes. In so far as we merely experience a sound, it is a sensation. Our interpretation of what we hear as caused by a burglar is called perception. But if upon investigation we find that the noise was caused by a cat and not by a burglar as we supposed then we have experienced an illusion which is a misinterpretation of a sensory experience. And if it can be proved that there was not been a noise, that no one else in the house heard it, and we only thought we heard it, then we were the victims of an hallucination. We were "hearing things."

Thus one may hear things, see things, taste, touch, or experience things without any real cause or stimulus in the outside world. Hallucination may occur in any sensory experience.

The fear or wish idea often acts as a suggestion in seeing things. This suggestion may come from within or from without.

Large crowds are often deceived in this way through the force of suggestion or of intense fear or great desire and longing. This accounts for the fact that the figure of Christ and St. George and others were seen by large numbers of soldiers during the World War. A student reports that on one bright moonlight night he woke up and went to the window and saw a three ring circus performing in the back yard. He woke up everybody in the house and enthusiastically related what he had seen. They rushed to the window and all the others also saw the circus which of course existed only in their imagination.

We see things as the result of a functional disorder, strong suggestion, and through vividness of a fear idea or a wish idea.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Here is one of the new corset and brassiere combinations, attractive to look at, easy to wear, and productive of excellent lines as a foundation for the new silhouette.

Some one was grumbling about corsets or their modern equivalent the other day.

"The last word has certainly not been uttered," she remarked. "I have never yet been able to find a model that I was willing to reorder again and again—I always have to get something different."

Fortunately, indeed, the last word in corsets has not been said, because if it had the corset designers would all go out of business, and more than half the people engaged in the corset business would find themselves out of work. So long as fashions in dress change from season to season, so long as taste in dancing, art, music, poetry goes on adjusting itself to changed conditions of living—so long will these supporting garments that we call corsets have to change from season to season.

And women's figures change, too. Women grow older, thinner, fatter, more or less exacting in their taste, more or less dependent on support.

There has been within the last few weeks a greatly increased interest in all sorts of corsets—girdles, brassieres, corselets and the rest. This is, of course, because of the fact that American women are just rousing themselves to the fact that the new type of frocks demand more graceful bodily contours than most women can present without some outside aid. Girdles that hold the hips securely but leave the flesh about the waist to take care of itself were all that many women needed a few months ago. Corselets that flattened out the figure gave others the smooth foundation they wished to have. But it is no longer sufficient to have slender hips. Waists also must be shapely, and the flat bust has definitely gone out of style.

The sketch today shows a new type of corset that is likely to fill the bill for many women. The sheath extends high enough to prevent the roll of flesh that so often occurred just above the low-cut girdle. Above the sheath is a brassiere top of lace which is cut so as to control the fullness across the bust without giving the flat fleet that has suddenly become passee.

Among the strange risks which have been covered in recent years by insurance at Lloyd's are a fiction writer against loss of imagination, a hairy man against baldness; an actress against the loss of her legs, and a timid man against a threatened revolution.

The government profits on paper money because approximately one-half of one per cent of the amount issued is never presented for redemption.

LYRICS OF LIFE

A MOTHER'S WORDS

Mother, the seed you plant today
Will bear in August, not in May.
Yes, there are seeds we plant, remember,
In Spring, we harvest in November.
And, if the heart must learn to wait
For roses by a garden gate,
Surely the love we give another
Will sometime have its harvest, mother.

Mother, there have been sons before
Who wandered from their mother's door
Or from her counsel for a season.
And yet be glad, for there's a reason:
Although their hearts are filled with weeds,
Long, long ago you planted seeds
That yet will bear, somehow or other,
But not in May, remember, Mother.

Mother, the great resistless things
Are these: the world's returning Springs,
The mighty rivers seaward going,
Whatever rocks or shallows knowing.
The days that mark with dawns sublime
The great processional of time.
And, in the hearts of men, one other—
The words of counsel of a mother.

Whitcombe Captures Irish Open Golf Honors

DELORO RIGHT ON EDGE FOR FIXTURE HERE

Smelters Hope to Enter Win Column in Beating Petes.

A PETERBOROUGH BATTERY

Wood and Collins May Be in Action Against Home Town.

Deloro played smart ball in Belleville on Wednesday, in spite of their defeat, which was chiefly caused by Gibson's good pitching, and they claim the game was needed to put them right on edge for their battle with the Petes at James Stevenson Park to-morrow.

Either Jack Shea or Carl Wood is likely to get the pitching assignment. If Wood draws the allotment, the Petes will be up against a Peterboro battery, as both Wood and Collins, who is billed to do the catching, hails from here.

Jeff Hardill will go to the mound for the Petes, with Swanston behind the bat, and the home crew expect to have all their regulars in action against Deloro.

It will be a real struggle, for the visitors are a smart ball machine and will make every effort to take the Petes into camp, while the latter need the game to stay up near the top, and will battle every inch of the way.

The game is called at 3 o'clock and will get away sharp on time, the Central League executive having ordered umpires to see that all fixtures begin promptly at the scheduled hour.

LEADS FIELD ALL THE WAY

Finishes Seven Strokes Ahead of Archie Compston in Play.

HAS SCORE OF 281

NEWCASTLE, Ireland, June 1. — (Associated Press). — Ernest Whitcombe, who lost the British open championship to Walter Hagen by one stroke in 1924, yesterday landed his first national title when he won the Irish open with the remarkable score of 281.

The Bournemouth pro., elder of the two famous British golf brothers, led the field all the way. He finished seven strokes ahead of Archie Compston in the three days' struggle over the links stretching between the Mourne Mountains.

There seemed a possibility at one stage of yesterday's play that Compston might overhaul Whitcombe and necessitate a playoff to-day. This caused an unusual flurry among officials as Compston plans called for him to sail for New York to-day.

The championship committee hurriedly engaged an airplane to take the lanky star to sea to overtake the outward bound liner if such a drastic move should be necessary.

The strain of leadership told on Whitcombe yesterday but he did not need to repeat his sensational low scoring of the first two days when he was around in 68 and 69. He added 73 and 78 to his qualifying scores for an ample winning margin.

Following Compston were H. O. Jolly with 296, T. H. Cotton 299, and Jack Smith, C. A. Whitcombe and Abe Mitchell tied at 300.

George Duncan, the champion last year, cracked and took 314.

FANS EXCITED OVER COMING BOUT

Great Interest Shown in Encounter Between Belanger and Rocco.

TORONTO, June 1.—Not in a long while has any main bout aroused as much general interest as the impending conflict between Frenchy Belanger and Steve Rocco. The latter's rapid rise to the front, coupled with the grim earnestness and aggressiveness that he has shown in all his battles has made him intensely popular with the fans who like a tryer, and the former amateur is all of that. Belanger's last few bouts have not been up to the mark. He won from Frisco Grande, it is true, but his margin was very small and at no time did he display the ability that was his when he mingled with newsboy Brown, Frankie Genaro and Ernie Jarvis. He will have to get down to real business when he boxes Rocco at the Arena Gardens. It is certain that the rugged Stephen will give him little rest—he is not that kind of a fighter.

Tuesday night will determine whether Belanger is the champion that he is generally given credit with being or just a plain ordinary flyweight who has had a great deal of luck.

If he boxes back to his early scraps there is little doubt but that Rocco will get a stormy passage, but if he dosen't then the issue will be in question until the final blow.

Both boys will enter the ring in the best possible shape They are training hard, more so than any time in their respective careers. Belanger must win in order to rehabilitate himself in the affections of the fans, who have soured upon him somewhat of late, while a defeat will not mean a great deal to Rocco, who has everything to gain and not much to lose.

TWENTY-FOUR ARE ENTERED IN DERBY

Fairway Favorite in Blue Ribbon Event of English Turf.

EPSOM, England, June 1 (Canadian Press Cable).—With the reduction of prospective starters in the Epsom Derby, blue ribbon event of the English turf, to be run over the well-known Epsom course on June 6, down to twenty-four at the most, students of form can now settle down to the work of dissecting the probable winner with a clearer view to their objective. There are, however, one or two problems concerning the most favored candidates which all turf enthusiasts will of course carefully ignore as they are only out for their annual care-free flutter, but which even the casual bettor will do well to consider.

Hon. George Lambton, who has had some 50 years' of experience in training thoroughbreds, stands by Fairway, the favorite, as a "great horse," and acceptors of his dictum will not need to look further for the probable winner.

There is apparently no doubt that Fairway possesses grit and stamina to go the Derby route of one mile and half, providing he possesses the incentive, but the latter is very difficult to arose in the colt which has a reputation of being lazy. This may lose him the race, particularly if he has been pressed at the start.

Although it is not without its amusing aspect, particularly among those who are not professionally connected with the turf, the question of Flamingo's ears which he lays back ommously at times indicates a weakness of character, and a horse with this peculiarity is not always reliable. But undoubtedly he has great fighting spirit, and his stamina is not questioned. Flamingo is greatly favored among the turf critics as possessing a winning chance.

Regarding Sunny Trace, many are enquiring as to what his trouble was in the Two Thousand Guineas, one of the Spring classics run recently. He ran in that event as though he was a non-stayer and his weakness mystified both his jockey and trainer. Sunny Trace, however, has the reputation of being able to beat that good horse, The Wheadler, ofer the mile and one half distance at Beckhampton, and this should be a good index to his staying qualities. Another point is the fact that he won two races against weak opposition prior to the Guineas.

One of the main questions in connection with this year's Derby is how strong is the French challenge? Bubbles Second and Palais Royal Second, both French owned, are entered. This pair ran last Sunday at Paris in the Prix Lupin with Bubbles winning in impressive style. Palais Royal, who was strongly fancied, was knocked off his stride soon after the start, but after gaining a position where he could run freely, he finished fifth. He is a certain starter in the Derby, but the decision to send Bubbles will not be made until to-morrow.

The general opinion, however, is that regardless of whether Bubbles Second starts or not, the 1928 Derby stakes will be won by an English horse.

The latest betting quotations on the Derby show 11 to 4 against Fairway; 11 to 2 against Flamingo; 9 to 1 against Sunny Trace; 100 to 8 against Ranjit Singh; 100 to 7 against Royal Minstrel; 18 to 1 against Bubbles Second and Gang Warily; 25 to 1 against Camelford and Palais Royal; Watch, Fern Kloof and Port Hole; 40 to 1 against Felstead; 50 to 1 against O'Curry and The Wheadler; 66 to 1 against Royal Crusader and Scintillation; 100 to 1 against Heirloom, Constant Son, Cyclone and Yeomanstown; and 200 to 1 against Grangeview.

VIEWS ON SPORT

Cogs and Crescents are slated for E. P. L. fixture to-night at Exhibition grounds. Game will be called at 6 o'clock sharp.

The E. P. L. crews have struck their stride and are putting up some real battles in the competition race for the 1928 championship. The Cogs and Crescents, who played a 4-4 tie in a league fixture last week will go at it again to-night at the Exhibition Park. Both teams are about evenly matched and a tidy battle is expected. "Be on hand, it will be good."

The C.G.E. softball team have received their new uniforms, and are eager to start playing. The boys have held some snappy workouts together, and only await the opening of the city league schedule to swing into action.

* * * * * *

The Lockworks team will hold a practice to-night at 6 o'clock, in the King Edward school grounds. This club is a new entry in the junior league and as yet have not had experience enough in team work to show their real worth.

With the addition of two or more regular players, Johnny Burke's crew can be counted upon to make a strong bid for the series honors.

* * * * * *

The Royals will play their second game this season in the junior group on Tuesday, when they clash with the Lockworks at the Exhibition Park. Defeated by the Kiwanis in their first tilt, MacFadden's gang are on edge to even up the count.

This Belanger-Rocco fracas down at Toronto next Tuesday night has the fight fans all het up and rightly so. Rocco is tougher than a boarding house steak but none ever accused Belanger of any Sunday school attributes. Certainly the fans will see two of the hardest-hitting flyweights in the profession when the Toronto home-brews get together. Rocco's rise is even more phenomenal than Belanger's, the fighting young Italian-Canadian making his debut in Detroit just three months ago. In fact we can remember not so long ago when Rocco hadn't passed his entrance. We dont know whether he has even yet, but the things he needs to know Tuesday are learnt in the school of experience. This boy Belanger is hardly of world championship calibre, even though he did wear the laurels for a few weeks. Frankie Genaro showed him how much he didn't know in their second meeting. In any case the Canadian championship is sure to go to Toronto and with the right handling the winner should be just about ready to take on all comers about six months from now.—Oshawa Times.

COCHET DOWNS FRANCIS HUNTER

Loss by U. S. Player Proves Upset in Hard Court Match.

ENTERS QUARTER FINALS

AUTEUIL, Frace, June 1 (Canadian Press).—Henri Cochtt of France defeated Francis T. Hunter of the United States and entered the quarter finals of the International Hard Court Tennis championships yesterday. The scores were 1—6, 6—3, 6—4, 6—3. With Hunter's elimination, the United States' hope for the men's crown passed from the tournament.

Rene Lacoste, another of the French "Three Musketeers," reached the semi-final round ahead of the field, scoring an easy victory over Jack Crawford, the young Australian star, 6—0, 6—1, 7—5.

Australia's veteran contenders for the men's title met with mingled fortunes, John B. Hawkes reaching the quarter finals by eliminating the Argentine, W. E. Robson, 6—2, 6—3, 4—6, 6—1, and Gerald Patterson bowing to the 18-year-old French star, Christian Boussus. Patterson, who had a hard match the day before, was unable to continue after the third set and abandoned the match with Boussus leading 6—1, 5—7, 9—7.

Eileen Bennett of England defeated Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va., 6—3, 7—9, 7—5, leaving Helen Wills the only representative of the United States in women's play. Miss Wills was idle yesterday.

Playing perfect mechanical tennis like that with which he defeated William T. Tilden in the final for the United States championship last September, Lacoste swept the first two sets with loss of only one game, loafed a bit in the third set while his opponent, Crawford, took a lead of 5—2, then flashed a winning streak of five straight games for the set and match.

Cochet was fully as impressive in his match with Hunter, one of the hardest hitters and staunchest fighters in the game.

ROYALS WIN FROM WINGS

Montrealers Given Even Break in Four-Game Series by 7-3 Victory.

MAPLE LEAFS IDLE

NEW YORK, June 1.— (Canadian Press.)—Bob Shawkey had the Rochester Red Wings popping out to the infielders in the closing game of the series at Rochester yesterday, and the Montreal Royals won, 7 to 3. The victory gave the Montrealers an even break in the four game series, and advanced them back to the first division of the International League ahead of Rochester.

The Toronto Maple Leafs, who are setting the pace, and their rivals, the Buffalo Bisons, were idle. The third place Newark Bears scored a 10 inning victory over the Jersey City Black Cats, 8 to 7.

Jacques Fournier was the hero, his single in the tenth sending in the winning tally. Jocke Coulan and Jimmy Walsh both hit homers.

Reading advanced to seventh place and shoved Baltimore into the cellar by taking a 4 to 3 ten-inning decision. Harry Lake's double, scoring Johnny Moore, who had singled, gave Reading the victory in the extra inning.

BRAVES WIN FULL SERIES

Boston and Pittsburgh Victorious in Only Scheduled Games in National.

DEFEAT PHILLIES 9-4

NEW YORK, June 1.—(Canadian Press.) — The Boston Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates were victorious in the only scheduled games in the National League yesterday.

The Braves made a clean sweep of the four game series with the Phillies by winning yesterday's battle, 9 to 4. The Braves hit three Philadelphia pitchers for thirteen hits, including George Sisler's first National League home run. It came in the second inning when the Braves scored seven runs. George had two other hits. Hornsby bagged two doubles and a single. Bob Smith kept the Phillies' six hits well scattered.

The Pirates broke their losing streak of six straight by defeating the Cardinals, 3 to 2 in the final game of the series. The Buccaneers tied the score in the sixth when Earl Smith hit a home run with none on and nosed out ahead after two were down in the 9th. Paul Waner's triple and Glenn Wright's single turned the trick.

YANKS DEFEAT SENATORS 4-0

Make It Three Out of Four in Series With Washington.

RUTH CLOUTS NINETEENTH

NEW YORK, June 1 (Canadian Press).—Playing with four utility men in their lineup, the Yankees made it three out of four from the Senators by winning yesterday, four to nothing. Babe Ruth hit his nineteenth home run of the season, with none on, in the third, and missed a second circuit blow only because he failed to beat a relay to the plate after hitting deep centre and driving in two more runs in the fifth. Irving Hadley was in the box for the Senators. Cedric Durst also touched Hadley for a homer.

Durst was in the game because Lou Gehrig had been chased by the umpires for protesting a decision with what they deemed undue vigor.

Herby Pennock limited the Senators to four safeties, and at no time was in danger of being scored upon. Pennock scored his eighth victory in nine starts.

Five doubles and a triple went to make up Detroit's 9 to 4 victory over Cleveland. Gibson walked four men but otherwise pitched great ball, lowering his guard only in the last inning when Cleveland scored two runs. Rice, Galloway and Fothergill helped him out with three hits each, Fothergill getting two doubles in four times up.

Shaute, making his first start since incurring an infected finger, was never a puzzle but lasted seven innings, until removed for a pinch hitter.

The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns divided a doubleheader, Chicago taking the first, seven to two, and St. Louis the second, two to one, in ten innings.

Blaeholder and Wiltse were batted hard in the first game, while Lyons held the locals to seven scattered hits.

The second game was a pitching duel between Adkins and Gray, each of whom allowed only five hits. The three runs were all home runs, Schulte's circuit clout deciding the contest in the tenth.

The Philadelphia-Boston game was called on account of rain.

PONTYPOOL PLAY YELVERTON CLUB

Win First Game of Season by Score 6 to 3 at Blackstock.

PONTYPOOL, May 31.—Pontypool Baseball Club journeyed to Blackstock to have their initial game of the season. They were matched to play Yelverton who are old rivals and the winners were to play Nestleton. The line-up for Pontypool for the first game was Mitchell 1b, Payne 3b, Clarke P. Chapman, ss, Bannon c, Taylor rf, Lowery 2b, Finch cf, Preston lf.

Pontypool was victorious in the first game to the score of 6—3, Clarke being in midseason form having 12 strike-outs. The first six men to bat in each team were fanned, but Wilson did not receive very good support. Chapman had a great day at the bat and also contributed several nice fielding features and stole several bases. Clarke, Taylor, Mitchell and Bannon also did some heavy slugging, Clarke coming across with a triple with the bases full. Yelverton team had their regular line-up; their batting was very good with a weaker infield than usual. The second game was more of a happy-go-lucky affair, the final score being 15—10, in favor of Nestleton. Pontypool team were practically all changed in their line-up and everyone trying their luck at pitching. By all appearances the local team will have to be considered as strong contenders for the cup this season. The annual meeting of the League will be held in Nestleton on Monday, when the schedule will be drawn up.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

While it is said to retain all of the customary thrills and romantic action of western pictures, the new Fox production, "Blood Will Tell," with Buck Jones in the starring role, is a story of decidedly unique nature according to the synopsis by Paul Gangelin from the story by Adele Buffington. The picture now being shown at the Regent Theatre.

As the title indicates, the story centers in the theory of heredity, dealing with a picturesque character of the west who hears the subtle call of the range from the farthest corner of the earth. Buck Jones, a westerner in every sense of the word, plays this role.

Humor enters into the account with the arrival on the range of an eastern girl, come to claim a ranch which she believes she has inherited. Her arrival is simulatneous with that of the real owner, the wandering westerner, who humorously permits her to believe that she owns the property. The situation naturally results in complications and there is where a most interesting narrative comes to life on the screen.

To be sure, the open country is infested with a lawless element which Buck Jones combats at the start and continues to combat to a decisive and thrilling climax. And equally as certain, of course, is the fact that he finds himself falling in love with the lovely easterner yet unfamiliar with the rolling saddle and the waving range country.

Kathryn Perry, playing the part of the girl, is said to have done the best work of her career in pictures. Others in the cast include Lawford Davidson, Bob Kortman, Harry Gripp and Austin Jewel. Ray Flynn was the director, and according to reports from the Fox west coast studios he spared no expense or hardships to make it authentic in atmosphere and action.

The first opportunity for a motion picture company to shoot the covered bridge, near Sonora, California, designed by General Grant in 1858, came when the Buck Jones company was on location for "Blood Will Tell."

The bridge, not completed until 1863, spans the Stanislaus River near Burns Ferry, and is covered to protect it from the huge snow slides.

In these scenes Buck does some of his most daring acting. Trapped on the bridge, with the temperature hovering around 110, Buck dives headlong into the icy mountain river.

AT THE CAPITOL.

BEERY AND HATTON IN "WIFE SAVERS"

The pair of jokesters who romped hilariously through the episodes of "Behind the Front," as a couple of doughboys, through "We're in the Navy Now," as a pair of luckless gobs, and through "Fireman, Save my Child," as members of the clanging wagon gang, are together again in their latest effort, "Wife Savers." But they are no longer buddies. The big, simple-faced Beery is Private Looie Hozenozzle and Hatton is Second Lieutenant Rodney Ramsbottom, who makes life miserable for the heavy-witted private. But Looie has his innings when Ramsbottom departs after the signing of the Armistice and leaves Hozenozzle in charge of his lady fair, the pretty demoiselle, Collette.

The giggly type of sub-title which always accompanies the productions of this pair of adventurers has its innings in this picture, also, which is based on Florenz Ziegfeld's production, "Looie the Fourteenth." The big private graduates later into an Alpine guide, "Looie the Fourteenth," successor to thirteen luckless guides who have sneezed at the wrong moment and started the avalanche which awaits hay-fever victims. Looie is an "American guide with a Swiss movement" and takes a party of Ohioan enthusiasts on a mountain-climbing expedition which leaves them stranded on an ice peak while he slides to safety on a stone slab with Germaine, the "excellent cream cheese" pest of the regiment, who lavishes much devotion on the unregardful Looie.

General Lavoris, another of the toothwash generals, by the way, and a welcome successor to General Haltitosis of popular fame, has his eye on the Lieutenant's girl, Collette, and Looie marries her to save her for him, after a promulgation to the effect that all single ladies shall wed within twenty-four hours' time. Looie enacts the role that Beery affects in these pictures; the demeanor of a cavalier pursued by importunate females and rather unmindful of their charms.

The two have the ludicrous comedy situations in this picture that abound in their other productions, although Hatton's role is subordinated to that of the big, lunkish Beery, who occupies most of the limelight. There is a good deal of laughter in "Wife Savers."

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, D. M. Howson, took the chair. The opening song was "The Marching Song." The pledge was then repeated.

Miss Vera Kilcher reported stopping a boy from shooting at birds.

W. Turner then asked Mrs. Chandler what the Senior Society expected was to be done with the proceeds of the paper collection. Mrs. Chandler said that she understood that the Juniors were helping the Senior Society and that the proceeds were to go to the latter society. She stated that Mrs. Martin had been present when that was first discussed in the Junior meeting. Mrs. Martin arrived at this point and agreed with Mrs. Chandler. Warren Turner maintained that he was of the opposite opinion, and told how the Juniors had planned a collection and how it Lake," by Hopkirk.

was suggested by a Senior member that they combine. This suggestion had been agreed upon. The speaker then pointed out that the Junior Society was in debt to the Senior one and was in great need of finances to pay this off and to run the society properly. It was finally decided that, as the money would be used to the best advantage by either society, the Junior Society should receive the proceeds and pay any expenses incurred. The collection is to be held on Friday, June 8, and the help of the public is respectfully requested.

The song, "Ring the Bells of Mercy" followed.

Miss Vera Kilcher gave a reading. Vincent Holmes rendered a very fine piano selection entitled, "On the Lake," by Hopkirk.

BIG SIX.

(By the Associated Press)

Rogers Hornsby, leader of the Big Six, regained the .400 circle he knew so long by going through a perfect day at bat as the Braves cleaned up the final engagements of a four-game series in Philadelphia, 9 to 4. The Rajah got two double, a single, a sacrifice and a pass, and his team won its fourth straight, and his average was lifted to .410.

Paul Waner and Babe Ruth each batted 500 for the day, and each played a big part in bringing victory to his team, Waner with a ninth inning triple, and Ruth with his nineteenth homer and a triple which was almost his twentieth home run. They went into a tie for the second place. Cobb again was idle, and Frisch and Heilmann both had an off day at the bat.

The standing to date:

Player, Team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	%
Hornsby, Braves	.38	134	31	55	.410

Uncle Wiggily

To-day's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JACKIE'S WARNING

"Why should I have to do that puzzle and guess what is wrong with Mrs. Twistytail's wash before I nibble you, Uncle Wiggily?" the Fox snarled as he looked at the rabbit gentleman around where I can pinch your tail in a clothespin!", suddenly squealed the pig lady, who was hanging out her wash. She rushed at the Fox with a big clothespin so she could pinch him, but the Fox did not wait.

"Because I told you to," bravely answered Mr. Longears. "It is the rule that you must do the puzzle. All the boys and girls who read stories about me have to do the puzzles, so why shouldn't you?"

"Well, I'm not going to!" said the Fox. "I think it's silly!"

"And I think you're silly to come

Away he ran, the ice tongs banging after him and so he didn't get Uncle Wiggily that time. Mr. Longears thanked the fat pig lady, who then asked:

"What is wrong with my washing that you made a puzzle of it?"

"Why," chuckled Uncle Wiggily with a twinkle of his pink nose, "you only put one clothespin on the first shirt hanging on your line and the second shirt you hung out has only one sleeve."

"Oh, how careless of me!" grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "But those are only two mistakes, Uncle Wiggily. You spoke of three."

"Look at the clothes basket," said the rabbit.

"Why, it has only one handle!" said Mrs. Twistytail. "That makes three mistakes. But I'm glad the Fox couldn't guess them."

"So am I," said Uncle Wiggily. Then he hopped home to his bungalow and nothing more happened that day.

Next morning, bright and early, Uncle Wiggily hopped out of bed and heard some one barking under his window.

"Whoo-oo, Unkie Wig!" called Jackie Bow Wow, when the rabbit gentleman put out his head. "Will you come with us boys after school?"

"Where are you going?" asked Mr. Longears.

"We are going to the woods to play Boy Scouts," answered Jackie.

"Why yes, of course! I'll be glad to meet you in the woods," said Uncle Wiggily, who, though he was an old rabbit, still felt young.

"We'll have a lot of fun!" barked Jackie. Then he ran on to school with his brother Peetie and the other children and Uncle Wiggily slid down the banister railing of the stairs to breakfast. As he plopped off the end of the railing, he bumped into his wife at the foot of the stairs, making her sit down hard.

"Wiggie! What a thing to do!" she exclaimed, surprised like.

"Oh, excuse me, my dear," he said. "But I'm all excited about going Boy Scouting to the woods with Jackie Bow Wow."

"You'll never grow up!" said Mrs. Longears to her husband, but she couldn't help laughing.

That afternoon, when school was out, Jackie and the other animal boys went to the woods to play Indian Scout and such games.

"Uncle Wiggily promised to meet us here," said Jackie.

"Hark! I hear a noise. Maybe he's coming now," whined Peetie.

But it was the Woozie Wolf who burst through the bushes, hoping to catch Uncle Wiggily. Away scampered the animal boys and soon they had run far from the wolf. Looking back, Jackie saw the Wolf going lippity-loppity toward the west.

"Fellows," said Jackie earnestly, "Uncle Wiggily will soon come along here looking for us. He won't know about the Wolf, but we must give him a secret warning that none of the Bad Chaps can read."

"We can stay here and warn him by telling him," said Peetie.

"No, it would be dangerous for us to stay here," said Jackie. "We must make a picture warning on the ground, as the Indians did." Then Jackie, with a pointed stick, drew in the sand the picture you see here. He made the word RED with small stones, drew an arrow pointing, also a hive of bees and other things. "Uncle Wiggily can read that warning, I'm sure," said Jackie.

Now how many of you can read the secret message?

LEADER'S LETTE RS STOLEN

Politics are running high in Bolivia, and during the warfare the house in La Paz of Sir Ricardo Soruco Ipina, one of the opposition leaders in Parliament, was robbed. Correspondence in locked cases was taken, and it is believed this was the desired object of the thieves. A typewriter, overcoat and other objects were also stolen, as a blind, it is believed, for they were later found and returned to the owner, but no trace of the correspondence has been found. The communications were with other political leaders and directors of newspapers.

PRETTY GARDEN PLACE OF DELIGHT

L. D. W. Magie's Property Beautiful From Spring to Fall.

One of the prettiest springtime gardens in the city blooms behind the grey stone wall that conceals the Simcoe street view of L. D. W. Magie's property at the corner of Reid street. From the first of March, when the shy snowdrop peeps out at the world in this quiet enclosure, to the late Fall, when the last hardy aster smiles at grey November skies, this garden is a beauty spot to passers-by. There are vines and creepers, low, ornamental shrubbery, and above all, a profusion of flowers, to make it the "joy forever" that a thing of beauty always is to owners and observers alike. From hepaticas and hyacinths, on through tulip time and the season of roses and peonies and phlox and delphinium and asters and chrysanthemums, the progression of bloom never ceases in this green-carpeted space of one hundred and twenty-four by one hundred and twenty-nine feet.

Just now, tulips have the stage and their colored oblong chalices glow and glisten under a mild young sun. The stately Darwins are here, in all their glory of deep purple and light orchid, in bronze and yellow and rich rose. And there are "cottage" tulips, with pointed, tapering blossoms, "breeder" tulips, bearing two or more blooms on the stalk, and the curiously-shaped "parrot" tulips, which are just like their name.

The Virginia cowslip, which has a dignified botanical Latin name all its own, is prominent also just now, with its tubular blossoms of a mauvish blue, or periwinkle, shade. There are Polyanthus flowers, clinging close to the ground, with their starry faces of red, centred by yellow. The creeping phlox is here, and the saxifrage, which is another mauve bloom of humble tendencies, while Jack in the Pulpit occupies a position of lordly prominence. A few of the dainty white faces of the narcissi poeticus still remain, and some orange bits of liveliness in the double buttercup, or globe flower. In the borders are quantities of upstanding bright yellow daffodils. The bleeding heart bush has a melancholy corner all to itself, companioned by the tiny little "guinea hen" flower.

Later will come lilies of many varieties, lilacs of white and purple, rosés and lily of the valley, peonies, phlox and delphinium, sweet william add monkshood—all the beauties of the floral kingdom to dwell in this quite fragrant corner of the city.

Peterborough Contributions To Meet Cost Of Translating Bible Into Ngala Welle

Ngala Welle, a language spoken in the northern part of the Belgian Congo, in the very centre of Africa, is to be used in a translation of the New Testament to be paid for by contributions of Peterborough people to the Bible Society during the annual canvass here this spring. The translators of this new addition to the already large number of versions of the Scripture issued by the British and Foreign Bible Society will be members of the African Inland Mission and of the Assembly of God Mission. The total cost of the translation will be in the neighborhood of $1500, and the record contribution made by Peterborough people this year will practically cover the entire cost.

Local Parks Pretty With Spring Flowers

Victoria Park and Confederation Square are looking their best just at this time. The leaves are coming out, the grass is green and nicely cut, but best of all are the beautiful beds of tulips that are just breaking into bloom and by Sunday will be out in full. In Victoria park there are five beds of tulips in five different colors. The colors are well blended together in the beds, which makes them look very beautiful.

MARSHAL CHANG'S TRAIN BOMBED ON OUTSKIRTS OF MUKDEN TO-DAY

BADLY INJURED.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, June 4 (Canadian Press).—The return of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, to his stronghold in Mukden after two years of rule as dictator of North China, was marked this morning by the bombing of Chang's special train as it entered the suburbs of the Manchurian capital.

Several of those on board the former dictator's special train were killed, two officials were injured, and Chang Tso-Lin himself suffered slight facial injuries.

The bombing has caused some tension between the Chinese and the Japanese, as the Japanese declared that Chinese aboard the train fired at random and mainly directed their fire at the Japanese gendarmes guarding the railway. The latter replied, and for 40 minutes there was an exchange of shots.

TOKIO, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Despatches from Mukden, Manchuria, say that Chang Tso-Lin, former North China dictator, who was injured in a bomb explosion this morning en route to Mukden from Peking, is reported in a serious condition. Despatches also state that Wu Chun-Sheng, military governor of Heilung-iang Province, has died from injuries which he received in the bomb outrage.

May Discuss Protests

GENEVA, June 4 (Canadian Press).—The protests of the Chinese business men and bankers against the Japanese occupation of Shantung may possibly be discussed privately by members of the Council of the League of Nations, it was announced to-day. The Council meets to-day.

The delegation from Japan announced that "barring unforseen circumstances" they would not start any discussion of the Chinese question at Geneva. The Japanese spokesman said his government was convinced that no good could be gained by such discussion since the situation at Peking was uncertain.

General Sun Resigns

TOKIO, June 4 (Canadian Press).—A message from Tientsin to-day said that General Sun Chuan-Fang, one of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's allies, had resigned his command of the Shantung and Chili armies and announced his withdrawal from Tientsin.

Cantonese Kill Communists.

CANTON, China, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Four hundred Communists were killed and four hundred captured in Lingshui, on the Island of Hainan, on May 30, in a clash with government troops, said advices reaching Canton to-day.

Hostilities between the government troops and the Communists have been sporadic in recent months and the troops attacked the Communists after purposely permitting them to enter the city.

There are rumors in Canton that martial law may be proclaimed in this city and that a Red uprising is possible.

DOUBLE DETOUR IS PROPOSED

Go To Chemong By Jackson Park and Return Past Isolation Hospital.

BOTH ROADS NARROW.

With the closing of the Chemong road this Summer while it is being paved, many suggestions have been made to look after the heavy traffic on the side roads. Both side roads leading towards the Summer resort are narrow in place, hence it has been suggested to The Examiner that the road leading from Jackson Park to the cheese factory on the Fourth Line of Smith and the one out by Hilliard street to the Fifth Line of Smith be made one way roads and designated as such by the Highway department.

All motor traffic going to Chemong would go by the Jackson Park road and return by the Fifth Line of Smith and out Hilliard street. This, it is claimed, would overcome the great danger there will be this Summer, when cars want to pass on the narrow road. Many citizens who have cottages declare that they will remain in the city rather than face the traffic coming from Chemong late Saturday night.

It has also been suggested that only those who are going out to their cottages or going to the dances or are on business use these roads during the Summer.

These suggestions would not mean that the farmers living on these roads or immediately off them would necessarily go the long way round to get to their home, but would send the traffic which is going to and from Chemong by different roads.

Nearly 61,000,000 coconuts were brought into the United States in the past 12 months.

Form Dairy Pool For Russell County

OTTAWA, Ont., June 4.—(Canadian Press.)— Decision to organize a dairy pool was reached by the dairy producers of Russell county at a meeting at Leonard Saturday. The meeting was attended by representatives from each township in the county and Marshall Rathwell, Reeve of Cumberland was appointed chairman to pilot the organization through its initial stages. Much enthusiasm was displayed at the meeting.

The formation of the pool is the beginning of what is expected to be a movement that will embrace all the counties of Eastern Ontario. It is proposed to operate the pool along the lines which have proved so successful for the western wheat pools.

Many Receive Honors On King's Birthday

LONDON, June 4. Canadian Press. — Three new peerages, five baronetcies, and a large number of knighthoods, are included in the honors list issued yesterday in connection with the birthday of King George, (June 3,) which will be officially celebrated to-day. Several of the knighthoods have been conferred on residents of Australia, New Zealand and Rhodesia, and residents of India figure largely in the list of honors.

The three new peers are: Sir Alfred Mond, Conservative M. P., for Carmarthan, chairman of Imperial Chemical Industries Limited, and president of the Mond Nickel Company, Coniston, Ont.

Col. Sir James Remnant, Conservative M.P., for Holburn, Sir George Rowland Blades, Conservative M. P. for Epsom, who made such an outstanding success last year as Lord Mayor of London.

The creation of these new peerages will involve by-elections.

CROSSING PACIFIC

Well on the way to Suva, where it is expected to arrive at 11 p.m. (E.S.T.) to-day, the monoplane Southern Cross is speeding across the Pacific on the second hop of a flight from Oakland, Cal., to Sydney, Australia. Photograph No. 1 shows Captain H. W. Lyon, navigator of the Southern Cross; No. 2 is Captain Kingsford-Smith, pilot; No. 3, Captain C. T. P. Ulm, relief pilot; No. 4, James W. Warner, radio operator: No. 5 shows the monoplane. Kingsford-Smith and Ulm are Australians, and Lyon and Warner Americans.

SOUTHERN CROSS FLYING WELL; EXPECTED AT SUVA THIS EVENING

Radio Reports Show Steady Progress at Speed of 90 Miles an Hour.

HAD TO FIGHT STORM.

Atlantic Hop From Trepassey, Nfld., to England, Likely to Start This Week.

HONOLULU, June 4 (Canadian Press).—The giant monoplane, Southern Cross, soaring over the vast Pacific, was 800 miles from Suva, Fiji, its second stop en route to Australia at 7.30 a.m. coast time to-day (10.30 a.m. eastern standard time). It was encountering bad weather.

A message heard from the plane by the Radio Corporation of America read:

"Five a.m., seven degrees, six minutes south latitude, longitude 179 west, 800 miles to Suva. Bad weather."

At regular intervals throughout the long hours of the night the plane's radio broadcast its position, showing a steady progress of about 90 nautical miles an hour.

If this speed were maintained the plane should reach its objective about 8 p.m., Pacific Coast time, to-day, and the four birdmen aboard will have completed the longest all-water flight in history, 3,138 miles. At 4 a.m., Pacific Coast time, the plane reported its position as over the Phoenix group of islands.

Thrill For Suva.

SUVA, Fiji Islands, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Natives of the Fiji Islands awaited the thrill of their lives to-day—the arrival of the trimotored Southern Cross which cruised through the night at a speed of more than 90 miles an hour to reach here before sundown. The craft will be the first to land here, and it is a matter for some conjecture as to how the natives will regard the huge plane.

Fighting Storm.

PANNING ISLAND, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Throughout the night this island in mid-Pacific was treated to a continuous story of the flight of the Southern Cross. A series of radio messages put on the air as the plane played tag with a storm told the fight the huge craft was having with the elements.

The fliers are Adjutant Louis Crooj and Sergeant Pilot Victor Broenen.

STIRLING GIRL REPORTED LOST

Lucy Kitchen, 22, Has Not Been Home Since Last Thursday.

POLICE NOTIFIED.

BELLEVILLE, June 4.—The police of this city have been notified of the disappearance of Lucy Kitchen, of Stirling Village, Hastings County. The missing young lady has not been seen since Thursday. She is 22 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, wears glasses, and when leaving home wore a blue coat. She has brown bobbed hair.

THE WEATHER

The nights still continue very cool, and many are in a quandary whether to put out their tomato plants, etc., or wait a few more days. Sunday morning the temperature was down to 38 degrees, with evidences of white frost. This morning it was at 40 degrees. Highest temperature yesterday, 65 degrees. While June frosts are not common in this section they occur sufficiently often to constitute a real menace, and some years do considerable damage. Old weather records show that they are much less frequent now than they were 50, 60 and 70 years ago. The clearing of the land has largely done away with June frosts, and also with "fever and ague," which the old pioneers were so wont to dwell upon.—W. P.

84 YEARS OLD, MADOC CITIZEN ENJOYS HORSEBACK RIDE DAILY

David Elliott Kinnear Stewart, Fenian Raid Veteran, Still Active.

NATIVE OF GODERICH

Has Been Lawyer, Prospector, Mine Owner, and Still Retains Many Interests.

Not three score and ten but four score and four and still going strong is the proud record of David Elliott Kinnear Stewart, one of Madoc's pioneer residents, who speaks with authority on all that pertains to the Town of Talc where he has spent many years of his life not only because his practice as a barrister demanded and still demands it, but because of wide and varied interests in the mining prospects of the surrounding district.

Remarkable as is the position he holds in the esteem of fellow-citizens, still more remarkable is the story of his life-time from the days when, as a young shaver of six years he tried his first chew of tobacco with inevitable results to the later days when, from the landing at Prescott he, a member of the 15th Battalion of Belleville, kept guard lest invaders from the Fenian camp across the river at Ogdensburg should take his company by surprise; to the days when he first visited Madoc, then a thriving mining centre with seventeen stage coaches operating between it and Belleville; and to the present day when he takes genuine pleasure out of his daily morning horse-back ride into the nearby countryside; three or more pipes a day, and week-end visits with his daughter in Belleville. A retentive memory and an active interest in events of the present contribute to his being a most pleasing conversationist.

A chance query relative to mining in the district led to the writer being directed to the office of D. E. K. Stewart, slightly west of Durham street on St. Lawrence street, but alas, on approaching the vicinity, the would-be visitor espied, mounted on a spirited-looking chestnut mare, one answering in detail the description previously volunteered —the khaki riding-breeks, heavy boots, blue coat, and, glancing higher, the grey-bearded, keen-eyed visage of the man, happy in anticipation of a morning's ride before him. Obviously, this was no time to seek an interview.

It was in the evening that opportunity beckoned and this time, with the day's events behind him, the old gentleman proved most pleasant of approach. He extended an invitation to his office which seemed, somehow, to be possessed of an unusual quality of hospitality, and with but a hesitation outside while he glanced at a very valuable watch (whose ability to strike the periods of the hour, he immediately demonstrated, subject and writer mounted a flight of stairs and emerged into his quarters. One noted, most of all, a pipe-rack containing, perhaps, half a dozen tobacco pipes; a box containing what later proved to be valuable ores; an old rocket firer resting atop an unused desk. There was a couch and several easy chairs and a confusion of papers, yet one felt that, despite this certain appearance of disorder, here was an office with a wealth of information, and reminiscences of latent value capable of filling volumes of which its single occupant alone might be writer, publisher and librarian.

His manner of address was direct, but not sharply abrupt, and after carefully preparing two pipes—the new one was for his guest—he began his story, not in the cold "fact after fact" way but in a leisurely fashion with many deviations from the main thought, that he might better illustrate (though half unconsciously) the pleasures, and hardships, of a most eventful life.

David Elliott Kinnear Stewart was born in Goderich in 1844, the son of John Stewart, well-known barrister practising there. He attended the Grammar school at Goderich and, when eight years of age, moved with his parents to Stratford because it was more central to his father's practice.

Mr. Stewart proudly told of how his father, born near and educated in Belfast University, then considered the first seat of learning, had come to Canada together with three brothers (among them, Old Dr. Stewart of Belleville), and his parents, and established a wide law practice extending from Toronto to Windsor.

"D.E.K." as he may be referred to throughout this article, studied classics under his father's guidance, and three days before his sixteenth birthday, passed at the head of a class of twenty-three

CLOTHING FOUND IN CEDAR CLUMP

Police Investigate Finding of Suitcase Full of English-made Garments.

NEAR CAMPBELLFORD.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 4.—Following the disappearance of a young immigrant lad from this locality recently, the police have been handed a suitcase containing several articles of clothing. The two, however, do not appear to have any connection since the suitcase was found about three miles south-west of Campbellford, the former affair took place in the vicinity of Allan's Mills, which is north-east of the town. The local police are attempting to establish the ownership of the case and clothing, and thus ascertain where the owner is at the present time and his reason for discarding the wearing apparel.

The discovery was made by Charles Fraser, Lot Three, Concession Four, of the township of Seymour. He said, in handing over the articles to the police, that he had noticed them in a clump of cedars one day about three weeks ago when he and his son were driving cattle through the wood lot. He did not know who would be the owner and could not give any information other than where and when he had first seen the article.

The suitcase is more or less battered and is of imitation leather, brown in color. The clothing contained is of Old Country design, and is for a small man or boy. Of the half dozen collars, two bear laundry marks in English. One which had the appearance of being Chinese, was proved to be not of that language. One collar bears the name, R. Flint. The collars are of English and American make and carry maker's and dealer's names from these two countries. They are size 14½. The striped flannelette shirt is believed to be also of English manufacture, and bears the number 7 attached to the back of the inside of the collar band. There is distinct evidence of the maker's label having been torn from the shirt neck. There are also coat and trousers. The coat and one pair of trousers are of grey tweed but do not match. The second pair of trousers is of gray flannel. None of these articles has any labels which might be used for identification purposes. A gray wool muffler is also among the kit. Tooth brush, hair brush, shoe blacking, shawl strap, and a length of stout cord complete the list of articles. None of these are stamped save the shoe polish which is made by William Male and Son of Walkden, Manchester, Eng.

On the outside of the case is part of a steamer label which has been torn so that only the stub remains. There is not enough lettering on it to identify the company or steamer to which it belongs without further investigation. On the outside of the case appear the words, "No harm done," written in pencil and in large letters. Whether or not there has been any harm done is what the police are attempting to ascertain.

Liberals Will Not Contest By-Election

TEESWATER, Ont., June 4.—(Canadan Press.)—In convention Saturday afternoon at Riverdale the Liberals of the Provincial Riding of South Bruce decided unanimously not to place a candidate in the field for the approaching by-election. Without exception, those who took part in the discussion agreed that the time was too short for such action to be advisable.

No names were mentioned as possible candidates. The feeling was expressed by two speakers that providing a convention had been called some months ago a Liberal from one of the towns would have had an excellent chance of carrying the Riding against the two farmers now in the field, Foster Moffat, Conservative, and M. A. McCallum, Progressive.

The Liberals went on record as intending to contest the next Provincial general election, regardless of how many candidates are in the field.

SEARCH FOR ITA LIA IS RESUMED AFTER WEEK OF PREPARATIONS

Peking President Gives Up Reign

PEKING, China, June 4. Canadian Press. — No flag floated over the empty presidential palace in Peking yesterday. The five barred emblem of the China Republic was pulled down when Chang Tso-lin gave up his two years' dictatorship and left for Mukden early yesterday morning. The expected crop of the sun banners of the victorious Nationalists, has not yet flowered.

Instead of the scores of Mukdenite soldiers who up to Saturday, guarded the entrance of the palace and watched over the safety of the dictator, a pair of drowsy looking policemen was on duty. Except for this evidence of law and order, Peking was without a visible government, but the city was quiet.

Ice Cutter Sails North With Alpinists to Explore Coasts.

SEAPLANE ARRIVES.

Soviet Relief Expedition Hears of Message Received From Franz Joseph Land.

KING'S BAY, June 4. Canadian Press. — The search for the missing Italia, unheard of since May 25, was in full swing to-day after a week of extensive preparations.

The ice cutter Braganza was plowing through the icy waters off Northern Spitsbergen, with search parties of Italian alpinists ready to disembark at strategical points to seek the crew of the Italia.

Early this morning the sealer Hobby arrived at King's Bay, carrying Lieut. Luetzow Holm, the crack Norwegian flyer, and the naval monoplane from which he will survey the polar sea off Spitsbergen.

Message Reported.

MOSCOW, June 4. — Canadian Press. — The Soviet Nobile Rescue Commission, which has been investigating a report by a radio amateur that he had picked up a message believed to be from the missing Italia from Franz Joseph Land, to-day held a growing belief that the Nobile expedition may have landed at that place.

A radio amateur at Voznesensk, in North Dvinsk province, bordering on Archangel, confirmed reports of a message, giving the full text, although apparently garbled, of the appeal. It read:

"Italia Nobile Franz Joseph SOS SOS SOS terri teno ehn."

This message was received on a 33.35 wave, corresponding to the Italia's radio station, amateur operators said.

Will Send Expedition.

MOSCOW, June 4. Canadian Press. —Convinced of the possibility that the missing dirigible Italia may have descended on Franz Joseph Land, east of Spitzbergen, the Russian Nobile Relief Commission, has decided to send an expedition to that little known region. The expedition will consist of icebreakers and an airship.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE SELECTED BY ROTARIANS AT NOON TO-DAY

Report of Nominating Committee is Adopted To-day.

NEWSPAPER FUN.

Miss McCarthy Tells Club of Amusing Side of Journalism.

Rotarians W. R. Morris, Rev. Father Paul Costello, Robert Abbott, Ross L. Dobbin and Chris. G. Graham, will be the directors of the Peterborough Rotary Club for the next year, taking office in July, as the result of the adoption of the Nominating committee's report at to-day's luncheon. Rotarian Fred L. Roy, chairman of the Nominating committee, made the report, which was unanimously passed amid much applause.

The Rotarians to-day heard something about the funny side of journalism from Miss Cathleen McCarthy, society editor of The Examiner, who gave a sparkling address on 'Humour in Newspaper Work," based on her own experiences as a member of The Examiner staff.

Miss McCarthy, who was introduced by Rotarian C. G. Graham in a characteristic speech, kept her hearers constantly amused as she told of some of the funny things that had come to her notice in her career as a newspaper writer. Her address was one laugh after another as she detailed some of her own adventures and related amusing features of many events she had been called upon to report. Rotarians especially appreciated her recital of the letters she used to receive when conducting the "Annie Laurie" column and trying to settle the worries of passionate young lovers and the marital troubles of older people, her reading of some of these communications causing repeated laughter. The funny twists given to articles by typographical errors, the queer mistakes sometimes made by correspondents, the unusual requests that are often received from readers and all the other funny features of newspaper work were amusingly described by Miss McCarthy, to the great enjoyment of her hearers.

President A. L. Killaly expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker and presented her with a bouquet of flowers as a mark of the club's appreciation, and Rotarian W. R. Widdess voiced his enjoyment of the address.

Earlier in to-day's meeting President Killaly reported upon the visit of Peterborough Rotarians to the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville and referred to the effort that was to be made to have Ontario Rotary Clubs present a gymnasium to the school.

Toronto Barrister Won't Accept K.C.

TORONTO, June 4 (Canadian Press).—W. D. Gregory, prominent Toronto barrister, announced to-day that he will not accept the King's councillorship offered him by the Provincial Government. This is the second time that Mr. Gregory has refused this honor, which was offered him by the Drury Government in 1921. At that time he stated that there should be absolute equality before the courts. "I feel strongly that the practice of giving certain barristers precedence is out of harmony with the democratic standards that generally prevail in Canada."

PRESCOTT TO BE LAKE TERMINAL

St. Lawrence River Town Chosen as New Transshipment Point.

REJOICING IN TOWN.

OTTAWA, June 4 (Canadian Press).—The Citizen in a front page feature story to-day says:

"It is understood that in the course of the next few days, when the public works estimates are before the House, announcement will be made that Prescott has been definitely selected as the location of the Great Lakes terminals, and that an appropriation of around one and a half million dollars will be made towards the works and buildings required in the old fort town in connection with the new developments.

"Engineers considered the claims of Kingston, Gananoque and Brockville, as well as those of Prescott, before writing their final report in favor of the last mentioned. The location of the terminals there admits of a longer water route than if some point further west on the St. Lawrence had been chosen.

"News that Prescott had been definitely chosen as the terminal port for Great Lakes vessels was brought to the town on Saturday evening, it is understood, by A. C. Casselman, M.P. for Grenville-Dundas, and caused much rejoicing. Prescott at once, by means of its own broadcasting station, told the world to watch this little town grow."

No Official Selection

OTTAWA, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Information obtained at the Department of Railways and Canals this morning is to the effect that no definite selection of the port for the Great Lakes terminals has yet been made. The matter is still under consideration, according to high officials of the department. It is not unlikely that a decision will be reached before long. Prescott is mentioned as the most likely selection, but there has been no official announcement yet.

WINDSOR, Ont., June 4 (Canadian Press). — Mrs. Angeline Montforton, who on Thursday strangled her two children to death, attempted to take her own life in the county jail at Sandwich last night. She was found, partly undressed, hanging from a bar of the cell door, having used some of her clothing to make a noose. She was in a serious condition when cut down, but is expected to recover. The funeral of her children was to be held this afternoon.

WOMEN DISCUSS IMMIGRATION TO-DAY

TORONTO, June 4.— (Canadian Press.)—Several phases of Canada's immigration problem were under consideration by the annual convention of the National Council of Women in Annesley Hall to-day, when recommendations passed at the conference of women at Ottawa in February were put before the delegates. Recommendations dealing with the training of juveniles for farm life, the banning of misleading information calculated to attract migrants to Canada, and protesting against the migration of unaccompanied children of school age to the Dominion, were passed with little discussion.

The Council also adopted proposals in regard to the medical inspection of immigrants by Canadian medical officers overseas, and in connection with the extension of protective measures to foreign women and girls travelling alone, as are now extended to British women.

American Flier Off On Unknown Flight

BOSTON, Mass., June 4 (A.P.). Flying the tri-motored Fokker monoplane, formerly owned by Commander Richard E. Byrd, Wilmer Stultz took off from the Boston airport at 5 a.m. yesterday for an unannounced destination. He told employes of the airport, however, that he would fly to New York.

There was no verification of a rumor that Stultz had started on a trans-Atlantic flight with another pilot and a woman passenger. Airport employees said that the plane was not fueled for a long trip.

Ponttons were attached to the plane about three weeks ago, while it was still the property of Commander Byrd. For the past two weeks, airport officials said, Stultz had been testing the plane to determine its fuel consumption.

Another was about improving the entrance to the church, and painting, varnishing and putting mats upon the choir steps. This latter will be done very shortly. Mesdames Allan U. Payne and George Taylor volunteered to supply flowers for the church during June. Mrs. James Hawthorne gave an instrumental solo.

The social evening to be held for those who helped in the auto race will be held on the evening of the last Thursday in June.

After the meeting closed, Mrs. Weller said she had an item to read, and read the following address to Mrs. Herrington:

Dear Mrs. Herrington: On this, the anniversary of your birth, we, the members of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church, Warsaw, wish to extend to you our heartiest congratulations. We feel that anything we might say could not express our appreciation of your being with us. To have you with us is a pleasure, and the example you give is an inspiration for us to go out and be better women and better citizens.

So, as a small token of our appreciation, we ask you to accept these flowers, and may the days, as the years roll by, be as bright and colorful as these blooms.

Again we wish you every happiness, and many happy returns of the day.

Signed on behalf of the Aid: Mrs. A. Edwards, Mrs. G. Taylor, Mrs. Weller, Mrs. T. Clements.

Mrs. George Taylor then presented a beautiful bouquet of tulips and carnations.

Mrs. Herrington was completely surprised as she did not know anyone knew her birthday date, but was very much pleased and thanked the ladies gracefully and heartily.

Lunch was served and a pleasant social half-hour spent.

Mrs. Richard Batten, Peterborough, is spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Batten.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Digweed returned from their trip to Niagara on Thursday eevning.

PRIZE SPEECH IN CONTEST

AT MADOC

MADOC, June 4.— The following speech entitled, "Origin of the County of Hastings and Developments," is the one that received the first prize for the Public School Juniors at the oratorical contest in the Empire Theatre recently .

Miss Dorothy Fox was the winner of first prize in the Juniors.

The name of Hastings is of great antiquity and was a place of some importance in the time of the Anglo-Saxons. Since William the Conquer-of pitched his tents at Hastings and prepared for battle with King Edward of England, at Senlac Hill Oct. 14th, 1066, the name of Hastings seemed destined to play an important part in British history.

The aftermath of the Norman conquest, although cruel, proved to be the nucleus of some of our Government institutions. The formation of the great Council at Salisbury in 1086, at which meeting all districts of the kingdom were represented and an oath of allegiance to the King was required from each member, was perhaps the origin of our present day parliament. The Doomsday Book, completed in 1086, in which was recorded names of all landowners, with location and description of their property compiled for taxation purposes was the beginning of an important institution in our municipal system. Forms of law courts were also established during this period but it is doubtful if they were the origin of our courts of modern times. Warren Hastings as governor of India, 1782, preserved by strategy what Clive had won by the sword and retained for the British Empire that vast country with its natural resources and commercial opportunities.

Lord Francis Hastings was a young Irish officer. He was the son of Sir Francis Rawdon, of Moira, afterwards created Earl of Moira, and Lady Elizabeth Hastings, daughter of the ninth Earl of Huntingdon, and names of these interesting personalities have been given to townships in our fair county. Lord Hastings rendered distinguished service to the Empire during the American Revolutionary War, following which a large number of colonists who did not wish to surrender their British allegiance and citizenship migrated to Canada and here was allotted large tracts of land in the various parts of the country upon which to settle. These men and women were known as the United Empire Loyalists and those who landed upon the shores of the Bay of Quinte brought with them the recollections of the gallant young officer and in admiration of his splendid services, named the fertile

"THE BEST WAY TO CLEAN WHITE OR COLORED WOODWORK"

by HILDA DORAN ROSS
Home Economics Counselor

"STICKY little hands leave lots of finger-marks on white woodwork. But you never mind cleaning after them, do you? Because white enamel checks and peels, often turns yellow after being cleaned, many housewives have come to me with this difficulty. Tests proved that all woodwork finishes require a good neutral soap for cleansing.

"The best thing I could find for cleaning white and colored enamel is Princess Soap Flakes. They make soft, gentle suds which dissolve dirt and grease, but cannot harm woodwork, because they contain no harsh chemical filler or harmful free caustic. Use Princess Soap Flakes for every washing task—woodwork, floors, dishes, windows. They are the very best for the family wash, and won't hurt your finest, filmiest garments. Princess Soap Flakes are economical, too, a little goes a long way."

MADOC, June 4.—Percy McCoy, Provincial Constable at Madoc, on Friday resigned from the force. Mr. McCoy has been with the force six years, and in that time has been stationed at Madoc, Tweed and Bancroft. His service has been one of merit, and Inspector W. H. Lougheed of this district regretted parting with his services. The reason for his resignation, it is understood, is on account of the health of his wife, which has not been good of late. Mr. McCoy, now in civilian life, will take a well-earned rest before taking up any vocation. No appointment has been made to the vacated position. Mr. McCoy was prominent in the investigation of Charles St. Charles, who was shot on the farm of Abraham Robinson. He was to have come to Peterborough, succeeding the late Constable Maker.

SOUTHERN CROSS FLYING WELL

reported to the Mackay Radio Company at 3.55 a.m. to-day that the Southern Cross had passed overhead at 3 a.m., Pacific Coast time, at a position 3,505 miles from San Francisco. The Southern Cross left on Sunday from Kauai at 5.20 a.m. on the second leg of its 7,788-mile flight to Australia.

Atlantic Hop Planned.

HALIFAX, June 4 (Canadian Press).—A tri-motored Fokker monoplane carrying Wilmer Stultz, pilot; Lew Gordon, mechanic, and Miss Amelia E. Earhart made a perfect take-off from the eastern passage airport on Halifax Harbor at 8.36 o'clock this morning and headed for Trepassey, Nfld., where the plane will be refueled to attempt a trans-Atlantic crossing to England.

The plane, formerly that which Richard E. Byrd was proposing to take on an Antarctic flight and recently christened "Friendship," landed here yesterday after battling a dense fog along the Nova Scotia coast on the first leg of a trans-Atlantic attempt sponsored by the Mechanical Science Corporation of New York. They left Boston early Sunday morning. Stultz said he hoped to reach Trepassey in about five hours, and that the question of taking off to-night for the long flight across the Atlantic would have to wait until they reached Trepassey. The landing on the other side, he said, would be made at the most convenient port, probably Southampton.

Arrive At Trepassey.

TREPASSEY, Nfld., June 4 (Canadian Press).—The Fokker monoplane piloted by Wilmer Stultz and carrying Lew Gordon, mechanic, and Miss Amelia Earhart, arrived here from Halifax at 1.55, Atlantic daylight time, this afternoon (11.55 a.m. E.S.T.), four hours and 22 minutes after leaving Halifax.

Trepassey will be used as the starting point of a proposed hop across the Atlantic to England, but the time of departure is not known yet.

Will Fly Quickly.

NEW YORK, June 4 (Canadian Press).—The plane "Friendship," in which Amelia Earhart hopes to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic, will pause at Trepassey, Nfld., only as long as the weather requires, George Palmer Putnam, one of the backers of the flight, said to-day.

"With present weather conditions, the plane should reach Trepassey in five or six hours from Halifax. Whether the crew of three will go on this afternoon or not, I don't know. I should think, however, that they would snatch a little rest and then wait for the first favorable break in the weather."

Mr. Putnam said it was estimated that the plane, with moderately favorable conditions, could maintain a speed of 100 miles an hour, and on this basis he estimated that from 20 to 24 hours would bring the Friendship to its goal in England.

Record Attempt Fails.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Captain Arrachart, noted French long distance flier, and Major Rignot of the French army, who hopped off from Le Bourget for India yesterday morning in an effort to establish a long distance record, were forced down at Constantinople to-day by unfavorable weather.

Brading Breweries Declares Dividend

The dividend of 50 cents per share on the Common Stock of The Brading Breweries is indicative of the increased business being enjoyed by this old established brewery. It is reported that the company's sales have been increasing steadily each month this year, and that the company has now become one of the important factors in the market. The recent expansion in Montreal and Eastern Quebec will soon be reflected in increased earnings. The Brading products are now distributed throughout the whole of Ontario and Quebec, and as the old name is as well known in the United States as it is in Canada, the increased tourist traffic expected this Summer should prove a decided beenfit.

Pilot Insurance Co. Business Shows Growth

The directors of the Pilot Automobile and Accident Insurance Co., held a meeting yesterday at which most satisfactory reports on the progress of the company were presented. New business for the current year amounts to more than $61,800. Of this sum $20,500 originated in March, $17,900 in April, and May to date has produced new business to the extent of more than $18,000. At the beginning of the year it was expected that the company would be making substantial progress if the total of new business reached $100,000. The above figures indicate that the actual amount of new business will be much larger.

Calling Of Loans Causes Sharp Break at New York

NEW YORK, June 4.—(Canadian Press.)—Tightening credit conditions cast their shadow over the market again to-day and prices broke sharply after an early period of strength. Call money renewed unchanged at six per cent, but banks called about $15,000,000 in loans and large institutions reported a growing scarcity in the volume of funds available for brokers' borrowings.

The day's business news was mixed in character. An official denial that negotiations were pending for the sale of the Radio Corporation's communications business to the International Telephone Company was followed by a drop from 223½ to 213½ in that stock, but scale buying orders were supplied on persistent rumors of the inauguration of cash dividends and an early split up of stock. American Linseed ran up six points to 109 on reports that the company would be absorbed by Gold Dust, but later ran into heavy profit-taking.

Prices ran up one to seven points in early trading with more than a score of issues moving into new high ground. American Express rose nine points to a new record high at 204 and American Railway Express 6½ on denial of recent reports concerning negotiations for the taking over of American Railway Express Company stock by the rialroads at a price substantially below its current market value. Gimel Bros. moved into new high ground on reports of further accumulation by Sears-Roebuck interests.

ST. ANDREW'S S.S. SPECIAL SERVICES

Teachers and Scholars Conduct Services For Anniversary Celebration.

St. Andrew's Sunday School celebrated its anniversary in the church yesterday at the morning service. When St. Andrew's Sunday School has an anniversary service, the whole congregation attends because all the members know that it is the most interesting and thrilling event, and in every way the biggest day in the church year. No outside orators are called in, and the minister is given a day off. The teachers, officers and scholars of the Sunday School combine to arrange, supply, and carry out the program. Each year has surpassed the preceding in the quality of the program, but it will be some time before the Sunday School anniversary will attain the heights it reached yesterday.

In the morning an immense congregation crowded the church and listened for an hour and a half to the songs, recitations, and choruses rendered by the individuals and the massed classes of the Sunday School. The congregation joined with them in worship. Every detail of the service was reverent, worshipful, and inspiring to a very high degree. Indeed, at times laughter, tears, and deep heart searching prayers all mingled with one another. The church was tastefully decorated by the friends of the Sunday School with flowers, foliage, and flags, combining with the assembled colors of the children's dresses to make a pretty picture.

After a number of introductory feaures, the following program was rendered:

Recitation — "Anniversary Greetings,' Ruth McNeely.

Solo—"Anniversary," Isabel Weddell.

Recitation — "What Are You Giving for Others?"—George McLean.

Canada Reviews Her Troops.

Sunday School — Recitation by Francis Forsythe.

Primary Song.

Day School — Recitation, Bill McPherson.

Red Cross, Jr., Allison Gordon.

Boy Scouts.

C.G.I.T.—Building the Ladder.

Little Tots—Recitation, Ruth McNeely.

Beginners—Song, with Allison Gordon at the piano.

New Canadians—Recitation, Winnifred Dobbin.

Solo—"If We Only Understand" (Kipling), Jean McKone.

Canadian-born—Helen Hefferman.

This program rounded out by hymns, choruses, and the Benediction mode one of the most interesting in the history of the church. Mrs. McKone was in charge and responsible in every way for the success of the service.

The Sunday School Orchestra of St. Andrew's Church, under the direction of William Fanjoy, provided suitable music and accompanied the children in chorus singing.

The evening service was in charge of the Canadian Girls in Training. This group of girls conducted an evening service of worship without assistance from anyone outside their own group. The service was in charge of Miss Helen Ross, Miss Dorothy Henry, and Miss Eleanor Stacey, the Misses Ross and Henry leading in prayer. A short program was carried out, including a violin solo by Arnold Spencer with organ accompaniment by Miss Muriel Bridge; a recitation, "Born in Canada," by Miss Helen Hefferman, and a duet by Isabelle Weddell and Jean McKone. There was a short talk by Mrs. McKone on "The Opportunities To-day for Young People," based on the parable of the Wise Virgins. Helen Ross gave a splendid address on "The duties of the modern young man and woman to the church." The Boy Scouts were present and the music was supplied by the George Street Sunday School Orchestra.

IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES

GOSPEL HALL

A large audience greeted Harold Patrick Margon last night in the Regent Theatre, when he spoke on "What think ye of Christ." This, he said, was paramount. Eternity of bliss or eternity of woe depended on how this question was answered. Paul, in 1st. Cor. 3:15, said: "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the Gospel. How that Christ died for the ungodly." Modern Theology says Jesus Christ was Joseph's son, and a good man, an example to be followed, but Scripture declares Jesus Christ to be the Son of the Virgin Mary, conceived by the Holy Spirit. This made Him different to every other person, as He was born Holy, whereas everyone else was born in sin. He alone was acceptable to God as an atonement for sin. Mr. Morgan asked, "Does a good man habitually tell lies." Answer, No. So this Good Man said, "I and the Father are one. Death could not hold Him, so He came forth out of death with power to save all who come to God by Him.

C.M.A. CONVENTION OPENS ON STEAMER

President Urges Export of More Manufactured Goods to Provide Employment.

MONTREAL, June 4 (Canadian Press). — The forty-seventh annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association began this morning when the delegates boarded the steamship St. Lawrence.

The convention will be held on board ship while it sails down the St. Lawrence River to Tadousac and up the Saguenay on a four-day trip.

While reviewing a year of expansion in Canadian industry, W. S. Fallis, president of the association, in presenting his annual review before association convention to-day, took occasion to state that "It is not so satisfactory to contemplate imports, particularly those of a class or kind produced in Canada.

"It should be our constant endeavor and also a matter of public policy to increase the percentage of manufactured goods in exports in order to secure the greatest possible amount of employment and profit for Canadians through the fabrication of these materials in Canada," Mr. Fallis asserted.

NEWARK, N.J., June 4 (Canadian Press). — The first conference of the opposing counsel in the suits of the five women seeking damages of $1,250,000 from the United States Radium Corporation, held to discuss the terms of the settlement proposed by Federal Judge William Clark, acting as an unofficial mediator, ended to-day with an agreement apparently in sight.

Judge Clark announced that an attorney would draw up contracts to be signed by the litigants, and would meet again this afternoon for further discussion and final agreement.

The women filed suit for $250,000 each for radio-active poisoning they contracted while in the employ of the concern. Physicians testified that the disease was fatal.

THE NEW KING'S COUNSEL.

E. H. D. Hall, S. T. Medd and V. J. McElderry, local barristers, who have been named among the two hundred Ontario lawyers to be made King's Counsel, are being warmly congratulated by their friends upon the honor thus conferred upon them.

For the first time, Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General, has announced, the condition was insisted upon in making these appointments that they should only go to lawyers who had practised their profession for at least fifteen years.

The three local barristers who have been given the distinction of being King's Counsel are well-known citizens, in every way worthy of the honors they have received, and The Examiner in extending congratulations to them is merely articulating the sentiment of the public generally.

There are now eight King's Counsel in Peterborough, His Honor Judge Huycks, Hon. G. N. Gordon, R. R. Hall, F. D. Kerr and G. W. Hatton being others who were similarly honored in earlier lists.

A SPLENDID INSTITUTION.

It is to be hoped that the annual reports of the Peterborough Young Women's Christian Association, which were published on Saturday, were generally read because of the light they threw upon the varied activities carried on by the association.

Any one who perused these interesting reports must have been impressed by the fact that the Y.W.C.A. means a great deal to the girls of this city, and in particular to the new girls, those who come from outside points and find in this splendid institution a safe haven where friends can be made and companionship and help found.

Some idea of the extent to which the residence department of the Y.W.C.A. is used is obtained from the fact that some 72,000 meals were served last year, while 24,000 beds were used.

The physical, educational, social and other departments of the institution all show a record year's activity, and the reports are such as to indicate unmistakably the community value of the Y.W.C.A., a value that can only be appreciated when the many and varied demands made upon the institution are realized.

RADIO BROADCASTING.

"According to my view, it is more proper to grant broadcasting licenses to a newspaper than to a distillery or to any other company," was the answer of Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marie and Fisheries, in reply to complaints that the Toronto Star station, C.F.C.A., had been given unlimited time on the air, while other more powerful Toronto stations were denied similar privileges.

Mr. Cardin cannot be a radio fan; at least if he is he is not acquainted with reception conditions in this part of Canada or he would realize that to grant the exclusive use of a wave length to a station that does not get out with any degree of regularity in all parts of Ontario, and by so doing to shut off another station that can be picked up under almost any conditions, is to adopt a policy very widely separated from the best interests of radio listeners.

The majority of set owners care little about the ownership of any particular station, but they are deeply interested in the ability of stations to make themselves heard, and they can see no reason for giving exclusive privileges to one station while others much more capable of providing the service the public wants are forced to share waves and thus have only part-time right "on the air."

If full time is to be given to any broadcasting station the right should go to the station that has proven its ability to "get out" into all parts of the country.

THIS FREEDOM.

"This Freedom" that Mr. A. S. M. Hutchinson wrote about some years ago, disrupting every sewing circle from Maine to the Golden Gate, not to mention a lot of unrest in what our politicians call this "great commonwealth of nations," is getting to be a little too free. Too free for both sexes. The other day we read about a man who got a divorce from his wife because she took up too much room in the bed (the man, his name was Sullivan—shades of John L.!—said she weighed 255 pounds and refused to diet), and now comes word of a British review court deciding that marital kisses are a privilege, not a right.

In the latter case, so it appears the wife advanced the technical charge of assault, her case being that her husband (the British papers said that he was a rather pale, frigid looking person) was always wanting to kiss her when she didn't want to be kissed. And the judge (we think the reporter ought to be fired for failing to describe him) upheld her. He said that a marital kiss was a privilege, not a vested interest, or anything like that, and he put the poor husband on probation.

The point is a tremendously interesting one. In the first place the learned judge failed, as it seems to us, to make any distinction between a legal privilege and just a privilege. In the case of a kiss, the two things, we hold, are different. Further: if a man may not kiss his wife, or even attempt to, when she doesn't feel like being kissed, what is the legal position to be if when she wants to be kissed her husband doesn't feel like kissing her? On this point, we have read many profound opinions by that eminent sexologist and physician-extraordinary to the heart, Miss Dorothy Dix; and we seem to remember Dorothy saying that if a wife wanted to be kissed, and hubby, unlike Barkis wasn't willing, she should fold up her blankets and steal away. Therefore, in our judgment, this decision of the British court creates a dangerous precedent. And it doesn't seem fair.

Not wanting to be considered old-fashioned, we refrain from advancing something we vaguely remember about "Love, honor and obey." Nevertheless, there ought to be a limit somewhere to this freedom. And while we're bound to confess that we don't know where we'd draw the line (these things depend so much upon one's mood) we venture to hold, in a general way, that a one hundred per cent. husband ought to involve a one hundred per cent. wife.—Ottawa Journal.

BRITISH AND CANADIAN WORKERS.

That was an illuminating statement reported in our columns on Monday made by the Prince of Wales speaking at the British Legion Conference in London when he said that:

"Those persons who had been overseas knew how different were the conditions there from those in Great Britain. Settlement in a new country meant hard work, sometimes even harder work than men had to do in the Old Country, but in many cases the opportunities there were better than here."

There is a great deal in this. Conditions in a new country must always be trying to a newcomer, and probably the first thing he will have to do is to recognize this, and believe that the people have found the best ways of meeting them, and not be always thinking that he might know better than they. Then as to work, the question is open to discussion as to whether or not Canadian workers do not work harder than do British ones. We refer particularly to farmers as this is particularly the class which is wanted in Canada. We do not profess to be an authority on the subject, but we have often thought that if some of the British agriculturists were willing to work as hard on the land provided, of course, that it could be obtained on suitable terms, as so many Canadian farmers do, there would be less unemployment in the Motherland. The Prince says that the work is sometimes harder than in the Old Country, but the opportunities in many cases are better; is it unlikely that the harder work makes these better opportunities? But, as we have said, the matter is open to discussion.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

The United States is beginning its quadrennial political ferment. The Presidential election this year has more of the elements of popular excitement than had any contest since Woodrow Wilson's first campaign in 1912, when the Bull Moose movement shattered for a time the historic Republican party. For the present, Democratic and Republican bosses and tacticians are preoccupied with the election of delegates to the national conventions which choose the Presidential candidates. The Republicans meet at Kansas City, Mo., on June 12, and the Democrats later in the same month at Houston, Texas. At this moment Hoover and Smith are so far in the lead that their nominations are almost taken for granted, but so often in the past have favorites been thrust aside for compromise candidates, as a means of reconciling hostile factions, that prophecy is still hazardous. Few had Harding and Davis in mind before the party conventions of 1924. They had almost negligible support in the early balloting. Dark horses have been frequent winners, and they may enter the race next month to upset all calculations.

Since 1924 at least one imposing issue has emerged which is causing more embarrassment in the Republican camp than in the Democratic. The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill will have more effect on Republican fortunes than had the LaFollette third party four years ago. LaFollette polled 4,822,856 votes, but carried only his own State, Wisconsin. The Democrats are counting on the defection of several of the Western States because of President Coolidge's veto of the McNary bill and Mr. Hoover's avowed hostility to it; but Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, the Dakotas and Wyoming are normally Republican, and if no third party, appealing to Western agrarianism, arises before November, they are likely to follow their habit of voting the regular Republican ticket for the Presidency while electing to Congress a strong delegation of Republican irregulars or insurgents, who in the present House and Senate have created the farm "bloc" and been the active promoters of the McNary bill. They might vote to put Hoover in the White House and to neutralize his opposition to the farm relief measure by sending a solid contingent of its advocates to Congress to aid in passing it over his veto. That is almost the situation at present. Only by a few votes did the Senate fail to override President Coolidge on this question.

The Democrats naturally are trying to capitalize Republican divisions, but they will have their own troubles. In the South some leading Democrats are fighting the nomination of Governor Smith because of his anti-prohibition views, but if he can win the convention it is believed that he will carry the Southern States, where Republicanism is almost non-existent among the whites. Prohibitionists who favor his candidature contend that his personal views can have no effect on the Eighteenth Amendment, which is apparently embedded permanently in the constitution. Governor Smith himself is silent on the question. The very obvious reluctance of the managers of both parties to discuss the subject is evidence that no political advantage is to be gained by an attack on the Volstead Act. All attempts of its opponents to make it an issue have failed so far. Seemingly there will be no clear dividing line between the parties, as even the McNary bill has few friends among Eastern Democrats, but the contest will be none the less exciting. The Democrats, with Governor Smith as their standard-bearer, will be more hopeful of success than at any time since the war. If Hoover and Smith are nominated each party will have a real leader, of powerful personality, inspiring popular enthusiasm and devoted attachment. The personal side of the campaign will overshadow everything else, unless the agrarian revolt becomes formidable and the Southern cotton planters and Western grain growers strike hands and form a party of their own.—London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is worthy of note that despite opposition to cadet training, the local Public School Cadet Battalion had the biggest turnout in its history on Friday.

If the Bell Telephone bill is to be talked out, it is to be hoped it will not be done at long distance rates.

Now that T. L. Church, M.P., has been made a King's Counsel, the Toronto Star will probably murmur fervently, "God Save the King."

The member for Willow Bunch should be given a special invitation to tour the Trent Waterway this summer.

Motorists are beginning to realize that the law in regard to drivers' permits has some teeth after all.

If the question were left to the press of Canada to decide, the Railway Commission would soon have authority to investigate the Bell Telephone Company's subsidiary, the Northern Electric Company.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 4 (Canadian Press).—With the exception of a few sales of wheat to the United Kingdom, the export trade in grain here Saturday was quiet.

A feature of the local cash grain trade was the further weakness in the market for oats, and prices were reduced two to five cents per bushel.

The demand for Spring and Winter wheat grades of flour continued of a limited character, but prices were well maintained.

The trade in all lines of millfeed was dull but the undertone to the market was steady. There was no change in prices for rolled oats and the market was quiet.

A moderate amount of business was done in eggs and values were firmly maintained. The receipts Saturday were 3,940 cases.

The butter trade was moderately active and firm. The receipts were 2,521 packages.

A stronger feeling developed in the cheese market, and prices were advanced ¾ to ½c per lb. This was attributed to the improved demand from local and foreign buyers. The receipts were 4,525 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Ills., June 4 (Canadian Press).—Bullish crop reports from the Northwest outdoing all heretofore this season carried wheat prices sharply upward Saturday, with buying much larger than witnessed of late. Estimates were current that the 1928 Canadian wheat yield would be 8,000,000 to 14,000,000 bushels under the 1927 total.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1¾ to 1⅞c net higher. Corn finished 1¼ to 1⅜c up; oats at 1¼ to 1⅜c advance, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 2 cents.

About the most explicit details of adverse crop conditions in Spring wheat territory came from a leading authority who wired that deterioration of wheat throughout the section surrounding Clark, South Dakota, is rapid except where local showers occurred ten days ago, and that even such strips are becoming very dry, with the greater part of the acreage turning yellow. He added that another week without rainfall would about finish the small grain crop, and that much wheat is already being ployed up or disced to make way for corn, but that the soil is so dry the corn cannot germinate.

Another prominent crop expert was out with definite figures showing that deficit of moisture in the Dakotas and the Canadian Prairie Provinces during the last two months has been of remarkable extent as compared with the average of recent years, roughly a shortage of about three inches. Meanwhile, no rain of any consequence was shown in the Spring wheat belt Friday night or Saturday and the forecast for next week was unpromising. Further stimulating bullish sentiment was the fact that foreigners were buyers Saturday of future deliveries here, that Liverpool quotations were higher than due, and that apparently Argentina and Australia have not to exceed 61,000,000 bushels left for export. There was also an unofficial estimate in circulation that the United States wheat carryover this season would be but little more than last year.

Corn and oats rose with wheat. It was estimated that farm reserves of corn 85,000,000 bushels less than the previous month's showing, and that farm reserves of oats were diminished 38,000,000 bushels.

Provisions held about steady, keeping in line with the hog market.

LONG DISTANCE BEATS THE DEADLINE, and

The Modern Newspaper Comes Into Being

DEADLINE is zero hour in a modern newspaper office. Mechanical processes are fixed quantities. Mails must be met, street demands satisfied. Beyond deadline, no copy can be handled.

As deadline approaches, every operation in the editorial rooms speeds up. Telephones ring incessantly. Shirt-sleeved reporters puff furiously at pipes and cigarettes as they pound out on typewriters news of events which happened miles away a few minutes before.

"Smith, take Jones on three. He's got the fight story."

"Hey! Brown's on here with that fire!"

"Green, grab Robinson on six. Bankers' Convention dinner."

Without Long Distance the miracle of the modern daily newspaper could not come to pass.

On the occasion of a big theatre fire last year, one New York newspaper spent over $200 in telephone tolls to Montreal, took the whole story over the telephone for its first edition, and arranged for delivery of pictures. The regular news service did not arrive until two editions later.

Side by side with the growth of the newspaper industry and its allied enterprises, the telephone marches forward. Already Ontario and Quebec are talking to England. Transatlantic calls will be commonplace in newspaper offices within a year or so.

In 1881, one year after the Bell Telephone Company of Canada was incorporated, there were just five pulp and paper mills in Canada. Their combined output was valued at $63,000. There are now 115 pulp and paper mills in Ontario and Quebec alone, with a combined output of 2,266,143 tons in 1926, valued at $158,395,119. Canada leads the world in newsprint production.

There are now over 665,000 Bell telephones in Ontario and Quebec. Nowhere in the world do telephone subscribers receive more in service for what the service costs them.

On Thursday evening, June 1, the choir of the Park street Baptist church, by special invitation from their leader, Mr. Cecil Lapp, assembled at his home in Bolivar street, for a social and musical evening. The special feature of the evening was in honor of Miss Doris Goodwin, one of their members whose wedding takes place this month. During the evening a large basket of lovely and useful gifts was brought into the room by Mrs. Batley and Miss Margaret Harton to the strains of the wedding march. After each gift had been opened, Miss Goodwin very nicely thanked all present for their beautiful gifts, and good wishes extended to her. The rest of the evening was spent in music, games, refreshments, being served by the hostess, Mrs. Fred Lapp. At the close of the evening, Mrs. Harry Ferguson called for a vote of thanks to Mrs. Lapp, which was heartily extended.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Crepe de chine negligee trimmed with lace.

The sketch shows a new negligee recently sent from Paris, and I am showing it not just because it is new and decidedly attractive, but also because it offers a suggestion for a clever way of achieving the new feminine touch that is apparent in negligees as in other type of clothes.

The original model was made of rose colored silk crepe—a little heavier than crepe de chine—trimmed with wide lace of a creamy tone. One piece of the lace is placed on each arm, left open at the lower side, and there are two little "aprons" of the lace at the front. It would be simple enough to arrange lace in this way on any negligee that you wanted to bring in line with the new feminine fashion.

I was inclined to feel a few years ago that women in this country didn't care much about these little ideas for home dressmaking and the remodeling of clothes already in their wardrobes.

Such attractive clothes could be bought ready made at such attractive prices—it seemed to me—that no one wanted to bother. But if women don't sew at home, what happens to all the thousands and thousands of yards of sewing silk and cotton sold in the stores every year?

Since that time I have had opportunity to learn that women really do sew at home almost as much as they used to. They don't bother with the dressmaker by the day so much, because dressmakers by the day are not on hand to be bothered with. The majority of American women, I think, do buy their clothes ready made, or go to one of the pretentious dressmaking establishments to have them made to order if they can afford to. But aside from that they make many simple little frocks, negligees and lingerie—things that they could not afford in any other way, and they are becoming adepts in the gentle art of making things over!

One of the little accessories that you can make at home at small cost and use to give a touch of distinction to one of your costumes is the new so-called string flower which appeared in Paris a little while ago. It is made of fine gold braid.

Used in thousands of homes daily. Softens water. Makes dish washing easy. Cuts grease. Cleans pots and pans. Whitens clothes. Try it in your bath. 10c. a pkge., 3 for 25c.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate)

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1928

This is an unfortunate day, according to the reading of the stars and it is well to watch one's step.

Aviation is subject to adverse sway that warns special care in piloting planes.

Again the stars indicate much wrong thinking among the people who will be inclined to criticise where they are likely to reach unjust conclusions.

It is not an auspicious date for beginning ocean voyages, for delays and unforeseen circumstances are foretold.

The seers foretell for the summer unprecedented crowds of European travelers who will spend much money.

Closer world relations are indicated by the stars which presage marvelous development in radio as well as airplane communication.

The seers prophesy that next year transatlantic flights in heavier than air machines will be common and that general use of airplanes will be established as an ordinary means of transportation.

This is not a favorable sway under which to seek any sort of contributions and may be most unlucky where political interests are involved.

Much harsh personal criticism in newspapers is foreshadowed and libel suits are discerned on the far horizon.

Discredit for a national leader in public affairs is prognosticated. He will burn his fingers by playing with fire for his own personal amusement is the prediction.

Deception is supposed to be especially easy while this configuration prevails. Women should beware of insincere wooers.

Much thieving, larceny and burglary may be expected all through the summer and all who attend conventions should be on guard, for new devices in robbery are prophesied.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be exceedingly careful lest they lose luggage when they travel in the coming year.

Children born on this day probably will be fond of mystery and intrigue. They should be carefully trained to stick to the truth.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE ARE BORED

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.

(Author, The Springs of Human Actoin)

Ice cream is good, but you can't eat more than a couple of gallons at one time. Fried chicken is also good, but Benjamin Franklin is authority for the statement that twenty successive meals of fried chicken is a bit boresome.

We are bored if we get an overdose of any one thing. This may happen in anything from jazz to philosophy. We can stand just about so much even of the things we like best. We tire of sameness in what we eat, see, hear, or otherwise experience with any of the nine senses.

At each repetition of an experience our desire for it decreases. This is nature's method of protecting us from excess and over-indulgence. Otherwise we would kill ourselves off very quickly by over-eating or over doing any activity that gives us satisfaction. Nature skilfully reduces the satisfaction which each successive repetition until we get cloyed and quit entirely.

When boredom is confined to any one experience it is gradually dissolved and vanishes as the effects wear off and we are ready for another plate of ice cream or whatever it is that for a time completely satisfied our appetite or instinctive craving. But when the whole man is bored, recovery is not so easy. It is more than likely to become a permanent attitude often described as blase, or hardboiled.

We are also bored by experiences to which we feel superior. One who is used to grand opera, symphony orchestras, and has heard the great masters is not likely to get much of a thrill from a musical recital by high school children. This idea was expressed by the popular song of a few years ago—"How yu gonna keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen Paree." The efforts of a stupid and dull person are boresome because they jar our sensibilities. They offend our cultivated tastes which are accustomed to better things.

We are bored for protection and for punishment.

LYRICS OF LIFE

GREAT THINGS

You will do great things, I know,
But it won't be by dreaming,
By letting half the morning go
And sitting fondly scheming.
Your dreams will help to make you strong,
Unless you sit and dream too long.
I see you some great prize pursuing,
But not by dreaming, but by doing.

You will do great things, I know,
But it won't be by wishing,
By wishing certain things were so,
And then by going fishing.
The thing you wish for you may get,
The thing you work for sooner yet.
He won the prize, the man who wore it,
Not wishing for it, working for it.

You will do great things, I know,
But it won't be by waiting
For this to come, and that to go,
By only hesitating.
No matter what, no matter how,
The time to start is here and now.
I see you yet some honor winning,
But not by waiting, but beginning!

YOUR HEALTH

ARTERIAL HARDENING

Hardening of the arteries, or arterial sclerosis, may be divided into several different classes. That which is most talked about is produced by deposits of lime in the walls of the arteries. At first it would seem that this lime deposit is due to eating too many foods that contain this material, but a careful investigation will disclose that this is not the real cause.

It is true that the use of too many cereals is one of the principal causes of hardening of the arteries. This is not because of the presence of lime in the cereals, but because of the fact that an excessive amount of starch found in the cereals leads to fermentation in the stomach and intestine, which produces acidosis. The toxins from this condition pass through the delicately lined arteries causing them to tense, and in time the arteries form a coating (an alkali) to neutralize the effect of the irritating acidosis.

Excess fermentation of food is undoubtedly the principal cause of this disorder. If this fermentation continues day after day, the vicious irritation of the walls of the arteries causes them to become thickened and calcified, often to such an extent as to interfere with the flow of the blood.

In the early stages of hardening of the arteries, there is no lime present, but the condition is recognized by a thickening of the arterial walls. Any deposit of irritating materials in the blood is apt to result in this disease. Those who overeat, excessively use alcohol, those afflicted with gout, kidney disease, syphilis, or those who habitually consume wrong combinations of food are most susceptible to this disease.

Valvular heart disease is often caused by the same type of irritant which produces a thickening and hardening of the valves, interfering with their action.

Other diseases are sometimes brought on by this type of arterial weakening. Sometimes aneurism or dilatation of the artery will result because of the strain from pulse pressure. Occasionally an embolus is formed which is carried by the blood until it becomes lodged in a smaller vessel where it clogs the circulation and may result in a stroke of apoplexy or gangrene.

The arteries leading into the legs sometimes become so calcified that they can be seen through the x-ray just like thin bones.

The hardening deposits of the arteries can be softened by following a rigid dietetic regime over a long period of time. The arteries will probably not entirely return to their normal tone in advanced cases, but even so, the patient can usually lessen his arterial tension and prolonghis life.

The greatest caution must be used to avoid inharmonious food combinations or the things which I have outlined as producing a toxicosis. Patients who are careful will continue to improve over a period of many years, but they must learn their food combinations.

Questions and Answers.

Question: K.L. writes: "I am much overweight and would like you to publish a list of rations that are not fattening. Are lima beans fattening? Have already quit eating bread, butter, potatoes and gravy."

Answer: You can slowly reduce your weight through following the weekly menus which are published in this column. To reduce more rapidly eliminate the meals containing the starchy foods and substitute a fruit meal. You will notice that I recommend the starch to be used at noon, so a simple rule for you to follow is to use the breakfasts and dinners as I suggest, but take one kind of fruit at noon, using as much of the one kind as you desire.

Question: Mary asks: "May plums be used in combination with other foods?"

Answer: Plums are a good acid fruit but should be used by themselves. In season they make a good noonday lunch.

Question: N.L.V. writes: "Are eggs good for a person suffering with diseased or weak kidneys?"

Answer: Anyone suffering from kidney trouble of any kind should be able to handle a limited number of eggs, about one a day, properly prepared by coddling or poaching.

Question: Mother writes: "I have a year and a half old baby who has constant colds. I have had him on a general baby's diet under the care of a child specialist. What kind of diet would you advise?"

Answer: It is apparent that your child is not on the right diet or he would not be having constant colds. Stop using all milk modifiers and give your baby nothing but pure certified Holstein cow's milk with the addition of one or two teaspoonfuls of orange juice before each feeding. Your baby, at his age, should use about eight ounces at a feeding, taking this quantity at four-hour periods, making only four times daily.

Girl Dies Faithful to 14-Year-Old Vow That Lover Would Never See Her Face Again

KEYWEST, Florida, June 4. Canadian Press. — A girl who 14 years ago imprisoned herself with a vow that her lover never would see her face, is dead, faithful to her vow.

The girl, Julia Colon, a pretty Cuban senorita, whose hair reached her knees, quarreled with her sweetheart when she was 13 years of age.

"I never want to see your face again," he told her in a flare of anger, and as heatedly she vowed he would not, and retired to a room in her aunt's home, where only once since, prior to the fatal illness, had any one, even a close relative, seen her.

Her lover returned and pleaded for forgiveness, but the door remained closed. Food was given her through a small door opening. She made her own clothes and attended to all the routine of daily life for herself within her room.

Naturally Lovable

"That Schoolgirl Complexion"

—is kept and safeguarded by thousands through following this simple rule in daily skin care

As more women become skilled in the ways of beauty, more and more turn to natural ways in skin care.

That means a clear skin; pores kept free of accumulations to perform their functions naturally.

Thus modern beauty culture starts with soap and water; its only secret being the KIND of SOAP one uses—and how.

Palmolive is a beauty soap. A soap made of bland and soothing cosmetic oils, solely for one purpose; to safeguard the complexion. A soap made to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

Used in the following way, it is credited with more beautiful skins, probably, than any other beauty method. Its results you see on every side today.

The rule to follow if guarding a good complexion is your goal

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive Soap, massaging the lather softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Soap from trees!

The only oils in Palmolive Soap are the soothing beauty oils from the olive tree, the African palm, and the coconut palm — and no other fats whatsoever. That is why Palmolive Soap is the natural color that it is—for palm and olive oils, nothing else, give Palmolive its natural green color.

A Real Help to Young Married People

WHEN you make up your monthly budget—rent, food, clothes, gas, electric light, amusement, etc., do not forget to include savings. Even if the amount is only a few dollars, place it regularly in a bank where it can accumulate interest for you.

A Savings Bank Account spells untold satisfaction, for it is a fund with which to obtain all the good things in life—it provides ease in the twilight of life. Every deposit is a compliment to your good judgment in regularly setting aside money which otherwise might easily slip away uselessly.
